ST. PATRICK'S DAY CONCERT LAST NIGHT.

A STIRRING ADDRESS BY MR. C. J. DEVLIN.

A Varied and Excellent Musical and Literary Programme which Greatly Delighted a Large Audience.

There was a large attendance at the St. Patrick's Day concert last night in the Opera House and the audience was so thoroughly pleased with the excellent programme that although a request was made for no encores, yet every participant received an enthusiastic recall.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Thomas Cahill, whilst upon the platform were seated Ven. Archdeacon Casey, and Messrs. J. W. Fitzgerald, L. M. Hayes, W. Rudkins, Richard Gough, Geo. Ball, Wm. Collins, Dr. McGrath, Dr. Moher, M. Reilly, W. J. Devlin, Jas. Bogue, James Lynch, John Clancy, Ed. Phelan, Jas. Fitzgerald, H. Phelan, J. Daly, P. Doris, M. H. Quinlan, Jos. Begley, Mr. Keogh, H. LeBrun, Jas. Hickey, E. R. Ward, A. J. Gough, John Corkery, Chas. Dunn, T. J. Begley, P. Simons, M. O'Brien, B. Morrow, John Moloney, T. J. Doris, James Hickey, John Hanrahan, Angus Macpherson.

MR. J. A. DEVLIN, B.A. SC. B.C.L.,

of Aylmer, who was announced to speak on "Ireland's Patriotism — Ireland's Future," was introduced in a few appropriate words by Mr. Cahill, and proved to be the possessor of a rare eloquence and fluency. His address was listened to with the closest interest and at intervals he was interrupted with cheers and applause.

Before entering upon the subject of this evening's lecture, said the speaker, let me first express to you the pride and gratification I feel for the honour you have seen fit to confer upon me this evening, and the cordial reception with which you have so openly greeted me. Standing as I do upon the threshold of a profession that embraces within its fold the principles of justice and equity, I have ever thought that, from a legislative point of view, their application would certainly better harmonize with the genius dignity and generosity of Irish national life, than the shackles of a too poorly disguised slavery which now fetter and chain it to its forced dungeon of darkness, crushing in its steely clasp and merciless grasp Erin's wounded and bleeding heart, but, thank God, clinking and clanking vainly and powerlessly before the noble shrine of her immortal patriotism. A popular and national administration for local affairs is the exclusive progeny of jurisprudence and tallies best with its conception of strict justice.

Justice, that universal heirloom of Christianity, whose privilege is is mankind's to enjoy and admire, yet poor Erin's misfortune to weep for and wonder. Justice! the golden apple so ripe in England's paradise of peace and plenty. Justice! the forbidden fruit that now hangs withered and dead on Erin's weeping willow tree. Yet our patriotism still lives and our patriotism is Ireland's future and Ireland's future I staunchly believe to be a happy, prosperous and contented one, yet basking under liberty's delights and growing stronger each day under Home Rule's great blessings, because of the unity and brotherhood of her faithful offspring, whose disciplined watchword in the near future shall be "Together, Together." This is our united hope and my youth I consider no bar to my lending to that petition, age and heart's

MOST CHERISHED DESIRE.

The zeal of loyalty and love which in its inheritance is our undivided succession and joint legacy; the zeal of loyalty and love which brings us together once more to draft a message of protest, which shall multiply itself two hundred fold all over this great continent to-night and 'ere the last chime of the midnight clock has struck be borne over the billows of the Atlantic unto the green coast and shores of Erin, there to hear the immortal echo vigorously repeat itself, and thence into the very heart of England to teach her once more if necessary "Ireland as a nation never dies."

The speaker then queried as to the reason of Ireland's persecution by the English.

Was it because Ireland was a numerical power to be dreaded? Such an assumption would be an insult to England's great army. Was it because it was thought that Ireland could not govern itself? This could not be, because the sons of Ireland had shown their capability by governing others. Amongst the leaders in the English and American legislative halls were to be found faces stamped with the indelible stamp of Irish nativity and descent. The cry of "Rome rule" was shown to be but a subterfuge to promote the dark purposes of political schemesters, as no precedent could be named where Rome rule had worked such harm as to justify these assertions. As against the cry of "disloyalty," the speaker urged that Ireland had never been given a chance to show her loyalty. England wanted Ireland's full store of loyalty and love in return for the abuse and ill-treatment which was meted out to her, and if the law of human nature scorned this proposition, Irishmen were

BRANDED AS TRAITORS.

If Ireland's past and present were shrouded in misery through the tyranny of the English regime, the speaker thought he could discern a golden future for Erin.

I speak, said he, of Ireland's future with confidence, because of the undiminished and immortal perseverence of her sons.

Perseverence and patriotism go hand in hand, and are of the noblest and mightiest bulwarks in resisting national extinction.

Our patriotism had clearly and infallibly demonstrated to mankind, that as a nation, we will ever continue to exist; our perseverance, its twin sister has as faithfully proven, that she loves best to minister to her personal wants with her own beautiful hands.

Both are now pleading their sacred cause before the International Tribunal of public opinion, and public opinion is recording her daily verdict in their favour, that now only awaits confirmation and registration at the hands of powerful England before rescinding and annulling the illegal judgment and harsh sentences that now condemn Ireland.

Already the heralds of English opinion have favourably spoken and given us fresh courage to continue the battle that our forefathers only relinquished in death, and which we and our children will ever carry on and perpetuate until the din of ultimate success and the trumpet of ultimate victory have been heard and felt in their might and their right throughout the Emerald Isle.

When the speaker resumed his seat the the applause was deafening for a time.

A VOTE OF THANKS.

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald in proposing a vote of thanks said the task was an easy one, as he felt convinced the lecturer had, by his eloquent address, already won the approval and endorsation of the audience. Mr. Fitzgerald said he would stop there and not attempt to divert the impressions of satisfaction and appreciation that had been made on the minds of the audience by his distinguished countryman, the son of a gifted Irish family, and the brother of the hon. gentleman, Mr. Chas. Devlin, M. P., who so charmed us on St. Patrick's Day, one year ago, but, for certain language lately used here in Peterborough. Mr. Fitzgerald went on: "During last week some words are reported to have been spoken publicly in town, which I, as an Irishman, proud of my country as any man of his, do not feel disposed to allow to pass unnoticed. A convention of the Sons of England was held here a couple of days ago. I want it understood that I have not one word of fault to find with, nor one word to say against this body of men, many of whom I know to be good fellows, and I am sorry their deliberations had not been permitted to end without the interjection of uncalled for and most uncomplimentary references to Ireland and Irishmen. Rev. Mr. Symonds, of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, Chaplain of Lansdowne Lodge, Sons of England, Peterborough, in pointing out the principles of the Order as patriotism, love and charity is reported as dwelling upon the merit of charity, "even if exercised towards those we most despised," and without pausing the gentlemen went on to enlarge upon England's mission and the great work that God had called upon her to do. No doubt first to convert us, and after to feed and clothe the hungry and the naked, the Irish people especially. "Ireland," the reverend gentleman also said, "has been constantly in need," and consequently her kind protector, England, must needs provide for her support. Oh, charitable England! Benign John Bull! I wish that Rev. Mr. Symonds had let Ireland alone; entirely out of his charity sermon; for is it not a doubtful kind of charity that would despise any people and the Irish most of all? I am afraid the reverend parson has, this time, mistaken the beautiful word "charity" for insolence and insult to a race and a nation older and longer civilized and Christianized than his own. Ireland is not his country. Ireland is our country; the country of our fathers, and in spite of all England's persecutions will continue to be the land of our kindred. Ireland is the peer and not the pauper of England, and the sons of Ireland are the peers of the sons of England, in flood, in field, with pen or sword, in the forum or in the ring. Ireland despises, and has despised, English charity as she has her soup. "Ireland is constantly in need," the reverend chaplain says. Yes, because England is constantly stealing from her. Ireland wants her own, of which England's charity has plundered her, of which British bribes and penal laws have robbed her; and with the help of God—who in His own good time always succours the faithful and the suffering—the sons of Ireland, at home and abroad, aye, and here in Peterborough, under the shadow of Mr. Symond's despotism, will never cease their patriotism, never cease to prove their love for Ireland until her full rights are restored and she has again the complete management of her own affairs, as we in Canada have."

In a few appropriate words Mr. L. M. Hayes, on behalf of the E.B.A. and Catholic Literary Association, seconded Mr. Fitzgerald's resolution concerning the pleasure the audience had experienced in listening to Mr. Devlin's talented address.

THE MUSICAL AND LITERARY

portion proved most pleasing. It was opened by a brilliant instrumental duet, consisting of Irish melodies, by Misses Kitty and Lillie Hurley, which being thoroughly appropriate to the occasion and given with their accustomed taste was greatly enjoyed. Mr. D. Gordon followed with a splendid rendering of Louis Diebl's "Gay Hussar," in which his fine voice was heard to great advantage. Later on in the evening Mr. Gordon was heard with equal acceptance in "The Deathless Army." Miss Lily Simons, who is earning quite a reputation as an elocutionist of great versatility, greatly pleased the audience by the clever manner in which she recited "A Legend of St. Patrick," "The Polish Boy," and several other pieces which she gave when recalled.

Miss E. Maud Monaghan, of Toronto, proved herself to be the possessor of an exquisitely clear and well-modulated soprano voice. Her first selection was "The Flower Girl," but those which were most appreciated by the audience were the renderings of the Cuckoo Song and the "Little Alabama Coon," to guitar accompaniment.

Miss Nettie Lewis sang as a solo Fletcher Baker's difficult "The Isle that's Crowned with Shamrocks," in a most pleasing manner. Miss Lewis is the possessor of a mezzo-soprano voice of great range and sweetness, and will be heard again with pleasure. Mr. Eddie Piggott of Toronto, made his initiatory bow to a Peterborough audience, and should be well pleased with his reception. He is a humourist, with great power of expression, and places himself in full sympathy with his audience in the first attitude which he strikes. Mr. George Adams of the Lakefield branch of the G. T. R., is a "corker," and last night the audience almost raised the roof when they heard him sing "The Irish Cuckoo," in his inimitably droll manner. George generally surpasses all others when on the platform, and last night he fairly surpassed himself. For a fun maker it would be hard to find his equal. His banjo selections were also greatly appreciated. Prof. A. C. Mounteer made a great hit in his clever recitation of Will Carleton's poem. "The Lightning Rod Dispenser."

During the evening the accompaniments were played by Miss Kitty Hurley and Miss Maggie McCabe.

The hall was beautifully and appropriately decorated, the work of Mr. Alf. Kingscote.

A HOCKEY CORRECTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I wish to correct an erroneous statement which appeared last evening in your paper with reference to the hockey match—the Peterborough Hardware Co. vs. the H. LeBrun & Co.—to the effect that the Peterborough Hardware Co. had defaulted, or, in other words, had backed down, which statement, no doubt, eminated from the Clothiers. I would like to state the true facts of the case. Mr. LeBrun, captain of the Clothiers, and the now celebrated goal keeper, on Monday morning last, while lifting some heavy goods in his store, unfortunately (to use his own words) "twisted his heart," and in the afternoon came and begged for a postponement indefinitely, which request, under such circumstances, was kindly granted him. I may say, in conclusion, I think Mr. LeBrun's "twist" will be all right again somewhere about the first of July.

MURDER AND ROBBERY IN LINDSAY.

JOHN AGNEW MURDERED AND ROBBED.

The Suspected Murderer Arrested—A Lad of Only 16 Years—A Coroner's Inquest in Progress—Lindsay's First Murder in Twenty Years.

(Special to the Examiner.)

LINDSAY, Ont., March 18.—Last night, at 9.30, James Agnew went to feed his horses. Not returning at 10.30 his wife went out to look for him. At the stable door she saw a body. She ran for the the assistance of Mr. Shannon, a neighbour. On examining the body they found a bullet hole behind the ear. A number of papers and an empty purse were lying on the ground, which, coupled with the fact that Mr. Agnew's watch was missing, pointed very strongly to a case of murder and robbery.

LATER.—John Kearney, a lad of about sixteen years, has been arrested, charged with the murder of John Agnew. It is said that the watch and chain stolen from Mr. Agnew and a revolver with two empty chambers were found on him when he was arrested. He has a bad reputation, and the authorities think they have a good case against him. The inquest is now going on before Coroner Poole.

EAST ONTARIO GRAND LODGE.

ORANGEMEN MEET IN ANNUAL CONCLAVE AT NORWOOD.

Coercion Bill Condemned—Clark Wallace's Great Reception—Reports Presented—Committees Appointed.

Norwood, Ont., March 17.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East convened in the village of Norwood to-day, there being about two hundred delegates present at the Town Hall at 2 30 o'clock, when the Grand Master, Major T. A. Kidd, called the Grand Lodge to order. In his address he spoke chiefly of the progress of the society in the past year, and of the Remedial Legislation, which he declared would in a manner render nugatory the Educational Act of Manitoba passed in 1890, and which had been declared constitutional by the highest court in the realm. He described the attempt of Parliament to coerce Manitoba as illiberal and far removed from the principles of government that secures to the subject the true exercise of civil and religious liberty.

Business in connection with the degree work of the order having been disposed of, the officers' reports were presented and referred to the several standing committees.

GRAND SECRETARY.

After congratulating the Grand Lodge on the harmony and prosperity of the order in this jurisdiction, and the routine report of work, the Grand Secretary said:—That four new warrants had been issued for lodges, numbers 434 at Rock Spring, 1,072 at Apsley, 986 at Bloomfield, and 853 at Ballieboro. From the latest returns received there are 24 county lodges, 81 district lodges, and 380 primary lodges working the jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge, representing a membership of 11,513 in active connection, with lodge property valued at $127,726.

Among the deceased members mentioned were Brothers James L. Winters, District Master, of Lindsay; John Delahey, Past County Master, of Renfrew; Andrew Parker, County Master of Central Frontenac, and William Porter, Past County Master, of Carleton, and an honorary member of this Grand Lodge.

The Grand Treasurer reported the finances in a healthy condition, with a balance in his hands of fourteen hundred dollars.

WELCOMING WALLACE.

At 4.30 the lodge adjourned and, headed by the Norwood brass band, proceeded to the station to welcome the Grand Sovereign, Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, who came up from Ottawa to speak against remedial legislation. He was escorted to the hall, where he gave a speech which called forth loud cheers from the brethren, Mr. Wallace returned to Ottawa, having arranged to keep the debate till Wednesday morning at six o'clock, when he will be back to his place.

Consumptives Should Neglect

No means of ameliorating their disease. Cod liver oil is acknowledged one of the most valuable remedies in pulmonary complaints. That, however, it be employed in such a form as to be easily digested is imperative. It is just here that the entire superiority of Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites asserts itself. Maltine itself possesses nutritive value equal to cod liver oil, but more important to the sufferer of bronchitis, colds, consumption, is the great digestive power of maltine upon all foods of a starchy nature. Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites is, in brief, a food of great value in emaciation and and wasting diseases; a medicine possessing the remedial power of cod liver oil; a digestive agency of active potency; a restorer of the debilitated. Try it for two weeks.

Eye, Ear and Throat.

Dr. Ryerson begs to inform the public that he will be at the Grand Central Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday, March 28th, for consultation in eye, ear and throat cases. dw

A CURIOUS CASE.

A Respectable Citizen Arrested on a Grave Charge.

Peterborough is developing into a great town for the promulgation of actions for damages, and still another one will in all probability result from an arrest which took place last evening, when Mr. John Boyd, the well-known butcher who conducts business at the corner of Hunter and Queen streets, was locked up for the night.

Boyd, it seems, bought three head of cattle last week from Mr. Benjamin Reid, living near Lakefield. Ten dollars was paid by Boyd to bind the bargain and the balance of the money was to be given upon the delivery of the beeves.

The cattle were driven to the Morgan house yard, where Boyd went to get them. He enquired for Mr. Reid, but he was not in town the cattle having been driven in by two lads who were strangers to Mr. Boyd. He states that he asked them to produce some authority showing that they were empowered to give him a receipt for the balance of the money. As none was produced Boyd refused to pay the money to them, and as he needed the beeves to fill an order, he accordingly took them to Conroy's slaughter-house and proceeded to convert them into roasts and steaks.

One of the cows had already been killed when the police put in an appearance on the scene and arrested Boyd on the charge of stealing the cattle.

In the Police Court this morning Mr. R. M. Dennistoun appeared for the prisoner and stated that he preferred not to elect as to whether his trial should be summary or before a jury on April 13th. County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood appeared for the Crown, and the case was enlarged until to-morrow, the accused being released on bail.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness, nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Not one in a thousand does do it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them innutritious matter and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

BIG BARGAINS IN BOOTS AND SHOES.

John McNaughton's Stock Reduced to Irresistible Prices.

Mr. John McNaughton intends leaving town on March 20th, and before that time his stock of boots and shoes must be cleared out to save removal. To do this prices are made that cannot be resisted. As a sample, ladies button boots will be sold for 50 cents, and the same kind of reduced prices will apply to all the other stock. The stock must be cleared, so come to the corner of Bethune and Sherbrooke streets and get your bargains in boots and shoes.

—The Josephine Kid Glove Cleaner is unlike any other—that's the good of it. Ladies will not do without it at twice the cost once they use it. Sold by Robt. Fair, sign of the Golden Lion, headquarters for Perrin Freres' celebrated Kid Gloves in newest styles for all occasions.

SENATORS AT WASHINGTON.

They Know How to Kill Time Nearly as Well as Some Canadian Legislators.

Washington, March 16.—There were three speeches made in the Senate today on as many different subjects. The first was by Mr. Lodge (Rep., Mass.) and was in favor of such a change in the immigration laws as will keep out illiterate and ignorant immigrants. The second was by Mr. Pugh (Dem., A.) and was in favor of the coinage of silver at the mints of the United States, with the same rights as gold. The third was by Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) in support of the conference report on the Cuban belligerency resolutions. He referred to the alleged despatch from the Spanish Prime Minister, Canovas, which Senator Hale had read last week with such respectful, religious presentation, and said that it now came out that Mr. Canovas had sent no such despatch and was not responsible for it. The Senator from Maine had been overreached. He had mistaken the Spaniard, who had neither mercy nor consideration. Mr. Morgan, without finishing his speech, yielded for a motion to adjourn.

GRAVEYARD INSURANCE.

Great Interest Being Taken at Whitby in the Alger Case—The Judge's Charge to the Grand Jury.

Whitby, March 16.—(Special.)—The greatest interest is still manifested in the Alger case, and the approaching trial is the most discussed topic of the town. All of the accused are here and appear to be anxious that the trial should proceed. It was expected that Henry Trull, the Oshawa agent, who was wanted by the Crown as a witness, but disappeared during the preliminary examination, might return, but he has not yet done so. It is looked upon as rather mysterious that he should remain away, as nothing turned up at the examination that would incriminate him. It appears that during the preliminary examination, which was held in the room usually occupied by the grand jury, all witnesses were excluded but the one undergoing examination. Trull was continually caught listening at the door, notwithstanding the frequent protests of the magistrate, who reproached the constable for allowing it. The latter replied that he had hard work keeping the man away, when His Worship remarked that unless he could do so Trull would have to be put somewhere where he would have to stay. Since then he has not been heard of, excepting once, when he is said to have paid a midnight visit to his home.

His Lordship's charge to the grand jury this morning was brief and plainly expressed. He stated that there were no prisoners at the jail awaiting trial; but, notwithstanding that, there were some serious charges to be investigated dealing with the crime of conspiracy to defraud insurance companies. His Lordship pointed out that the offence was a crime of great magnitude, was far-reaching in its effects, and if successfully carried out was fraught with much danger to the community. He fully explained the meaning of the word conspiracy, and read section 394 of the Criminal Code, which deals with the offence. The fact that a fraud was not perfected did not lessen the seriousness of the crime. Concluding, His Lordship said that all insurance companies were subject to frauds, life insurance being a contract which requires the strictest good faith and the fullest disclosure of all circumstances connected with the issuing of it.

Mr. W. R. Riddell, Q.C., who was to have conducted the case for the Crown, was taken ill at Cobourg while attending the funeral of his brother-in-law, Mr. Crossen. Mr. Riddell wired County Crown Attorney Farewell of his illness, and the latter, who has the case well in hand, will look after it. Mr. Clute, Q.C., appears for the defence. It is not thought that any new evidence of a material character will be produced.

WHITBY SPRING ASSIZES.

Whitby, March 16.—(Special.)—At the jury sittings of the Spring Assizes, before Mr. Justice Falconbridge, to-day, Carter v. Robson, an action to recover $2000 for malicious prosecution, was heard. One Parsons Hogle was a tenant on the defendant's farm in Pickering Township. He assigned his lease, with defendant's consent, to his brother-in-law, J. M. Carter, who is the plaintiff in the action. Disputes regarding rent caused defendant to have Carter and Hogle arrested on a charge of fraud. They were taken before the magistrate at Markham, and the case was dismissed; hence the action. A verdict was given for the defendant. Mr. Ormiston of Toronto for plaintiff; N. F. Paterson, Q.C., Uxbridge, for defendant.

In charging the jury, His Lordship highly complimented the learned counsel on both sides for the succcinct manner in which they had brought out the facts of the case without any unnecessary loss of time.

He further remarked that some Toronto counsel could have learned a lesson by it.

YOUNG KNIGHT SUES FOR $5000.

When the Civil Suit Against Hugh Addy Started Criminal Proceedings Stopped.

Brantford, March 16.—Hugh Addy of Newport was charged this morning before A. Cleghorn, J.P., with having shot and wounded one William Knight at Newport on January 10. The case had just started when it was made known that Knight had issued a writ against Mr. Addy for $5000 damages. The criminal proceedings were then abandoned, and the civil case will come up at the Spring Assizes.

ENGLAND'S STRATEGIC CABLE

Lies Between Halifax and Bermuda—Its Location is a Secret.

Halifax, March 16.—It has been decided by the Bermuda Cable Company to keep secret the position of their cable from Halifax to Bermuda. The cable goes out the western end of George's Island, but after that its course is not known outside the office of the company. Its course leaving the coast is also kept a profound secret, and is not marked on any of the public charts in use. This cable is considered to be of great strategic importance, and its location is desired to be kept secret, to prevent any possible attempt in time of war to cut this line of communication between Halifax and Bermuda.

To Extend the Cable.

Montreal, March 16.—(Special.)—Wm. D. Budge, a superintendent of the Halifax and Bermuda Cable Company, is here en route for Ottawa to ask Government assistance in the scheme to extend the cable from Bermuda to Jamaica, 1000 miles, making 2200 miles in all. The company ask Canada for a subsidy of $6300 per annum for 21 years, and they will reduce rate of messages by one-half the present rate by Key West.

BODIES TURNED INTO STONE.

The Remarkable Petrifaction in a Bradford, Pa., Cemetery Just Discovered.

Bradford, Pa., March 16.—On Saturday afternoon the remains of William R. Fisher and wife, together with the remains of their daughters, Nellie and Ida, and a niece named Nellie Dart, were dug up at the old Kenny Street Cemetery and taken to Oak Hill, where they were again consigned to earth.

The remains of Nellie Dart were buried in the old cemetery in 1861. The daughter Nellie was buried in 1864 and Ida in 1874. William R. Fisher died in 1885, and his death was followed four years later, or in 1889, by that of his wife.

The earth was dug from the graves and an attempt made to lift the coffins out, when the undertaker was surprised to find them almost immovable. After considerable effort one of the caskets was brought to the top of the grave and opened. It was found that the body it contained was in a perfect state of preservation. The body was as solid as marble, and the features were life-like in their naturalness. Even the clothing had become petrified. One after another the bodies were lifted from the earth, and when each was examined it was found to have turned to a stone-like substance.

The body of Miss Dart, which was buried in 1861, resembled a statue of marble. At the time of Miss Dart's death she weighed 200 pounds, but when the body was exhumed it was twice that weight. The bottoms of graves in the lower portion of the old cemetery are covered with water at all times, and it is supposed that the mineral properties of this water caused petrifaction. It is said that other petrified bodies have been taken from the old cemetery.

How the Kidneys Talk.

They have a Language of their own.

Kindeys can't talk, but if you don't treat them rightly you will hear from them. They have a language of their own, and this is how they speak to you; You stoop or strain, ride too far, walk too much, work too hard and rest too little; then your back aches, and your head aches, and you ache all over.

Oh! you say, it's because I'm tired out. Now, this isn't true. It's because your kidneys are tired.

They can only do just so much and the lifting, stooping, straining or exciting has retarded their action.

The heart has pumped the blood into them faster than they could filter it. The filter is overtaxed and becomes clogged. They cry for assistance in the many symptoms that follow.

There is dull headache, backache, pains in various parts of the body, scalding of the urine, high colored urine, puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the legs and all the other conditions that go with kidney disorders.

Why do the kidneys thus tell you their troubles in language so plain as to be unmistakable?

So that you may be warned in time. Will you heed the warnings?

If so, you will use Doan's Kidney Pills. Nothing starts the kidneys working so quickly. Remember "Doan's." It is the original kidney pill, the most reliable kidney pill, and the pill you can place full confidence in to cure you. For sale by

... THE ...

Canada Life Assurance Co.

Takes pleasure in announcing the completion of a Successful and Profitable Business for the Year 1895. The new business accepted, although not the largest in the Company's history, was the Largest New Business in the First Year of any Quinquennial Period.

New Assurances accepted in 1890 - - $5,880,000
New Assurances accepted in 1895 - - $6,628,000

A very substantial increase in the total business was effected during 1895.

Total Business in Force About $70,000,000

Some companies, like some Individuals, are strong in promises but weak in fulfilment. A period of nearly half a century affords ample time to ascertain whether a company's fulfilment has equalled its promises.

We have taken the trouble to go through the 48 annual reports of the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY, and to total up the amount of premiums received from policy-holders, and the amount of profits paid or allocated to policy-holders, and funds as follows:—

Total Premiums Received From Policy-Holders, 1847-1894	$24,630,000
Total Profits, paid and declared	$8,041,000

or equal nearly 33 per cent. of total premiums paid.

It is hardly necessary to say that no other company doing business in Canada, whether American or Canadian, can make such an admirable fulfilment of its contracts as the Canada Life.

ITS RATES ARE THE LOWEST AND PROFITS THE LARGEST.

Intending Assurers would be consulting their own interests by getting figures and facts from the undersigned before placing their risks elsewhere.

Healthy, happy children make better men and women of us all. A man is hardly himself until he has the development that responsibility brings. After the child comes, the father and mother both plan and promise what shall be done with it. A little care and a little planning before birth is often more important than anything that can be done after.

On the mother's health and strength depend the life and the future of the children. A weak and sickly woman cannot bear strong and healthy children—as well expect figs from thistles. Most of the weakness of women is utterly inexcusable. Proper care and proper medicine will cure almost any disorder of the feminine organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been tested in thirty years of practice. It is healing, soothing, strengthening. It is perfectly natural in its operation and effect. By its use, thousands of weak women have been made strong and healthy—have been made the mothers of strong and healthy children. Taken during gestation, it makes childbirth easy and almost painless and insures the well being of both mother and child.

The following letter is only one of thousands of similar ones:

Mrs. Florence White, of Victor, W. Va., writes: "I commenced using the 'Favorite Prescription' when half through my period of pregnancy. I used four bottles and felt like another woman. My time of labor was easy and rapid. I have a dear, strong, healthy little boy baby."

SHOULD WOMEN WOO?

A THOUGHTFUL ARTICLE ON THE SUBJECT OF FALLING IN LOVE.

A Question That Has Agitated the Breast Feminine For Some Time—A Story that Holds the Mirror Up to Nature—The Interest of the Men.

In a recent number of the Englishwoman a thoughtful article appears on falling in love, a process, the import of which cannot be over-estimated. It is one of the strange facts of the world, showing how far custom may replace nature, that love unwooed often has been held as unwomanly or unmaidenly, as to confess love, unmasked. Not to woo has been admitted on all hands to be the woman's part, and has been immemorially a point of maiden pride and shame. So great, indeed, is this persuasion that even the exact opposite of wooing has been made a point in the drawing of delicate women characters by many poets and storytellers. To hide every hint of love, to pretend even coldness and indifference, to be inaccessible, discouraging, to "let concealment like a worm i' the bud," etc.—"the proverb is something musty"—this has been the ideal of a woman's part set before sensitive young girls in song and story and drama.

If she may not speak or seek, may she not then feel? Is love such a thing in a woman that it is a shame to wake to it unless a man asks for it? Yet so have many women pretended in good stories and plays, and no doubt in real life. It is past doubting that many a woman has felt it would be, or unhappily, was, a shame to give her love without being asked for it. But this is as upside-down and topsy-turvy as if it were held a shame to live and breathe because we were not invited to be born. Why is an attachment of heart more to be shame-laden or held unwomanly (which is more than inhuman) than an attachment of mind? In other words, no more shame ought to be felt in loving a person unasked than in thinking of a subject or using one's reason in any way uninvited.

But if this be conceded, or whether it be or not, what is to be said of the unwritten, but most potent and immemorial canon, that a woman must not speak of her love, to invite a return of it, or to carry it to its end, which is noble marriage? Let us not say end, but rather the second stage of its beginning, whence love gets onward towards its end like some noble curve whose apex is at infinity.

There is a story extant of a young girl who, to a young man courteously accompanying her home one evening, spoke thus, simply and quietly:

"My friend, I wish to say something to you very simply and truthfully, and I ask you not to think ill of me or be turned against me for it. It is this: I like you very, very much, and I honor you. I wish you would come to see me often and constantly, to try whether you may not like me. I know I have few attractions on slight acquaintance or infrequent meeting. But I have a good, true heart, a mind not unstored of much good reading, and such virtues of character as I have been able to gain by daily sincere effort. These are the best attractions, if only there can be acquaintance. If you will come to see me steadily enough to know me you shall not be bound in the least. If you do not incline to me there will be no blame, no harm."

The young man, being high-minded, was touched and moved deeply. He said to her:

"You are a generous and brave girl. I will be as simple and truthful as you have been. I must tell you truly that I never have thought of you in the least. I have had the pleasure to pay you once or twice such little courtesies as I owe to all women. But my mind never has dwelt on you when away from you—not for a moment. There are two things, also, which you ought to think of. One is, that if I should visit you in that manner, and then, finding myself not drawn to you, cease my frequent calls, it would be given out, either that I had trifled with you or that you had trifled with me, and either reputation would be very bad for you. The other consideration is, that as soon as it is observed that I visit you constantly all other young men will keep away from you. Have you considered these things?"

"I have considered," she said.

"And still you wish to have me come and to leave me perfectly free?" he asked.

"I wish to have you come and to leave you perfectly free," she answered quietly.

In such an act there is naught unwomanly or unmaidenly. It seems all dignity, serenity, simplicity, grace. It is possible for such an act to combine the strength of the sea, the firmness of the mountains, the freedom of the winds, with all the modest grace of a violet hiding in long grass and veiled with dew. What words could express the churl-soul and yokel-mind of a man moved by it only to aversion or embarrassment or amusement, or anything except respectful sympathy, unless, indeed, to a deep and tender reverence! What a cowardly sneak would be he who would betray such a womanly act to his male friends or to other girls!

The story opens two questions. First, whether the initiative in love ought to be the right of both men and women or only of one. Secondly, whether, if only of one, the right should belong to men or to women. One thing seems certain, that the present method, which inflicts silence and concealment on women, or penalty of shame and derision, and gives to men alone the dignity and right of seeking to be loved—that this has some very heavy counts against it, and is very far indeed from being a happy and conspicuous success.

The writer suspects, as do we, that the boldness, haughtiness, vanity and pretension of the lordly sex would be shorn very much, and does not think that women would be spoiled by the right and power so as to queen it on the strength thereof, as commonly men now strut and lord it on their prerogative. "There is not so imprudent a thing in nature," says Congreve, "as the saucy look of an assured man, confident of success."

Just Like.

Willie Evanwerk stood on the back stoop and knocked lightly with his knuckles.

"Lady," he said, in a humble tone, as the hired girl filled the door, "can I speak to your mistress?"

"No, you can't," answered the girl, shortly; "she's gone out."

"Then," continued Willie in a wheedling tone, "won't you let a poor wayfarer as has walked ninety miles without food or raiment step inside and warm himself beside your cheerful fire?"

"Can't!" snapped the hired girl, slamming the door; "that's gone out, too."

It Did Not.

A well-known retail merchant was in a bad humor last Monday morning. A friend said to him:

"Bodkin, I am afraid the preaching yesterday did not do you much good."

"It did not," was the answer. "My pastor preached against the follies of fashionable dress, and most of the ladies of his congregation are my customers."—Exchange.

What He Said.

An attorney named Else, rather diminutive in stature, and not particularly respectable in his character, once met Mr. Jekyll. "Sir," said he, "I hear you have called me a pettifogging scoundrel. Have you done so, sir?" "Sir," replied Jekyll, with a look of contempt, "I never said you were a pettifogger or a scoundrel, but I said that you were little else!"

RESCUED FROM INSANITY.

Gentlemen,—To say all I ought to in favour of B. B. B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it. I am a different man to what I was ten years ago when it was expected I would be in the asylum, but now I am in perfect robust health and it was the B.B.B. that did it. I suffered for five or six years from constipation, sometimes so severely that I went out of my mind.

I tried various doctors, both in the country and in the city, and took medicines too numerous to mention, but everything failed to have the desired effect. When I used Burdock Blood Bitters it succeeded beyond all expectations, requiring only two bottles to cure. To make it still more certain that B. B. B. the real cure for constipation, I may say that some two years afterwards, I felt the symptoms returning and took one bottle more and from that time to the present day (over eight years) I have never had any returns of the disease.

I never knew any medicine to work so well. It does not seem to be a mere reliever but a sure and certain cure as I can testify to, for hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine and advice failed to do me any good, but three dollars' worth of B.B.B. made a permanent cure that has given me years of health and comfort. Yours truly,

C. L. Kilmer, Toronto.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

Paragraphs of Local Interest to Endeavourers Supplied by the County Union and Epworth League.

SUBJECT OF PRAYER FOR MARCH.

"For pastors and preachers the world around, that they may be filled with power from on high, and that their people, young and old, may co-operate with them more effectively in all Christian work."

A NEW CRUSADE.

A. T. Pierson, D. D., says,—"Christian Endeavourers, let us be such in more than name. Let the name stand for movement all along the lines—for a new crusade, in which every man shall wear the cross woven, not into his garment, but into the fibres of his being, as the sign of service to a crucified Master, and of sacrifice for a lost world."

IMPORTANT.

In the last number of the Endeavour Herald the Provincial Secretary publishes some figures that are not very complimentary to the corresponding secretaries throughout the province, and certainly not to the credit of the secretaries in Peterborough County. He says that out of 1,632 societies only 450 or an average of 27½ per cent. sent in statistics concerning their work. He then names several of the counties and we find that ours stands 25th on the list with a percentage of a little over 20. Just think of it, only 1 in every 5 societies in our county have secretaries who think it worth while to fill in the blanks furnished by the Provincial Secretary. Ought not the other four-fifths to be ashamed of themselves? You not only insult a correspondent by not answering his communication, but in this case you reduce the percentage and thus hurt the reputation of your county.

The same may be said in regard to the work of the County Secretary. He has to rely for his statistics on the Corresponding Secretary of each society. We can thus see the need of appointing only a conscientious and painstaking members to this office.

Another useful field for Corresponding Secretaries is the C. E. column, published every week in the EXAMINER and Review. Is it asking too much from the Secretaries to send us occasional items from their society, and thus make this column what it is intended to be, an exchange of sentiment, news and plans of work in the various societies. We are now nearing the close of another county year. Let the next one be our best, as far as the prompt and efficient work of the Corresponding Secretary is concerned.

PETERBOROUGH PRESBYTERY.

A most interesting meeting was held in Port Hope on Monday last, for the purpose of organizing a Presbyterial Young People's Society of the Presbytery of Peterborough, under the auspices of the Presbytery.

The object of this Society is to promote the welfare and usefulness to the church of the young people of the Presbytery by uniting them in friendly intercourse, the cultivation of their spiritual life, the study of the doctrine, history and work of the church, and the support of its missionary, educational and beneficial schemes.

All young people's societies under control of the Session, except Mission Bands, are eligible for membership.

It was most encouraging and helpful to hear the unanimous and strong commendation, by pastors, of the Christian Endeavour Society. It was inspiring to hear the capital reports from many C. E. societies, nearly all showing good work. One pastor, from our own county, reported that until recently he was strongly opposed to Christian Endeavour. He is an enthusiast now. Do you wonder at it? At his last Communion twelve young men united with the church on profession of faith. Eight of these directly through the efforts of the C. E., and four indirectly.

This organization, as we understand it, is not for the purpose of pushing aside Christian Endeavour, and far from desiring in any way to weaken the hold it has on the young people, as the Christian Endeavour Society is now recognized as a vital part of the church.

President—Rev. J. Hay, Cobourg.

First Vice-President—Miss M. Quinn, Peterborough.

Second Vice-President—Rev. A. Laird, B.A., Port Hope.

Recording Secretary—Miss E. Cochrane, Port Hope.

Corresponding Secretary—Rev. C. S. Lord, Grafton.

Treasurer—Miss Forsythe, Peterborough.

An annual meeting will be held in conjunction with the fall meeting of Presbytery in the alternate months of September and December.

MURRAY STREET.

The cottage prayer meetings being held by the Murray street society are proving very successful. We have had an average attendance of about thirty, and we are looking for good results from this special work. This society, together with that of Park street, will give the monthly reception to the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening the 24th March, when something unique in the way of entertainment may be expected.

CHARLOTTE STREET

E. L. of C. E. held its regular meeting on Monday evening, March 16th, the attendance being very encouraging, the topic, "Keeping the pledge in spirit and letter," being the subject. Some of the points emphasised by the Rev. J. J. Rae were: Christ our ideal; the Holy Spirit our helper, and God's will the way.

At the business meeting following the regular service it was decided to postpone the reception that was to have been given in the Y.W.C.A. rooms on Friday next to a more convenient date.

GEORGE STREET SOCIETY

Had a temperance meeting last Monday evening, Mr. Mitchell occupying the chair. The papers read by the chairman and Mr. J. Bradley were very interesting and instructive. Miss Pascoe gave an appropriate recitation, which was rendered in good style. The whole programme was much appreciated. The attendance was large.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

The annual convention of the County Union will be held in town on Easter Monday. The committee who were appointed to arrange the programme have spared no pains to make this a very bright convention and if the arrangements can be properly carried out the entire convention will bristle with good things.

In the morning session the societies of the County will be asked to present a two-minute report, taking in three important features:—(1) The encouraging and discouraging features of the work. (2) The mission work done by society. (3) Fidelity to committee work and pledge. The three subjects to be reported in the two minutes alotted.

In the afternoon session Rev. J. E. Trotter will give an address on "The Necessity of Bible Study to Successful Christian Work." This will be followed by a 20 minute conference on topic.

Three ten-minute addresses on Missions:—(1) "Systematic Giving, its Advantages," by Rev. Mr. McCamus, Norwood. (2) "Incentives or Encouragements in Missionary Work," by Rev. Mr. Liddy, Keene. (3) "The work of the Holy Spirit in Missions," by Rev. Dr. Torrance, followed by a 20-minute open conference for topics.

The juniors of the county will hold a rally at the close of the afternoon session, commencing at 4.15. An excellent programme has been arranged, Mr. Bengough, of Toronto, the cartoonist, will give a chalk talk to the juniors. This portion alone should be an incentive to all superintendents to get the juniors to attend this rally.

The evening session will be devoted almost entirely to the subject of "Christian Citizenship." Mr. J. W. Bengough, of Toronto, the famous cartoonist, will take this subject. Mr. Bengough needs no introduction to the people of Peterborough and the committee feel confident that they can promise great things for this session. The session will close with a consecration service and the committee hope to get Mr. W. J. Pady to conduct the service.

Now, county and town Endeavourers, the committee having arranged the programme, we take this means of submitting our plans to you. We want your individual assistance to help make this one of the brightest conventions we have yet held.

The expense will be heavy and we look to each to help us work up good meetings, and also drop a word here and there, asking that the collections be good. We do not wish to clear more than expenses attached to the annual convention. But what we do wish is to have sufficient to cover all. We hope this gentle reminder will suffice. The societies throughout the county have had instructions forwarded to them re appointing delegates, and also requesting some statistical information required by county secretary. If any society has been overlooked they should communicate immediately with the secretary.

All delegates will receive billets.

The committee has arranged for refreshments for all juniors outside the town.

Boom! boom! boom! Now is the time for action. Talk of it in your home circle. Talk of it everywhere from now until the dawn of Easter morn.

Tell the juniors about it, and the old folks, and the young people not connected with your society. This event comes but once a year; heretofore it has been a season of refreshing. Let us now hope for a greater blessing than we have heretofore enjoyed.

All communications should be forwarded to the Secretary of the County Union.

WASTING YOUR LIFE.

Failure of Physical and Mental Force—To Add to Length of Life—Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

With a pathetic sigh how often it has been said:—

"Well, then, I suppose I must let go my hold on life."

To fathers and mothers of unreared children this is tragic.

But whence cometh sure and timely help? If death is preventible, how?

The timely answer is: By scientific and successful kidney treatment — by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hundreds write to thank us and tell of their cure, but none to say that Dodd's Kidney Pills have ever failed.

No cold or cough is too severe to yield to the curative power of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It has cured thousands of cases.

TAKING MEASURES!

A Few Years Ago

We had dreams and visions that have now materialized into facts. But the facts are greater than we ever expected.

A few years ago, speaking of GOUGH BROS., people connected this establishment with Ready-Made Clothing only. To-day this store has a grip on the best trade, not only in Ready-Made Clothing, but in Boots and Shoes, Nobby Hats, Shirts, Ties, Furnishings, etc.; and now the pull is rapidly coming our way in—

Made-to-Measure Clothing.

Department after department has been successfully engrafted until it can be unreservedly claimed that GOUGH BROS'. Mammoth Emporium fills the bill—from the crown of the head to the soles of the feet—from the noted Stanley Hat to the best makes of King's stylish Shoes—every requirement for Man or Boy, with very much in every department that concerns and interests the Ladies as well.

Verily, there's a heap of truth in the trite aphorism of the ingenious McGarvey—"If yez got no push yez'll get no pull."

Fine Dressers

Are learning fast that Gough Bros. are pushing hard for the pull on the finest Tailoring trade of Peterborough. Our business motto—observed as we observe it—will bring success in any line:—"The Better the Grade, the Bigger the Trade."

This store of yours has gathered together for the spring and summer season of 1896, the most correct patterns in Imported and Canadian Tweeds, Worsteds, Cheviots, and Home Spuns, to meet your fancy. The British and American Fashion Plates are now on view. Our Tailors are all back to work again on full time, and Duncan Cameron, the keenest of Cutters, has his coat off—the whole department bustling with an air of activity, ready to corroborate our printed statements.

FASTIDUOUS DRESSERS—Men who have an extra care for looks, when you come to find what we really can do for you, you'll begin to find that you can save a third or so on your clothes, and be well dressed to boot. We won't let you pay so little for them as to get anything unworthy—economy don't lie along that route. We are teaching men who wear good clothes, that high prices need not always be paid to get high values.

"Always Good at Gough's."

DEFENCE IS SUICIDE.

Did Kate Tough-Hammond Take Her Own Life?

Young Hammond Must Stand His Trial on the Charge of Murdering His Wife—Evidence Given at the Preliminary Hearing at Gravenhurst Yesterday—The Prisoner Loses His Bravado.

Gravenhurst, March 18.—(Special.)—The adjourned preliminary hearing in the case of William James Hammond, charged with murdering his wife, was opened in the Town Hall to-day at 2 p.m., before Justices H. Castle, J. P. Cockburn, J. M. Robinson and H. R. King. Mr. Johnson of Bracebridge, Crown Attorney, represented the Crown, while Mr. Ross, of Johnston & Ross, Toronto, defended the prisoner.

Long before the opening of the case the street in front of the Town Hall was packed with people awaiting the opening of the doors, and when the case was called, every available bit of space in the hall held its occupant.

The prisoner, who wore an anxious look, had lost much of the spirit of bravado or indifference noticeable a week ago. Up to yesterday, however, he had professed to be confident that the magistrates would order his release, a confidence which Jailer Mills says he exhibited ever since he has been under his charge.

Frank Tough and James Tough, brothers of the deceased, both gave evidence as to the occurrences of the fatal evening of March 6. Both thought they saw deceased walking with the prisoner that evening, but were not positive as to this. Both related that Hammond suggested a search of deceased's room for the poison, and denied his marriage to her. Frank Tough afterwards found an unlabelled bottle of prussic acid and a labelled bottle of phosphoric acid in deceased's room.

Colin C. Campbell and John Bowes told of their being called by the young ladies who first found the girl lying at the roadside. Prisoner was also called and came to assist them without hesitation. Bowes noticed a peculiar odor in the dying girl's breath.

Miss Russell lives opposite the Hammond house. Her testimony, which is new, is to the effect that she met a young couple near Tough's about 8.30 that evening. She saw them enter Mr. Hammond's gate, come out again, without entering the house, walk a little way east, and then return in the direction of Hammond's house. She did not know either party, and therefore could not say the persons she saw were the prisoner and his wife.

John Skitch testified regarding a conversation with Hammond on the morning of the 7th, on the subject of Kate Tough's death. He had no suspicion then that the prisoner was connected with the tragedy. During the conversation the prisoner denied his marriage and suggested the deceased might have poisoned herself, as she had taken poison before. Hammond said, regarding people talking about him, that his record was clean in the matter.

Dr. Campbell repeated the testimony already published as to the purchase by Hammond of one ounce of prussic acid on the morning of the 6th. Prisoner next morning, on being questioned by the witness, said he had thrown the poison away, having used none of it, and didn't think he could find it. The witness testified that through an oversight Hammond had not been asked to sign the personal register on the 6th, but did so the following afternoon. He signed readily and without objection.

The counsel for the defence evidently looked upon this bit of evidence as an important point in the prisoner's favor.

The court then adjourned for an hour and a half, resuming at 7.30 p.m. Mrs. Elizabeth Tough, mother of the deceased, was called. Her evidence at the inquest has already been published, and she gave no additional particulars of importance. He daughter first went out that evening at 7.30. She returned home for a short time, and went out again about 8.10. She did not see her again until the men bore her home dying, about 9.15. When she found Kate was dying, she told the prisoner he must know something about it, but he denied all knowledge of what brought her to that condition, and also denied their marriage.

Witness had objected to her daughter keeping company with Hammond. It was from Mrs. Allan McNabb she learned of her daughter's marriage.

Allan McNabb swore that he was at Mr. Tough's at 8 o'clock that evening, and that deceased did not go in or out while he was there.

Dr. Grant was sworn, and gave a report of the post-mortem examination. The condition of the body was consistent with what might be expected in the case of death from prussic acid.

In his cross-examination he said, regarding the cup found in deceased's room, that the liquid it contained had a somewhat acid taste, but no particular smell.

Chief Constable Archie Sloan related the incidents of his trip to Toronto and the finding of deceased's trunk. He described the contents of the trunk, the details of which have already been published. It contained the two insurance policies, the marriage certificate, a letter and several collars marked, "H." This letter was not produced in court.

Isaac Armbrust, the Toronto agent of the Provincial Provident, identified an insurance policy produced, as one issued by his company for $3000 in favor of William Thomas James, the insured being Catharine Elizabeth James. The photograph produced was that of the person insured.

A legal point came up at this stage as to whether a letter from Kate Hammond to the witness was admissible evidence or not. The bench decided that it might be put in. The letter was to the effect that in making application for the policy in the Provincial Provident, she had wrongly stated that no other policies on her life were in force. She had supposed when making the application that a former policy had lapsed, which was really not the case. The Crown Attorney then announced that he would allow his case to rest on the evidence already in.

Mr. Castle asked the prisoner if he wished to make a statement, and Mr. Ross replied in the negative. After a few minutes' deliberation, the Magistrates committed the prisoner to stand his trial for murder at the Bracebridge Assizes.

Judging from the course taken by Mr. Ross to-day, the defence will take the ground that deceased administered the poison herself. In this connection the evidence of Allan McNabb appears to be of importance.

OTTAWA'S NEW BISHOP.

The Choice of the First Synod of the Diocese Fell on Bishop Hamilton of Niagara.

Ottawa, March 18.—(Special)—The special session of the Synod of the new Diocese of Ottawa, called to elect their first bishop, was convened this afternoon. Meetings of the high and low church parties were held during the morning, when the names of a number of likely gentlemen for the bishopric were discussed.

Balloting commenced after Archbishop Lewis' opening remarks, the number of votes represented being 53 clerical and 49 lay. To secure election a majority of each of this representation was necessary.

On the first ballot Bishop Hamilton received 18 clerical and 8 lay votes respectively; Dean Carmichael 1 and 11, Rev. Mr. Phillips of Hawkesbury 11 and 6. Among these with less than ten votes were Provost Body, Rev. Mr. Muckleston (Perth), Rev. Mr. Troop, (Montreal), and Canon Worrall.

On the second ballot the vote stood Bishop Hamilton 22 and 15, Provost Body 10 and 2, Rev. Mr. Phillips 10 and 9, Rev. Mr. Troop 2 and 13, the remainder of the vote being scattered.

The third and last ballot stood: Bishop Hamilton 33 and 25, Rev. Mr. Phillips 11 and 16, Provost Body 4 and 1, Rev. Mr. Troop 4 and 3, the remainder scattering. Bishop Hamilton thus secured a majority of both votes.

A telegram was sent to him at Hamilton, notifying him of his election and asking if he would accept.

The Synod met to-night to receive the answer, when it was announced that word had been received that the Bishop was in Algoma, but that he had been communicated with.

The Synod, therefore, adjourned until to-morrow morning.

THE ONTARIO NORMAL COLLEGE.

Hamilton Council Makes a Grant of $25,000 Towards the Buildiding.

Hamilton, March 18.—(Special.)—The City Council met this evening to consider the application of the Board of Education for an increase of $85,000 in the appropriation for the erection of the new Collegiate Institute and Ontario Normal College. In introducing the subject Mayor Tuckett strongly opposed giving the grant. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee, he council adjourning to give the committee time to consider the question. The committee reported in favor of granting the $85,000. Ald. Colquhoun and McKeown both speaking on behalf of the report. Ald. Hall and O'Reilly moved and seconded that the amount be $50,000. W. J. Grant and Hugh Murray spoke on behalf of the board and Ald. Carscallen and Teetzel spoke strongly in favor of the report. The report was adopted by a majority of 16 to 3, Ald. O'Reilly, Hall and Macleod being the only three to vote against it, and a motion to submit the bylaw to the people was also voted down.

The Rescue Home, Wentworth-street south, was formally opened this afternoon.

A fire broke out to-night in the furniture factory of A. Thompson, York-street, near Queen, just west of Copp Bros.' foundry, about 10.30 o'clock. The entire brigade was called out, and the blaze was got under control after about $3000 damages had been done.

FOREIGN AND COLONIAL MEATS.

A Bill Introduced in the Imperial House to Compel Distinguishing Marks.

London, March 18.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. F. B. Mildmay, Liberal-Unionist, member for the Totnes division of Devonshire, introduced a bill to compel sellers of meats to place marks upon foreign and colonial meats which would distinguish them from domestic meats, and also indicate which was foreign and which colonial. Mr. James P. Smith, Liberal-Unionist, member for the Partick division of Lanarkshire, moved the rejection of the bill. He agreed with the provisions of the measure in so far as it related to the marking of frozen meats, but was strongly opposed to marking meats which had been imported alive and slaughtered at the port of landing. The English and Irish agricultural members supported the bill, but the Scotch members were mostly opposed to it. Right Hon. Charles T. Ritchie, president of the Board of Trade, speaking on behalf of the Government, thought that the bill as introduced was unworkable and suggested its reference to a select committee.

The bill was read a second time by a vote of 239 to 82. The measure includes the marking of foreign and colonial cheese and butter as well as meats.

MURDER AT LINDSAY.

James Agnew Shot by a Thief and Robbed.

His Empty Purse Found Beside His Body and His Watch and Chain Missing—A Sixteen-Year-Old Boy Arrested Charged With the Crime—A Tobacco Chewer Wanted.

Lindsay, March 18.—(Special)—Last night between 9 and 10 o'clock, Mr. James Agnew, a retired farmer, 75 years old, living in the East Ward of Lindsay, went out of his house to tend to his horse and cow in a stable about 100 feet away. As he did not return in the usual time, his wife became anxious and went to look for him. She found his dead body lying at the stable door.

After summoning assistance, the body was examined and a bullet hole was discovered behind one of the ears.

The empty purse and a lot of scattered papers near the body showed that robbery was the motive of the crime. Mr. Agnew's watch and chain are also missing. The most intense excitement prevails in town, where the deceased was well known and highly respected.

Chief of Police Bell took hold of the case early this morning, and about 11 o'clock arrested a boy named James Kearney, who was said to have been seen near the scene of the murder last night. It was also said that he had fired off a revolver before going home.

Just at present it does not look as if Kearney is the guilty party, but other arrests are expected to be made very soon. Near the stable tracks in the snow have been found. It is quite evident a tobacco-chewing man stood there last night, as the snow all round this place is discolored with tobacco juice. The boy Kearney does not chew tobacco. He is only 16 years old, but bears rather a bad character. He was arrested a short time ago for burglary, but was acquitted owing to lack of evidence.

An inquest was opened at 1 p.m. to-day before Coroner Poole. County-Attorney Devlin appeared for the Crown. A jury was sworn in, and, after viewing the body, some evidence was taken, but very little light has yet been thrown on the terrible crime.

The inquest was adjourned until Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

All sorts of rumors are afloat as to the cause of the murder, and the guilty party or parties, but so far nothing positive is known. The only evidence taken at the inquest related to the movements of the deceased before he left the house.

A story was circulated this afternoon that a watch and chain answering the description of the one owned by the deceased was found on the boy Kearney, but there does not seem to be any truth in this. It is, however, believed that he had a revolver with him last night and that he was in the vicinity of the murder.

James Agnew, the murdered man, was well known throughout the Township of Ops. He came to this country from the United States in 1855, after a seven years' stay there, and located on the 100-acre farm owned by him about three miles from Lindsay, on the Bobcaygeon-road, opposite the farm of his brother, Robert Angew, and, like the latter, hewed out a home for himself, improving his land year by year, and prospered, winning at the same time the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact by his integrity of purpose and straightforward conduct in all the relations of life.

About 12 years ago, owing to his advancing years, he decided to give up farming and retire to Lindsay, providing he could secure a suitable tenant. This he succeeded in doing, and moving in, he purchased a comfortable brick dwelling in the east ward, where he has since resided with his aged partner. Here his many good qualities speedily won for him a large circle of friends—not alone among the congregation of the Queen-street church, of which he was a consistent member—but in all classes of the community.

THREW THE POWDER OVERBOARD.

Narrow Escape of the Steamer Finance From Destruction by Fire at Sea.

London, March 18.—The steamer Finance, Captain Daley, from New York, March 10, reports that at midnight on March 12, during a hurricane, fire was discovered in the ship's port store room forward. The fire burned until 6 o'clock in the morning and destroyed the bulkheads and a large quantity of stores, blocks, sails, etc. At 2 o'clock in the morning the fires in the engine room were put out by the water which flowed through the manholes, but they were rekindled at 4 o'clock. The powder, which was on board the ship, was thrown overboard and the life boats were launched. The officers and crew behaved with great coolness and bravery. No lives were lost.

Kingston News.

Kingston, March 18.—The Kingston Presbytery has nominated Rev. Dr. M. Gordon, D.D., of Halifax for the office of moderator of the General Assembly.

Fire destroyed M. Elliott's barns and outbuildings, with their contents. Fifteen cattle were removed in time to save them. Two horses were burned. It is thought the barn was set on fire by a tramp, who was seen in the vicinity.

REPUTATION REPRESENTS REALIABILITY

Let some one produce an article of reputation representing merit and proven to be reliable, and how soon do we find imitations. The people thereby are at a loss to know when they are getting the genuine. Our people (The W. E. Sanford M'f'g. Handling nothing but their own make leaves no room for a possible chance of trying to palm off any inferior article at a greater financial gain. Buy of the manufacturers.

Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, MARCH 19, 1896.

THE result of the debate in the House of Commons on Monday, as to the duration of the present Dominion Parliament, whether it ceases on April 25th or on January 3rd, was all in favour of the 25th of April, being the date of the death of the present parliament. Parliament will die by the operation of law and at midnight on April 24th, and after that—the deluge for the government.

THE Attorney-General has introduced an Act in the Legislature providing that "all actions against municipal corporations in respect to injuries sustained through non-repair of streets, roads or sidewalks, shall hereafter be tried by a judge without a jury." "The effect of this," the Hamilton Herald thinks, "ought to be to reduce the amounts which the municipalities are called upon to pay out for damages for accidents. Juries are prone to salt a corporation heavily whenever there is a half decent chance."

THE Orangemen of North Ontario are after their new member, Mr. McGillivray, and insist that he vote against the Remedial bill. They are too late in the day—the time to bring him to book was the day of polling. They elected Mr. McGillivray and now they must take him as they have him. He was elected as a supporter of the Government and it is likely that he will live up to his privileges. Before election the electors have it their way and after election the member has things in his own hands. This applies to everything besides remedial legislation.

THE row in the House of Commons on Tuesday gives a fairly good indication, says the Hamilton Herald, of the storm of feeling that is sweeping over the politicians just now. Mr. McCarthy may have been out of order in declaring that members of the House had been bribed to support the Remedial Bill, but he was abundantly truthful. If the Government had not bought up its supporters with promises of office the Remedial Bill would have no more chance of passing than a cat would have of crawling through the eye of a darning needle and making faces on the other side.

THE "Montreal Gazette" says; "In his speech on Tuesday Sir Hibbert Tupper quoted authorities to show that it was improper for a member of Parliament to advocate in the House, a cause for which he had received a fee. It is feared that this is a principle that has been frequently and far departed from in Canadian legislatures. The calling of public attention to it may do good. A member of parliament speaking with a fee in his pocket, is not in a position to be a cause of pride to his constituents." This is a dab at Mr. D'Alton McCarty, who was counsel for the Manitoba Government in the school case. If Sir Hibbert Tupper and the Gazette are so solicitous for the Independence of Parliament, they might denounce those members of parliament who sit in their seats for months and support the government in consideration of the offices, for which, practically, they have promises in their pocket.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

District For Farmers.

Goulais Bay, March 10.—(To the Editor): —Will you kindly draw the attention of farmers, and especially young men, to the favourable opportunity which this part of Algoma presents. There is room in the townships north and west of the Sault and in the valleys of the Goulais and Batchewana rivers for hundreds of settlers. In the Goulais Bay settlement there are about forty families, prosperous and doing very well. A settler can find any soil he may desire, from a rich sandy loam to a heavy clay. It is a very healthy country; fever, malaria and ague are unknown. All kinds of crops do well here—wheat, spring and fall; oats, barley, buckwheat, corn, tomatoes, apples, crabapples, plums, cherries, currants, raspberries and strawberries. The potato crop is always excellent, and the turnips, mangolds, parsnips, carrots, etc., cannot be beaten anywhere. There are two schools in Goulais Bay and we have just built the first Anglican church in the settlement, twenty-three miles from the Sault. The Methodists hold services in the school houses. In Korah township, six miles from the Sault, there is an English church; the Methodists and Presbyterians also hold services in the neighbourhood, and there are good schools. Anyone desiring information may address me at Goulais Bay P.O., Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., (enclosing return postage). Yours faithfully, J. P. SMITHEMAN, incumbent of Goulais Bay and Korah.

AN AXIOUS TIME.

Men and Women Hovering' Twixt Life and Death.

Spring, the Great Testing Time.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND MAKES THE SICK WELL AND STRONG.

THE ONLY MEDICINE THAT TRULY BRINGS HEALTH.

See That You Get "The Kind That Cures."

REFUSE ALL SUBSTITUTES.

Insist Upon Getting What You Ask For.

The experienced physician knows well that the spring season decides the fate of thousands of men and women who are hovering between life and death owing to the effects of disease. The man or woman who attempts to pass through the trying weather of spring into the summer season with a load of suffering and woes incurs a terrible risk.

There are few people who can honestly affirm that with the coming of spring showers, buds, and the advent of feathered songsters, they are in a perfect condition of health. The vast majority have the seeds of disease implanted in their bodies—some being nigh unto death; others, able to get around, but very far from being well.

The wise and prudent at this critical time will use Paine's Celery Compound to expel all impurities, vile accumulations and the deep-seated seeds of disease from the system. This is the time that nature calls for relief. It is suicidal to ignore this urgent call for cleansing and healing. Paine's Celery Compound does the work so quickly and so effectually as to astonish the most hardened skeptics and unbelievers. It is the only medicine that our people can rely on to make them well, vigorous and strong.

While the great advantages and superiority of Paine's Celery Compound over all other medicines have been amply demonstrated in the past by wonderful cures and marvelous rescues from death, our people, in order to get "the kind that cures," should ever be watchful that they are not imposed on by unscrupulous dealers who use every endeavour to recommend and substitute inferior medicines.

Some dealers and druggists who have no interest in your afflicted condition—never caring whether you live or die—but always a deep and greedy longing for big profits—will tell you they do not keep Paine's Celery Compound, but have something just as good. This is premeditated deception and falsehood. Heed not their specious arguments; their false assertions; leave such stores and go at once to the dealer who is ever ready to sell what is asked for.

Knowing that Paine's Celery Compound is your only hope for health, strength and happiness, insist upon getting it, so that you may be made well. Should you be in a locality where you cannot procure Paine's Celery Compound from your dealer or merchant, send two dollars to the Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal, and they will send two bottles to your nearest express office, all charges paid.

JUMPED FROM A MOVING TRAIN.

Miss Emily Wildsen of Norwich is Suffering From a Broken Leg.

Woodstock, March 18.—Miss Emily Wildsen of Norwich jumped off a moving train at the G.T.R. station this morning, and as a result is suffering from a broken leg and sprained ankle. Miss Wildsen came in on the Port Dover train from Norwich. The train stopped at the Diamond for the purpose of backing into the station. The young lady thinking she was about to be carried back, ran out on the platform and jumped from the moving train. She slipped and fell on the switches, breaking her left leg below the knee and spraining the ankle. She was taken to the hospital where she is reported as doing nicely.

A CONFERENCE NOW.

Premier Greenway Has Been Officially Invited

To Confer With the Ottawa Government on the Manitoba School Question—The Legislature Will Place No Obstacles in the Way of a Settlement, and Adjourns Till April 15.

Ottawa, March 18.—(Special)—Information came into the possession of your correspondent last evening of a new turn regarding the Manitoba schools matter. What was a subject of confidence then may be made public now, and to-night it is known by a few that the wires last night conveyed to Premier Greenway, through Lieut.-Governor Patterson, an invitation to join with the Dominion in a conference on the school question, with a view to reaching a compromise and removing this troublesome question from the arena of Federal politics. As soon, therefore, as the Remedial Bill has passed its second reading, Mr. Dickey and probably Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., will leave for Winnipeg to confer with Mr. Greenway.

A prominent Manitoban, who is in town and who is pretty well posted as to the progress of events in the Prairie Province, said to-night that Mr. Greenway would concede certain hours in which religious instruction might be taught by any denomination in the schools, and that the authorized text books would be so modified as to eliminate anything therefrom which would be objectionable to Catholics.

Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., received a telegram from Winnipeg to-night, intimating that a private meeting of Mr. Greenway's supporters in the Legislature was held this afternoon, at which it was decided to place no obstacles in the way of the proposed conference. On the contrary the Legislature, instead of proroguing to-morrow, will adjourn until April 16th to receive the result of the conference and take legislative action if necessary.

A Division at 11 a.m.

Ottawa, March 19.—The Remedial Bill debate will terminate at to-day's sitting of the House, but when to-day's sitting will terminate no one can foretell at this hour of writing (2 a.m.). All the available members are on duty waiting for division bells, but there are so many yet to speak that division will not likely be called before 10 or 11 a.m. When Mr. Laurier's amendment is disposed of it is said another one is to be moved to enable French Liberals to square themselves with their constituents. That the Government will be sustained by a good majority on all divisions is conceded.

Mr. Costigan, continuing the debate, said he had often heard of peace and union existing in New Brunswick. He desired to say, however, that the rights of the Roman Catholics in New Brunswick had been taken away as ruthlessly as those of the minority in Manitoba, but in New Brunswick they had submitted to the law. After an altercation with Dr. Weldon, Mr. Costigan argued in favor of the bill and closed with an appeal for justice to the Manitoba Catholics.

At 3 a.m. Mr. Edwards was addressing the House.

Mr. Flint followed.

At 4.25 a.m. the debate was still in progress.

THE POSITION AT WINNIPEG.

Manitoba's Legislature Must Review Any Arrangement the Premier Makes.

Winnipeg, March 18.—(Special.)—Premier Greenway has spoken, and another milestone in the course of the Manitoba school question has been passed. In the Legislature this afternoon Mr. Greenway gave notice that to-morrow he would move the House adjourn until April 16. "And what is the meaning of this?" is asked by those not in the secrets of the Government. The explanation furnished by the recent events here and at Ottawa is this: The Manitoba Government has consented to a conference with the Federal Government with a view to ascertaining if there is no possibility of arriving at a peaceable settlement of the school difficulty. The delegates of the Federal Government are expected here in a few days. The result of the deliberation will be reported to the Legislature when it re-assembles a month hence.

It it learned that the invitation for the conference was received by Mr. Greenway early this morning from Lieut.-Governor Patterson.

A caucus of the Government supporters was held at noon, and the course outlined above was decided on, though all arrangements had been made for prorogation to-morrow. It would appear from the developments of to-day that the members of the Legislature are not in the mood to make any material concessions to the minority at the dictation of the Ottawa authorities. They reluctantly consented to a conference in the belief that Mr. Greenway could be trusted not to "surrender," but insister on reviewing any arrangement made, hence the adjournment of the Legislature instead of prorogation.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness, nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Not one in a thousand does do it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them innutritious matter and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

Another Storm in Australia.

Melbourne, March 15.—A terrible wind, hail and rainstorm prevailed here to-day. The windows of churches and houses were broken, the roofs of many buildings were carried away and a number of houses were wrecked. Several vessels were sunk and others were damaged.

Dr. Koch's Tuberculine Denounced.

Berlin, March 15.—At a meeting of the Balneologic Society held last week Dr. Koch's tuberculine was fiercely denounced by many eminent professors in attendance. Prof. Lieberlich declared that tuberculine had been discredited by all physicians, even veterinary practitioners, as its use was directly dangerous. Dr. Hausemann said that a greater percentage of lung diseases had been cured by allowing nature to help itself than by the treatment of experts.

The Expedition to Wady Halfa.

London, March 17.—Sinten Pasha, who recently escaped from the Mahdists who had held him a prisoner for several years, will go to Wady Halfa, where an intelligence department will be provisionally established.

Paris, March 17.—The Temps and Journal Des Debats are a joint French chorus against the expedition, which it is generally believed, is simply a move on the part of Great Britain to solidify and make permanent her occupation of Egypt.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P. A MARCH WEDDING.

Celebration of the Nuptials of Mr. Wm. Moncrieff and Miss Rebecca Jackson.

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at the residence of Mr. Alex. Miller, No. 108 Stewart street, when his stepdaughter, Miss Rebecca J. Jackson, was united in marriage to Mr. William Moncrieff, of the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Co.'s foundry.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. McWilliams, of St. Andrew's church, in the presence of a large number of the friends and relatives of the interested parties.

The bridesmaid was Miss Hattie Jackson, a sister of the bride, and the groom was assisted by Mr. Will Stott. The two little maids of honour were Misses Effie Jackson and Nettie Cron.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a most elaborate wedding dejeuner was served. The presents which were received were both numerous and costly, and were an evidence of the esteem in which the young couple are held by their many friends. The employees of the wire department of the Canadian General Electric Works presented the bride with a beautiful set of china.

The new shops will be 60 x 100 feet in area, and must be completed and ready for use by April 1st. It is a pleasure to record the success of this important local industry.

THE DEPTH OF THE SNOW.

Not So Deep at this Season of the Year for Six Decades.

One of the oldest residents in town, while speaking to Mr. George McWilliams yesterday, stated that although he had resided in Peterborough for over sixty years, he never remembered seeing the snow so deep on the ground at this season of the year.

In the back country the roads are in a terrible condition. The fences are not to be seen in many places, and in the majority of places the roads are drifted to the depth of fully ten feet. This is more particularly the case in Victoria and Haliburton counties and the back townships of Peterborough. The depth of the pitch holes is such as to make driving very dangerous, particularly after nightfall.

DISTRICT SPORTSMEN DISCUSS LEGISLATION.

A Central Ontario Game and Fish Protection Society.

MANY RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE LOCAL HOUSE.

The Gathering Was a Most Representative One and Spent the Afternoon in drafting recommendations Concerning Proposed Changes in the Game Laws.

A most representative gathering of the sportsmen of the district was held yesterday afternoon in the Council Chamber for the purpose of voicing the feeling of the hunters concerning the legislation affecting the game laws which is now before Local House.

Mr. D. W. Dumble was voted into the chair and as it appeared to be the universal desire that advantage be taken of the favourable opportunity for the forming of a sportsmen's association, organization was effected with the following list of officers:

President—Mr. D. W. Dumble.
1st Vice-President—Mr. J. D. Collins.
2nd Vice-President—Mr. T. Fraser, Norwood.

AMONG OTHERS PRESENT

were Messrs. E. R. Tate, R. C. Strickland, W. H. Casement, Dr. Fraser and Fred Lillicrap, of Lakefield; Mr. Thos. Fraser, Norwood; Mr. A. McNeil, Keene; and Messrs. J. M. Irwin, E. B. Stone, Wm. Snowden, Wm. Wedlock, T. E. Bradburn, Sam Ray, Gus. Sawers, Wm. Hudson, W. H. Bradburn, A. Stevenson, H. LeBrun, H. C. Winch, C. LeBrun, D. Belleghem, Robt. Smith, Harry Strickland, Geo. Hatton, Alex Patterson, Lewis Spry, W. H. Gould and many others.

The organization will be known as the Central Ontario Game and Fish Protection Society. Its object and aim is apparent from the title which it has assumed.

Upon taking the chair Mr. Dumble stated that opinions should be taken regarding various questions now pending before the House.

The matter of dog hunting was taken up first and the question was asked whether it was cruel—cruel enough for the intervention of the Humane Society.

Mr. Harry Winch pointed out that when hunted by dogs the deer almost invariably took to the water, leaving only the head and neck exposed. These were most vital parts and the deer when in the water was consequently instantly killed. He thought dog hunting far the most merciful way to hunt.

Mr. Dumble then asked if

was economic of deer meat.

Mr. R. C. Strickland stated in reply that when a deer was shot in the woods the hunter frequently only removed the skin and hindquarters, leaving the balance to rot, as it was difficult of transportation. If killed in the water, the whole dear could easily be taken to camp.

"Is the meat of deer killed before dogs injured?" asked Mr. Dumbie.

"Never," was the rejoinder.

Mr. R. C. Strickland proposed that it be recommended to the Government to require that all hunters going into the woods take out a document to be filled in with the names of the party, the number of deer killed and the number of does shot. For the does which were shot during the season, he thought a penalty of $2 should be levied in order to protect the females as much as possible. If a report was not made correctly in this matter, a fine of three times the amount should be imposed.

Mr. Sam Ray thought the idea a good one, but he did not think it could ever be enforced. He did not think the hunter could ever be induced to bring in a return stating how many does had been shot if he was compelled to pay two dollars apiece for them.

Mr. Winch thought that such an arrangement would be hard on settlers, who should certainly be allowed to shoot

ANYTHING THEY SAW.

Mr. R. E. Wood was in favour of charging all sportsmen $1 who entered the woods, exclusive of settlers, and making an extra charge of $1 for all does killed.

Mr. E. B. Stone thought that it would be quite a hardship for hunters to pay a license in addition to footing their other expenses. There were many who could not afford it.

It was finally resolved to recommend that the fee be placed at $1, coupled with the suggestion that all parties make out a return for the game Warden of the district in order that statistics might be compiled concerning the number of deer killed.

The question of extending the hunting season was then taken up, the argument being advanced that if the season was lengthened so many hunters would not be in the woods at once and the deer would have a better chance for their lives. Mr. W. H. Casement and Mr. R. C. Strickland spoke to this question. Mr. Fraser, of Norwood and Mr. J. D. Collins were anxious to have the season arranged so that it would come later in the year. The former reminded those present of how had rotted in the woods a few years ago as the weather was too warm for them to be kept after being shot.

The following letter was read from W. R. Kidd

DEAR WINCH,—In reply to yours of the 21st ult., touching the matter of hunting deer with hounds or dogs, I beg leave to state in reply that I am quite satisfied from personal experience—extending over thirty years—that the dogs are by far the best way, if we are to consider the preservation of the deer. Some few years ago I killed forty deer in one fall with dogs, killing them all in the water. Out of the forty I got thirty-five bucks

The trouble in stalk hunting is that many are wounded through the bowels and usually are lost by taking into the thick swamps and other inaccessible places.

I have usually killed more on an average in a day's hunting by adopting the still hunting plan, frequently having killed three, four and even as many as seven in one day, in the woods, by stalk hunting.

I beg also leave to remark that usually a good fat deer will readily take to the water, whereas a lean deer will run all day and half of the night.

Meantime, I remain, yours faithfully,
W. R. KIDD,
Irondale P. O., Ont.

A number of those present wished to have the game laws amended concerning smaller game, and finally the following

RESOLUTIONS WERE DRAFTED

1. That hunting with dogs was not cruel.
2. That there is no cruelty in killing deer in the water, not so much as there is in still hunting, as the deers are killed instantly in the water, while they wander off and die when shot in the woods.
3. Killing deer in the water is economic of meat.
4. It is not a fact that dog hunted deer make bad meat.
5. That we approve of a license fee of $1 to be placed on all hunters save settlers.
6. That all Game Wardens be supplied with blank forms upon which all hunters shall report by affidavit the number of does and the number of bucks shot.
7. That the date of hunting be from Oct. 25 to Nov. 30, as experience shows that in the shorter season the deer are so closed in by hunters on all sides they have no chance to get away, but in the longer season there are not so many people on the ground at once.
8. That the time for shooting hare be extended to March 1st.
9. That spring duck shooting be permitted until May 1st, of only such ducks as are migratory.
10. That no party shall kill more than 12 deer a season, and that a man cannot be a member of more than one party in one season.
11. That the bounty on wolves be increased.
12. That the hour for shooting duck be from sunrise until 8 p.m.

THE FISH QUESTION

was brought up by Mr. Dumble, who stated that when in Ottawa recently he had called upon Mr. Costigan of the Marine and Fisheries department and represented to him the necessity of the ridding of the back lakes of salmon, which destroyed the spawn of the lunge and bass and were of no use themselves, as they could only be caught out of season. The subject of the establishment of a hatchery at Buckhorn was also broached, Mr. Dumble stating that at a cost of about $50.00 a year, millions of young fish could be put into the waters of Stony lake, and adjoining waters, every year. He urged that the matter be pushed.

Messrs. D. W. Dumble, J. M. Irwin and R. E. Wood were appointed a committee to draft a report to the Local Legislature and to watch the progress of the bill.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. Dozens of styles at a modest price. Some tasty and neat—more handsome and stylish. The prices match. See our stock before placing the baby on wheels.

Besides the baby's health demands a Baby Carriage, after being housed all winter. It will do the parents credit and the baby justice to have a neat, well upholstered Baby Cab to roll along in the procession under the bright Easter day sun.

So much the more does a new and handsome Carriage become imperative if the baby is a new one. The old one (that is the old Carriage) is shabby and persists in running crooked. If we could start life over again every one of us would insist on riding in a Baby Carriage and a new one at that.

Prices are away below values—forty different styles—$5.00 to $20.00.

He brings to bear interesting light upon him as son, husband, neighbour, business man, slave owner (as were nearly all Virginia land-owners in his day), and Christian.

The Hyslop Bicycle.

Samples of this leading high class wheel, which has been the subject of so much favourable comment around town for the past two weeks, have just arrived, and may be seen at the hardware store of Messrs. The manufacturers have advised their local agents that the remarkable demand which has already sprang up for their 1896 wheels has made it difficult to keep sufficient stock on hand to fill early orders. Those, therefore, contemplating buying a Hyslop are advised to file their orders without delay. Messrs. Kingan & Allan are also sole agents for another high grade wheel—the Welland Vale—of St. Catharines, which is scoring many favourites this year. dtf

LENTEN SERVICES.

Addresses and Services at St. Luke's and St. John's.

ST. LUKE'S.

The regular Wednesday evening service in St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, was well attended. Ven. Archdeacon Allen, of Millbrook, gave a very instructive and practical address, speaking from the 24th and 25th verses of St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans:

"O wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death? I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So with the mind I myself serve the law of God, but with the flesh the law of sin."

The preacher pictured the sufferings of St. Paul, and his lamentations over the weakness and sufferings of the flesh. The sinner in his hour of contrition and reflection looks back with sorrow on the past rejection of Christ, but that same sinner by faith and trust in God may look forward to the future with hope. Christian men and women subjected to bodily affliction, may be regarded with pity, but pity was only due to their outward appearance of suffering, for their hearts were at peace with God, and their inner—their real life—was peaceful. He urged his hearers to put their whole trust in God in order that they might enjoy the blessed fruit of such trust.

ST. JOHN'S.

Last evening Rev. W. C. Allen, of Millbrook, delivered a very interesting address on "Giving and Receiving," in St. John's church after the usual service. He took his text from Romans xii and I v.:

"I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God which is your reasonable service."

In the first place the speaker urged systematic action in religious as well as ordinary business transactions. This lack of system often led to failures. Secondly the matter of the welfare of the soul is of great importance. If our peace is not made with God, then the soul must perish. There is no condition mentioned in the Bible that can save it outside of giving it to Christ. Thirdly, he pointed out very plainly the heavenly and kindly love of Christ in atoning for our sins by His death on the cross. He was not obliged to save us but it was his kind nature that moved him to pity and thus mercifully save us. There was a large attendance of the congregation.

THE DISPUTED BRIDGE DEPUTATION.

Peterborough, Victoria and Somerville Bridge.

A deputation composed of Mr. Alex. Morrison, Reeve of Somerville, and Mr. Henry Graham, Reeve of Kinmount, and others, waited upon Hon. Mr. Hardy on Wednesday, asking for an appropriation of $2,500 for the repairs of a bridge known as the Peterborough, Victoria and Somerville bridge. This bridge has been in dispute for a long time, and was the subject of legislation in the House to adjust the differences between the various municipalities. The deputation asked for the appropriation for the reason that keeping the bridge in repair was a heavy burden on the township. Mr. Hardy considered the proposition favourably, but said that if an appropriation was given it must not be considered a precedent in any way, or that the Government was bound to assist always in maintaining the bridge.

MR. FITZGERALD AND THE S. O. E.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Everyone who was present at the service in St. John's church, and heard the sermon of the Rev. Mr. Symonds must have been pained and suprised at the remarks it called forth from my friend Mr. Fitzgerald, at the meeting at the Opera House on Tuesday night. Surely it would be impossible for any man to have more entirely misunderstood the remarks of the reverend gentleman, if he had deliberately tried to do so. Of this, however, I am quite sure Mr. Fitzgerald is guiltless. I know him too well to believe he would willingly try to fasten on any man (least of all, a universally esteemed and respected minister of the Gospel) such a charge as he makes against Mr. Symonds unless he thought he was justified. Now what are the facts? I was present at the service and I think heard attentively every word of the sermon, and I declare on my honour that there was absolutely no connection, either designed or unintentional between the "despised" sentence and the "need of Ireland." I quote the passage in full from your report of the sermon, which by the way is not, by any means, verbatim.

In speaking on charity Mr. Symonds expressed the opinion that of the virtues these were none which so stimulated the growth of home love. In the New Testament this virtue of charity is urged as the final test of our life, and even if exercised towards those whom we most despise, it is done unto Him, who is the Lord of Lords. The English speaking race has great opportunities for the exercise of charity. Ireland has been constantly in need, and now from the far East comes a call for assistance, and though, as yet, a means has not been devised for the relief of Armenia by the sword, yet we can assist the sufferers through our charity. Try ever, my brethren, said the speaker, to cultivate in your breasts a sincere sympathy for all mankind. Let us be true to ourselves, true to our principles and true to our country. Such officers and delegates of the Supreme Grand Lodge, such officers and members of Lodge Lansdowne, brothers all, such are the principles of the Sons of England.

Now, sir, I appeal to any man with the first instincts of fair play in his nature, whether Mr. Fitzgerald has not read into the above passage a meaning and a connection which are absolutely unjust, and I go further to say that, from my knowledge of Mr. Fitzgerald, I feel sure he will be prompt to withdraw the remarks so evidently made upon a mere cursory reading of your report.

Into the merits of the case for Irish home rule, neither your space nor my time permits an entrance. I would say that amongst the four hundred Sons of England who crowded God's house to listen to Mr. Symonds there were some at least, and Mr. Fitzgerald knows it, who have striven as earnestly as he can possibly have done for the country of his nativity, and without fee or reward or the cheers of enthusiastic audiences; who have tried to banish for ever the wretched era of misunderstanding, and hasten a true union of hearts between the English and Irish peoples. Has Ireland again and again been in need? Has England again and again responded to her need and fed her hungry and despairing sons and daughters? Surely there is only one historical answer; but I have yet to hear the first Englishman worthy of the name, who has not been saddened by Ireland's calamity and rejoiced at the opportunity of alleviating it.

Sir, I say frankly that to read remarks such as Mr. Fitzgerald makes is almost heartbreaking to any and every true friend of Ireland. What has been the chief cause, according to Mr. Fitzgerald's own showing, of Ireland's misgovernment in the past. Surely he must be a poor student of history who will not admit that Ireland's troubles are largely due, first to faction and strife, and sometimes venality amongst her own sons, and secondly to frequent misunderstandings of the relative positions assumed by the two parties to the quarrel.

Is not Mr. Fitzgerald's speech a sad example of the latter fact, and is not the present state of the Irish parties in the British House of Commons sufficient proof of the former.

With all my heart I could and will join in the prayer "God save Ireland," but it will not be saved, and will not be helped even, by such inversions of fact and erroneous imputations as are contained in Mr. Fitzgerald's unfortunate speech. Apologizing for taking up so much of your space, permit me to remain,

Yours obediently,
March 19th. George K. Martin.

REV. MR. SYMONDS EXPLAINS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—I would be sorry to lose the good will of my Roman Catholic fellow citizens, which it is my happiness to believe I have hitherto held, and which I earnestly desire to retain, by allowing any false impression to exist regarding any words I may have said. Permit me, therefore, to say that Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, in his speech at the Opera House, has misunderstood, misrepresented and misquoted my remarks in the sermon preached to the Sons of England.

Yours, etc.,
Herbert Symonds.

Consumptives Should Neglect

No means of ameliorating their disease. Cod liver oil is acknowledged one of the most valuable remedies in pulmonary complaints. That, however, it be employed in such a form as to be easily digested is imperative. It is just here that the entire superiority of Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites asserts itself. Maltine itself possesses nutritive value equal to cod liver oil, but more important to the sufferer of bronchitis, colds, consumptigu, is the great digestive power of maltine upon all foods of a starchy nature. Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites is, in brief, a food of great value in emaciation and and wasting diseases; a medicine possessing the remedial power of cod liver oil; a digestive agency of active potency; a restorer of the debilitated. Try it for two weeks.

HOCKEY CHALLENGE REPEATED.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In yesterday's issue of the Examiner a "player" of the Hardware Company hockey team writes a letter which insinuates that the H. LeBrun hockey team was afraid to meet them. I wish to explain. It is true that the captain of the latter team sustained an injury that temporarily unfitted him so play, but the fact is that the Hardware team fairly jumped at the chance of postponing the game, though the H. LeBrun team expressed their willingness to play on Wednesday, the date first fixed, and they have not done jumping yet. But the heads of the company would not meet us, though the clerks are not afraid to enter a game. Now, I will give them a chance to show that though they may not have a twist in their hearts—they may have some sand in their hearts. The H. LeBrun team hereby challenges the Hardware team for a game of hockey any night this week or next and not "next July;" the stakes to be an oyster supper, or a hundred loaves of bread for the poor, or anything else they desire. Let them come on—good honest, all wool clothing is not afraid of hardware and scrap iron.

YOUTH'S TROUBLES.

Why John Henry's Mother Finally Went Into Executive Session.

The morning wore on, in a way that mornings have when a fellow is particularly sleepy. Then a shrill, thin voice came weaving up the narrow, crooked back stairs.

"You John Henery!" it shrieked in menacing accents, "are you up?"

Whereat a dim and slumbrous answer came slowly corkscrewing down the winding way, so dim and faint that it fell and expired as it reached the bottom stair.

"Y-uh!" it said.

"Well, you'd better be," the shrill voice warningly returned, "if you don't want me to come up there to you."

Then Time resumed his labored gait. An hour later a boyish figure stole cautiously in at the kitchen door and was in the very act of stealthily abstracting a piece of pie from the deserted breakfast table, when it was pounced upon and fastened in a vice-like grip.

"John Henery," cried the owner of the grip, as she shook him fiercely to and fro, "didn't you tell me an hour ago that you were up?"

"Yes, marm," sniveled John Henry, sliding the pie under his vest.

"Then, what do you mean by lying to me?" and she shook him again till a little storm of pie-crust flakes rattled down from under his vest.

"Didn' lie," John Henry blubbered, one hand desperately clutching the pie; "I was up—ben up there all night. You didn' ask me 'f I was down."

But the amendment failed to prevail in either branch of the house, and shortly afterward John Henry's mother went into executive session.

A Valuable Canadian Product.

Nine people out of ten do not know how really valuable a possession the horse has become to Canada. The horseless age is not gaining much headway with us, if we are to judge by the extent to which we send horses to the Old Country. Last year Canada sold more horses to England by a very considerable number than any other country in the world. We shipped no less than 10,351 horses to Great Britain, representing a value of $1,300,000. This was an increase of 7484 head over 1894. Next to us came the United States with 8267, or an increase of 5508 head over the previous year. These horses are chiefly of the working class, with a few of the lighter harness sort.

LIGHT AT ANTIETAM.

HOW MISS CLARA BARTON LIGHTED THE GLOOM OF THAT NIGHT.

Margaret Spencer is Reminded of a Civil War Story by the Wonderful Red Cross Journey to Armenia—A Story Soldiers Love.

Since the wonderful Red Cross Journey has been undertaken to Armenia, loving and old friends are filled with reminiscences and story of her early work in our Civil War. Such friends are many at the capital.

In September, 1862, Miss Barton left Washington for the Blue Ridge with wagon loads of supplies for the sick and wounded. She had already ministered to the wounded and dying from the battles of Bull Run, Cedar Mountain and Chantilly. When she reached Burnside's corps after days of dusty traveling, sleeping in her wagon at night, she found the "two armies lying face to face along the ridges of hills that bounded the valley of Antietam."

She ordered her mule teams to follow the lines of artillery, and through smoke and fog of camp fire and the dark air of battle begun, she turned into a tall cornfield and unloaded her supplies in an old barn.

Confederate shot and shell flew over her. In the barnyard and field men were bleeding, torn and dying. The surgeons had used their last bandages, and were binding up wounds with corn husks. The army supplies had not yet arrived. All day long Miss Barton worked unceasingly. She fed the fainting and dying, all the bread, dipped in wine, that she had, moved them to the best possible places; found in the barn, meal, flour and salt hidden there by the Confederates.

Then began the gruel-making, in old kettles, and before night Miss Barton had had twenty-five men at work with her. They carried buckets of hot gruel from the barn, and an old farm house near by, and across fields until the darkness fell over the valley.

The porches of the house were used for operating tables. All day long, under a fierce battle, Clara Barton and the surgeons worked over the dying men.

One of the doctors, now an old man in the West, says: "Never shall I forget the terror which seized me, as I looked about for candles. The supplies had not come; the armies had stopped their firing. Darkness crept over the hills and the valley! A surgeon near me said hurriedly: This bit of candle is all the light we have for to-night! A thousand suffering, dying wounded men! They will perish before the day dawns!'

"'Good God!' I said, 'What a horror.'

"Just then Clara Barton came back to her post with a big bucket of gruel, and said cheerily: 'Doctor, we must light up; we can't work or move about in the dark.' A poor boy almost at her feet, said: 'Shall I die alone—here—in—the—dark?'

"Miss Barton replied joyously: 'Why doctor, I brought 30 lanterns and hundreds of candles!' I learned a lesson at Bull Run. We had a small supply. I said after that, light must be my first thought.'"

Both armies had lain down to rest. The dead were moved to one side, that the wounded might have care, and night settled down on the dreadful scene.

The lanterns were quickly lighted and hung in the bare old rooms, on the porches, the fences and wagons. Candles were flickering in all possible places, and the work of surgeons, doctors and helpers went steadily on all through the night.

The boy who was so terrified by the darkness said, as Miss Barton knelt beside him with the lantern on her arm: "Oh, I shan't die alone now. I can see you!"

An old friend of Clara Barton's wrote: "It was well worth a journey to Antietam to light the gloom of that night."

Old soldiers love to tell the story, Red Cross women have often heard it, and the brave Christian woman of '96 is not braver, not more an angel of mercy, than when she carried the light to the dark valley of Antietam.

WASTING YOUR LIFE.

Failure of Physical and Mental Force—To Add to Length of Life—Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

With a pathetic sigh how often it has been said:—

"Well, then, I suppose I must let go my hold on life."

To fathers and mothers of unreared children this is tragic.

But whence cometh sure and timely help? If death is preventible, how?

The timely answer is: By scientific and successful kidney treatment — by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hundreds write to thank us and tell of their cure, but none to say that Dodd's Kidney Pills have ever failed.

No REMEDY cures coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, etc., so well as Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It heals, soothes and strengthens the lungs and throat.

A CLOSE SHAVE

A TALK WITH THE MAN WHO EXPERIENCED IT.

People really do not know how often the angel of death hovers over them. Mr. R. P. Watkins, 173 Bay st., is a barber by trade, and gave our representative this short history of his escape from the disorder which was rapidly carrying him to his grave. Mr. Watkins is a skillful and experienced man, and is now enabled to exercise his skill from morning till night, where before he was unable to regularly follow his chosen calling. This is Mr. Watkins' story as related by himself.

"For over three years I have been troubled with what the doctors said was Bright's Disease, was getting rapidly worse, and could scarcely attend to my business. My ankles were swollen, the pain and heat in my back were almost unbearable, the urine was of a dark wine color, and it used to dribble away continually. I had to rise 9 or 10 times each night to void the urine, and consequently lost nearly all my sleep. The scalding heat and pain in passing the urine were painful and distressing beyond my feeble power to describe. People who did not know my trouble used to laugh at my frequent visits to the urinal. My hands and feet were always cold and clammy, and I suffered severely from palpitation, shortness of breath, and was, in fact, almost a total wreck. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills from Messrs. E. Hooper & Co., and improved at once. I have used two boxes and feel like a new man; can now work right along and at 12 p.m. feel like working right ahead. Had I not got those pills I feel that I would not have been working to-day. My words only faintly express the dreadful condition I was in, and the wonderful cure made by Doan's Kidney Pills."

Very Rich Belts.

Chatelaine belts of gold and silver with numerous pretty but useless pendants, in the style of those worn fifteen years ago, are revived, but the tinkle of silver trinkets makes music for envious ears. Scissors which refuse to cut, thimble cases never opened, vinaigrettes without any salts, fan and bouquet holders, are all in their accustomed place. But the new chatelaine bag made of various kinds of fancy leather is a thing for use as well as beauty. Bags are securely fastened to the belt.

"God Makes Mammas."

A tired mother was trying to wash her 3-year-old boy's face. Trying, I say, for every time the sponge touched the saucy nose off the little feet scampered, carrying laughing face far out of mother's reach.

In a moment of despair she said, "Oh, darling, if you don't be a good boy and allow me to wash your face, mamma will get sick and go away; then papa will have to buy you a new mamma." "Umph," answered the child, "we can't buy mammas. God makes mammas."

Canada Life Assurance Co.

Takes pleasure in announcing the completion of a Successful and Profitable Business for the Year 1895. The new business accepted, although not the largest in the Company's history, was the Largest New Business in the First Year of any Quinquennial Period.

New Assurances accepted in 1890 - - $5,880,000
New Assurances accepted in 1895 - - $6,628,000

A very substantial increase in the total business was effected during 1895.

Total Business in Force About $70,000,000

Some companies, like some individuals, are strong in promises but weak in fulfilment. A period of nearly half a century affords ample time to ascertain whether a company's fulfilment has equalled its promises.

We have taken the trouble to go through the 48 annual reports of the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY, and to total up the amount of premiums received from policy-holders, and the amount of profits paid or allocated to policy-holders, and funds as follows:—

Total Profits, paid and declared . . . $8,041,000

or equal nearly 33 per cent. of total premiums paid.

It is hardly necessary to say that no other company doing business in Canada, whether American or Canadian, can make such an admirable fulfilment of its contracts as the Canada Life.

Examiner Office.

When any part of the body isn't doing the work that nature intended it to do, it puts the whole system out of tune—out of harmony. When all of the parts do not work well together, none of them can work just right. Sickness in one part of the body is likely to run into all parts of the body. It isn't necessary to be sick all over the body, in order that you may feel sick all over. When children stand a row of bricks on end, they knock the whole row down by upsetting one brick. That is exactly what happens to the health when the bowels fail to perform their proper function. Constipation makes trouble all along the line—puts the liver out of order, is bad for the kidneys—bad for the stomach. It holds in the body poisonous matter, and because it cannot go any place else, it gets into the blood. The blood carries it all over the system. That makes sluggishness, lassitude, bad breath and foul taste in the mouth, fills the stomach with gas and causes windy belching, stops digestion in the stomach, causes sour stomach, heartburn and flatulence. It makes pimples and blotches and causes sick and bilious headaches. Nine-tenths of all human ailments are due to this one seemingly trivial cause. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They really cure it. Nobody becomes a slave to the use of the "Pellets." They cause no griping and are as mild as they are efficient. At any drug store. Look out for the druggist who tries to sell you something which he says is "just as good." There is nothing just as good. There is nothing that is nearly as good. Anybody who tells you there is is mistaken—or worse.

A GREAT MEDICAL WORK FREE.

We have arranged to give away absolutely free 900,000 of Dr. Pierce's great book, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." It contains 1008 pages, and more than 300 illustrations, some of them in colors. 680,000 copies of it have been sold at the regular price, $1.50 per copy. The profits on this immense sale have been used in publishing the present edition, a copy of which will be sent to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only. HOW TO BUY A WHEEL

AN EXPERT RIDER GIVES SOME VALUABLE POINTERS TO NOVICES.

One Wheel Does Not Suit Everybody—The Proper Weight of a Wheel for Ordinary Folk—How to Tell the Right Height—Other Points.

"What kind of a bicycle shall I buy?" is a question frequently heard from people who are about to make their debut into cycledom. Different manufacturers would answer the question in different ways, and each would persuade the purchaser, if possible, that the only proper and safe wheel to buy was of the kind turned out of his factory. A great deal depends, too, on the purchaser. Some wheels don't suit some people, and no wheel suits everybody. There are some points in the purchase of a wheel, however, that are suited to nearly all cases, no matter what the purchaser, the size of his pocketbook or anything else. And just at this season, when so many thousands of people contemplate buying wheels, those points are apropos and valuable. That question, "What kind of a wheel shall I buy?" was put to an expert rider and maker of wheels, and his answers were interesting.

"In the first place," he said, "buy one that has established a reputation and has a repair shop near you. That advice is not given to support the deal-at-your-home market idea, but as a matter of convenience to the buyer. It not infrequently happens that a rider breaks some vital part of his wheel. If the factory where the wheel was made be near by, the repair ought to take only a day or two at most.

"It is a good scheme also to get a wheel that has a reputation, or rather one that is made by a firm that has a reputation and is in business the year round. The reputation is valuable in many ways. It is a guarantee that the wheel is what it is claimed to be, or that the manufacturer will make good any defects.

"Weight is one of the most important considerations in buying a bicycle from the fact that it involves so many others. The ordinary rider ought not to buy the extremely light wheel. If he lives in an asphalted city the streets and boulevards are so smooth and even that the difference in propelling extremely light and ordinary weight wheels is scarcely noticeable.

"For country riding also the advantage is with the medium weight wheel. It will stand pounding and thumping that would wrench a racing machine all out of shape. For all purposes then but those of the race track the medium weight wheel is better than the extremely light. The manufacturers recognized this last year. They were forced to recognise it by the numerous breaks they had to repair in too lightly constructed machines. By all means buy a wheel that is heavy enough to carry you, if you buy one at all.

"Another very important consideration is in getting a wheel that is high enough—one that fits. A good test for height is this: Have the wheel high enough so that when the rider sits in the saddle he can just reach with his heel the pedal when in the lowest position it can reach in making a revolution. That distance, with the toe instead of the heel on the pedal, gives the proper reach and swing to the leg and enables the muscles to be used to the best advantage. And proper height of a wheel is a point to which many riders fail to give proper attention. How awkward a woman appears while riding a wheel that is too low for her. Her knees pump up and down in front of her and make her look as if she were trying to walk up the side of a wall. Besides that, it is harder to propel a wheel that is so low as not to give proper action to the legs and wears the rider out much sooner.

"Now as to handle bars. They are important. Many of the big manufacturers use the adjustable bars and those are desirable. They allow the rider to change his position. When he gets tired riding in an upright position he may twist the bars and bend forward. When he tires of that position he may return to the upright. But in case the handle bars on the machine you buy are not adjustable, don't by any means get the rams' horn kind that require you to bend forward at an angle that is liable to bring curvature of the spine and all sorts of other difficulties. The proper bar, in my opinion, is one that brings the handle corks about up to the height of the saddle, so that the rider may lean slightly forward if he likes, or sit in an upright position when he is tired of the other.

"Tires? Get tires that are both light and heavy. There are such tires, you know—not too heavy, of course, but heavy enough to turn a stone in the road and at the same time ride easy and light. The resiliency of the tire is an important point. It should also be of the 'quick repair' kind in some form or other.

"Most of the '96 wheels have big tubing and barrel hubs. I don't favor tubing that is extremely large. It has to be thin and dents too easily. Barrel hubs are an improvement. As to color and such minor details, it is all a matter of taste, except that a dark frame does not show dirt and bruises as the lighter ones do.

"My last piece of advice, and most important," concluded the expert, "is that anyone who contemplates buying a wheel should first try it if he knows the points, and if not have it tried by a friend who does. All the best dealers are willing to make that concession to customers, and by riding a wheel for a day or two at most one can tell whether or not it fits and runs to suit him. Women, of course, should be particular to get wheels that run easily and have regular bearings."

Burns' Poems in Many Tongues.

A book of translations from Burns has been published in Glasgow, from which it appears that the poet's more popular lyrics have been translated into all the tongues of modern Europe. In the French version it is odd to find "John Anderson, my jo," rendered, "John Anderson, mon amoureux, John," and in German "Hans Andersen mein Hans." "The Scots Wha Hae" appears in Latin. On account of the metrical resemblances the German versions are best.

Matches for All Comers.

A little negro gamin passing along Bay street yesterday morning saw a stump of a cigar fall on the sidewalk in front of a store. He made a second base slide for it, and when he had it safely corralled beneath him he rolled his eyes around the points of the compass to see if another gamin had also seen the stump fall.

"Dat war in Cuba is making Havan's skace, an' you can't take no chances," he remarked, as he brushed off the ash and blew away the sand and dirt from the coveted snipe. Going into the store, he said to Charley Ellis:

"Boss, gimme a match, please, sah?"

"Matches are not here to give away, but to sell," said Mr. Ellis, assuming a look of intense severity.

"Dey is, eh?"

"That's what they are."

"Well, how much is dey er box?"

"One cent."

The gamin tilted the stump in one corner of his mouth, held to the band of his pantaloons with one hand, ran the other hand into his pocket and pulled forth a copper.

"Gimme a box." And he laid down the cent.

He got the box, struck a match, lit the stump so well that it poured forth volumes of smoke, and then, handing the box back to Mr. Ellis, assumed a look of intense severity, and said:

"Put dat box on de sheff, an' de nex' time a gemman come in hyar an' ax you for a match, you gin him one outen my box."—Florida Times-Union.

RESCUED FROM INSANITY.

GENTLEMEN,—To say all I ought to in favour of B. B. B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it. I am a different man to what I was ten years ago when it was expected I would be in the asylum, but now I am in perfect robust health and it was the B.B.B. that did it. I suffered for five or six years from constipation, sometimes so severely that I went out of my mind.

I tried various doctors, both in the country and in the city, and took medicines too numerous to mention, but everything failed to have the desired effect. When I used Burdock Blood Bitters it succeeded beyond all expectations, requiring only two bottles to cure. To make it still more certain that B. B. B. the real cure for constipation, I may say that some two years afterwards, I felt the symptoms returning and took one bottle more and from that time to the present day (over eight years) I have never had any returns of the disease.

I never knew any medicine to work so well. It does not seem to be a mere reliever but a sure and certain cure as I can testify to, for hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine and advice failed to do me any good, but three dollars' worth of B.B.B. made a permanent cure that has given me years of health and comfort. Yours truly,

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Secres of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

EAST ONTARIO GRAND LODGE.

ORANGEMEN MEET IN ANNUAL CONCLAVE AT NORWOOD.

The Manitoba School Question to the Fore—Clark Wallace Endorsed—Officers Elected.

Norwood, March 18.—(Special)—The Grand Orange Lodge of Eastern Ontario continued its session here to-day, and had some little diversion from routine business in the form of an address from Major Sam Hughes, who came up from Ottawa to explain why he proposed to vote against Mr. Laurier's amendment, moving the six months' hoist to the coercion bill. The explanation was decidedly ingenious, albeit a trifle acrobatic. The Major told the brethren that if Mr. Laurier's amendment was carried it would mean "no confidence" in the Government, which would be forced to resign at once, giving Mr. Laurier the advantage of appealing to the country as Premier. He was not prepared to vote to bring about such a condition of affairs, but would, after voting down the Laurier amendment, also vote against Sir Charles Tupper's motion for the second reading, thus showing that he is opposed to the bill. The members of Grand Lodge did not display much enthusiasm at this explanation, and several openly expressed regret that the Major had to take the noon train back to Ottawa and could not stay to hear their criticisms of his action. Victoria is pretty well represented at Grand Lodge, and it seems not unlikely that the delegates will remember the clear cut declaration of ex-Grand Master Delamere, who is an independent Conservative, in the field against Major Hughes, and contrast them with the Major's position. It was stated this morning that members had been approached to sign a petition asking Mr. Clarke Wallace to vote against the six months' hoist, and that the effort had been a signal failure. There was a good deal of debate on the motion to endorse the Grand Sovereign's attitude on the school question, the great bulk of opinion being in favour of the sentiment expressed in it.

GRAND MASTER ENDORSED.

Grand Master Kidd's views also, as published yesterday, met those of the delegates, as the following extract from the report of the Committee on Correspondence shows:—"Your committee also heartily concurs in the general tenor of the Grand Master's address, and more particularly in that portion which deals with that burning issue, the Manitoba school question. The language of the Right Worshipful Grand Master is but voicing the views held upon this subject by the brethren of the jurisdiction, without exception. As even from evil good may come, so your committee rejoices to know that from this most unjustifiable attempt to hand over the educational system of our sister province to the tender mercies of a church which has always been the uncompromising enemy of enlightenment, and the passionate interest awakened and daily increased by the ample discussion that has taken place have already caused a closer drawing of the bonds that unite all classes of Protestants, and a marked tendency to a unity of action in the face of a common foe, that can yield none but the happiest results."

The report, which was carried enthusiastically, was signed by R. H. Holland, E. A. Powers, J. H. Freeborn, D. E. K. Stewart and Lachlan McGoun.

During the morning session Reeve Finlay and members of Norwood council attended and formally welcomed the Grand Lodge to the village. Appropriate replies were made by prominent members.

THE SIX MONTHS' HOIST.

The afternoon session was again devoted in some measure to the school question, and it became apparent that while all wanted the bill killed, all were not as one as to how the killing should be done. It was moved by W. H. Lewis, Ottawa, seconded by J. H. Delamere:

"That this Right Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ontario East in Grand Lodge assembled are of the opinion, after hearing the address of the G. M. of B. A., Bro. N. Clarke Wallace, that he was perfectly justified in resigning his position in a government pledged to interfere with the school legislation of Manitoba, and that by so doing he has gained the respect not only of Orangemen, but all right-thinking people of this Dominion, and we pledge ourselves by our services and votes at the next general election to do all in our power to return to Parliament men pledged to no coercion of Manitoba in connection with the school legislation, no matter what their opinion on general questions may be, and, further, from what has been said by the G. M. of B. A., we are of the opinion with him that it is the duty of all Orangemen in the House of Commons who desire to see the remedial bill defeated to give the motion for a six months' hoist loyal support as being the best means of accomplishing our object."

The "six months' hoist" portion of the resolution did not please some of the members, and Deputy Grand Master Bell and Messrs. O. Bush, M.P.P., R. H. Holland, D. Monroe and Lewis were appointed a committee to put the latter part in more general terms. This was done by striking out the words beginning "and, further, from," and putting in the following:

"And we are of the opinion that it is the duty of all Orangemen in the House of Commons on all occasions to cast their votes against the principle of the Remedial bill, and so give a loyal support to our most Worshipful Grand Master, and we hereby call upon all Orangemen in Parliament to take notice of this pronouncement of the opinion of Grand Lodge and to govern themselves accordingly."

The report of the committee was discussed at the evening session and adopted. The Eastern Grand Lodge thus lines up behind Mr. Clark Wallace.

Grand Lodge adopted a benefit system under which lodges will in future administer their benevolent funds under by-laws providing that in cases where the annual dues are $1.85 a weekly benefit of $2 per week shall be paid in case of sickness. An increasing benefit shall be paid with increasing fees, lodges charging an annual fee of $5 being required to pay $5 per week sick benefit and $100 at death.

THE NEW OFFICERS.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—Grand Master, Mr. J. W. Bell, ex-M. P., Desmond, formerly Deputy G.M. by acclamation: Deputy Grand Master, A. Bradley, Ottawa: Associate Deputy Grand Master, J. H. Devitt, Blackstock. For this office a keen contest was waged between Mr. Devitt and Mr. McWilliams, of Peterborough.

For Grand Chaplain there were three entries—Rev. Messrs. Moore, Dupras and Barker of Campbellford — the last named being successful.

Mr. F. M. Clark, Belleville, was re-elected Secretary, and Mr. Robert Gordon, Tweed, Treasurer, G. H. Craig, Tweed, was elected Grand Lecturer: Director of Ceremonies, J. Hughes, Carp: Assistant Secretary, George McCartney, Janetville. The Grand Lodge will meet at Picton next year.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Down at the Rink Amongst the Curlers and the Hockeyists—Other Items of Interest.

HOCKEY.

Yielding to the universally expressed desire of the citizens to see a first-class hockey team brought to town to try conclusions with the Peterboroughs, the management have made arrangements to bring the Electrics of Ottawa here this evening for a game. The Electrics have a record almost as good as the Peterboroughs. They have never been beaten on their own rink, and seldom off it, although their district is a regular hot-bed of hockeyists. The Ottawa district championship fell to them this year, and therefore a brilliant match may be expected this evening when the puck is faced off at 8 p.m. The local team will be composed of the men who made such a great showing against the Wellingtons the other evening, defeating them by 17 goals to 2, viz., goal, Wasson; point, Montgomery; cover point, Adams; forwards, Phelan, Parsons, Poussette and Lefevre.

THE WHEEL.

Belleville has announced herself out to help Peterborough get the meet.

The Toronto Globe says,—"Peterborough's desire for the meet seems to have cooled off somewhat. Very little is heard from Mr. Horkins and his band, but the cycling atmosphere is filled with the rumblings of Van Felsom's voice. It is hard to understand the apathy of the Peterboroughites. Probably they intend to make a "gallery finish." So far Quebec has made all the running, and now that the stretch has been reached and finishing post is being neared it is time that Peterborough should make a bid for the lead. In Toronto the preponderance of the clubs have declared for Peterborough, but Quebec in the matter of votes makes a head and head finish. Of the 13 clubs in this city 9, representing 390 votes, favour the Ontario town, while 3, aggregating 389 ballots, are for the ancient city. The Athenæums, with 63 members, have not expressed a preference either way, and it is conjectual which town will receive their support."

CRICKET.

The Lindsay Cricket Club reorganized on Tuesday night, and a very promising season is before them. Mr. Brodie was called to the chair, and the following officers were elected for the coming season:—

Hon. President—J. D. Flavelle.
Pres.—E. Flood.
1st Vice-pres.—John Short.
2nd Vice-pres.—M. H. Sisson.
Sec.-treas.—W. C. Richardson.
Capt.—A. M. Paton.

The following were elected as a Committee of Management—H. Porter, G. A. Little, F. Walters, M. W. Kennedy, and T. Brodie, with the officers. The meeting was then thrown open to discussion on various topics, the principal of which was battles fought and won, and some marvellous catches made by different players last season; also "that dandy hit" made by George Little at Whitby, which one of the players said went clear out of sight.

TAKING MEASURES!

A Few Years Ago

We had dreams and visions that have now materialized into facts. But the facts are greater than we ever expected.

A few years ago, speaking of GOUGH BROS., people connected this establishment with Ready-Made Clothing only. To-day this store has a grip on the best trade, not only in Ready-Made Clothing, but in Boots and Shoes, Nobby Hats, Shirts, Ties, Furnishings, etc.; and now the pull is rapidly coming our way in—

Made-to-Measure Clothing.

Department after department has been successfully engrafted until it can be unreservedly claimed that GOUGH BROS'. Mammoth Emporium fills the bill—from the crown of the head to the soles of the feet—from the noted Stanley Hat to the best makes of King's stylish Shoes—every requirement for Man or Boy, with very much in every department that concerns and interests the Ladies as well.

Verily, there's a heap of truth in the trite aphorism of the ingenious McGarvey—"If yez got no push yez'll get no pull."

Fine Dressers

Are learning fast that Gough Bros. are pushing hard for the pull on the finest Tailoring trade of Peterborough. Our business motto—observed as we observe it—will bring success in any line:—"The Better the Grade, the Bigger the Trade."

This store of yours has gathered together for the spring and summer season of 1896, the most correct patterns in Imported and Canadian Tweeds, Worsteds, Cheviots, and Home Spuns, to meet your fancy. The British and American Fashion Plates are now on view. Our Tailors are all back to work again on full time, and Duncan Cameron, the keenest of Cutters, has his coat off—the whole department bustling with an air of activity, ready to corroborate our printed statements.

FASTIDUOUS DRESSERS—Men who have an extra care for looks, when you come to find what we really can do for you, you'll begin to find that you can save a third or so on your clothes, and be well dressed to boot. We won't let you pay so little for them as to get anything unworthy—economy don't lie along that route. We are teaching men who wear good clothes, that high prices need not always be paid to get high values.

"Always Good at Gough's."

FRANCE GROWING CALMER.

MR. BERTHELOT'S MESSAGE DID NOT MEAN AS MUCH AS SUPPOSED.

French, Russian and Italian Newspapers Comment on the Situation.

Paris, March 19.—It is semi-officially declared that the utterances of M. Berthelot, Minister of Foreign Affairs, regarding the gravity of the consequences of the british expedition to Dongola, do not possess the meaning attached to them. They merely referred to the question of using the reserve Egyptian fund for the exhibition. While the government wish it understood that France is closely interested in the matter, they in no way desire to assume an attitude of hostility towards England. It was necessary that France should clearly define her attitude at the outset, and, in view of the kindly relations recently established with England, the government was of the opinion that frank language would be the most likely to remove any possible misunderstanding that might arise. The 'Temps,' in commenting upon the matter, expresses views similar to the foregoing.

New York, March 19.—A special to the Herald from Rome says that in diplomatic circles the expedition to Dongola is looked upon as a severe defeat for French diplomacy. An accord exists between Great Britain and Italy.

New York March 19.—The Herald's St. Petersburg special says:—Great Britain's rapid move in Egypt seems to have staggered public opinion here. The Viedomosti admits that England seems to know the pulse of Central Europe better than anyone else.

Paris, March 19.—The Gaulois, discussing France's attitude on the Egyptian situation, says:—The Cabinet ought to have modified their language and not lent themselves to an incident, the result of which will cement the Driebund anew and afford Germany occasion to draw closer to Great Britain.

The Journal thinks that occasion has been afforded the Foreign Office to take revenge for the recent numerous rebuffs it has experienced.

Berlin, March 19.—It is officially announced that Germany having learned that the British proposal to use a portion of the reserve Egyptian fund for the Dongola expedition is accepted by the other governments in the Dreibund, has instructed the German commissioner of Public Debt at Cairo accordingly.

Paris, March 19.—The statement made in the despatch from Toulon to the Figaro that the French squadron in the Levant had been ordered to Egyptian waters, is denied by the Government authorities.

YOUNG LIBERAL MEETING.

An Enthusiastic Reception of Their President's Address.

Ottawa, March 19.—The Young Liberal Clubs of Ontario, which were federated last February, met here to-day in convention. About 350 delegates from all parts of Ontario were present. The meeting this afternoon was held in the large room of the Reform Club, but to-night a mass meeting will be held in the Opera House. Stewart Lyon, of Toronto, president of the Federation, in his inaugural address, stated that while the present membership of 18,000 for ninety Young Liberal Clubs now in existence is very satisfactory considering the short existence of the Federation, the Federation would not be satisfied till the membership is 100,000 and clubs number three hundred or four hundred. He looked forward to the time when these clubs will act as schools of political science for the youth of the province. He hoped the clubs would endeavour to teach politicians to raise the standard of political morals, to teach them that sound principles are more than a success-bringing policy; that good government can never be promoted by corrupt means; that the highest duty of the citizen is to vote as conscience dictates. He expressed appreciation of the leadership of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, and regarded with satisfaction the attitude of the leader on matters of Church and State. More than ever in Canada is there need of exercise of that conciliatory spirit dislayed by Mr. Laurier. In conclusion he expressed confidence in the future of Canada and loyalty to the Mother Country. The address was received with cheers.

Hammond Committed.

Gravenhurst, March 18.—Young Hammond, who is charged with poisoning Katie Tough, was to-day committed to stand his trial at the June Assizes.

A HAULTAIN WEDDING.

Celebration of the Nuptials of Mr. Chas Lauder and Miss M. M. Church.

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the family residence on the evening of the 11th of March, between Miss M. M. Church, youngest daughter of the late Oliver Church, and Mr. Charles Lauder, both of Haultain.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few relatives and friends by the Rev. J. Barnes, B.A., of the Methodist church, South Burleigh.

The bride was tastefully dressed in a fawn coloured costume, and was assisted by Miss Maggie Lauder, while Mr. Israel D. Church acted as groomsman.

An oyster supper was served during the evening, and many good wishes were expressed for the future happiness of the bride and groom, who are both much esteemed by their neighbours.

Mr. and Mrs. Lauder left on Thursday morning on a bridal tour to Montreal.

REPUTATION REPRESENTS REALIABILITY

Let some one produce an article of reputation representing merit and proven to be reliable, and how soon do we find imitations. The people thereby are at a loss to know when they are getting the genuine. Our people (The W. E. Sanford M'f'g. Co.) have obviated the possibility of being deceived by placing their goods before the public themselves direct from the warehouse. Handling nothing but their own make leaves no room for a possible chance of trying to palm off any inferior article at a greater financial gain. Buy of the manufacturers.

Watch for our spring announcement.

Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, MARCH 20, 1896.

McKINLEY, the United States apostle of high taxation, is appropriately receiving a boom as Presidential candidate of the Republican party in the United States.

THE Mowat Government majority does not melt in sympathy with the snow. Its majority over Patrons and Conservatives combined on Mr. Marter's venerable motion condemning the administration of the license system, was thirteen.

CANON DUMOULIN, says the Hamilton Times, asserts that "divorce is an invention of the devil." If the Canon gives credit to the proper party, there's at once an argument for the Canadian plan of referring divorce cases to the Senate :

For Satan finds some mischief still
For idle hands to do.

"THE CULTIVATEUR," a Quebec journal, in speaking eulogistically of Mr. Laurier, points out that in one respect he "has gained a position held by no member of our (the French) race before him." He is, the St. Thomas Journal comments, the unquestioned leader of the whole Liberal party. His French-Canadian predecessors were leaders only of the French-Canadian wing. The fact is worthy of being emphasized, as signifying the obliteration of racial feeling—the acceptance by both races of one leader, and the evolution of a leader able to sympathize with the desires of both peoples, and to win the confidence of both. The Confederation is progressing.

THE Imperial Government, and that means the British people, is not going to imperil the substance for the shadow in the matter of trade arrangements. They will not listen to the convincing arguments of those who advise them to adopt protection as a national policy. Nor will they rush into the meshes of the inter-Imperial trade net so artfully set by enthusiastic believers in that idea. But they will deal with the subject thoughtfully. The trade relations between the Colonies and Britain however, are being carefully considered. Lord Salisbury has stated that he in no way necessarily associates the doctrine of protection with that of preferential trade with the British possessions. He now states that, in the consideration of the question it must be remembered that there are treaty difficulties in the way, but the government is not prepared to give notice of the termination of the treaties, which are otherwise valuable, until a definite scheme is produced promising such an increase of trade within the Empire as will compensate for the risk involved. John Bull's head, the Ottawa Free Press says, is screwed on straight in such matters.

THE BRANDING OF CHEESE.

The cheese importers of the old country are anxious that the Canadian Parliament should add to the Government cheese bill a clause compelling the branding of the month of the make on each each cheese. The large London, Bristol and Glasgow merchants especially say they must know that they get what they order or otherwise the trade will suffer. The act, they say, should enforce the branding of the date under heavy penalties.

Book of Questions.

A busy woman has compiled for her own use and gratification a book of quotations which so far surpasses in cleverness and quantity anything of the kind that I have ever seen that I was emboldened to ask her how she had managed to make such a collection.

"My dear," she said, "that represents the work of years, yet done so gradually that I have never missed the hours spent upon it. From the time I was a girl I have made a habit of reading with a pencil and note book at hand, and when anything impresses me as especially clever I 'make a note of it.' Even in traveling I always have a tiny pencil and a sheet of paper in the depths of purse or bag. At any time when I have a few moments to spare at my desk, I jot down the matter collected in this great blank book, and then it is mine forever. Although the books I have read in times past may not belong to me, the best, most pithy sayings in them can never be taken from me. To this volume I often go for amusement, cheer and consolation. It is an old friend, who has something to say to me to fit any mood in which I may find myself."—Harper's Bazar.

THE INK ERADICATOR

An Agent for the Article Calls and Finds His Customer in.

He was a little man with a stubby, gray mustache, and his shiny Prince Albert coat was buttoned tightly to his throat. He wore no gloves, and his hands, one of which grasped the handle of a small black satchel, were red with the cold.

The bookkeeper was hard at work on his trial balance, and did not notice the gentle opening and closing of the street door. He was unaware of the presence of his visitor until the little man asked:

"Pardon me, but is Mr. Bilkins, your cashier, in?"

The bookkeeper forsook his figures long enough to say, "Mr. Bilkins is in all right—anything I can do for you?"

"Oh, no, the business is purely personal, thank you. I presume he is engaged. I shall wait." And the little man sank softly into a chair near the radiator, resting the satchel on his knees. The bookkeeper resumed his task.

Twenty minutes passed.

The trial balance had "come out" satisfactorily, and the bookkeeper whistled cheerily to himself as he prepared to replace the books.

"Pardon me," said the little man, rising from the chair, "but I sold Mr. Bilkins a bottle of my Imperial Ink Eradicator a few months ago, and, as he seemed to like it, I thought I would call and see if he needed a fresh supply. Can you tell me when he will be at liberty?"

The bookkeeper threw the last book into the vault, and after slamming the door shut, turned and remarked: "Certainly—I think it is six years, unless he's pardoned before his sentence expires."—Truth.

THE LENGTH OF LIFE.

INSURANCE MEN HAVE THE MORTALITY QUESTION DOWN FINE.

Figuring on Death's Visits—Tables Based on the Experience of Years Show That Average Time of Existence Can Be Calculated.

Life is said to be uncertain, but the insurance companies have it figured out to a certainty. What the insurance men call the actuaries' table is both strange and astonishing. It tells how long persons of any age are likely to live, and upon that calculation the insurance companies base their rates.

It is not a new thing. For many years it has been in use all over the world, and its accuracy is as undoubted as the law of gravitation. The table is simply the experience of all the great insurance companies of England for nearly a hundred years reduced to cold figures, and tested over and over again without varying results.

Take 100,000 healthy persons who will stand a thorough examination of heart, lungs and every vital organ, and who have no chance to inherit disease. In such condition are the persons whom a physician for an insurance company reports as fair risks. The insurance companies' mortality record will show how many of that 100,000 will be alive in a year, how many in two years, how many in five years, and so on. The proportion of deaths is said to be as certain as the change of the seasons.

Comprehend 100,000 healthy boys, 10 years old. The table says that in a year 686 of them will be dead; in two years, 1350; in five years, 3364; in ten years, 6732; in twenty years, 13,708; in thirty years, 21,347; in thirty-five years, 25,565, and in forty years 30,483.

It may be deduced from these figures that the drain on life is steady and not spasmodic, as one might think. Some years seems more health giving than others. Epidemics come and go. Grip rages and then stops for a while. Nothing taking its place, everybody feels safe. Next pneumonia comes and ravages sections, and every decade or two a scourge of cholera, smallpox or yellow fever sweeps over a land.

Those destroyers make no difference in the mass of human life. Plagues and pests and famine cause no rise of the tide between this world and the other. The figures say so, and there is no denying them.

The companies that prepared these figures insured millions of people in the time covered by their statistics, and kept a faithful record of each death. They grouped their figures in a dozen ways, divided the dead and divided the living into squads, and made comparisons of results. They took like numbers of people, beginning with different ages, and demonstrated the chances of life. In fact, by every mathematical process known they proved their results. Every one of the insurance companies uses the so-called actuary table to determine the minimum rate at which life insurance may be profitably written.

Some interesting notes can be made from the actuaries. It shows that of, say, 100,000 men alive at 30, only about 70,000 will live to be 50. Of that 70,000 at 50, less than 30,00 will live to be 70. Of that 30,000 at 70, two out of each three will die before reaching 75. More than half of those alive when 75 years old will be dead before they are 80.

When the longest livers have reached 90 only a little more than 1000 of the original 100,000, who were 30 years old together will remain. So one man in every hundred lives ninety years.

When the surviving members of the force of 100,000 reach 95 years their number is less than 100. At 96 it is 29, at 97 it is 10, at 98 it is 4, at 99 it is 1. So, one man in a hundred thousand lives to be 99 years old.

Here are a few figures, condensed from an actuary table, which show that death claims its own with precision, and with an increasing ratio with the passing of each five years of life. This is an estimate on 100,000 persons, beginning when each is 10 years of age.

Age.	Highest and Lowest Range of Deaths for each year.
10 to 14	676	671
15 to 19	671	677
20 to 24	680	694
25 to 29	698	720
30 to 34	727	758
35 to 39	767	805
40 to 44	815	881
45 to 49	999	1053
50 to 54	1108	1316
55 to 59	1473	1627
60 to 64	1698	1990
65 to 69	2041	2224
70 to 74	2237	2249
75 to 79	2203	1987
80 to 84	1496	1203
85 to 89	1111	545
90 to 94	427	95
95 to 99	52	1

The insurance companies determine the worth of a policy by dividing the number of persons living, of the 100,000 mentioned in the table, beyond the age of the applicant, by the number living at his age.

For example, they wish to get the expectation of life of a man of 90 years. Say that between that and 99 there are 2129. These figures are taken from an actuary list. Divide 2129 by 1319, the number of persons living whose ages are 90 years. This makes 1.61. To this must be added the average time left in the year of death, which is estimated at six months. This brings the expectancy to 2.11.

These figures, of course, do not show the length of individual life. Some may far exceed the expectation, but others will fall far below it. Taking them all together the expectancy is said to be as reliable as the physical laws.

An Amusing Story of Ponsonby.

"Le Menestrel" tells an amusing story of the late Gen. Sir Henry Ponsonby, who was for many years Queen Victoria's private secretary. The General was noted for his politeness, and whenever an artist performed at court he always telegraphed the following day to inquire after the performer's health. If a complete troupe performed at the castle the General employed a formula always the same, which included the various members of the company. A short time ago Rogers Prat was sent to court to exhibit his educated geese before Queen Victoria's grandchildren. The day following the "artist" received the traditional telegram from General Ponsonby, written in the following immutable terms: "Her Gracious Majesty would be delighted to know if the members of your troupe are well, and if they have had an agreeable journey. For my own part, I beg you to convey to them the expression of my esteem." The geese were, no doubt, very much flattered.

Uses for Old Corks.

Corks are thrown away in great quantities and very few people think that there is any value attached to that material after it has served its purpose once as a stopper of a bottle. Nevertheless it has become one of the most valuable components of a city's refuse. Great quantities of used corks are now used again in the manufacture of insulating covers of steam pipes and boilers, points to be protected from the influence of heat. Powdered cork is very useful for filling in horse collars, and the very latest application of this material is the filling in of pneumatic tires with cork shavings. Mats for bathrooms are made of cork exclusively, and it also goes into the composition of linoleum. Cheap life preservers are now filled exclusively with bottle stoppers, cut into little pieces.—Scientific American.

Blowing Out Stumps.

I have blown out at one blast, white oak stumps 4 feet across. It takes about 10 lbs., 40 per cent. N.G. Put in under the center in one pile. Make the hole large enough. Rip open the cartridges, or better, take it out of the paper, if there is no water. Tramp solid in one mass. When it "goes off" you will hear from it, and if placed right the stump will be out. Better to use more than 10 lbs. than less, for such customers, and it requires experience to handle them. A green hand must get instruction from old hands, and commence on small stumps.—Ohio Farmer.

The boy had but a few days' life before him according to all human expectations. ANGELO AND MARGUERITA.

Deadly Peril of the Queen of the Italian Colony at Niagara Falls Because She Declined Delonardo's Love.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., March 13.—Marguerita Casa is the handsomest girl in the Italian colony here. She has been styled "The Queen" among her people for the proud way in which she carries herself. There is a hint expressed among her countrymen that she has noble blood in her veins. On account of her beauty she has many suitors. Among them has been Angelo Delonardo, whose attentions she has refused.

One night three weeks ago Angelo Delonardo, who had been drinking, attended a dance and attempted some familiarities with Marguerita. She warned him to desist. Angelo seized her in his arms and kissed her. The girl wrenched herself free, and drawing a stiletto from her bosom, plunged it into his side. There was an uproar, and Delonardo was taken away by his friends. The wound was not serious, and the girl was released on bail. The whole Italian colony went on the bail bond, so strong is their affection for Marguerita. Delonardo's love changed to hate, and Marguerita's friends told her he would seek revenge. Last week Marguerita ran screaming to Police Headquarters, with two women, saying she had barely escaped assassination by the friends of Delonardo. She claims that six bullets were fired into her bedroom, and she thought she saw Delonardo sneaking away. The police, on her complaint, arrested Delonardo, but the evidence was not strong enough, and he was released. Marguerita told the police that she was doomed to be killed.

Last night Marguerita was awakened in her cottage by flames cracking about her. She sprang from her bed, and escaped out of the window in her night robe. Her house, contents and clothing were all burned. The flames communicated to two other houses, which were soon in ruins. In one a man was dangerously ill with typhoid fever. He was saved, but is likely to die from the shock and excitement. The Casa girl made a complaint against Delonardo, and the police are searching for him, but they think he has fled. The girl, greatly excited, walks up and down the chief of police's room with a stiletto in her hand, refusing to leave, fearing that Angelo will kill her.

Sir John Thompson's Estate.

Halifax, March 18.—The appraisement of the estate of the late Sir John Thompson was filed in the Probate Court here to-day. The total value is $14,072. The homestead and house at Willow Park are valued at $5000.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness, nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Not one in a thousand does do it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them innutritious matter and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

MILVERTON, 23RD JULY, 1895.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

MERCER'S NEW DEPARTMENT.

High-Class Children's Clothing to be the Newest Innovation With This Enterprising Firm of Merchant Tailors.

Mercer & Co., the well-known tailors and men's furnishers, intend opening a new department in connection with their splendid establishment. Already case after case of the finer grades of boys clothing has arrived and a grand opening will take place to-morrow, when the new lines will be open to inspection. In accordance with the rules of the establishment only the very finest grades will be carried and an inspection of the new stock reveals some most attractive patterns in suitings for boy's between the ages of four and fourteen. The firm's well-deserved name of only carrying the finer lines of goods guarantees that Peterborough ladies will have provided them an opportunity of examining a stock of handsomely finished garments for boys, which will in every way equal an ordered suit. With the excellent facilities at their command Mercer & Co., are in a position to promptly make any changes required to insure satisfaction. The firm is prepared to refund the purchase money in every case, in the improbable contingency of a customer being dissatisfied. A great effort is going to be made to interest the ladies in this department, and as Mercer & Co. generally succeed in everything they undertake a flourishing trade in boys' suitings is anticipated.

A general invitation is given to heads of families, especially the ladies to inspect the opening to-morrow. Every facility will be afforded the ladies to examine the superior merits of the children's suits and to interest them in the natty styles, excellent quality and other values which they possess.

THE MARKET TOLLS.

Mr. T. A. Choate, of Warsaw, gets the Control for $2,500.

The market tolls were auctioned off this morning by Mr. John Haggart. The bidding was started by Mr. John Kincaid at $1,000, and was rapidly run up to $1,700 by Messrs. Henry Nesbitt and R. H. Green. The bids then dropped to jumps of $10 each. At this juncture Mr. Haggart stated that Mr. T. A. Choate of Warsaw, offered $2,500 by telegram for the privilege of controlling the market for the ensuing year.

There was no raise on these figures, and the tolls were knocked down to Mr. Choate.

Last year by tender the tolls brought $3,250.

A MONSTER BRIDGE.

The Central Bridge Works Makes a Big Shipment.

The biggest bridge which has ever been shipped intact in the world has just been loaded on four C.P.R. flat cars at the Central Bridge Works.

The structure is what is known as a steel deck, plate girder swing bridge, and is shipped to the order of the Erie and Huron Railway, to be used at Wallaceburg. It is 124 feet long, 9 feet 6 inches deep in the centre and 5 feet deep at the ends. The girders are nine feet apart, and the bridge, as it rests on the cars intact, all ready to be dropped into its place weighs 120,000 pounds. Good for a local enterprise.

A SUCCESSFUL AUCTION SALE.

Of the Farm Stock of Mr. John Mooney, South Monaghan.

Mr. John Haggart had a most successful sale of high bred stock at Mr. John Mouncey's, South Monaghan, yesterday. He sold $2,000 worth in 4½ hours. There was a large attendance, fully 500 having taken lunch. Farmers were present from all parts of the counties of Peterborough, Durham and Northumberland. The stock was all sold and at good prices. Mr. Haggart says that this and other recent sales show that the prices for stock is stiffening—on the rise. It's about time that something in the line of good prices should come the farmer's way.

FORESTERS' MONTHLY CONCERT.

A Pleasant Entertainment—A Good Programme—The Weather Couldn't Stop the Pleasure.

The blustering, snow-laden winds of March last night did not prevent a good attendance, and a most pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent at the C.O.F., rooms, Simcoe street. The following well rendered programme was presented, with Mr. Nesbitt acting as chairman:—

Song	Miss Ball
Recitation	Miss Patterson
Song	Miss Courtney
Dialogue	Four young men
Concertina solo	Mr. Aspinwall
Recitation	Mrs Christie
Concertina Solo	Mr Aspinwall
Recitation	Mrs Christie

It might be said that the short programme was caused by the inclemency of the weather, and also owing to some of the participants being ill.

At the close of the programme, those who wished to remain had the privilege of using the regular court room for games, etc. and others who desired could use the the large assembly room adjoining for dancing.

Those who accepted the opportunity of the enjoyments were many and by their pleasant countenances showed the great pleasure they derived.

Refreshments were served during the evening. The entertainment was one of a regular series which are given monthly by Courts Peterborough and Langton, and the members of the court deserve great credit for the interest they manifested and the success accomplished in giving to the young people such an enjoyable evening.

A MISSIONARY "AT HOME."

A Delightful Gathering at St. Andrew's Manse.

The "At Home" given by the W. F. M. Society, last evening, in the manse of St. Andrew's church, was a decided success. In spite of the stormy weather there was a very good attendance. The following is the programme which was presented:—

Instrumental duet	Misses Fowler and Gladman
Vocal solo	Mrs. Brown
Instrumental duet	Miss Brown and Mr Laing
Scotch reading	Miss Forsyth
Vocal solo	Mr. Mulligan
Instrumental solo	Miss Grant
Vocal solo	Mrs. (Rev) McWilliams
Vocal solo	Miss M Edmison
Vocal duet	Rev and Mrs MacWilliams
Vocal solo	Mrs Hunter
Vocal solo	Mr Mull gan
Vocal duet	Rev and Mrs MacWilliams
Instrumental duet	Misses Grant and McFarlane

At the conclusion of the programme excellent refreshments were served. The receipts were good, considering the nature of the night, which militated against the attendance.

A PINK TEA.

A Pink Tea entertainment will be held on Thursday evening next in the Sons of England Hall, Hunter street, under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association. Tea will be served from six until 8 o'clock. The following programme will be rendered during the evening:

IN MEMORIAM.

Death of Mrs. Maggie Sherin in Winnebago City, Minnesota.

The Winnebago City (Minnesota) Press-News speaks as follows in a recent issue concerning the lamented death of a former resident of town:

"Mrs. Maggie Sherin was born in Peterborough county, Ontario, Aug. 20th, 1857, and died at her home in Winnebago City, March 7th, 1896. She was married to Wesley Sherin at her home in Ontario in 1875, and with her husband came to Winnebago City in the same year, where they have since made their home. They have had three children — one is buried at Detroit, Michigan, and two, Cecil and Florence, remain with their father to mourn the loss of a loving mother and a devoted wife. Maggie Sherin was a faithful member of the Methodist church. During the last few months of her life she seemed to manifest an increased interest in the church, and its welfare. To those who have known Maggie Sherin as a neighbour, friend and Christian, she needs no words of praise at our hands. 'By her quiet, consistent, and uniform Christian life, she has won a large place in all our hearts. As we extend our sympathy to the mourning friends, we feel that we are sharers in their loss. Her life was sweet and her memory will be precious. The funeral was held at the home, March 9th. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for they rest from their labours and their works do follow them."

Mrs. Sherin was a sister of Mrs. D. H. Moore, Brock street, who has just returned from attendance at the funeral in Minnebago City.

HOCKEY.

If the majority of Peterboroughans never had the pleasure of seeing a fast game of hockey before they had that pleasure last evening, when the Electrics, of Ottawa defeated the Peterboroughs on the local ice by the close score of 3—2. The teams were composed as follows:

Peterboroughs.		Electrics.
Wasson	goal	Shea
Montgomery	point	Dey
Adams	cover point	Murphy
Poussette	forwards	W Dey
Phelan		E Murphy
Parsons		Smith
Lefevre		Baldwin
S Ray	umpire	E O'Neil
Geo Dickson	timekeepers	Geo Hopkins

Referee—H. Macgachan.

The visitors proved themselves during the game to be the fastest team, with the exception of the Winnipegs, who ever played on Peterborough ice. They had a very strong defence and a magnificent forward line. The whole team were almost of a size—short and sturdy. It took an awful shock to put one of them off their feet, and they handled their sticks in the prettiest possible manner. Each player seemed capable of covering about ten feet with his stick, and the way they could reach for the puck and draw it in to them from a distance was a revelation. They were quick and accurate dodgers and checked the local men harder than any of their previous opponents. At lifting the puck they were "beauts," and although the game was so fast as to keep every man on the alert from start to finish, the Electrics seemed in no way fagged.

The Peterboroughs played their usual strong game but were overmatched. If Lionel King had been in his old place on the forward line there would have been a different story to tell. But if the local rush line was not as fast as that of the visitors, yet the Peterboroughs defence was the stronger of the two. Wasson played a star game in goal and stopped many a hot one. Monty and Adams stayed right with the Electric's rush and played them to a standstill in many cases. Rush after rush was made down the rink on them, but dodge, pass or shoot as they would the visitors found it almost impossible to get through this stonewall defense. On the forward line Phelan played his usual strong, steady game and made many brilliant rushes, as did Parsons, who also put up a very fast game. Lefevre did some great work along the side, and was the only member of the home team who could give the visitors a Roland for their Oliver in the way of body checking. Poussette was too light for the forward line and was used a trifle roughly at times, but on the whole showed up well for a junior, whose accustomed position on the ice is at point. It would perhaps have been better if at the beginning of the game Montgomery and Poussette had exchanged places. Although on the other hand it must be taken into consideration that Monty had his hands full where he was.

The puck was faced off at 8.14, and Phelan secured it, and amidst wild applause carried it down on the Electrics' flags. He made a shot which was dextrously stopped by the Ottawa goalkeeper, who, in the language of the "rooter," was a "bird." Down went the puck into Peterborough territory amidst the wildest excitement. It hovered around the flags for a couple of minutes and was then lifted out by Monty. Again the Ottawa goal was bombarded and a hot shot from Parsons nearly scored. The Electrics then lined up and made a magnificent rush down the ice which resulted in Murphy scoring the first game for the visitors. Time, 4 minutes.

Honours were about even during the second game and the battle raged up and down the ice, while the spectators went nearly wild with excitement. The brilliant plays on both sides were cheered impartially. Wasson made some grand stops playing hockey, baseball, lacrosse, cricket and football alternately in defending his goal. Monty made one of his great dashes up the ice, but failed to score, although it took the Ottawa goal keeper all his time to stop the shot. Half time was called before either side was able to score, and the spectators had an opportunity of taking a good breath.

When play was resumed the Peterboroughs settled down to work with a determination to even the score. It just took them three minutes to do it, and Parsons was the recipient of a great ovation as he deftly lifted the puck between the flags of the Ottawas. It took half an hour all but one minute to score this second game, as the first game was scored in 4 minutes, leaving 26 minutes play before half time was called. After the resumption of play three more minutes were consumed before the goal was scored.

The next game fell to the Ottawa in two minutes. In three minutes more the Ottawa umpire again held up his hand, but as the spectators were unanimous in deciding that the puck had not gone between the flags, and as the Ottawas also coincided in this opinion the goal was not counted. Ottawa, however, took the next one.

Lefevre scored Peterborough's second game as the result of a great rush up the side. No more goals were scored before time was called.

During the progress of the match the puck was lifted into the galleries several times, and once it shot up from Montgomery's stick and struck the roof.

The local men were considerably handicapped by the fact that the game was played under the Eastern League rules which allow of the puck being stopped with the hands.

The games were scored in the following order:—

Game.	Team.	Scored by	Time.
1	Electrics	P. Murphy	4 min.
2	Peterborough	Parsons	26 min.
3	Electrics	Smith	2 min.
4	Electrics	Dey	14 min.
5	Peterborough	Lefevre	6 min.

Score—Electrics 3, Peterborough 2.

THE WHEEL.

Angus McLeod jocularly remarks in a letter to a friend in the city that he is out for the "long green" this season. The prospect of professionalism ruling the roost seems to please him. He says that he is in much better shape than he was last spring.

Sam Gibbons will probably not be seen on the path this year. He intends devoting his attention to the store which he has opened in the east end.

Percy Brown will be out this year, and though he had more than his share of bad luck last season, he showed that he had the ability to ride in the first flight. He will probably be numbered among the pros.

"America now makes the best bicycle in the world, and yet the bicycle is an English production," says an American manufacturer. "The old high ordinary, the now-forgotten Facile, and the present world-subduing chain machine are English. The diamond frame is English, and so was the "hayfork" frame which preceded it. The weldless steel tubing is English. The ball pedal was first made in England. The tangential spoke is English. The pneumatic tire originated in Ireland. This country has aided immensely in perfecting small details, but she has made just one important contribution, and that is the wood rim."

STORM STAYED.

Snowbound Trains—Both the Grand Trunk and C.P.R. Blockaded.

Winter dies hard. This is the last day of winter—to-morrow the first day of spring. And the tremendous snow storm that raged last night and to-day is our spring equinoctial storm. It hasn't been surpassed either since the memorable era of March, 1870, when the snow filled George street in some places to the tops of the shop windows, when the citizens for a day or two did nothing but shovel snow, and it was so deep that a man actually jumped in safety from the top of a third story building without injury, the snow making a soft and safe lighting place.

Last night's sudden storm caught the railway authorities napping, and consequently one of the greatest snow blockades within the remembrance of the oldest resident has caused both the Grand Trunk and C.P.R. to suspend operations for the present.

The storm raged all yesterday afternoon and continued with unabated violence during the night. After sunset the wind blew hard from the northwest, causing great drifts to form in the railway cuttings.

No. 6 on the C. P. R., known as the midnight express, from Toronto, has not arrived in Peterborough yet, being caught in a cutting near Agincourt. A rotary snowplough from Toronto is trying to work its way in to the rear of the train in order that it may be taken back to Toronto, but by latest accounts little progress was being made. A snowplough was sent west from here and is at a standstill at Burketon, there being a freight train snowed in between Burketon and Myrtle. No. 5 express from the east, due here at 4.42 a.m., came in with two engines about 15 minutes late this morning, reporting that the storm in the east was comparatively light. The train was detained at the station and the passengers sent up town by the C.P.R. authorities, to the different hotels.

Amongst the storm stayed travellers is a deputation of alderman and Exhibition directors from Toronto, including Manager Hill and Mr. John Shaw, the recently defeated candidate for the Toronto Mayoralty. The deputation was in Ottawa, seeking, amongst other things, the permission of the government to hold a Dominion Exhibition in Toronto, in 1897.

No. 7, the Havelock local, running west, has been cancelled for the present. The 4.48 p.m. train, it is expected will be sent back east from Peterborough to accommodate passengers between this point and Montreal.

On the Grand Trunk the blockade is fully as serious as on the C.P.R. All trains due to leave Peterborough to-day have been cancelled.

The main line is reported to be completely blocked.

The morning train left Belleville for Peterborough, but ventured no farther than Campbellford, where it is now snowed in.

No. 4 from Toronto, over the Midland, which was due here at 8.55 o'clock last night, has not yet arrived, and is supposed to be in the drifts near Stouffville.

Superhuman efforts are being made to clear the lines, but the storm has stolen a march on the railways this time and it will probably be some days before trains are again running on schedule time.

Among the snow bound passengers at The Huffman is Major Gray, of Toronto, and Mr. J. P. Ashworth, of the Bank of Montreal, who is accompanied by his wife, family and maid, and is on his way to London to assume the position of accountant. He was in the Peterborough branch about 16 years ago, and is well known in town.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. Dozens of styles at a modest price. Some tasty and neat—more handsome and stylish. The prices match. See our stock before placing the baby on wheels.

Besides the baby's health demands a Baby Carriage, after being housed all winter. It will do the parents credit and the baby justice to have a neat, well upholstered Baby Cab to roll along in the procession under the bright Easter day sun.

So much the more does a new and handsome Carriage become imperative if the baby is a new one. The old one (that is the old Carriage) is shabby and persists in running crooked. If we could start life over again every one of us would insist on riding in a Baby Carriage and a new one at that.

Prices are away below values—forty different styles—$5.00 to $20.00.

—It's no wonder Brantford wants to retain the G.T.R. car shops. The last monthly pay roll of G.T.R. employes in that city was $14,000—at the rate of about $170,000 a year.

—Appended to a birth certificate sent in to the Toronto city clerk the other day by Sidney H. Lawson, a stone mason, was a note which ran as follows: "This is the thirteenth child—ten boys and three girls. The mother is 38 and the father 40. The eldest child is 18. Is there any bounty for this?"

—Campbellford is well represented with societies, says the Herald, but two more might not be burdensome, and they would fulfil a good mission—one for the protection of children, and the other for the prevention of cruelty to animals. The indefatigable secretary of the Peterborough's Children's Aid society might post Campbellford in the way of establishing a branch of this most important society.

The Hyslop Bicycle.

Samples of this leading high class wheel, which has been the subject of so much favourable comment around town for the past two weeks, have just arrived, and may be seen at the hardware store of Messrs. Kingan & Allan, hardware merchants. The manufacturers have advised their local agents that the remarkable demand which has already sprung up for their 1896 wheels has made it difficult to keep sufficient stock on hand to fill early orders. Those, therefore, contemplating buying a Hyslop are advised to file their orders without delay. Messrs. Kingan & Allan are also sole agents for another high grade wheel—the Welland Vale—of St. Catharines, which is scoring many favour- ites this year. dtf

THE EXPORT DEAD MEAT TRADE

(Montreal Trade Bulletin.)

Perhaps the wildest of wild schemes is the attempt of Prof. Robertson, the Government Dairy Commissioner, to enter into the export dead meat trade, which bids fair to net a loss to the Government of half a million dollars the first year at least. * * * Allow me to ask Mr. Robertson how it is, if the export of dead meat is going to be so profitable and the shipment of live stock so unprofitable, that the millionaire shippers of the United States, such as Swift, Morris and Armour, who have had a monopoly of the export trade in dressed beef, have been compelled to relinquish it to a considerable extent, and go into the business of exporting live cattle to Great Britain? Simply because the latter has been found to be more profitable than the shipping of dead meat. In fact they found it impossible to compete with the low priced frozen beef and mutton from Australia, New Zealand and South America. And we have no hesitation in characterizing the present scheme of the dairy commissioner in attempting to establish an export trade in dead meats upon a profitable basis, as one of the wildest enterprises imaginable, and one that, if persisted in, will cost the Government hundreds of thousands of dollars, although it may be a good thing for a few private individuals.

ABOUT FROGS

A Sportsman Says They Should be Protected by the Game Laws.

A sportsman told a Belleville Ontario reporter the other day that the frogs should be protected and a clause should be introduced in the game laws to that effect. He said that the price of frogs legs, which was as high as eighty cents a pound, encouraged a great many to catch them. As a result lights are used at night and the hoppers were picked out of the streams and marshes at an enormous rate, and frogs will soon be a curiosity. Trout which brought twenty-five cents a pound were protected very stringently and frogs also should receive some attention.

As the frog catching industry is closely followed up in the Peterborough section, this paragraph will have considerable local significance.

The New Diocese.

The delegates to the meeting for the purpose of electing the first Bishop for the new Anglican Diocese of Ottawa met in Ottawa yesterday. The territory included in the new diocese is as follows:—The Counties of Lanark, Renfrew, Carleton, Russell, Prescott, Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, and the district of Nipissing as bounded and set off by the Legislature of Ontario, save and except that portion thereof lying north of the Mattawa river and Trout lake and of a line produced westerly to where the lake is intersected by the northern boundary of the Township of Ferris, and north of that boundary produced westerly to the easterly shore of Lake Nipissing. Bishop Hamilton, of Niagara, was elected to take charge of the new diocese. His acceptance has not yet been received.

HUNTERS' RECOMMENDATIONS.

Result of the Organization of the Central Ontario Game and Fish Protection Society.

Appended is the memorial to the Local Legislature which will be submitted to the Government as the result of the organization of the Central Ontario Game and Fish Protection Society:

The Central Ontario Game and Fish Protection Society respectfully submit that the proposal to prohibit the hunting of deer with dogs, and shooting them in the water is a mistake; and that the substitution of still hunting will not lead to the preservation of deer, but will secure their more speedy extermination, and they submit the following reasons for opposing any change in the present law:

1. The country in which deer hunting now prevails is of such a character that it will always be a deer preserve—it cannot be cultivated, and though lumbered or burnt over the rapid second growth affords abundant food and shelter for deer.

2. The Government bonus for killing wolves has largely decreased the number of these animals, which are the most relentless foes of the deer, and the chief cause of their destruction.

3. The people who go out for deer in the fall are for the most part sportsmen who go for the outing, and are possessed of the true sportsman's regard for law—they bring their dear out openly and subject to observation.

4. Still hunters are to a large extent pot hunters who kill their deer and leave them in the woods until a favourable time for removal, and their operations are of necessity unobserved. Still, hunters in the counties of Peterborough and Victoria are known to have boasted of having killed in a single season, still hunting, 70 or 80 deer, and it has not been uncommon to see waggons from the back country with as many as 60 saddles of venison standing on end.

5. The still hunter shooting at a running mark hits the deer in all parts of the body, and they are frequently wounded but escape to die in the woods.

6 The deer driven to water by dogs is killed at leisure—generally shot in the head, thus giving speedy death and preserving the meat in best shape.

7. Deer shot in the water are easily brought to camp or a roadway, while deer shot in the woods are frequently left in whole or in part to rot.

7. In hunting with dogs the buck is most frequently sent to water owing to his stronger scent, but in still hunting the does would be most frequently killed.

8. The still hunter finds his greatest success towards the end of the season after the snow falls, and at a time when the doe is much preferable eating, and consequently he kills the doe in preference, thus securing the more speedy extermination of deer.

9. Venison killed after dogs is not practically injured in quality, but dragging deer perhaps for miles over rough country is not only a toil but an injury to the meat.

10. All the hunting being crowded into two weeks brings all hunters into the woods together and more deer are thus killed in two weeks than if the season were longer.

11. The reports of hunting parties last season all agree in affirming that deer were never more plentiful—this may be the fact or it may be that all hunters being out together stirred up the deer and so made them appear more numerous.

12. Prohibiting the use of dogs would practically leave the hunting in the hands of the settlers, who are not sportsmen and who kill unlimited numbers of deer for marketing purposes.

13. The reports of the Game Wardens, recommending the prohibiting of hunting with dogs and shooting in the water are not sustained by facts, nor can they be. The parties most interested in preserving game are the hunters, and they may be said to be all but unanimous in supporting the law as it is.

The Society recommends, that all hunters other than settlers in the lands hunted over, be required to procure a license, and that not more than $1.00 be charged therefor.

That every hunting party procuring a license, be required within ten days from the close of the season, to make a return to the local Game warden, stating number of deer killed and sex and how killed—still hunting or with dogs.

That no hunting party be allowed to kill more than twelve deer and that no man having been with one hunting party shall shall be permitted to join another that season,—this recommendation not to apply to guides.

That the season for deer hunting be from 25th October to 20th November inclusive. That the government offer an increased bounty for killing wolves.

This Society also recommend, that migratory ducks from the south, which do not nest here, may be killed in spring up to May 1st.

That the hours for duck shooting be from sunrise to 8 p.m.

That the season for killing hare be from 16th September to 1st of March inclusive.

A NICE SORT OF A PA.

He Was a Sort of Humorist, But the Police Were Not to His Jokes.

There is a saloon-keeper in Tennessee who is something of a humorist. His entire family was in court the other day, and one of his daughters was a witness against her father. She told this mildly interesting story:

"Pa was sitting in his saloon, feeling lonely. He went to the barn, and, putting a halter on his horse, brought him into the house, saying he wanted the animal to eat supper with him. Pa made me set a plate for the horse. Then he took hold of the horse's front legs and lifted them up on the table. We all sat down to supper and the horse began to eat. Pa picked up a mug of beer and began to laugh and throw both hands in the air. The mug hit the horse on the nose. The beast pulled his feet down, dragging the tablecloth and upsetting the table. The horse backed up and sat squarely on a red-hot stove. This burned its tail so the animal kicked the stove over and ran out of the door. I screamed, and pa threw a lamp at me. The house came near catching fire, and a policeman came in. Pa has been arrested 108 times."—Atlanta Constitution.

The Successful Teacher.

There are really only two things the successful teacher needs to have—knowledge of his subject-matter and knowledge of his pupils. The first of these can be gained only by experience. The man who has never been a real child himself cannot effectively teach children; and he who does not know by experience the warmhearted, exuberant gaiety of school and college boys cannot successfully teach them. Furthermore, the teacher who spends more time on the method of teaching literature than on literature itself is sure to come to grief. Greatest of all forces is the personality of the instructor; nothing in teaching is so effective as this; nothing is so instantly recognized and responded to by pupils; and nothing is more neglected by those who insist that teaching is a science rather than an art. After hearing a convention of very serious pedagogues discuss educational methods, in which they use all sorts of technical phraseology, one feels like applying Gladstone's cablegram: "Only common sense required."—Century.

SHOULD OFFICIALS VOTE?

The Question Discussed by the Provincial Legislature Yesterday.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the Legislature, Sir Oliver Mowat said that the Government had received an application from the Georgian Bay, Montreal and Ottawa Canal Co. for financial encouragement, in the form of a guarantee of capital. The Government had deferred giving any reply, as the company desires to submit some additional papers for consideration before a decision is come to, or an answer given.

Mr. Conmee moved for a committee to make enquiry with reference to municipal fire insurance covering the last 15 years.

Mr. Gibson said that he did not wish any motion to pass that commits the House to the principle of municipal insurance. He suggested a number of changes, including a change of the period to be covered from 15 to five years. The motion, as amended, was adopted.

Mr. Stratton's bill respecting city and town councils was taken up for a second reading. This bill provides for reduction in the representation of town and city councils to one-third the present size, for the abolition of the ward system and for cumulative voting.

Mr. Stratton, in moving the second reading, said that he did not care to press the measure at present, unless the House so desired it.

Mr. Hardy took the position that, while the general principles of the measure might apply very well to small towns, they would be impracticable as applied to cities, notably to large cities. He could not support the bill in its entirety. He did not think there was any general demand for it.

Mr. Crawford admitted that there might be some good about the bill, but thought that the measure, for the time being, should be left in abeyance.

Mr. Stratton finally consented to withdraw the bill.

Mr. Haycock's bill to amend the Medical Act was intended to fix the maximum fees charged by the Medical Council at $50, instead of $100.

Dr. McKay (Oxford) came to the defence of the Medical Council and opposed the bill with some vigor.

Hon. G. W. Ross took the position that the medical profession, so long as it did not encroach on the rights of the public, should be allowed to manage its own affairs. The bill was lost on division.

An Act respecting Contractors and Workmen on Public Works—Mr. Howland—is as follows: Eight hours shall be the length of the working day for all workmen and laborers employed, either permanently by the Government of Ontario or by the contractors or sub-contractors under or for it. Every employe of the Government and every contractor or sub-contractor who has under him or who employs workmen or laborers on a public work, or a printing contract, and who wilfully violates the provisions of this act is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to a penalty not exceeding one thousand dollars, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or to both penalty and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. This act shall not apply to contractors or sub-contractors not having contracts with or for the Government of Ontario for the execution of public works, nor shall it apply in cases of emergency, or of absolute necessity. All Government printing, whether done by contractors or sub-contractors, shall bear the label of the Union Label League.

When the House resumed, Mr. Gamey's bill to amend the Election Act was considered. It provides that no sheriff, county crown attorney, clerk of the peace or registrar of deeds, clerk of the Surrogate Court, clerk of the Division Court, bailiff of the Division Court, license inspector, registrar, clerk, or other officer attached to the superior courts, no permanent official employed in any of the departments of the Government of Ontario, or any prison, hospital, asylum or institution of the Government of Ontario, shall actively engage in any contested election to the Legislative Assembly, by canvassing, speaking at public meetings or acting as agent or otherwise on behalf of anycandidate at such election, or by collecting funds for the conduct of such election or in any other manner. A violation of this provision renders the offendant liable to a fine of $200.

Mr. Stratton, speaking to the bill, said that he could not see why any official should be debarred from exercising a reasonable energy in support of the candidate of his choice. He did not know that the Legislature had any right to say that a man, because he was an official, should not exercise his rights as a citizen. He was perfectly willing that Ontario officials should abstain from interfering with politics if Dominion officials would do the same.

Mr. Howland spoke in defence of the measure. He declared that it was not only because of the influence that officials could wield that they should be debarred, but rather because of the influence that might be brought to bear on them.

Mr. German followed, taking the view that as long as Dominion officials were allowed to take a part in Dominion elections, provincial officials should not be prohibited from interfering in provincial elections.

Mr. St. John replied on behalf of the Opposition.

Hon. A. S. Hardy could not see why the smaller officials of the Provincial Government should abstain from politics, especially as Dominion Government officials were not restrained from taking an active part in Dominion elections. He declared that as a matter of fact, none of the more highly paid officials of the Provincial Government were ever found participating in political contests. He went on to show the part Dominion officials were in the habit of playing in elections, and argued that so long as they played such a part, no law should be passed restricting provincial officials.

Mr. Haycock following, argued that the Ontario Government enfoced a law which deprived Customs officials of the Dominion Government of the right to take part in elections.

Mr. Hardy pointed out that the law was a Dominion measure, not a provincial act.

On the conclusion of Mr. Haycock's speech a division was taken, resulting in the defeat of the bill by a vote of 46 to 33.

The vote was as follows:

Yeas—Beatty (Leeds), Bennett, Brower, Carnegie, Caven, Crawford, Currie, Dynes, Fallis, Gamey, Haggerty, Haycock, Hiscott, Howland, Kerns, Kidd, Langford, McDonald, McLaren, McNaughton, McNeil, McNichol, McPherson, Magwood, Marter, Meacham, Miscampbell, Preston, Reid (Durham), Ryerson, St. John, Shore, Tucker—33.

Nays—Barr, Baxter, Beatty (Parry Sound), Biggar, Blezard, Burt, Campbell, Carpenter, Charnle, Charlton, Cleland, Craig, Dana, Davis, Dickenson, Dryden, Evanturel, Farwell, Ferguson, Field, Flatt, Garrow, German, Gibson (Hamilton), Gibson (Huron), Hardy, Harty, McKay (Oxford), McKay (Victoria), McKee, McLean, McNish, Middleton, Moore, Mowat, Mutrie, Pardo, Paton, Richardson, Robertson, Robillard, Ross, Smith, Stratton, Taylor, Truax—46.

The pairs were Hobbs and Gurd, Loughrin and Bush, Conmee and Reid (Addington), O'Keefe and Matheson, Bronson and Whitney, Harcourt and Willoughby. Mr. Beatty of Parry Sound voted with the Government.

GOSSIP AT THE CAPITAL.

Will the Montrealers Agree to Postpone Their Exhibition Next Year?

Ottawa, March 18.—(Special.)—There is a prospect of a lively fight between Montreal and Toronto over the proposed Dominion Exhibition next year. Mr. H. J. Hill, after to-morrow's meeting here, will go to Montreal to interview the Montreal authorities and to urge them to postpone their exhibition until 1898 or 1899. It is felt there that Toronto ought to have a free course next year for her Exhibition. Now that the Montreal project has fallen through, the least that city could do is not to hamper Toronto.

Mr. D. Budge, Superintendent of the Halifax and Bermuda Cable Company, is in the city interviewing the Government, and urging the granting of a subsidy to enable his company to extend their present cables from Bermuda to Jamaica. Mr. Budge says that the merchants of the West Indies, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are unanimous on the necessity of cheaper rates and a more direct cable service for the development of trade. The present rate from Halifax, N.S., to Jamaica is $1.10 per word. This rate the Bermuda Company proposes to reduce to 50 cents per word if assistance be given it by the Dominion and Imperial Governments. This, it is claimed, would lead to the opening out of new commercial routes for trade. It would have a very great effect in increasing the trade between Canada and the British West Indies.

The Presbytery of Algoma, through Mr. Charlton, M.P., presented a petition to Parliament to-day on behalf of oppressed Armenia. It says that the Armenian's dying cry has not yet led to any protest from any civilized power, and that Parliament ought to pass a resolution asking the Imperial Government to interfere and to express our sense of the grievous wrong England's inaction does to this peaceful Christian people. The petition winds up with a couple of verses of "God Save the Queen."

An epizootic prevails in Ottawa. Many M.P.'s, Senators, and even press men, are among its victims. Sir James Grant treated twelve cases in his practice to-day. Sir Richard Cartwright is one of the distinguished sufferers.

The Senate spent most of the afternoon discussing the proposed Canadian Historical Exhibition to be held in Toronto on the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of Canada by Cabot. Several features of the bill were objected to, and the committee reported progress without having passed all the clauses. Some hard things were said about Toronto. Senator Power said he had heard the city called Hogtown, and the bill showed that name well fitted the Ontario capital.

The Government's action in sending a mounted police force into the Yukon country is more than justified by the results so far. Inspector Constantine, on his first trip out, brought down over $5000, and to-day Sergt. Brown delivered to the Customs Department over $10,000 collected from trading companies in that country. A further large sum in gold dust is held by Inspector Constantine to be sent to Ottawa in the spring.

A deputation consisting of S. R. Wickett of Toronto, C. S. Lang of Berlin, N. S. May of Ottawa and E. A. Wills, secretary of the tanners' section of the Toronto Board of Trade, accompanied by Messrs. Craig and Cleveland, M.P.'s, had an interview with Col. Prior, Controller of Inland Revenue to-day, and urged the rearrangement of the inspection law with respect to hides.

LATEST MONTREAL GOSSIP.

La Presse on the Decline of French-Canadian Influence in the Dominion Cabinet—Gauthier Dying.

Montreal, March 18.—(Special)—Hon. J. A. Chapleau came to the city last evening, and to-day a significant article appeared in La Presse, a newspaper that is held to be devoted to His Honor's political interests. The leader holds that French-Canadian influence has steadily declined in the Cabinet since the death of Cartier, and declares that Hon. Messrs. Masson, Chapleau and Angers were driven out of public life by the intrigues of their colleagues.

Mr. Charles McKercher, a commercial traveler, who is a creditor of Michel Lefebvre & Co., has taken action against the Banque du Peuple for two amounts of $397,892 and $150,000. The plaintiff claims that the mortgage for $480,000 which the Messrs. Lefebvre gave the bank is illegal.

Mr. Stiles, the promoter of the British Empire Exhibition, has left the city, and his friends state that he has gone to London. Of course a great many claims are coming in against the defunct enterprise, and, as might be expected, more or less blame falls upon Mr. Stiles. Mr. George C. Huttemyer, who was connected with the fair, has assigned.

A great Liberal gathering will take place at St. Philip, Laprairie County, on Saturday next, and Hon. Mr. Laurier has promised that he will attend if sufficiently recovered from his recent illness.

Asarie Gauthier, the murderer of Celina Consigny, and who was sent to Longue Pointe as a lunatic, is reported to be in the last stages of consumption.

WASTING YOUR LIFE.

Failure of Physical and Mental Forces—To Add to Length of Life—Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

With a pathetic sigh how often it has been said:—

"Well, then, I suppose I must let go my hold on life."

To fathers and mothers of unreared children this is tragic.

But whence cometh sure and timely help? If death is preventible, how?

The timely answer is: By scientific and successful kidney treatment — by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hundreds write to thank us and tell of their cure, but none to say that Dodd's Kidney Pills have ever failed.

"And age is a time of peace
So it be free from pain."

Old Age AND ITS Infirmities.

The descent of the hill of life should be gradual and easy. The decline of life should be free from cars and sickness and pain. So it would be in the great majority of cases were the prime of life lived according to Nature's rules. But in the struggle for wealth and fame, swimming against the strong tide of competition, health is neglected. We live too fast, work too hard, drink too much, sleep too little, keep our nerves on the jump all the time.

Then the Kidneys give out. They can't stand the terrible strain to which they are being subjected.

As a result the blood is not properly filtered. It passes through the system unpurified, and carries disease to every organ of the body.

That terrible affliction of old age, Rheumatism, seizes on the joints and makes life unendurable with suffering.

Muscular weakness, tiredness, depression, irregular heart action, and shortness of breath follow in its train.

Perhaps there is suppression of urine, frequently it scalds, and often there are brick red deposits in it.

The remaining years of life instead of being peaceful, happy and free from pain, are one continuous round of suffering.

Is there no help or hope this side the grave?

A thousand times YES.

Doan's Kidney Pills are the great remedy for all those ailments that arise through diseased or disordered kidneys.

They're the old people's friend. They relieve their sufferings, cure their diseases, and infuse new health and hope and happiness into their life.

But always see that you get Doan's; other pills are almost sure to disappoint. For sale by

Canada Life Assurance Co.

Takes pleasure in announcing the completion of a Successful and Profitable Business for the Year 1895. The new business accepted, although not the largest in the Company's history, was the Largest New Business in the First Year of any Quinquennial Period.

New Assurances accepted in 1890 - - $5,880,000
New Assurances accepted in 1895 - - $6,628,000

A very substantial increase in the total business was effected during 1895.

Total Business in Force About $70,000,000

Some companies, like some individuals, are strong in promises but weak in fulfilment. A period of nearly half a century affords ample time to ascertain whether a company's fulfilment has equalled its promises.

We have taken the trouble to go through the 48 annual reports of the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY, and to total up the amount of premiums received from policy-holders, and the amount of profits paid or allocated to policy-holders, and funds as follows:—

Total Profits, paid and declared . . . $8,041,000

or equal nearly 33 per cent. of total premiums paid.

It is hardly necessary to say that no other company doing business in Canada, whether American or Canadian, can make such an admirable fulfilment of its contracts as the Canada Life

ITS RATES ARE THE LOWEST AND PROFITS THE LARGEST.

An important message often comes by telegraph, but the most important message that ever was delivered to mankind has been given to them through the newspapers. It is given again in this article.

It is the information that 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption can be completely and permanently cured. There is no doubt about it. The statement is not made recklessly, but after the experience of thousands has made it an indisputable fact. Consumption is not a disease of the lungs. It is a disease of the blood, which in weak lunged people manifests itself by the formation of tubercles in the lungs and the wasting away of lung tissue. The cure for consumption is simple. It consists in the administration of a medicine that will assist the lungs in throwing off tuberculous matter, and that will cleanse the system so that this refuse matter will be replaced by strong, healthy tissues. That sounds like a very simple operation, and yet consumption baffled the combined medical skill of the whole world for hundreds of years. Consumption was considered incurable until the advent of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This great remedy is the most wonderful blood purifier and strengthener that the world has ever known. It is the result of years of study and experiment, by a scientific physician and has been tested in every way by him for over 30 years. It has an unbroken record of success. It cures a great variety of diseases, because almost all diseases have their origin and support in impurity and weakness of the blood. As long as a man's blood is rich and pure, he is in no danger from diseases. The blood is the medium through which food is carried from the digestive system to all of the tissues of the body. If it carries impure things, or an insufficient quantity of good things, trouble will ensue. There is nothing about that so very hard to understand. It is perfectly plain and natural and rational. The "Golden Medical Discovery" puts the digestive system in perfect order, purifies and enriches the blood and so puts the whole body into perfect tune.

THE ETHICS OF SPORT.

The Highest Enthusiasm Does Not Demand the Betting Ring.

Dr. Weldon, the headmaster of Harrow, referring to the revival of the Olympian games in Greece this year, suggests in The Church Monthly that it would be well "to revive the thought that the highest excitement, the most passionate enthusiasm in the sport of horse-racing, does not demand the strident, selfish discord of the betting-ring." Horse-racing itself he describes as "the sport of kings, the noblest exercise of the physical powers of the noblest of animals," but gambling he denounces as "the vice of slaves—the dark, pestiferous shadow that infects all sport with its poison." He proceeds to point out that racing and betting were not always connected. In ancient Greece no one made a bet on the Olympian games. He does not say that every bet is an act of sin. He disclaims the use of exaggerated language, but he does contend that the habit of gambling "calls out what is worst and meanest in human nature," and encourages tendencies which, if not checked, issue in personal and social disaster. "Let, then," he urges, "horse-racing and gambling be dissevered once more. Let the patrons of the turf eschew an evil which dishonors and degrades their splendid sport."

The winner of a prize in the Olympian games received but a laurel crown for his reward, but the people of his province, state or city gave him substantial presents. So, at least, historians say. Gambling on chariot racing was at its height in Rome. There horse-racing became the "game" of kings. It is recorded that Marc Antony bettered his fortunes by winning a chariot race.

So little did the Roman think of chariot racing that the owner never drove his own horses. The driver in those days was better paid than the jockey of to-day. Though there was no betting-ring, more money was lost and won. A sporting writer, who was a fair Latin and Greek scholar claimed that "Ben Hur" was a failure as a historical novel. In it Massella, a nobleman drove his own horses, and Ben Hur, the adopted son of a Roman centurion, boasted that Caesar had wanted him to drive his coursers. Neither could have occurred, according to this authority. Charioteers in Rome were slaves, in Greece of the aristocracy. Alcibiades won a chariot race at the Olympian games and increased his popularity with the Greeks. Gambling does not appear to have been fostered by the Grecks. In Rome it was a custom.

There Was No Deal.

It takes a Yorkshire man to make a horse dealer, but this time the canny Tyke missed his mark when he tried taking in a Neophyte in the horse business.

Said the dealer:

"Now, there's a little 'oss I can warrant. He's a clever, perfectly trained snaffle-bridle hunter, and fast; up to twice your weight across any country. Sold for no fault. Well bred and powerful, highly couraged, good tempered and temperate with hounds, quiet and free from vice. Well known with Her Majesty's, the Surrey, Berks, Cambridge, Essex, Kent, Warwickshire, Mr. Scatton's, the Quorn, Pytchley and several other tip-top packs. Winner of many races, out of constant work; perfectly sound, grand action and thoroughly broken. Goes well in harness; has run a wheeler and leader in a team, will work in a cart, plow or harrow. Never out of his place, a capital jumper, never made a mistake in his life over bank, timber, water, stone wall, hill or vale country. Best lady's 'ora in the country; been ridden as a charger; plenty of quality and manners; splendid mouth; don't shy, never stumbles; good walker and first-class trotter; excellent park hack; never sick or sorry since he was foaled, and subject to any vet's examination, and to be sold for a song!"

"Ah," said the Neophyte, "I'm doubtful he's scarcely enough of a 'oss for me. If he could only take rabbits, manage foreign and fancy poultry, rear pheasants, do a little plain gardening, milk and look after a cow and pig, wait at table, teach in the Sunday school, and play the organ in church, why I wouldn't mind taking him on six months' trial! Eh?"

No deal.

It Was Not Real, Either.

The inquisitive man was badly had the other day. He was sitting in the corner of a railway carriage, when a passenger got in with a perforated wooden box, which he put down on the seat beside him. Our friend eyed the box for some time, trying to make out what the deuce was inside it, till at last he couldn't stand it any longer, and turning to the stranger, said:

"Excuse me, sir, but might I ask what you've got inside that box?"

"Certainly," said the stranger. "A mongoose."

"And er-might I ask why you carry him about with you?"

"Well," said the stranger, "the fact is I've been drinking a bit lately and I see a good many snakes and things, and this mongoose you see is death on snakes, and—"

"Er-pardon me for interrupting you, sir," said the man; "but-er-those snakes are not-er real?"

"No," said the stranger, as he got out of the carriage, "and you see this isn't a real mongoose."

Chicago Tailors on Strike.

Chicago, March 18.—About 1000 tailors, men, women and girls, struck work to-day in support of the strike inaugurated some time ago by the clothing cutters and trimmers. To-day's strikers are employed mainly by contractors, who manufacture clothing for custom trade. They claim that their wages have been reduced until it is impossible for them to live on the money received for their work.

RESCUED FROM INSANITY.

GENTLEMEN,—To say all I ought to in favour of B. B. B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it. I am a different man to what I was ten years ago when it was expected I would be in the asylum, but now I am in perfect robust health and it was the B.B.B. that did it. I suffered for five or six years from constipation, sometimes so severely that I went out of my mind.

I tried various doctors, both in the country and in the city, and took medicines too numerous to mention, but everything failed to have the desired effect. When I used Burdock Blood Bitters it succeeded beyond all expectations, requiring only two bottles to cure. To make it still more certain that B. B. B. is the real cure for constipation, I may say that some two years afterwards, I felt the symptoms returning and took one bottle more and from that time to the present day (over eight years) I have never had any returns of the disease.

I never knew any medicine to work so well. It does not seem to be a mere reliever but a sure and certain cure as I can testify to, for hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine and advice failed to do me any good, but three dollars' worth of B.B.B. made a permanent cure that has given me years of health and comfort. Yours truly,

C. L. KILMER, Toronto.

France's Fine Roads.

France is one of the best paved countries in the world. These roads, always passable and reaching all the centres of population, are competitors of the railways.

The Extermination of Weeds.

Farmers who neglect to destroy weeds may entail labor upon an entire neighborhood, as some weeds are easily carried to distances by winds. An association among farmers for mutual co-operation against the spread of weeds would save thousands of dollars.

Consumptives Should Neglect

No means of ameliorating their disease. Cod liver oil is acknowledged one of the most valuable remedies in pulmonary complaints. That, however, it be employed in such a form as to be easily digested is imperative. It is just here that the entire superiority of Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites asserts itself. Maltine itself possesses nutritive value equal to cod liver oil, but more important to the sufferer of bronchitis, colds, consumptign, is the great digestive power of maltine upon all foods of a starchy nature. Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites is, in brief, a food of great value in emaciation and and wasting diseases; a medicine possessing the remedial power of cod liver oil; a digestive agency of active potency; a restorer of the debilitated. Try it for two weeks.

IT WAS JUST A JOKE.

BUT IT LOOKED DIFFERENT FROM THE UNDER SIDE.

The Inoffensive Citizen and the Practical Joker—The Meeting Described in Terse Sentences An Unquestionable Ludicrous Situation.

The practical joker was sauntering along in the dusk.

The inoffensive citizen was sauntering along in the same dusk, unmindful of the presence of the practical joker.

The practical joker, recognizing a friend in the inoffensive citizen, chuckled to himself and quickened his steps to overtake him.

The inoffensive citizen was thinking of a story he had read about footpads, and wondering whether anyone would ever try to hold him up.

The practical joker suddenly tipped the inoffensive citizen's hat over his eyes.

The inoffensive citizen wheeled instantly and landed a fine, large blow between the practical joker's eyes.

The practical joker went down.

The inoffensive citizen promptly sat on him and hit him again.

The practical joker yelled: "For heaven's sake, don't hit me again, John! Don't you know me?"

The inoffensive citizen said: "Great Scott!"

The practical joker said in an injured tone: "Hang it all, John, it's only a joke!"

The inoffensive citizen looked at the practical joker, who now had one eye closed, and laughed.

The practical joker angrily asserted that it was no laughing matter.

"But you said it was a joke," returned the inoffensive citizen; "and I think you are right." And he laughed again.

But the practical joker hasn't been able to see the point of it to this day. Still, it was unquestionably a good joke.—Chicago Evening Post.

The Pearl of Great Price

To women is beauty. Beauty, the key that unlocks every door, commands deference, inspires homage. But beauty of face cannot satisfy unless the additional grace, beauty of teeth, adds its charm. Fine teeth, sweet breath, rippling laughter—three graces that always go together. Ivorine imparts dazzling pearly like whiteness, removes discolouration and tartar from the teeth, and renders the breath as fragrant as flowers.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

TAKING MEASURES!

A Few Years Ago

We had dreams and visions that have now materialized into facts. But the facts are greater than we ever expected.

A few years ago, speaking of GOUGH BROS., people connected this establishment with Ready-Made Clothing only. To-day this store has a grip on the best trade, not only in Ready-Made Clothing, but in Boots and Shoes, Nobby Hats, Shirts, Ties, Furnishings, etc.; and now the pull is rapidly coming our way in—

Made-to-Measure Clothing.

Department after department has been successfully engrafted until it can be unreservedly claimed that GOUGH BROS'. Mammoth Emporium fills the bill—from the crown of the head to the soles of the feet—from the noted Stanley Hat to the best makes of King's stylish Shoes—every requirement for Man or Boy, with very much in every department that concerns and interests the Ladies as well.

Verily, there's a heap of truth in the trite aphorism of the ingenious McGarvey—"If yez got no push yez'll get no pull."

Fine Dressers

Are learning fast that Gough Bros. are pushing hard for the pull on the finest Tailoring trade of Peterborough. Our business motto—observed as we observe it—will bring success in any line:—"The Better the Grade, the Bigger the Trade."

This store of yours has gathered together for the spring and summer season of 1896, the most correct patterns in Imported and Canadian Tweeds, Worsteds, Cheviots, and Home Spuns, to meet your fancy. The British and American Fashion Plates are now on view. Our Tailors are all back to work again on full time, and Duncan Cameron, the keenest of Cutters, has his coat off—the whole department bustling with an air of activity, ready to corroborate our printed statements.

FASTIDUOUS DRESSERS—Men who have an extra care for looks, when you come to find what we really can do for you, you'll begin to find that you can save a third or so on your clothes, and be well dressed to boot. We won't let you pay so little for them as to get anything unworthy—economy don't lie along that route. We are teaching men who wear good clothes, that high prices need not always be paid to get high values.

"Always Good at Gough's."

GOUGH BROS.

The Wonderful Cheap Men, 375 and 377 George St., Peterborough.

ONTARIO YOUNG LIBERALS.

THEY EXPRESS UNBOUNDED CONFIDENCE IN MR. LAURIER AND SIR OLIVER MOWAT.

And Unalterable Fealty to the British Crown—The New Officers.

Ottawa, March 20.—At the meeting of the Ontario Federation of Liberal Clubs here yesterday, after addresses by the president, Mr. Stewart Lyon, of Toronto, and Messrs. Charles Russell, Ottawa, and C. T. Adams, of Sault St. Marie, the committee on resolutions reported the following draft of resolutions for submission to the meeting, all of which were enthusiastically carried:

Moved by Mr. H. M. Mowat, Toronto, seconded by Mr. Davis, of London:—"The Young Liberals of Ontario, in convention assembled, following the patriotic examples of Parliament and Legislature, desire to again express their unswerving loyalty to the Crown, and, also, while devoutly hoping always to live in social and commercial amity with both neighbouring and distant peoples, we assure the Mother Country that that the Young Liberals will never found wanting should it ever be necessary to maintain the traditions of this self-respecting people in protecting Canadian homes and institutions."

The resolution was supported both by mover and seconder in stirring speeches, which were greeted at intervals with cheers, and the resolution was carried by a standing vote, the convention singing "God Save the Queen."

The next resolution presented was as follows:—Moved by Mr. O. K. Fraser, seconded by Mr. Duff, 'That this convention desires to express its unbounded confidence in the distinguished leader of the Liberal party, the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, its great admiration of his brilliant eloquence and of his noble and charming personal qualities, and its hearty accord with his broad and statesmanlike attitude on the great public questions of the day, and this convention also desires to express its entire confidence in Ontario's Grand Old Man, Sir Oliver Mowat, and its hearty approval of his wise and careful administration of provincial affairs.

Resolutions were also carried endorsing the Liberal platform and endorsing Mr. Laurier's policy of conciliation on the school question.

THE BARRIE MURDER.

The Plea of Insanity Will not be Urged for Brennan.

Toronto, March 20.—It is undertood that counsel for the defendant in the case of Michael Brennan, who is to be tried at Barrie shortly for the killing of J. A. Strathy, won't set up a plea of insanity, but will put in evidence to show that Brennan was attacked by Strathy, who was shot on the spur of the moment and that there was no premeditation. The question has arisen whether the relations of Strathy will be entitled to draw the fifteen thousand dollars accident assurance on his life in view of a verdict of murder being found against Brennan. All accident policies contain the following clause. "This insurance does not cover death from intentional injuries inflicted by the injured or any other person. In case of manslaughter, however, the money would have to be paid."

PRIVY COUNCIL CASES.

Judgment in the Ontario Prohibition Case Deferred.

London, March 20—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council to-day granted special leave to appeal against the judgment of the Supreme Court of the Dominion of Canada of December 9, 1895, in the cases of the Dominion vs. Ontario, and Quebec vs. Ontario, respecting annuities to the Ojibeway Indians.

Judgment in the prohibition case will not be rendered until after Easter.

ORANGE GROWERS DISGUSTED.

Ottawa, March 20.—Ex-Mayor McDougall has received a letter from ex-Ald. Bingham, who is visiting at Riverside, California, in which he says many of the orange growers there are cutting down their orange trees for firewood and are going in for hay growing. The last three years' early frosts has spoiled two-thirds of the total crops and the growers many of whom are Canadians are getting disgusted.

Mr. Gilchrist's Death.

Winnipeg, March 20.—T. C. Gilchrist, Government Inspector of Fisheries, died at Fort Qu'Appelle this morning, from inflammation of the intestines.

German Sugar Bill.

Berlin, March 20.—The Reichstag in committee last evening passed the first reading of the sugar bill and fixed the import duty at 40 marks per hundred kilos instead of 45 marks.

THE LATEST FROM OTTAWA.

SIR RICHARD AND SIR CHARLES AND THE PRIVATE TELEGRAM.

The Remedial Bill Again—McCarthy Attacks Its Constitutionality—Another All Night Session Narrowly Averted.

Special to The Examiner.

Ottawa, March 21.—In spite of the long and fatiguing session which had ended yesterday morning at six o'clock, there was a large attendance when the House met at 3 o'clock.

A motion of Sir Charles Tupper to take Thursday's and Monday's for the government—practically every day in the week—provoked such an onslaught from the Opposition that Sir Charles had to drop the notice.

Then Sir Richard Cartwright opened fire on Sir Charles Tupper for his action in using a private telegram; and the result of the talk was that the government, through Sir Charles, accepted the responsibility of what Sir Donald Smith had done.

AGAIN THE REMEDIAL BILL.

At midnight Sir Charles Tupper moved the House into Committee of the Whole on the Remedial Bill. Mr. McCarthy had an amendment to move, and as it was late it was asked that the House adjourn, but Sir Charles refused, and Mr. McCarthy proceeded to speak to his amendment, which was to the effect that the bill was unconstitutional for several reasons. For a time it looked as though another all night session was on, but at three o'clock this morning another adjournment was made.

BLAZE AT NEWCASTLE.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Newcastle, March 21.—Fire this morning at 3 a.m. destroyed the Chandler block, an estimated loss of $25,000. Four merchants suffered considerable loss, with small insurance. It is rather a strange coincidence that the fire happened on the 21st, exactly two months from the big fire of January 21st, which destroyed the south side.

THE WHEEL.

A Kingston correspondent to the Wheelman gives the following advice to Van Felson, of Quebec:

Mr. Dear Van Felson, your letter in the Wheelman of March 2nd is well written and your case ably stated. You seemed surprised that the Toronto Globe published an item to the effect that Quebec would secede from the association and also try to place the blame of said item on other people's shoulders. Now if you will carefully read the circular sent out by your club you will find these words: "Watch the tremendous exodus if Peterborough wins." Now in looking up the word exodus I find it is derived from the Latin ex, out of, and eo, I go. Perhaps, George, if you composed the circular you were speaking in the first person and meant, "I go out of" the association if Quebec does not get the meet. Can you blame the Globe for placing the construction they did on your circular. Many others have done the same thing. In fact they have considered it in the light of a threat. I am glad your letter appeared in the Wheelman, for it restores our confidence in you and our brother wheelmen of Quebec. That the wheelmen of the sister province would withdraw if they do not get the meet we could not believe, for it would not show the spirit which our sport demands. You speak of sentiment and patriotism. Well they are both all right, but in my judgment if we wish to have the most benefit accrue from the annual meet, Peterborough is the proper place. Two years ago you had the meet in your province. Now the membership of the province does not warrant our giving you the meet again so soon. It is unfair to ask Ontario members to go to your city this year and you, looking from your point view, have failed to see the unfairness. I would like to go to Quebec but have not the time nor means for such an extended trip and I think I voice the sentiments of the vast majority of wheelmen.

See the Windows.

Look at the $10 dinner sets at China Hall if you want the bargain of your lifetime. A few of them are displayed in the Simcoe street show windows and it is worth your while looking at them. Inside we have new goods arriving daily now. A pretty lot of brass goods passed the customs to-day. Visit the store often. We like people to look through and admire or criticise.

A Local Fashionable Event.

The ladies are promised the grandest millinery opening of local importance this spring, at the showrooms of Robert Hall, 385 George street. An exposition has been arranged for on a scale of grandeur surpassing anything hitherto attempted in Peterborough. The ladies will not fail to note the dates fixed for this opening occasion, and commencing Wednesday, March 25th, continuing until the end of the week.

REPUTATION REPRESENTS REALIABILITY

Let some one produce an article of reputation representing merit and proven to be reliable, and how soon do we find imitations. The people thereby are at a loss to know when they are getting the genuine. Our people (The W. E. Sanford M'f'g. Co.) have obviated the possibility of being deceived by placing their goods before the public themselves direct from the warehouse. Handling nothing but their own make leaves no room for a possible chance of trying to palm off any inferior article at a greater financial gain. Buy of the manufacturers.

THE LIBERAL LEADER.

In Hon. Wilfred Laurier the Liberal party has a leader worthy to wear the mantle of leadership which has descended in line of succession from such men as Robert Baldwin, George Brown, Alexander Mackenzie and Edward Blake. He is a born leader of men, firm, patient, steadfast of purpose, high minded, liberal in every thought, and thoroughly Canadian in his every ambition and aspiration for this country. His charming eloquence as a speaker is known everywhere in the Dominion. In his oratory, he combines with the direct and practical qualities of the Englishman, æsthetic and magnetic characteristics of the highest attractiveness. Although of French-Canadian origin, a fact in which he takes pardonable pride, he has been a close student of English history and a follower of English Liberalism. His political principles and love of liberty have come to him through the same fountains from which his fellow Liberals of British origin have drawn their inspiration. As a parliamentarian he is the peer of the most skilful and resourceful of his contemporaries. He has made no mistakes or mis-steps since his accession to the leadership in 1887, either in Parliament or face to face with the people in the country. He fought the general elections in 1891 with a manliness, vigour and temperateness which drew from his opponents words of unusual praise and respect. Since 1887 he has visited Ontario every year at least once, and sometimes oftener, to address the people of this province. In 1894 he not only toured through Ontario, but went to Manitoba, the Territories and British Columbia. He also made personal acquaintance with the Maritime Provinces. Through the means of the visits he has created a profound impression throughout the Dominion, not less by the earnestness, frankness and vigour with which he discusses public affairs than the magnetism of his personality and the brilliance of his eloquence. He has become more than a party chief; he is a national leader to whom Canadians of whatever province, origin, condition or creed look as the exponent of the principles of freedom of trade, freedom of speech, freedom of conscience. For twenty-five years he has been a representative of the people in Parliament. His qualities as a citizen and a statesman have become thoroughly known to the public; and by opponents as well as friends, after this long and severe ordeal, is admitted to be a statesman of broad, liberal and patriotic aspirations, and as a man stands before the people of Canada without fear and without reproach.

As Liberal leader Mr. Laurier asks the people of Canada to declare that government be carried on not for a party but the country, not for the combines and corporations, but for the plain, unorganized and unsubsidized people. He asks that government shall not combine to be a mere agency for the creation of places and the distribution of offices. He asks the people to declare their condemnation of the enormous increase in the cost of government since 1878, the wanton waste of public money, the Lachine bridge job, the graving dock scandals, the Langevin block robbery, the Little Rapids extravagance, the Tay canal waste, and a hundred other jobs and scandals in all parts of the country. He asks the farmers to say by their votes if they are satisfied that the cost of administration should go up as the prices of their products go down. He asks the workingmen to say if they are satisfied with the policy of making millionaires in a few industries, if they are prospering under the economic system that keeps down wages and keeps up the price of store goods and household necessaries. He asks the manufacturers to say if the value of the tax on their finished product is not more than offset by a limited market, an impoverished people, and heavy taxes on raw material. He asks the fisherman to say if they have received justice under the policy of the Ottawa department. He asks the Canadian people to say if they are satisfied with the lamentable failure of the Government's plans for settling the Northwest, which has cost us so much money. He asks the Canadian people to say that a Government which has wasted the public money and and squandered the public partimony, and a policy which has failed to fulfil one of the promises of its authors, and brought upon the country all the lamentable consequences foretold by his opponents, shall be overthrown; Canada rescued from the domination of the combines, agriculture emancipated, progress stimulated and prosperity restored.

THAT DREAD DEMON.

Heart Disease Again Vanquished—Testimony from a Most Reliable Source—Relief in Fifty Minutes.

Mr. John Crow, son of George Crow, Esq., the wealthy and well-known farmer, residing near Tara, Ont., sends the following statement, which he desires published:—"For the last ten years I have suffered from palpitation and enlargement of the heart, and during all that time I have doctored constantly, hoping in vain for a cure. Some time ago I saw a testimonial from a Tara citizen regarding Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, and decided to try it. At the time of writing I have used four bottles of the remedy and never felt better in my life. If I am not already cured of the disease, I am positive this remedy will complete the cure." Sold by H. RYCKMAN'S KOOTENAY CURE.

CURED HIM ACCORDING TO HIS SOLEMN SWORN STATEMENT.

After Throwing Away Money For Years the Great "Kootenay Cure" Appeared and he Ceased Dependence on Mechanical Appliances to Raise in Bed.

Dominion of Canada, County of Wentworth, Province of Ontario, To-wit:

I, Charles Sayer, Clerk of the City of Hamilton, in the County of Wentworth, Province of Ontario, residence 119 Hannah street, do solemnly declare that I have suffered very severely from Sciatica and rheumatism for over two years. I have been attended by medical men and have taken many kinds of patent medicines and in all have expended about $130 without being benefitted.

I have used four bottles of "Ryckman's Kootenay Cure," and now feel that I am cured of Rheumatism and Sciatica. My general health has improved wonderfully, and I may state that for several weeks before taking the medicine I was unable to raise myself in the bed without mechanical appliances.

I recommend the "Kootenay" remedy with the greatest confidence for Rheumatism and Sciatica. It is certainly a splendid tonic for building up the system generally.

(Signed) CHARLES SAYER.

And I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act.

Declared before me at Hamilton, in the County of Wentworth, this 22nd day of February, 1896.

(Signed.) W. FRED. WALKER, Notary Public.

It Puzzled Her.

It was her first visit to the city, and she was naturally much interested in everything she saw.

"Still, I wouldn't live here for the world," she said.

"Wouldn't live here!" exclaimed her city friend.

"No, indeed, I wouldn't."

"But think of the theatres and the opera!"

"Very nice, of course," admitted the country girl, "and I would like to come to the city and see and hear them, but I wouldn't live here, just the same."

"Think of the big stores and the facilities for shopping!" persisted the city girl.

"I have."

"And the social gayety!"

"It's all very enjoyable, but I'd rather live in the country."

"But we have more of the comforts and luxuries of life, more of everything that makes life worth living."

The country girl shook her head.

"You lack the best thing of all," she said, decidedly. "I don't see how you ever get married."

"Married! I don't understand you," returned the city girl.

"Where do you do your courting?" asked the country girl. "I don't believe I have seen a front gate to swing on during the whole time I have been here."—Gothamite.

HOW WISE WOMEN ECONOMIZE IN HARD TIMES.

A Ten Cent Investment Saves Dollars.

When business men, farmers and mechanics complain of hard times, the women of the country realize the fact as quickly as the men. When times are really hard, the women are the first to study true economy. This work begins right in the home circle.

Instead of buying a new dress for herself and new clothing for the children, the thrifty and economizing women uses the Diamond Dyes to re-colour old and faded dresses and suits, which are made to look as good as new.

The Diamond Dyes are true aids to economy; they are specially prepared for home use, and are guaranteed the strongest and fastest of all known dyes. When a garment is coloured with Diamond Dyes, the colour is there to stay, and will not wash, wear or fade out.

See that your dealer sells you the Diamond Dyes—refuse all imitations and crude dyes, and so avoid having your materials and garments ruined.

THE McCORD CASE.

Richmond, March 16th, (Special)—The talk of farmers and others in town is mostly about the astonishing cure of Wm. McCord, a farmer near here. His presence made assurance visible, and he said—"After the doctors pronounced by disease Diabetes no one thought recovery possible. I was partially paralysed, was nine months in bed, and I ran down until I was a mere shell. When I commenced taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I stuck close to directions. One box helped me, and nine boxes cured me. Am sixty years old, and have lived here forty years." Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and dealers. Price 50 cents a box.

A Tay Cow That Can Be Milked.

There are some very queer devices, the product of inventors' brains, in all patent offices. One of these recently brought to light is that of a new toy cow. The body of the cow is formed of either wood or metal and is an exact representation of an ordinary Jersey as she stands while being milked. A suitable tank is arranged within the body and can be filled with milk from the outside. This tank is provided with suitable nipples, which are operated in exactly the same manner as in milking in the real, everyday article. This movement of milking the Jersey also

Science

Science is "knowing how." The only secret about Scott's Emulsion is years of science. When made in large quantities and by improving methods, an emulsion must be more perfect than when made in the old-time way with mortar and pestle a few ounces at a time. This is why Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil never separates, keeps sweet for years, and why every spoonful is equal to every other spoonful. An even product throughout.

In other emulsions you are liable to get an uneven benefit—either an over or under dose. Get Scott's. Genuine has a salmon-colored wrapper.

A Prominent Ontario Merchant!

Years of Suffering from Dyspepsia, Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Loss of Appetite, and General Debility.

Paine's Celery Compound Makes Mr. Young Well, and Gives Him a New Lease of Life.

Spring Time is Near; Banish Disease, and Fit Yourself for All the Duties of Life.

Mr. T. Young, merchant, of Tara, Ont., is well-known by thousands in and around Bruce County.

The strain of business cares, and great tension on the nervous system, seriously impaired Mr. Young's health, which caused alarm to his many friends. His case became worse, and sickness and suffering continued for years. Dyspepsia, sleeplessness, nervous prostration and loss of appetite were the troubles that Mr. Young had to battle against. The best physicians failed to grapple with Mr. Young's troubles, and the use of the ordinary advertised patents proved of no avail, and could not stay the hand of disease.

Mr. Young was fortunately persuaded to try a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound; the results were magical and cheering. After the use of three bottles, the disease-burdened man was cured—made sound and well.

Reader, if you are anxious about your condition of health, make use of the same medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, that wrought such a marvellous cure for Mr. Young, who now writes as follows for your benefit:

"After having used Paine's Celery Compound, and feeling grateful for the grand benefits derived from it, I have concluded that in justice to you, and in the interests of poor, suffering humanity, I should let you and others know what a great blessing Paine's Celery Compound has been to me. After suffering for years with dyspepsia, sleeplessness, nervous prostration, loss of appetite, and a weak tired feeling, and after consulting the best physicians in my locality, and having tried a great many so-called cures advertised in the papers, and receiving no benefit from any of them, I was persuaded to try a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound. I noticed an improvement before the first bottle was finished; and after I had finished the third bottle I considered myself a new man; all this was done by Paine's Celery Compound. I can now go about my work with my old time life and vigour; my sleep is sweet and sound, and my appetite good; and my sincere wish is that you may go on doing good to my poor suffering fellow-creatures."

NYE AND PERKINS.

An Introduction to the Audience in Wyoming.

On the occasion of my visit to Laramie, Mr. Nye introduced me to my Laramie audience, says Eli Perkins in the New York Sun. His introduction was like this:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: I am glad that it has devolved upon me to-night to announce that we are to have an interesting lecture on lying by one of the most distinguished—(there was a pause, for Mr. Nye's inflection indicated that he had finished, and the audience roared with delight, so that it was some time before te sentence was concluded) lecturers from the east."

Mr. Nye continued: "We have our ordinary country liars in Laramie, but Mr. Perkins comes from the metropolis. Our every day liars have a fine record. We are proud of them, but the uncultured liars of the prairie cannot be expected to come with the gifted and more polished prevaricators from the cultured east. Ladies and gentlemen, permit me to introduce to you Eliar Perkins."

"Ladies and gentlemen," I said in reply, "I feel justly flattered by your Laramie humorist's tribute to my veracity, but, truly, I am not as great a liar as Mr. Nye—" and then I seemed to falter. The audience saw my dilemma and applauded, and finally I couldn't finish the sentence for some moments, but, continuing, I said: "I am not as big a liar as Mr. Nye—would you think."

A day or two after this I picked up the "Boomerang" and read this paragraph:

"When Eli Perkins was passing through Laramie he said he was traveling for his wife's pleasure."

"Then your wife is with you? suggested our reporter.

"'Oh! no,' said Eli, 'she is in New York.'"

The Ape Mutinied.

W. C. Coup, the circus man, has had many remarkable experiences, and a reporter asked him if the dreaded cry of "Hey, Rube!" had ever sounded in his tent.

"No," said he, "but it came near it once in a small Kansas town, when, fortunately, there were no newspapers to spread the affair publicly. I had among the attractions of the show a man-eating ape, the largest ever in captivity. He was chained to the dead trunk of a tree and looked very ferocious.

"Early in the day I speak of a countryman handed him a piece of tobacco, which the ape chewed with great pleasure. The word was pased around that the ape would chew tobacco, and several gave him plugs. Finally one gave him a piece that was filled with cayenne pepper. The ape bit it, then smarting with indignation, snapped the fastening of his chain and yelled: 'Let me at 'im, the murtherin ijit. Ol'll hev the loife av him or me name ain't Mahoney.' Then he started through the crowd with a handspike ready to strike, but the culprit escaped I docked the ape a week's salary, and it was the last time I had any trouble with him."—Philadelphia Times.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness, nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Not one in a thousand does do it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them innutritious matter and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

To Fix Them Both.

First Old Lady—Guard, open this window; I shall smother to death!

Second Ditto—Guard, shut this window, or I'll freeze to death,

First Old Lady (again)—Guard, will you raise—

Irate Male Passenger (interrupting)—Guard, open that window and freeze one of these old women to death; then shut it and smother the other one!

Silence in the car.—Tit-Bits.

Many Styles of Neckwear.

There are as many new neck adornments these days as there are women to wear them. One of the latest and, perhaps, oddest consists of two deep frills of changeable silk, with the old-fashioned pinked edges. The colors in the silk are a rather dark green and a faint rose. A high ruche of the pinked silk forms the collar, which is caught here and there with tiny black ostrich feathers. Accordion-plaited chiffon collarettes are much worn over silk waists. Many of these collarettes have each plait outlined with pearl beads. Others are finished with a fringe of feathers.

Where Brier Root Comes From.

The best brier root from which pipes are made is said to come from the borders of France and Italy. In the mountainous districts of those countries roots are dug out which have grown for ages and are sometimes larger than a man's body, weighing hundreds of pounds. The wood thus obtained is remarkably beautiful.

Belts are Narrow.

It is the narrow belt which is the vogue just now. Narrow belts of woven gilt and silver are much worn, and many of them have a bit of a miniature for the clasp. Other narrow belts which are considered stylish are made of vari-colored spangles and are worn with both cloth and silk gowns.

ELECTRICITY

Its marvellous advances.

An interview with a prominent electrician and inventor.

Mr. D. C. L. Ferguson, of the Eclipse Electric and Manufacturing Co'y, 211 Church st., Toronto, consented to be interviewed by our representative the other day. Mr. Ferguson said: "To see me now you would not fancy that I had undergone severe hardships and battled with disease, yet such is the case, and were it not for the events I am about to relate I would not now be able to prosecute further scientific researches.

"I have been troubled with my kidneys and liver for the past 10 years. During the last 4 years I have been growing worse rapidly, until I was almost unable to work. I have been treated by doctors and taken a large variety of medicine without benefit. I had constant pain across my back, at times almost unbearable, especially at night. My urine was wine color as if mixed with blood, and with much sediment, burning sensation when venting. I felt tired and dragged, and it was with the utmost effort I was able to work at all. Seeing the Doan Kidney Pill Co. advertisement, I thought I would try one box of their pills on the principle that it would do no harm to try again, so I got one from W. S. Robinson, Druggist, 532 Yonge st. I have not quite finished that first box, but am happy to say it has proved the best experiment of my life. I improved from the start and there has been a rapid improvement daily, until I am to-day a well man. Pain all gone. Urine natural in color, no sediment. I am stronger, and able to work as well as ever I did. I cannot be too thankful for the result of my trial of Doan's Kidney Pills. I would be glad to tell anyone who suffers as I have done, how I was before, and how I am after taking Doan's Kidney Pills, if they will call at my place."

A Roland for His Oliver.

Lord Esher, who, when president of the Court of Appeal, used to keep up a running fire of "chaff" on learned counsel, sometimes got a Roland for his Oliver—as when a young barrister, in the course of argument, stated that no reasonable person could doubt one particular proposition.

"But I doubt it very much," said the Judge.

The youthful advocate, not one whit abashed, replied: "I said no reasonable person, my lord."

The master of the rolls could only gasp, "Proceed, sir; proceed!"—Argonaut.

The Pearl of Great Price

To women is beauty. Beauty, the key that unlocks every door, commands deference, inspires homage. But beauty of face cannot satisfy unless the additional grace, beauty of teeth, adds its charm. Fine teeth, sweet breath, rippling laughter—three graces that always go together. Ivorine imparts dazzling pearly like whiteness, removes discolouration and tartar from the teeth, and renders the breath as fragrant as flowers.

To destroy worms and expel them from children or adults, use Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

Samples of this leading high class wheel, which has been the subject of so much favourable comment around town for the past two weeks, have just arrived, and may be seen at the hardware store of Messrs. The manufacturers have advised their local agents that the remarkable demand which has already sprung up for their 1896 wheels has made it difficult to keep sufficient stock on hand to fill early orders. Those, therefore, contemplating buying a Hyslop are advised to file their orders without delay. Messrs. Kingan & Allan are also sole agents for another high grade wheel—the Welland Vale—of St. Catharines, which is scoring many favourites this year. dtf

DEATH OF MR. JOHN HALL, SR.

The death of Mr. John Hall, Sr., of Smith, father of Mr. Richard Hall, of town, took place early yesterday morning at the advanced age of 90 years.

The deceased was taken ill with bronchitis about a week ago as the result of a heavy cold which he had contracted. The attack developed into pneumonia to the severity of which the deceased finally succumbed.

Mr. Hall was born in the village of Midlum, near Galashiels, Scotland, in 1806, and twenty years later accompanied his parents and the rest of the family to Canada, where residence was taken up in what is now known as the township of Smith. At this time Peterborough county had no railway facilities and the journey from Cobourg had to be made by wagon over a "blaze" road.

In 1836 the deceased espoused Miss Isabella Johnston, also a native of Scotland. He survived her 21 years. Seven children blessed the union, of whom four are still living, viz: Messrs. W. A. Hall, of Smith; John Hall, of Smith; Richard Hall, of Hall, Gilcrist & Co., Peterborough, and Mrs. W. C. Taylor, of Douro.

Mr. Hall was one of the first Justices of the Peace in the county and was a life-long Reformer in politics.

Up to the moment of his death Mr. Hall was in the possession of all his faculties and although ninety years of age his memory and vigour of thought were not the least impaired. He was a member of St. Paul's congregation of Peterborough and was so well and favourably known throughout the district that ecomium is unnecessary concerning the manner in which, during his three score years and ten, spent in the county, he fulfilled the duties of citizen, friend and neighbour in such a manner as to win the confidence and esteem of all with whom he came in contact.

The death occurred at the residence of Mr. W. C. Taylor, Douro, a son-in-law of the deceased, who was paying a visit at the time he was attacked with his last illness, and arrangements have been made for the funeral to take place from Mr. Richard Hall's residence, No. 313 Water street, at 2.30 o'clock Monday afternoon.

A WELL-DESERVED RECOGNITION.

Miss F. M. Lewis Remembered on the Eve of Her Departure From Town.

On Wednesday afternoon a number of the church workers of St. John's met at the Rectory to say good-bye to Miss F. M. Lewis, who has been a faithful and successful worker in several departments of the Church and a devoted member of the congregation. In recognition of these relations the Chancel Guild presented Miss Lewis with a handsomely-bound prayer and hymn book, and the Sunday School teachers with a complete commentary of the New Testament, bearing the following inscription:—

"Presented to Miss F. M. Lewis by the officers and teachers of St. John's Sunday School on her removal from the parish, after faithful and devoted service."

An initialed card case was also presented to Miss Naomi Lewis, who has been a teacher in and the organist of, the Sunday School.

Several presents were also handed in from individual members of the congregation, showing the high place Miss Lewis has won in the esteem and affections of the congregation of St. John's.

Mrs. Lewis and Miss Lewis left on Thursday for Montreal.

PERSONAL.

Mr. W. M. O'Bierne, editor of the Stratford Beacon, and Mr. G. G. Macpherson, a prominent Stratford Liberal, who were attending the Young Liberals' meeting in Ottawa, are among the snow-bound, and favoured The EXAMINER with a call.

Mr. W. F. McLean, M. P. of West York in his "political" capacity, and editor of the Toronto World in his "personal"—which distinctions were pretty sharply emphasised in the House the other day—called at THE EXAMINER sanctum to-day. He is one of the snow-bound and one of the not-bound-by political ties.

THE EFFECTS OF THE TERRIBLE STORM.

Both Railways Are Still Blockaded.

THE LINES ARE ALL OPEN IN THE EAST.

A Number of Those Who are Paying an Unwilling Visit to Peterborough are Taking Advantage of the Occasion to Visit the Two Fine Local Hospitals—When Will a Train go?

"Its an ill wind that blows no one good" and although scores of travellers are snowbound in town, yet the hotels are reaping a golden harvest.

It is impossible for any accurate statement to be made as to when either the Grand Trunk or C. P. R. will have a line open through to Toronto, but which ever road makes the first notice of a clearance, will take a big load of delayed passengers westward. Every effort is being made to fight the storm, which is now practically over, as the sun has melted the snow to such an extent as to prevent further drifting. Both railways are continually sending out fresh of men to shovel the snow from the tracks and no one willing to work can complain of hard times, as capable men are greatly in demand.

On the C.P.R. the express due here yesterday afternoon from the east at 4.48 p. m., arrived here at 1.15 this morning. The passengers were half-famished from long confinement on the train, but their hunger was speedily appeased by Station Agent Bamford, who secured 100 loaves of bread and a corresponding quantity of butter and cheese from Waller & Co. The passengers were then billeted at the different hotels at the expense of the C.P.R.

For the benefit of passengers from here and intermediate stations, wishing to go to Montreal, a train was made up and left the local station at midnight. At 11.25 o'clock this morning another train was made up here and was also sent east. Reports have been received that the rotary snow plough is near Agincourt. The passenger train from the west, which was snowed in at that point has at last been relieved and taken back to North Toronto, where the passengers have been billeted at the Rosedale House. A freight train is still snowed in near Burketon and the rotary is working in towards it from the west, whilst an ordinary plough is trying to clear the line from the east end of the blockade near Myrtle. This morning a gang of fifty shovellers was sent up to the scene of the blockade, and about one hundred more left at noon.

On the Grand Trunk the main line has been opened up as far west as Port Hope. Connection between here and Port Hope has to be made via Belleville, as not a shovelful of snow has been lifted on the Port Hope branch. The snowplough ran down to Belleville last night and the train from that point was only half an hour late in getting to Peterborough this morning. It returned at the usual time this afternoon. An effort is being made to open up connection with Lindsay, and it is hoped that the line over the Midland between here and Toronto will be clear

SOMETIME THIS EVENING.

The storm-stayed passengers are at their wits end for amusement during their enforced stay here. Crowds have been up to the Nihsoils' Hospital and large numbers have visited St. Joseph's. The curlers are having a good time of it, and six rinks of them enjoyed themselves on the local ice this morning and afternoon, at the invitation of the Peterborough club.

Amongst those who are awaiting a train out of town are: Mr. D. J. LeRoy, one of Toronto's well known cricketers, who has many friends in town; Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P., editor of the Toronto World, who is returning from his parliamentary duties in Ottawa; Mr. O. B. Shepherd, one of Toronto's aldermen and manager of the Grand Opera House there; Mr. E. E. Shepherd, better known as "Don" owner of the Toronto Saturday Night and the Toronto Star; Stewart Lyon, of the Toronto Globe, and President of the Young Men's Liberal Club, Toronto; also Mr. Elliott and Mr. John Holden, prominent young barristers and members of the same organization.

A large number of young Liberals returning from the recent convention in Ottawa are also amongst the stormstayed, and an idea may be gained of the number of unwilling visitors there are in town from the statement that over 200 partook of breakfast at the Oriental this morning.

The country roads are in a most deplorable condition, and very few farmers had sufficient energy to try and force their way into market this morning. The majority of those who were on the market square did not come more than a mile or two although one enterprising farmer from Ennismore managed to make his way in.

MERCER'S NEW DEPARTMENT.

High-Class Children's Clothing to be the Newest Innovation With This Enterprising Firm of Merchant Tailors.

Mercer & Co., the well-known tailors and men's furnishers, have opened a new department in connection with their splendid establishment. Already case after case of the finer grades of boys clothing has arrived and a grand opening will take place to-morrow, when the new lines will be open to inspection. In accordance with the rules of the establishment only the very finest grades will be carried and an inspection of the new stock reveals some most attractive patterns in suitings for boy's between the ages of four and fourteen. The firm's well-deserved name of only carrying the finer lines of goods guarantees that Peterborough ladies will have provided them an opportunity of examining a stock of handsomely finished garments for boys, which will in every way equal an ordered suit. With the excellent facilities at their command Mercer & Co., are in a position to promptly make any changes required to insure satisfaction. The firm is prepared to refund the purchase money in every case, in the improbable contingency of a customer being dissatisfied. A general invitation is given to heads of families, especially the ladies to inspect this new department. Every facility will be afforded the ladies to examine the superior merits of the children's suits and to interest them in the natty styles, excellent quality and other values which they possess.

NOTES FROM THE BRIDGE WORKS

The Class of Work Which is being Turned Out.

Amongst the work under course of construction at the Central Bridge Works is a bridge for the Ontario Government to span the west branch of the Winnipeg River at Keewatin. The approximate weight of the bridge will be 60 tons and the steel piers 15 tons each.

It will be erected under the supervision of Henry Smith, Esq., C. E., Superintendent of Colonization Roads for the Ontario Government. The structure is a steel Pratt truss bridge, with inclined top chords. It will be 322 long from the centre to the centre of the end piers, and will be 32 feet high in the centre, and 26 in height at the ends. The roadway will be 18 feet wide in the clear. The steel cylinderical piers will consist of heavy steel cylinders five feet in diameter, and will be 25 feet in height at one end and 16 feet at the other. They willl be filled with concrete. The piers will be stongly anchored to the solid rock by means of heavy steel angle flanges, and steel anchor bolts. They will also be strongly supported laterally with steel beams and angle bracing. The depth of the water is about forty feet. The distance from the surface of the river to the floor of the bridge is thirty feet and from the floor of the bridge to its highest point is 32 feet. Therefore the distance from the bed of the stream to the top of the bridge is over 100 feet, a circumstance seldom met with in Canadian bridge building.

The company also has orders on hand for the following work:—Ornamental footbridge for the new park at Berlin; four railway spans for the Grand Trunk; one span bridge for the counties of Middlesex and Elgin; one span bridge for Malahide township and steel piers for same; two span bridges for the London Street Railway Co., making the fourth bridge for this Works, and a span bridge for the C.P.R. street railway constructed at the Bridge for the Pacific slope of the Selkirk range of the Rocky Mountains, being the heaviest specimen of bridge work yet erected in the Dominion.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. THOMPSON, Peninsula Lake, Ontario. Remember

NEW SPRING BABY CARRIAGES.

Dozens of styles at a modest price. Some tasty and neat—more handsome and stylish. The prices match. See our stock before placing the baby on wheels.

Besides the baby's health demands a Baby Carriage, after being housed all winter. It will do the parents credit and the baby justice to have a neat, well upholstered Baby Cab to roll along in the procession under the bright Easter day sun.

So much the more does a new and handsome Carriage become imperative if the baby is a new one. The old one (that is the old Carriage) is shabby and persists in running crooked. If we could start life over again every one of us would insist on riding in a Baby Carriage and a new one at that.

Prices are away below values—forty different styles—$5.00 to $20.00.

Missionary Address.

St. Luke's branch of the Women's Auxiliary had the great pleasure of listening to an interesting address on Thursday last by Mrs. Davidson of Toronto, who was lately made a life member of St. Luke's Branch, Toronto. The subject of the address was taken from the 67th Psalm, and from it the speaker showed that Christ was the first missionary on earth and that nothing could be done without His aid.

A Cordial Invitation

Is extended to the ladies of Peterborough to inspect the gorgeous display of London and Parisian trimmed hats and pattern bonnets, millinery trimmings, ornaments and artistic novelties which will be the leading features at Robert Hall's millinery opening, to take place on Wednesday, March 25th, and following days of the week. The imported mantles and capes to be shown are all this year's newest styles, and will prove to be the most select and exclusive in every respect. 3d

A High Class Concert.

A subscription list is now being circulated by Mr. W. H. Bradburn for a high class concert which it is proposed shall take place here on the 27th. The artists taking part are well known in town and the following statement concerning them will be read with interest: Miss Robinson, daughter of the ex-Lieut.-Governor J. Beverley Robinson, has spent six years on the continent, and has returned to Canada a most accomplished singer. At her debut in the Massey Hall recently she created a most favourable impression. Her fine presence and charming manner finely set off her exquisite voice. She has sung in the company of the best artists. Miss Street, daughter of the Hon. Mr. Justice Street, has played as solo violinists with Damrosch's orchestra. Miss Hart is likewise a new arrival in the musical world and has produced so good an impression on the critics that they place her high in their estimation as a pianiste. She has just returned from Germany after spending eight years there in the study of music. Of Mr. Robinson, who has not yet been heard here, it is enough to say that he is the equal of any tenor ever heard in Canada.

GEORGE STREET ENTERTAINMENT LAST EVENING.

It Proved a Huge Success—Over Four Hundred Persons in Attendance—Speeches by Prominent Visitors—The Handsome Decorations.

Last evening there was an entertainment given to the scholars of the various Bible classes by the teachers and officers of the George street Methodist Sunday school. If any one had looked through the door of the lecture room they would have seen merry groups of scholars, belonging to the different classes, and teachers conversing together, and enjoying themselves immensely.

The room was most beautifully decorated for the occasion with curtains, which divided the room off into sections, and with handsome rugs strewn around promiscuously on the floor.

Through the kindness of Mr. D. A. Shaw there was a large number of oil paintings lent to the committee of arrangement. All of these paintings have a large share of life-like naturalness, which speaks volumes for the great taste which Mr. Shaw displays in the harmonious blending of the colours used in various paintings. There was a very much needed improvement noticeable last night in the manner of serving refreshments. Nice little tables were provided for the purpose, preventing the possibility of the contents of the plates and cups being suddenly precipitated into the middle of the floor. These were large enough to permit four to be comfortably seated around them. This was a decided improvement, and much appreciated by all.

Rev. W. R. Young, the pastor, acted as chairman, and filled the chair most acceptably. Mr. Wm. Johnston, superintendent of Bridge street Methodist Sunday school, who was snow-bound, and so forced to stay here over night, gave a very interesting address, stating that he would not mind being snow-bound oftener, if he was sure of being entertained by as nice a gathering as there was present at the entertainment. For a long time he had thought that Bridge street Sunday school was the largest in Ontario, but to his great surprise, George street Sunday school had at last surpassed it in numbers. If he had known he was going to be snow-bound in Peterborough, he would have brought the Banner and presented it to George street Sunday school, as it rightfully belonged to them now. He was glad to hear of the great success that was attending the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Young, and he believed the school had prospered more under Mr. Young's supervision, than under any preceeding minister. He thought that such entertainments as this was one of the best means to help to keep the young people in the church.

Then came one of the principal features of the evening—a debate on—Resolved that married life is preferable to single. The affirmative was supported by Mr. S. R. Armstrong and Mr. Frank Dobbin, and the negative by Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Harold Fife. Mr. Dobbin thought that one ought to get married if for nothing else than to make the acquaintance of his mother-in-law. Mr. Mitchell thought it would be advisable to stay single, if for nothing else than to save expense, and Mr. Fife thought it stunted a young lady's musical abilities to get married, in fact in some cases before the marriage ceremony is over almost "practice at the piano ceases" said the speaker. Mr. Armstrong of course thought that married life is preferable.

The speakers were allowed three minutes, rather too short a time in which to present their arguments. Mr. Young refused to act as referee, for family reasons. Mr. Dumble therefore acted as judge and could not come to a decision, but advised all present to try matrimony and decide for themselves.

Mr. W. T. R. Preston, Librarian of the Local House of Assembly, and superintendent of Wesley Sunday school, Toronto, gave a very interesting address. He was also snow-bound, and reiterated the remark of Mr. Johnston about getting snow-bound and entertained in such a manner as he was last night. The Sunday school of which he is superintendent has over 1100 names on the roll and is the largest in Canada. He also thought that to get up an entertainment such as the present was one of the best things that could be done to keep the young people in the church. He always found that business men who were active members in the church, always were successful in securing the highest positions in the land. He concluded his address by wishing George street school success in all its undertakings.

During the evening there was a selection sung by the choir, which was followed by a solo by Mrs. Seward. Immediately after Misses Elson and Marks sang a duet, and then came a solo by Mrs. Hamilton. Mr. J. Brown sang a solo in excellent style. Every number on the programme was rendered in a very pleasing manner and much appreciated by those present. And last, but not least, refreshments were served and heartily enjoyed by all. Much credit is due to those who had the managing of this very successful entertainment, at which over 400 were in attendance.

Thanks are due to J. C. Turnbull for kindly lending the chenille curtains which were so effectively draped by Mr. Geo. Armstrong. Miss Radkins graciously came forward with lace curtains for decoration purposes, and rugs for the occasion were loaned by Messrs. B. Shortly and Alf. Parker. Mr. O. R. Dayman also kindly assisted in the decorating.

To reform existing abuses and to correct errors is the business of all true citizens. That a reformation in France was necessary no one will deny. An absolute monarchy, a privileged aristocracy and a privileged church have always been impediments to national prosperity and should be removed. The legitimate work of the French Revolution consisted in the efforts to remove these impediments.

Had Louis XVI been a man of courage and vigour there was offered to him one of the grandest opportunities to win fame ever presented to man. Possessing neither, the opportunity passed. He was born to rule, he knew. How to rule, he did not know. France was on the verge of bankruptcy. The suffering and misery of the lower classes increased, while at the same time the glitter and show of royalty continued. Nothing but skillful management could save the nation. One after another of the court favourites tried to manage the finances but failed. At length Necker, a banker of Geneva, was called, and yielding to the popular demand, a meeting of the States General was summoned. No meeting of this parliament had been held for over one hundred and fifty years.

With enthusiasm all classes prepared for this assembly. The clergy and nobility that they might impose more taxes. The people that they might have their wrong redressed. By a simple process of voting the members of Parliament were selected, and when in 1789 the sessions were opened, it was found to consist as follows: 271 nobles, 291 clergy, including 48 bishops, 35 abbes and 208 parish priests. 547 representatives of the people, of whom one-half were lawyers. Strange, then as now, lawyers usually seek political preferment. The first difficulty which presented itself was the method of voting. The clergy insisted upon maintaining a separate rank. The nobles the same, while the Commons refused to take part in any business unless all were considered equal. For days it appeared as if a dead-lock would be the result. Guided by the master hand of Bailly, who was chosen President of the Commons, and influenced by the master mind and fiery eloquence of Mirabeau, the Commons waited, and refused to do anything unless equality was acknowledged. On June 7th the Commons took an oath not to separate until a constitution was adopted and accepted. The clergy were the first to capitulate. The parish priests were largely in sympathy with the Commons, and slowly they came to the Council followed by the abbes, and at length by the bishops. The aristocracy still refused. When they saw resistance was useless they yielded and took their places in the chamber, still maintaining a silence. Their appearance marked the first victory, and when after some delay, one of the nobles ascended the tribune to speak on a certain question, the victory was complete, and in the court the principle of equality was acknowledged and the first triumph of the Revolution won.

In Paris, eleven miles distant, the rumour was started that these concessions of the clergy and the nobility were not genuine and that an armed force was marching to dissolve the Commons and crush the new spirit. Looming in the distance stood the dark grey walls of the Bastile. For over three centuries it had stood a constant menace to liberty. Over its iron gates might have been written the words, "All hope abandon ye who enter here." Within its gloomy cells many a poor wretch had wept and languished, forgotten until death put an end to torment. Right well the French populace knew that if an armed force should dissolve the States General many of these men would find their way to this dismal dungeon. Hence the resolve was quickly taken. The Bastile should be destroyed. To think was to act, and as a result on July 14, 1789, an angry mob stormed the castle, slew its Governor, liberated the prisoners and by that act declared the principle of liberty. Some place the overthrow of the Bastile among the excesses of the French Revolution. On the contrary, I place it amongst the benefits conferred, feeling confident there is no lover of liberty anywhere who will not join with the Frenchman in commemorating of its downfall. Imprisonment as a mode of punishment is necessary, but that a man should be deprived of his liberty at the will of a despot or as the outcome of political or ecclesiastical intrigue is an infringement of the rights of the individual. A man is considered innocent until he is proven guilty and sentence should be deferred until guilt is proven, whether it be the stern sentence of the law or the none less severe sentence of public opinion.

The adoption of a constitution was a task involving great labour, requiring as it did the harmonizing of the conflicting interests of royalty and the masses. Often did the task appear hopeless, but at length success crowned the efforts of this Assembly, known as the "National Assembly" or the "Constituent Assembly," and a constitution was adopted. The principles accepted were in part these:—"All men are born free and continue equal in personal right. Social distinctions are purely conventional. Sovereignty resides in the nation. The voice of the people is supreme. Liberty is the power of doing what we will so long as it does not injure another. Law can forbid such actions only as are mischievous to society. Law itself is but the expression of the general will. All citizens have the right to take part by representation in the making of law. Arrest and detention can only be in accordance with law. Freedom of speech, writing and printing is one of the most precious rights. Society has a right to demand an account of administration from every servant. Property is an inalienable right and can only be taken by giving an exact equivalent."

These are all included in what is known as the "Rights of Man," a document considered by Madame de Steal as equal to the British Constitution or the American Declaration of Independence. To us they appear as mere commonplaces. They are what we have enjoyed from childhood. But to the French people, for the first time lifting their heads and breathing the air of freedom, how different they appeared. That which to us is commonplace was to them a message of peace from heaven.

A little over a year after this assembly had been summoned, Louis XVI on a public festival held in honour of the fall of the Bastile, swore to defend the constitution as adopted. Bishops and archbishops, nobles and Commons also took the oath of allegiance, and for a few hours at least it appeared as if the future of France was cloudless and serene. One peculiar feature of this Constituent Assembly was the passing of an act known as the "Self denying ordinance," by which it was decided that no member of that assembly should be eligible for re-election, and should be disqualified for holding any public office. Our politicians are wiser than that. We can imagine a Canadian parliament voting an increased sessional indemnity; we can fancy members so self denying that occasionally one will be found willing to vacate his seat that a master mind may come in (especially if he have a good office promised), but to expect a body of legislators to-day to pass an act by which they would disqualify themselves for re-election or unfit themselves for holding public office would be too much to expect from political human nature.

One of the problems not solved at this time was the condition of the masses in comparison with the classes. While the glitter and show of royalty continued the suffering of the masses did not abate. As an expression of public opinion, which should not have been overlooked, we see a struggling mass of starving people making their way to the royal palace at Versailles. They have a petition asking for help and the removal of certain grievances. A strange sight new in the history of the time, a labourer approaching a king. Yet such is the power of hunger. They approach in widespread wretchedness, with sallow faces, and in rages, all speaking louder than words. The gates of the palace are of course shut against them. No such common people must tread royal terraces. The king appears on the balcony and speaks to them. He hears their statement, looks at their petition and for answer commands two of them to be hanged on a gallows forty feet high. A decisive stroke Louis thought, but a fatal mistake.

To deal with the masses is a difficult political problem. Nor does the difficulty

A SCOURGE MORE TO BE DREADED THAN PESTILENCE.

The Story of a Nova Scotian Lady who Almost Lost Her Life Through the Ravages of This Trouble—Unable to Feed Herself and Had to be Carried to and From Bed.

From the Acadian, Wolfville, N.S.

In the spring of 1894 the many friends of Mrs. Mary Freeman, in Wolfville, N.S., very gladly welcomed her return home after a long absence from her native town, but it was with the deepest grief that they beheld in her the prey of a disease of almost incredible severity. It appeared to all that the brightest future in store for her was but a few months of suffering existence. Not long after her return, the people of Wolfville were surprised to hear that after using a few boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills she had become almost completely well. Anxious to bear the truth of this surprising report, our reporter waited on Mrs. Freeman at the earliest opportunity. From her he received a full account of her painful illness and remarkable recovery. In January of 1890, Mrs. Freeman was then living in Foxbury, Mass., was severely attacked by la grippe. She had partly recovered when a relapse followed, and while recovering from its effects, she was seized by acute rheumatism and neuralgia. The combined sickness resulted in completely breaking down her constitution. Upon recovering from neuralgia, she one day noticed a little pimple on her left ankle which became exceedingly painful. It grew rapidly, soon becoming as large as a gold dollar and breaking into a running sore. Others immediately followed and soon the whole body was covered, the limbs becoming terribly swollen. The most eminent physicians of Boston were appealed to, but beyond informing her that the ailment was due to a completely run-down system, they rendered her no assistance. In the spring of 1894 she came to Nova Scotia, hoping that a change of climate would effect a cure, but to no purpose. Bone ulcers, greatly exceeding in painfulness the sores which first appeared, manifested themselves. She soon lost the use of her limbs, became unable to feed herself and was compelled to be carried to and from her bed. Her eyes became weak and she was thus denied the enjoyment of reading. After many remedies had been tried and proved useless, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were finally appealed to. Scarcely six boxes had been consumed when the ulcers showed symptoms of healing, the appetite grew better and her general health greatly improved. Since that time her condition has steadily improved, and her health is now far better than it was previous to her serious illness. Save a slight stiffness of the limbs, she shows no signs of the terrible scourge she has passed through. Mrs. Freeman is not unmindful of the great obligation she is under to this remarkable medicine, and she is anxious that the wonderful cure which it has effected should be generally known.

The experience of years has proved that there is absolutely no disease due to a vitiated condition of the blood or shattered nerves that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will not promptly cure, and those who are suffering from such troubles would avoid much misery and save money by promptly resorting to this treatment. Get the genuine Pink Pills every time and do not be persuaded to take an imitation or some other remedy from a dealer, who for the sake of the extra profit to himself, may say is "just as good." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make rich red blood, and cure when other medicines fail.

How Books Get Valuable.

Anything—a printer's error, the author's private or public troubles, a freak on the part of its last distinguished possessor—may run up the value of a book by leaps and bounds, and set all the cranks on the prowl. Books have been run after merely because they were barbarously mauled by their owners. A late eminent Shakespearean scholar used to tear "out of volumes in his possession all the matter which he considered of insufficient interest." And we are assured that "there were recently at large persons bearing all the outward semblance of sane humanity," who bought up the mutilated volumes at high prices. The illustrious Charles Darwin, being a practical man, untrammelled by any sentiment about books, as such, had a savage habit of cutting his thicker volumes into halves. These fragments should fetch long prices.—London Daily News.

SMART BLACKBIRDS.

Gen. Lew Wallace Tells a Good Story of Their Sagacity.

Gen. Lew Wallace related an incident which shows to a remarkable extent the wonderful sagacity and memory of blackbirds.

"At my home over in Crawfordsville," said the general, "we have a large number of tall trees on the lawn, and in the course of time these trees became the roosting place at certain times of the year for hundreds of thousands of blackbirds. They came in great, black clouds, and in spite of all I could do they refused to leave. Of course, they were a great nuisance, and I was in despair as to some means of getting clear of them. I stood for days with my gun firing into them of an evening and killing hundreds of them, but the rest did not seem sufficiently struck by fear or grief to want to part company with me and my inhospitality. I then devised a new scheme.

"Procuring a number of Roman candles one evening I lighted them one by one after dark, when the boughs of the trees were bent low with the weight of the croaking birds, and I poured the candles into the tops of the trees at a great rate. The sudden innovation startled the birds as nothing had ever done before, and they became panic-stricken. That night I was free of them.

"The next evening, however, the habit of returning there to roost was stronger than fear, and they began coming in by thousands as soon as the evening approached. After dark I began with another volley of candles, and the birds began to realize that there was a determined bombardment in progress. They fled precipitately, and the third evening only a few returned. A few last shots put them to flight, and I was troubled no more.

"But what do you think those birds did? My dividing fence runs between the trees on my property and the trees on the property of my neighbor, which are equally high and suitable for a home for the blackbirds. When the birds were driven from my lot they flew over across the dividing fence to the trees of my neighbor and settled. There was no bombardment over there, and they stayed there ever since.

"This was a long time ago, but never since the last Roman candle was fired into them has one of those birds settled on one of my trees. They are 'tabooed' as effectually as though they were on fire. The great clouds of birds each morning and evening fly directly over my trees, going and coming, but not a bird settles upon a tree that is on my side of the dividing fence.

"Another strange thing is that if anyone of an evening stands in my lawn and makes a slight noise, as slapping his hands, there will be the wildest commotion among the birds in the neighboring trees. They become restless and almost panic-stricken. If, however, the same person crosses the fence and stands directly under them and makes twice as much noise, they pay no attention whatever to him. He can even shoot up into them without driving them from their perches.

"I have wondered several times just what impression those birds have of me and my property that they have so decidedly given me the cold shoulder."

ANOTHER VICTIM OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Because he had not Learned of South American Kidney Cure.

Looking the stable door after the horse is stolen is disappointing, and yet in the particular matter of kidney trouble it is done in many cases. Every day the newspapers are telling of the death of people from Bright's disease, and Bright's disease is only a development of kidney disease, which can positively be cured by South American Kidney Cure. It is not necessary to wait until one has Bright's disease to take this medicine. Why not take it when some of the earlier symptoms of kidney trouble have become manifest? There is only one way to talk of this medicine, and that is to call a spade a spade, and say that it is positively and absolutely cures all features of kidney disease. It's most dangerous and it's most distressing. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Dr. Talmage and His Tailor.

"Make me a nice, easy coat," said the noted pulpit orator of Chicago to his tailor one day shortly before his death, "one that's loose and roomy enough for me to stretch up in and grow eloquent over, you know."

"Yes, I understand," said the tailor, with a twinkle in his eye; "you want me to make you one gesture size."

"That's it, exactly," exclaimed the divine, as he laughed at the tailor's merry pun; "one that I can just swing myself in."—Chmicago Journal.

Repairing Women.

There are few things about the human frame that a Viennese surgeon does not know. If man had not been created as he has been, he would have been eventually made by a Viennese doctor. The faculty in the Austrian capital think nothing of doing him over, or, one should say, of doing her over. It seems that women in Vienna can go and be done up fresh, and especially retrimmed to look better than before. Several physicians made a specialty of women-culture. One of them, a doctor, Robert Fischer, says that his day is not long enough for this practice. Continues this frank speaker: "Numbers of mothers put their daughters through a whole course of beautification when they are in the marriage market. That's the time when the most elaborate preparations of the human form are ordered and undertaken. I have a great deal more to do in the spring and fall than for the most fashionable balls of the year."

Vitality in Men Restored.

Failing Sexual Strength in old or young men can be quickly and permanently cured by me to a healthy, vigorous state. Sufferers from....

NERVOUS DEBILITY, VARICOCELE, EIGHT LOSSES,

AND ALL WASTING DISEASES should write to me for advice. I have been a close student for many years of the subject of weakness in men, the fact is I was a sufferer myself. Too bashful to seek the aid of older more reputable physicians I investigated the subject deeply and discovered a simple but most remarkably successful remedy that completely cured me and fully charged me from a shrunken, stunted condition to natural strength and size. I want every young or old man to know about it. I take a personal interest in such cases and no one need hesitate to write me as all communications are held strictly confidential. I send the recipe of this remedy absolutely free of cost. Do not put it off but write me fully at once, you will always bless the day you did so. Address,

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering with some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and discomfort seem less. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The effects of such disorders are not limited to mere local discomforts but extend over the whole body. Perhaps the nerves are most affected, and this in turn disturbs the digestion. After that there is no telling what form the trouble may take. With irritable nerves and poor digestion, a woman is on the straight road to the grave. Women are notoriously negligent in matters pertaining to their health. Too many of them understand too little about their own physical make-up. They do not understand their possibilities or their limitations, and they do not know enough about themselves to know when a symptom is really serious and when it is not. This naturally makes them overlook the plainest of danger signals. The start of everything is simple. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse, it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relied upon. It affords immediate and lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting physicians.

The whole story of the "Favorite Prescription," and what it has done for thousands of women is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This is a 1008 page book, profusely illustrated, written in plain language for the use of every-day people, and gives in a clear and lucid way an immense amount of valuable information about health and medicine. It will be sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only.

MRS. HENNE-PECQUE.

THE X RAYS REACH THE HOUSEHOLD OF THE NEW WOMAN.

The Learned Dissertation on Roentgen's Discovery That Took the Dear Little Hubby's Breath Away—She Praises "Another."

"What!" Mrs. Henne-Pecque exclaimed, indignantly, as she entered the dining room. "What did I hear you say to your father, Isabelle? Did my ears deceive me? Did you dare to tell your patient, loving father that he didn't know enough to go in when it rains?"

"My dear," said Mr. Henne-Pecque, seeing that Isabelle made no reply, "you really must take that girl in hand. She is getting quite beyond me. I am not strong enough to whip her and she pays no attention to anything I say. She has got to the age when she needs a woman's firm control."

"Go into the library, Isabelle, and wait there until I come. Now that we are alone, my love, I wish you would explain this scene to me."

"Grace asked me to explain some of the pictures in the morning paper, and when I began to tell her about the ten rays"——

"The ten rays? What do you mean, Mr. Henne-Pecque?"

"Why, my dear, you know; that new discovery—the word begins with an R—by which they can photograph the bones in one's hand."

"Oh, you mean X rays?"

"Yes, X, and X stands for ten, of course."

"My dear little husband, you do say some very remarkable things! Take algebra, for one thing, what does X stand for in an equation?"

"Well, maybe it doesn't always mean ten. But really there was no reason why my own child should tell me I was a 'back number' and not 'up to the times,' after the way I have worried to make her happy, to nurse her when she was sick, and to keep her little faults hidden from you. I think she is very ungrateful."

"Most assuredly she is, and I'll give her a good trouncing. But, my love, I wish you would not expose your ignorance of everyday matters to the children. You know I am always ready and willing to explain things to you, and when you are in doubt upon any subject I am sure your wife is the person to instruct you."

"Yes, dear, I know it. But this new discovery seemed so simple, I thought I understood it. What is the matter with that plate?"

"Matter, Mr. Henne-Pecque? Matter enough. It is as cold as a stone, and you ought to know by this time that when we have boiled mutton for dinner the plates must be hot; not warm, but hot."

"You are a little late, dear, and I guess the plates cooled while waiting."

"They should have been kept by the fire until I came. You may understand the Roentgen theory, Mr. Henne-Pecque, which, however, is more than most learned women do, but you evidently do not understand how to serve mutton. No, I can't wait now to have a plate heated. I am in a hurry. You know I go to Pittsburg to-night, and I have several matters to attend to before the train leaves."

"Oh, dear, Mrs. Henne-Pecque, you are not going away again? I never saw such a woman; you are not at home two hours in the week. I might as well not have any wife for all I see of you. What junketing is on foot this time?"

"Unreasonable, as usual, Mr. Henne-Pecque. You seem to forget that Col. Sherman's funeral takes place to-morrow in Pittsburg, and that I am one of the pall-bearers."

"Oh, yes, I forgot that. Poor little Mr. Sherman, how I pity him! I wonder if his wife will leave him well off."

"She had her life insured quite heavily, but I doubt if she left much else. She was unfortunate in business last year. I fear her family may be hard up."

"They say Mr. Sherman was terribly extravagant, ran up tremendous tailors' bills and gave a great many parties. For my part, I don't see how a man can have the heart to live beyond his wife's income. When his means are limited he ought to live accordingly. I'd like to see your face if I should hand you a bill for five dress coats in one season, as they say Mr. Sherman did."

"My love, don't quote 'they say.' When a man is as vivacious and attractive as he is you'll find plenty of sour old bachelors, or unhappy grass widowers who will pick holes in his coat. Men are proverbially jealous of one another, and when you sneer at another man it will look as if you envied him."

"Humph! I'd like to know why I should envy that Mr. Sherman. He is forty, if he is a day; he blondines his hair, and he hasn't any figure at all."

"He may not be an Adonis, but he is able to make himself agreeable; he sings and plays admirably, is a good linguist, is thoroughly well informed as to all new literature"——

"That's right, Mrs. Henne-Pecque, praise another man at your own husband's expense! If my children were grown up, as his are, and I boarded at a hotel instead of keeping house for a fastidious epicure like you, I could find time to keep up my music and read all the new magazines too. You women pretend you like a domestic man, but you all flutter around an idle society man like moths around a candle."

"Oh, we like to laugh and talk with them, but when it comes to marriage, we take the domesticated ones. Now that I've finished dinner, I must go and give that girl a whipping."

"Don't whip her, dear; scold her. Tell her"——

"Oh, you soft-hearted father! No wonder the children don't mind you. Well, I'll go and scold her, anyway."

A Frank Confession.

House Owner—Why, man, the snow is coming down quicker than you can shovel it away! I thought you said you were a quick worker.

Tramp—So I did, but I didn't know then that you were going to hire me by the hour.

SUFFERED INCESSANTLY OF RHEUMATISM.

South American Rheumatic Cure will Effect a Radical Cure in one to Three Days.

That is surely good news to the numbers groaning under the pains that come from rheumatism and sciatica. All over the Dominion are to be found men and women who are light of step to-day and light of heart, because the terrible suffering they had endured from rheumatism has been removed by the use of South American Rheumatic Cure. The remedy contains no anodynes whatever, but gives relief, and cures by removing the cause of the pain. It is perfectly simple and harmless in all its effects, and it cures so quickly, and after the use often of only a little of the medicine. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Friendship and the Imitation.

Without spirituality there can be no friendship. The exchange of social favors is not friendship, though it is mistaken for it; it is trade. I will call upon you if you call upon me. I will invite you if you invite me. The greater part of the social round is upon a strictly commercial basis. This is not friendship. Friendship asks no return. It is hurt when, by an ostentatious promise or proffer of a return of favors, it is put upon the platform of the mart. Spirituality is the source of true friendship. Without it every man and woman is potentially, and at all times partially, every other man's and woman's opponent, rival, antagonist, enemy. Rare as pure friendship may be among Christians, there is none of it whatever anywhere else.—Detroit Free Press.

RESCUED FROM INSANITY.

GENTLEMEN,—To say all I ought to in favour of B. B. B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it. I am a different man to what I was ten years ago when it was expected I would be in the asylum, but now I am in perfect robust health and it was the B.B.B. that did it. I suffered for five or six years from constipation, sometimes so severely that I went out of my mind.

I tried various doctors, both in the country and in the city, and took medicines too numerous to mention, but everything failed to have the desired effect. When I used Burdock Blood Bitters it succeeded beyond all expectations, requiring only two bottles to cure. To make it still more certain that B. B. B. the real cure for constipation, I may say that some two years afterwards, I felt the symptoms returning and took one bottle more and from that time to the present day (over eight years) I have never had any returns of the disease.

I never knew any medicine to work so well. It does not seem to be a mere reliever but a sure and certain cure as I can testify to, for hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine and advice failed to do me any good, but three dollars' worth of B.B.B. made a permanent cure that has given me years of health and comfort. Yours truly,

C. L. KILMER, Toronto.

Rules for Dining Out.

The man who would dine out often and attend to his business, too, must lay down four rules for himself and obey them:

He must eat very little, and only of the solids that are placed before him.

He must drink very little.

He must smoke very little.

He must never, never eat a late supper.

Happy the man who does obey them! He learns the best thoughts of the best people in the free conversation before dinner, in converzation during dinner and in that most delightful conversation after dinner. He learns public sentiment, he puts himself in touch with public thought. At a dinner with agreeable and clever people around the board, a man learns more than he would by a month of study.—Chauncey M. Depew.

BE NOT DECEIVED.

There is but One Original and Genuine Kidney Treatment.

The Unparalleled Success of Dodds Kidney Pills Excites the Greed of Unscrupulous Imitators.

Never let any one persuade you to buy a substitute or imitation of the real article you want.

A kidney cure in pill form was unknown until Dodd's Kidney Pills came into use.

If Dodd's Kidney Pills were not "the best in the world" no one would imitate them.

Who is robbed and who gets the proceeds when a counterfeit coin is passed upon you?

It is not necessary to experiment with a new or doubtful medicine when a kidney remedy is needed.

Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure every time. Nearly every person knows this, and if you don't you should know it.

You can get Dodd's Kidney Pills from any druggist or dealer at 50c. a box, or by mail from the Dodd's Medicine Co., Toronto, Ont.

The genuine is put up in large flat, round wooden boxes, with white letters on blue and red labels.

TO STOP STEALING.

How the York Grand Jury Thinks Shop Lifting Can be Prevented.

"We view with alarm and regret the many favourable opportunities given by the large stores in our city for shoplifting. We would suggest that some means be devised whereby goods exposed for sale should be better guarded or protected, and not left as now such an open and easy temptation for men women and children to steal."

There is much of sense in the above suggestion. If a system could be devised of showing goods not in reach it would save much to the merchant. But when people can handle and examine 'bargains' it goes a long way towards effecting a sale, and by keeping the goods out of reach many sales would be lost. It is a difficult matter to know how to show goods without running the risk of having them stolen.

Do You Suffer Pain?

Does a dull aching of nerve or muscle, or the acuter pangs of neuralgia, toothache, or lumbago make life a misery? Thousands are compelled to suffer day in and day out simply because they are unacquainted with the extraordinary pain subduing power of Nerviline—the great nerve pain cure. It is certain to cure nerve pain speedily. Nerviline cures toothache, rheumatism, neuralgia, lumago, etc.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

cease as the days pass and civilization advances. Much has been done to relieve the distresses of the poor and to equalise society. But neither Police regulations nor sanitary reforms nor philanthrophy have banished poverty and wretchedness. Tramps still knock at our doors and landlords protect themselves by posting in their hall-ways "Beggars not allowed to-day." Princes and paupers jostle in our high-ways. A man who has done nothing but dine sumptuously rolls by in his carriage, while the labourer who has toiled all day stands wearily until the equipage passes. Hovels and mansions are side by side. The tramp comes with the locomotive, and alms houses and prisons, are as surely signs of progress as costly dwellings, rich warehouses and magnificient churches. Under the glare of the electric lamp, upon streets patrolled by uniformed policemen, beggars wait for the passer by, and in the shadow of college library and museum tramps seek shelter from the suns of summer or the icy blast of winter. With 100,000 idle men in Chicago asking bread, with a similar number in New York and numbers proportionate in every city on the continent, on one side, and millions of money in private vaults and State treasuries, on the other, the great problem is, how shall they be equalized? 100,000 starving men and women in Chicago; 12 millions of bushels of wheat in the city elevators, surely he will be a benefactor of the race, who will devise some means by which the bread shall reach the hungry ones in the same city.

The excesses of the Revolution form one of the dark pages of European history. They began with the assembling of the Parliament in 1791. Three parties composed this Parliament—the Right, or friends of royalty; the Girondists, or Moderate Republicans; the Jacobins, nick-named "the Mountain," because of the high seats they occupied in the assembly hall. The watchword of the Jacobins was "no royalty," Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, although handsomely provided for and given all the power mortal need desire by the new constitution, longed for the absolutism they had lost. The nobles, whose estates had been taken from them, fled to other courts and poured their tale of woe into sympathizing ears, and described the sorrows inflicted upon them by the irreverent Third Estate. Rumours reached the French populace of the formation of a league of kings and nobles to restore Louis and his fallen court to absolute power. French pride was touched. War was declared against Leopold of Austria, a brother of the Queen. The effect of all this upon the class of legislators known as "the mountain" may be imagined. Drawn from the lowest classes, guided by men of no character and swayed by a mass who were not satisfied with what they called "the half-way measures of the Revolution," these men responded to the call of the mob. The latter had learned its power in the storming of the Bastile, and now ransacked the Tuileries and destroyed the priceless treasures found there. The Mountain triumphed in the Assembly and the King was formally deposed. This assembly dissolved, and on Sept. 23rd, 1792, a National Convention assembled, and erecting a French Republic dated its Acts Sept. 22nd in the year ONE. Henceforth the conflict raged between the mob and the nobles. Men who were known to have any sympathy with royalty were arrested and thrown into prison. A tribunal sat daily in the prisons. The question asked each prisoner was "Are you an aristocrat." An affirmative answer being given, the sentence was "Send him to La Force." This was a small wicket gate outside of which stood a row of men armed to the teeth with pikes. The guillotine was introduced and began its deadly work. In December the King was impeached and tried by a political tribunal. The Girondists tried to save him but the Mountain demanded his life. Jan. 20th he was sentenced and on the 21st he was executed. His last words were "I am innocent, I forgive France." Royal blood did not satisfy the mob. Aristocrat, Royalist, Bishop and Republican became victims of the deadly guillotine. Marie Antoinette soon followed her husband. For weeks the carnage raged and the streets of Paris were slippery with human blood. But this did not satisfy. God was absolute, therefore he must be deposed, and in his place Reason was enthroned as a goddess. The Sabbath must not stand. One day in ten, not one in seven, is set apart for a day of enjoyment or pleasure. The despotism of a king was displaced by the despotism of a mob. But the end is at hand. The friends of the Convention quarrel among themselves. Republican armies had triumphed and in 1794 Robespierre and his satellites were deposed and sent to the guillotine. The Jacobin clubs were dissolved and the revolutionary tribunal was at an end. A new element in French political life appeared. The soldier, Napoleon, had distinguished himself in Italy and Egypt. A Directory had been established in France. It was not agreeable to the mob. Here was Napoleon's chance—5,000 soldiers under his command planted the streets of Paris, leading to the Royal Palace with cannon loaded to the muzzle with grape shot. As the mob, supported by 30,000 of the National Guard, advanced they were bidden in the name of the Directory to retire. Refusing, the match was applied and gun after gun thundered in their faces. The contest was sharp and decisive. The National Guard fell back. The revolution was over and henceforth the life of Napoleon must be considered in the history of France.

Two things must not be overlooked in dealing with this question. Revolutions are necessary but are only successful when two principles are observed.—All men in God's sight are equal, but the equality of man can only be obtained by the sovereignity of God. Man never needs to be so the orcratic as when he is democratic.

Society can only be elevated by placing God's word as the foundation of national and individual life. The French Revolution did not possess these principles, hence its success was not complete.

Consumptives Should Neglect

No means of ameliorating their disease. Cod liver oil is acknowledged one of the most valuable remedies in pulmonary complaints. That, however, it be employed in such a form as to be easily digested is imperative. It is just here that the entire superiority of Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites asserts itself. Maltine itself possesses nutritive value equal to cod liver oil, but more important to the sufferer of bronchitis, colds, consumptign, is the great digestive power of maltine upon all foods of a starchy nature. Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites is, in brief, a food of great value in emaciation and and wasting diseases; a medicine possessing the remedial power of cod liver oil; a digestive agency of active potency; a restorer of the debilitated. Try it for two weeks.

TAKING MEASURES!

A Few Years Ago

We had dreams and visions that have now materialized into facts. But the facts are greater than we ever expected.

A few years ago, speaking of GOUGH BROS., people connected this establishment with Ready-Made Clothing only. To-day this store has a grip on the best trade, not only in Ready-Made Clothing, but in Boots and Shoes, Nobby Hats, Shirts, Ties, Furnishings, etc.; and now the pull is rapidly coming our way in—

Made-to-Measure Clothing.

Department after department has been successfully engrafted until it can be unreservedly claimed that GOUGH BROS'. Mammoth Emporium fills the bill—from the crown of the head to the soles of the feet—from the noted Stanley Hat to the best makes of King's stylish Shoes—every requirement for Man or Boy, with very much in every department that concerns and interests the Ladies as well.

Verily, there's a heap of truth in the trite aphorism of the ingenious McGarvey—"If yez got no push yez'll get no pull."

Fine Dressers

Are learning fast that Gough Bros. are pushing hard for the pull on the finest Tailoring trade of Peterborough. Our business motto—observed as we observe it—will bring success in any line:—"The Better the Grade, the Bigger the Trade."

This store of yours has gathered together for the spring and summer season of 1896, the most correct patterns in Imported and Canadian Tweeds, Worsteds, Cheviots, and Home Spuns, to meet your fancy. The British and American Fashion Plates are now on view. Our Tailors are all back to work again on full time, and Duncan Cameron, the keenest of Cutters, has his coat off—the whole department bustling with an air of activity, ready to corroborate our printed statements.

FASTIDUOUS DRESSERS—Men who have an extra care for looks, when you come to find what we really can do for you, you'll begin to find that you can save a third or so on your clothes, and be well dressed to boot. We won't let you pay so little for them as to get anything unworthy—economy don't lie along that route. We are teaching men who wear good clothes, that high prices need not always be paid to get high values.

"Always Good at Gough's."

ONTARIO'S FARMERS.

The Work of Our Agricultural College.

TWENTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT.

Farmers' Sons of This Province Make Up Eighty Per Cent. of the Students—Theory and Practice Meet Together Ladies' Special Dairy Course.

Toronto, March 23.—The annual report of the Ontario Agricultural College and Experimental Farm for 1895 has just been issued. It is handsomely illustrated, and presents a number of fine photogravures of the college buildings and grounds, among the choicest being one giving an interior view of the conservatory, and another showing the students practising hybridization in the horticultural laboratory. Some well sketched engravings of leading grasses of Ontario are also given. The field of information covered by the report is wide.

A UNIQUE EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION.

In an interesting summary of the year's progress, President Mills proceeds to say:

"Our college is unique among the institutions which provide education for the people of this Province. It is the only educational institution in Ontario, excepting commercial schools and ladies' colleges, which has to rely wholly upon its merits. Students are legislated into our High schools, universities, theological halls, law school, medical schools, dental college, College of Pharmacy, and Veterinary College. If men and women were allowed to teach, preach and practise law, medicine, dentistry, pharmacy and the veterinary art without passing a prescribed examination the attendance of students at High schools, universities and most of our technical schools and colleges would be only a small fraction of what it is at the present time. Very few seek knowledge for its own sake.

"If we could secure the enactment of a law which would compel people to pass a prescribed literary and professional examination before engaging in general agriculture, stock raising, dairying, market gardening or fruit growing, it would require a score of agricultural colleges in this Province to accommodate the young men who would seek instruction in agriculture and the sciences related thereto. But, under present conditions, persons can engage in agricultural pursuits without any kind of preparation; and agricultural colleges, not having behind them the potent leverage of legal enactments, have to depend for their attendance solely upon the character of the education which they give, and upon the desire of young men here and there to obtain knowledge for its own sake, and for the possible advantage which it may be to them in their efforts to make a living. Under such circumstances, it is not surprising that the attendance of students at purely agricultural colleges is usually small.

A PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

"For some years we refused admission to all who were unable to pass our matriculation examination, which is the same as that fixed by law for entrance into the High schools of the Province; and, considering the number and character of our Public schools, we could see no reason why we should not do so. This course was simple and in many respects satisfactory; but it resulted in the admission of a large proportion of city boys and others who readily passed the required examination, but did little or nothing thereafter. This injured our reputation among the farmers and with other people, who were being constantly influenced by reports and stories about the character and conduct of our students. Hence we made the terms of admission somewhat easier. We admitted a number of farmers' sons who, from one cause or another, had grown up without being well grounded in the elementary branches of an English education. Some of these were very crude; but they knew the value of time—they worked hard, made rapid progress, and did much towards changing the entire character of our college life, so that, at the present time, we have as orderly and well behaved a lot of students as can be found in any part of the world. The change was very gratifying, but our troubles were not at an end, because we found great difficulty in teaching together students of such varied attainments—university undergraduates, second-class teachers, third-class teachers, some who had just passed the High school entrance examination, and others who had not been at school for five or six years. This difficulty continued from year to year, till in July last we decided to form a preparatory department and ask for an additional master to teach English, grammar, composition, arithmetic, drawing and one or two other branches. With such additional help, we can make a more satisfactory classification of our students, and shall be able to teach all grades to much better advantage."

SOMETHING ABOUT THE STUDENTS.

In 1895 the students attending the college numbered 250. Of these, 150 attended the general course, of whom 120—nearly all farmers' sons—were from Ontario, while 12 came from other provinces of the Dominion, and the remainder came from other countries, as follows: Bermuda 3, England 7, France 1, India 1, Ireland 1, Scotland 3, United States 2.

The special dairy course had 100 students attending, all but six being from Ontario. Among the dairy students were six ladies.

Forty-one counties and districts were represented in the general course, and 21 in the special dairy course.

Each county in the province is allowed to send one student free of tuition, and the nomination is made by the County Council. Of those on the roll for 1895, 45 were so nominated, and as a consequence were exempted from the payment of tuition fees. Ontario students not nominated by County Councils pay a tuition fee of $20 a year, and non-residents (from other provinces, Great Britain and elsewhere) pay a fee of $100 the first year, and $50 the second year. If a non-resident student has had a year's experience in practical work on a farm his tuition fee for the first year is $50.

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS.

The equipment of the institution has been improved during the year by the addition of three new buildings—a large and commodious experimental building, a special piggery for experimental feeding, and a dwelling house for the manager of the poultry department. The experimental building is worthy of the province and of the important lines of work investigated. It contains sixteen well arranged rooms—an office, an agricultural museum, three large work-rooms, a tool room, a dark room for photography, and six or seven basement rooms, all for the use of the experimental department; also an office and an agricultural laboratory for the Department of Agriculture; an office, a private laboratory, a work room and a students' laboratory for the Department of Bacteriology; a class room for practical instruction in live stock, and a lecture room for the use of the agriculturist, the bacteriologist and the professor of veterinary science.

Several alterations in the main college building were also made in 1895, with a view to securing an additional class room, and providing accommodation for the Superintendent of Farmers' Institutes. By these changes suitable quarters have been secured for the important department of institute work, and a large, nicely furnished class room provided for lectures and practical work in physics, and instruction in mechanics, hydrostatics, electricity, etc.

IMPORTANT INVESTIGATIONS.

Experiments of a practical character have been conducted in various departments, but our space admits of reference only to two or three. Prof. Panton has been giving special attention to vegetable histology and plant pathology, and makes suggestions of a most valuable nature in economic botany. His spraying calendar is worth a good deal to fruit growers.

In part IV., Prof. Shuttleworth, the college chemist, gives in detail the results of an elaborate series of experiments in the analysis of milk, whey and cheese, carried on by the help of four assistant chemists throughout the season, from April to December: (1) to determine the ratio of casein to fat in poor, medium and rich milk—to ascertain whether it varies as the fat varies or not; (2) to determine whether the fat in milk is the exact measure of its cheese-producing power, that is, whether the cheese made from poor, medium or rich milk, is exactly in proportion to the fat contained in the milk. Both these lines of investigation were pursued with great care and accuracy throughout the cheese-making season, for the purpose of assisting Prof. Dean and those associated with him in the Dairy Department in their efforts to find a just and satisfactory method of paying patrons for the milk supplied to cheese factories. Cheese were made from all kinds of milk and according to the best methods known in the country, the milk, whey and cheese were analyzed by the chemist and his assistants; the cheese were judged from time to time by recognized experts; and the results obtained from the year's work unquestionably justify the conclusions announced in 1894, viz., that some number representing the casein of milk should be added to the percentage of fat to get a strictly equitable basis of payment.

Prof. Shuttleworth has suggested an addend which varies somewhat according to the richness of the milk; but Prof. Dean favors the addition of two per cent. (a little less than the average percentage of casein in milk) to all percentages of fat. This, he maintains, is simple, and gives results which are practically correct and fair to all parties.

FIELD EXPERIMENTS.

It is claimed that the field experiments of the college are conducted upon a more extensive scale than at any other institution in the world. In 1895 grain experiments occupied 654 plots; potatoes 361, roots 376, fodder crops 369, and miscellaneous crops 32. These, with 70 additional plots used for experiments in connection with the Experimental Union, made a total of 2005 plots on the farm for these special purposes. Elaborate series of tests were made with all kinds of farm crops—variety tests, tests in the selection of seed, tests in the methods of preparing potatoes for planting, etc., also tests with various crops, by sowing at different dates, planting at different depths, cultivating in different ways, and harvesting at different stages of maturity. Likewise a number of experiments to test special fertilizers.

THE EXPERIMENTAL UNION.

The Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union has been in existence for 10 years. The union is composed of ex-students of the college and others, scattered over almost every county and district of the province, and who experiment with the same kinds of seeds, fertilizers, etc. The growth of experimental work, both in connection with the union and the college, may be seen from the following statement of three years out of the ten:

	Experimenters.	Col. Plots.
1891	203	1045
1895	1699	2006

A detailed account of the experimental work in 1895 of both the farm and the union is given in the report.

FRUIT EXPERIMENT STATIONS.

The system of fruit experiment stations, conducted in affiliation with the college, has been extended during the year, and valuable work is reported in connection therewith. The stations are located as follows:

(1) Southwest station, in the county of Essex, to test varieties of peaches and strawberries, especially peaches; (2) Niagara station, near St. Catharines, for tender fruits; (3) Wentworth station, at Winona, with grapes as a specialty; (4) Halton station, near Oakville, for small fruits; (5) Huron station, at Walkerton, for apples and other fruits suitable to that locality; (6) Georgian Bay station, near Thornbury, with plums as a specialty; (7) Simcoe station, at Craighurst, for hardy apples; (8) Eastern Central station, Whitby, for pears and apples; (9) Prince Edward station, for apples; (10) St. Lawrence station, near Maitland, Grenville County, for apples and other fruits suited to that locality. In addition to these 10 stations, there are two sub-stations, one in South Simcoe for gooseberries, and another at Burlington for strawberries.

VISITORS TO THE FARM.

The number of excursionists and others visiting the farm is very large, especially in the growing season. It is estimated that during the month of June last about 10,000 persons inspected the institution. This affords a fair measure of its popularity.

QUICK PUNISHMENT FOR A THIEF.

Sentence of Two Years Passed Three Hours After an Indiana Offence.

Jeffersonville, Ind., March 22.—Joseph Davis stole a bottle of wine this morning from the Fred Wunderlich Co. of New Albany. Ten minutes later he was arrested and pleaded guilty before Magistrate Richards. Information was then filed in the Floyd Circuit Court. Davis was arraigned again, pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Judge Hester to two years in the southern prison. By noon he was wearing stripes. The entire transaction, from the time of the theft to the conviction and sentence, took less than three hours. He is an ex-convict.

WHAT ENGLAND'S POSITION IS.

The War Office Declare That the Soudan Expedition Will be Only Reconnaissance in Force.

London, March 21.—The position of the British Government is, under official news from Paris, that France will either not oppose the first credit for £500,000 from the Egyptian funds for the expenses of the Soudan expedition, or will confine her opposition to a formal protest against the use of the money for this purpose. Russia will remain strictly neutral, and will give no support to France as against the expedition. Russia is even credited with viewing the British projects with some measure of good-will, as being likely to divert the whole energies in that direction, for Russian interests are not likely to be greatly concerned. The French Minister of Foreign Affairs clearly recognizes, though the French people do not know, that France is powerless to make an effective opposition. Russia has no vote in the Commission of the Egyptian Public Debt, while Great Britain holds two, France two, and Austria and Italy and Germany one each. A difference of opinion exists as to whether the statutes relating to the commission require a unanimous or a majority vote. In several instances decisions have been based on a majority vote, notably the grant of £250,000 for the abolition of the corvee, at which only France protested against the grant. At any rate, M. Berthelot, feeling himself powerless to prevent the expedition, has beaten a retreat.

The War Office officials here declare that the expedition will be only a reconnaissance in force, and will not admit that the present phase is anything beyond an initial step in an autumn campaign. The Army Intelligence Office publishes the most vague information regarding the strength of the Madhists. Military experts distrust the estimates made by Slatin Pasha, though, as a matter of fact, his long captivity among the Madhists should, on the face of this, have made him an authority on the subject. The experts consider that a report made by the Russian traveler, Elisieff, who was recently elected a member of the Russian Geographical Society, is more reliable than that of Slatin Pasha. He says that the Khalifa's force numbers 40,000 men, including 10,000 cavalry and camelry. They possess 100,000 rifles, of which 20,000 are Remingtons, really fit for service. The artillery is poor. There are 20 guns at Dongola and five Krupp and ten siege guns at Omdurman.

THREE CHILDREN BURNED.

Terrible Disaster at Danville, Que.—A Double Tenement House Destroyed at Midnight.

Danville, Que., March 22.—About midnight Saturday the double tenement house, property of H. W. Wilson, Water-street, and occupied by James Brady and T. R. Saffin, was completely destroyed by fire, only part of the family having time to escape from the burning building with their lives. Two daughters of James Brady, Maud, aged about 10 years, and Mirtle, aged about 13 years, and one son of T. R. Saffin, Freddie, aged about 10 years, perished in the flames. The wife of T. R. Saffin, being unconscious, was badly burned.

No Disappointment.

Disappointments of one kind and another crop up all along life's pathway, for unfortunately it is the unexpected that always happens. There is at least one article of acknowledged merit that never disappoints. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is sure to remove the worst corns in a few days, and as no claim is made that it will cure anything else, it cannot disappoint. If you have hard or soft corns just try it. Beware of the article "just as good." N. C. Polson & Co., proprietors, Kingston.

REPUTATION REPRESENTS REALIABILITY

Let some one produce an article of reputation representing merit and proven to be reliable, and how soon do we find imitations. The people thereby are at a loss to know when they are getting the genuine. Our people (The W. E. Sanford M'f'g. Co.) have obviated the possibility of being deceived by placing their goods before the public themselves direct from the warehouse. Handling nothing but their own make leaves no room for a possible chance of trying to palm off any inferior article at a greater financial gain. Buy of the manufacturers.

Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, MARCH 23, 1896.

THE Mail and Empire in its analysis of the Remedial Bill vote, says that that had the fate of the Government depended upon Ontario and Quebec it would have been defeated. Quebec cast a majority of three votes in favour of the bill and Ontario a majority of seventeen against. This hardly agrees with the Mail's other statement that the Government "emerges in good shape" from the crisis. If it is "good shape" to have the first, the largest and most progressive province against its policy, the Government may claim that it is in "good shape." It is an index of the cyclone that will strike the Government at the general elections.

EIGHTEEN!

Ottawa Free Press.

The long and tedious debate on the Remedial Bill has come to an end and the statesmanlike suggestion of Mr. Laurier that the bill should be thrown out, so as to afford an opportunity for investigation into the facts and conditions of the question, rejected by the House. That this was expected need not be said, but there are few who will be disposed to deny that the Government has come out of the ordeal morally defeated. Its usual powerful majority has dwindled down to eighteen on the second reading, and it stands humiliated and degraded in the public estimation. It has received an unmistakeable proof of its shaky condition, and if a spark of decency remains alight in the bosoms of the Cabinet Ministers they will surely dissolve Parliament at once and give the people an opportunity of expressing themselves. Thanks to the good offices of Sir Donald Smith, the school question bids fair to be placed in the position Mr. Laurier has contended it should have occupied from the first, and examination and discussion may bring about some settlement. The Remedial Bill cannot proceed beyond its present stage, and there is very little time for any pratical work to be done in Parliament. The present Parliament is moribund, does not represent the public, and dissolution is imperatively called for. Public opinion throughout the country is strongly evidenced against the continuance of Tory rule, and the division this morning afforded the abundant proof of the shattered condition of the government ranks in Parliament. There is no possible justification for keeping the country in its present condition of suspense. The Government is doing great injury by its course. It is impeding business and producing a species of public paralysis. There is, of course, no spark of honesty about it, or it would for very shame's sake go to the country at once.

BRITAIN AND THE SOUDAN.

(New York Times.)

If the English Government shall determine upon a serious forward movement in what was a dozen years ago the Egyptian Soudan, it will be difficult to explain its motives satisfactorily to the average Englishman, unless the government is in possession of facts quite unknown to the press. If the movement is to be anything more than defensive in its purpose, it will arouse a good deal of bad feeling in quarters where the government has recently seemed to be seeking quite the opposite. But it may well be, on the one hand, that the movement will be carried just far enough to relieve in some degree the situation of the Italians, which would be an intelligible object. On the other hand, it may be the purpose of Lord Salisbury's Government to reply in this way to the request which it is now certain the Sultan has made that England shall 'regularize' her position in Egypt. That request from that source is nothing less than insulting, and was probably intended to be so. The Sultan having just succeeded in balking the plans of Great Britain for the rescue of the Armenians, and having, in the controversy over that subject, been pretty roughly handled by Lord Salisbury, finds a certain satisfaction in pressing the Egyptian question, which, in one sense, is a source of weakness for Great Britain. But unless France is behind the Sultan's request, which is not probable, Lord Salisbury need be at no loss what reply to make. He may even choose to reply by ordering the Egyptian army, with a British contingent, to make a demonstration toward the Soudan, which would be about as complete a denial of any substantial sovereignty to the Sultan in Egypt as could be imagined. It is quite possible that the relation of England to the Nile country may be changed in the near future. It is anomalous and irregular, the source of a good deal of care and responsibility, and the English Government may well desire to modify it. But there will be no return to Turkish supremacy and no approach to it. Water will run up hill before any country rescued from the clutches of the Turk will again be thrown to him. The work that England has done in Egypt has been extraordinary and beneficent, and it will be lasting. Whatever else may happen, it will not be allowed to go for nothing.

Attractive Women.

Why is one women attractive and another not? The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks and her vivacity. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Some are born with what is called "constitutional weakness." Those who do not enjoy perfect health, need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism.

OTONABEE.

Council Meeting.

Wm. Dwyer was present, making application to have the 16th concession line opened from the Keene road, south to the marsh. Left over to next meeting. John H. Fife applied on behalf of the trustees of the Fife cemetery to re-purchase a lot in the said cemetery which the Council bought in 1883 to bury indigents. On motion of Messrs. Johnston and Weir it was sold to the Trustees for $3, same amount as was paid for it. A communication was received from J. B. Pearse in reply to that of the Clerk, re the ownership of the road bed of the old Cobourg and Peterborough Railway, that the G. T. R. took a conveyance of it at the time they purchased the railway from Cobourg to Harwood. The Clerk was instructed to make further enquiry into this matter. Ormiston Stewart was present, making application to have his and his brother Fred's statute labour commuted to repair the road through the east half of lot 15, con. 17. Left over to next meeting. Councillor Weir reported that he had sold the following lots of wood on road allowances under the following conditions:—To be paid before cutting and parties purchasing on 9th line between lot 6 and Indian Reserve have to the 1st of May, 1896, for cutting and removal. Sold on the above 9th line: No. 1, Geo. Howson, $12.00; No. 2, John H. McIntyre, $4.00; No. 3, James McDonald, $4.50; and on the Base Line, to have to the 2nd of March, 1897, for cutting and removal, lot No. 1, G. B. Cooney, $1.00; No. 2, Wm. Drummond, $3.25; No. 3, G. B. Cooney, $1.50; No. 4, not being sure of the line it was sold by the yard to W. Drummond for 70c. per yard, he to locate the line. No. 5, J. M. Drummond, two basswood trees 65c.; No. 5. Jas. Rutherford, $4.10. On motion of Messrs. Weir and Lancaster the north half of lot 17 and all of 18, in the 10th con., west half 18, north-east quarter 18 in the 9th con., and the allowance for road between lots 17 to the base line was detached from road division No. 49 and the south-east quarter of lot 19 in the 9th con. was detached from road division No. 69, and all the above lots formed into a new division (No. 85), and that the east half of lots 28, 29, 30 and 31 in the 2nd con. and west half lots 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31 in the 1st con. was detached from road divisions No. 4, 5, 6 and 42 and formed into a new division (No. 86). On motion of Messrs. Weir and Johnston the following accounts were passed:—Richard Hope, 1½ cords of wood for Jas. Metcalf, $2.25; Alex. Gillespie, two cords of wood for the town hall, $5.00; Jas. McNeil, provisions for Jas. Metcalf, $7.50; nails for Cooney's railing, 70c.; County Treasurer, $28.90, for interest on overdue county rates from 1878 to 1896; W. T. Mather, pole for wheeled scraper, $1.25.

The following officers were appointed. In the regrettable absence of Councillor Deyell through sickness, the 1895 pathmasters in his division were re-appointed. Pathmasters—John Walker, Alex. Wood, jr., David West, Thos. Cavanagh, James Collins, John Brown, Gavin Shearer, John Hope, jr., David Laurie, Henry Crane, R. McFarlane, S. Sargent, R. A. Deyell, Thos. Blezard, Jas. Hanlon, Zac Burnham. The council in discussing the propriety of laying out large sums of money on the roads under one or two overseers, instead of small sums by the pathmasters, agreed to lay out about $1,000 among the five divisions and to employ two foremen for the township to oversee it, each foreman have a permanent leading team hiring the remainder of his gang if possible near his work. Council adjourned to the 20th of April.

THE PIONEER

A SIMCOE COUNTY MAN WHO HAS AN INTERESTING HISTORY.

At 263 McCaul st., in this city, lives Mr. Samuel Kilgore, a vigorous specimen of those sturdy pioneers to whom the rapid development of this Province is mainly due. Mr. Kilgore relates, with pride, how he cleared the land on which Judge Gowan (now Senator Gowan), had his house built, and how himself and that honorable gentleman together laid the corner stone and deposited a box with various coins, etc., within the corner stone at the time. With his own hands also he cleared the land on which stands the Barrie High School, which numbers among its ex-pupils such names as Wm. Lount, Q.C., and D'Alton McCarthy, Q.C. Mr. Kilgore has served as reeve and councillor also in the township, and his sterling integrity and sound judgment give great force to his words. A few words from him will be sure to be of interest. Mr. Kilgore says:

"The dull aching pains around my loins and in the small of my back indicated to me several years ago that my kidneys were affected. I had to get up frequently at night and my rest was broken accordingly. I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Gilpin's drug store some time ago, and they did wonders for me. They gave me relief almost immediately. The annoying pains around my back fled. The trouble in urinating was felt no more. My stomach, though foul, became sweet, and my whole system became so regulated that I looked back, with pleasure, to my boyhood days when pains and aches were unknown to me. I am now over seventy-three years of age, and Doan's Kidney Pills are the most wonderful medicine I ever took. After having given them a fair trial I can heartily recommend them to any one with kidney or stomach troubles."

The Dervishes Won't Give Up Their Granaries

IN THE FINE DONGOLA PROVINCE

The Richest Province of the Upper Nile—The Soudan Question Caused the First Real Debate in the Imperial House This Session—Cable Gossip.

New York, March 22.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford cables from London to The Sunday Tribune:

The new Egyptian complications are not a plague of darkness. The Ministers are not anxious to conceal their secret policies. Mr. Curzon seems to have borrowed from Mr. Chamberlain the idea of a Blue Book exposed to public view. He answers questions without hesitation, and even reads despatches from Lord Cromer, the contents of which Lord Salisbury declines to reveal. Whether the advance toward Dongola be a diversion in behalf of the Italian garrison at Kassala or a defensive measure against the descent of the Dervishes upon Lower Egypt, it has already served two purposes—it has silenced all talk on the continent about an immediate English withdrawal from Egypt, and it has sounded public opinion respecting the reconquest of the Soudan.

While the ulterior purposes of the Government are not disclosed, it is assumed by the press of all shades of opinion that Lord Cromer, who was responsible for the evacuation of the Soudan, now perceives his mistake and desires to rectify it by a complete reversal of a policy which began with a massacre and ended in the relapse of the Upper Nile countries into barbarism. The Ministers content themselves with discussing the facts in plain sight and leaving the future of the Soudan to take care of itself. They assert that the expedition is ordered to go only a third of the way to Dongola, and justify the display of force on the ground of the activity of the Dervishes and the dangers of the Italian position; but everyone knows that Wady Halfa is a more scientific frontier than Dongola, and that the advance of the Egyptian troops will be regarded by the Dervishes as the first step towards Khartoum. Dongola is the richest province of the Upper Nile. It is the granary from which the Dervishes draw their food supply.

They are not likely to abandon it without a hard fight, and the question is anxiously discussed in military circles whether the Egyptian troops, which were panic-stricken under Hicks Pasha and Baker Pasha, can now be trusted. The Soudanese in the Egyptian service are good soldiers, but the bulk of the expeditionary force will be made up of troops naturally timorous and unsteady. Military critics unite in warning the Government that the supporting column of British regulars must be a strong one. The employment of the smaller of the two reserve funds of the Egyptian debt is already sanctioned by a majority of the six powers forming the "Caisse." France protests, and Russia will probably join her. Unanimous consent would have been requisite if the money had been asked as a direct gift, but a majority can authorise the temporary use of a portion of the reserve. Money will be borrowed under guarantees of repayment, with interest charges.

Russia and France are powerless to prevent this temporary act of financial accommodation. Besides, even in Paris there is a struggle between lust of dividends and love of resentment and jealousy. The bondholders there are satisfied with the results of the English financial administration of Egypt, and are strongly disposed to second any proposals from London. In Berlin, Vienna, Rome and St. Petersburg bankers are on the side of the English Government, and their influence is decisive whenever diplomatic questions are raised.

The French Government, meanwhile, have a score to settle with the Deputies. Although M. Berthelot probably did not mean to have his protest against the employment of the reserve fund taken literally, he will have to convince a hostile Chamber that he has done everything possible to uphold the dignity of the nation. The position of the Bourgeois Government is insecure. Its downfall on a foreign question would enable the opponents of the income taxation to defeat a policy unpopular with the rich and middle classes without challenging the Premier to bring on a general election with a definite Radical program.

The Soudan question has produced the first real debate in the English Commons in the present session. The Opposition hitherto has wisely refrained from forcing divisions on minor questions and revealing the weakness of the minority. The march to Dongola involved the reversal of the Soudan policy of the Gladstone Government and could not pass without a challenge. Mr. Morley, as the most loyal supporter of Mr. Gladstone, virtually moved a vote of censure, making a vigorous protest against a policy which might involve the reconquest of the Soudan. Mr. Chamberlain replied in a speech with splendid debating power, which fairly set the Unionists aflame with enthusiasm. While it was no logical answer to Mr. Morley's argument, which excluded the question of the evacuation of Egypt, it was a speech luminous with common sense and appealed strongly to English pride.

Certainly whatever may be said of the original invasion and the pledges given for their ultimate retirement, the English have done their work well in Egypt. Mr. Chamberlain was justified in glorying over the reformed administration of that country as a triumph of English genius bringing order out of chaos. Mr. Labouchere was hardly fair in charging Mr. Chamberlain with defying Europe, but was logical and effective in forecasting an advance from Dongola to Khartoum and the sources of the Nile. Mr. Stanley favored the reconquest of the Soudan on the singular ground that it would lead to the independence of Egypt through a complete overthrow of the Mahdist power; nor was this a bad argument, since the Egyptians, if able to subjugate the Mahdists, would vindicate their right to govern themselves.

Mr. Curzon was followed by Sir William Harcourt, who made dexterous use of a weak point in the Colonial Secretary's speech, namely, that the distance traversed by the expedition would depend upon the resistance met. That was not a happy way of stating the case, and Sir. W. Harcourt ridiculed it as un-English. Mr. Balfour closed the debate with a veiled reference to the belated Wolseley expedition, declaring that wherever the column went, there would be no retreat, and that whatever was gained for Egypt would be hers forever. The vote of censure was defeated two to one; only one Unionist, Mr. Courtney, voted with the Opposition, while one Liberal abstained. It was virtually a straight party division. The Government now have a free hand to do whatever they choose, but the Liberals have been consistent in condemning in advance a reversal of their own policy.

A series of Government measures has been introduced, including the London Water Bill, which creates a new board for arranging a scheme to purchase the rights of the eight companies, and thereby curtails the privileges of the County Council. The moderates of that body are not disposed to welcome this measure. Another measure aims to reform the Companies Act and to regulate the operations of promoters, whose activity has startled the business world during the recent Kaffir excitement. It is not a stringent measure, but limits the scandal of going to allotment on a fraction of nominal capital, and provides that all contracts shall be set forth in the prospectus. Dishonest promoters of stock companies will be hampered by the amended law, but directors will not be held responsible to shareholders, and many loopholes for trickery will remain, especially for misrepresenting assets and capital.

The Education Bill is promised before the Easter recess. It will be a smaller and weaker measure than has been anticipated. The Cabinet have been divided on the subject, and a compromise will hardly satisfy the friends of voluntary schools.

The most fantastic debate of the week has been drawn out by a private bill introduced in the interest of farmers. It aims to compel the vendors of meat and cheese to mark and label their goods when imported from the colonies or foreign countries. Mr. Bryce and other Liberals condemned the proposal as a subtle form of protection, and scoffed at the idea that consumers would pay more for meat or cheese if they knew that they were buying English products. The reply made is that it is not a question of protecting the farmers, but of promoting commercial morality, since the consumer ought to know when he gets the roast beef of Old England or a real Southdown mutton chop. The bill is not likely to emerge from the committee. Mr. Chamberlain is not prepared to meet protests from New Zealand and Australia if colonial joints and cutlets are labelled as inferior goods. The argument, based on morality, if extended to cigars, would prevent the sale of Brazilian, Indian and Mexican goods as pure Havanas, and ruin the tobacco trade.

Lord Salisbury, who has never seemed to regard the caucus as the model institution of America or elsewhere, has paid homage to Capt. Middleton's political ability in presenting him with a cheque for £10,000, contributed by Unionist admirers. He would not consent to regard Capt. Middleton as a wirepuller, but referred to him with refined euphemism as a political organizer. The Liberals, meanwhile, not having ten thousand pound cheques to distribute, are preparing to settle or compromise their reorganization troubles at the Huddersfield conference. Probably Mr. Labouchere, Sir Charles Dilke and Mr. Stanhope will stay away, and everything will be harmonious when Lord Rosebery has made a humorous speech.

Richmond, March 16th, (Special)—The talk of farmers and others in town is mostly about the astonishing cure of Wm. McCord, a farmer near here. His presence made assurance visible, and he said—"After the doctors pronounced by disease Diabetes no one thought recovery possible. I was partially paralyzed, was nine months in bed, and I ran down until I was a mere shell. When I commenced taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I stuck close to directions. One box helped me, and nine boxes cured me. Am sixty years old, and have lived here forty years." Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and dealers. Price 50 cents a box.

Painter Richmond Dead.

London, March 20.—George Richmond, a well known portrait painter, died in this city yesterday.

George Richmond, Hon. R.A., D.C.L., LL.D., was the son of an artist and was born in 1802. He early began the study of art, and in 1837 he went to Italy, where he spent two years. In 1847 he was appointed by Mr. Gladstone a member of the Council of the Government schools of design. The portraits executed by him number between 2000 and 3000—hundreds of which have been engraved.

Disbanding the Turkish Reserves.

Constantinople, March 20.—An irade has been issued disbanding the reserves, who, owing to the recent troubles, were summoned to serve with the colors.

To Fight the Mahdists.

Rome, March 20.—A despatch to The Tribuna, from Massowah, states that Gen Baldissera, the Italian commander in Africa, ahs sent two battalions of infantry and a battery of artillery to Keren to operate against the Mahdists.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness, nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Not one in a thousand does do it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them innutritious matter and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

Look at the $10 dinner sets at China Hall if you want the bargain of your lifetime. A few of them are displayed in the Simcoe street show windows and it is worth your while looking at them. Appreciated Everywhere.

The Globe of Friday in its report of the meeting of the Anglican Sunday School Association of Toronto, thus refers to the address of Rev. H. Symonds,—"This was followed by the reading of an exceedingly interesting paper by Rev. Herbert Symonds, M. A., of Ashburnham, entitled "Introductory Lecture on the Study of the Bible." He dwelt largely on the subject of faith, showing that until a man had held personal communion with God his faith was merely potential and not actual. The reverend gentleman was accorded a hearty vote of thanks at the close of his remarks."

Under the Hammer.

Last Friday the dry goods stock of Messrs. Armstrong & Co., George street, next to the Toronto Bank, was put up for sale en bloc and knocked down to Mr. James McComb, our enterprising glove merchant, who secured the stock at fifty cents on the dollar. Stock-taking is in progress for a few days during which time the store will be closed, but on Saturday morning, March 28th, it will be opened with a big reduction sale. The entire stock will then be offered to the public at the lowest retail prices for cash. It consists of general lines of staple dry goods, dress goods, tweeds, cottons, linens, hosiery, gloves, laces, shawls, etc., which must be sold immediately without reserve. 1dw

The Hyslop Bicycle.

Samples of this leading high class wheel, which has been the subject of so much favourable comment around town for the past two weeks, have just arrived, and may be seen at the hardware store of Messrs. Kingan & Allan, hardware merchants. The manufacturers have advised their local agents that the remarkable demand which has already sprang up for their 1896 wheels has made it difficult to keep sufficient stock on hand to fill early orders. Those, therefore, contemplating buying a Hyslop are advised to file their orders without delay. Messrs. Kingan & Allan are also sole agents for another high grade wheel—the Welland Vale—of St. Catharines, which is scoring many favourites this year. dtf

WEDDED IN TORONTO.

Nuptials of Miss Minnie Hay and Mr J. S. Snider.

A despatch from Toronto announces the marriage in that city of Mr. James Snider, assistant Collector of Customs, and Miss Minnie Hay, both of Peterborough. It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Snider will spend a few days in the west before returning home.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Hattie Martin and Mr. Alex. Mahood.

On Tuesday, March 10th, the residence of Mr. Wm. Martin, of Cavan, was the scene of a very pleasing and happy event, being the marriage of his only daughter Miss Hattie, to Mr. Alex. Mahood, eldest son of Mr. Edward Mahood, of Smith.

At 7.30 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlour to the stirring notes of the wedding march. The bride was given away by her father, and the Ven. Archdeacon Allan, of Millbrook, soon made the happy couple one.

The bride was tastefully attired in cream crepon, trimmed with lace and ribbon, and carried white roses whilst her bridesmaid, Miss Sarah Mahood, sister of the groom, was dressed in cream nun's veiling, trimmed with pink, and carried pink roses. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Wallace Martin, brother of the bride.

About sixty guests then partook of a sumptuous wedding repast, after which the evening was enjoyably spent—music, games and dancing being features of the evening.

The esteem in which the bride is held was shown by the many beautiful and useful presents she received. The good wishes of their many friends follow Mr. and Mrs. Mahood to their future home in Smith, near Peterborough.

THE PRESENTATION TO MR. F. J. LEWIS.

AN EXPRESSION OF ESTEEM FROM THE BUSINESS MEN.

The Customers of the Bank Also Make a Presentation and Address on Saturday Afternoon at the Bank—Sincere Regrets expressed at the Departure.

On Saturday afternoon a number of the representative professional and business men of the town, assembled at the Bank of Montreal, for the purpose of voicing their sentiments regarding the departure of Mr. F. J. Lewis, the manager, to the head offices of the Bank in Montreal. Amongst those present were Messrs. W. Cluxton, Col. Rogers, Wm. Manson, W. D. Parker, Hampden Burnham, E. H. D. Hall, L. M. Hayes and E. A. Peck.

Mr. W. Cluxton was called upon to state to Mr. Lewis the reason of the invasion of his office. He stated, that he had much pleasure in being present to contribute his quota of respect to Mr. Lewis. He explained that the object of the gathering was to make a presentation to the Manager, on behalf of the customers of the bank and the citizens generally, on the occasion of his leaving town with his family to take up his residence in Montreal. Speaking for himself, Mr. Cluxton stated that for the last ten years he had transacted a large banking business through the local branch of the Bank of Montreal and therefore had frequent intercourse with Mr. Lewis, as the manager, and could say that intercourse, lasting over ten years, had been one of great pleasure to him. Mr. Lewis had built up a large business for the bank on account of being possessed of the faculty of seeing into a business transaction and grasping its points at once and giving his decision concerning it without delay. He sympathised with Mr. Lewis in his affliction from the bottom of his heart, but was glad indeed to say that he was on the fair way to recovery. He had no doubt that the subject of his remarks would prosper in his new position at the head office and he wished him all success.

On behalf of the citizens and of the bank customers, Col. Rogers read the following addresses, at the same time presenting Mr. Lewis with a most handsome, white, Mexican onyx, gold mounted mantle time-piece and a very elegant travelling bag:

To F. J. Lewis, Esq., Manager Bank of Montreal, Peterborough:—

DEAR SIR,—The citizens of Peterborough desire to express to you their deep regret that you are about to remove from amongst them. During the twenty-two years of your residence in Peterborough you have won general respect and esteem and the news of your impending departure has elicited every mark of consideration and regard.

You have always taken an active interest in public matters affecting the welfare and progress of the town, and the citizens are indebted to you for many acts of gratuitous labour in connection with the Public Library, the Horticultural Society and kindred institutions, to which you were ever ready to give your time and attention.

Your kind and courteous bearing has endeared you to all and the regret at your departure is both general and sincere.

Signed on behalf of the citizens,

WM. YELLAND, Mayor.
C. A. WELLER, County Court Judge
W. MANSON, Manager of the Bank of Commerce.
B. SHORTLY, President of the Board of Trade.
P. CAMPBELL, Manager of the Bank of Toronto.
JAMES A. HALL, Sheriff of the County of Peterborough.
E. PEARCE, Treasurer.
B. MORROW, Registrar.
GEO. BURNHAM, M.D., Chairman of School Board, President of Public Library and Horticultural Society
W. D. PARKER, Manager of Ontario Bank.

March 21st, 1896.

To F. J. Lewis, Esq., Manager Bank of Montreal, Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—The customers of the Bank of Montreal have learned with regret that you are about to remove from Peterborough and thus sever a business connection between yourself and them that has always been of a most satisfactory and agreeable nature. You have for over twenty-two years managed the the affairs of your bank here, and during that time have won and still retain the respect and esteem, not only of those with whom you have come more immediately into contact in your capacity as manager of the bank, but of the citizens generally. They have found you a most capable and upright man of business and a sincere and trustworthy friend and adviser, and in your new sphere of usefulness they wish you a prosperous and happy life and trust that you may look back upon your long residence in Peterborough with feelings of pleasure and satisfaction.

Signed on behalf of the customers of the bank,

W. CLUXTON, J. R. STRATTON, M.P.P. HALL & HAYES, CENTRAL BRIDGE AND ENG. CO., THE GEO. MATTHEWS CO. (LT'D), H. S. MACDONALD, R. P. BOUCHER, M.D., H. C. ROGERS, V. CLEMENTI, B.A., DENNISTOUN, PECK & STEVENSON, W. H. CLUXTON, E. B. EDWARDS, J. T. I. HALLIDAY, M.D., DUMBLE & JOHNSTON, T. FITZGERALD, W. H. HILL.

Although Mr. Lewis might have had a suspicion of what was in the wind when he was summoned to his office, yet the warm expressions of esteem which were contained in the terms of the addresses moved him to such an extent as to prevent him being able to frame a reply for some minutes. The present occasion, he assured those present, was one of those times in which the eloquence of a Demosthenes was needed to express the feelings, but all that he felt able to do was to tender his most sincere thanks and express his regret at having to leave a town with which he had been so long and so pleasantly associated—a town in which his children had been born and his parents buried. He would always have a soft spot in his heart for Peterborough. He felt inexpressibly flattered by the beautiful gifts and the kindly feeling which prompted them and he was sure his family would treasure them with pride and pleasure.

Mr. Wm. Manson, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Commerce, stated that he was present with mixed feelings of pleasure and regret—pleasure occasioned by hearing of Mr. Lewis improved health, and regret at learning of his pending removal from the town. Speaking as a bank manager, he had much pleasure in testifying to the honourable manner in which the business of the Bank of Montreal had been carried on under the management of Mr. Lewis. Never had he lowered himself or the great institution to which he belonged by any underhand dealing. He had always been most honourable and upright in his business transactions. Mr. Manson had witnessed the departure of many from town, but of these none had left behind a more honourable record than Mr. Lewis. He sincerely hoped for Mr. Lewis' speedy restoration to his usual robust health.

Mr. W. D. Parker, manager of the local branch of the Ontario Bank, expressed himself as being glad to have an opportunity of endorsing Mr. Manson's remarks. The relations between the institution which he represented and the Bank of Montreal had always been most agreeable. He had found in Mr. Lewis an unfailing friend when he wished advice or a favour, such as one banking man can confer on another. He would consider it a great pleasure to be able to call upon Mr. Lewis and his family when in Montreal, and hoped that Mr. Lewis would find it not only in heart but in his power to often take a run up to Peterborough. (Hear! hear!) Mr. Hampden Burnham witnessed Mr. Lewis' departure with many regrets, as he did also the departure of his family, whose absence would be sincerely mourned in the social circle, where they were so much esteemed. The previous speakers had dwelt on the loss the town would sustain in a commercial sense by the departure of Mr. He wished to state that Mr. Lewis would be greatly missed on the field of athletic sport, where he had always been a most welcome visitor.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall felt it was hardly necessary to say, that he most heartily regretted the fact of Mr. Lewis' pending departure. In his intercourse with Mr. Lewis, he had always found him a high-minded business man. Nothing had been done under his management incompatible with an honourable record. He hoped that his new position would not only be agreeable but profitable as well. He was much pleased to learn of Mr. Lewis' improvement in health and hoped it would continue.

Mr. L. M. Hayes joined most heartily in the general expression of regret at Mr. Lewis' departure, which was felt by the entire town. He expressed the hope that Mr. Lewis would take occasion to soon revisit Peterborough.

Mr. E. A. Peck added his regrets to those previously expressed. He had known Mr. Lewis for years and was indebted to him for many kindnesses and much good advice. He was glad to hear that his health had returned and trusted that for many years yet he would live to listen to the ticking of the clock as a constant reminder of the many warm friends he had left behind him in Peterborough.

The addresses which were presented to Mr. Lewis were handsomely engrossed by Mr. Pringle, of the Peterborough Business College, and the clock was purchased from Messrs. Clark & Gibson; whilst the engraving on it was the work of Mr. Ingram.

[THE EXAMINER has much pleasure in adding its tribute to the high character possessed by Mr. Lewis. During a long business connection with the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, the kindness and courtesy of Mr. Lewis, both in a business and personal capacity, have been many times pleasantly experienced. To a faithful discharge of the duties of citizenship in all its relations, he has added a courtesy and consideration to the customers of the bank, which have engendered a popularity and esteem that render his departure from the town a source of general regret.

Mr. Jacob Wilcox of St. Thomas, Ontario, is one of the best known men in that vicinity. He is now, he says, an old man, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has made him feel young again.

"About a year ago I had a very severe attack of the grip, which resulted in my not having a well day for several months afterwards. I was completely run down and my system was in a Terrible Condition.

I lost flesh and became depressed in spirits. Finally a friend who had been benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla advised me to try it and I did so. I continued taking it until I used twelve bottles and today I can honestly say Hood's Sarsaparilla has restored me to my former health." JACOB WILCOX, St. Thomas, Ontario.

NEW SPRING BABY CARRIAGES.

Dozens of styles at a modest price. Some tasty and neat—more handsome and stylish. The prices match. See our stock before placing the baby on wheels.

Besides the baby's health demands a Baby Carriage, after being housed all winter. It will do the parents credit and the baby justice to have a neat, well upholstered Baby Cab to roll along in the procession under the bright Easter day sun.

So much the more does a new and handsome Carriage become imperative if the baby is a new one. The old one (that is the old Carriage) is shabby and persists in running crooked. If we could start life over again every one of us would insist on riding in a Baby Carriage and a new one at that.

Prices are away below values—forty different styles—$5.00 to $20.00.

Trains on Time.

The blockade on the railways has been raised and all the trains are again running on schedule time. On Sunday morning at 9 o'clock the C.P.R. took a train load of passengers west but they got no farther than Myrtle, where the snow kept them until evening. Fortunately the train was provisioned for such an emergency. The fast train from the west pulled into Peterborough at about midnight.

A Cordial Invitation

Is extended to the ladies of Peterborough to inspect the gorgeous display of London and Parisian trimmed hats and pattern bonnets, millinery trimmings, ornaments and artistic novelties which will be the leading features at Robert Hall's millinery opening, to take place on Wednesday, March 25th, and following days of the week. The imported mantles and capes to be shown are all this year's newest styles, and will prove to be the most select and exclusive in every respect. 3d

Miss Rudkins has also received from New York a number of handsomely coloured fashion plates depicting the newest dress costumes, hats and parasols, trimmings, etc., in vogue this season. An inspection of these plates by the ladies will reveal a richness of the new and wonderful silky colour combinations which are produced in the dress fabrics of the day, as well as the pronounced changes in the styles of dressmaking, millinery, parasols, etc. 3d

A Musical Treat.

There is great interest aroused in social and musical circles here over the approaching concert of Miss Beverley Robinson and her company of distinguished artists in the Bradburn Opera House, on Friday, the 27th inst. Local history is recalled by Miss Robinson's visit, as it was Peter Robinson, a great uncle of hers, a brother of the notable Chief Justice of Ontario, who was one of the founders of Peterborough and from whom the city takes its name. Miss Robinson is herself the youngest daughter of Hon. John Beverley Robinson, ex-Lieutenant Governor of Ontario. She is one of the artists best known to society in London, England, where her services are in great demand during the London season, for which she returns shortly. She will be assisted by Miss Evelyn de Latre Street, solo violinist, daughter of the Hon. Mr. Justice Street, who lately toured America with the celebrated Damrosch orchestra, and Miss Ada E. S. Hart, who has recently returned from a stay in Germany of several years duration, and whose talent with the piano has aroused great enthusiasm among her Toronto audiences. The male soloist is Walter H. Robinson, whose splendid voice is well known, and who shares with Harold Jarvis the honour of Canada's leading tenor. Don't miss this treat. Tickets now on sale.

FROM THE NORTH.

How Lumbering is now Carried on in the Back Townships.

Among those who have returned home from a winter in the lumber camps of the far north, is Mr. John Reid, of Bobcaygeon, who is hale and hearty, and entirely satisfied with his winter's work. Mr. Reid was engaged with the Irwin-Chapman Lumber Co., Mr. Irwin being popularly known in this district as "Big Bill," and is now one of the leading lumbermen of the northern regions. The firm had twelve camps this winter on the Wahnapitae river, thirty miles below Wahnapitae, and towards the French river. Each camp had from 100 to 150 men, and the farthest away from the "Dump" on the river bank was about eight miles distant. From this camp was the main ice road, a road which received as much attention as a rink. 20 men were employed keeping it swept like a city street, a steel snow plow went over it every afternoon that kept the centre ridge cut down, and the road level and smooth, and every night four large sprinkling tanks were employed making ice. This was the main artery of the operations, on which was drawn a steady stream of logs from New Year's until last week. On the branch roads to the various camps, two or three extra teams were put on the sleighs, but on the main ice road, one team took a load of from 20 to 75 logs. The sleighs are of special width, and the neck yokes and double trees are a foot longer than the ordinary length. It had been the intention to carry a steam hauler of sleighs, but as it was not ready in time, it was not considered advisable afterwards to let it break up the road. Mr. Reid drove a team, and had a sleigh that was built for the steam hauler, which with its outfit of chains weighed 3,300 lbs, not a half bad load in itself. Mr. Reid was in camp at the terminus of the road, and as each team had to make 2 trips a day it was necessary for the teamsters in the two last camps to get up at midnight. He generally completed his two trips by four o'clock, and then retired. The firm had 60 teams of their own, the heaviest and finest lot of horses Mr. Reid ever saw. Some of them weighed as much as 1800 lbs., and on the main road 100 of these great teams were almost constantly travelling. At the dump the road ran along the river bank, which sloped up 40 or 50 feet from the water, and was long enough to allow nearly the whole hundred teams to unload at once, the road then formed a loop joining the main line about half a mile from the river. Twenty men were employed at the dump. It was understood that 100,000,000 feet of logs were rolled off into the river.

From the dump to Georgian Bay, where the logs are boomed for towing to Bay City, the 'driving' occupies some 26 or 28 days, and Mr. Irwin will be in this neighborhood within the next week for two to hire good river men.

The steam hauler was to be put on the road, for experimental purposes, the day Mr. Reid left. It is a large machine like a box car, with powerful engine, having bob-runners fore and aft. A large cogged wheel the width of the machine is in the middle and this pressed into the road moves it along and is expected to draw a train of 10 sleighs. The success of the machine is much to be doubted.

Mr. Reid speaks in the highest terms of the firm, and the manner in which they treat their men. The camps are comfortable, the food excellent, the wages ran from $18 to $26 a month. The prices for goods from the van were the same as are charged at Wahnapitae. He did not hear of any sickness in the camps, and only one accident occurred. Messrs. Irwin and Chapman, both practical men, gave the operations their constant personal supervision. Men wishing to send money home obtained it whenever they required it. At the break-up all men were paid off by the cashier at Wahnapitae, and of fifty men who were paid whilst Mr Reid was waiting in the office the lowest amount drawn was $35 and the highest $160. This was beside what they had received from the van. The men employed might be said to be entirely from Ontario Most of them are engaged by reliable agents, no agreements are signed, the engagements of the agents are strictly and honourably observed.

When Mr. Reid left Wahnapitae on Friday evening they loaded four cars with sixteen horses each. They arrived at Orillia Sunday evening, and from there he drove the team, arriving home on Tuesday. —Lindsay Post.

A CAREER OF CRIME.

The Young Lindsay Murder Suspect Has Been on the Downward Path for Some Time.

The Lindsay Post publishes the following particulars concerning the early career in crime of young Carney, who is now under arrest on the charge of murder:—

"James Carney, the father of the accused, is a man about 50 years of age, and has been in the employ of Mr. Thos. Walters, superintendent of the public works, for many years past; he is highly thought of by that official and enjoys the good-will and esteem of his fellow employees; he is also highly thought of by those of our citizens who have an acquaintance with him, and we may truly add that much sympathy is felt for him under the present trying circumstances. Being absent so much from home—from seven to eight months every year—his son, absolved from the restraining influence of his parental authority, rapidly developed wild traits of character, and after a few years he became known as a boy possessed of vicious impulses. When the father came home in the winter season for a few months at a time he became conversant with some of the doings of his lawless young son, and took him to task severely, but without permanent result—the mother did not seem to have the strength of will necessary to control the young lad, and as a natural consequence, when the father left town again in the spring, the youth resumed his evil habits. So it went on until the boy became known to his companions and a large section of the public as a veritable dare devil, who prided himself upon doing anything and everything that another boy would not attempt.

Our readers will probably remember the burglarising of Mr. N. H. Cowdry's grain warehouse last November. Young Carney was proven to be one of the ringleaders, but Mr. Cowdry, actuated by a generous, but mistaken spirit, refused to prosecute, hence the youth and his comrades were allowed to go scot free.

About three weeks ago burglars entered the offices of the Sadler & Flavelle Milling Co., the Rathbun Co., and Mr. Cowdry's warehouse, only small amounts being secured in each instance. Entry into the warehouse was gained by the same trick as was used on the former occasion, which led to a suspicion that the same party was implicated. Young Carney and a companion were arrested and examined on the old charge in the hope of eliciting fresh evidence to convict them of the later attempt, but the attempt proved fruitless and they had to be discharged, notwithstanding the feeling that Carney, at any rate, knew something of the affair.

Chief Bell informed us this morning that some years ago young Carney was brought before the magistrate on a charge of theft, but until he looks over his register he could not state the particulars.

During a conversation with several of young Carney's occasional comrades, it was learned that the young fellow generally answers to the sobriquet, "Jessie James, jr." As a rule the "nick-names" apportioned by the young have a happy significance, and according to reports young Carney had no reason to grumble that his cognomen lacked either colour or expressiveness. It was a happy shot, and the name stuck.

It has been ascertained that some years ago young Carney came near getting into serious trouble through theft of a number of traps from a well known trapper. The father happened to be home at the time and succeeded in inducing the injured party to withdraw his charge, but it cost him thirty or forty hard-earned dollars to effect his purpose.

Several east end citizens who have known the young fellow for years tell of numerous instances of cruel conduct laid to his charge. It is related that some years ago he caught a cat, flayed off a portion of its hide, exposing the raw and quivering flesh, and then liberated it after singeing the hair from the poor animal's back. Upon another occasion he is said to have caught a small dog and attempted to crucify it by nailing one of the animal's feet to a tree.

In the summer season young Kearney is said to have been in the habit of frequenting Dundas & Flavelle Bros.' egg house, where he laid in a stock of stale hen fruit. These he got rid of at unexpected times, and any young lad who chanced to have incurred his enmity had to run a lively gauntlet if he happened to come within throwing distance. The innate "devilment" in the boy was manifested in all his actions. If told to do something no matter how reasonable or urgent, ten to one he would refuse; tell him not to do it, and the chances were about ninety-nine out of one hundred that he would straight way tumble into trouble."

A despatch has just been received, stating that the shock engendered by his son's arrest on a charge of murder, has resulted in Mr. Carney's death in Lindsay. The sympathy of the entire community is with the unfortunate family.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. Dr. Torrance, of St. Paul's, and Rev. A. MacWilliams, of St. Andrews, exchanged pulpits last evening.

St. Andrew's choir gave a most effective rendering, last evening, of the anthem, "The Bird let loose from Eastern skies."

The George street choir sang the anthem "No Night in Heaven" last evening in a most effective and pleasing manner.

"O, Tender was the Master's Voice," was the title of the pretty anthem rendered last night by the Park street Baptist church choir.

St. Paul's choir gave a rendering of Dudley Buck's "They Rest From Their Labours" yesterday morning most harmoniously.

Yesterday morning Miss Florence Hall took the obligato solo in the anthem, "Oh How Lovely," most effectively in the Charlotte street church.

The evening anthem in the Charlotte street church was entitled "Thou wilt Keep Him in Perfect Peace." The rendering was most harmonious.

"I Know that my Redeemer Liveth" was most most charmingly sung as a solo by Miss Hendren last evening in the Charlotte street church during the offertory.

Schilling's beautiful anthem "Softly now the Light of Day" was well taken by St. Paul's choir last evening. The phrasing and attack was particularly noticeable.

A most pleased congregation listened to the excellent manner in which St. Andrew's choir handled the anthem "Saviour breathe an evening blessing", last evening.

The anthem "Praise to Thee Thou Great Creator" with full bass obligato solo was splendidly rendered in the George street Methodist church, yesterday morning.

Next Sunday will be devoted to Foreign Missions in the Park street church. Morning and evening sermons will be delivered by Rev. J. J. Ross of Toronto. Open Sunday school will be held in the afternoon, when address will be made and special music sung.

Owing to the storm the Park street Baptist church pulpit supply was unable to come from Toronto. The morning service was taken by Mr. Ecome who spoke from the 42nd Psalm on "Hope." In the evening the pulpit was most acceptably filled by Mr. J. C. Turnbull. As his text he took the 25th verse John v., speaking to a most appreciative congregation.

THE WHEEL.

Whilst the Peterborough Bicycle Club is quietly sleeping, George Hopkins and a few others are work hard in an endeavour to bring the big meet to Peterborough. The great question of whether Peterborough or Quebec will be successful is to be decided on Good Friday and there is not much time left for work. Mr. Alex. Elliott is one of the business men of the town who is fully alive to the importance of the question and when in Toronto last week took occasion to see the wholesalers with whom he deals and urge them to put in a word for Peterborough, reminding them that Toronto wholesalers get the bulk of the Peterborough trade, whereas they do little or no business with Quebec. Mr. Elliott also took occasion to point out that three days would be wasted by Torontonians on the cars in getting to Quebec and the fare is fixed at $10.30, whereas a few hours' run brings them into Peterborough for an outlay of 85 cents. Mr. Elliott's reception by the wholesalers was cordial and he received a pledge of their determination to help Peterborough get the meet. Other of the town business men would do well to follow this example and do their best to win Toronto, as a whole, for Peterborough, as it will mean a great deal to the town, both as an advertisement and in the way of cold coin, of which thousands of dollars will be left here and incidentally find its way into the pockets of every class of the community.

PISCATORIAL.

Mr. Alex. Elliott has just received a communication from Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M. P., informing him that in compliance with his request Mr. Stevenson interviewed the Minister of Marine and Fisheries with the result that the close season for bass and lunge will now expire on the 1st instead of the 15th of June in the back lakes as well as in Rice Lake. Fishing for salmon by net will also be allowed during the months of August and September.

ALGER SENTENCED.

Convicted of the Graveyard Insurance Fraud.

THE JUDGE SHOWED HIM NO MERCY

Because He Had Been Trafficing on His Wife's Life—Dr. Francey's Story Was Credited by the Jury —The Full Penalty of Seven Years.

Whitby, March 20.—(Special.)In August last The World first announced to the public the existence of vast insurance frauds in the County of Ontario, which had been brought to light by the death of Mrs. [illegible] Ellen Alger at Whitevale, Ont. The World then called upon the Government to take up the case; and as a result of this movement toward the abolition of graveyard insurance,George Alger was this evening found guilty of conspiracy to defraud the Equitable Insurance Society. The verdict, although warranted by the evidence, was somewhat of a surprise to the Crown authorities, who had counted on a disagreement. The judge's strong charge against the prisoner completely turned the scale of events and the jury reached its conclusion after a deliberation of one hour and a half.

When the jury announced its verdict at 6.30, Mr. Clute asked for mercy for the prisoner, but His Lordship Judge Falconbridge could not agree with that view and sentenced him to the longest possible term for the offence, seven years.

His remarks in doing so were as follows: "George Elisha Alger, after a fair trial, in which I must say you have had a most brilliant defence, a jury of your own countrymen have found you guilty of the charge laid against you. I cannot quarrel with the verdict, and I can hardly see how they could have come to any other conclusion. As I have pointed out,the form of conspiracy of which you have been found guilty, is far reaching in its effects. I cannot lose sight of the fact that doing as you did you were trafficking on the life of your wife,and I see no reason why the maximum sentence should not be passed upon you. I sentence you to seven years in the Provincial Penitentiary at Kingston."

The prisoner had previously declined to say anything and took his sentence in a rather nonchalant manner. He has been out on bail for some time, but previous to the passing of the sentence was taken into the prisoner's box by High Constable William Calverley, and he stood up with folded arms awaiting his fate. His 17-year-old daughter, who had sat at his side all day with tears in her eyes, took the blow very grievously. Just previous to being taken into the prisoner's box, Alger told her that if she intended to make a scene she should leave the court, as it would only unnerve him.

He was then led away by Constable Calverley to the jail after a sad farewell to his loved ones in court.

The early part of the morning was taken up with the evidence of friends and relatives of Mrs. Alger, who all swore to the story that the dead woman never showed signs of consumption until after she caught cold in house cleaning three months before her death. Mrs. Hubbard, mother of the dead woman, and Miss Nellie Alger, the prisoner's daughter, were positive in their assertions, the former flatly contradicting certain evidence of Dr. Eastwood. In rebuttal, Dr. Eastwood was called and gave the lie to Mrs. Hubbard's deposition.

Mr. Clute commenced his address to the jury at exactly 11 o'clock. It was a good effort, being chiefly a savage attack on Dr. Francey, to whom he applied all the opprobrious epithets on the calendar. The chief point he made was that the Crown's case rested solely on the doctor's uncorroborated evidence, whereas the defence had a score of witnesses of known good repute to disprove his assertion. He spoke an hour and a quarter, and after the noon adjournment the case for the Crown was taken up by Mr. Farewell.

The Crown Attorney's address to the jury lasted an hour and three-quarters. He dwelt on the fact that Francey's coming back to Canada to testify against Alger was motiveless, unless his story was true. He could have no object in the world in making the charges he did, except in the interests of justice. In taking up the evidence for the defence, Mr. Farewell pointed out that the family and friends of Alger were not motiveless in testifying in his favor. He dwelt also on the failure of the defence to break up the medical testimony as to the chronic consumption with which Mrs. Alger was afflicted.

His Lordship's charge to the jury was delivered in a most lucid and plain manner. He thanked the 12 good men for the close attention they had given to the evidence throughout the long trial, which rendered it unnecessary for him, in view of the enormous amount of testimony, to do more than quote the law and give a salient review of the case and the facts of greater or lesser importance. His Lordship then read the indictment and quoted his explanation to the grand jury and impressed upon the jury to bear in mind that the crime, if there was a crime, rested on the agreement of the parties for the execution of an unlawful purpose. It was not necessary that the attempt should be successful. Continuing, His Lordship said that the conspiracy must be inferred from the actions of the parties.

In this case the Crown submitted the evidence of Charles H. Francey, who swore that there had been a conspiracy and he was a party to it. In such a case there ought to be a sufficient amount of corroborative evidence to satisfy the jury as to the truth of the testimony of the accomplice. The learned Judge explained what corroboration really meant, at the conclusion of which he dealt with Francey's evidence. Francey leaves the country, he comes back and voluntarily says he will make a clean breast of being a party to a gigantic fraud in which he was equally guilty with another. A man who does this as a matter of practice is never prosecuted. The Crown has to use every honorable way to detect crime, but this would not prevent Francey from prosecution for perjury if his evidence could be proved untrue. According to English law, a prisoner was always presumed innocent until a charge had been proven. In conclusion he warned the jury against any sentimental consideration about Francey's going unpunished, and told them that if they believed Francey they could bring in no other verdict but guilty. The judge's charge occupied one hour and a half.

Inspector John Murray has worked very hard on the case, and came in for a tribute from even Mr. Clute of the defence. It is significant that a verdict in the Hendershott case, another great graveyard insurance fraud which was unearthed by The World, was reached a year ago to-night.

It will be remembered that Dr. Francey was arrested at Blind River on a trumped-up charge of abortion last December. The arrest was made at the instigation of a lawyer, who took a constable from another county to Severn, where a Mrs. Bessie was living. He first wanted her to make a statement. She told him Francey had saved her life, as she was in a very bad condition when he attended her. She told Detective Murray that the lawyer produced a paper, which he got her to sign. Then Constable Coxworth swore out a warrant, and proceeded to Blind River and there arrested Francey, who said he was under the protection of the Crown, and accordingly telegraphed Inspector Murray, who secured an order from the Crown, and Francey was released, but the charge still hangs over him. Mrs. Bessie told a World reporter that the charge was groundless, and that she would testify in favor of Dr. Francey at any time he may appear.

A rumor is in circulation to the effect that arrests will soon be made in other cases of graveyard insurance which have come to light during the investigation of the facts regarding the Alger case.

MRS. JOHN A. BARNES ONCE MORE

She is Now Suing for a Divorce in Oklahoma—Barnes Has Frank Magowan Arrested in Chicago.

Oklahoma City, Ok., March 20.—Mrs. J. A. Barnes of Trenton, N.J., who was Miss Edith Riddell, a daughter of Dr. Riddell, formerly of Orangeville, Ont., and Parkdale, Ont., and at one time an operator in the Great Northwestern office in Toronto, has entered a suit here for divorce from her husband. The couple were married in Toronto, and lived happily together for some time. Then Barnes went to Trenton, N.J., as manager of a rubber factory owned principally by Mayor Frank A. Magowan, a young millionaire of that city. On Aug. 22 last, Magowan was arrested at the suit of Barnes, who charged him with alienating his wife's affections, and who claimed $100,000 damages. Magowan, who was at the time married and living in Trenton, came to Oklahoma City recently and procured a divorce, alleging that as soon as Mrs. Barnes was freed from her husband a marriage between them would follow.

Chicago, March 20.—Frank A. Magowan was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by J. A. Barnes. The warrant was served by a United States marshal, and Magowan was compelled to give a bond for $25,000. R. S. Thompson and W. S. Dudley signed the bond.

The charge was kept a secret, but it is in connection with the damage suit of $100,000 which Barnes began against Magowan for alienating Mrs. Barnes' affections. Magowan goes about guarded by detectives,as Barnes has threatened to kill him. Magowan left Chicago last evening. Barnes is now in the city.

THE TRAGEDY AT LINDSAY

Postponement of the Inquest for Further Evidence—Father of the Carney Boys Faints While Giving Evidence.

Lindsay, March 20.—The inquest on the death of James Agnew was adjourned to-night to permit of other murderer, carried stated that the re- John and Patrick Carney, were represented by John A. Barron and Wm. Steers.

County Crown Attorney Devlin is conducting the case for the Crown. Not much new evidence was brought forward and several witnesses who were supposed to know all about the revolver which John Carney, the accused murdered, carried, stated that the revolver found in court was not Carney's at all.

The most significant piece of evidence was that given by John T. Petty, a local jeweler, who identified the watch found at the Carney house as one that he had several times cleaned for Jas. Agnew.

The father of the boys, James Carney, fainted to-night when he was placed in the witness box. The funeral of James Agnew took place this afternoon and was largely attended.

Ottawa, March 20. — (Special) — Mr. Foster gives notice to-night of the following important resolution:

"That it appears for many years pretions were put in force by the British authorities making the slaughter of Canadian cattle obligatory upon being landed on the assumption that the disease of pleuro-pneumonia was detected in certain animals imported from Canada;

"That the most thorough investigation carried on in Canada has failed to disclose the existence of a single case of pleuro-pneumonia;

"That, in view of the foregoing facts, this Parliament, whilst not wishing to interfere in any way with legislation considered necessary in the United Kingdom, desires respectfully to protest against the permanent exclusion vious to November, 1892, Canadian cattle were allowed free entrance into ports of the United Kingdom without being required to be slaughtered on landing;

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a dreadful discourager of affection, or rather of the demonstration of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are a perfect remedy for this most common of all troubles. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. They are very mild in their action, and act without any violence whatever. In this, they are different from many preparations offered for a similar purpose. Sometimes the remedy is worse than the disease, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are mild, but they are infallibly efficient. They do the work which they are intended to do, without deranging the system in any way. They not only give immediate relief, but the benefit derived from them is permanent. You can stop taking them by and by and there is no danger that you will become a slave to their use. The druggist who tries to sell you something else "just as good," either does not know what he is talking about, or he makes more money on the other thing. If you care more for his prosperity than you do for your own health, take the other thing. If you value your health, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. A free sample, of from 4 to 7 doses, will be sent to any address.

A copy of Dr. Pierce's celebrated 1008 page book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated, will be sent free on receipt of thirty-one (31) cents in one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only.

THE TROOPS IN EGYPT

Government Action Sustained by the Commons.

MR. MORLEY'S MOTION VOTED DOWN

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain Says Egypt Must be Defended if Her Prosperity is to Continue—The Dervishes Must be Put Down—Explorer Stanley's Views.

London, March 20.—During the debate on the estimates in the Imperial House Mr. John Morley, amid cheers from the Liberal benches, moved to reduce the vote for the Foreign Office, in order to call attention to recent events in Egypt. Mr. Morley said, in reply to a question, that unquestionably his motion sought a vote of censure upon the Government, and recalled the circumstances that he himself had moved a similar vote in 1885 upon the then Liberal Government in condemnation of its policy in Egypt. In the course of his argument, Mr. Morley admitted that the occupation of Egypt by Great Britain had been productive of much benefit and many blessings to the people of that country. (Conservative cheers.) But, he said, the long continuance of that occupation had been fraught with great disadvantages to Great Britain. It was an unfortunate step the Government was taking to delay the evacuation of Egypt and divert Egyptian funds from the purposes of Egyptian development and the application of the money to England's own purpose. (Protesting cries of "Oh! Oh!" from the Conservative benches.) The new policy, he declared, would impose upon Egypt the duty of governing one of the most difficult territories on the face of the earth. The Government, Mr. Morley said, had not explained their policy, and the Ministers had declined to treat the House with that confidence that the country has reason to expect on the eve of so great an undertaking. So hazardous a proposal, he held, could never be justified by a reason so meagre, flimsy, irrelevant and hollow as the one advanced. Mr. Morley's remarks were received with prolonged Liberal cheers.

Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonial Department, said it would be impossible for the Opposition to pass judgment upon the policy of the Government unless the Government first made up their minds definitely in regard to the immediate evacuation of Egypt. Nothing in recent history, he said, could be looked back to with more pride and satisfaction than the peaceful revolution in Egyptian affairs which had been accomplished with a handful of men and a British civil administration. If Egypt be abandoned all this would be undone. Egypt must be defended if her prosperity was to continue. The consent of a majority of the powers had already been given to England's plan of meeting the expenses, and the Government had no knowledge leading them to assume that the consent of the remaining powers would be refused. If the result of the British expedition should in a measure relieve Egypt from the constant menace of attacks by the Dervishes the expenditures incurred would be more than compensated for.

It would be impossible to fulfil England's duty to the people as long as the Dervishes were permitted to threaten peaceful industry by their constant raids. The defeat of the Italians in Abyssinia had created a new situation. If Kassala should fall the ill effect upon Egypt would be incalculable. The various tribes of the Soudan were putting aside their international disputes and combining in a great effort against Egypt. The wisest policy was to anticipate their attack and prevent the Dervishes from concentrating against one object. Whatever the Egyptian advance might ultimately be, he said, it would only be limited by the nature and extent of the resistance encountered and the maintenance of the security of the communities.

H. M. Stanley, the explorer who represents the north division of Lambeth in the interest of the Liberal-Unionists, asserted that Egypt had a right to reclaim her former frontiers and that the opportunity to do so had come. The total defeat of the Mahdists, Mr. Stanley declared, must precede the independence of Egypt.

Mr. Curzon, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, said that the expedition would take a strongly defensive position at Akasheh, where it would remain until the hot season, when, if it was thought desirable, it would proceed to Dongola. The Government, he added, possessed proofs that there was a general ferment among the Dervishes and that they were threatening Kassala and the Nile valley.

Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt said that the Government was entering upon a long, dangerous and uncertain enterprise. It would not state the true object or definite real limits of the expedition. He believed it would be condemned by the people.

Mr. Balfour said there was nothing in the expedition to excite suspicion or alarm in France. The operations had no relation to the British occupation of Egypt. The position of Egypt could not be satisfactory until that country regained control of a large part of the Soudan. Everything gained for Egypt would be gained forever. It would not be an advance followed by a retreat. He was convinced that it was in the interests of Egypt and Egypt alone. The Government was well advised in initiating this policy.

A vote was then taken on Mr. Morley's motion and it was defeated—288 to 146.

TWO MINISTERS WILL GO.

Messrs Dickey and Desjardins Commissioned at a Meeting of the Cabinet.

Ottawa, March 20.—(Special)—There are new developments in connection with the school question to-night. A meeting of the Cabinet was held this evening at which it was decided to commission Mr. Dickey, Minister of Justice, and Mr. Desjardins, Minister of Militia, to proceed to Winnipeg to negotiate with the Manitoba Government with a view to a settlement. It was intended that they should leave Ottawa for Winnipeg to-morrow afternoon, but as Sir Donald Smith, who will accompany them, has business in Montreal to-morrow and had to leave for that city to-night, the Ministers may not get away until Monday. Pending the absence of the delegates from Ottawa the Remedial bill will be proceeded with on every possible occasion, it being the Government's intention to utilize all the remaining time at their disposal to pass the measure into law in the event of negotiations with Manitoba coming to naught.

RESCUED FROM INSANITY.

GENTLEMEN,—To say all I ought to in favour of B. B. B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it. I am a different man to what I was ten years ago when it was expected I would be in the asylum, but now I am in perfect robust health and it was the B.B.B. that did it. I suffered for five or six years from constipation, sometimes so severely that I went out of my mind.

I tried various doctors, both in the country and in the city, and took medicines too numerous to mention, but everything failed to have the desired effect. When I used Burdock Blood Bitters it succeeded beyond all expectations, requiring only two bottles to cure. To make it still more certain that B. B. B. the real cure for constipation, I may say that some two years afterwards, I felt the symptoms returning and took one bottle more and from that time to the present day (over eight years) I have never had any returns of the disease.

I never knew any medicine to work so well. It does not seem to be a mere reliever but a sure and certain cure as I can testify to, for hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine and advice failed to do me any good, but three dollars' worth of B.B.B. made a permanent cure that has given me years of health and comfort. Yours truly,

C. L. KILMER, Toronto

"The Remedial Bill"

IS THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR.

Some men who oppose it, go so far as to blame it for the great storm of last week, and say that it is a precusor of others that will make Confederation shake. Others who favour it claim the storm centre was truly Ottawa, and that it was necessary to have the atmosphere cleared, but now that it has cleared we are to have a long season of beauteous and delightful harmony. The pros and cons of this we are not here to discuss.

"The Remedial Bill," to which we call your attention, is "the great $ bill."

It will remedy a great many of the "grievances" under which you suffer. Especially is this the case in the great J. & J. Lugsdin Bankrupt Fur and Hat Sale. If you pass this "$ Bill" it will do what it took $2 to do formerly.

For instance:—

Fur Muffs, Caps and Gauntlets, worth $4 to $6 each, can be bought from $1.50 to $3.

Seal Caps, worth $14, for $8.

Baby Carriage Robes, worth $2 50 for $1.25.

White Rabbit Jackets, Child's, worth $6, for $2.50.

3-4 Fur-lined Cloak, worth $30, for $18.

Russian Fur-lined Cloak, worth $20, for $10.

Baltic Seal Caps, worth $2.25 for $1, etc. etc., through a large stock of Fine Furs and Hats.

Prices at about One-half.

THE ARMY TROUBLES

What General Booth Thinks About Ballington.

HIS SON IS NOT QUITE HIMSELF

It is a Very Painful Subject With the Officers at Headquarters, London—Name of the New American Army Changed—Episode About the Uniforms.

New York, March 22.—The World's London special says: Bramwell Booth did not sail Saturday for New York, as it had been stated it was his intention to do; nor has General Booth any present purpose of going.

At the Salvation Army headquarters The World's representative was told by the general secretary that they are anxiously awaiting the result of the Booth-Tucker mission.

Being asked whether the chiefs of the army still have any real hope of a reconciliation with Ballington Booth, the secretary said: "Oh, dear, yes. We are certain that the dispute will be arranged. In fact, there's a great deal of mystery about Ballington Booth's action. His family and friends cannot understand it, as hitherto he has been most affectionate and obedient to the behests of the General. We are beginning to think that he has been overworked, and that, suffering from the effects of the strain, he, perhaps, has not been strictly accountable for his actions. We feel sure that on reflection he will return to the ranks of the Army."

Much amused comment is excited here by the report cabled from New York of the discussion between female members of the new army on the question of a more tasteful costume, particularly a more stylish bonnet than that of the old Army. The secretary said: "Well, General Booth won't say anything on that matter, but it is one of those incidents which have made us form the conclusion that Ballington is not quite himself; it is so unlike him as we know him."

"Is not your simple costume," was asked, "one of the distinctive marks of the Army, to symbolize its unworldly character?"

"Yes," the secretary answered, "that is so, and if the cabled statement be true that a change in that respect has been resolved on by Ballington, it is quite inexplicable to us."

The World's representative gathered from the secretary's manner that Ballington Booth's defection is a very painful subject with the Army chiefs. There was an evident determination to say nothing that could lessen the chance of reconciliation.

New York, March 23.—There has been a change in the name of Ballington Booth's new army. "God" and "American" have been elimin.ted from the title.

This happened between two days. On Thursday night, upon the various doors which are invariably "closed," and upon the one by which visitors may enter the room in which Major Peter Glen guards the approach to the offices of Mr. and Mrs. Booth, was emblazoned in the tricolor the legend, "God's American Volunteers." These same doors yesterday showed only this label, "The Volunteers." The sign painter had been there, like the Scriptural "thief in the night," and with his brush had caused patriotism and providence to vanish from these portals, like the morning cloud and the early dew.

Another change in the plans is also announced. It concerns the women's dress. Two days ago all arrangements were made for the Salvation lassies to go clad in brown garb, like sober little "Jennie Wrens." But a newspaper suggestion that the new uniform would be becoming to the blondes, set the dark-haired ones thinking very seriously that the one opportunity of their lives to secure a becoming frock was being let slip. The result is that Mrs. Booth has been appealed to, and has "reconsidered;" and the fair Commandress yesterday recalled the order for brown gowns and bonnets, sent the rolls of russet cloth back to the warehouse, and pretty nearly decided to order from a set of samples of "cadet blue." This color will set off both dark and fair complexions admirably.

If it is finally settled upon, the bonnets will have to be of white straw for summer, which will lend the uniformly pleasing air of lightness and coolness entirely unknown to their former black coalscuttle headpieces.

"Salvationists in Australia always wear white pokes, as more suited to the warm climate," said an officer in reference to the matter; "and in Canada in the cold season they wear fur hats. I see no reason why there should not be a modification to suit the temperature and tastes in this section."

Naming the paper seems to be the only thing in the way of getting the new army periodical on its feet very shortly. Ballington Booth cannot decide what to call it, and yesterday implored his visitors to give him suggestions.

TOWARDS RECONCILIATION.

General Booth Orders Col. Eadie to Return to London.

New York, March 22.—The first step in a plan to effect a reconciliation between the Ballington Booths and the leaders of the Salvation Army has been taken by Gen. William Booth, who has ordered Col. Eadie to return to London. Col. Eadie is blamed for the troubles in the Army, because it is said it was his machinations against Commander Ballington Booth that stirred up opposition to his son in the general's mind. That an attempt will be made by Commander and Mrs. Booth-Tucker upon their arrival here to induce Commander and Mrs. Booth to abandon their new organization and return to the Salvation Army is quite certain.

A BRIDGENORTH BEAR STORY.

Some of the villagers became a little excited the other day over a rumour that something in the shape of an otter had been seen on the north side of the lake directly opposite Chemong Park. Some said it was a bear, for it had a long tail; others said it was a wolf; some said it was one thing and some another. However, one of the blacksmith's concluded he would harness up his horse, a trotter of course, and with the aid of one of the village butchers and two other local sports, equipped with rifles, guns, butcher knives and a crow-bar, made ready for action. They then made a header for Mr. Bear, and it was not long until they found tracks but the dogs would not run, so they concluded they would run themselves; and run they did, over fields and fences until they came to a small swamp. There they lost the track in a brush heap. Then they tore up the brush heap to find he was not there. However after an hour or two they scented the track again and followed it up, but by this time they had come on other tracks similar to their own. Thinking some one had stolen a march on them while in the swamp, but not discouraged, they kept right on until they came to a hole in the ground where Mr. (so called) Bear had taken a rest. Finally it turned out that the day before two boys and a dog had run a ground hog into this same hole. The sports then realized the whole thing had been a joke, and being hungry and their wind exhausted they made a bee line for home, sadder but wiser men.

HARVEY.

The Late Charles McIlmoyle.

The death of Mr. Charles McIlmoyle, of North Harvey, on Sunday morning, was an event not unlooked for, as he has been lying in bed since New Years day, with an affection of the stomach. For the last few weeks he gradually sank, and death was a relief. The funeral on Tuesday morning was a very large one, as Mr. McIlmoyle was well known throughout the township. He moved to Harvey some twenty-three years ago, having previously lived in Peterborough and Bridgenorth. He leaves behind a wife and twelve children, eight boys and four girls; there was a family of fifteen but three died. For over twenty years he continuously represented the township in the council. Occasionally opposition would be offered to his candidature, but no one could succeed in depriving him of his hold upon public favour. He was a school trustee for a great many years, and died with the harness on. He was a good neighbor and enjoyed the respect of the community at large.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

TAKING MEASURES!

A Few Years Ago

We had dreams and visions that have now materialized into facts. But the facts are greater than we ever expected.

A few years ago, speaking of GOUGH BROS., people connected this establishment with Ready-Made Clothing only. To-day this store has a grip on the best trade, not only in Ready-Made Clothing, but in Boots and Shoes, Nobby Hats, Shirts, Ties, Furnishings, etc.; and now the pull is rapidly coming our way in—

Made-to-Measure Clothing.

Department after department has been successfully engrafted until it can be unreservedly claimed that GOUGH BROS'. Mammoth Emporium fills the bill—from the crown of the head to the soles of the feet—from the noted Stanley Hat to the best makes of King's stylish Shoes—every requirement for Man or Boy, with very much in every department that concerns and interests the Ladies as well.

Verily, there's a heap of truth in the trite aphorism of the ingenious McGarvey—"If yez got no push yez'll get no pull."

Fine Dressers

Are learning fast that Gough Bros. are pushing hard for the pull on the finest Tailoring trade of Peterborough. Our business motto—observed as we observe it—will bring success in any line:—"The Better the Grade, the Bigger the Trade."

This store of yours has gathered together for the spring and summer season of 1896, the most correct patterns in Imported and Canadian Tweeds, Worsteds, Cheviots, and Home Spuns, to meet your fancy. The British and American Fashion Plates are now on view. Our Tailors are all back to work again on full time, and Duncan Cameron, the keenest of Cutters, has his coat off—the whole department bustling with an air of activity, ready to corroborate our printed statements.

FASTIDUOUS DRESSERS—Men who have an extra care for looks, when you come to find what we really can do for you, you'll begin to find that you can save a third or so on your clothes, and be well dressed to boot. We won't let you pay so little for them as to get anything unworthy—economy don't lie along that route. We are teaching men who wear good clothes, that high prices need not always be paid to get high values.

"Always Good at Gough's."

DISSOLUTION APRIL 24

No Matter What the Supreme Court Says.

WILL FORCE THE REMEDIAL BILL

Which is a Big Job for the Government to Tackle—Proposal to Add a Proviso That the Measure Shall Take Effect by Proclamation—Ottawa Matters.

Ottawa, March 23.—(Special.)—This is probably the last private members' day until the Remedial Bill is disposed of. To-morrow Mr. Foster will move that Government business take precedence hereafter on both Mondays and Thursdays, and the Government will take them in spite of opposition.

The debate on Mr. McCarthy's amendment to refer the Remedial Bill to the Supreme Court will be resumed to-morrow. It is officially announced to be the Government's intention to put the Remedial Bill through, no matter how the Winnipeg negotiations result, but with a proviso attached that it shall go into effect only by proclamation, and if Manitoba legislates on behalf of the minority, then the bill will not be proclaimed. Messrs. Dickey, Desjardins and Sir Donald Smith left for Manitoba this afternoon.

The Premier, in the Senate this afternoon, said the Government was keeping in mind doubts which might be cast on the legality of Parliamentary proceedings after April 24, and the fact that even if the Supreme Court did give an opinion upon the subject, that opinion might be subject to the serious delay of an appeal to the Imperial Privy Council, had decided not to run the risk of prolonging the life of Parliament beyond the day named.

Senator Boulton made himself ridiculous this afternoon by airing views for universal peace propounded by an Ottawa crank, Henry Wentworth Monk. Mr. Boulton wanted to read Monk's letters to Lord Salisbury, but several Senators objected to their becoming a part of the record of the House. Mr. Boulton went on to show that the time had come when the idea of a universal peace tribunal should be brought before the public.

Senators Macdonald (Victoria), Dever and McClellan were in favor of the establishment of such a tribunal as would successfully settle questions of dispute between nations.

Senator Almon thought the idea would be only practicable when the lion could be induced to lie down with the lamb and the young child to play with the cockatrice. He instanced the manner in which the United States had refused to abide by the decisions of the courts of arbitration in matters of dispute between that country and Great Britain in support of his contention.

Mr. Boulton eventually withdrew his motion.

The Aylmer branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway has become the property under 35-year lease of the Hull Electric Company, and is to be converted into an electric road within a couple of months. The company will operate an hourly service between Hull and Aylmer.

Mr. Wood gives notice of a bill to-night to amend the Customs and Inland Revenue Act. It proposes to fix the salary of the Commissioner of Customs at $1000, the figure it was formerly at, and if it becomes law your correspondent ventures to predict that the office will be offered to and accepted by Mr. Kilvert, collector of Hamilton and the present acting commissioner. The defect in the present law is that the salary of the commissioner is actually less than Mr. Kilvert receives as collector, and, not unnaturally, he declines to accept an Irishman's rise. As acting commissioner, Mr. Kilvert has demonstrated himself to be the right man in the right place, and all those who come into official contact with him will be glad to see him become a permanent resident of the capital.

THAT COPYRIGHT BILL.

The Reading Public Will be Protected Before the Measure Passes.

Ottawa, March 23.—(Special.)—Enquiries having been received in the city from England during the past day or two respecting the position of the Copyright question, your correspondent had a chat with Mr. Dickey on the subject before his departure for Winnipeg to-day. The Minister of Justice spoke very freely on the subject, and clearly indicated the views of the Government upon the matter. It appears that the Government does not feel prepared to accept the compromise bill drafted by the Toronto publishers and Mr. Hall Caine. The great objection which the Government has to the measure is that it prohibits the importation into Canada of British copyright works for three months after publication.

The Department of Justice is now engaged in the preparation of a bill embodying those features of the Hall Caine bill which are thought to be essential by the authors and publishers [illegible]

On being asked if the abrogation of the non-importation clause would not seriously detract from the bill, Mr. Dickey replied that the reading public deserved some little consideration. Mr. Hall Caine's bill was based on the seeming conclusion that there were only two interests to be considered, namely, the Canadian publisher and the British author, and the question might not unnaturally be asked: "Where do the reading public come in?" He thought the Government to a great extent represented the reading public, and certainly nothing could be more important than that our population should get the very latest literature in the freest possible manner.

JUDGE THOMAS HUGHES DEAD.

Author of "Tom Brown's School Days," "Tom Brown at Oxford," etc.

London, March 23.—Judge Thomas Hughes, F.S.A., B.A., author of "Tom Brown's School Days," died at Brighton last evening.

Judge Hughes was born in 1823, and educated at Rugby and Oxford. He was called to the bar in 1848. He was elected as Radical M.P. for Lambeth in 1865, and for Frome in 1868. In the following year he was made a Q.C. In 1870 he made a tour of the United States and Canada. He was the author of "Tom Brown's School Days," "The Scouring of the White Horse," "Tom Brown at Oxford," "Life of Livingstone," and other works. He was appointed a County Court judge in 1882. He took an active part in the Anti-Gambling crusade and was a well-known lecturer on co-operation, workingmen's clubs, and other social subjects.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN DREAMS?

The Strange Manner in Which Nurse Nunn Discovered a Shot in Constable Tinsley's Thumb—It Beats X Rays.

Brockville, March 23.—The victims of the shooting tragedy of two weeks ago are all doing well. The Indian left the Hospital on Saturday. Constable Tinsley is also able to be around. Chief Rose has so far recovered as to be able to sit up for a short time this afternoon. Lapointe, the murderer, is rapidly gaining strength, and will, it is expected, be in condition for removal from the General Hospital to the county jail within ten days.

Believers and non-believers in dreams will find food for reflection in an incident which occurred at the General Hospital here to-day. Constable Tinsley, who was shot and badly wounded by Lapointe, has since been a patient at the General Hospital. His wounds have been dressed on several occasions by Miss Nunn, one of the nurses, and on Saturday night she dreamed that while performing that duty she could plainly see a shot pellet imbedded in one of his thumbs. She did not dress the wounds yesterday but while doing so this morning, she took a probe and discovered a pellet at the exact point where it had appeared in her dream. The pellet was removed without difficulty.

IN THE LEGISLATURE.

The Government is Hustling Business Just Now Bills Passed.

Toronto, March 24.—There is every reason to think the Local Legislature will have concluded its labors by Easter at the latest. When the House met yesterday afternoon, Sir Oliver Mowat moved that, during the balance of the session Government business should have precedence and that the House should sit on Saturdays. The motion was agreed to by the leader of the Opposition. Business was rushed during the afternoon, and a number of important Government measures advanced a stage.

Mr. Bronson's bill to make further provision concerning street railways, and Mr. Harcourt's bill revising the act respecting the registration of births, marriages and deaths, were read a third time.

Mr. Howland's bill respecting the Canadian Historical Exhibition to be held at Toronto next year passed through committee.

Mr. Harcourt's bill to authorize the Commissioners of the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park to grant certain lands to the Clifton Suspension Bridge Company was read a third time.

These bills passed the second reading:

Respecting the Quieting of Titles—Attorney-General.

Relating to Dower in certain cases—Attorney-General.

Respecting the Law of Landlord and Tenant—The Attorney-General.

Respecting Travelling Shows, Circuses and other Exhibitions—The Attorney-General.

To amend the Judicature Act, 1895, and the Law relating to the Courts—The Attorney-General.

Respecting Surrogate Courts—The Attorney-General.

Respecting Fraud by Debt Collectors—The Attorney-General.

To correct a clerical error in the Debenture Registration Act—The Attorney-General.

Respecting Bills of Sale and Chattel Mortgages in Unorganized Districts—The Attorney-General.

These notices of motion were given:

Mr. Hardy (Wednesday next)—Bill respecting aid to certain railways.

Mr. Gibson (Wednesday next)—Bill respecting the incorporation and regulation of joint stock companies.

Mr. Carnegie (Wednesday next)—Bill respecting building societies.

Mr. St. John (Wednesday next)—Bill to amend the Assessment Act; also Bill to amend the Municipal Act.

Mr. Gibson presented a return, ordered by the House, giving the complete evidence taken at the Warden Massie investigation. The evidence comprises over one thousand pages, and is a complete vindication of the action taken by the Government in removing Warden Massie and placing Dr. Gilmour at the head of the Central Prison. The Opposition will probably spend some days in looking over the report, in the hope of finding some stray sentences, which, taken apart, may seem to reflect upon some of the officials.

Cattle Exclusion Bill in the Imperial House

PASSES ITS SECOND READING.

The Measure Means the Permanent Exclusion of Cattle From Great Britain, as the Belief is That the House of Lords Will Never Repeal It.

London, March 23.—In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. J. M. White, Liberal member for Forfarshire, moved the rejection of the bill amending the Diseases of Animals Act of 1894, introduced by Mr. H. H. Long, president of the Board of Agriculture, which proposed making the restrictions placed upon the importation of cattle permanent, instead of leaving them to the discretion of the Board of Agriculture. In speaking to his motion, Mr. White said the measure, if it became law, might do a trifle of good, as against the enormous harm which would result to the food consumers in this country, and the injury to the colonies. It was, he declared, the silliest form of protection.

Mr. Robert Johnson Price, member for the East Division of Norfolk, seconded the motion. He said the bill was a serious menace to Canadian trade, and would injure the graziers of the United Kingdom. It was protection of the breeders against the feeders.

Right Hon. Sir George Trevelyan, who sits for the Bridgeton District of Glasgow, said that if the bill was passed the House would bind its own hands and those of future governments by an act which could not be repealed without the assent of the House of Lords, which would never assent to its repeal. The Conservatives, he said, would only pass the measure if it was to make practically impossible henceforth the importation of live cattle.

Mr. Long, the introducer of the bill, said the sole object of the measure was to give the owners of breeding stock in the United Kingdom that security without which they could not carry on their industry. The symptoms of pleuro-pneumonia, he said, were very obscure and difficult to find. The Board of Agriculture felt that they could not adequately perform their duty under present conditions, and asked Parliament to relieve them of a part of their task through the bill. Mr. Long said he did not believe that there had been an increase in the price of meat since the regulations requiring the slaughter of imported cattle at their ports of landing had been enforced, but on the contrary the number of cattle killed at the ports had increased and prices had been reduced.

Sir Albert Kaye Rollit, Conservative member for South Islington, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, and chairman of the London Chamber of Commerce, declared that the bill committed the country to protection. It was certain to evoke public opposition when its real character became known.

The Right Hon. James Bryce, formerly president of the Board of Trade, and the Right Hon. A. J. Mundella, also an ex-president of that body, were among those who opposed the bill.

The Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, and Government leader in the House, defended the measure. He denied that it was as Mr. White had stated, a protective measure.

The motion to reject was defeated by a vote of 24 to 95. Many of the members abstained from voting.

The bill then passed its second reading without a division.

FOURTEEN MINERS KILLED.

A Terrific Explosion in a New Shaft at Dubois, Pa., Yesterday.

Dubois, Pa., March 23.—There was a gas explosion at the Berwynd-White shaft at the eastern limit of this town this forenoon, and 14 miners were killed. It is a new mine, which the company had been opening up and working crews in shafts to push the headings out in various directions for big work later on. Eighteen men went on at 7 o'clock this morning, 14 going into the north heading and four into the south heading. About 10 o'clock the latter were sensible of a shock, and a few minutes later the mine boss came to them and told them something had happened and that they should get out as soon as they could. When the party, consisting of five, reached the foot of the shaft, they were nearly overcome by gas and were hurriedly taken up in the cage. Assistance was immediately summoned, and practical miners from the Bell Lewis and Yates Company mines immediately volunteered their services, and as the work of rescue proceeded it was discovered that the shock in the north heading was so terrific that some of the bodies were mutilated almost beyond recognition, and that those who had not yet been found could not possibly have escaped violent death. Nearly all the bodies have been found, but up to this time they have only been brought to the foot of the shaft, where they are being collected, preparatory to being brought to the surface.

THE WAR SPIRIT IN EGYPT

Is Now Running High—Fighting in Earnest in a Few Days.

New York, March 23.—A special to The Herald from Cairo says: The war spirit is running high. The troops in Alexandria are to be moved to Cairo in a few days and two regiments from Malta will take their places. The Mediterranean Squadron is expected at Alexandria this week.

The recruiting of Egyptians and Soudanese for army service goes on rapidly here. Great numbers of camels, mules and horses are being shipped up the river. It is rumored that Hunter Bey, who is advancing upon Akasheh, has met the enemy.

The tone of the French press here towards the English, which has all along been hostile, has been more bitter and intense during the last week.

All the best-posted military men in Cairo predict that fighting of an earnest kind will take place in a few days, if it has not already begun.

Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, MARCH 24, 1896.

YOUNG men contemplating marriage should make note of the details of the great snow blockade—they may be useful in eye-opening yarn spinning to their grand children. Few men living have seen a greater snow blockade in this country.

THE New York Sun, a rabid Anglophobe journal, which the sight of the British flag always throws into convulsions, is calling upon the great American nation to squelch the C. P. R. by withdrawing the bonding privilege. The Sun is on the wrong tack—wind doesn't affect this railway; nothing but a spring snowstorm can knock out the C. P. R.

TORONTO expects next year to be a great one in that city. The British Association will meet there; the Industrial Exhibition is also promised; the British Dairy Association will meet there; an effort is to be made to bring the Prince and Princess of Wales to the city; the 400th anniversary of Cabot's discovery of Canada is to celebrated with red fire effects, and lastly, mirabile dictu, Toronto's palatial Court House will be formaly opened, and presumably the bill for its construction exhibited. It would neatly round off the interest if the "bolting" and "staying" Ottawa ministers could be placed on exhibition in a single cage.

OUR public men should be examples of honourable conduct to our rising youth. Sir Charles Tupper, the alternative leader of the House and of the Conservative party is not such an example. On March 2nd, Sir Charles Tupper assured the House that Sir Donald Smith was not authorized by the government, to negotiate with Mr. Greenway. In the House a few days later, the government admitted that they were responsible for Sir Donald's negotiations with Mr. Greenway. Can Sir Charles, by any process of remedial legislation, make that an honourable act, or invest, with honour the reading of a private telegram in public without the sender's consent and garbling it into the bargain? Mr. Martin, in the House, emphasized the indefensible character of such conduct when he said, that if a chief of either of the great political parties in England had to place himself in the humiliating position of having to ask the pardon of the House and of a fellow-member for deliberately revealing a confidential communication and in the revelation committing the further offence of deliberately garbling that communication for political purposes, he would be ostracized, because in England if one thing more than another is required of a public man it is the nicest sense of honour. Sir Charles Tupper, while in England, evidently exhibited a greater capacity for the assimilation of perquisites, than for the nicetie's of the gentleman's code of honour. And Sir Charles is the gentlemen, that Canada's party of gentlemen have on their shoulders.

WINTER DAIRYING.

It has Evidently Come to Stay—The Full Development of the Dairy Business—Interesting Meeting at Wellman's Corners.

Dairying is so important an industry to this county that all possible information on this subject should and will be of interest to every progressive farmer. The following is condensed from the Belleville Intelligencer's report of a great dairy meeting at Wellman's Corners:

The farmers of the Township of Rawdon are alive to the fact that winter dairying has become a necessity and many of them have already given their patronage to the Plum Grove Creamery at Wellman's Corners. This creamery was started as an experimental station by the Dominion Government in Oct. 1892, and run by the Department of Agriculture for three seasons. The farmers who patronized the creamery soon became impressed with the fact that it paid them to send their milk there during the winter, and some of those who had been most skeptical at first are now its warmest supporters. Last fall the experimental stage of the industry being passed, a meeting was called to decide what should be done with the creamery—whether it would be better for the farmers to buy it for for one individul to take hold of it. The outcome of the meeting was that Mr. James Whitton bought the plant and erected a neat building. He has been running since the first of November last, and the patrons, who number about seventy of the best farmers of Rawdon and the northern part of Sidney, are delighted with the results.

Mr. Whitton has built and equipped his creamery on the most improved methods for turning out a first-class article of butter, and that he has succeeded in producing a good article is evidenced from the fact that he is to-day 5,000 lbs behind his orders. Mr. Whitton's creamery is a model of compactness, neatness and cleanliness. The factory is supplied with an abundance of pure spring water, which is indispensable in the manufacture of butter.

While a large number of farmers in the district have already gone more or less into winter dairying, Mr. Whitton believes the business can be doubled in the next year, and with this object in view he called a meeting of the farmers for Tuesday evening at Wellman's Corners to discuss the question. Mr. Whitton secured Mr. D. Derbyshire, of Brockville, who has been so long and intimately connected with the dairying interests of this province, to address the meeting. Before eight o'clock the hall was filled to the doors with farmers and their wives, sons and daughters.

After the meeting had been called to order Mr. Whitton read the following statement of the business done by the Plum Grove Creamery from Nov. 1st, 1895, to the end of February:

Total amount of milk received	470,422 lbs
Total amount of butter manufactured	22,000 lbs
Total amount of money received	$4,416 69
Average price per lb	20.06c
Average milk to lb of butter	21.37 lb
Expense of manufacturing	$ 770 32
Total money paid patrons	3,646 37

Mr. Whitton said they had made eleven tons of butter and got the cash for every ounce of it. He considered that the experience of this season spoke well for the new industry of winter dairying. He believed that the farmers were now fully alive to the fact that it did not pay to dry a cow up the winter, but that she must be made to pay for her keep.

Mr. W. W. Grant, Milk Inspector and Cheese Instructor for Eastern Ontario, and who by the way is the buttermaker at this factory, whose product has met such great success, was called upon and he spoke on "The Care of Milk." He said he stood between the farmer and the dealer. In order to get the best results from milk handle it right, and he impressed on the farmers the necessity of bringing their milk to the factory or creamery in the best possible shape. During the winter milk did not require the care that it did in summer, as it was not so subject to taints and odors, but spring is now coming on and they must exercise great care. Cans and milking vessels should be kept scrupulously clean and well aired. Keep the cream well incorporated in the milk by frequent stirring, as the patron is paid for his milk according to its tested richness. Keep your milk warm [illegible] believed in the [illegible] of thoroughly aired and cooled and then covered up closely so it will not absorb odors. Milk can be kept without ice till Monday, but ice is beneficial. Cows should be well salted, as the milk will keep longer and make better butter. Don't allow your milk to freeze, as it has not the same body afterward, and the butter made from it will be greasy. In conclusion he said the industry needed our best attention, as we should put on the market an article second to none. (Applause.)

Mr. Derbyshire gave a very practical address. He spoke of the great market in England for well made Canadian creamery butter, and said Canada could sell as much butter there in proportion as she did of cheese, if it were made right. Butter making, added to cheese making, would bring dairying to its full development. Home butter making by the old process involved a loss of 25 per cent. of the butter in the milk. He strongly advocated winter dairying as a valuable adjunct to the cheese industry.

The meeting, which had length and breadth represented in Derbyshire and Whitton, was a great success, and at its close Mr. Whitton, whose heart seems to be in proportion to his body, entertained his friends to an oyster supper.

IS THE FARMER PROTECTED?

A Pertinent Question Well Answered.

Under the above heading there have appeared within the last two weeks many editorials attempting to prove that the Canadian farmer is protected by our tariffs. In support of this contention it is stated as a fact that, "in 1878 the Canadian farmers sold about $10,000,000 worth of their products to the United States, on which they paid a duty of very nearly $4,000,000." And again, "in other words the Canadian farmer was compelled to pay into the treasury of the United States what practically amounted to one third of the value of the articles sold and had to be satisfied with the other two thirds for himself," etc., etc.

The utter absurdity of contending that foreign farmers can be taxed and compelled to pay money into our treasury by simply passing a law at Ottawa, as our own farmers, according to the foregoing supposed facts, are said to have been compelled to pay $4,000,000 into the treasury of the United States, simply because a certain law was passed at Washington, is too apparent to need refuting further than to state that if it were possible to make foreign farmers pay our taxes we could lay the whole world of farmers under contribution, and so wax rich by simply passing laws; and this is really what protectionist statesmen (of the Tupper type) imagine they can do. In these same editorials attention is called to the fact that the Mackenzie administration in 1878 refused this so called protection to the Canadian farmers, although the demand was backed by 10,000 petitioners; and further, that their demands were granted in 1879 under the Conservative Government.

THE WISDOM OF THE REFUSAL

may be seen in the records of the registry offices, said records indicating a steady rise in farm land values (a sure indication of increasing farmers' profits) from the early days down to 1879. The same records in the same offices indicate that since the Conservative Government gave protection to the farmers, a steady fall in the value of farm land has taken place (an infallible sign of decreasing farmers profits.

This fall in farm land values is acknowledged by the Conservatives and is accounted for by them by assuming that the farmers have become more extravagant and less industrious since 1879.

The real reason is that the price of all they (the farmers of Canada, in common with the farmers of the world) have to sell is fixed in Liverpool, whilst the price of the things they must buy is fixed (under protection) by the amount of influence the combines can bring to bear on the Government at Ottawa, or Washington, or the Government of any country where protection prevails. A noticeable feature of the system is that wherever protection has gone the highest farm land values have fallen the lowest. The farm lands of New York State on the south side of the St. Lawrence River steadily declined in value from the time they introduced protection in the U. S. in the sixties, down to 1879; during the same period the farm lands of Ontario, bordered by the north shore of the St. Lawrence, steadily increased in value. Since we introduced protection these farm lands of Ontario on the north side of the St. Lawrence have fallen in value 40 per cent. Since the passage of the Wilson-Gorman Bill, which greatly reduced the tariff of the U.S., farm land values have steadily risen. If farmers would remember that the only possible way they can is by exchanging them for things they do not or cannot produce, they would soon put an end to a system of taxation that obliges them to pay a high price for all they have to buy, whilst the things they sell are subject to the free action of the cheapening effect of modern improvements. Where a free exchange of the products of of the farm for the products of manufacture is possible, as in Great Britain, this cheapening effect of modern improvements would increase the farmers' margin of profits, for the simple reason that labour saving devices can be applied continuously to manufacturers of the products of the mine and forest, nature having done her work ages ago, whilst for the products of the farm we must await the advent of the seasons and depend upon the caprice of dame nature. The result is that in Great Britain, according to Mulhall, labour saving devices increased the productiveness of labour applied to manufacture 200 per cent. between 1841 and 1880, whilst the labour saving devices only increased the productiveness of labour applied to agriculture 40 per cent. during the same period. According to the same authority farm land land values, as indicated by rents and tithes, advanced 33 per cent. during the same period (an infallible sign of increased farmers' profits). The attempt to protect our farmers can never be successful as long as they produce a surplus for export.

The price paid for export will always govern the price paid for home consumption and that price will be fixed in the country that imports the largest amount of this surplus, which at present is Great Britain.

Attractive Women.

Why is one women attractive and another not? The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks and her vivacity. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Some are born with what is called "constitutional weakness." Those who do not enjoy perfect health, need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism.

NO REMEDY cures coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, etc., so well as Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It heals, soothes and strengthens the lungs and throat.

ON TRADE MATTERS

Did the Commoners Spend the Day Yesterday.

PREFERENTIAL TRADE RESOLUTION

Introduced by Mr. McNeill, Who Proposed a Small Duty Against Foreign Products in Favor of the Mother Country—The Hofmeyer Scheme.

Ottawa, March 23.—(Special.)—Mr. Laurier made one of his good-natured declarations in Parliament to-day, which seemed to put everybody in good humor, and shows that the Opposition leader reads the signs of the times. Rising on the orders of the day being called, he said: "I apprehend that the House is anxious to know from the leader of the House whether there is any truth in the rumor that a commission has been appointed to proceed to Winnipeg to confer with the Manitoba Government in respect to the Manitoba school question."

Sir Charles Tupper said, in reply to the leader of the Opposition: "I may say that such a delegation has been appointed, consisting of the Minister of Justice, the Minister of Militia and Sir D nald Smith, and it proceeded today to Winnipeg for the purpose of opening negotiations with the Government of Manitoba, wa ch,as this House is aware, has been good enough to adjourn the Legislature of Manitoba until the 16th day of April, instead of proroguing, as it had intended before these arrangements were made. I take this opportunity," remarked Sir Charles, "of saying how glad the Government will be to have the kind cooperation and influence of the leader of the Opposition, with his friends in the Government of Manitoba, in doing what he can to facilitate the object of the commission."

Mr. Laurier remarked: "I am glad to say that the hon. gentleman will have that, and always has had it. Although this is a tardy step, I think it is a most important step that they have taken of doing at last what they should have done long ago, in my estimation. I would further ask whether it is the intention of the Government to lay on the table of the House the commission and instructions given to the commissioners."

Sir Charles Tupper replied that the papers would be duly laid before the House.

Sir Charles Tupper, replying to Mr. Casey, stated that no allowance for house rent, traveling expenses, etc., had been made to Sir Charles Tupper while acting as High Commissioner without salary. The order-in-Council appointing him acting High Commissioner had been cancelled, and a new order passed requesting him to supervise the High Commissioner's office for the present.

Mr. Wood informed Mr. McShane that communications had been received from the theatrical managers and citizens of Montreal in reference to the existing duty on scenery, costumes, etc. Tariff changes on this subject were in contemplation.

Mr. McNeill rose to move "that it would be to the advantage of Canada and the empire as a whole that a small duty (irrespective of any existing tariff) be levied by each member of the empire against foreign products imported by them, and that the proceeds from such duties be devoted to purposes of Imperial intercommunication and defence." He referred at the outset to the two previous resolutions which he had moved for the furtherance of the cause of Imperial unity. The overwhelming importance of the subject and the urgency of the occasion led him to bring forward this subject to-day. Parliament had already pledged itself to the principle of Imperial reciprocity or preferential trade within the empire, and the resolution now before the House simply proposed to give effect to that principle. The originator of this scheme was Mr. Hofmeyer, the South African statesman. The proposal was that a duty of 5 per cent. should be levied on foreign imports over and above whatever tariffs might prevail in the different parts of the empire. The amount raised would be sufficient to defray the expenses of defence and allow subsidies for steamships and a balance to still remain. It was not proposed, of course, that the money raised in Canada should be spent by any other country than Canada. He proceeded to argue at considerable length in favor of his motion, and in conclusion said the time was when those who believed in the consolidation of the empire were considered vain dreamers, and were jeered and joked at, but all this was past now, and the trend of modern events justified the faith of those men who had advocated the scheme. (Cheers.)

Mr. Davin, in seconding the motion, said it was a good omen that the movement for Imperial federation should come from the colonies. Besides the commercial advantages which would result from the consolidation of the empire, there could be moral, national and Imperial advantages. He concluded by paying a tribute to Mr. McNeill for his earnest and convincing advocacy of the scheme.

Dr. Weldon, resuming the debate after recess, proceeded upon the presumption that the mover's estimate contemplated the raising of about enough by a preferential rate to pay the cost of militia and steamship subsidies. Five per cent. duty even would not leave much surplus above the cost of these two items, to be devoted to the larger Imperial defence. But five per cent. preferential duty would not be sufficient discrimination for Canadian trade, and he looked forward to a supplementary arrangement such as would improve trade with Australia and the British West Indies. Special benefits would follow a preferential trade arrangement with the West Indies, where 45 million dollars' worth of United States products was consumed annually, products which were raised in Canada abundantly. He concluded by suggesting that the good offices of the Colonial authorities be invoked to induce the representatives of the British West Indies to attend the Toronto Exhibition next year and confer with the Canadian commercial men with regard to the improvement of our trade relations.

Mr. Charlton said he sympathized with the motives of Mr. McNeill, though possibly he might not agree with the methods of carrying out the project. England's naval power was her national safeguard, and absolutely essential to the maintenance of her present position among the nations, but it was not incumbent on Canada to contribute towards the defence fund. Moreover, it could be shown that Canada had already made sufficient contribution towards it. If Canada could get preferential trade, it would be a good thing, but such treatment was highly improbable, as manufacturing England would not want to tax raw material or foodstuffs, or follow a course to lose the trade of foreign countries, which at present is the bulk of her trade. Carrying out in full the scheme proposed would lead to absolute imperial control and the abrogation of the self-governing powers of the colonies. The chief cause of Canada's debt was her contributions to the Imperial defence, the C.P.R., ocean steamships and defences at Esquimalt, and this was a fair share for her to give. While the union of the colonies would be of great event, an alliance to include the English-speaking people of the world, who live under the Stars and Stripes, would be greater.

Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., said he subscribed to everything Mr. McNeill had said, though, if he had been consulted, he would not have suggested the resolution in the shape in which it was offered to the House. The motion, which was in the form originally proposed by Mr. Hofmeyer, did not obtain much favor in England, though it had caused a good deal of discussion. While agreeing with Mr. McNeill on preferential trade, he would have suggested not coupling with it the part of the resolution to which Mr. Charlton had objected. The imposition of the duty proposed would not mean Imperial confederation to the central authority, but it meant the colonies should impose a duty of their own motion. It should not be spent for the common defence of the empire and be administered by the central authority, but should be expended in the country raising it, just as our present expenditure is made with respect to the militia and steamships. The defence of Canada or any other colony was the defence of the empire. The preferential trade question now was in such a position that it did not require the resolution proposed.

In season and out of season, the United Empire Trade League formed some years ago was urging the scheme, and with success. Its avowed policy is the imposition of duty on foreign goods imported into the empire, and allowing of goods from the colonies free entry. The development of the colonies was a matter of vital importance to Imperial trade. Between 1890 and 1894 British trade had fallen nearly £48,000,000 sterling, and the agriculturists of the British Isles were also found to be in a deplorable condition. On account of these two facts, attention was being drawn to the means of averting one and relieving the other, and many were now asking if it would not be better to pay a little more for a loaf and have something to buy it with than to be out of work altogether. On this account, renewed attention was being drawn to the scheme of preferential trade relations. He narrated the progress of the movement in England in favor of preferential trade during the past few years. The result of the last general election had had one overwhelming influence on the public mind in the Motherland.

From observations which he had been able to make, he had come to the conclusion that the trade question was the most potent influence in that election. The artizans of England had come to the conclusion that they were not getting fair play in the foreign markets, and consequently there was a great revulsion of feeling against free trade, which hitherto had been worshipped in Great Britain as a fetish. Lord Salisbury was prepared to give preferential trade a fair trial when the people of the United Kingdom were convinced of its advisability. Sir Charles called attention to the important conference of the Boards of Trades of the empire, to be held in London next June, when matters of interest to the empire would be discussed. He trusted every Board of Trade in Canada would send a representative to that conference.

Proceeding, he said, in view of the wonderful change of sentiment in favor of preferential trade, and the fact that the Mother Country was prepared to give full consideration to the scheme, no step should be taken calculated to paralyze this grand policy. Under preferential trade the Northwest would fill up, and Canada would advance with leaps and bounds. All patriotic Canadians should unite to push forward preferential trade.

Mr. Davies followed, taking exception to many of Sir Charles Tupper's statements because they were from a protectionist standpoint. Sir Charles Tupper said Manitoba produced as much wheat as England last year, but the fact was that Manitoba only produced half as much. If Sir Charles Tupper's other statements were on a par with this one, what dependence was to be placed on them? England had a period of depression from 1890 to 1894, but there was a revival last year, and, while protectionist countries had a deficit, England had a surplus of forty million dollars. The agriculturists of England wanted protection, but they objected to the competition of Canadian wheat as much as Argentine wheat. If Canada could secure an arrangement by which Canada's goods would be admitted free of duty into England and foreign goods taxed, there would undoubtedly be a benefit to Canada, but England's free trade policy stood in the way. Was it likely that England would give up her great foreign trade in order to secure the small trade of the colonies?

Mr. McNeill was surprised to hear Sir Charles Tupper say he had not been consulted regarding the form of the motion, and read a letter from him acknowledging receipt of a copy and promising to aid its passage through the House.

Mr. Powell said the first faint glimmerings of this question as a practical [illegible] could not be ours, but our [illegible] to enjoy. He moved the adjournment of the debate, and the motion [illegible] House [illegible]

SAD FATALITY AT WHITBY.

John Tremear Struck by a G.T.R. Train and Lived Only an Hour.

Whitby, March 23.—John Tremear, a teamster for E. A. Blow, while trying to drive a sleigh load of coal across the Byron-street crossing of the G.T.R. this morning, became stuck with the horses standing on the rail. The local going west being about due to pass, Tremear endeavored to save his horses by unhitching them, but before he could get them free, the locomotive struck the off horse killing it, and throwing its mate and Tremear against the railway fence.

Tremear was insensible when picked up, and on being examined by medical men, it was found that an artery at the base of the skull had been torn open. He died within an hour.

His wife is in very delicate health, and may not recover from the shock of her husband's sudden death.

Tremear was a Mason and a member of the Sons of England.

A Letter for Mr. Joseph Wegg.

Miss E. G. Wegg, of Canastota, N. Y., has a brother residing in or near Peterborough. The EXAMINER would be glad to have him call at this office for a letter addressed, care of EXAMINER Office, to Mr. Jos. Wegg.

Presbyterian Home Missions

Rev. Dr. Torrance was in attendance at the meeting of the Home Mission Committee held in Toronto Monday evening. The sum of $350 was apportioned the Presbytery of Peterborough for work done in the mission field for the half year just ended.

Held up and Robbed.

Mr. Robt. Dowling, says the Havelock Standard, spent a week with his brother in London. While there he met a couple of strangers who relieved him of his purse. He was invited to take a walk, which he did, and coming to a convenient place his nose was placed on the barrel of a revolver and almost as quickly was he greeted with the words "ante up." He did it.

See the Windows.

Look at the $10 dinner sets at China Hall if you want the bargain of your lifetime. A few of them are displayed in the Simcoe street show windows and it is worth your while looking at them. Inside we have new goods arriving daily now. A pretty lot of brass goods passed the customs to-day. Visit the store often. We like people to look through and admire or criticise.

Expect Good Prices.

Farmers in this district who patronize cheese factories will require to receive a good price for all the cheese made next season to repay them for the outlay to which they have been put this winter. The majority who have any number of cattle have been obliged to purchase hay at a fancy price to feed to their stock. By the time spring opens up and pasturage is secured each head of cattle will stand its owner a good figure. For this reason it is expected cheese sales will open up at high quotations. Whether or not they will continue high remains to be seen.

Margin on the Wrong Side.

The cheese speculators are said to have dropped quite a sum of money this winter. One had 800 boxes in cold storage, on which he dropped on an average of two dollars a box. Early in the season he was offered his own money for the lot, but demanded an eighth of a cent more. He sold for three-eighths less than he paid for the commodity. The other speculator was more fortunate. He sold earlier and dropped, it is said, about five hundred dollars. A local buyer said to-day, that the manner in which cheese speculation is carried on is nothing more than flagrant gambling.

Improvements are Necessary.

Said a Kingston cheese dealer this morning: "If cheesemakers in this district want to demand top market prices for their output they will have to improve their factories. It is well known that cheese made in the vicinity of Kingston is not as good as made in other parts of Ontario. There is just as good material here as elsewhere. The fault lies with the factories; they are not 'up-to-date'; are not sufficiently modern, nor have they the best appliances obtainable for the production of cheese. As I said before if cheesemakers want to demand the best prices for their product they must improve their factories.

The Hyslop Bicycle.

Samples of this leading high class wheel, which has been the subject of so much favourable comment around town for the past two weeks, have just arrived, and may be seen at the hardware store of Messrs. Kingan & Allan, hardware merchants. The manufacturers have advised their local agents that the remarkable demand which has already sprung up for their 1896 wheels has made it difficult to keep sufficient stock on hand to fill early orders. Those, therefore, contemplating buying a Hyslop are advised to file their orders without delay. Messrs. Kingan & Allan are also sole agents for another high grade wheel—the Welland Vale—of St. Catharines, which is scoring many favourites this year. dtf

Robert Hall's Spring Dress Goods.

The ladies will find much to interest and please their best taste in the attractive styles of new spring dress fabrics shown this season by Robert Hall, 385 George street. This firm's constant aim is to excel in dress goods. The highest class weaves of an exclusive character are sure to occupy a conspicuous place at Robt. Hall's. Almost everything shown has the flash of the silky lustre about it. Mohairs are in the lead, being shown in many patterns from the brightest to the most delicate of hues. The beautiful silk and mohair mixtures, brilliant, plain mohairs, etc., reveal only some of the types of [illegible] in the trade of style. [illegible] should make an early [illegible]

LECTURE ON LUTHER.

Delivered by Rev. H. Symonds, Last Evening, in St. Paul's.

Rev. H. Symonds delivered a profoundly instructive address on "Luther and the German Reformation," last evening, in St. Paul's church. The large attendance was significant of the interest aroused in the subject and of the fact that it was known that a capable speaker would present the question in the most interesting possible light. The subject was treated historically and does not admit of a condensed report.

During the evening several ancient hymns were sung, one of which was composed by the great Luther himself.

A union choir, representative of the different churches, was in attendance and in the early portion of the evening sang the anthem, "Behold How Good and Pleasant a Thing It Is." Mr. J. Crane, of St. Paul's, presided at the organ with his usual acceptability.

A Local Fashionable Event.

The ladies are promised the grandest millinery opening of local importance this spring, at the showrooms of Robert Hall, 385 George street. An exposition has been arranged for on a scale of grandeur surpassing anything hitherto attempted in Peterborough. The ladies will not fail to note the dates fixed for this opening occasion, and commencing Wednesday, March 25th, continuing until the end of the week.

A Monstrosity.

On Monday last Mr. Alexander Ellis, of Verulam, butchered a fat heifer which had she lived three or four months longer, would have given birth to a calf with two distinct and perfect necks and heads, and with a tail which a short distance below the roots, branched off into two. If the creature had been born alive and grown up, it would have been worth a small fortune, and with two mouths to eat with and a couple of fly dispersers, would have been twice as well off as an ordinary animal of its species. The little monster was brought to the Falls, and we hear that it is to be stuffed or preserved in some other manner.—Fenelon Falls Gazette.

A Canuck in Texas.

The illustrated souvenir issue of the Laredo (Texas) Daily Times, amongst cuts of its prominent citizens prints a portrait of a former Peterborough boy, Mr. R. H. Lithgow, formerly with Taylor & Macdonald, and the following sketch: "Mr. R. H. Lithgow, the proprietor of the City Drug Co., was born and studied pharmacy in his native town of Peterborough, Canada. He went to New York city when about 20 years of age and remained there eight years. He then resolved to see the world and travelled in Europe and South America, went three times to California, worked at his profession in Brooklyn, Jacksonville, Florida, New Orleans, Kansas City, Wamego, Kas., Salina, Kas., Albuquerque, N. M., El Paso, and five years ago he settled down in Laredo. Dr. Lithgow is enterprising, is a bachelor, and takes great pride in his grape farm and summer cottage at North Laredo.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness, nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Not one in a thousand does do it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them innutritions matter and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

A Coming Event.

The announcement that Miss Beverley Robinson, the charming Canadian prima donna, will appear in Peterborough Friday, March 27th, will be received with much pleasure in musical as well as social circles. Miss Robinson is the youngest daughter of the Hon. John Beverley Robinson, formerly Lieut.-Governor of Ontario. She is spending the winter in Canada after a musical career in London, England, where she won many notable successes. She returns to England in April, and her appearance here will be one of the last before her departure. Miss Robinson will be assisted by Miss Ada Hart, solo pianist, who has lately returned from a three years' course with the famous Leschetitzky (teacher of Paderewski) of Vienna, and by Miss Evelyn de Latre Street, daughter of Justice Street, solo violinist, whose genius is well known. Walter H. Robinson, who has already made a name with his fine tenor voice, will also assist. Miss Beverley Robinson [illegible] This plan is opened at Ormond & [illegible] and those who desire [illegible] should make an early [illegible]

THE SINGLE TAX DEBATE.

An Interesting Evening at the Catholic Literary Society's Weekly Entertainments—Single Tax Does not Meet Popular Approval.

The announced debate on the Single Tax question attracted a large audience to the C. L. A. rooms, last night. Mr. J. Daly occupied the chair.

The subject of the debate and the well known interest in the question taken by the orators of the evening lent particular interest to the chief feature of the evening. The subject was

"Resolved that single tax is preferable to our present mode of taxation."

Mr. Jos. Landy, the most ardent propagandist of the single tax theory in town, and Mr. Geo. Ball, who has deeply studied the subject, were the champions of the single tax, and Mr. L. R. Keough and Mr. J. P. Bryson upheld the present system. At times during the evening there was considerable interest excited showing that there were many taxpayers in the audience.

Mr. Jos. Landy opened the debate, referring to the wonderful progress of invention in all departments of life. He also contrasted the condition of the working classes whose struggle for bread was daily growing sterner with the condition of the wealthier classes. The poor were being made poorer on account of burdensome and one-sided taxation, and this system must be replaced by the principle of the single tax, or civilization would perish.

Mr. L. R. Keough was the next speaker, and characterized the remarks of the previous speaker as mere assertions unsupported by proof. He showed that so far single tax was a theory and must yet be subjected to a practical test.

Mr. Geo. Ball's speech showed that he had devoted much study to the subject. He adduced a mass of figures and statistics to show the injustice of the present system and the benefits of single tax. He particularly referred to New Zealand, where the single tax system prevailed and worked well. He showed that in British Columbia the present system permitted capitalists to buy land at $1 an acre, which was afterwards sold to the settler for $25 per acre. He cited instances of concentrated wealth and wide-spread poverty in the United States. In the one case the wealthy man paid taxes on about one-tenth of the value of his property, while the poor man was taxed at the rate of 70 to 90 per cent. of the market value of his little property. Thus the incidence of taxation was light on the rich and heavy on the poor.

Mr. J. P. Bryson followed Mr. Ball and dealt, in figures, with the previous speaker's remarks in reference to wealthy Americans, and generally put up a strong defence of the present system of taxation. He characterized single tax as a fraudulent scheme. If the single tax system had one-tenth of the merit his opponents gave it, it would be now generally adopted, and he purported to show that this was not the case.

The decision was left to the judges, Messrs. Ingram, Rudkins and Sheehy, who suggested the advisability of reserving judgment for a future evening, if the audience so desired, but the latter evidently wished the matter settled out of hand, and by consent a verdict was rendered for the negative, with the understanding that the debate of the subject should be resumed later, as one evening was insufficient to exhaust its interest. During the debate the speakers were heartily applauded as they scored good points.

In the course of the evening a very pleasing musical programme was contributed by the Misses Doherty and Kelly, and on the whole a delightful and profitable evening was spent.

PERSONAL.

Mr. James Ryan was in Lindsay yesterday.

Mr. George Garbutt is down in Belleville for a few days.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., has been confined to his room since Friday with a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Graham have returned to town after spending a day or two with Omemee friends.

Mr. Robt. Wilson and his daughter, Miss Ada, who were visiting in Omemee last week, have returned to town.

Mr. F. J. Rogers, the new manager of the Bank of Montreal, accompanied by Mrs. Rogers, is in town for a day or two. He will not, however, enter upon his new duties for some little time.

The Kingston Whig says:—Mr. T. H. Hamilton, manager of the Peterborough hockey team, is in the city. He witnessed the match at the rink, last night, between the Rockwoods and Crescents.

The Omemee Mirror says:—Rev. W. R. Young, of Peterborough, gave an interesting and instructive address to a large congregation in the Methodist church, at one of the special services last week.

The Hamilton Herald thus speaks of a former principal of the Collegiate Institute:—"Rev. J. H. Long, of Hamilton, ought to be in the Canadian House of Commons. He is a born politician and debater, and knows how to say things with vigour and eloquence." How long would Mr. Long hold together under the wear and tear of practical politics at Ottawa?

The Fenelon Falls Gazette says: Mr. Fred. W. Stewart, superintendent of Howry & Son's planing mill, left on Friday for Peterborough to meet his father, Mr. Geo. A. Stewart, C.E., who was visiting relatives in that town. Mr. Stewart, Sr., who formerly resided in Peterborough, has been for some years Superintendent of the Dominion Park at Banff, in the Rocky Mountains. Mr. F. W. Stewart returned to the Falls on Monday.

No Disappointment.

Disappointments of one kind and another crop up all along life's pathway, for unfortunately it is the unexpected that always happens. There is at least one article of acknowledged merit that never disappoints. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is sure to remove the worst corns in a few days, and as no claim is made that it will cure anything else, it cannot disappoint. If you have hard or soft corns just try it. Beware of the article "just as good." N. C. Polson & Co., proprietors, Kingston.

HONOURABLY ACQUITTED.

The Defence Not Even Heard in the Boyd Case This Morning.

Mr. John Boyd, butcher, who conducts a business on the corner of Hunter and Queen streets, was before Judge Weller this morning on the charge of the larceny of three cattle.

The circumstances of the case are already well known. Boyd purchased the cattle from Mr. Jabez Reid and paid $10 on the bargain, on the understanding that the balance would be paid at a later date. The cattle were driven into town by a couple of lads who refused to deliver them until the money still owing was paid. They could show no authority for the demand and Mr. Boyd having occasion to use the beef immediately, took the animals and slaughtered them. Hence the origin of the charge.

Mr. Boyd was committed for trial by Magistrate Dumble.

This morning, after hearing the evidence which the Crown adduced, Judge Weller dismissed the case without calling upon the defence to produce any testimony whatever, which practically absolves Mr. Boyd entirely from any guilt in the affair. The Judge pointed out that larceny consisted in the getting possession of an article "fraudulently or without colour of right." In this case it certainly had not been shown that any fraud had been committed and in his opinion the prisoner did not take the cattle without a certain amount of right.

Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the prosecution and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun for the defence.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 33 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

NEW SPRING BABY CARRIAGES.

Dozens of styles at a modest price. Some tasty and neat—more handsome and stylish. The prices match. See our stock before placing the baby on wheels.

Besides the baby's health demands a Baby Carriage, after being housed all winter. It will do the parents credit and the baby justice to have a neat, well upholstered Baby Cab to roll along in the procession under the bright Easter day sun.

So much the more does a new and handsome Carriage become imperative if the baby is a new one. The old one (that is the old Carriage) is shabby and persists in running crooked. If we could start life over again every one of us would insist on riding in a Baby Carriage and a new one at that.

Prices are away below values—forty different styles—$5.00 to $20.00.

The sale of Pure Gold Baking Powder in Peterborough was not large. It was to be found only in two Grocery stores. But we knew we had a good thing and we began energetically to say so. The people began to realize that it was a good thing. They became convinced of its sterling qualities and they have grown to like it so that that it is now sold by every first-class Grocer in town.

Oh! fine, and delicate, and manifold, and much entangled are the tissues of life which surround us; . . . he who walks through life with an even temper and a gentle patience, patient with himself, patient with others, patient with difficulties and crosses, he has an everyday greatness beyond that which is won in battles or chanted in cathedrals.

Board of Trade.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trade will be held this evening for the election of officers and other business. The brief notice which is given of the Board's meetings has had the tendency lately to greatly reduce the attendance.

Bitten by His Horse.

On Monday morning, while in the act of feeding his horse, Mr. Samuel Dorland, of Havelock, received an ugly bite. The horse grabbed him by the cheek and ear, tearing off the lower portion of his ear and making a deep cut in his cheek. The horse was never known to bite before.

A Cordial Invitation

Is extended to the ladies of Peterborough to inspect the gorgeous display of London and Parisian trimmed hats and pattern bonnets, millinery trimmings, ornaments and artistic novelties which will be the leading features at Robert Hall's millinery opening, to take place on Wednesday, March 25th, and following days of the week. The imported mantles and capes to be shown are all this year's newest styles, and will prove to be the most select and exclusive in every respect. 3d

Surprise Party.

Over twenty of the Canton friends loaded their baskets on Wednesday evening, 18th inst., slipped down the ice covered creek and quietly put their horses under the ample shelter of Mr. Asa Choate's stables at Belmont. They then took their good things in hand and marched down and really surprised Mr. Harry Williams and wife, who thought their friends at their own homes until they began to sing in front of the house, "We won't go home till morning." A very pleasant sociable evening with music and game was spent. The baby was not forgotten, for a pretty suit was found in the surprise outfit for the little daughter.

The Fashions at Miss Rudkins.

Miss Rudkins makes her first opening display of new millinery, etc., on Monday, March 25th, to which she cordially invites the ladies. Her handsome, well lighted, plate glass show rooms will be a new attraction of special interest to the ladies this season. Miss Rudkins has also received from New York a number of handsomely coloured fashion plates depicting the newest dress costumes, hats and parasols, trimmings, etc., in vogue this season. An inspection of these plates by the ladies will reveal a richness of the new and wonderful silky colour combinations which are produced in the dress fabrics of the day, as well as the pronounced changes in the styles of dressmaking, millinery, parasols, etc. 3d

Came Into a Fortune.

Another Orillian, says the News Letter, upon whom the fickle goddess has smiled liberally is Mrs. Chas. Robinson, a trained nurse who came here from Peterborough two years ago. By the death of her uncle, the late John Galbraith, Esq., Q. C., a wealthy bachelor residing in Nenagh, Tipperary, Ireland, Mrs. Robinson comes into possession of a handsome competency. Mrs. Robinson is of Irish birth, having been born in Nenagh, Tipperary, and a devout member of the Church of England. She resided for many years in Peterborough where her two step sons, Messrs. Harry and Wm. Robinson, both well-to-do business men, reside. Mrs. Robinson, during her stay in Orillia, made many warm friends, who will regret to hear of her intention to return to Peterborough.

That Diamond Dyes are Far Superior to all Others.

It is the easiest matter in the world to dye with the Diamond Dyes, as thousands of women know from practical experience and in this way, one can make old clothing look like new, and save a great many dollars in the course of the year. One ten cent package of Diamond Dyes often saves the cost of a new gown, for it makes the old one look like new. Mrs. Alex. McGillis, Winnipeg, Man., says:—"Your Diamond Dyes are home treasures. I have have used them with great success for many years. The colours are fast and beautiful, and washing cannot change them. I would send miles for Diamond Dyes rather than bother with the worthless imitations if sent to me free of cost.'

THE WHEEL.

The Globe says:—"The contention of Peterborough that the 510 new members of the association added by Quebec are not eligible to vote because of their not having been members in good standing on March 15, will hardly be sustained. To be entitled to vote at the Good Friday meeting a bicyclist has to be a member of the association two weeks before the above date, and as the addition to the Quebec list was not published until the March 2nd issue of the official organ they were therefore one day short of the necessary two weeks, but as the 15th fell on Sunday they would be entitled to an extension to the following day.

The elements that enter into the meet prob'em are few, says the Toronto Globe, but they make it a most difficult one to solve. It will not be until the "Good Friday accounting" that "sure-winners" can verify their tips. Both Peterborough and Quebec are confident that they will land the great prize, but are not neglecting anything that will improve their chances. The signs of relenting that the railway companies are showing in the matter of a reduction of the rate will give Quebec stock a material boom. The changes in the complexion of affairs have been of the kaleidoscopic variety; first it was Quebec then Peterborough, and now it is the ancient city again. Peterborough counts on having a majority of 500, basing their calculations on the probability that they will succeed in knocking out the 500 new votes that Quebec recently added to its list. Whether they will do so remains to be seen, but it is extremely unlikely. Assuming that all the east, Ottawa, the Territories, Manitoba, British Columbia, Nova Scotia and the Hamilton Clubs, Waterloo and Torontos, Wanderers, British America and Q O.R. Clubs of Toronto support Quebec, Peterborough will still flash past the judge's stand a winner by a narrow margin, as the following table shows:—

For Peterborough:— Districts.
Huron	1 208
Niagara	669
Toronto	356
Central	347
Quinte	696
Total	3 277
For Quebec:— Districts.
Niagara	447
Toronto	423
Ottawa	407
Montreal	302
Sherbrooke	111
Quebec	609
New Brunswick	215
Nova Scotia	109
Manitoba	191
Northwest	107
Pacific	171
Total	3 179

It would only be natural that the Ottawa wheelmen should accord their support to Quebec, owing to their proximity to that city, but that they will do so is only a matter of conjecture. The Athenæums of Toronto are undecided, and until Good Friday it will not be known which way they will vote. Barring a big slump somewhere Peterborough ought to win—but that was said last year, and they didn't.

"A new and striking invention for bicycles in the '96 market," said Dixie Hines, the well known cycling authority, "is the double quint, made for ten riders on one machine. This of course can only be used on straight roads, as it cannot be turned on a third of a mile track. The double quint is intended for straight away racing, and although its possibilities have not yet been tested, it is claimed that a faster mile than ever was before accomplished can be made by its use. Experts say that it will make a mile in 30 seconds, thus excelling both steam and electricity. The riders on the sextuplet for six were recently thrown in making the turn on a third of a mile track in California.

The Mail and Empire sizes up the situation as appended;

Totals	6,554	5,459	3,036	2,413

Majority for Peterborough, 623.

This summary gives Quebec half of the Niagara District vote and half of the Toronto vote. If the high rate to Quebec maintains Quebec is not likely to get nearly the number of votes accorded to them in these districts. In Quebec the 543 votes protested by Peterborough as being unconstitutional are not counted, and in most cases the votes of unattached riders are not figured. Quebec is given the vote of the distant districts, though it is not certain that those in the far Western districts will be solid for them.

PETERBOROUGH'S SIDE OF IT.

To the Sporting Editor:

SIR,—As the date of the annual C. W. A. meeting approaches the interest in the several contests becomes keener, especially as to the location of the annual race meet. There are three points necessary for a successful meet, viz., railway facilities, hotel accommodation, and race track. Let us compare the two cities that are in the race.

Railways—Peterborough certainly has the call in this, having both C. P. R. and G. T. R. entering the town, and being centrally located, a low rate is assured. The trains make the run to and from Toronto in about 2 1 2 hours. Quebec is about 20 hours' run from Toronto, and only the C.P.R. enters the city. The best rate from Toronto to Quebec the railways would give is $10.30, with $4 more added for sleepers, making $14.30. Now, unless the boys are pretty well fixed, they will have nothing left after paying fares.

Hotels—We will admit that Quebec has more hotels than we have, but we claim we have better hotel accommodation than the majority of towns that have had the meet in the past, and we certainly have at least one-third more hotel accommodation than Waterloo and Berlin, where the last meet was held. Then, again, every street and road in this city and vicinity can be visited by a wheelman on his wheel. How about Quebec in that respect?

Track—Just a few remarks from racing men, and "big guns" of the association will do:

"I would like to go against the Canadian ½-mile record on this track to-day."—T. B. McCarthy, at Peterborough, August 16, 1895. He tied the record. His time was .59 2 5 secs.

"I will furnish my own pace-makers, and break the Canadian record for one mile, or get no reward."—C. R. Coulter, at Peterborough, August 30, 1895. He broke it; time, 1.57 4 5.

"I prefer going for records on your track to any other in Canada."—Harley Davidson. He got them.

"When I saw the Quebec track last summer it was vile. Don't know what has been done to it since."—Hal B. Douly, Toronto, March 19.

ARE THE POINTS OF THE

"RED-BIRD"

The general public invariably choose the simple and effectual device, and condem the absurdity of additions and multiplications. Simplicity is always a matter of subtraction rather than additions.

In search of the best whenever personal influence does not blind the sight, men's progress, from the complex to the simple.

Another important point is having the whole wheel made by the one firm. The chain and sprocket wheel require to be made by one man, as otherwise they never run perfectly. The man that invented the Wilson Chain made the Cyclodial Sprocket to fit the chain both on the RED-BIRD and no others.

SIRDAR STARTS FOR WADY HALFA.

Gen. Kitchener on His Way to the Egyptian Post Boundary of the Soudan.

Cairo, March 22.—Gen. Kitchener, sirdar of the Egyptian army, and Siatin Pasha of the Army Intelligence Department started last night for Wady Halfa, the Egyptian post on the boundary of the Soudan. The North Staffordshire Regiment, numbering 900 officers and men, started to-day for Girgeh, where they will embark on steamers for the journey up the Nile for Wady Halfa.

A Sikh regiment from India, that is ultimately to take part in the operations, arrived at Mombasa, East Africa, on March 15. They will remain there for a time, and will be employed in operations against one of the native chiefs who is in rebellion against the British.

Washington, March 22.—The Turkish Legation received the following telegram to-day: "The day before yesterday an Armenian having wounded with a pistol shot a Mussulman at Kilis, a brawl took place between Mussulmans and Armenians. Of the latter eight were killed and ten wounded. Four Mussulmans were also wounded. The authors of this incident were immediately arrested and sent to prison for trial. All goods that were stolen from a few shops were since discovered and restored to their owners."

A BRIGHT GIRL SUICIDES.

She Inhaled Gas From a Tube and When Found Was Dead.

New York, March 22.—Hattie Harper, a bright school girl of 14, committed suicide yesterday by inhaling gas, at the residence of her uncle, B. B. Harper, 73 Division-avenue. She attached one end of a rubber tube to a gas stove and placed the other end in her mouth. When found she was lying on the floor dead. The cause of the act is unknown, but it was deliberate, for she left the following written message: "Took gas; good-bye." She was a girl of a sunny disposition and appeared to be quite happy. Two weeks ago she read an account of the suicide of a little girl of 16 by asphyxiation, and the details appeared to affect her greatly at the time, though the impression was thought to have passed away.

RESCUED FROM INSANITY.

GENTLEMEN,—To say all I ought to in favour of B. B. B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it. I am a different man to what I was ten years ago when it was expected I would be in the asylum, but now I am in perfect robust health and it was the B.B.B. that did it. I suffered for five or six years from constipation, sometimes so severely that I went out of my mind.

I tried various doctors, both in the country and in the city, and took medicines too numerous to mention, but everything failed to have the desired effect. When I used Burdock Blood Bitters it succeeded beyond all expectations, requiring only two bottles to cure. To make it still more certain that B. B. B. the real cure for constipation, I may say that some two years afterwards, I felt the symptoms returning and took one bottle more and from that time to the present day (over eight years) I have never had any returns of the disease.

I never knew any medicine to work so well. It does not seem to be a mere reliever but a sure and certain cure as I can testify to, for hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine and advice failed to do me any good, but three dollars' worth of B.B.B. made a permanent cure that has given me years of health and comfort. Yours truly,

C. L. KILMER, Toronto.

ITALIAN CREDITS ADOPTED.

Prime Minister Di Rudini Says England Completes Italy's Alliances.

Rome, March 21.—The Chamber of Deputies to-day approved of the African credits by a large majority after rejecting by a vote of 219 to 119 a hostile motion made by Signor Sonnino, ex-Minister of the Treasury. In the course of a speech on the credits, Prime Minister Di Rudini attacked the Socialists. He said the Government regarded the friendship of England as completing Italy's alliances. He expressed pleasure because of the friendly attitude of the British Parliament. After the adoption of the credits, the Chamber adjourned until April 28.

HER BLOOMERS.

Won When Her Desire Was Attained Something Was Lacking.

She was attired in her new bloomers, and she seemed to be proud of them.

"Well," he said, after he had surveyed the new costume critically, "I suppose you are happy now."

"No-o; not exactly," she replied slowly.

"Why, you must have the freedom of movement for which you have longed all your life," he exclaimed.

"Yes, I have that," she admitted.

"You have always been complaining that a woman was too much hampered by her skirts," he persisted.

"It's true, too," she asserted.

"Ever since you were a little girl," he went on, "you say you have had a longing to play leap-frog and all such games every time you saw the boys doing it."

"I admit it," she said.

"And you always thought it unjust that you should be deprived of such sport because you were a girl."

"It did seem so."

"Well, now that you have got your bloomers, I suppose there is no reason why you shouldn't play leap-frog, if you want to. Why don't you do it?"

"Because, now that I can, I don't see any fun in it. I—I—don't think much of bloomers, anyway."—Cincinnati Post.

South American Nervine.
The Great Health Restorer of the Century.
Sickness Cannot Cope With It.
Has Cured the Worst Cases on Record.
Cures at the Nerve Centres and Thus Cures Permanently.
A Wonderful Specific in All Cases of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Nervousness and General Debility.
Has No Equal as a Spring Medicine.

There is a great deal of uncertainty in the methods adopted to remove disease. Doctors are not free from this kind of thing themselves. The poor patient has to put up with a good deal of experimenting. The discoverer of South American Nervine takes too serious a view of life to play pranks of this kind. He does not think that these human bodies of ours should be fooled with. He has recognized that they are subject to disease, but, by scientific methods, he has learned that just as the watch is to be put in perfect repair only when the main-spring is kept in running order, so with the individual, he remains in perfect health only when the nerve centres are kept healthful and strong.

What disease is more distressing than indigestion or dyspepsia? Some simple remedy may be given to cause relief for the moment. Nervine is an indisputably successful remedy for the worst cases of indigestion, because it reaches the source of all stomach troubles—the nerve centres. Indigestion exists because the vital forces have become diseased and are weakened. Nervine builds up the nerve centres, from which come these forces, removes the causes of indigestion, and then builds up the health completely.

How many systems are run down through nervousness. A stimulant may give ease, but it will not cure nervous troubles. Nervine has cured more desperate cases of nervousness than any other medicine anywhere. And it does so for the same reason that it cures indigestion. The nerve centres are deranged, or there would be no victims of nervousness. Nervine rebuilds and strengthens the nerve tissues, and hence its marvellous powers in diseases of this kind.

In the spring of the year the strongest suffer from general debility. The blood, through neglect, has become impoverished, and the whole system gets out of order. We speak of it as a spring medicine. Nervine restores the exhausted vital forces that have led to this tired, don't-care, played-out, miserable condition. No one can take a bottle of Nervine at this season of the year without disease quickly giving way to abounding health.

The moral is plain, simple and readily understood. If you would not trifle with disease, then you will take South American Nervine, which will not trifle with you.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another hale and hearty at 80? The accident of birth has something to do with it. Some men are born stronger than others, but frequently the strong man becomes weak and the weak man strong. It depends on the care he takes of himself. When the man who runs an engine hears an unusual sound about it, he stops immediately and looks it up. If he finds a little looseness, or a little crack, it is remedied immediately. If it isn't, there will come a break presently—a break that will wreck the engine. Likely as not, this same man will totally ignore the call for help from some one of his own organs. He will let the trouble grow and grow until it lays him out in bed. If he keeps on working with a damaged body, he will soon wear it out. The strain on his nerves will tell on his constitution. He will not be hearty when he is old. The chances are he never will be old at all. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery restores health. It is not only a cure for disease, it is a preventive. Whenever a man feels that he is not quite as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he is losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs the "Golden Medical Discovery." No matter how his trouble shows itself, this wonderful remedy will cure him. We say it is wonderful because of its wonderful results, and not because there is anything supernatural about it—not because it does anything that is unexpected, or anything which its discoverer did not mean it to do. That it cures many different so-called diseases is the most natural thing in the world when you understand that nearly all diseases spring from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure. No disease of the blood can withstand its action.

Learn more about it from Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, profusely illustrated, which will be sent free on receipt of thirty-one (31) one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

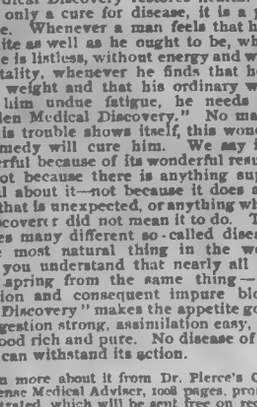
NEW STYLES FOR MEN

THIS SPRING'S PRONOUNCED SHAPES AND SHADES OF NECKWEAR.

"String" Ties Are in Demand—Colored Shirts Will be More Popular Than Ever Before and Shades of Green Will be Much More Worn.

In former years it was not customary for spring styles much before Easter. By common consent, that day seemed to be settled upon as the proper time for casting off the old things and putting on the new, and (here in New York) it was quite the thing to visit the fashionable churches on Easter day just to see the new fads and fashions. This is not the case now. Dealers in men's outfitting goods have learned that their patrons were looking for new articles of dress soon after New Year's day and have found it to their interest to supply this demand. Hence the leading outfitters and haberdashers are already making elaborate displays of furnishing goods suitable for early spring wear.

One of the leading shapes in neckwear is the flowing end four-in-hand. It differs from that worn last season in that the ends are much wider and are pointed, the long end measuring twelve inches across and the short one ten inches; they are folded to about half this width to avoid showing the wrong side of the material. This scarf is fifty inches long; the band one and one-eighth inches at the narrowest part and graduating to two inches where it ties, in a small, crunched, round knot, the ends well drawn down and spread over the shirt front. The nature of this neckdress requires a soft pure silk, as satin cannot be tied to produce the same graceful folds and is apt to look set and stiff. The liberal quantity of material used makes this scarf an expensive one.



A NEW MADE-UP TIE.

Another scarf which is shown is similar in its general outlines, but the ends are narrower, both measuring six and one-half inches at the widest; they are square and do not fold over, thus showing the wrong side of the silk. This scarf, as it takes much less material, is less expensive and will be quite popular.

The De Joinville or long scarf is another very desirable self-tying style, although not new, strictly speaking, having received its greatest popularity last fall. It is so well liked that it is shown again in endless varieties of colorings and designs and will remain in style at least during all this season. To facilitate its easy handling and tying by the wearers, the dealers are having a number folded, tacked and stitched, enough for at least a day's consumption, virtually turning them into square flowing end scarfs. Good dressers always prefer to tie their own scarfs, hence with this class the three shapes mentioned will be the most desirable.

For those who do not and often cannot spare the time to educate themselves in the mysteries of tying the various shapes introduced from season to season the made-up knots and puffs are provided. Manufacturers are experimenting continually produce the closest imitations of self-tied shapes. Thus two knots are shown this season which, when on, can hardly be distinguished from the hand tied. One has a small, round crunched-up knot or head piece, with large, flowing ends, pointed aprons, in imitation of the first self-tied flowing end, and the other is quite smaller, but with square ends, they are very graceful and stylish and are already going off freely.

The regular four-in-hand scarf, which has been worn now for a number of years, will continue to be used, though not so freely as formerly, and largely of the reversible kind, made from the English foulard twill. This material is specially adapted to this shape. It comes in various qualities and the cheaper grades are sometimes confounded with those more expensive, as they look very similar when new, but in the long run the best is by far the most economical. This material really never wears out, it can be worn a long time before it creases, it is soft and pliable and it can be washed to look as good as new. The proper size this season is 2 1-4 by 44 inches. The ends are pointed or square, both forms being in style.

This same material is virtually the only one used for the Ascot scarf, which is also made reversible. The correct size is 3 by 50 inches. While this shape cannot be said to be a popular one, it is a fact that it is rarely worn except by men who are correct dressers, and who follow good form in all that pertains to elegance and tone. The Ascot may be called an aristocratic scarf; it is expensive, and it looks out of place except with a good suit of clothes.

The puff scarf, which is a made-up shape in imitation of the Ascot, is not considered a good spring style; it has a heavy, warm appearance, and looks best when worn with a heavy overcoat. It is worn in Europe, however, and dealers believe it to be the coming shape for fall, hence, a modified puff is introduced this spring; not large enough to cover the shirt front, and those who delight in wearing really novel neckwear and take a satisfaction in helping to set the fashion are wearing puffs.

So-called "string ties," in various styles, will have the greatest call this spring, after the season is somewhat more advanced. They can be worn with any collar, with any suit of clothes, and under all circumstances. The most popular shapes and sizes are 1 1-4 inches wide at the ends, 1 1-2 inches in the centre and 34 to 35 inches long. They are made reversible; the ends are square or pointed, the former preferred, and are left open and hemmed. While soft silk is the most used, and more particularly English foulard, satins are also shown and look very well, though, as stated above, silk and not satin is the chief material for neckwear this season. The newest and most desirable colors are in dark myrtle green, figured with gold, lilac, crimson and white; maroon and sultan red, figured with apple green, sky blue, pearl and olive; navy blue, figured with white, cardinal, gold and sky pale lilac, figured with apple geeen, cardinal, gold and lilac. In light grounds they are white, figured with apple green, lilac, crimson and royal blue; wood brown, figured similarly; pale lilac, figured with apple green, crimson, gold and myrtle green. Set and medium blue grounds having cluster stripes of fine raised cords, the pink with dark red and the blue with navy blue. Also the same colored grounds with neat little figures of darker shades. The variety of these is very large, the patterns being formed of irregular cluster stripes and small figures. Spots and plain checks figures in these such as diamonds, clover leaves, rosebuds, small sprays of French lilies are especially new and in good taste. "Raving," and "all over" figures in entirely new combinations of colors are good, but they were much worn last year. Foulards are the exception as to special patterns. These sell in almost all combinations and the variety is so very large as almost to bewilder the seeker after new things. Specially desirable in foulards this season are the so-called old India, Turkish and Paisley effects. In the first mentioned, the colors are usually bright green or blue, figured with turkey red and old yellow, and although they are at first sight rather pronounced, even startling, the fact that they are much worn on the other side and in this country by the best-dressed men is sufficient guarantee that they will become popular.

It is said by leading haberdashers that this will be the greatest season for the wear of colored shirts ever known, and, judging from the universal display and immense variety of English and French colored shirtings, this seems very likely to be true. One reason why men, who formerly could not be induced to wear them, will have them now, is that it is now considered the proper thing to wear white collars with them. For men of quiet tastes, fine black and navy hair lines on white ground are in order. For men who are fond of a little more display, cluster stripes of navy, pink and black, on white ground, with delicate richochet and other designs of raised cords between the stripes, are new; also pink seem to be entirely out of style at present. Those who delight in decidedly new effects in colored shirts are offered by some novel and even startling things. Who would have thought that men would come to wearing green or yellow shirts? But so it is. The latest Both have delicate figures and hair line cord stripes of the same color in closely related shades. Thus olive is seen with darker olive, dark green and gold; canary with white, olive, apple green and bronze, and though it may seem remarkable, when goods of any of these realy very pronounced colors are made up into shirts and worn by well dressed men with a white collar the shirt front being partially covered with a black satin or very dark plain scarf, the effect is very agreeable. It is no wonder that shirt makers are delighted with the success of this innovation in colored shirtings. The cuffs, which must be square and for link sleevebuttons, are made to match the material.

In white collars the newest shape known is a straight standing, which laps slightly, say one-fourth inch. It measures 2 3-4 inches in front and 2 1-4 behind. The high turn-over collar will be worn, though the high class dealers report a decreased demand. A na row string tie is the only proper neckdress for it. The indications are that a collar with points turned back 2 1-2 inches high in front and 2 1-2 inches at the back, spaced, 2 1-4 inches from point to point, when on, will be wanted. It was introduced quite recently and it sells well.

In gloves the craven tan is gradually giving way to a thinner and more pliable cape, and the shades now worn are medium and light brown stitched on the back with white or red, the first being the newer. The wrists are 2-button length, but have only one button. The reindeer in mouse color, stitched "self" of the same shade as the glove itself, is very popular and largely takes the place of dark brown. For full dress, light pearl, embroidered "self" and with black, is worn, the latter being rather the exception and is considered rather ultra. For weddings a white and perfectly plain glove is the correct thing. A new styled golf glove has lately been introduced, and with the increasing popularity of the game will be in growing demand. These gloves are made of white buckskin; they have holes where the knuckles come, to relieve the strain, and the palm of the left hand is reinforced with stout tan cape. For cycling stout lisle thread gloves are used. Both hands are reinforced with stout cape, which matches the remainder of the gloves in shade. The wrists are long and have two elastics or buttons.

"The Remedial Bill"

IS THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR.

Some men who oppose it, go so far as to blame it for the great storm of last week, and say that it is a precusor of others that will make Confederation shake. Others who favour it claim the storm centre was truly Ottawa, and that it was necessary to have the atmosphere cleared, but now that it has cleared we are to have a long season of beauteous and delightful harmony. The pros and cons of this we are not here to discuss.

"The Remedial Bill," to which we call your attention, is "the great $ bill."

It will remedy a great many of the "grievances" under which you suffer. Especially is this the case in the great J. & J. Lugsdin Bankrupt Fur and Hat Sale. If you pass this "$ Bill" it will do what it took $2 to do formerly.

For instance:—

Fur Muffs, Capes and Gauntlets, worth $4 to $6 each, can be bought from $1.50 to $3.

Seal Caps, worth $14, for $8.

Baby Carriage Robes, worth $2.50 for $1.25.

White Rabbit Jackets, Child's. worth $6, for $2.50.

3-4 Fur-lined Cloak, worth $30, for $18.

Russian Fur-lined Cloak, worth $20, for $10.

Baltic Seal Caps, worth $2.25 for $1, etc. etc., through a large stock of Fine Furs and Hats.

Prices at about One-half.

A GOOD NAME!

Blessed in Tens of Thousands of Happy Homes.

Paine's Celery Compound a Blessing to Civilized Humanity.

A good name untarnished by vice, evil or crime is blessed and honoured whenever mentioned.

It is like the refreshing shower that falls to cheer the parched and thirsty ground. The great and good name creates better and purer thoughts and aspirations, and tends to make mankind better.

The name "Paine's Celery Compound," cheers and comforts the hearts of thousands of sick and diseased people, who now use it, and from its virtues are finding a new life. Tens of thousands of cured men and women honour its fame, and bless the memory of its discoverer. It should be borne in mind that the great medicine is being imitated. Worthless and dangerous preparations bearing the name of "celery compound," are seeking for recognition and for your money. Those who are anxious about a perfect cure, and future health and strength, cannot afford to experiment with untried and unknown medicines.

Paine's Celery Compound has the indorsation of the best physicians and a legion of wonderful cures to its credit. The nervous, prostrated, weak, dyspeptic, rheumatic and neuralgic, find in it new life, health and strength.

Now is the Time, Girls.

This is the last leap year in the present century, for the year 1900, although one of those which can be divided by four, will not be a leap year. There was a 29th of February this year, but that will not occur again until 1904. A child born on that day will therefore have to wait eight years for its next birthday. Leap year, it is almost unnecessary to explain, is a device for correcting the calender, and it had its origin in the time of Julius Cæsar, who in the year B. C. 45, fixed the solar year at 365 days and six hours, every fourth year being a leap year, with 366 days. This was called the Julian style, and it is still adhered to by Russia. It was, however, defective, because the solar year consists of 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 46 seconds, or 11 minutes and 4 seconds less than the Julian year. In the time of Pope Gregory XIII. whose pontificate extended from 1572 to 1585, there was an error in the calendar amounting to 10 entire days, the vernal equinox falling on the 11th instead of the 21st of March. To obviate this error Gregory ordained in 1583 that the year should consist of only 365 days. October 5th becoming October 15th, and to prevent further irregularity it was determined that a year beginning a century should not be a leap year with the exception of each fourth century. Thus 1790 and 1800 were not leap years, and 1900 will not be, but 2000 will be a leap year. By the new arrangement three days are retrenched in 400 years, the 11 minutes and 4 seconds a year making up these days in that period. In this way the year is made to correspond as closely as possible with the true solar year, there being only a difference of 18 minutes, 34 seconds in 400 years. The Gregorian calendar was adopted by France, Italy, Spain, Demark, Flanders, and Portugal in 1582, but such were the effects of prejudice that it was not adopted by Great Britain until 1752, when the year was adjusted by leaving 11 days out of the [illegible] 3rd being [illegible]

Thursday night as the local was homeward bound and at a point near Indian River she met with another accident. The side rods of the engine gave way, and as she was running at a good speed things were torn up pretty badly. The locomotive kept the track and was very suddenly brought to a standstill.

On Wednesday afternoon some of the Grove Avenue people met in the court house to settle a grievance of long standing which could not otherwise be settled. County Police Magistrate Edmison, assisted by two of our local peace officers, Messrs. Johnston and Mathieson, heard the case. The grounds of complaint were defamation of character and abusive language, the plaintiff being Mrs. Alexander and the defendant, Mr. J. McLaughlin. Mr. G. A. Payne, of Campbellford, acted for the defendant and Mr. G. Sherry, of Norwood, for the plaintiff. Owing to some of the parties having to catch the 4 p. m. train the case was hurried through. The decision resulted in a fine of $2 and costs on the defendant.

IT IS IMPORTANT

That the Blood be Pure for One to be Free from Scrofula.

Scrofula is eradicated and all kindred diseases are absolutely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by its vitalizing, enriching and alterative effects, positively makes pure blood.

No disease is more common among the people than Scrofula. Handed down from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family, in one form or another. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in unsightly swellings in the neck or goitre, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane it may be known as catarrh in the head, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of Consumption.

In whatever form Scrofula may manifest itself, Hood's Sarsaparilla is its inveterate foe and conquerer. This medicine has such powerful alterative and vitalizing effects upon the blood that every trace of impurity is expelled and the blood is made rich, pure and healthy.

Many of the cures of Scrofula accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla have been nothing less than wonderful. Cases which were considered absolutely hopeless have been cured by it, and the people to-day live and enjoy good health, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

If you suffer from any form of Scrofula or any other affection caused by impure blood, you should certainly take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Remember, Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

Fire in the U.S. Census Office.

Washington, March 22.—At 2 o'clock this morning fire was discovered burning furiously in a building on E-street near Ninth, occupied by the Census Office. The inside of the building was badly damaged, involving a loss of about $20,000, fully insured. Probably the most serious loss will be to the records of the Census Office contained in the building, some of which were destroyed and all more or less injured by smoke and water.

Richmond, March 16th, (Special)—The talk of farmers and others in town is mostly about the astonishing cure of Wm. McCord, a farmer near here. His presence made assurance visible, and he said—"After the doctors pronounced by disease Diabetes no one thought recovery possible. I was partially paralyzed, was nine months in bed, and I ran down until I was a mere shell. When I commenced taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I stuck close to directions. One box helped me, and nine boxes cured me. Am sixty years old, and have lived here forty years." Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and dealers. Price 50 cents a box.

TAKING MEASURES!

A Few Years Ago

We had dreams and visions that have now materialized into facts. But the facts are greater than we ever expected.

A few years ago, speaking of GOUGH BROS., people connected this establishment with Ready-Made Clothing only. To-day this store has a grip on the best trade, not only in Ready-Made Clothing, but in Boots and Shoes, Nobby Hats, Shirts, Ties, Furnishings, etc.; and now the pull is rapidly coming our way in—

Made-to-Measure Clothing.

Department after department has been successfully engrafted until it can be unreservedly claimed that GOUGH BROS'. Mammoth Emporium fills the bill—from the crown of the head to the soles of the feet—from the noted Stanley Hat to the best makes of King's stylish Shoes—every requirement for Man or Boy, with very much in every department that concerns and interests the Ladies as well.

Verily, there's a heap of truth in the trite aphorism of the ingenious McGarvey—"If yez got no push yez'll get no pull."

Fine Dressers

Are learning fast that Gough Bros. are pushing hard for the pull on the finest Tailoring trade of Peterborough. Our business motto—observed as we observe it—will bring success in any line:—"The Better the Grade, the Bigger the Trade."

This store of yours has gathered together for the spring and summer season of 1896, the most correct patterns in Imported and Canadian Tweeds, Worsteds, Cheviots, and Home Spuns, to meet your fancy. The British and American Fashion Plates are now on view. Our Tailors are all back to work again on full time, and Duncan Cameron, the keenest of Cutters, has his coat off—the whole department bustling with an air of activity, ready to corroborate our printed statements.

FASTIDUOUS DRESSERS—Men who have an extra care for looks, when you come to find what we really can do for you, you'll begin to find that you can save a third or so on your clothes, and be well dressed to boot. We won't let you pay so little for them as to get anything unworthy—economy don't lie along that route. We are teaching men who wear good clothes, that high prices need not always be paid to get high values.

"Always Good at Gough's."

Mr. McCarthy's Amendment Voted Down in the House.

MR. OUIMET'S FIRST UTTERANCES

On the Remedial Bill—Mr. Edgar Raises an Important Point—Mr. Borden Attacks Sir Charles Tupper—Mr. Wallace Will Have an Amendment.

Ottawa, March 24.—The cry of obstruction in Parliament has been raised in Quebec to throw upon Mr. Laurier the odium of delaying the Remedial Bill, and to-night the order went forth that the House was to be kept sitting day and night all week until the committee stage of the bill was reached. No obstructive tactics can be pointed to, but the Government campaign is to raise that cry in Quebec, and by keeping the House sitting create the idea that day and night sittings are necessary for the progress of public business. This cry of obstruction was raised at the beginning of the session, or immediately after the Ministerial crisis, which completely paralyzed public business both in and out of Parliament for two weeks. It was dropped, however, when it was seen that there was not the slightest ground for it. Now, again, it is thought to be good tactics to cry 'obstruction," and prove it by compelling Parliament to sit night and day. Mr. McCarthy raised important constitutional points and moved an amendment, yet this is described as obstruction. The best answer to this is the fact that the Minister of Public Works debated the amendment to-night for an hour and a half. This is curious obstruction. So desirous were the Opposition to obstruct that one Conservative member stumbled over the other in endeavoring to get the floor. Curious obstruction again. Mr. Haslam, a Conservative supporter of the bill, followed Mr. Ouimet without giving an opponent of the bill a chance to answer the Minister. Mr. Tarte was waiting to answer him. This was certainly the most curious obstruction ever witnessed in Parliament. The Government were determined, however, to have obstruction in their newspapers, even if it did not exist in the House, so preparations were made for an all-night sitting, and upholstered sofas and cots were carted up to the House, the Ministerial members told off into relays and other arrangements made. The debate, however, was well sustained on both sides, and before 1 o'clock a division was reached on Mr. McCarthy's amendment, which was lost. Then an arrangement was made across the floor between Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Laurier that at the next sitting when the bill is taken up all other amendments will be disposed of and the bill be taken into committe. This means that the bill will not reach the committee stage until late on Tuesday night, the 31st. After that there will only be fifteen Government working days left to this Parliament before April 24. This means that two weeks are left for the disposal of all the business before the House and for the concurrence of the Senate. The French Conservatives are indignant, and at the close of the sitting remonstrated with Sir Charles Tupper on what they term a tactical blunder. Mr. Ouimet's admission in his speech to-night that this bill is necessary even if Manitoba makes a settlement, confirms the statements in this correspondence, and shows that he will not be satisfied with any compromise. It is as Le Courrier du Canada said. "The bill, the whole bill, and nothing but the bill." The supporters of the bill say now, however, that the passage of the bill is out of the question.

MONDAYS AND THURSDAYS

To be Taken by the Government After the Second of April.

Ottawa, March 24.—(Special)—At the opening of the House this afternoon Sir Charles Tupper moved that for the remainder of the session Government orders should have precedence on Mondays after private bills and questions, and on Thursdays after questions. He announced also that the House would not be asked to sit after the 24th of April. Parliament would close on that date.

Mr. Laurier suggested that the arrangement should be that the Government have these days after the 2nd of April, as the Opposition had been promised two Thursdays for private members' business.

To this the leader of the House agreed and the motion was amended to take effect after April 2. This gives next Monday and next Thursday for private members.

Mr. Perry wanted a return about the Tignish breakwater.

"I can promise that from present appearances the hon. gentleman will have his return before the estimates are brought down," said the Minister of Public Works, adding (aside) "that is if the hon. gentleman is here next year."

Mr. Mulock wanted to discuss the British bill to exclude foreign live cattle, but was induced to withhold his remarks on the promise of Mr. Foster to bring up on Friday his resolution protesting against that bill.

Mr. McMullen then resumed the debate on the Remedial bill, justifying the course of the Manitoba Government and supporting the commission. On account of the sparse settlement of Manitoba it was not advisable to try to make the Province maintain two systems of schools, but it might be well to make concessions to Catholics living in towns in which they formed a considerable portion of the population. He concluded by expressing the hope that the commissioners who have just gone to Manitoba would be successful in bringing about an amicable settlement. Sir Charles H. Tupper's recent speech on the question had done more than anything else to interfere with the success of the delegates.

Mr. Borden continued after recess. He said Sir Charles Tupper paraded himself as the emancipator of the Catholics of Nova Scotia, while the fact was all the concessions the Catholics ever got were obtained from the Liberals. In fact, Sir Charles Tupper had been ready to form an alliance with the most Protestant wing of the Liberal party in order to retain himself in power.

Sir Charles Tupper—I give the statement a most emphatic denial. It was made on the floor of the Assembly 40 years ago. I then gave it an emphatic denial, and it has remained buried ever since.

Mr. Borden—The hon. leader has resurrected many old things himself, and that is the popular belief in Nova Scotia.

Sir Charles Tupper—It is the belief of no one.

Proceeding, Mr. Borden said Sir Charles Tupper had taken advantage of a dispute between Hon. Jos. Howe and the Catholics to get into power. Sir Charles Tupper had claimed that his free school law had the support of Archbishop Connolly, who had gone to London to endeavor to have school rights guaranteed to Nova Scotia Catholics that were being guaranteed in the B.N.A. Act to the Catholics of Ontario.

Sir Charles Tupper—I repeat that I had the support of Archbishop Connolly.

Mr. Borden replied that the Catholics, having quarrelled with Hon. Jos. Howe, found themselves in the hands of Sir Charles Tupper, and he had not been slow to use the power. Proceeding, he said that, while the letter of the school laws of the Maritime Provinces was not specially favorable to the Catholics, there was broadness and liberality in the administration of them. The result was complete satisfaction. This was an object lesson which might well be followed in the case of Manitoba. It was to the interest of the province to administer its laws so that they would not bear unfairly on any section.

Mr. Edgar, who followed, asked Mr. Speaker for his ruling on a point of order. He held that the bill could not be discussed at this stage, citing a rule of the House which states that any motion for any public aid or charge upon the people shall not be debated at once, but referred to the committee of the whole House "before any resolution or vote of the House do pass thereupon." He held that the taxation clauses of the bill imposed a charge on a certain class of people.

Mr. Speaker ruled that the bill was not such as would be required to be introduced in accordance with the rule cited. However, if his opinion was wrong, and when the committee stage was reached the chairman ruled that the taxation clauses do come under the rule, then they could be introduced subsequently.

Mr. Weldon said he had hoped the Government would go slowly after getting the bill read the second time, and thought the supplies should be put through this session in order to save the country from the expense of an extra session. Even if the result was to delay the bill a few months no harm would be done, as Parliament's power to interfere would not be in any way lessened. Proceeding, he took up the legal points on which Mr. McCarthy proposes a reference of the bill to the Supreme Court. First, that the bill was ultra vires because too narrow. It did not, as the remedial clauses under which Parliament is acting require, give "due" relief; it did not carry out the remedial order. The second point was that it did not provide means of maintaining the Separate schools it established. He asked Sir Charles Tupper if Parliament would be asked to provide means for the purpose if Manitoba refused to do so.

Sir Charles Tupper—I don't think the time has come when that question should be answered.

Mr. Weldon, proceeding, said the bill was, then, a milk and water one, and was simply humbugging those in favor of Separate schools. A further objection was that the Dominion had no authority to direct the imposition of direct taxation as proposed, but such taxes could be imposed only by the Provinces. Authorities and judgments led to the belief that the legislation would be irrevocable, and this justified urgent opposition, even after the principle had been adopted by the passage of the second reading. While he held strong doubts as to the legality of the bill he would not support a reference to the Supreme Court, but thought it would have been well had the proposal been to send it to a committee of the House, where it could have been calmly considered.

Mr. Ouimet rose to speak for the first time on the Remedial bill. He said the question had been before Parliament and the country for six years and it was for this Parliament now to deal with it. As a constitutional question it was of paramount importance to the country. The great question of protection to minorities was the foundation of our constitution. If this question were relegated to a new Parliament, legal and technical objections would be raised and there would be no remedial law. This measure, if passed, would be not only a recognition but a guarantee to the minority of their rights, with the exception of a legislative grant.

Mr. Haslam urged that it would be better to send the complete measure to the Supreme Court.

Mr. McCarthy's amendment was then put and declared lost on a division.

Some conversation took place across the floor and it was agreed that on Friday, when the bill is again taken up, all amendments shall be disposed of and the House go into committe on the bill.

Mr. Wallace moved the adjournment of the debate and gave notice of an amendment declaring that, having regard to the opinion that is entertained that the bill, if passed, will be absolute and irrevocable, and that Parliament has no mandate from the electors to deal with this question, it is exceedingly unwise and inexpedient to proceed with the bill.

The House adjourned 12.40 a.m.

A Doubtful Compliment.

One night after a vain attempt to soothe her 6-year-old boy to Slumberland by singing the rhymes of dear old "Mother Goose" from first to last, mamma was rewarded by receiving this very doubtful compliment: "Say, mamma, don't you know you could sing real well if you could only get the tune."

Hardwood Barrels for Flour and Tins for Butter and Lard—Canadian Cheese Too Good—Hotel Men Arrive for the Convention—Other Ottawa News.

Ottawa, March 24.—(Special)—The Colonial Office has transmitted to the Government a despatch from the Governor of Barbadoes, W.I., in which he calls attention to the unsatisfactory and unsuitable packages in which Canadian products are shipped to that island, and makes certain suggestions for improvement of trade. He says that flour reaches the island packed in soft wood barrels, which appear to affect the keeping quality of the flour. He suggests that hardwood barrels be substituted, and says that barrels from the United States are made of red oak. Butter and lard come in tubs of 25 pounds and upwards. The people prefer them in tins of 5, 10 or 25 pounds. Beef comes in barrels, while half barrels are preferred. Canadian cheese is all right as to the packages, but it is "too good" and therefore too expensive for the masses.

An order in council has been passed under which Spain is added to the list of countries entitled to participate in the advantages conceded to France under the so-called French treaty.

The Government has received a copy of a decree of the Italian Government to the effect that bills of health are no longer required to be produced at Italian ports by vessels from the Eastern coasts of North America, including Canada.

Mr. Charlton gives notice to-night of the following resolution: "This House expresses its deep sympathy with the sufferings of the Christian population in Asiatic Turkey, but trusts that European interference will be made so as to ameliorate their lot, and that for this purpose concurrent action by Christian powers all over the world, including the United States of America, may be secured."

Mr. Wallace astonished the House by presenting 70 petitions to-day, mostly from the City of Toronto, urging that the Remedial bill should not be passed.

New regulations have been adopted by the Government governing the payment of the bounty on iron puddled bars made from Canadian pig iron out of Canadian ore. Manufacturers are obliged to make affidavit that they have complied with all the requirements of the law before the bounty can be obtained and the manufacture of iron puddled bars on which it is intended to claim the bounty must hereafter be made under customs supervision, such supervision to be paid for by the manufacturer.

The Executive Committee met this afternoon and decided to appoint a deputation to wait on the Government and the leader of the Opposition to ascertain their views on the question of prohibition, and also as to whether there should be compensation to the trade in the event of a prohibitory liquor law being enacted.

Mr. Bennett, M.P., introduced to the Minister of Public Works to-day a deputation from Penetanguishene consisting of Mayor Hall, Charles McGibbon, Wm. Thompson, A. B. Thompson, O. J. Sleanan, C. E. Wright, G. H. Wright, Alf Tessler and C. G. Gendron. The deputation asks for an appropriation for the purpose of improving the harbor.

Messrs. D. B. Odette of Windsor and S. A. King of Kingsville had an interview with Mr. Costigan in reference to fishing regulations on the Detroit river. The deputation want the regulations to be made uniform with those on the American side, which practically means unlimited fishing. Mr. Costigan said that while prepared to concede certain liberal modifications, yet he could hardly accede to the request of the deputation, as the Department of Fisheries might as well be wiped out of existence.

Sir A. P. Caron states that it is not correct that Father Lacombe has written a letter to him protesting against the Winnipeg conference. It is reported, however, around the lobbies that Archbishop Langevin has written such a letter.

SHOT HIMSELF WHEN ASLEEP.

A Windsor Somnambulist Causes Consternation Without Knowing It.

Windsor, Ont., March 24.—Stephen Butts, aged 32, well known in Windsor, shot himself at 3 o'clock this morning, and it is claimed he was asleep at the time. The bullet entered just over the left lung, took an upward turn and missed the lung. It was extracted. He had arisen from bed, opened his trunk, secured a revolver, got in bed again and fired the shot. His wife claims he is a regular somnambulist, that he got out of bed the previous night and kindled the fire and then awoke. Persons who have known him many years say he never had any troubles, and his wife says there were no domestic or financial troubles. They have one child, and live at the Horseshoe, on Howard avenue. His physician says he will recover.

FIJI ISLANDS SWEPT.

A Hurricane Said to Have Caused Immense Destruction.

Victoria, B.C., March 24.—The Canadian-Australian steamer Warrimoo reports encountering a terrific hurricane on the 6th inst., she then being one day out of Suva, Fiji. So fierce was the storm that the steamer was forced to slow down for 40 consecutive hours, and her owners assert that not only Suva, but every settlement in the Fijian group, must have been totally devastated by a gale which for ferocity surpassed even the memorable hurricane of three years ago, which laid the Fijian and Samoan Islands in ruins.

Knuckle Down Tight, Bar Dubs, No Hinching Now!

These and similiar expressions now heard upon our streets by the small boys may be taken as an evidence of Spring time near at hand. To play marbles aright it becomes necessary to come in close proximy with mother earth on the plank walk, which means wear and tear of the Boy's Clothing; what fond parent would not much rather see his boy wearing out Clothes than blankets. He knows where they can be replaced at a very small cost. Just as a reminder—we are now prepared to show you a much larger and better assorted stock of knock about Suits for "ye small boy" than has been our privilege since coming to your midst, comprising every conceivable style known to the trade. Simply asking the favour of a call and inspection before making your Spring purchases — we have no doubts of the result.

Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25, 1896.

SIR MACKENZIE BOWELL has been bothered with lumbago, but is recovering. The trouble of lumbago is nothing to what he and his cabinet will get when the election come on. They won't have a pain in the back merely—they will "get it in the neck."

EMPEROR WILLIAM, of Germany, has declared that the relations between Germany and England are "absolutely harmonious." The fact that England is about to spend $70,000,000 on her navy, and that the Reichstag refused naval appropriations, may have something to do with this harmony. An unarmed man, the Montreal Herald thinks, is careful not to make faces at a man with a club.

THE electorate may in its generosity forgive the Dominion Government for plundering the public by high taxation; may overlook corrupt and extravagant expenditure; may condemn jobbery and wholesale bribery, but the electorate certainly cannot sympathise with the pollution of the fountain of justice. There are cases of supporters of the present government sitting in their places in the House with promises of judgeships in their pockets, conditional on their supporting the government. Whatever else may be smirched, we should have the bench, like Cæsar's wife, above suspicion. A judge cannot be expected to be a pattern terror to evil doers and to administer justice righteously who, qualifies himself for his position by selling his independence for an office and corruptly betraying the trust reposed in him by his constituents. A member of parliament who sells his vote for a seat on the bench is not one whit the moral superior of the ward "bum" who swaps his vote for a jug of beer.

THE "old Cumberland war horse," Sir Charles Tupper, must be troubled slightly with the "blind staggers"—he seems to be unable to go straightforwardly. Ever since his return to the House he has been saying things that he has had to take back. He has read private telegrams without authority. He has suppressed portions of such telegrams to suit his own purposes and generally he has had many a bad quarter of an hour, and the old war horse is still putting his foot in it. In speaking to Mr. McNeil's resolution re preferential trade, on Monday, Sir Charles said, in effect, that he had not been consulted, yet he supported the proposition. Mr. McNeil, in replying, stated that he had a long consultation with Sir Charles Tupper on the subject of the resolution and he read a letter from Sir Charles acknowledging the receipt from Mr. McNeil of a copy of the resolution. When Mr. McNeil had read this letter he tore it up in firm scorn and scattered the fragments upon the floor of the Chamber. Evidently Sir Charles is not exactly fitted for the chair of political ethics in a school of political propriety.

THE Empire, when it was absorbing government pap, and was the party organ of the Conservatives, crushed Mr. Dalton McCarthy by calling him a "wobbler." But as a wobbler, Mr. McCarthy is only an apprentice compared to the past master [illegible], Mr. McGillivray, the [illegible] Mr. Clark Wallace [illegible] the school question, and the latter replied that he "had wobbled all along and he would wobble through the election." With a striking consistency he has continued his wobbling in the House. He managed to vote for and against the government in the space of a quarter of an hour. Mr. Sam Hughes is another good Conservative, who has the left-handed courage of his convictions. He voted against the six months hoist of the remedial bill, and a few minutes after against the second reading. His first vote was to square himself with the government and the second to square himself with his constituents; but it is probable that the government will be more easily pleased with Mr. Hughes' double back somersault than the electors of North Victoria.

SCIATIC RHEUMATISM.

A Painful Malady for Which a Certain Cure Has at Last Been Found.

Caledonia, N.S., Gold Hunter.

This is a world of sorrow and suffering. All suffer. Such is our lot. One may be afflicted with such excruciating pains that one can hardly bear it. Yet if a person has not been afflicted likewise they lack that real sympathy and understanding which is the result therefrom. To a well person the reading of cures by Dr. Williams Pink Pills or any other medicine may be of little interest, but to one who is afflicted and suffering, anything that will cure, and is backed up by reliable testimony, is grasped as eagerly as the straw is grasped by the drowning man. Reliable testimony of the efficacy of Pink Pills comes not only from all parts of our province but from all parts of the Dominion. They are given by the free will and in gratitude by sufferers who have been benefitted and cured by the wonderful Pink Pills. Mr. Wilbert Awalt, a prominent merchant of Hemford Corner, Lunenburg County, is one of those who speaks strongly in regard to Pink Pills. The following are his own words: "For over a year I had such a pain in my hip that I could scarcely sit or talk, and when lying down had much difficulty to rise without help. The trouble seemed to be sciatic rheumatism and I suffered terribly. During this time I was treated by a doctor but I derived no benefit. At last I began to think there was no help for me. I was recommended to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and did so. After using them a short time I began to notice a decided improvement. I continued until I had used several boxes and I can honestly say that I am now entirely cured, and feel that I owe my cure entirely to Pink Pills, which I shall always recommend to suffering friends."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a specific for all diseases arising from an impoverished condition of the blood or a shattered condition of the nervous forces. They are also a certain cure for the troubles peculiar to the female system, correcting irregularities, suppressions and all forms of female weakness, building anew the blood, and restoring the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In the case of men they restore in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excess of any nature. Sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper (printed in red ink), and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

NORWOOD NEWS NOTES.

From our own Correspondent.

The carnival given in the skating rink was a grand success and the largest crowd ever seen in the rink was there. Between eight and nine hundred people were under the cover of our gigantic building. The races were all exceedingly well contested. The mile was won by McGuire, of Havelock, Jackson, of Peterborough, being a close second. The half mile was a close race between Russell Pearce and Fred Henderson, but Henderson won by a few feet. C. Pengelly took the race for the man on skates and man on foot, he being the skater and J. R. McKalvie the runner.

The beginning of last week our village was a scene of unusual activity. About one hundred and fifty or two hundred Orangemen gathered here for the meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario West.

Last Saturday evening a meeting of the electors of the Village of Norwood [illegible] held in the town hall for the purpose of nominating a candidate to fill the place of the late Hiram Reynolds. Five candidates are in the field and the election will come off next Saturday. Those seeking office are: R. Niebol, D. Mahoney, H. Squires, J. Walker, W. Ebbs.

D. H. Booth spent Sunday at his home in Warkworth.

H. Sperry returned to his home in Peterborough on Monday. He has been visiting his sister, Mrs. D. A. Fraser, for the past couple of months.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brown were the guests of Mrs. D. Foster this week.

The management of the rink telegraphed to the Granites of Toronto last Monday to see if they would play the Peterboroughs here sometime this week. In reply they received the information that the team had disbanded three weeks ago.

F. W. Ashe has returned from his visit to Montreal.

F. Cuthbertson, who has been employed in the Hamilton foundry in Peterborough, has returned home.

The Rev. T. W. Jolliffe, of Campbellford, will preach educational sermons in the Methodist church here on Sunday next.

Miss M. Scott, of Warsaw, was the guest of Mr. Hugh Scott last week.

C. H. Cress has received a position as operator on the C.P.R.

In an inter-rink match, on Tuesday, W. E. Roxburgh's rink defeated J. C. Moffatt's and J. Cumming's defeated F. W. Ashe's. The rinks were:—

GALWAY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Three of our most respectable young men are leaving this section of the country and moving to Manitoba, where they intend to become actual and permanent settlers. Two of them, Oliver McConnell, and John White, left on the 17th, and John McConnell is leaving on the 24th inst., and is taking with him two team of horses, and a number of farming implements. We regret to see our young men who have proved themselves worthy citizens leaving this part of the country, but are ready to confess that they are probably taking a proper coure, and we heartily wish them prosperity in tilling the broad acres in the Prairie Province.

Quite a large number of friends gathered at the residence of Mr. Chas. McMahon last Friday evening and spent several hours most enjoyably in games and social intercourse. Refreshments were served during the evening.

It is with feelings of deep regret that we record the death of Mrs. Gilmour, widow of the late James Gilmour of this place, who died on the 17th and was buried on the 20th inst. Deceased lady and her husband came to this township when it was an unbroken and dismal forest, and consequently shared in the hardships that are to be encountered in clearing up land in new settled countries, and may well be classed among the early pioneers of Galway. She leaves behind to mourn her loss two sons and five daughters who have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

Death also entered the home of Mr. M. Bryne, last Thursday, and claimed for its victim a loving child about twelve years of age. The remains were taken to the Roman Catholic cemetery and laid in their last resting place on Sunday.

Last Thursday's storm has left the roads almost impassable. Horses are travelling over drifts of snow as high as the fences in some places.

Feed for cattle will be very scarce if the snow continues to remain on the ground much longer.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness, nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Not one in a thousand does do it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them innutritious matter and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

Burdock Pills do not gripe or sicken. They cure constipation, and sick headache.

UNDER FALSE PRETENCE

The Confidences Inspired by Merit Preyed Upon by Greed.

The Scheming Imitator—The Villainous Fraud—Robbing on the Strength of Your Resolve to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

To warn and guard from danger and wreck beacon lights stand high and boldly on rocky coasts.

To lure and deceive to ruin the wrecker sets up false lights.

There is a sort of loyalty due to the man, or men, who point out grave dangers and how to avert them.

And there is something unspeakably execrable in the villainy that seeks to profit by your danger, by deceiving you upon false grounds.

Such is the act of those who endeavour to palm off upon you imitations of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

They may offer them to you by count, dignified by the name "Kidney Pills."

It is almost needless to say that the original and genuine Dodd's Kidney Pills are put up only in boxes.

They may be offered to you in boxes, too, at almost any price, but you are safe from the intended fraud if you notice the absence of Dodd's Kidney Pills on the case label.

No one dare use that name, for the counterfeiter would be liable to imprisonment.

It is something to be aware that in buying Dodd's Kidney Pills you are buying the real thing, which envious greed would cheat you of if they dared.

But there are scores of ways in which the attempt is being made.

The true and original Kidney Pills are put up in a large flat wooden box, covered with blue label with white letters, also having a red band.

There can be only disadvantage and danger in taking anything but the genuine, so do not be defrauded by accepting anything else.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup positively cures coughs, colds, asthma, hoarseness, bronchitis, and all diseases of the pulmonary organs.

THE ONTARIO HOUSE

Mr. Hardy's County Councils Bill Amended.

HAWKERS' AND PEDLARS' LICENSES

Bills to Amend the Municipal Act and to Provide for Public Slaughter Houses —Further Protection of Game— Work in Committee— Second Readings.

Toronto, March 25.

The Local Legislature yesterday devoted two sessions entirely to routine. The Government managed to rush through a lot of ministerialist measures, among them Mr. Hardy's bill to reduce the number of county councillors. The Municipal Committee favorably considered the bill regarding city councils.

An Act to amend the Municipal Act —Mr. O'Keefe. This act has the effect of extending the powers with regard to the licensing of hawkers and pedlars, so as to include persons peddling furniture, carpets, and upholstery and other articles.

An Act to amend the Assessment Act—Mr. St. John—provides that persons liable to assessment for personal property shall furnish sworn statements of the value thereof to the Assessment Commissioner, under the penalty of $20 for every day during which default continues. It empowers the county judge to appoint two or more competent persons, to be known as assessment accountants. The accountants may, upon the order of the county judge, examine the books, accounts and vouchers of persons furnishing these statements and report to the judge.

An Act to amend the Municipal Act —Mr. Taylor. The object of this act is to make it clear that where it appears upon application to unseat a municipal councillor that his election has resulted from the deputy returning officer refusing the votes of qualified electors, if the judge is satisfied that the result of the election is affected, he may not only unseat the person elected, and direct that the costs be paid by him, but may give the seat to the candidate claiming it.

An Act to provide for the inspection of meat and milk supplies of cities and towns—Mr. Harcourt—enables the municipal council of cities and towns by bylaw to provide for the establishment of public slaughter houses or abattoirs. The control of these slaughter houses, yards or pens is to be vested in the local Board of Health. The local Board of Health is to employ one or more veterinary surgeons to inspect the slaughter house and carcases of meat. The act further provides for the inspection of every milch cow kept in the city.

An Act to make further provision for the further protection of game provides that no person shall at any time kill or capture deer while in the water, and that no person who is a resident of Ontario or Quebec shall hunt moose, elk, reindeer, cariboo, or other deer without a license signed by the Chief Fish and Game Warden and counter-signed by the Provincial Treasurer or his deputy. The fee for such license is to be $5 and in the case of hunting without a dog $2. The license is to continue in force for one season. Two shipping coupons are to be attached to each license, and when it is intended to ship deer out of the province one of the coupons is to be detached by the licensee in the presence of the shipping agent and attached to each deer or part of a deer about to be shipped. The act prohibits common carriers from transporting deer without the shipping coupon being attached.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on Mr. Hardy's bill to reduce the number of county councillors, and the Commissioner submitted several amendments to the measure. He proposed to make it apply to all counties, and had altered his schedule starting with counties of 25,000 population and upwards. Further, for the sake of convenience, he proposed that counties of 25,000 population should have not less than 4 and not more than five divisions; those of 40,000 not less than five and not more than six; those of 60,000 not less than six and not more than seven; those of greater population not less than eight and not more than nine. United counties were to be treated for the purposes of division as separate counties. Each candidate for a county council should be compelled to produce nomination papers signed by at least 20 electors.

Mr. Willoughby opposed the bill, and Mr. Matheson thought it should be laid over for another year and not rushed hurriedly through the House. He objected to that clause of the bill which prevented reeves from being members of county councils and he did not believe that one county in the province would vote in favor of the measure, if it had the opportunity.

The Speaker favored the measure, as did also Mr. Haycock.

Major Hiscott (Lincoln) spoke strongly against the passing of the bill. He thought the Commissioner should refer the measure to the county councils, who might be able to offer the Government some suggestion. The member for Lincoln was loudly applauded by the Opposition when he concluded his pointed attack on the measure.

The discussion on the bill continued until 6 o'clock, when the House rose.

After recess the House again went into committee on Mr. Hardy's bill to reduce the number of County Councillors.

Mr. Hardy moved that the following judges constitute the commission to divide the counties: Benson of Northumberland, Dean of Victoria, Wilkinson of Lennox, Senkler of Lanark, Creesor of Grey, Jones of Brant, Horne of Essex, Bell of Kent, O'Brien of Prescott, Valin of Nipissing, Mackenzie of Lambton and Senkler of Lincoln, the two last-named to fill vacancies.

The motion carried, and the bill was reported with amendments.

The following Government bills were also considered in committee of the whole and reported to be read a third time to-day:

Revising and consolidating the acts to encourage the planting and growing of trees—Mr. Dryden.

Respecting certain proceedings under the Separate Schools Act—Mr. Ross.

Relating to the law of life insurance —Mr. Gibson (Hamilton).

To make further provisions respecting Industrial Schools—Mr. Gibson (Hamilton). This authorizes the Provincial Secretary to discharge inmates of Industrial Schools or transfer them from one school to another.

Respecting Houses of Refuge:—Mr. Gibson (Hamilton).

To secure payment of wages for labor performed in the construction of public works—The Attorney-General.

Respecting the quieting of titles—The Attorney-General.

Respecting traveling shows, circuses and other exhibitions—The Attorney-General.

Respecting Surrogate Courts—The Attorney-General.

Respecting bills of sale and chattel mortgages in unorganized districts—The Attorney-General.

Mr. Gibson's bill respecting liens of mechanics, wage-earners and others, was given a second reading, the Provincial Secretary stating that all the new clauses had already been embodied in English or American legislation.

When Mr. Harcourt asked a second reading of his bill to make further provision for the payment of succession duties, Mr. Matheson said he feared a too heavy tax on estates prevented the province from faring as well as it otherwise would. The bill was read a second time.

The following bills were also read a second time:

To improve the law respecting public libraries.

To authorize the transfer of certain provincial land occupied by the C.P.R.

The House adjourned at 11.05 p.m.

CUBAN SELF-GOVERNMENT.

That is What Mr. Mills of Texas Would Insist Upon.

Washington, March 24.—The matter of chief interest in the Senate to-day was the speech of Mr. Mills (D., Tex.), in support of his joint resolution requesting the President to procure from the Spanish Government the right of self-government for Cuba; or in the event of Spain's refusal to take military possession of the island and hold it until the Cubans organise a government and raise military and naval forces for its defence.

Mr. Mills took the ground that, inasmuch as the United States would not permit England, France or any other country to purchase or obtain the island from Spain, and thus ameliorate the condition of its inhabitants, the United States was morally bound to put a stop to the casualties and misgovernment and to aid the Cubans to establish a government of their own.

"The United States should say to Spain," Mr. Mills exclaimed, "You must give that island self-government or we will. And we are able to do it, too."

The Tupper Libel Cases.

Halifax, March 24.—In the Tupper libel case against Robert McConnell, Stipendiary Fielding this afternoon decided to receive in evidence copies of The Chronicle produced in court, on which the charge of libel was founded, and copies of The Herald, containing other letters signed Robert McConnell and C. H. Cahan. Counsel for the defence objected, but was overruled. The case was then continued until Thursday, Mr. Borden, for the prosecution, stating that he would probably have one more witness to examine. The case of the Queen v. Dunn was continued until the same day.

Stick Out YOUR TONGUE!

What for?

Because it may save your life!

How?

It is the barometer that indicates the state of your health by its shapes, coatings and colors.

For example?

Well, a pointed tongue indicates irritation and disorder in the stomach and bowels.

The full broad tongue shows want of proper digestive action.

The dry, pinched tongue is the tongue of acute disease.

The fissure tongue proves inflammatory action of the kidneys.

A dry tongue is evidence that the stomach and intestines cannot do much digestive work.

Coating of the tongue is the result of intemperate eating and drinking. The Liver is deranged.

The broad, pallid tongue shows a want of alkaline elements in the blood. It is a danger signal.

The deep red tongue, generally dry, shows acid.

Extreme moisture shows the reverse.

Miss Rudkins has also received from New York a number of handsomely coloured fashion plates depicting the newest dress costumes, hats and parasols, trimmings, etc., in vogue this season. An inspection of these plates by the ladies will reveal a richness of the new and wonderful silky colour combinations which are produced in the dress fabrics of the day, as well as the pronounced changes in the styles of dressmaking, millinery, parasols, etc. 3d

Robert Hall's Dress-making Department.

Business has begun bright and active in Robert Hall's dress and mantle making department under the new management. Many busy fingers are now engaged on spring orders and the prospects for an exceptionally busy season looks good. This branch of Mr. Hall's business is under the supervision of a thoroughly practical young lady from Toronto, who has enjoyed a superior city experience, and who is highly recommended for turning out dresses costumes with the newest effects of the newest styles of the day. The facilities for turning out first-class work are unexcelled, and at the same time the unusually moderate charges adopted will be found to be one of the most pleasing surprises to the lady patrons of this store. dw.

A Coming Event.

The announcement that Miss Beverley Robinson, the charming Canadian prima donna, will appear in Peterborough Friday, March 27th, will be received with much pleasure in musical as well as social circles. Miss Robinson is the youngest daughter of the Hon. John Beverley Robinson, formerly Lieut.-Governor of Ontario. She is spending the winter in Canada after a musical career in London, England, where she won many notable successes. She returns to England in April, and her appearance here will be one of the last before her departure. Miss Robinson will be assisted by Miss Ada Hart, solo pianist, who has lately returned from a three years' course with the famous Leschetizky (teacher of Paderewski) of Vienna, and by Miss Evelyn de Latre Street, daughter of Justice Street, solo violinist, whose genius is well known. Walter H. Robinson, who has already made a name with his fine tenor voice, will also assist. Miss Beverley Robinson. YOUNG MEN'S RECEPTION.

The Masquerade Social Proved a Grand Success Last Night.

The reception to young men at the Y. M. C. A. last night, under the direction of the Murray and Park street B.Y.P.U. of C.E., was a grand success, the total attendance being about 300.

Each man, as he entered, had attached to his lapel a ticket, on which was written the name of some distinguished person, by which name he was addressed throughout the evening, the object being to revive the memories of noted personages. To facilitate this all were provided with souvenir booklets, on which they recorded the names of the notables they met.

The evening was enlivened with piano selections by Mr. Fred. Benton and others, and orchestral music by the Park street orchestra and members of the S.O.E. band.

Refreshments were served from 9 to 10 o'clock, and as jolly a set of fellows as ever entered the building sat down and did justice to the good things provided by the ladies of the Murray and Park street churches.

This ends the series of young men's receptions undertaken by the Endeavour Societies of the town. The object in view has been attained. On each of these occasions the old Y.M.C.A. rooms have been filled with an appreciative company, and the Y.M.C.A. and Endeavour people have become acquainted with many a young man who they might not otherwise have met. Besides gatherings of this kind tend to strengthen the fraternal ties existing between two organizations, children of the same parent (the church), working for a common cause and object. In this way denominational lines, while existing, become like the fence between two certain grain fields out west, where the crops grew so tall and coming together at the top, the fence was completely lost sight of.

THEY WILL CO-OPERATE WITH THE WHEELMEN.

The Board of Trade Wants the Town to Get the C.W.A. Meet.

At the meeting of the Board of Trade last night the matter of the C.W.A. meet was brought to the attention of the members by a motion of Messrs. Hampden Burnham and Peter Campbell, to the effect that the Board realised the advantages which would be derived by the town by the holding of the meet here, and wished to do all in their power to accomplish the desired end.

The motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. Robert Fair in speaking of the benefit the town would derive from the holding of the meet here, stated that in one day alone there had been 14,000 people admitted to see the bicycle races in Waterloo last year. The meet this year would

LAST THREE DAYS.

He left the members to judge for themselves the amount of money which would be left in town. He thought fifty or sixty thousand dollars would be a very low estimate.

Mr. Peter Campbell thought a small committee should be appointed to do all in their power to co-operate with the wheelmen and also to be a deputation to wait on the town council in reference to the matter.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn called attention to the fact that by the Toronto dailies evincing so much interest in the matter it was very evident that the question was an important one. In Quebec the Board of Trade, the City Council and the Harbour Commissioners had taken the matter up, as had the citizens at large and consequently Quebec's claim for the meet were being pushed hard. The railways had announced that the rate to Quebec from Toronto would be $10.30. The Quebec people, however, were making a most determined effort to have this rate lowered and the Peterborough Board of Trade's resolution would greatly of the local wheelmen in combatting this energy on the part of Quebec.

On motion of Messrs. A. L. Davis and John Carnegie, the following gentlemen will form a committee to do all in their power to assist the wheelmen in bringing the meet to Peterborough, viz., Messrs. B. Shortly, H. LeBrun, Alex. Elliott, Hampden Burnham, Peter Campbell, D. W. Dumble, T. A. Hay, and A. L. Davis. The last named gentleman is the convener of the committee, which has been given almost unlimited powers. If thought necessary they will go to Toronto in the interests of the town in this matter.

Mr. Alex. Elliott thought the citizens, to a man, should put their shoulders to the wheel and use all the influence which they could wield with clubs in other cities to secure their votes. The wholesalers in Toronto should all be seen by their Peterborough customers and urged to use their influence to bring the meet to town.

On motion of Messrs. F. H. Dobbin and H. S. Macdonald it was resolved that, recognising the importance of holding the meet here, the Town Council be asked to give a substantial grant to the wheelmen, conditionally upon their securing the meet.

IN THE TOILS OF THE LAW.

James Dwyer Arrested After Considerable Trouble.

James Dwyer, of Douro, was arrested last evening by Constable Craig, of Ashburnham, and Constable Moore on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. This morning he was remanded until Monday.

Dwyer, it is charged, was raising a great disturbance in Hogan's Hotel in Ashburnham, and the village constable was summoned. On his arrival the bird had flown, but he and Constable Moore traced Dwyer over to O'Brien's Hotel in town, where, after a hard struggle, they succeeded in placing him under arrest. In the fray Dwyer is alleged to have badly bitten Constable Craig's head.

The prisoner is placed in a very awkward position as there are a number of old charges pending against him which will be revived.

In December, '94, he was arrested on a similar charge and was remanded, but on the way up to gaol broke away from Constable Craig and bolted. He was never recaptured. About six years ago a warrant was issued for him on the charge of assaulting Mr. Con. Halpin, and knocking two of his teeth out.

On Monday these old charges will all be preferred against the prisoner, as well one of escaping from the custody of a constable.

ROSEBUDS vs. MORNING GLORIES.

Young Ladies Have a Most Enjoyable Game of Hockey.

It is certainly a shame that the young ladies did not take up hockey earlier in the season, as during the last week or so several most enjoyable games have been played, and the invigourating exercise works wonders in the way of producing rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes.

Yesterday afternoon the Rosebuds and Morning Glories had a most interesting match at the rink, but the Rosebuds having held a quiet practice or two, were too quick for their opponents and won by several goals.

The two teams were composed as appended:

A VICTORY FOR TWO.

For the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company and Their Solicitors, Messrs. Dumble & Johnston—The Supreme Court Appeal Case Decided in Their Favour.

Yesterday, in the Supreme Court, Ottawa, judgment was delivered in the appeal case of the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company vs. the Victoria (B. C.) Manufacturing Company entirely in favour of the appellants—a matter of local congratulation as the case was an expensive one and the result is a considerable financial matter to the respondents.

A brief history of the case may be interesting. The plaintiffs, the Wm. Hamilton Company brought suit against the Victoria Company, on June 18th 1892, to secure the price of a certain boiler and machinery furnished by plaintiffs—the amount of the claim being $1230. The defence claimed that, as to a portion of the demand, a certain boiler and machinery were not constructed according to the plans and specifications and that by reason of this, they were put to a great loss and by way of counter claim, claimed the sum of $3000. To this counter claim, the plaintiffs reply was, that so far as the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company was concerned, the machinery was manufactured according to plans and specifications furnished, with the exception of some minor points, as to which changes had to be made—the plans not being workable in these respects; and that the boiler and machinery were constructed of the best material and in a skilful manner; that the articles delivered were according to the standard required, and that any damages resulting arose from the carelessness of the defendants' employees.

The trial took place before the Hon. Mr. Justice Drake at Vancouver on Feb. 6th, 1894, and judgment was given for plaintiffs for $1,251, and for the defendants, on their counter-claim, for $979.03.

From this judgment both parties appealed to the full court and by unanimous decision the court sustained the judgment of the trial judge, and also the cross appeal of defendants, and gave judgment for them increasing the amount of damages by the sum of about $400—as special damages, which Mr. Justice Drake, the trial judge, had disallowed.

From this judgment the William Hamilton Company appealed to the Supreme Court, and judgment was given yesterday sustaining their position in every particular, and they were allowed the full amount of their claim, and the defendants were disallowed their claim and saddled with all the costs.

The appeal involved the collection of a large amount of technical evidence, and Mr. Dumble is deserving of no little credit for the completeness with which he possessed himself of the merits of the case, and, together with his clients is entitled to be very much gratified over the result of an expensive litigation that has been before the courts for the past four years.

Weak, Tired, Nervous

Women, who seem to be all worn out, will find in purified blood, made rich and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla, permanent relief and strength. The following is from a well known nurse:

"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to use it, together with Hood's Pills. I have realized more benefit from these medicines than from anything else I have ever taken. From my personal experience I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." MRS. C. CROMPTON, 71 Cumberland St., Toronto, Ontario.

NEW SPRING BABY CARRIAGES.

Dozens of styles at a modest price. Some tasty and neat—more handsome and stylish. The prices match. See our stock before placing the baby on wheels.

Besides the baby's health demands a Baby Carriage, after being housed all winter. It will do the parents credit and the baby justice to have a neat, well upholstered Baby Cab to roll along in the procession under the bright Easter day sun.

So much the more does a new and handsome Carriage become imperative if the baby is a new one. The old one (that is the old Carriage) is shabby and persists in running crooked. If we could start life over again every one of us would insist on riding in a Baby Carriage and a new one at that.

Prices are away below values—forty different styles—$5.00 to $20.00.

MR. THOS. TELFORD AS AN ODDFELLOW.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Some time ago reference was made in the Campbellford Herald to a member of the Oddfellow's Society near Campbellford, who had been initiated 48 years ago, but let me take the liberty of informing your many readers of a few facts which occurred more than half a century ago. In February of 1845 I was initiated a member of the Loyal Heart of Mercy Lodge 462, of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, Manchester Unity, in my native village, Leitholm, Berwickshire, Scotland. After going through all necessary degrees and offices I occupied the Noble Grand chair in the fall of 1846. Early that year I assisted in initiating my brother William, now dead, and James Ingles, a brother of Mrs. Telford, now in town. The fall of that year I removed to Berwick, came to America in 1848, arriving in Peterborough on the 6th of October. Finding the Oddfellows in difficulties I did not apply, but always had a friendly feeling for the society. At the reassociation of Otonabee Lodge I called on Robt. Elder, brother of John Elder, who kept a store on George street, got the bylaws and requested him to have my name entered as applying for membership. However, he neglected doing so, and living in the country, and often not at home, I was not aware of his thoughtlessness till he told me I was over age, he having neglected fulfilling his promise; otherwise I believe I would then, and in all likelihood yet, have been a member of the philanthropic and noble society of Oddfellows.

OBITUARY.

On Wednesday, March 11th, one of the oldest settlers of the township of South Monaghan in the person of Mrs. Sarah Mason, relict of the late Wm. Smithson, departed this life at the age of 78 years. Her husband died about 35 years ago leaving a widow and six daughters, viz., Mrs. Robert Nimmo, Mrs. Wm. Rutherford, Mrs. E. Ball, Mrs. John Riddell and Mrs. S. Perrin, all of South Monaghan, and Mrs. Geo. Matthews, of Lindsay. The deceased lady and her husband both came from the same part of Yorkshire, England. They have resided in South Monaghan since 1832. They were married a few years afterwards at Port Hope. In religion Mrs. Smithson was a Baptist and her remains were laid at rest in the Baptist burying ground at Baillieboro on Friday, March 13th. Her last illness was pneumonia. Mrs. Smithson leaves behind her the six daughters above mentioned. Her life was such in all the relations of life as to win her general esteem and respect.

Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites—A Food Medicine and Digestive.

Thousands of invalids are starving—starving in the midst of plenty and despite the tender care of loved ones. Health is restored, not by what is eaten, but by what is digested. Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites is a food, for it is rich in the nourishing properties of wheat, oats, and barley; a medicine, for it is combined with the best Norwegian oil, which it renders palatable, non-irritating and readily assimilated; and a powerful digestive, for it acts rapidly upon all starchy foods, making them soluble and capable of supplying in abundance the elements of nutrition. One bottle is of greater remedial value than ten bottles of any emulsion. Try it.

BRITISH BOARD OF TRADE RETURNS.

A Pretty Good Showing for Free Trade Trammelled England.

The British Board of Trade returns for the two months ending February will probably receive but little attention from the element opposed to Britain's trade policy. In every way do the returns indicate that the commerce of the country is on a most satisfactory basis. The imports which represent the raw material in which the industry of the country is engaged amounted in February to £35,476,736, being an increase of $7,342,247, or 26.1 per cent on February, 1895, total. Towards this increase all the main divisions of the trade have contributed. The imports for the first two months of the current year aggregated in value £73,950,560, showing the enormous increase of £9,072,622, or 13 9 per cent. The value of British produce and manufactures exported for the month was £19,683,456, which is an increase on last year's corresponding total of £3,710,361 or 33.2 per cent. For the two months the exports were £40,810,624, against £34,197,331 in 1895, and £35,831,329 in 1894, an increase over 1895 of $6,013,293, or at the rate of 19.3 per cent. It is easily seen by these figures that the foreign trade has shown a remarkable stride in the right direction. To get an idea of the enormous purport of these figures the reader should multiply them by five as he peruses them.

THE RAILWAYS AND THE SNOW BLOCKADE.

How Well They Look After Their Patrons.

(Toronto World.)

The officials of the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific who are responsible for the mechanical operation of the roads deserve every praise for the zeal they displayed in opening the lines at the earliest possible moment af the storm blockade of last week. They were apparently given a free hand from headquarters in the employment of labour, in spending money for the comfort of delayed passengers, and in surmounting any and every obstacle in their way with the utmost despatch. The writer saw a much inferior storm, as far as its area and severity were concerned, occur on one of the greatest railways of the United States a few weeks ago, and it was handled, or rather neglected, in a way that makes us all the more ready to appreciate the administrative capacity of the officials of our own roads.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRADE.

MR. B. SHORTLY IS RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT FOR 1896.

Reports of the President and Secretary for the Past Year—The Board Takes up the Bicycle Meet Question—They Will Support the Wheelmen.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trade was held last evening in the Town Council Chamber for the election of officers for the ensuing year, and the submission of the yearly reports of the President and Secretary-Treasurer. The following members were in attendance:—Messrs. Benj. Shortly, president, Robert Neill, Alex. Gibson, T. E. Bradburn, Robt. Hamilton, H. LeBrun, Peter Campbell, J. Carnegie, F. H. Dobbin, A. H. Stratton, Hampden Burnham, T. A. S Hay, A. L. Davis, Robt. Fair, Macfarlane Wilson, Alex. Elliott, H. S. Macdonald, F. W. Taylor, B. F. Ackerman, Andrew Mercer, C. LeBrun and E. Mason.

The minutes of the last annual meeting and of the last regular meeting were read, after which the secretary, Mr. J. S. Knapman, read some correspondence which had passed between himself and Messrs. Caldecott and Wills of the Toronto Board of Trade, relative to an address being delivered in Peterborough by Mr. Stapleton Caldecott, ex-President of the Toronto Board of Trade, and well known as a man well posted in Board of Trade matters.

The consent of Mr. Caldecott has finally been obtained to make an address in Peterborough on the evening of April 7th.

On motion of Mr. T. A. Hay, not only the members of the local Board, but all business men of the town will be invited to be present and hear the address in order that non-members may have an opportunity of hearing of the advantages of being connected with the organization.

On motion of Messrs. Carnegie and Davis, the President, Secretary and Messrs. J. Carnegie, J. H. Burnham and Robert Fair will be a committee to entertain Messrs. Caldecott and Mills and make all arrangements for advertising the date of the address, etc. The meeting will be held in the Town Council Chamber, extra seating accommodation being provided for the occasion.

The report of Mr. B. Shortly, president, was then read by him as follows:—

GENTLEMEN,—Another year in our history has passed and we are now assembled at the seventh annual meeting of the Board. The report which I will present to you this evening will be a brief review of some of the matters that have received your attention. Before taking up these questions I desire to extend to the Board my sincere thanks for the assistance given me as your president.

The past year has been a trying one in all lines of business and though at times prospects were gloomy the spirit of progress has been moving amongst us and I can safely say the town, commercially, is in as satisfactory a state as any town or city in the province. Careful business methods usually assist merchants and business men and the practice of these during the coming year, I think, will bring about success, though of course, the interests upon which we rely will be expected to do their share.

One matter that came up for consideration at the last annual meeting was that of securing a cheap rate on the railroads on Wednesday in order to increase the attendance at the Wednesday market and thus benefit the town generally. It was also deemed advisable to not only ask the railroads to allow the cheap rate but also to extend the limits of the present cheap rate on Saturdays. This has not yet been done and I would suggest that the Board again move in the matter as it is one that directly interests all the members.

The influence of the Board upon the municipal council has always been acknowledged and this year several matters that we have brought to the attention of the town council have been acted upon. In May last the question of increased market accommodation came up for consideration and the attention of the council was brought to the advisability of acquiring the strip of land lying between Water street and the C. P. R. line. This being in the vicinity of the present market it was looked upon as a desirable place and I am glad to inform the Board that the council has taken action in the matter. The Minister of Crown Lands was interviewed and there is every prospect of the town coming in possession of the lands. We also recommended to the council that a grant be given towards the Benefort bridge and such was done and the bridge, which shortens the distance for many farmers to Peterborough, has been erected. The Board also favoured the proposition to exempt the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company from taxation and as is well known the town council adopted a bylaw to that effect.

The Board with great reluctance and deep regret accepted the resignation of Mr. T. A. Hay as secretary of the Board. In Mr. Hay we had an untiring officer, and in his capacity as Secretary-Treasurer of the Board he gave unlimited satisfaction. The Board also lost two of its members in Mr. Charles McGill, who was promoted from his position of manager of the Ontario Bank to the office of General Manager, and Mr. F. J. Lewis, who has also been promoted from his position of manager of the Bank of Montreal to the head office at Montreal. At that time the citizens testified to their regret at both Mr. McGill's and Mr. Lewis' departure in a suitable way. This causes me to remark, as others often have, that the value of Peterborough business men is recognized throughout the Province and Dominion, and the larger cities are gladly claiming some of our leading citizens.

During the year we have been in correspondence with several manufacturing concerns that are desirous of removing their factories, where the facilities are better, and in several cases firms in the United States and Great Britain have been considering the question of commencing branch factories in Canada. To many of these we have presented the many natural advantages of Peterborough, and though as yet, no decision has been reached, we feel that our prospects are good.

The Board carefully considered the question of the exemption from taxation to manufacturing machinery and recommend the adoption of the scheme by the town council. I am glad to say the council adopted the plan in connection with an application of a local manufacturer.

Before bringing my report to a close I desire to draw the attention of the Board to the question of permanent improvements in our town. Through the efforts of the Board a sewerage system is now being constructed which will be of great benefit to the town. Now since this project is being carried into effect, I think the Board would win the approval of all progressive citizens, by advocating the erection of asphalt pavement on the main streets, instead of the present system. Other towns are far ahead of us in this respect, and I am sure the adoption of the new system would be of benefit to the town.

Thanking you for your kind attention, and hoping that the coming year will be the most successful in the Board's history,

I remain your obedient servant,
B. SHORTLY.

After the applause had subsided Mr. Knapman, Secretary-Treasurer, submitted his report and financial statement as appended:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN,—I have the honour of presenting to you, as secretary, the seventh annual report.

Through the resignation of the late secretary, the Board has lost a very valuable officer, one who has always worked for the advancement of the Board and the promotion of the interest of the town of Peterborough. We cannot overestimate the labour which Mr Hay expended in looking over the iron industry in this section of Ontario and in all other work pertaining to the Board.

I regret that the members have not taken the interest in the Board meetings that they should, considering the interest the Board takes in the prosperity of the town.

We hope that the coming year will see a large increase in members and also the meetings better attended.

During the past year the sewerage system has been started and a large amount of work accomplished, and in the coming year, judging by the interest the new council is taking in that important work, we will probably see a large amount of money expended in extending our sewerage.

During the past year the Benefort bridge across the Otonabee river was built and the Board attended the opening of the same; we hope by the building of the bridge to have a larger number of people than ever seek our market to dispose of their produce, and make their purchases from merchants of the town.

The Manufacturing Committee have been in communication with several industries that were considering a location for their works, but although we sent a deputation to Toronto to confer with the Carpet Co. there, and received several communications from manufacturers in the United States, we are sorry to say that our efforts have not met with success. We hope, however, that the coming year will see a few new industries started in our town.

A question which has been considered by the Board in the past and in regard to which we have expressed our opinion strongly, is that of the municipal union of the Village of Ashburnham and Town.

We favoured the union and the people endorsed it by a vote, but it seems to be as far away as ever.

Last year the executors of the Nicholls' estate expended a large amount of money in the improvement of Jackson and Nicholls Parks and the expenditure has resulted in these breathing places being greatly beautified and improved.

Our town will appreciate these advantages for its citizens and in view of the work which remains, and of which we understand it is the intention yet to do, we believe that our parks will be made and maintained second to none in any town in Canada.

Your obedient servant,
J. S. KNAPMAN,
Secretary.

REV. S. R. FULLER'S MARRIAGE

Will be the Subject of an Ecclesiastical Court Trial at Boston.

Boston, March 21.—On Thursday next a special ecclesiastical court of the Episcopal Church will begin its sitting behind closed doors, for the trial of S. R. Fuller, rector of St. Paul's Church, Malden, for alleged breach of canonical law in his marriage last summer to Miss Derby, a member of Trinity Church, this city. The point is that Rev. Mr. Fuller is a divorced man, he having secured legal separation from his wife on the ground of desertion.

Uncle Sam Will Be Snubbed.

Madrid, March 23.—The Herald publishes an article declaring that Spain will never recognize an American Commission of Enquiry into matters affecting Cuba. War, the paper says, is preferable, and the Government ought to resent with energy any interference on the part of the United States.

Conflagration at Colon, Colombia.

Colon, March 23.—A fire started here at 4 o'clock this morning, and before it was got under control half of the city had been burned. The spread of the flames was aided by a strong wind, that carried large pieces of burning material on to the roofs of houses, which were soon destroyed in a conflagration that at one time threatened to wipe out the entire city. It is impossible as yet to learn the full extent of the loss, but it will be very heavy, probably in excess of $300,000.

Earthquake Shocks in Maine.

Machias, Me., March 23.—A violent shock of earthquake was felt here last evening about 8 o'clock. Houses trembled, dishes and windows rattled and clocks were stopped. People rushed from their houses in the streets in alarm. The direction of the disturbance was from north to south.

Corinne's Mother Dead.

Attractive Women.

Why is one women attractive and another not? The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks and her vivacity. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Some are born with what is called "constitutional weakness." Those who do not enjoy perfect health, need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism.

When to Water Horses.

Always water your horses the first thing in the morning, and do not let the water be too cold. If it is too cold you will probably have a case of colic. Water is best when it is about 10 degrees warmer than the outside air in winter, and as much cooler in summer. Give the hay before the grain, so that the stomach may be partially filled before the concentrated food gets into it. Better still, feed chopped feed. Mix the ground grain with dampened hay or fodder, and give the largest feed at night, when the horse has time to digest it. Fat and food for the muscles are made when the horse is at rest.

Scarcity of Fur.

The growing scarcity of fur-bearing animals suggests to a writer in the London Spectator the feasibility of breeding such animals on farms in Siberia. Last spring, he says, a single silver fox skin sold in London for $850, and he believes that silver foxes, as well as many other desirable fur-bearing animals, could be bred in great numbers in the proper climate.

Quill Pens.

Quill pens are prepared for use by sorting them, drying them in hot sand, scraping them, so as to remove the outer skin, then hardening them in diluted nitric acid.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that, if written to confidentially, will mail in a sealed letter, the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervousness, lost ... and weak, shrunken parts.

I have no scheme to extort money from anyone whomsoever. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in man kind, but thank Heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.

Having nothing to sell or send C.O.D., I want no money. Address JAS. A. ARMAN, Box 338 ... Detroit, Mich.

WHO KILLED JAMES AGNEW?

Government Inspector Murray Now at Work on the Lindsay Murder Case—The Carney Boys Won't Testify.

Lindsay, March 23.—Provincial Detective Murray arrived here to-night to investigate the circumstances of the shooting of James Agnew on Tuesday night last. The inquest was continued this evening and adjourned till Wednesday to permit of additional evidence being offered. A good deal of the time of the jury to-night was taken up with arguments between County Crown Attorney Devlin and Mr. Barron, who is looking after the interests of the two Carney boys, as to whether the two latter could be compelled to give evidence or not, and whether certain statements made by the boys after their arrest to Chief of Police Bell could be received as evidence.

Patrick Carney, who is held as an accessory to the murder, was sworn, but refused to make any statements on the advice of his counsel, Mr. Barron.

Miss Ellen Marron, a maid at Logie's farm, where John Carney, who is accused of the murder, worked, identified at the inquest the trigger of a revolver which was found by the police at Logie's. John Carney's revolver had the trigger missing.

County Constable Foster and Chief of Police Bell gave evidence as to the arrest of the two Carney boys, and the finding of the murdered man's watch at the Carney house. Plaster of Paris casts of the footprints of the supposed murderer were produced by Foster, and John Carney's overshoes, which he is said to have worn on the night Agnew was shot, were also exhibited.

Mrs. Carney, the mother of the boys, testified that her son Pat was home on the night of the murder shortly after half-past 9, and did not go out again, and this evidence was corroborated by Alexander Petrie, who testified that he drove Pat in the direction of his home about that hour on Tuesday night. The inquest was then adjourned till Wednesday night.

TWO MEN BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Corey's Torpedo Works at Petrolea Completely Demolished—The Victims are John Owens and Wm. Huggard.

Petrolea, Ont., March 23.—About 1 o'clock this afternoon a tremendous report was heard in town, fairly shaking the houses. The report was plainly heard in Wyoming and the surrounding country. On investigation it proved to be Corey's torpedo works, which are situated about a mile from the main part of Petrolea. It appears two men named John Owens and William Huggard were thawing out glycerine at the above mentioned factory, and it is generally supposed they must have let some of the glycerine drop. In fact, it is hard to say what caused the explosion. The building was completely wrecked, and Owens and Huggard were blown to pieces. One part of their remains was blown into a tree 300 yards away and other parts were scattered all around, some to quite a distance. It will be very difficult to identify them. Owens is a married man with one child, and Huggard is single. Huggard commenced to work at the factory only this morning. Hundreds of people are visiting the scene of the explosion, and willing hands are doing all that can possibly be done.

NICE SCHEME TO ROB A BANK.

It Was Given Away to the Toronto Police by a Convict.

Brockville, March 23.—This morning a letter was received by the local police from Col. Grasett, Chief of Police, Toronto, stating that a prisoner from a northern town, who had been arrested there and convicted for an offence, had confided to a Toronto police officer just before being taken away on the previous day, that a plot was on foot to rob the Standard Bank at Brockville. The plotters, he said, purposed making their headquarters in an abandoned brewery located on the river front, and their scheme was to dig a trench from the railway tunnel north of Main street, under the building. The informant said he was let into the scheme while on a recent visit to Brockville. Chief Grasett intimates further that the confession implicates five or six men, mostly convicts, and that John Shea, an ex-convict belonging to Perth, was one of the original promoters.

THE CENTRAL VERMONT RAILWAY

Has Been Placed in the Hands of Receivers—The G.T.R. Will Run It

Montreal, March 23.—(Special.)—General Manager Hays of the Grand Trunk would not utter a word this evening regarding the fact that the Central Vermont had been placed in the hands of the general managers of the two roads in their capacity of receivers. Your correspondent learns, however, that the manager of the Central Vermont will soon be transferred to Montreal, and that it will become practically a portion of the Grand Trunk system.

James Dick Jumped Overboard

New York, March 23.—The Allan State liner Pomeranian, which arrived from Glasgow yesterday, was minus her chief cook, James Dick, who leaped overboard during a fit of temporary insanity on March 11, and was drowned.

RESCUED FROM INSANITY.

GENTLEMEN,—To say all I ought to in favour of B B. B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it. I am a different man to what I was ten years ago when it was expected I would be in the asylum, but now I am in perfect robust health and it was the B.B.B. that did it. I suffered for five or six years from constipation, sometimes so severely that I went out of my mind.

I tried various doctors, both in the country and in the city, and took medicines too numerous to mention, but everything failed to have the desired effect. When I used Burdock Blood Bitters it succeeded beyond all expectations, requiring only two bottles to cure. To make it still more certain that B. B. B. the real cure for constipation, I may say that some two years afterwards, I felt the symptoms returning and took one bottle more and from that time to the present day (over eight years) I have never had any returns of the disease.

I never knew any medicine to work so well. It does not seem to be a mere reliever but a sure and certain cure as I can testify to, for hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine and advice failed to do me any good, but three dollars' worth of B.B.B. made a permanent cure that has given me years of health and comfort. Yours truly,

C. L. KILMER, Toronto.

CANADIAN CATTLE IN ENGLAND.

The British Government Will Not Drop Their Exclusion Bill.

London, March 23.—A parliamentary paper has been issued embodying the correspondence which has passed between the Canadian High Commissioner and the Colonial Office on the subject of the exportation of Canadian cattle into England. The paper concludes with a statement from the president of the Board of Agriculture that it would be to the interests of both Canada and the Mother Country to close the controversy. Trade had developed on the lines of the bill now before Parliament, providing that Canadian cattle shall be slaughtered at their points of landing, and the board calls attention to the growth of trade in cattle imported from the United States which have been slaughtered at their port of landing for the past 17 years as proof that the bill will not act to the prejudice of Canadian cattle.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman finds ample compensation for her trials and worries and bothers in the soft, clinging little body nestling close to her own—in the trustful clinging of the little hands, and the love light in the little eyes.

A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Doctor Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo.

"I lost six babies by untimely births. In the eighth month of my seventh pregnancy, as usual, I was taken ill. The family doctor was called. He said there was no help for me. The baby must be born. I grieved excessively. I persuaded my husband, against the physician's advice, to get me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Four doses quieted my pains. That child was born at full time. It is three years old, and I am the happiest mother in the world."

THE LIME-KILN CLUB.

DE MODERN CICERO ON "DE DANGERS OF AMBISHUN."

How He Was Received by the Club—The Honors Accorded Him Don't Include Those Which Foster in Their Recipient The Dangers of Ambition.

"It am my painful dooty to announce dat de Hon. Step Back Cahoon am in de ante-room an' waitin' to deliber a lecktur' befo' dis club," said the President as the meeting opened with a red-hot fire in the stove and eighteen kerosene lamps lighting up the nooks and corners.

"De gem'lan named has a wide reputashun in de Soufwest as 'De Modern Cicero.' He arrove heah at his own expense, an' if properly incouraged, will open a foundry for de purpose of graduatin' orators an' poets—terms very reasonable. De subjick of his lectur' or address to-night will be: 'De Dangers of Ambishun.' I bespeak fur him your rapped attenshun. Doorin' his delivery Samuel Shin will let de stove severely alone, an' if Sinful Smith goes to frowin' apple-cores around de hall he will be made to realize dat dis am a cold world an' dat all flezh am grass. De orator will now be brung in."

Pickles Smith and Trustee Pullback absented themselves for a brief while and then returned with the distinguished stranger.

"My frens," he began in well-built voice of two-horse power, "I has trabbled ober a thousand miles to spoke to you from dis platform. Your President wid whom I am now stopping (board free and shams on de spare bed), has doubtless outlined my lectur' an' my intenshuns. I will darfore attack de subject widout furder preface.

"What am ambishun? It am a desiah in de human heart to git ahead—to soar higher—to climb up—to make ourselves better off. Who am ambishus? All of us, from de lowest to de highest. De poo' man wants to be rich; de rich man wants to be Senator, Guv'ner or President. One man am ambishus to become a poet; a second wants to quit whitewashin' and become a lawyer; a third sighs fur de time to come when he kin quit blackin' stoves an' sit in de Legislachur. One woman wants to lead in de church; another in society; a third in fashuns. Ambishun am allus skookin' around an' looking fur a lodgin'-place in de human heart. I doan' suppose dat dar' am one single pusson in dis hall who's heart am devoid of ambishu. (Sensation.) De Keeper of de B'ar Trap would like to be Librarian; de Librarian would like to be Treasurer; de Treasurer hankers to be President, and de President would be tickled all ober if nominated for Congress.

"I hev known speakers an' writers to declar' dat dis sentiment of ambishun orter be cultivated an' incouraged in de human breast, but I tell you it am a dangerous thing. It am a sentiment dat shouldn't be fooled wid. When you sot out to incourage ambishun in de heart of a gem'lan who has seen de las' stick of wood put on de fiah—de last handful of flour scraped out o' de bar'l—de last piller in de house stuffed into a broken winder, you tech a lighted match to a heap of shavins an' start a flame dat may lick up a hoss-barn wid its fiery tongues! (Decided sensation.)

"To make a personal illustrashun, take de case of Shindig Watkins. His wife airns an alverage of $5 per week at de wash tub. He moves an alverage of twelve times a y'ar to save rent. He plays policy to de amount of fifty cents a week, an' am content wid one squar' meal a day. He am a slumberin' volcano. So long as he am content dar' am no danger, but let somebody tell him dat he has a fucher—let somebody sow de seeds of ambishun, n' dat slumberin' volcano would get up an' bust an' roar an' shake an' send ribers of molten lava runnin' frew de land! (Everybody looks at Shindig in fear and awe.)

"Fur another example take de case of Elder Toots. He walks about wid his hands in his pockets. His countenance w'ars a serene an' contented expreshun'. All days am de same to him, bekase he knows dat his son-in-law will send ober grub an' fuel. All nights am peaceful, bekase he knows dat his wife's fadder will pay de rent an' put a bar'l of cider in de cellar in de fall. Men look upon him as a good ole man, an' dey speak of how gently he am slippin' down de path which leads to de grave. But, let somebody drap a hint to de Elder dat he orter set up a wood-yard, or run for Alderman, or lib in a house wid inside blinds an' a front doah bell, an' no human bein' kin predict de result. (The Elder sleeps on, as usual.) Ambishun might lead him to rob a bank, kill his son-in-law, forge notes, become a livin' terror instead of a guileless ole man.

"I has seen ambishun lead de owner of one poo' ole white mule to feelin' dat he mus' hev a span of shiney black ones, an' he went to prison fur fifteen y'ars.

"I has seen ambishun lead de man who couldn't pay fo' dolairs a month rent go off an' steal a bale of cotton an' sell it to make de fust payment on a manshun hevin' front an' back sta'rs an' old one pane of glass to each winder. (Gestures of horror.)

"In closin' dis address, which has bin chopped in two in de middle in order to 'low you to git home at an airly hour, I return my hottest thanks to one an' all of you fur de seemin' attenshun bestowed upon my humble efforts, an' my fool prayer am to de effeck dat happiness will continer to attend you. Any collecksh'un tooken up fur my benefit will be reputably accepted in de speerit tendered, an' no one kin predict what results it may lead to."

When the gentleman had retired the President rose and said:

"To present de Hon. Cahoon wid a sum of money will be to incourage his ambishun, an' you hev heard from his own lips the dangers of sich a course. No collecksh'un will darfore be tooken up, an' dis meetin' will now be adjourned."—M. Quad.

His First Impression.

"That umbrella you lent me yesterday—" said the man who had just come into the office.

"Yes?"

"Here it is. I came to return it."

"Dear me!" was the absent-minded reply. "I had no idea it was in such hand condition as all that!"—Washington Post.

PARALYSIS CURABLE.

Stricken Ones to be Seen Everywhere—This Form of Living Death Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

The most startling example of human helplessness is the paralytic.

The victim excites your commiseration, but resents your pity.

He of the palsied hand stiffly pressing the benumbed side, is to be seen everywhere we go.

The most convincing proof that this pitiable condition is the outcome of kidney disease is the fact that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure it.

Not generally recognized as a kidney disease, it succumbs to kidney treatment.

Did you ever know of a cure? Just think a moment!

If you do it must have been the work of Dodd's Kidney Pills, for no other medicine ever yet cured.

Bake-Shop Humor.

"Have you tried our new electric cakes?" asked the young man who tends the bake-shop.

"Why, no, I haven't," said the sweet young lady who trades there. "Why are they called electric cakes?"

"So many currants in 'em, you know. Ha! ha! Heard it before? No? Little joke I got up myself."

"Oh, how witty."

"Why, that's nothin'. Here's another. Why is a cookie? Give it up? Because it isn't a cook-B."

"Wonderful!"

"Yes, I think of 'em all day. Fried cakes can sing, you know, on one note—"Do" notes, eh? I get off things in here so funny sometimes that the ginger snaps. Don't know whether it draws trade or not, but I should think it would. Now, that pie there, for instance, don't belong to us. Why? Because it's Min's pie."

"I don't wonder the molasses cakes," said the young lady, as she smiled again sweetly and tripped out.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

Paragraphs of Local Interest to Endeavourers Supplied by the County Union and Epworth League.

SUBJECT OF PRAYER FOR MARCH.

"For pastors and preachers the world around, that they may be filled with power from on high, and that their people, young and old, may co-operate with them more effectively in all Christian work."

THE HABIT OF PRAYER.

Rev. Andrew Murray says: "We are to wait for the power of the Holy Spirit every day, for the strength of God every hour. Before you leave your chamber in the morning not only have your Bible study and prayer, but let there be definite waiting on God, that he may come in and take possession of you for the day. Then we must wait not only patiently but continually. Some wait for God in the morning or in the evening; but we need to pray that the Holy Spirit may bring us into the attitude of waiting all the day upon God—waiting continually for instruction and for supplies of grace and strength. Blessed are all they that thus wait for Him."

A DANGER SIGNAL.

There were six delegates from Great Britain at the great Christian Endeavor convention in Boston last year. These gentlemen have been writing articles entitled "Impressions of American Endeavour." Many complimentary things were said by them of what they saw and heard. But one of them, Rev. James Mursell, touched on a danger which gives much room for thought, that is, "The underdoing of the pledge." This is a real danger and one that every Endeavourer should prayerfully consider. There is no doubt the pledge is the back bone of the society, the more members who live up to it the stronger and more effective is the work o the society. But, alas, how many societies there are where the bulk of the members leave all the work on a few; if these are absent a dull meeting may be expected. We have not to go outside of our own county to find such societies. Now this should not be; every active member is pledged to take some part, beside singing, in every meeting, and if this is not done you are guilty of underdoing the pledge. Every such lack in an active member has not only a bad effect on other active members, but it may possibly have such an evil influence on the associate members that eternity may not efface. Those who do not live up to the pledge, and who excuse themselves because of timidity, forget the opening words of the pledge, "Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength, I promise Him to do," etc. They thus cast a doubt on His power, and sow the seeds of unbelief in their own hearts, very soon the habit of not taking part in the meetings becomes chronic, and the last state of such an endeavour is worse than the first."

We only wish that these few words could reach the eye and touch the conscience of every active Endeavourer in this county, and then, with the eye of God upon them, and the words of the pledge before them, that they would then and there consecrate themselves and determine from this time forward to keep the pledge in its entirety. Trusting, trusting, trusting in the power of Jesus—every day and all the way leaving the results with him.

EASTER SUNDAY.

The local executive intend holding a union prayer meeting on Easter Sunday morning at 7 20 in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. The devotional part of the meeting will be under the charge of the Charlotte street society. The musical part will be conducted by St. Paul's society. Christian Endeavourers should be present in large numbers, as well as any other Christians who would like to go. Let us all pray for its success.

ST. PAUL'S.

Owing to the lecture on Monday night by Rev. H. Symonds, the meeting of this society was held on Sunday evening. Miss Quinn and Mr. W. A. Beaton gave reports of the formation of the Presbyterial Union for this Presbytery. The reports were very interesting. As the substance of them was published in this column last week, there is no need to repeat them.

CHARLOTTE STREET.

E. L. of C. E. held its regular meeting on Monday evening. There was a good [illegible]. Instead of the regular topic being taken, the report of the Convention [illegible] was read by the society [illegible]. The report [illegible] was full and [illegible] of the speech [illegible] were [illegible]

6000 active and 4000 associate members, and 250 societies in the Bay of Quinte conference.

Below is the list of officers for Charlotte street E. L. of C. E. for the ensuing year:

President.—G. J. Tovey.
1st Vice-Pres.—D. D. C. Dawe
2nd Vice-Pres'—P. Hamilton.
3rd Vice-Pres.—Rev. J. J. Rae.
4th Vice-Pres.—Miss LeMay.
Corresponding Sec.—H. Taylor.
Recording Sec.—S. A. German.
Treasurer.—Miss E. Thomas.

CHARLOTTE STREET JUNIORS.

The juniors of this society intend holding a social on Good Friday evening, in the Sunday School room. The entainment promises to be bright, as extensive preparations are being made. Rev. Mr. Bartlett, of Cobourg, will address the children. He is so well known by the children, that little need be said for him, only a request, that large numbers come out to hear him and enjoy the entertainment.

LOCAL EXECUTIVE.

The monthly meeting of the Local Executive, will be held next week, in the Y. M. C. A. Building—most probably on Wednesday night after prayer meeting. Arrangements for Easter meeting and other important business will be brought before the Executive. The members will be notified as to the exact night.

BETHEL—KEENE CIRCUIT.

At our regular weekly meeting held Wednesday evening the majority of our members were present. The topic—"Keeping our pledge in spirit and in letter"—was taken by Miss Adeline Fife, who showed us how we should regard and keep the different promises contained in our pledge. A pleasing and helpful feature of the service was repeating the pledge by the active members in concert. An enthusiastic prayer meeting followed, led by Herb. Patterson. At the close of the meeting delegates were appointed to attend the Easter rally.

CONVENTION ECHOES.

The programme has been issued and copies will be mailed to each society. The committee wish to have them distributed. Will the one receiving them kindly attend to this matter?

The local union intend holding an Easter morning prayer meeting. Could not some of our other unions do the same?

Hustle in the reports required by the secretary. Your society should not be missed in the secretary's report.

Send in names of all who can attend, whether appointed as delegates or not.

In Mr. Bengough a rare treat is expected. He has never before been heard in this county along Endeavour lines. The juniors have an excellent programme arranged. Mr. Bengough is down for a chalk talk.

The addresses on missions and on the study of the Bible, followed by conferences on these topics will no doubt prove helpful.

Bring your Hymnal with you. The hymns used will be from "Songs and Solos."

It is expected that a lot of good things will be presented in the two minute reports. Just think, thirty societies, two minutes each—a full hour of brief, bright Endeavour doings. The junior superintendents will have two minutes allotted to them also. Probably they could report along the same lines as seniors.

All delegates will be expected to register before going into the first session. As the they register the billiting committee will give each their billet.

The fifth annual convention of Peterborough County Y. P. S. C. E. will be held in St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Peterborough, on Easter Monday, April 6th, 1896.

THE McCORD CASE.

Richmond, March 16th, (Special)—The talk of farmers and others in town is mostly about the astonishing cure of Wm. McCord, a farmer near here. His presence made assurance visible, and he said—"After the doctors pronounced by disease Diabetes no one thought recovery possible. I was partially paralysed, was nine months in bed, and I ran down until I was a mere shell. When I commenced taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I stuck close to directions. One box helped me, and nine boxes cured me. Am sixty years old, and have lived here forty years." Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and dealers. Price 50 cents a box.

WESTWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The roads are bad, decidedly bad.

Our mails have been very irregular this last week, owing to the storms blocking the railroads.

Mr. John McGrath, of this village, met with rather a serious accident last week. He and his brothers were chopping in the woods, when the axe used by one of his brothers accidentally glanced and inflicted a severe wound in his thigh. He is now recovering nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. John Drummond, of this village, seem to have a mania for acquiring of large public buildings. Mr. Drummond, who has been janitor of the town hall, here, for a number of years, now virtually owns it. Mrs. Drummond, who has been janitrix for the Presbyterian church here for a great many years, now really imagines she owns the building, or, at least, acts in that way, as whenever any public meetings are to be held a deputation, and at times nearly the whole congregation, have to wait on her, and if their case is not very ably laid before her she refuses them the key.

Mr. Chas. Smith, Dawn Mills, Ont., says: "For several years I was troubled with pains in my limbs, which continued getting worse until I thought I would have to quit work. In fact the pains were so severe that I could not rest nights. I took one box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills and I am perfectly cured."

Although it is nearly a year since Mr. S. took the Pills he has had no return of the pains and feels splendid. Sold in Peterborough, by Wm. Madill.

TAKING MEASURES!

A Few Years Ago

We had dreams and visions that have now materialized into facts. But the facts are greater than we ever expected.

A few years ago, speaking of GOUGH BROS., people connected this establishment with Ready-Made Clothing only. To-day this store has a grip on the best trade, not only in Ready-Made Clothing, but in Boots and Shoes, Nobby Hats, Shirts, Ties, Furnishings, etc.; and now the pull is rapidly coming our way in—

Made-to-Measure Clothing.

Department after department has been successfully engrafted until it can be unreservedly claimed that GOUGH BROS'. Mammoth Emporium fills the bill—from the crown of the head to the soles of the feet—from the noted Stanley Hat to the best makes of King's stylish Shoes—every requirement for Man or Boy, with very much in every department that concerns and interests the Ladies as well.

Verily, there's a heap of truth in the trite aphorism of the ingenious McGarvey—"If yez got no push yez'll get no pull."

Fine Dressers

Are learning fast that Gough Bros. are pushing hard for the pull on the finest Tailoring trade of Peterborough. Our business motto—observed as we observe it—will bring success in any line:—"The Better the Grade, the Bigger the Trade."

This store of yours has gathered together for the spring and summer season of 1896, the most correct patterns in Imported and Canadian Tweeds, Worsteds, Cheviots, and Home Spuns, to meet your fancy. The British and American Fashion Plates are now on view. Our Tailors are all back to work again on full time, and Duncan Cameron, the keenest of Cutters, has his coat off—the whole department bustling with an air of activity, ready to corroborate our printed statements.

FASTIDUOUS DRESSERS—Men who have an extra care for looks, when you come to find what we really can do for you, you'll begin to find that you can save a third or so on your clothes, and be well dressed to boot. We won't let you pay so little for them as to get anything unworthy—economy don't lie along that route. We are teaching men who wear good clothes, that high prices need not always be paid to get high values.

"Always Good at Gough's."

RUSHING BUSINESS.

The Ontario Legislature Will Soon be Closed.

THE OPPOSITION DOING NOTHING

Mr. Marter Said to Have Got Instructions From Ottawa to Get Ready for the Dominion Elections Saturday Session to be Held—New Year's Day Voting.

Toronto, March 26.—It seems the Opposition has decided to aid the Government to get through the business of the Local Legislature by Easter. Mr. Marter and his followers have a motive and a strong one. It is stated upon good authority that the leader of the Opposition has received word from his masters at Ottawa to get ready as soon as possible for a Dominion election. Mr. Marter will be expected to exert his influence on behalf of the party if he expects to secure the senatorship he is said to be anxious about. Yesterday a great mass of routine work was put through the House. Most of the Government measures were advanced a stage. The Railway and Private Bills Committees finished their work, which leaves the desks clear for the disposal of the bills already upon the order paper. The business of the House it is expected will be concluded a week from to-day, and prorogation is to take place the following Tuesday.

The Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway Bill passed through the Private Bills Committee yesterday without opposition. When the report of the Committee was read in the House, Dr. McKay asked that the bill be sent back to committee. He said the bill had been rushed through committee during the absence of many who were strongly opposed and who could present good reasons why the bill should be amended.

Hon. Mr. Gibson denied there had been any sharp practice in passing the bill through the committee stage. He said the chief opposition came from a man who had a claim for goods furnished. This person wished that the bill should not pass until his claim was settled. Mr. Gibson could not see why the House should become a collecting agency.

Mr. German made a strong speech in favor of returning the bill to the committee.

The report of the committee was adopted, notwithstanding the protest.

Mr. Whitney moved for order of the House for a return of copies of all applications and correspondence in favor of and relating to the appointment of William Murdock as Farmer, or Assistant Farmer, at the London Asylum.

He said he understood that Mr. Murdock, at the last provincial election, was a candidate in the Patron interest, but at the last moment had abandoned the contest. Mr. Whitney had heard, upon good authority, that Mr. Murdock had been induced to resign by the Government, upon a promise he would get the position referred to.

Hon. Mr. Gibson said there was no objection to bringing down the correspondence, and when it did come down it would be shown no promise had been made, and that he had in no way been tampered with.

Hon. Mr. Ross said Mr. Murdock's withdrawal had not left the Patrons without a candidate, since another gentleman had accepted the position, but finding the fight hopeless, had also withdrawn on nomination day.

These bills were read a second time: Respecting the office of Sheriff.—Mr. Truax.

To amend the Municipal Act.—Mr. Middleton.

To amend the Assessment Act.—Mr. Ryerson.

To amend the Act to Prevent the Spread of Noxious Weeds and of Diseases affecting Fruit.—Mr. Charlton.

To amend the Assessment Act.—Mr. Davis.

The following bills were read a third time:

Respecting by-laws Nos. 680, 792 and 823 of the City of Hamilton. To further improve the Agriculture and Arts Act—Mr. Dryden. Respecting the London Street Railway Company—Mr. German. Respecting the floating debt of the village of Markham—Mr. Richardson.

The House laughed heartily when Mr. Caven, Patron, asked that his notice of motion regarding county officials "stand at the request of the Government."

The following bills were dropped: To amend the Ontario Architects Act—Mr. Garrow. To amend the Act respecting mortgages of real estate—Mr. Biggar. To amend the Assessment Act—Mr. Magwood.

These bills were given a second reading: To amend the Assessment Act—Mr. Ryerson. To amend the Act to prevent the spread of noxious weeds and of diseases affecting fruit trees—Mr. Charlton.

Mr. Crawford's bill respecting the City of Toronto occasioned a lengthy discussion in committee of the whole. The talk was chiefly over the clause allowing the city to aid Mr. Johnston in his suit against the Consumers' Gas Co.

Mr. Biggar moved an amendment providing that before being enabled to financially aid Mr. Johnston the corporation should enter into a written agreement with the company whereby they shall become liable for costs that may be paid by the plaintiff. Mr. Biggar said Mr. Johnston wanted such an amendment and the city should not object to it.

Mr. Marter understood the city asked to pay only what costs had been already incurred.

Mr. Balfour thought Mr. Johnston was as much the agent of the Legislature as the City of Toronto in this action and surely the House had a right to assist in enforcing its own legislation. He thought this should be made a test case.

Mr. Whitney said the merits of the case were not now being considered. The question was whether the city should be allowed to dodge the results of an action to which it was a party. Now that the city had gone so far it should not be allowed to back out of its agreement or shirk its responsibility. Mr. Johnston, he understood, was satisfied with the amendment.

Mr. Marter said his objection had been directed only to the city withdrawing from future responsibility. The city was not to be held liable for past expenses incurred by Mr. Johnston.

Mr. Crawford observed that he seemed to be alone in the matter. If the city consented to the amendment he would not object to it.

The amendment was carried and the bill reported as amended.

Upon the House resuming business after recess the Attorney-General moved that after to-day Government business shall have precedence over all other business, in every day of the session, except Wednesday, for Private bills, and that there shall be a sitting of the House on Saturday next, to begin at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, Mr. Speaker to leave the chair at 1 of the clock without the question being put to.

The motion carried.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on Mr. Dryden's Bill to provide for the inspection of bake shops and Mr. Whitney objected to sub-section two of clause two, if it meant the appointment of a new inspector at extra expense.

Mr. Dryden said there was no intention of appointing an extra inspector.

Mr. Kerns moved that the bill should not apply to places of less than 4000 population, but the motion failed and the bill was reported.

Mr. Harcourt's amendment to the Succession Duties' Act, providing that it shall not apply to amounts covered by insurance policies, passed the committee stage.

Mr. Matheson spoke again in favor of a more moderate succession duty, for fear of driving capital and men out of the country. He also proposed that the bill should make adopted children to rank on the same footing as ordinary children.

Several other bills were put through the committee stage, and the House went into Committee of Supply, the expense in connection with the conduct of the Agricultural College at Guelph being freely criticized by the Opposition.

Mr. Matheson suggested that as an important exhibition was to be held in Toronto this year, the Government should see that the Exposition grounds were put in proper shape for such an affair. He suggested a levelling or terracing of the grounds in certain parts.

Mr. Hardy said the Government had last fall done its part in fixing up the grounds, and the rest of the work devolved on the city.

Mr. McKay asked permission of the House to introduce a bill regarding the planting of sign posts on country roads, and at the tops of dangerous hills by the Canadian Wheelmen's Association.

The House adjourned at 11.30.

ELECTIONS ON NEW YEAR'S.

Municipal Bills Considered—Yesterday's Work in the Committees

In the Municipal Committee yesterday morning Mr. Hobbs' bill providing that elections may be held in cities on New Year's Day was reported. The measure fixes Dec. 20 as nomination day.

Mr. Garrow's bill to give votes in municipal elections to holders of $400 worth of stock in companies was lost. The principle of the bill was that the large amounts of money locked up in corporations should be vote-producing.

Mr. Mutrie's bill to enable County Councils to grant aid to townships as well as county roads when the township roads run into county roads, was passed.

Another bill was passed providing that licenses to hold land sales must be taken out by persons other than sheriffs, assignees and municipal officers.

A measure was passed providing that distress for taxes can only be levied on the goods of persons assessed for the property on which the arrearages exist.

A bill absolving municipalities from liability for accidents occurring on railway lines running through the thoroughfares of a corporation was lost. The measure also relieved municipalities from liability for accidents occurring during the repairing of streets unless negligence were proved.

JENNIE PEW RAN AWAY.

Finally Turned Up as a Menial in Buffalo—Her Husband is Moving for Divorce.

Buffalo, March 25.—John L. Pew of Merritton, Ont., was married to Miss Jennie Holden in October, 1883. She was then but 17 years of age and he was 20. Twenty-seven days after the marriage Jennie ran away with James Collins, who worked in a dry goods store in St. Catharines. Where Collins and Jennie went is not known. For 13 years the husband of the young woman had no idea where she was.

Business brought John L. Pew from Merritton to Niagara Falls, where he is now residing. A short time ago he heard that his missing wife was in Buffalo. He came to this city and found her serving as a waitress in a cheap dining room near the foot of Main-street. Pew simply hired Attorney Thomas to draw up a summons and complaint in an action for divorce and had it served upon her by Deputy Sheriff Sloan before he went home.

The Tupper Libel Case.

Halifax, March 25.—In the Tupper libel case against Robert McConnell, Stipendiary Fielding this afternoon decided to receive in evidence copies of The Chronicle produced in court, on which the charge of libel was founded, and copies of The Herald, containing other letters signed Robert McConnell and C. H. Cahan. Counsel for the defence objected, but was overruled. The case was then adjourned until Thursday, Mr. Borden [illegible] prosecution, stating that he would [illegible] have some more witness to examine. The case of the Queen v. Dunn was continued until the same day.

MINORITY REPORT

In Reference to the Royal Military College.

TOO MANY OFFICERS IN THE PLACE

Alaska Boundary Commissioners' Report Handed in—Mount St. Elias is in Canada—Dull Day in the House—Mr McShane Scores the Customs Department.

Ottawa, March 25.—(Special)—The minority report of Mr. Sandford Fleming, one of the official visitors to the Royal Military College, was presented to Parliament to-day, as well as the report of the Commandant of the college, Gen. Cameron, in reply to the strictures of the board. Mr. Fleming says that as he understands it the military college was established with the primary object of providing means of imparting a military education, and that this should be done in the best possible manner, having due regard to cost. He says it is obvious to the visitor to the college that the institution is overmanned; for 57 cadets there is a staff of 37, exclusive of the catering department. In five years the college has turned out an average of less than 14 graduates per annum, the cost per graduate during that period having been $5510, of which the graduate himself pays $1450. Mr. Fleming thinks the institution should be converted into a purely military one, and that cadets should be required to finish their civil education, now carried on at the college at excessive and unnecessary cost, before entering the college. Two years should suffice for the military training. Mr. Fleming points out that graduates in the past have had scant treatment in the matter of appointments in the public service of the Dominion.

The joint report of the International Boundary Commissioners—Messrs. Duffield and King—appointed to ascertain facts and data necessary to the permanent delimitation of the boundary line between Alaska and Canada, was presented to Parliament to-day. The report shows that the surveyors of the two countries agreed approximately in their observations. The summit of Mt. St. Elias is found to be 2.41 statute miles east of the 141st meridian, that is to say, in Canadian territory.

The Inland Revenue Department has issued a bulletin giving the results of the analysis of samples of agricultural fertilizers. The number of various samples analyzed this year was 92, which exceeds those of last year by eight, and represents the largest number of samples offered to Canadian consumers for any one year since the act came into operation. Thirty-nine brands were offered by United States manufacturers, who seemed to be coming into the Canadian markets to a larger extent than before.

Mr. O. A. Howland, M.L.A., appeared before the Private Bills Committee of the Senate this morning in furtherance of the bill incorporating the Canadian Historical Association. The point was raised as to how far the respective discoveries of the Cabots and of Jacques Cartier, the famous French mariner, covered the same ground. The preamble was amended so that it would not appear that Canada was discovered by the Cabots, as the Royal Society holds that Jacques Cartier was the first to sail up the St. Lawrence Gulf and river.

DULL IN THE HOUSE.

Mr. McShane Finds Fault With the Customs Department.

Ottawa, March 25.—(Special)—The proceedings in the House to-day were inexpressibly dull, being relieved only by a characteristic speech of the member for Montreal Centre.

Replying to Mr. McShane, Sir Adolphe Caron said it was not the intention of the Government at present to reduce the charge for drop letters to one cent.

Mr. Costigan informed Mr. Fraser that the bounties for fishermen in all the Nova Scotia counties had been paid for the past year.

A motion of Mr. Edgar's, requesting His Excellency to transmit to the Home Government a copy of the resolution adopted May 21, 1894, and affirming that the best interests of Canada and the United States would be promoted by the peaceful settlement by arbitration of any disputes or differences not adjustable by diplomatic agency, was unanimously adopted.

Mr. McShane (Montreal) moved for a return showing the proceedings of the conference held in Montreal in April, 1893, by the Minister of Finance with representatives of ocean shipping interests at the port, who complained of the adverse effect of the tariff on the import traffic from the United Kingdom to Canada, upon which they depended for west-bound cargoes for their steamships. In talking to the motion, he devoted most of his attention to attacking the administration of customs and to supporting the appointment of the Board of Customs experts, as proposed by the Montreal Board of Trade. He held that the rulings were arbitrary and lacked uniformity and gave no satisfaction whatever to the merchants of the country. To illustrate his argument he gave an instance in which the appraiser ruled that canary seed should be admitted free, because it was not used as human food, but two months later the same officer had ruled that it was dutiable, because it was eaten by the blacks of Africa. (Laughter.)

Mr. Ives pointed out the difficulty of adequately protecting the revenue and at the same time giving satisfaction to importers. Changes had recently been made in the Board of Customs and its membership now possessed thorough technical knowledge. They were men of life-long experience as importers and business men. As nearly as possible the spirit of the petitions for the Board of Experts had been met. There was a right of appeal from the decisions of the Board to the Governor-General in Council, but only a small number of appeals were ever taken. There was very little ground for the outcry raised against the administration of the Customs Department.

Controller Wood said there was no occasion to revive the discussion of last year on the Board of Customs experts, as the new board organized last year had proved more satisfactory than the board of experts as constituted in the United States. No representations had been received since Mr. McShane was elected complaining of the administration of the department, and if Mr. McShane had received any he had never laid them before

A PROSPERING INSURANCE CORPORATION.

In another column of this issue is found the encouraging report of the twenty-fourth annual meeting of the Confederation Life Association. The report, as will be seen by a perusal, is eminently satisfactory, showing that, in spite of the stringency that has prevailed in all departments of financial operations, the excellent management of the Confederation Life Association has yielded excellent results, while the new business shows an increase over last year. This and the old business has been carried on with a total expenditure of over $4,000 less than in 1894. The income was substantially increased over that of the preceeding year. The assets have also been increased by a considerable sum; and, while the large sum of $87,000 has been distributed to policy holders during the past year, the surplus has been increased by over $32,000. Figures like these tell their own story. They indicate safe and careful management and the application of sound business principles, and are also a testimony to the high place the Confederation Life Association holds in the confidence of the public. Mr. H. Rush is the local representative, and Mr. J. W. Bennet the district representative.

TWENTY-NINE Quebec members voted with Mr. Laurier on the Remedial Bill question. No similar number of Ontario men, the Brantford Expositor thinks, under similar circumstances, could have showed greater courage.

THE Hamilton Herald advocates the lynching of spring poets. Nay, not so, Brother Herald. We shall publish free of charge, in a conspicuous place—top of column next to reading matter—the effusion any poet who will find spring enough to hang a rhyme upon.

MR. MONCRIEFF, of East Lambton, is one of the supporters of the Remedial bill, and made a speech which occupies two pages of the London Free Press in its behalf. And now the London Advertiser publishes the following bit of information:

"We understand that Mr. Moncrieff, at present M.P., for East Lambton, will be appointed to a judgeship at an early date, and will not be a candidate at the ensuing general election."

Quite a coincidence, isn't it.

THE vote by provinces on the second reading of the Remedial Bill was as follows:

	For.	Against.
Ontario	85	92
Quebec	32	29
Nova Scotia	13	5
New Brunswick	4	3
Manitoba	3	1
Prince Edward Island	3	4
British Columbia	6	0
Northwest Territories	4	0

THE Chicago Interior has the courage to ask the following questions:—Do we hate England on account of Blackstone's commentaries, Shakespeare, Walter Scott, Bobby Burns, Tennyson, or because she stuck the Napoleon, the pension of Europe, spending neither blood nor money till she stopped him? Do the Irish Indians would Gladstone be less fun England? What made the difference between Jena and Waterloo? Emperor William hates England. Where would he be but for Wellington?

According to the Ottawa Citizen Mr. McKay, M. P. is to be appointed customs collector at Hamilton. According to the North Sidney Herald, Mr. Patterson M. P. for Colchester, is to be appointed Post Office Inspector for Eastern Nova Scotia. The statements, if correct are illustrations of what Mr. Dalton McCarthy meant when in his speech against the Remedial bill he said that government supporters were eating dirt with promises of government appointments in their pockets.

THE CUBAN QUESTION.

During the Seven Years' War, which came to an end with the treaty of Paris in 1763, Great Britain acquired possession of Florida and of a large part of Cuba, including Havana, its capital. The latter was restored under the treaty, but Florida was retained. If Great Britain had kept possession of Cuba then it would have been as free from European interference as Jamaica now is.

Spanish administration of Cuba has always been obscurantist and selfish in the last degree, and the present Prime Minister of Spain, the aristocratic and autocratic Canovas del Castello, is in his colonial views the fitting successor of those who have gone before him. Cuba has always been regarded as a proper subject for Spanish exploitation, and in dealing with the Cubans no respect whatever has been paid to their interest. If they are only partially civilized the blame must rest with Spain.

A good example of the disastrous mode of administering the island for Spanish profit is afforded by the present system of customs taxation imposed upon it by the Spanish government. Duties are imposed to an excessive amount on articles manufactured in the United States, while similar articles are allowed to come in virtually free from Spain. Meanwhile the United States is the natural and actual market for Cuban raw sugar and other produce, but trade with that country is so handicapped by this discrimination as to interfere to an incalculable extent with the industrial prosperity of the country. The discrimination itself is enormous, amounting on some articles to as much as 2000 per cent.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness, nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Not one in a thousand does do it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them innutritions matter and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

SOUTH MONAGHAN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. John Mouncey's sale came off on the 19th. We understand the stock sold at a good figure.

Last evening a large numbers of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Mouncey gave them a delightful surprise. These friends represented largely the Agricultural Society and the Foresters, as well as, of course, personal friends who wished to recognize the occasion of Mr. and Mrs. Mouncey's removing to Peterborough at an early date. Mr. Mouncey, owing to an accident that made him lame and prevented his actively engaging in farm work, has sold his farm stock and leased his farm to Mr. James Heron.

After invasion of their home the following address was read, accompanied by the gift, to Mr. Mouncey, of a handsome easy chair, and cane and to Mrs. Mouncey of a similiar easy chair and a fur cape:

To Mr. and Mrs. John Mouncey:

DEAR FRIENDS,—We learn with regret of your decision to remove from this neighbourhood where you have so long resided and where now in your departure the district loses a valued citizen and most esteemed friends.

Your work on the farm has merited during the last fifteen years our unqualified approval. As an example of what is best in agricultural lines you have been progressive and in the first rank, while in the raising and breeding of stock and advancement of the dairy interest you have been second to none.

Your long connection with the South Monaghan Agricultural Society has given that organization the benefit of your timely counsel and wide experience. We know that lacking this its efforts would have been less successfully conducted and your untiring efforts to advance its interests have ever had our warm approval, while others have by your example been encouraged to do likewise.

As a progressive farmer your career has attracted attention and shown that energy and discrimination properly applied can make successful in the highest degree the profession of farming, even dispite changing circumstances and surroundings.

In the departure of Mrs. Mouncey the neighbourhood, indeed the whole district loses a kind and helpful friend whose kindly services have been with us in the hour of joy and sorrow.

We trust that in your new home you will both live long and prosper, and that you will, from time to time, return and renew the associations and friendships which now after so many years are reluctantly severed.

Will you please accept from us these chairs, cape and cane, and may they ever remind you of warm friends and good wishes in and from South Monaghan.

South Monaghan, March 24th.

Mr. Mouncy, though surprised on behalf of Mrs. Mouncey and himself, replied in suitable terms. The remainder of the evening was passed in social enjoyment and in the discussion of the excellent repast for which the material was provided by the visitors. Very general regret was expressed that the township was losing one of its most progressive farmers, who, during his residence of fifteen years, has always been active and successful in promoting the interests of the farming industry.

Mr. Robert Fred Byers, son of Mr. Jos. Byers, of Lake View, has gone to Hartney, Manitoba, to look about him with a view to settling in the Northwest.

Mr. Martin Parker has also gone to the Northwest. His wife will follow him in the spring.

Mr. James Woods of "Pine Grove" farm has a profitable flock of sheep. He has three ewes that have dropped ten lambs this spring.

The Best Finish, Graceful Lines, Strength and Easy Running Qualities

ARE THE POINTS OF THE

"RED-BIRD"

The general public invariably choose the simple and effectual device, and condem the absurdity of additions and multiplications. Simplicity is always a matter of subtraction rather than additions.

In search of the best whenever personal influence does not blind the sight, men's progress, from the complex to the simple.

Another important point is having the whole wheel made by the one firm. The chain and sprocket wheel require to be made by one man, as otherwise they never run perfectly. The man that invented the Wilson Chain made the Cyclodial Sprocket to fit the chain both on the RED-BIRD and no others.

FROM MARCH TILL SUMMER!

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND THE BEST REMEDY TO-DAY IN ALL THE WORLD.

It Purifies the Blood as Nothing Else Can Do--It is Food for the Tired Brain--It Makes Strong Nerves!

Publicly Recommended as No Remedy of Any Kind Ever Was Before by Thousands Whom It Has Made Well.

ENDORSED AND PRESCRIBED BY THE ABLEST PHYSICIANS IN EVERY CITY IN AMERICA.

Where every other remedy has failed Paine's Celery Compound has made people well!

It cures disease! It has saved the lives of thousands of sufferers. It has made the weak strong.

Paine's Celery Compound purifies the blood as nothing else can do; it is nature's brain food; it builds up shattered nerves; it is pre eminently the one great health-maker known to medicine.

First discovered after labourious, studious, scientific research by the ablest physician America has produced, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M.D., L.L.D., of Dartmouth College, it is prescribed and publicly endorsed by the best practitioners in ever city of America. It has been so enthusiastically recommended by grateful men and women in every walk of life that it is to day in every sense the most popular remedy in the world.

It has proven itself so easily the greatest of all spring medicines, making the weak strong and the infirm well, that in the large cities, Toronto, Montreal, Quebec, Hamilton, Halifax, St. John, London, Ottawa and Winnipeg, the leading newspapers have found that that the demand for Paine's Celery Compound as far surpasses that of all other remedies as the curative power of this great compound surpasses that of all others together!

Paine's Celery Compound, taken during the early spring days, has even more than its usual remarkable efficacy in making people well. It makes short work of all diseases of debility and nervous exhaustion. It rapidly drives out neuralgia, sleeplessness, dyspepsia and rheumatism from the system. It removes that lassitude, or "tired feeling," which betokens weakened nerves and poor blood.

Overworked and tired women are but one class of persons who are in urgent need of this wonderful remedy to make and keep them well. Business men who are not sleeping soundly, shop girls made pale and sickly by long hours of indoor work, and the countless sufferers from dyspepsia, kidney and liver troubles, need the invigorating effect of Paine's Celery Compound, now that spring with all its dangers is at hand. Its preeminence as a health-maker comes from its extraordinary powers of supplying appropriate nutriment to the blood, nerves and brain.

Just as the great lawyer studies each one of his cases till he knows it on every side, and in every possible aspect, so Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., of Dartmouth College, the discover of Paine's Celery Compound, had studied the nerves in health and disease, when well-nourished and when under-nourished, in men and women and children years before he looked for the remedy. Paine's Celery Compound was the outcome of his entire professional life. A fitting memorial to a life of hard study and close observation—a remedy that the world could not lose to-day at any price!

Take advantage of the remarkable power of this greatest of all remedies for restoring vigor to the blood and strength to the nervous system. In these first days of spring one has every chance of getting well. Don't neglect it.

Paine's Celery Compound calms and equalizes all the nervous tissues and induces the body to take on solid flesh. It purifies the blood, as is so clearly shown by the rapid clearing of the skin of all evidences of bad humors within. It is an infallible relief for salt rheum, eczema and all blood diseases.

Physicians recognize Paine's Celery Compound as the one scientific spring remedy, and it is universally prescribed by them wherever there is great need of a vigorous and prompt restoring of health and strength to the wornout system.

The CONSOLIDATED MILLING CO.

MINORITY REPORT.

the House. He (Mr. Wood) had visited Montreal a couple of times during the last three months, and had heard no complaints.

Ex-Controller Wallace said investigation proved that the system in operation in Canada was much more satisfactory than the board of experts which was in operation in the United States. Decisions in the United States were no more satisfactory, and the only ones benefited were lawyers and a few importers who carried appeals from one court to another.

Mr. Laurier said he was a witness to the general complaint in Montreal against the administration of the Department of Customs. Mr. Wood was mistaken when he said there had been no complaints. The ground of complaint was that the present system led to inequality in appraising at various ports, some importers thereby being able to get in goods at less cost than others. The complaint was so general that there must be some ground for it. The only argument Mr. Wallace offered against the board of experts was that such a board in the United States did not work satisfactorily. If the American board was not composed of qualified experts, this might be a reason for ill success, and if a board were organized here and proper appointments made, a remedy for existing complaints proposed by the Montreal Board of Trade might prove satisfactory.

The motion carried.

After recess Mr. McLennan's bill respecting the liability of Her Majesty and public companies for labor used in the construction of public works was given the third reading. It makes the Government liable for overdue wages of men employed on public works.

Dr. Sproule moved the second reading of the bill respecting detective corporations and mercantile agencies.

Mr. Tisdale thought the legislation unnecessary, and that, anyhow, the House had not sufficient information on the subject to base action. Moreover, there were many more important measures on the order paper.

Mr. Masson thought the details of the bill were defective and asked Mr. Sproule to explain how he expected the measure to work out. He also questioned if the House had power to pass such a measure.

Mr. Sproule said he had received much correspondence showing there was a strong public demand for the bill. Dozens of merchants who wrote him endorsing the bill refused, when asked by him, to allow the use of their names in the House. They felt that if the commercial agencies learned they were supporting the measure, their financial standing would be ruined. This was strong evidence that the bill was required. Leading detectives also endorsed the portion of the bill dealing with detective corporations. The House should give the bill its second reading and make whatever changes necessary in the committee stage. Two years ago the Montreal Board of Trade endorsed the bill, but the Toronto Board of Trade, he was told, at the influence of Bradstreet's, decided against the bill.

Mr. Cockburn said the Toronto Board of Trade was composed of men of such standing that they could not be influenced as Dr. Sproule had indicated. He said the bill was not necessary, and that the machinery it provided would not improve matters any. The bill provided for business men filling out schedules showing the value of their property in Canada. How, then, would the rating of a man like Mr. Massey, who died the other day, worth several millions, but who owned very little property in Canada, appear. If the House passed the bill and put an imprimatur on agencies, these agencies would be given a standing they do not now possess.

Mr. Coatsworth said he was in sympathy with the motives of Dr. Sproule, and also with the remarks of Mr. Cockburn. All were agreed that everything should be done to assist agencies in getting perfectly accurate information, and the agencies themselves were anxious to improve the accuracy of their reports. However, the bill before the House did not render any assistance of value.

The debate was continued by Messrs. [illegible] Campbell (Kent), McGillivray, McGregor, McMullen and Boyle.

Mr. Foster said before the House undertook such important legislation as this it should be well assured of the existence of real and widespread grievance. He was convinced that with the bill in its present shape there would be many difficulties as to its working out. Probably Dr. Sproule would have done all he could this session by calling public attention to it through the discussion which had taken place. The circumstances were such that the bill could not likely get through this session, and moreover, before the enactment of such legislation, commercial agencies and business men should be given an opportunity to state their side. This could only be done by committee. It would, therefore, be well for Dr. Sproule not to press the bill further now, but to let it stand over till next session.

On motion of Mr. McCarthy the debate was adjourned.

Mr. McCarthy moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Elections Act. It makes the law clear on the question of transportation of electors by railways, and also provides for arrest by a returning officer, without warrant, of parties caught personating.

Mr. Foster said he did not object to the second reading, provided the bill will be sent to committee.

The House adjourned at 10.50.

DONGOLA EXPEDITION.

Turkish Ministers Mad Because They Were Not Consulted.

Constantinople, March 25.—The Ministers are greatly annoyed at the fact that Turkey had not been consulted in regard to the Dongola expedition, and messages have been addressed to Moukhtar Pasha, High Commissioner of the Porte in Egypt, reproaching him for not having put a stop to the expedition.

The Ministers addressed an appeal to France and Russia, requesting them to intervene to the end of regulating the position of Egypt, and Germany was also asked to use her good offices.

The Turkish Ambassador to Great Britain has been instructed to express to Lord Salisbury the Porte's ideas in regard to the Egyptian situation.

London, March 25.—A news agency despatch from Cairo, published in The Globe, says that six members of the Egyptian Public Debt Commission have notified the Egyptian Minister of War of their assent to the Government's drawing upon the Egyptian reserve fund to meet the expenses of the Nile expedition.

TEESWATER HOTEL BURNED.

Total Destruction of Building and Contents—Heavy Loss at Weymouth, N.S.

Teeswater, March 25.—The Queen's Hotel, owned and occupied by George La France, was destroyed by fire, which broke out in the kitchen at 3 o'clock this morning. Nothing was saved. The building was valued at $2000 and insured for $800 in the British American, the contents were insured for $900 in the Wellington Mutual.

Burned Out While at a Dance.

Lucan, March 25.—The dwelling, with all its contents, belonging to Andrew Isaac, a farmer on the 3rd concession of Biddulph, was totally destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac were attending a dancing party at a neighbor's and knew nothing of their loss until the destruction was complete. Origin unknown. The building was insured for $50; nothing on the contents.

The Pearl of Great Price

To women is beauty. Beauty, the key that unlocks every door, commands deference, inspires homage. But beauty of face cannot satisfy unless the additional grace, beauty of teeth, adds its charm. Fine teeth, sweet breath, rippling laughter—three graces that always go together. Ivorine imparts dazzling pearly like whiteness, removes discolouration and tartar from the teeth, and renders the breath as fragrant as flowers.

Coughs and colds lead to consumption if neglected. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures quickly and is pleasant to take. It is nature's remedy for all throat and lung troubles.

A TORONTO LADY

GETS A CHRISTMAS BOX WHICH SHE PRIZES HIGHLY.

In tracing up some of Santa Claus' good deeds this year, a lady gives us the following account of her Christmas box. The lady's name is Mrs. H. G. Ferguson, and she resides at 217 Church st. Mrs. Ferguson began as follows:—

"I have for years been a great sufferer with kidney complaint, severe pain under shoulders and across back, and latterly so weak that I could not walk out or do housework. Seven years ago the doctor told me I had Bright's Disease. A number of physicians told me I was past help; one of them said I could not live a month. I have taken a great deal of medicine, but without relief, and had given up hope; in fact, told my son that I did not expect to live until spring. My son saw the advertisement of the Doan Kidney Pill Co., Dec. 3rd, and told me. I asked him to get a box and I would try them, although I had but little faith in them, because all other remedies had failed, and as a result I had given up hope. He got one box of pills at J. R. Lee's drug store and I commenced taking them. The result has been marvellous. After taking them once I experienced relief, and after taking them three times the change for the better was marked. I have only taken one box of pills, but I feel like a new woman. The pain and other symptoms of the dreadful disease are gone. I am stronger and better than I have been in many years. I am now able to do my housework and walk out without suffering any inconvenience. That box of Doan's Kidney Pills was indeed a grand Christmas box for me. I am glad to let everyone know about this wonderful cure, in the hope that some one who has suffered as I have may try the remedy and be benefited as I have been."

An English Mining Expert.

The Belleville Sun says.—Mr. Alfred J. G. Swinney, of London, England, a mining expert, who has been for some time in Marmora looking into the gold mining interests of a large syndicate, was in the city to-day en route for his home in London. Mr. Swinney stated to a Sun reporter that the mining would in all probability be pushed ahead in the spring. He would not give many facts for publication as he said the syndicate had not fully developed their plan of action.

Millinery Mania.

It would be a decidedly strong-minded woman who would pass the beautiful "creations" in our millinery show windows without stopping to admire. To-day a gentleman, passing down George street saw approaching two ladies with whom he was intimately acquainted. A millinery show window caught their eye first; they completely ignored him, and made a diagonal rush for the window, their eyes fixed on its contents in cataleptic gaze—nearly knocking him down in their progress—and were heard loud in gush over the beautiful contents of the window. An inspection of these plates by the ladies will reveal a richness of the new and wonderful silky colour combinations which are produced in the dress fabrics of the day, as well as the pronounced changes in the styles of dressmaking, millinery, parasols, etc. 3d

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Trucie Kindred and Dr. Pulleyblank Last Evening.

The Temperance House was brilliantly illuminated last evening and thronged with guests, it being the occasion of the marriage of Miss Trucians, second daughter of Mr. W. A. Kindred, the proprietor, to Wm. Pulleyblank, Esq., Veterinary Surgeon, of Hastings.

The bride looked most charming in a pretty costume of cream cashmere, trimmed with cream silk and lace. She carried most handsome flowers.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. C. Beer, of the Ashburnham Methodist church, and the bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Eva, who was very prettily gowned in white and fawn cashmere, trimmed with silk ribbons. Mr. Will Johnston of Hastings was the groomsman.

Over seventy guests were present, and at the conclusion of the ceremony, were invited to a bounteous repast.

The presents which were received were numerous and exceedingly handsome, the bride having many warm friends in Peterborough and Ashburnham.

For several years Miss Kindred was organist for the Mark street Methodist church, but recently has been a member of the George street church choir.

The newly married couple were accompanied to the midnight train by a host of friends. They will take up their residence in the prosperous little village of Hastings.

W. A. Forsythe Meets His Death at Myrtle

W. A. Forsythe, a son of Mr. George Forsythe, who lives on the Bridgenorth road near town, a little over a week ago went to Toronto to work in a bicycle factory. Intelligence was received here yesterday that he had been killed while attempting to board a C. P. R. freight at Myrtle. He missed his footing and fell under the wheels, sustaining fatal injuries. He was evidently on his way home. The remains were brought to town last night and put in charge of Mr. A. Comstock, undertaker. The funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon. The deceased was 24 years of age.

THE MARKET TOLLS.

A Deputation Interviews Mr. Choate on the Matter.

The intimation of Mr. Choate of Warsaw to the effect that he wished to withdraw his bid of $2,500 for the market privileges, has considerably aroused the ire of the councillors, and at a meeting of the Market Committee, as a Committee of the Whole last night, it was decided to hold Mr. Choate to his bid.

This afternoon Messrs. Henry Best and Harry Denne drove out to see Mr. Choate at Warsaw, and confer with him on the matter, in order that, if possible, any unpleasantness might be avoided.

No Disappointment.

Disappointments of one kind and another crop up all along life's pathway, for unfortunately it is the unexpected that always happens. There is at least one article of acknowledged merit that never disappoints. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is sure to remove the worst corns in a few days, and as no claim is made that it will cure anything else, it cannot disappoint. If you have hard or soft corns just try it. Beware of the article "just as good." N. C. Polson & Co., proprietors, Kingston.

THE LOCAL ELECTRIC WORKS.

A Contract for Electric Railway Equipment.

The Ottawa Free Press says that the Canadian General Electric Works will build the rolling stock for the Hull Electric Railway. Mr. Seybold, secretary treasurer, and Mr. J. Brown, of the Hull company, have been in town and gave an order for the equipment of the road with the best and most palatial cars the company can turn out. For a start four open and four closed cars were ordered. Diagrams of these cars were shown the Ottawa paper which says that if the finished article is anywhere near as complete as the plans would indicate they will be models of comfort and excellence. The cars will be furnished with all the latest improvements and every precaution will be taken to arrange for the comfort and safety of passengers. The cars are forty feet in length and the trucks are as high as the average steam railway car. The body of the cars will be of mahogany and the ceiling will be white and bird's eye maple stained and finished in the natural colours. The seats are arranged in the closed cars so as to avoid the rocking and unpleasantness so often experienced on an ordinary street car. The cars will be arranged with a neat smoking compartment on either end, so that passengers making the through trip will not be deprived of even the most selfish comfort. The ornamental imbellishments of the coaches will be superb, the company going on the well tried rule, that the brightest and best is the surest way to attract patronage.

BASEBALL.

At a meeting held in the offices H. Calcutt, brewer, yesterday afternoon, the brewry nine was re-organized for the season. The following officers were elected:

President—H. Calcutt.
Vice-Pres.—Harry Neil.
Sec.-Treas.—James Drain.

The team will in all likelihood be much stronger than that of previous years, as the boys are already practising. Manager Neill's aggregation will, without doubt, do good work during the season.

He has several challenges booked already. The majority of the matches will be played on the Jubilee Point ball grounds, Rice Lake. Amongst the challenges received are the Hiawathas, of Hiawatha; Alinwicks, Chemong and Roseneath clubs, which are composed solely of Indians.

President Calcutt has put up a handsome silver cup for competition, which will be awarded the club winning the most games during the season, played on the Jubilee Point grounds.

Communications as regards the arrangement of games can be addressed to the manager and will receive prompt attention.

THE WHEEL.

The Ramblers, of Toronto, have come out unanimously for Peterborough for the meet.

To-day's Globe says: Quebec's chances of securing the meet grow beautifully less with the passing of every day. Looking at the matter in a broad sense Quebec should certainly be awarded the meet, as it would undoubtedly assist in building up the sport in that and the adjacent Provinces. But that is not a consideration which carries much weight with the average wheelmen with an average supply of cash, and as they are the class that have the disposal of the matter in their hands abstract questions do not enter into their calculations. Quebec may put in claims of "divine right" for the meet, and as eleven of the annual tournaments in the last thirteen years have been held in Ontario they would be justified in doing so. The wheelmen of Ontario on the whole are swayed more by feelings of self than by a desire to see the C. W. A. expand to the dimensions of a body which has enlisted in its ranks every cyclist in the country, and that they will choose any other place than Peterborough is conceded to be very unlikely. One thing which will influence the cyclists more than another is the fact, that the railway managers have proved obstinate, and have given their ultimatum to the effect that the rate which they had imposed of 3 cents for the first 20 miles and one cent a mile each way will not be altered. The original announcement that both the big lines had decided upon that rate was given in the Globe, and at that time it was stated that the prospects of a reduction being secured were very slight. Subsequent developments have fully borne out the Globe in that particular. Roseate rumors have been propagated in the east within the last few days, regarding a material abatement of the rate, but they were apparently without foundation. A Quebec delegation has been camped in the offices of the railway men ever since the Globe electrified and astounded them with the announcement of the rate, using their best stock of blandishments in endeavours to secure an $8 rate, but their efforts have proved futile, as the railway magnates announce their adherence to the old rate. It was pointed out to them that Quebec's chances would be lessened materially with such a high rate obtaining, but without avail. It has been suggested that they still retain unpleasant recollections of the Montreal meet, when they were induced to grant a $5 rate by the C. W. A. Transportation Committee, after acceding to the requests of the Montreal meet workers for a $7 fare, which was thought to be their limit. The scale of fares to both Quebec and Peterborough at the above rate will be as follows:—

	To Quebec.	To Peterboro.
From Ottawa	$ 6 05	$3 20
Kingston	7 05	2 50
Belleville	8 05	1 50
Peterboro	8 85	.....
Toronto	10 20	1 70
Hamilton	11 15	2 40
Brantford	11 65	3 05
Paris	11 70	3 20

Both the big Toronto dailies are very much down on Peterborough in regard to the meet question and point out that it is only the limited amount of cash which they possess which will induce delegates to vote against going to Quebec. The Association, they point out, will be injured if Quebec loses this chance, but the Eastern Province had it year before last, and why so much depends on the meet going to the far east on this particular occasion no one seems forward to state.

Mat. E. Dealy, the secretary of the Association, comes out with the statement that it would be most unfair for Peterborough to try and disqualify Quebec's membership of 600, on the ground that the return was not made soon enough. Mr. Hal. B. Donly had nothing of this nature to say last year, when Peterborough was knocked out of 250 votes in the same way.

As the boys have to leave town this evening, the puck will be faced off at 7.30 o'clock promptly. The local team will be composed as follows:—Goal—Wasson; point—Montgomery; cover point—Adams; forwards—Parsons, Lefevre, Ferguson and Graham.

NEW SPRING BABY CARRIAGES.

Dozens of styles at a modest price. Some tasty and neat—more handsome and stylish. The prices match. See our stock before placing the baby on wheels.

Besides the baby's health demands a Baby Carriage, after being housed all winter. It will do the parents credit and the baby justice to have a neat, well upholstered Baby Cab to roll along in the procession under the bright Easter day sun.

So much the more does a new and handsome Carriage become imperative if the baby is a new one. The old one (that is the old Carriage) is shabby and persists in running crooked. If we could start life over again every one of us would insist on riding in a Baby Carriage and a new one at that.

Prices are away below values—forty different styles—$5.00 to $20.00.

The Ladies Will Judge

For themselves as to where they saw the best values displayed, and we are willing to abide by their judgment, as we never doubt their ability to judge values.

The Ladies have never had such an opportunity of testing the values offered by Credit Stores and those offered by our Spot Cash System of doing business, and we know whereof we speak when we say that the impressions made upon the public minds at our Opening Days resulted in more orders for Millinery, more sales for Capes, Dress Goods, Underwear and Carpets than at any previous display made by us.

The large increase in our growing cash business last year encouraged us to further cut down the profits and make the same gain by an increase in sales, and we are delighted that at our Opening Display of quality and prices, our plans have been so favourably met by.

PUBLIC APPROVAL.

The Millinery has two prominent features. The LATEST STYLES and the LOWEST PRICES.

The Capes and Jackets

Are styles exclusively our own, no house but ours being in a position to show you the latest productions of Parisian and German makers.

The Dress Goods and Silks

Surpass any display ever seen in this town. The qualities and values defy competition. The volume of stock in this department smiles at the misleading statements of smaller concerns. We let the public judge.

The Carpets and Curtain

Display cannot be surpassed in any city house in Canada. We carry goods to suit poor and rich alike.

You should see our All wool Carpet at 50c.

You should see our Brussels at $1. Marvels of cheapness.

No June Camp.

From a private source says the Cobourg Post, we learn that the annual camp for rural battalions will likely be held in September this year instead of in June as at first anticipated. The month of September is much more acceptable for camping than June, but it will be more difficult to get men to fill the companies. As yet it has not been decided where the camp will be held, there being a number of places applying to the government to change from Kingston.

Robert Hall's Dress-making Department.

Business has begun bright and active in Robert Hall's dress and mantle making department under the new management. Many busy fingers are now engaged on spring orders and the prospects for an exceptionally busy season looks good. This branch of Mr. Hall's business is under the supervision of a thoroughly practical young lady from Toronto, who has enjoyed a superior city experience, and who is highly recommended for turning out dresses costumes with the newest effects of the newest styles of the day. The facilities for turning out first-class work are unexcelled, and at the same time the unusually moderate charges adopted will be found to be one of the most pleasing surprises to the lady patrons of this store. dw.

Died Suddenly in Montreal.

The Montreal correspondence of the Mail of March 23rd, has the following in reference to the death of Mr. James W. Beall, who is a brother of Mrs. Charles Lyle, 205 Park street, town: "Deep regret is expressed at the sudden death of Mr. James W. Beall, at his residence, 12 Tower Avenue. He was in his place at church on Sunday and his office on Monday, and was stricken down while rising on Tuesday morning with paralysis of the brain. He passed away at six o'clock the same evening. Mr. Beall was a man of sterling worth and integrity, held in high esteem by all who knew him, as was evinced by the large and representative attendance at his funeral, and the many memorials sent to his sorrowing widow and family. The Rev. Dr. Hunter of Dominion square Methodist church, of which Mr. Beall was a member, conducted the funeral services, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Shaw, principal of the Theological College, and the Rev. Dr. Rose, pastor of St. James' church. The Rev. Dr. Rose spoke from a full heart of Mr. Beall, whom he had known and loved when young men together in Toronto, his joy at finding him in Montreal, and also as a faithful co-worker in all Christian service. Mr. Beall was a son of the late W. Beall of Columbus, Ont. He was 47 years of age, and leaves two sons and a young daughter.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Miss Waddell, of Manitoba, was in the village on Sunday.

Mr. and Miss Dodds, of Monaghan, spent Sunday in the village, the guests of Mr. Wm. Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Johnston, of Peterborough, spent Sunday in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fitzgerald, of Norwood, were in the village Sunday.

Mrs. Eastland, of Bobcaygeon, is the guest of Mrs. Wm. Harper.

Messrs. Greenwood and Sawers were in the village on Tuesday in connection with the work here on the T. V. C.

Owing to the severe snowstorm of Thursday of last week we have had no mails from the west up to the present writing on Tuesday afternoon. This is the longest time that we have been without regular mails in the last thirty years. An engine and snow plow arrived about noon and cleared the track on Tuesday, but regular trains are not yet running.

Sleighing parties went from here to Mr. J. S. Fitzgerald's and Mr. Wesley Northcott's on Friday night and had quite an experience in going through the drifted roads, in some places five and six feet above the fences. However they spent a very enjoyable evening and returned home at an early hour in the morning.

SATURDAY RATES TO LAKEFIELD PER G.T.R.

The Grand Trunk Railway, recognizing the importance of Lakefield as a leading business centre, have decided to issue Saturday market tickets to Lakefield from Hazlett's, Auburn and Nassau at single fare for the round trip. The merchants in Lakefield will be glad to greet any of the customers from these points who may take advantage of it, and by coming to Lakefield and patronizing the merchants here they will save money.

The millinery and mantle display of R. Graham & Son takes place on Wednesday of this week. Everything is being done to make this the best display shown in Lakefield. They show all the latest London, Paris and New York styles in hats and bonnets, also a great profusion of flowers and millinery novelties. Their display of spring jackets and capes is large, with a very choice selection, including the new silk capes, silk velvet capes and crepon capes, and at marvellously low prices.

A hockey match was played here on Monday night between a Peterborough club and our local players. The play was keenly contested and resulted in a victory for the visitors by 7 to 5.

CURLING.

On Tuesday a match was played between two rinks of the Peterborough and two rinks of the local curlers, at which some good scores were made. The following are the players:—

Mr Montgomery is a son of Mr. Sam Montgomery, of this place.

THE MILLINERY OPENINGS.

A GREAT AFTERNOON FOR THE FAIR SEX.

Peterborough's Milliners Never Made So Great an Effort to Please their Patrons — The Millinery Parlours Beautifully Decorated for the Occasion.

Yesterday was a field day amongst the ladies of Peterborough, and all day long the streets were crowded with the fair sex as they tripped from store to store, attending the various millinery openings. Models of artistic achievement in effective arrangement of their goods were the displays made by the merchants in their spring openings. The best efforts of the town's modistes were put forward to exhibit the shades, styles and designs, which the fancies of Fashion have decreed shall govern society this season. This season, flowers will be all the rage, and a large assortment in all colours from lilies, peonies and roses to fruits, and mistletoe and holly were shown. Feathers, too, will be worn this season, and a magnificent display was to be seen. Very few plumes will be worn, however, but ospreys and palm leaves are very popular, and a magnificent assortment is to be seen.

ROBERT HALL.

The display of spring goods in the millinery, mantle and dress goods departments of the popular store of Robert Hall at his spring opening was probably the finest which this firm has ever made and the very large patronage which was yesterday accorded Mr. Hall by the ladies, testified to the popularity of the establishment. Miss Meggait, who is so well and favourably known to the ladies of Peterborough is still in charge of the millinery department and certainly much credit is due her for the tasty manner in which the rooms were decorated yesterday. She was ably assisted by Miss Johnston, head trimmer. The millinery show rooms were certainly "a bewildering bower of beauty and exquisite taste." Amongst the hats which attracted the most attention was the "Virot," in which the crown is composed of roses, trimmed with Persian ribbons and ospreys, seven inches high, making a most dainty and catchy piece of head gear. Another which calls for special mention is the "Elegant"—a pansy bonnet with osprey and shaded foliage trimming. Puffs of mauve chiffon are daintily caught up with knots of velvet and rhinestone ornaments. Wide ties of mallue, edged with lace, are attached. Still another is the Normandy bonnet, with a brim formed of loops of jetted hair lace, edged with Honiton and with a very handsome band of jet, which supports a soft crown of chiffon and satin. High loops of velvet ribbon and ospreys are fastened on either side of the back with bunches of yellow roses and velvets.

A novelty in the way of a black lace hat is also very pretty; it is trimmed with green ferns and flowers and lace. A French pattern bonnet, direct from Paris, made of sea green lisse, with tinsel of green, rosette, etc., is also very stylish. An extremely beautiful hat is a poke for a child, in cream chiffon with feather trimmings on the outside, lace front, full crown and wide straps. In the display are mourning goods made up very stylishly indeed. A visit to this department would delight any lady.

As there was such a crowd on the opening afternoon Mr. Hall has made arrangements for the opening to be continued for the remainder of the week.

MISS RUDKINS.

The new parlours of Miss Rudkins were formally opened and the proprietor has every reason to be satisfied with the result of her effort, as her pretty rooms were crowded throughout the afternoon and evening. In the millinery department all shapes and styles of hats and bonnets are shown in varied colours, amongst the latest novelties being the Marie Antoinette, new sailor, new rustic turban, shot straw and large picture hats. Miss Rudkins is showing a magnificent line of Parisian pattern hats and bonnets and a beautiful assortment of children's large chiffon hats in pale blue and other shades, and a specialty is also being made of widows' bonnets, with the new veilings and with Brussels nets with crepe borders. Hundreds of hats are on view. The shape of one pretty bonnet was made of jetted hair lace, with trimming and ties of maline and a black osprey aigrette. Another which attracted considerable attention was a most catchy Parisian pattern hat, not very large, with a tower crown of fancy straw. Running out from the base of this crown were violets, the green stems of which formed the brim and the flowers themselves the outside edge of the brim. This hat was trimmed with a wide bow of Tuscan grosgrain ribbon and fans of cream lace. The back was ornamented with violets and pale pink roses. These are only a few of the elaborate styles shown by Miss Rudkins.

Owing to the fact that the counters could not be used used in the day time on account of the amount of business which was done across them, the display of dress goods was not as great as could be desired, but in the evening the visitors to Miss Rudkins' establishment were greatly pleased by the exhibit which was made on the counters of fancy silks, shaded lustres and other dress goods. Silk gloves are kept in stock to match every shade, as are trimming, buttons, insertions, laces and parasols. As blouse waists will be all the fashion this year, a beautiful and varied assortment has been purchased in lawns, dimities and crepons, in soft shades, and in fancy stripe prints, with ties and belts to match. Miss Rudkins has an excellent mantlemaker, and the display of capes and mantles was most excellent. As usual, this establishment is to the front again this year, in hosiery and corsets. A large and varied stock of rare silks, and silks for fancy work is always kept on hand.

OBITUARY.

The death of Mr. John S. Borland, of Indian River, Otonabee, occurred on Tuesday, March 12th 1896, at the age of 72 years. Mr. Liddy, of Keene. He came from Scotland in 1851 and settled in Asphodel, where he lived until 25 years ago, when he took up his residence on lot 29, con. 3 of Otonabee, where he was living at the time of his death. Nine children survive to mourn the death of a most indulgent father, viz: Mrs. Albert Mace, of Chandos; Mr. Jas. Borland, of Dummer; Mr. John Borland, of Otonabee; Mr. Lewis Borland, of Kalamazoo, Michigan; Mrs. Wm. Clydedale, of Warsaw; Mrs. B. Reid, of Germyn; Mr. W. H. Borland and Misses Annie and Agnes, of the homestead.

Why do judges of good Chewing Tobacco insist on getting genuine Beaver Plug. It has no equal. Refuse cheap imitations.

Mr. Chas. Smith, Dawn Mills, Ont., says: "For several years I was troubled with pains in my limbs, which continued getting worse until I thought I would have to quit work. In fact the pains were so severe that I could not rest nights. I took one box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills and I am perfectly cured."

Although it is nearly a year since Mr. S. took the Pills he has had no return of the pains and feels splendid. Sold in Peterborough, by Wm. Madill.

DON'T WANT SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

The Remedial Bill of No Use to the Catholics of Manitoba Without Government Aid.

Montreal, March 24.—(Special.)—Mr. Zotique Clement, a French farmer of St. Jean Baptiste, Manitoba, writes to La Patrie as follows: "If the Remedial Law is adopted without a grant it is certain that the farmers would rather accept the Public Schools, and I know their opinion on the subject. The reason is that we are not able to support the schools without Government aid, simply because we are too poor to do so. Very often we see a school formed from eight or ten families, and a school mistress will cost from $200 to $300 per annum. On the other hand, there are ratepayers whose children are hot old enough to go to school, and these people propose notifying the secretary of the municipality that they wish to pay their school taxes to the Public Schools. If Mr. Beausoleil, M.P., had consulted us, he would not have said that the Remedial Bill was satisfactory to the minority. The farmers are not satisfied, and rather than have such a law they prefer nothing."

The railway people here have just tumbled to the fact that General Manager Hays has scored a victory over Dr. Webb of the New York Central system. It appears that the Central Vermont, besides its big indebtedness to the Grand Trunk, owed a good deal of money to Dr. Webb, and that the latter had been making plans the fruition of which would have necessitated the Central Vermont apple falling into the New York Central basket. It did not fail, however, worth a cent, and the doctor awoke the other morning to find that Manager Hays of the Grand Trunk, and Mr. Smith of the Central Vermont, had been appointed receivers, with the certain prospective of the Central Vermont becoming a portion of the Grand Trunk system, and its management being transferred from St. Albans to Montreal. Your correspondent also learns that the Central Vermont indebtedness to the Canadian road is more than twice as much as has been stated in the American papers.

"What's the matter with old McGill?" and all responded, "She's all right." Mr. W. C. McDonald, the millionaire tobacco manufacturer, has donated another half million dollars to the University for the purpose of providing a building for the study of chemistry, mining and architecture. This brings Mr. McDonald's donations to McGill up to $2,000,000.

A PRETTY WOMAN DEAD

And a Prominent Philadelphia Man Under Arrest in Connection With the Case.

Philadelphia, March 24.—The finding of the body of a young and pretty woman at 2526 Girard-avenue last night, after she had been dead for 24 hours, was followed to-day by the arrest of Samuel P. Langdon, president of the United Collieries Co. The authorities refuse to make public the exact charge upon which Langdon was arrested, but it is understood that he and the young woman, whose name is Miss Annie McGrath, and aged 19 years, had lived together in the house as man and wife for over a month. Langdon, who is a man of prominence, whose age is 55 years and who has a wife, son and daughter, was taken into custody at his office in the Drexel Building by Detective Geyer. The cause of Miss McGrath's death is not known. A post-mortem examination was made this morning by Dr. Mattern, but he declines to give any particulars. A colored servant at the dwelling, who discovered the body, was also arrested today, presumably as a witness.

The case is shrouded in mystery and the police are very reticent on the subject. The remains were discovered lying on a bed, fully attired, and there was no evidence pointing to foul play. Langdon, it is said, spent a few days each week with the girl who is now dead. After being taken into custody he was closeted with Captain of Detectives Miller for over an hour.

In the pocket of the young woman's dress was found a handkerchief bearing Langdon's name. In a trunk were found several letters written to the woman and signed by Langdon. Langdon stated, so Detective Geyer says, that he (Langdon) went to the house on Sunday morning and remained until Monday. He said the girl was taken ill in the afternoon and that he had fallen asleep and did not awaken until 11 o'clock Monday morning. He thought the girl was asleep and did not awaken her. That night he stopped at an hotel and this morning he was surprised to read in the newspapers of the girl's death.

Langdon is held to await the action of the Coroner. The father of Miss McGrath is a pressman in the employ of The Philadelphia Times.

THE McCORD CASE.

Richmond, March 16th, (Special)—The talk of farmers and others in town is mostly about the astonishing cure of Wm. McCord, a farmer near here. His presence made assurance visible, and he said—"After the doctors pronounced by disease Diabetes no one thought recovery possible. I was partially paralyzed, was nine months in bed, and I ran down until I was a mere shell. When I commenced taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I stuck close to directions. One box helped me, and nine boxes cured me. Am sixty years old, and have lived here forty years." Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and dealers. Price 50 cents a box.

Burdock Pills do not gripe or sicken. They cure constipation, and sick headache.

PROTECTION THE WORD.

The Republicans Will Stand by That Policy and a Gold Standard.

New York, March 24.—The Republican State Convention to-day adopted a platform after electing delegates to the National Convention at St. Louis and transacting other business.

The platform is unusually brief. It is as follows:

The Republicans of New York, in convention assembled, again declare their firm and unyielding adherence to the doctrine of Protection to American industries; protection to the products of the American farm, and protection to American labor. We are in favor of a tariff which, while providing an income sufficient to meet the expenses of government, honestly and economically administered, at the same time secures home labor and home capital from unequal foreign competition.

We believe in a reciprocity with other nations which shall give our producers and manufacturers an opportunity to dispose of their surplus products and to obtain articles we desire from those countries on the most advantageous terms.

The agitation for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 seriously disturbs all industrial interests and calls for a clear statement of the Republican party's attitude upon this question, to the end that the trade of this country at home and abroad may again be placed upon a sound and stable foundation.

We recognize in the movement for the free coinage of silver an attempt to degrade the long established standard of our monetary system and hence a blow to public and private credit at once costly to the national government and harmful to our domestic and foreign commerce.

Until there is a prospect of international agreement as to silver coinage and while gold remains the standard of the United States and of the civilized world, the Republican party of New York declares itself in favor of the firm and honorable maintenance of that standard.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 24.—In the convention hall wherein Benjamin Harrison was nominated for the Presidency of the United States, the Republicans of Minnesota to-day declared unanimously for William McKinley.

Attractive Women.

Why is one women attractive and another not? The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks and her vivacity. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Some are born with what is called "constitutional weakness." Those who do not enjoy perfect health, need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism.

Jameson and His Officers Again Up at Bow-Street Court.

London, March 24.—The examination of Dr. Jameson and his officers was resumed in the Bow Street Police Court this morning. As upon the previous arraignment of the raiders, the court room was crowded with aristocratic friends and admirers of the defendants. The testimony of the witnesses was of the same character as that taken at the former hearings.

The Birmingham Post asserts that Sir Julian Pauncefote, British Ambassador to the United States, is coming to London to discuss the Venezuelan question with Lord Salisbury.

A despatch from Melbourne, Australia, says: The Newcastle colliers have voted to go on strike in consequence of the refusal of the mine owners to increase their wages on the ground that the increase demanded would disable them and prevent them from competing for the eastern and American trades.

The Daily News publishes a despatch from its correspondent in Rome saying that he is authorized to deny that King Menelek, in the negotiations for peace, made any demand that Italy should pay him an indemnity. He did not ask for the payment of any money.

The Italian Senate Finance Committee has unanimously approved the credits voted by the Chamber of Deputies to carry on the campaign in Africa.

The Horse Took a Drop

Guelph, March 24.—A horse belonging to Ald. Taylor was left standing in the flax mill over a trap door about two and a half by four feet in dimensions. It pawed the door off and fell through to the next floor, a distance of about ten feet. The animal escaped injury, however, and ran out into the yard. Mr. Arthur Taylor, son of Ald. Taylor, went to catch the horse and in doing so it reared up and jumped on his left foot. The cork of the horse's shoe ran through Mr. Taylor's rubber and boot and cut off the middle toe, besides badly bruising the other portion of his foot.

Two otters have been seen recently in a stream near the city and it is said several parties have been after their pelts. The otter is not in season till 1900, and the Trap and Game Club will punish any offenders who molest them.

RESCUED FROM INSANITY.

GENTLEMEN,—To say all I ought to in favour of B. B. B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it. I am a different man to what I was ten years ago when it was expected I would be in the asylum, but now I am in perfect robust health and it was the B.B.B. that did it. I suffered for five or six years from constipation, sometimes so severely that I went out of my mind.

I tried various doctors, both in the country and in the city, and took medicines too numerous to mention, but everything failed to have the desired effect. When I used Burdock Blood Bitters it succeeded beyond all expectations, requiring only two bottles to cure. To make it still more certain that B. B. B. the real cure for constipation, I may say that some two years afterwards, I felt the symptoms returning and took one bottle more and from that time to the present day (over eight years) I have never had any returns of the disease.

I never knew any medicine to work so well. It does not seem to be a mere reliever but a sure and certain cure as I can testify to, for hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine and advice failed to do me any good, but three dollars' worth of B.B.B. made a permanent cure that has given me years of health and comfort. Yours truly,

C. L. KILMER, Toronto.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

P. O. Box 55. Workshop over W. Wand's Factory, Ashburnham.

Almost every man in America has some digestive trouble. When men meet, the greeting usually is "Well how are you?" That develops health talk. The man who has no stomach or bowel trouble is almost a curiosity. Trouble is men take no care of themselves. They work as if their bodies were made of iron and their brains of steel. They eat as if they had copper stomachs and bowels of brass. By and by, overworked nature rebels. Then come headaches, nervousness, bad blood, liver and kidney troubles; health goes and strength goes. It is really wonderful how much abuse the human body will stand! It is equally wonderful how quickly it will recover from abuse if one helps in a rational, natural way.

It was to give just such help that Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets were prepared. They are for constipation and torpid liver, and in curing those derangements—cure many complications and resultant diseases, such as sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. They are mild in action—merely supplementing nature. They are the result of years of study and experience, and there is nothing else like them—nothing so effective. If your druggist tries to sell you something else he is either ignorant or makes more money out of the other thing.

A STORY OF A CIRCLE

ALL NATURE STRIVES FOR THE CURVE—IN IT ONLY IS BEAUTY.

La Madonna Della Seggiola—How Raphael Made His First Sketch of the Glorious Picture in the Circular Head of a Barrel.

While woman is endeavoring on "new" lines to square the circle by her angular and aggressive elbows of today and to emancipate herself from man, it is soothing to turn to old days that must be forever "new."

All nature strives for the curve. It is curve that is beauty; for it is curve, it is circle, that is the law of the spheres, and of their sun, which assumed this figure in obedience to the same laws of force that round a drop of dew.

You will wonder, as you stand before the "Great Circle," a picture in the Pitti Palace in Florence, and you will ask, Why this circle? Not another canvas in all the famous gallery is built thus, on a curve. It has a history. It is not without significance.

The Pitti Palace in Florence was commenced by Luca Pitti, the formidable opponent of the Medici family, in 1466. It ranks as one of the greatest picture galleries in the world. The splendid apartments fitted up with chairs and ottomans contain, every one, hand catalogues of the priceless treasures to be found in the galleries. The various halls are adorned with allegorical paintings, whence their names are derived. In the hall of Mars hangs the great picture by Raphael, "La Madonna della Seggiola," or, "The Madonna of the Chair." And this is its history:

It was the sunset hour in Italy, that divine moment when heaven takes the earth in its great, curving embrace. The very atmosphere was a tinted breath of the Divine, and the mountain peaks caught the glow. The slopes of the Apennines were suffused with the warm purples of the South. A dreamy expectancy, as of an Apocalypse behind that curve where earth and heaven meet, held the senses in a rapt anticipation.

On a roadside in Tuscany this evening a young man was sitting, idle. If you had passed him by you might have noticed him with a casual glance, but the more thoughtful among us would have turned again to scan a remarkable face fountained with the poet's, with the artist's, light. A pale face it was, with great dreamy eyes—a face that sees beyond our Actual.

He was fingering nervously, at this moment of sunset, a piece of chalk in his right hand. The light was dying out of his eyes, and a look of pained suspense spread over his face.

Just at the turn of the road a tiny peasant's cottage caught the sparkle of the sinking sun. A woman came to the doorway, with her baby in her arms. She was a beautiful woman—one of those rare young faces one sees now and again in the Italians' land. The sunset took all her figure into its glow. The light streamed against the baby's cheek, and crept, as his little hand was creeping, into the mother's breast. Against the great curve of the great horizon the two were silhouetted.

The young man down the roadside sprang to his feet. "Dio mio!" he shouted. "La Madonna, la Madonna!"

It was the picture of which he had dreamed, the incarnation of the thought he would hand down to the world—the mother of God with her baby on her breast, the picture that must appeal to the world's heart forever, whatever the great soul of womanhood, of manhood, counts love as its highest altitude. To reach the two down the roadside was the work of a moment. But not a scrap of material for a sketch was in the artist's pocket! Not a fragment of paper in the peasant's cottage! It was the home of a cooper—a poor man, but rich in the loveliness of wife and child. Young Raphael tore off the round cover of a barrel that was standing near the door, and, seizing his crayon, made the first immortal sketch of the twain we own to-day in the priceless beauty of the finished picture, "La Madonna della Seggiola."

Raphael preserved the form in his finished work, the form into which the fire of his genius poured its glories—the form of the circle.

Outlined against the immortal beauty of the circle of earth and heaven, he first saw the two stand. And his own opportunity came—to seize the round cover of the cooper's barrel and make it the servant of a great idea took but a second. Verily, opportunity is all! It is a trained mind that knows when that opportunity knocks and rises to the august moment.

As I study the grandeur of the "Madonna di San Sisto" of the Dresden Gallery, where Mother and Child are enthroned, I see that the Modanna's veil takes the form of the curve. Continue this line around the child in her arms until it meets in the glory upon her head, and you have the circle. All nature makes for the curve.

In the "Madonna della Seggiola" we have one of the noblest examples in all art of the immortal truth—Realism must be based upon Idealism. Think of it a moment, and you will see that I am right. The glory of the dream, the Mother and Child, a distinct vision; an ideal, and the real.

Battle Between Spider and Ant.

To me a big, fat, sprawly spider was one of the most interesting things in nature, and I have always been fond of experimenting with them. Some of them were cruel, as I now realize, but I was quite unconscious of that fact when I was a boy.

Once, I remember, I presided at an encounter between a spider and a bumble bee. The bee, of course, buzzed loudly. The spider rushed upon him, was stung, and hastily withdrew. Again the bee buzzed, and again the spider, unable to resist his instinct, rushed to the attack—with the same result. At last, however, the spider managed to get his silken thread about his formidable prey, and bore him off in triumph.

He was not so fortunate, however, with a large, black ant which I treacherously dropped upon his web. The ant began to struggle, and down came the spider; whereupon the ant coolly bit off one of his legs. The spider withdrew in dismay. But, being a ravenous old fellow of great size, the destroyer of unnumbered flies, he could not forbear a second attack. He strained his mandibles without effect on the hard armor of the ant, who meanwhile nipped off another leg.

In the third attack the ant began to operate on his enemy's abdomen; and the spider, escaping with difficulty, retreated utterly discomfited. Then the ant proceeded to break the meshes, and fell unharmed to the floor. Thus were the flies avenged. C. KAY.

24TH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CONFEDERATION LIFE ASSOCIATION.

A PROSPEROUS YEAR.

An Increased Volume of New Business Written—A Very Favourable Death-Rate—A Reduced Expense Rate—Increases in Assets, Income and Surplus.

The annual meeting of the Confederation Life Association was held at the Head Office of the Company, Yonge, Richmond and Victoria streets, Toronto, on Tuesday, the 17th inst., at the hour of three p.m. There was a good attendance of policy-holders, shareholders, and members of the agency staff.

On motion the Hon. Sir W. P. Howland, C.B., K.C.M.G., was called to the chair, and Mr. J. K. Macdonald, Managing Director, appointed Secretary of the meeting.

The report and Financial Statements relating to the business of the Company for the year 1895 were submitted as follows:

REPORT.

During the past year the Directors have had under consideration 2,540 applications for insurance to the amount of $3,736,150. This includes five applications for $8,000, which were deferred at the close of 1894, 2,389 for $3,474,150 were approved, while 134 for $230,000 were declined, not being up to the standard; and 17 for $32,000 were incomplete at the close of the register and were deferred. Adding to the above issue the revived policies of previous years, which had been written off, and the bonus additions, the total issue for 1895 was 2,421 policies for $3,544,920. The total business on the books at the close of the year was $26,611,718, under 17,500 policies on 15,413 lives. From this it will be seen that though the year was quite unfavourable for the life insurance business, and many companies fell beind in the volume of new business, as compared with the previous year, and while the total insurance written by all the companies for the year is a good deal less, we have been able to maintain an equal volume with a lesser expenditure by several thousand dollars than in 1894.

The claims by death were 107, calling for $171,847, under 121 policies. In view of the amount at risk, it will be observed that the death rate was very favourable, a fact which bears continued strong testimony to the care exercised in the admission of only good, healthy lives.

The Financial Statements, which form part of the report, will be found to furnish full information regarding the position of the Association.

The past year, on account of the continued and intensified commercial depression, called for more than usual care in conducting a business such as ours, combining insurance and investment. It can not therefore fail to be a source of gratification to our policy-holders and shareholders to observe the very substantial advances made in all those features which indicate real progress and careful management. Some of these are—

2nd—Increased Income.

3rd—Increased Assets.

4th—Increased Surplus, notwithstanding the payment to policy-holders during the year of over $87,000 in profits.

These facts will prove the wisdom of the policy pursued by your Directors and Management to secure a fair volume of business at a fair cost. The business has been sought for on strictly business principles, and means unfortunately too frequently used to procure applications, such as rebates, are strictly prohibited.

The report of the Auditors, who have continued to give regular and careful attention to their duties, will be found appended to the report.

It is a matter of deep regret that we have to announce the death, since the completion of the audit for the past year, of Mr. William E. Watson, F.C.A., who has intelligently and faithfully discharged the duties of joint auditor for a period of six years.

Your Directors are pleased to report that the Office and Field Staff continue to discharge their respective duties in a zealous and efficient manner.

All the Directors retire, but are eligible for re-election.

W. P. Howland, President.
J. K. Macdonald, Man. Director.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

We beg to report that we have completed the audit of the books of the Association for the year ending December 31st, 1895, and have examined the vouchers connected therewith, and certify that the financial statements agree with the books and are correct.

The securities represented in the assets (with the exception of those lodged with the Dominion Government amounting to $34,600, and those deposited with the Government of Newfoundland amounting to $25,000) have been examined and compared with the books of th Association, and are correct and correspond with the schedules and ledgers.

The bank balances and cash are certified as correct.

W. R. Harris,
Wm. E. Watson, F.C.A.,
Auditors.

Toronto, Feb. 27th, 1896.

The President, Sir W. P. Howland, in moving the adoption of the report and statement submitted, said:—It is a matter of sincere satisfaction to those on whom you have imposed the duty and responsibility of conducting and managing the affairs of this important company to be able to place before you, considering the unfavourable circumstances which attended the business for the past year, statements which give evidence of fair and reasonable progress and improvement in every branch of the Company's business. The new business obtained amounted to $1,062,542, showing a fair increase over that of 1894. Our income for 1895 was $3,554,920, showing an increase over the previous year of $50,328; we also show an increase in assets of $453,605. Our total surplus security for policyholders at the end of the year was $1,334,754, an increase of $32,581, besides having paid, as stated in the report, over $87,000 in profits to policy-holders.

The foregoing results have been obtained under most unfavourable conditions and in the face of keen competition. The progress made in all branches of the company's business should prove, I think, not only satisfactory to its policy-holders and shareholders, but furnishes striking proof of the careful management and application on the part of those who are charged with the responsible duties of managing its affairs. Furthermore, it proves the favourable position which the Company occupies in the minds of the public.

If there is any information desired regarding any matter referred to in the statements, I am sure the Managing Director will be very happy to answer any question which may be asked. (Applause.)

Mr. W. H. Beatty, Vice-President—I have much pleasure in seconding the adoption of the report, and, after referring to the advances which had been made in the different branches of the Company's business during the past year, as set forth in the report and which did not, in his opinion, require enlarging upon, said, in conclusion, I cannot help alluding to the loss which the Company has sustained in the death of a gentleman who was very near and dear to me. I refer to the late Hon. Edward Murphy, Senator, who represented us in Montreal as a director on our local board for many years—a man who earned the esteem not only of his own co-religionists, but of all other classes in the country.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

Votes of thanks were unanimously tendered to the directors, management, and agency staff for their services during the year; several of the policyholders present referring in complimentary terms to the report and statement submitted, and in recognition of the care and attention which had evidently been exercised by the management over the affairs of the Company during the past year.

The retiring Board of Directors were all re-elected, and a meeting of the new board was held immediately after the annual meeting adjourned. Sir W. P. Howland, C.B., K.C.M.G., was re-elected President, and Messrs. Edward Hooper and W. H. Beatty, Vice-Presidents.

A Shantyman Fleeced.

A man named Edward Donnelly arrived last week from one of "Big Bill" Irwin's lumber camps at Wahnipitae, with a wad of $75 in his pocket in exchange for a winter's work. While sojourning for a few days at Gilmour's hotel at Lorneville Junction Donnelly made the acquaintance of a travelling stove mender named King, and on Thursday last drove with the latter to Woodville, where he displayed his money and got gloriously full. The pedlar brought him back again to Gilmour's, and the proprietor put him to bed, closing the door of the room when he left. Soon after the pedlar, King, also retired to an adjoining room. In the morning Donnelly complained that he had been robbed of $40, and, as License Inspector Short, who is also a qualified county constable, happened to be in the village, he was informed of the affair and searched the house for the money at the request of Mr. Gilmour, but without success. When he finished he observed that the pedlar was about to drive out of the yard, and upon searching him the sum of $6.75 was found on his person. Thus encouraged, Mr. Short began to inspect the contents of the two boxes strapped to the sleigh. They contained almost everything but money, but upon raising the end of one the sum of $25 in $5 bills was found underneath. Donnelly had described one of his bills as having a certain mark on, and this bill formed one of the five. Procuring the necessary warrant, Mr. Short started for Lindsay with King on Tuesday morning, but owing to the snow blockade they did not reach the gaol here till one a. m. last Sunday morning. Yesterday King was taken back to Woodville for trial, before County Magistrate Deacon, but he elected to be tried by jury and was brought back to gaol here.—Lindsay Post.

MILITARY COLLEGE.

General Gascoigne and His First Visit.

DESCRIBES A USELESS TEACHER

And Says the Commandant, a Member of the Tupper Family, Ought to be Changed—A Man of Zeal and Activity is Wanted in That Institution.

Ottawa, March 26.—(Special)—Military College matters are creating considerable attention these days. On the 27th of November, '95, General Gascoigne paid his first visit of inspection to the Royal Military College at Kingston. His report upon the institution was presented to Parliament to-day.

The first suggestion which the Major-General makes is the necessity for limiting the term of the appointment of the commandant of the College. He thinks that, after a certain lapse of time, "any man loses that zeal, activity and interest which it is so absolutely essential should be kept up in the case of the officer in chief command of a military educational establishment. Young men," he adds, "are especially quick to receive impressions, and energy and great personal smartness of dress and appearance are in my opinion essential to form a good commandant."

"In my opinion, this position is one that should be thrown open to some exceptionally smart, energetic officer of the Canadian militia, but there should be a fixed limit to the term of appointment, renewable, perhaps, for a limited extension, at the option of the Government."

The Major-General, after a thorough inspection, reported favorably upon the staff of instructors, highly commending their zeal and energy. The only exception was the French instructor, of whose work the General reports: "I attended the class under instruction in French, every member of which had been over two years at the college and the ignorance displayed was astounding, especially in Canada, where French is so much spoken."

With the cadets' aptitude and appearance, Gen. Gascoigne was eminently satisfied. "Take them all around," he writes, "they were a body of youths of whom Canada may be justly proud." Indeed, the only fault the General could find with them was that they wore their hair too long.

The Major-General differs entirely from Mr. Fleming as to curriculum. The latter thinks too much time is wasted at the Royal Military College in imparting civil instruction. Gen. Gascoigne thinks the present system of mixed civil and military instruction most admirable and highly essential. His report further recommends as a hard and fast rule that no commission be given to the permanent force unless the holder is a graduate of the Royal Military College. He thinks it is the very least return which can be made for the annual gift of four commissions in the Imperial forces, a feature which he naturally sets much store by.

For the rest, Major-Gen. Gascoigne condemns the college hospital and recommends an extra week's holiday to cadets at Christmas in honor of the first visit to the institution. He recommends that as soon as practicable professoriates be filled by graduates of the Royal Military College who have served a certain length of time in the Imperial service. Generally throughout the report there is a tone of sturdy Canadianism which is most gratifying.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

What Transpired Within the Precincts of of the Provincial Buildings Yesterday.

Toronto, March 27.—The feature of yesterday's session of the Local Legislature was a resolution introduced by Hon. Mr. Bronson dealing with the subject of supplying labor for the unemployed. Mr. Bronson is a practical man with great experience as an employer of labor. He is anxious that a practical scheme for assisting the unemployed should be thought out and put in operation. He moved that this House would view with approval, and as worthy of encouragement, any movement towards the organization of voluntary societies, in the larger cities of the province, having for their object the giving of such assistance to the unemployed as would contribute towards making them self-supporting, by settling them on the unoccupied lands of the province, or other lands, within the province.

Many of the members had something to say with reference to the resolution, all agreeing that something should be done along the lines suggested, after which the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Gibson (Hamilton) moved that this House doth ratify an agreement laid before this House by command of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, bearing date Sept. 25, 1895, and expressed to be made between the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities and Patrick Louis Connor, regarding the manufacture of binder twine at the Central Prison.

He said the Government had made an agreement with Mr Connor that would be to the advantage of the province if Mr. Connor carried out his contract. In case he did not do so, the Government would, of course, take the manufacture of the twine back into their own hands.

Mr. Marter said he was not sufficiently informed upon the subject to say whether the agreemnt was a good one or not. The resolution passed.

These bills were read a third time:

Respecting Houses of Refuge.—Mr. Gibson (Hamilton).

To secure Payment of Wages for Labor performed in the construction of public works.—The Attorney-General.

Respecting the Quieting of Titles.—The Attorney-General.

Respecting Fraud by Debt Collectors.—The Attorney-General.

Respecting Bills of Sale and Chattel Mortgages in unorganized districts.—The Attorney-General.

Respecting the city of Ottawa.—Mr. O'Keefe.

Respecting the Hamilton Gas Light Co.—Mr. Middleton.

Relating to Crown Timber.—Mr. Hardy.

Revising and consolidating the Acts to encourage the Planting and Growing of Trees.—Mr. Dryden.

To correct a clerical error in the Debenture Registration Act.—The Attorney-General.

To incorporate the Lincoln Radial Electric Railway Co.—Mr. Hiscott.

Hon. Mr. Hardy moved the second reading of his bill to enlarge the powers of the County Courts. The bill provides that the jurisdiction of these courts shall be increased from $400 to $600. There are many other clauses of minor importance.

Mr. Whitney asked that the bill should be allowed to stand. He said it did not go far enough. He thought jurisdiction should be extended to $1000. He said the higher courts had more work than they could do. If the bill enlarged as he had indicated, he felt sure the members of the bar of Ontario would be pleased.

Mr. Hardy said the change asked by Mr. Whitney would be too radical. There had been no such demand upon the part either of the people or the bar. It might be true that in some counties the judges were not overworked, but in counties where there were large towns or cities, the work of the County Courts was large, so much so, that already the Government at Ottawa had found it necessary to appoint a number of junior judges. The bill was then read a second time.

AN INNOCENT MAN'S ESCAPE.

Miss McGrath Was the Promised Wife of Jeweler Fitzsimmons of West Chester—Was She Killed by Poison?

Philadelphia, March 26.—Another feature of the Langdon and McGrath case was made known to-day, which shows that the young girl, while practically living upon the bounty of Langdon, and posing as his niece, was playing fast and loose with another. Of the latter Miss McGrath was the promised wife. His name is Fitzsimmons, and he is a wealthy jeweler in West Chester.

Coroner Ashbridge this afternoon dealt at length upon this feature of the sensational case. He said that the girl had known Langdon for some time, and last summer they went to Atlantic City, where they lived as uncle and niece. While at this place the girl flirted with Fitzsimmons, and finally made his acquaintance. Within a week after she met him, Fitzsimmons had proposed marriage, was accepted, and gave her an engagement ring. For some reason there was an estrangement between the two, and the engagement was broken off. Shortly after, however, a reconciliation occurred, and the wedding day was fixed for June 23 next. Langdon all this time thought the girl true to him, and so did Fitzsimmons. Langdon, it is believed, finally learned how the girl was acting, and this caused frequent quarrels between them. The diamond ring which Fitzsimmons gave the girl was found in Langdon's pocket when he was arrested.

The coroner said there was nothing whatever to indicate that the girl died from heart disease. That organ was perfectly normal. He could not say anything as to the cause of death until the autopsy is finished, and the different portions of the body submitted to an expert for chemical analysis had been examined. The report of the expert would not be made for several days. Langdon's blistered tongue and mouth, which is believed to be the result of poisoning, were submitted for a further examination to-day. The result of this was not made known. Arthur Moore, Langdon's attorney, has taken no steps toward securing his client's release on bail. A despatch from West Chester says that Fitzsimmons has not seen the girl for several months, and had not even heard from her.

THE NATIONAL LIBERALS.

Home Rule for Ireland is Still in the Forefront—The Leadership.

London, March 26.—The annual meeting of the National Liberal Federation opened in the Milton Church Assembly rooms at Huddersfield this morning. There was a large attendance of delegates and it was reported an attempt would be made to raise the question of leadership. The meeting was called to order by Dr. Robert Spence Watson, president of the National Liberal Federation. Upon the motion of the chairman the annual report and statement of accounts were submitted and read. The business of the session, which will last two days, will embrace discussion of a large number of alterations of the rules of the Federation, with a number of additional regulations.

The president, at the opening of the conference, declared that home rule for Ireland was still in the forefront of the program of the Liberal party. The report and statement of accounts were adopted.

STILL SHOWING THEIR HATRED.

The English Railway Officials Having a Hard Time in Venezuela.

Caracas, Venezuela, March 26.—Trouble has again broken out between the English railroad and the municipal authorities. The Valencia Line was ordered to remove its rails from the streets of Puerto Cabelo. The company refused, and returned the note, and the railroad officials were accused of contempt of authority. The city threatens to remove the rails at the company's expense. The press claim that this is another evidence of English contempt for Venezuela's laws.

The Government has signed the contract with the Yaracuy Navigation Company, an American organization to develop the eastern section of Venezuela.

CANADIAN SUICIDES IN THE U. S.

Edward Leslie, Said to be Formerly of Orangeville, Takes Laudanum.

Paterson, N.J., March 26.—Edward Leslie, a member of the Leslie Snow Plow Manufacturing firm committed suicide this morning by taking laudanum. He had been worrying over vexatious law suits. He was 47 years old. His family reside in Canada.

It was stated in the city last night that the Edward Leslie referred to in the foregoing despatch was formerly postmaster at Orangeville, Ont.

Poisoned by Wild Parsnips.

Bound Brook, N.J., March 26.—Four school children were poisoned in South Bound Brook to-day. One of them is dead and another is not expected to live. They ate wild parsnips.

Another Attempt to Force the Coercion Bill.

SIR RICHARD AND THE ESTIMATES

It is a Vain Delusion That the Government Will be Permitted to Put Through the Main Estimates This Session—The Dominion Artillery—Ottawa Notes.

Ottawa, March 26.—(Special)—Word went forth to-night that the House must get into committee on the Remedial Bill at to-morrow's sitting, even if it took until Saturday midnight to attain that end. Mr. Wallace's amendment has precedence.

The report was current that the Opposition had decided to allow the main estimates for 1896-97 to pass before this Parliament terminates. Sir Richard Cartwright, when asked as to the truth of the report, said it was a vain delusion. Possibly a portion of the estimates might be permitted to pass, but that point had been undecided.

It is currently reported that Mr. James Corry of this city is the successful tenderer for the Peterboro-Lakefield section of the Trent Canal. Mr. Corry is backed by influential Ottawa men. This will be his first experience with canal work, but he has been a large contractor in other lines.

Mr. J. E. Murphy of Hepworth, Bruce County, had an interview with Mr. Costigan to-day with reference to the fixing of a standard barrel for Portland cement at 350 pounds. Many barrels now sold of this nominal weight are really considerably less when actually put on the scales.

The St. John delegation had an interview with Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., Mr. Foster and Mr. Costigan in reference to the port facilities, and then left for Montreal to see Mr. Shaughnessy of the C.P.R. again.

The railway companies in Manitoba and the Territories have earned by construction, 27,557,066 acres of land subsidy out of a total land grant of 44,867,850 acres. The total land grant to the Canadian Pacific Railway and branches was 19,820,490 acres, all of which the company has earned by construction, except 204,808 acres granted to the uncompleted Pipestone branch. The other companies have earned and own about eight million acres.

The funeral of Mr. John Graham, late proprietor of the Grand Union Hotel, took place this afternoon and was largely attended. Among those present were many members and senators who had known and esteemed the deceased for many years.

Mr. W. Johnson of the Dominion Cold Storage Company of Montreal explained to the Agriculture Committee this morning the scheme for establishing cold storage warehouses in different parts of Canada and asked the committee to recommend the Government to guarantee interest at 4 per cent. on $300,000 for ten years to enable the company to erect buildings. The committee did not seem disposed to favor Mr. Johnson's project, but passed a resolution asking the Government to look into the matter of cold storage.

An extraordinary meeting of the Council of the Dominion Artillery Association will be held in this city on Wednesday, April 8, for the purpose of arranging for the proposed Shoeburyness team for 1896. It is calculated that the expenses attending this team will amount to about $3700. Of this amount the D.A.A. will be able to contribute $2000. With a view to equalizing the amount of additional subscriptions required, it is proposed that each unit sending a representative should be required to contribute $75 towards the general expenses. The team is to consist of one officer in command, one adjutant, one sergeant-major and 25 non-commissioned officers or men.

The Licensed Victuallers' Convention wound up its business to-day. The morning session was largely taken up in making plans for a campaign in preparation for the coming Dominion election and in the drawing up of regulations for the formation of an association to cover the Dominion. The elections of officers were all by acclamation, and resulted as follows: President, Mr. Harry Maxey, Hamilton, re-elected; first vice-president, Mr. Frank Collins of Dundas; second vice-president, Mr. M. Quinn, Ottawa; treasurer, Mr. William Armstrong, Toronto; secretary, Mr. E. Dickey, Toronto; solicitor, Mr. J. Haverson, Toronto; auditors, Messrs. J. McParland, Kingston and A. S. Smith, St. Thomas; Executive Committee, Messrs. Thomas Crook, Hamilton; F. St. Jaques, Ottawa; J. Coffey, Barrie; Frank Collins, Dundas; A. S. Smith, St. Thomas; J. McParland, Kingston. Next year's convention will be held in Hamilton in June.

Senator Perley got after Senator Ogilvie with a sharp stick this afternoon. Senator Ogilvie made some reflections on Senator Perley the other day and the Norwester was bound to get even. There was a spicy interchange of compliments.

Messrs. A. Allan and H. Montague Allan and Senators Drummond and Ogilvie interviewed the Government to ask assistance to the Manitoba & Northwestern Railway to enable the company to extend the road.

The bill of which Mr. Daly gives notice to-night will entitle Saskatchewan to a Senatorship and Alberta to another member in the Commons.

UPRISING OF THE MATABELES.

Several White Settlers Have Been Murdered—Flocking to Buluwayo.

Cape Town, March 26.—Information has been received here that the Matabeles of Inseza and Filabusti districts have revolted and murdered many of the white settlers there. Large numbers of whites are flocking to Buluwayo for protection.

The people of the towns in Matabeleland are erecting defences to protect themselves against the natives, and volunteers are being enrolled. Armed forces have been despatched to the disturbed districts.

HAS THE BERMUDA BEEN SUNK?

Rumored that She Has Been Fired on by a British Warship.

Madrid, March 26.—A despatch to The Imparcial from Havana says a rumor is current in that city to the effect that the British steamer Bermuda, which sailed from New York March 15, ostensibly for Vera Cruz, but which had on board war material for the use of the Cuban insurgents, has been fired upon and sunk by a British warship.

Cures, absolute, permanent cures have given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest in the world and the first place among medicines.

"KNUCKLE DOWN TIGHT!"
"BAR DUBS!"
"NO HINCHING NOW!"

These and similiar expressions now heard upon our streets by the small boys may be taken as an evidence of Spring time near at hand. To play marbles aright it becomes necessary to come in close proximy with mother earth or the plank walk, which means wear and tear of the Boy's Clothing; what fond parent would not much rather see his boy wearing out Clothes than blankets. He knows where they can be replaced at a very small cost. Just as a reminder—we are now prepared to show you a much larger and better assorted stock of knock about Suits for "ye small boy" than has been our privilege since coming to your midst, comprising every conceivable style known to the trade. Simply asking the favour of a call and inspection before making your Spring purchases — we have no doubts of the result.

FILLED CHEESE LICENSED.

The difference in the moral temper of Canadians and our American cousins is that the legislatures of the latter are compelled to protect the people from themselves. Canadians have no thought of making the dairying monstrosity, "filled cheese," and have no need of stringent laws to protect the farmers from their own folly. But in the United States it is different. Our Yankee neighbours have not only made the spurious compound known as "filled cheese," but have shipped it to England by way of Canada, labelled as Canadian, because Canadian cheese has won first place in the British market and consequently anything branded Canadian would find a ready market. From this prastice Canadian cheese has suffered in its good name, and we are very much obliged to Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, who has drafted a measure for licensing filled cheese manufacturers. The taxes or license proposed and the general features of the bill are as below:

Manufacturers of filled cheese shall pay $100 per annum for each factory; wholesale dealers, $250 per annum. Manufacturers selling filled cheese at the place of manufacture in original packages are not required to pay the wholesale tax. Retail dealers $40 per annum. The penalties fixed are: For unlawfully manufacturing, a fine of $200 to $3,000; carrying on a wholesale business, $200 to $1,000; retail business, $50 to $500; these in addition to the tax. Manufacturers are to file with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue such statements and keep such books as the Commissioner by regulation may require, and give bonds for no less than $5,000.

Stringent regulations for stamping and marking the cheese are laid down; retail dealers are permitted to sell it in the original packages. A penalty of not more than $500 fine and one year's imprisonment is fixed for violation of this section, and dealers are required to display a conspicuous sign, "Filled cheese sold here," under penalty of not more than $200 fine. Cheese exported from the country is to be taxed at one cent a pound, and filled imported is to pay an internal revenue tax of eight cents a pound in addition to the duty. Penalties are fixed for handling filled cheese not properly marked and stamped and that had not paid the special taxes. The act is to go into effect twenty days after its passage.

It is fortunate for Cobourg that there is a Dominion general election at hand. The lakesiders get whatever they ask for. The Minister of Militia has promised Cobourg a drill shed, and Mr. Ouimet, Minister of Public Works, said to a deputation the other day that "as they (the Cobourgers) seemed to be supporting Mr. Guillett, (here he winked with one eye) he (the Minister) had no hesitation in saying that he would endeavour to assist them as far as consistent with the public interest," (here he winked the other eye.)

There is considerable interest manifested in the press over the statement, that Sir Oliver Mowat is to be Mr. Laurier's lieutenant in Ontario, at the coming general elections. The Woodstock Sentinel-Review, the Liberal organ in Sir Oliver's constituency, North Oxford, says that the chances of such an arrangement are about as remote as they have ever been. However, the rumour has been made the subject of many flattering comments, as to the veteran premier's fitness for such a position. The Montreal Witness says:—"In the interests of the government of the Dominion it is to be hoped that this announcement will be realised. Sir Oliver Mowat has won the confidence of the whole country as an administrator of public affairs. If he could help to establish at Ottawa such an administration as he has given in Ontario for twenty-three years, the stability of the Dominion would have cause for rejoicing. If he asks for an opportunity to try what he can do in conjunction with Mr. Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright, the whole country will be inclined to accede to his request. His candidature in Ontario would strengthen the Liberals, not in Ontario only, but certainly in Quebec and in Manitoba, and probably in the rest of the provinces also.

EXPORTS OF BUTTER.

Prof. Robertson, agricultural and dairy commissioner, was called before the Committee on Agriculture on Tuesday to give further evidence on the progress of dairy work, mainly in connection with the cold storage service. He said the winter dairying movement for the manufacture of butter in creameries, which was begun at the Dominion dairy stations in 1892, was making progress very slowly. The difficulty was in the small quantity of milk furnished to some of the creameries, leaving the manufacturers no satisfactory remuneration for their part of the business. He related the steps which had been taken since 1890 to encourage the making of butter during the winter and to get the butter put on the English market in its best possible condition. The whole quantity of butter accepted by the Government at 20 cents a pound was a little over 75,000 pounds. Of that 18,000 pounds were sold in Montreal, as being in packages unsuitable for export. Thirty-four thousand pounds came from the dairy stations, which were under the control of the Government for educational purposes, and less than 23,000 pounds were purchased from various creameries. The butter taken from the Dominion dairy stations for export had been finding a ready sale in local Canadian markets at 21 and 21½ cents per pound; but to fulfill the objects of these stations, both the producing and the marketing of the butter, it was thought best to leave the local markets for the butter from other creameries and send it to Great Britain at the advance of 20 cents per pound from the Government to the patrons, although that was lower than the price for which the butter had actually been selling. The shipments from the Dominion Dairy stations formed the largest part of all the butter which was exported by the Government under the 20 cents per pound advance. The best butter realized in England an average of about 18 cents. The loss on the 75,000 pounds of butter for which the Government paid 20 cents a pound, was $3,700, not to speak of $14,000 expended in fitting up cold storage.

LOSSES IN HOPS.

Hops were never cheaper than at the present time, and we question if they ever were as plentiful. Brewers are offering very good quality hops at 5c. and 6½c. per lb.; but the demand is quite slack even at these exceptionally low rates, which are ruinous to growers. Several lots held under advances to the banks have lately been forced on the market, as there appeared no prospect of an improvement in prices. The lots referred to brought all the way from 1½c. to 2c. for old olds, and at 4½c. to 6c. for 1895 crop f. o. b. in the west, which show heavy losses. It seems that the world has been growing too many hops during the past few years, and as the hop vine is such a thrifty plant it has outgrown the requirements of the trade altogether, and the only plan to bring prices back to a healthy paying basis is to reduce the acreage in Canada, the United States and Europe by at least one third. The highest price that has been paid of late in this market for Canadian hops was 8c, but it was for an exceptionally fine parcel, 7c. being considered the maximum for the best offerings, with any amount offered at 6c to 6½c. Advices from London, England, state that considerable quantities of American hops have recently been sold in that market at slaughter prices, which in some instances have not been sufficient to cover freight and charges; and reclamations have consequently been in order. According to advices by last English mail, a lot of fancy Pacifics brought 50s. 6d. in London, but for the general run of American hops the range is from 25s. to 40s. netting shippers about 4½c to 7½c. per lb. Other lots have sold as low as 15s. to 20s. Some of the above cost 8c. before they left New York. Since the clearance of some large quantities of held stock from the English market a better feeling has set in; but there is very little improvement in prices.—Montreal Trade Bulletin.

BIG CHEQUES.

How Easily They are Handled by the Bank of England.

We have been hearing a good deal lately about big cheques, some of the wine merchants and whisky merchants having been sending out as advertisements copies of the cheques they have paid the Government on account of duty. These puny amounts, however, sink into insignificance when compared with the gigantic sums that have been changing hands at the Bank of England on account of the one hundred and eighty-five millions of indemnity that China has to pay to Japan. In the old days a good deal of fuss would have been made about handing over some twenty-five millions of money. If it had been paid in specie about thirty-five vans would have been required to carry it, but we do not do business in that way now. A gentleman representing Japan, and a gentleman representing China call by appointment on Mr. Bowen, the chief cashier of the Bank of England, who solemnly presents the Chinaman with a cheque for $25,000,000, which the Chinaman, probably wishing it was all his own, hands over to the Japanese with a dignified bow, and the Japanese in an equally dignified way, and with perhaps similar private sentiments, gives back to the cashier, who fills up a pay-in slip and promptly passes it through the till-book. Nothing could be simpler; bows all round; that part of the account is settled; and Japan will evacuate the Liao-Tung peninsula. This, however, was a small affair to what occurred a week or so before, when the first quarter of the main indemnity was paid. Then the cheque was for forty millions, the largest cheque on record, and its handing-out and paying-in occupied ten minutes, all told. As China has about ten dozen more millions to dispose of in this pleasant gentlemanly way, we may soon hear of similar cheques or even bigger ones, and Japan will have a nice little credit balance to draw upon when the bills come in for the new ships and guns that are making business lively up Newcastle way. The most striking thing about the affair is that the two far-eastern powers have to come all the way to the metropolis of the monetary world to settle their little arrangements. We should not be surprised to hear that China sold some of her consols to honour the drafts, for the methods of finance are intricate and peculiar, and the banks of the world are as one, with the old lady of Threadneedle street to back them. "We've got the money too."

Attractive Women.

Why is one women attractive and another not? The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks and her vivacity. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Some are born with what is called "constitutional weakness." Those who do not enjoy perfect health, need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism.

IN THE INTERESTS OF JUSTICE.

Ottawa Free Press.

The measure introduced into the Assembly by Sir Oliver Mowat respecting High and County Constables is a very wise one, and ought to have been introduced long ago. As the law has existed in the past, counties were given far too much latitude, and, as a result, were able to leave the public without any adequate protection, and even with none at all, as has been seen in certain cases. The new law provides for the appointment by the County Council of a High Constable. The act says "shall" appoint. But the next clause will provide food for reflection for those who have discovered a wonderful difference between the word "may" and "shall" in the law relating to Separate schools. The clause allows for the non-observance of the word "shall" in the case, and, looking to resistance against "coercion," by counties, provides that in case the counties do not appoint within a reasonable time, the county judge, warden, sheriff and crown attorney may make the appointment, and so here the "may" would appear to be equivalent to "shall." And very right. Dereliction of duty in this matter on the part of any county council is most unjustifiable. It means a danger to life and property, and an utter absence of any means of putting the machinery of the law in motion when it is required. The act will be of especial advantage when put into operation in the county of Carleton.

LISTER SPEAKS OUT

Why is Sir Charles Tupper So Anxious

REGARDING THAT SHIP RAILWAY?

The Bill is Reinstated—No Revision of the Voters' Lists This Year—Supplementary Estimates on Monday Next—The Importation of Corn for Food Purposes.

Ottawa, March 26.—(Special)—The Chignecto Ship Railway Bill was restored to the order paper this afternoon on almost a straight party vote. The proposal to restore it was made by Mr. McInerney, and was strongly opposed by Messrs. Welsh, Lister, Casey, McMullen and Martin.

During his remarks, Mr. Lister said: Sir Charles Tupper may feel personally obligated to carry the scheme through and, if the stories are true, he may be legally obligated to make good to some of the investors the vast amount of money they have put into this project. Rumors are about that there are some very compromising documents in the Old Country that might—I say that might—create a large liability against the Secretary of State. Is that true or not? Why is it the honorable gentleman takes so much interest in this bill? Why does he leave it in the hands of a private member, instead of introducing it himself?

Mr. Ives said it was a simple matter of justice to restore corporate existance to the company.

The motion for the restoration of the bill was carried by a vote of 80 to 63, Mr. Boyle being the only Conservative who voted against it.

Mr. Daly introduced a bill respecting Voters' Lists of 1896. It does away with the revision of the lists this year.

Mr. Haggart introduced a bill to amend the Government Railways Act. It exempts employes of the Intercolonial Railway from being away from railway work to do municipal statute labor. Inconvenience has been caused the railway through section hands at times being called away from work snow shovelling, etc., to do municipal statute labor.

Mr. Mills (Bothwell) questioned whether the Government had power to pass such an act, but Mr. Haggart said the Department of Justice said the bill was all right.

Controller Wood moved the introduction of a bill to amend the Act respecting the Department of Customs. It provides for an increase of salary of the Commissioner of Customs from $3600 to $4000.

Mr. McMullen protested against the proposal, as such a bill could be introduced only by consent, when no resolution had been previously passed. The bill was withdrawn.

In reply to Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. Foster said the supplementary estimates for the present year would likely be brought down on Monday.

On motion of Dr. Sproule, the Bill to amend the Act relating to Conspiracies and Combinations, formed in restraint of trade, was read a second time. The bill strikes out the word, "unduly" which in the law, as is stands now, modifies the clauses specifying restrictions.

Mr. Martin moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Northwest Territories Representation Act. He claimed the act at present left the preparation of the voters' lists for the Territories entirely in the hands of enumerators appointed by the Government and provided no means by which voters whose names had been left off the list could compel the enumerator to put them on. The bill remedies this. The motion for second reading was carried.

Mr. McMullen moved the second reading of the bill to amend the Customs Act. He proposed to let all corn imported for food purposes come under the clause of the Customs Act which now allows a rebate of the duty on corn imported for "human" food. The bill strikes out the word "human" so that the act should simply read for food purposes. In view of the cheapness of corn in the United States and its value as food for farm stock, he thought the Government should agree to the bill, which would prove of great benefit to the farmer.

Mr. McMillan said the proposal would prove of great benefit to the farmers.

Mr. Foster held that the bill created a charge upon the revenue of the country and therefore could not be introduced by a private member. The result of the bill would be to increase the importations and therefore increase the amount of public revenue that would have to be paid out by way of rebate. He asked the Speaker for his ruling on the point of order.

Mr. McMullen said if the result would be to double the importations then nothing would be taken from the revenue but the receipts of the country would be actually increased.

The Speaker ruled Mr. Foster's point of order well taken and that the bill could not be introduced by a private member, but was such as could only originate with the Government.

The House adjourned at 10.55.

DENIED FROM WASHINGTON

That Mount St. Elias is in Canadian Territory—A Boundary Monument.

Washington, March 26.—Mount St. Elias is not in Canadian territory, today's report from Ottawa to the contrary notwithstanding. Gen. K. Duffield, Superintendent of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and the representative of the United States on the Joint Boundary Commission, whose report has been presented to the Canadian Parliament, says that while it is true that the mountain is 2.41 statute miles east of the 141st meridian, it is furthermore certain that its highest elevation is exactly ten marine leagues from the coast, and therefore it is happily one of the chief boundary monuments between American and British possessions. The records of the official surveyors established this beyond question.

THEY ARE SHOOTING MEN IN CUBA.

Two Political Prisoners Shot—A Rebel Leader Killed at Santa Clara.

Havana, March 26.—A combination of rebel bands, taking advantage of the fact that only a small force of Spanish troops was stationed in the City of Santa Clara, marched upon that place last night and penetrated to the centre of the town, where they made an attempt to capture the arsenal. Gen. Bazan, in command of the troops in the city, accompanied only by his staff, personally inspected the points of danger and so dispersed the garrison as to save the city. The rebel leader, Leoncio Vidal, was killed in front of the arsenal, opposite the Plaza and his body remained on the ground exposed to public view this morning for several hours. The total losses as the result of the fight are not known.

The Spanish column under Col. Seguara has captured a large insurgent camp at Siguanea in the Province of Santa Clara. He reports that the capture of the rebel stronghold was accomplished only after several engagements were fought, resulting in the killing of 14 of the enemy and wounding a large number. Col. Seguara destroyed the camp and captured the rebel hospital, which contained 125 wounded insurgents, among them being the rebel leader Rego. A large quantity of medicine and a number of documents were also captured. The plantation on which the camp was situated was desolated and the valley which the insurgents believed to be impregnable is occupied by the Government troops.

Col. Pavia reports having had an encounter of five hours' duration with the rebel leader Lacret at the head of 1000 men, in which the rebels lost 13 killed and many wounded. The Spanish had one soldier wounded.

Two prisoners who were condemned to death for the crime of rebellion against the Cabanas fortress this morning.

BRITAIN'S NILE EXPEDITION.

The Sultan of Turkey Was Not Notified of These Military Operations.

London, March 26.—In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. George N. Curzon, Under Secretary to the Foreign Office, announced that the Government had not received any protest from the Porte against the expedition up the Valley of the Nile. The Sultan, he said, had inquired as to the nature of the militar, operations proposed, and explanations had been given in response to these enquiries. Previous notice had not been given to the Porte, he said, because nothing had been proposed that was beyond the full right of the Khedive of Egypt to engage in and to carry out. Mr. Curzon went on to explain that there were numerous precedents for the expenditure of a portion of the Egyptian re-sere fund with the consent of a majority of the representatives of the powers composing the Egyptian public debt commission. As a matter of fact, that was the ordinary method of procedure.

Some Startling Assertions Made Regarding the Halifax Garrison Artillery.

Halifax, N.S., March 26.—The men interested in the garrison artillery troubles are reticent as to the facts and decline to make any statements until they do so officially. It is asserted that at an inspection men belonging to one company were marched in with another and then inspected, and that one or more of the officers knew this, or if not, that he or they were remiss in their duty in not knowing it. Affidavits of men familiar with the facts are being drawn up to be submitted to the commander of the forces or the Militia Department.

HIS LEG TAKEN OFF.

James Davi , a Toronto Man, Fell Off a Moving Train Near Burlington.

Hamilton, March 25.—(Special)—James Davis, a Toronto lineman, living at 47 Claremont-street, had one of his legs taken off, near Burlington, tonight, and received other injuries which may result fatally. He fell off a moving train. He was going from Toronto to Buffalo on the train which left Toronto at 6.55, his ultimate destination being Jamestown, New York. Near Burlington he was passing from one car to another, and fell on to the track and the train passed over him. He was brought to the city and conveyed to the City Hospital, where he is being attended to by several surgeons.

Struck Once Too Often.

Thorold, March 25.—A large gang of laborers at work shoveling out a train on the Niagara Central tracks near here took advantage of the helpless condition of the railroad company on Saturday and struck for higher wages, which they received. On Monday they struck for 20 cents an hour and as the road was in rather better condition the railroad company refused this demand and the laborers returned to the village.

WINGHAM SENSATION.

Detective Rogers Appears on the Scene and Some People are Uneasy.

Wingham, March 25.—The excitement over the Field case is running very high. This morning Detective Rogers of the Provincial Detective Department appeared on the scene to subpoena witnesses to appear at the adjourned inquest to be held in London on March 31. Much uneasiness is felt by all interested, even by those who did not take part in the assault, but went as onlookers and did not attempt to interfere while the man was being ill-treated. When the assault was committed the feeling here was that justice had been meted out to Field, but when his death occurred a wave of horror swept over the community. Since then, however, a partial investigation of Field's past life has been made and many horrible stories of cruelty and immorality are being reported on apparently good authority and some of the older citizens recall reports that had been forgotten.

There is a feeling among a large class of the community that circumstances in connection with the case should have been investigated some years ago. This feeling makes the excitement all the greater and causes a certain amount of sympathy with those implicated.

Two of the ringleaders have left town, but it is supposed they can be easily found when they are required. The balance of those who are alleged to have taken part in the assault are still here and are apparently not making any attempt to leave.

The difficulties which will face Detective Rogers are very great, as so many people were concerned in the affair. And of course all the citizens are acquainted to a certain extent with those engaged.

As to any movements of Mr. Rogers or the method of his investigation the people know nothing. The excitement of the people is shown by the crowds who throng the news agencies to obtain papers in order to learn what new developments there may be. The farmers of the neighborhood take great interest in the case and many of them drive long distances to obtain papers and information. The supply of newspapers is totally inadequate.

Nothing will be officially known till after the inquest. One thing is certain, that if the matter is thoroughly sifted it will make a greater sensation than the citizens at first expected and the case will be watched with great interest. Now that the matter is being investigated by the proper authorities the people feel more satisfied.

YOUR "BAD BACK" RE-BACKED.

HOW IT IS DONE!

The pertinent question of the day is—Does your back ache? Is it lame?

Thousands suffer from what they commonly term "Bad back." When they walk or when they work, when they lie down or rise up, wherever they may be or whatever they may do, the old aching, paining, "lame back" worries and wearies and wears them out.

Few people understand the real cause of their aches, and fewer yet know how easily they can be cured.

Just a word of explanation.

The back is the key-note of the kidneys. When it aches that's a sign that the kidneys are not acting properly. When it is "lame," that indicates that the kidneys are clogged up.

Then all the poisonous products that it is the kidneys special duty to eliminate from the blood, are carried in the blood current to every organ and tissue of the body, bringing on many a kidney trouble which if neglected means disease.

Will you heed the timely warning the back gives you? Will you strike the enemy while you can strike hard? Doan's Kidney Pills are the little enemies of kidney disorders. They strike with no uncertain hand Old backs and young backs are being "re-backed" and freed from never-ceasing pain and many a lame and shattered one, stooped and contracted, is strengthened and invigorated by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. RECHERCHE MILLINERY.

The Brightest and Best is the Surest Way to Attract Patronage.

Our brilliant opening exposition of Spring Millinery and Mantles has been the sensation of the week, and the effect produced is just what we aimed at.

Each year we have been lifting the standard a bit higher until now we've reached the plane of rare and recherche productions out of the general run.

Perhaps more than half the ladies who come here have looked all around the other stores. We hope so. We believe in intelligent comparisons and welcome them.

Those who investigate our Goods, Styles and Prices will fare better than those who don't. We want lookers as well as buyers. There's no one here to pull faces at you if you don't buy.

EXTREME NOVELTIES.

These are feast days for those who shop at this store. Extreme Novelties in Millinery, Mantles, Capes and Dress Goods will command larger interest from now until Easter, than anything else.

One Good Effect of the Storm.

A London traveller, who was tied up in Fenelon Falls during the recent storm with sixteen other commercial men, was in town yesterday. He said the seventeen knights of the grip went to church on Sunday and were conducted to prominent seats near the front. When the collection plate was passed each one of the seventeen placed upon it a crisp $1 bill. Now someone has been ungenerous enough to say that the pastor of that church has been praying for another big storm.

THE MARKET TOLLS.

The Question Still Open, but it is Expected that Mr. Choate Will Keep to his Agreement.

Councillors Best and Denne returned last evening from Warsaw, where they were consulting with Mr. Thos. Choate relative to his intimation that he wished to recall his bid of $2,500 for the market tolls.

They ascertained that reports had reached Mr. Choate's ears to the effect that the tolls would not realize as much as in former years, and consequently not wishing to lose money on the venture, he was anxious to withdraw his offer.

Messrs. Best and Denne represented to Mr. Choate that the statement concerning the falling off of the tolls was made by interested parties with an object in view, and it is now thought that he will in all probability carry out his agreement.

In the interview, no pressure whatever was brought to bear upon Mr. Choate, as, of course, he is quite well aware of the position in which he stands, in regard to his power of withdrawing his bid. The Council however, do not wish Mr. Choate to withdraw his bid, as under his management it is felt that the market would greatly prosper.

The deputation had quite an experience driving out to Warsaw, as the roads are in a fearful condition. If the horse stepped out of the beaten track, it would sink up to the knees and often up to the belly in snow. At one time the animal went down so suddenly, as to throw it and the cutter had to be unhitched and drawn some distance before the horse could be again attached to it.

OUR SOLDIER BOYS.

They Will Begin Drill Early This Season.

It has been thought advisable not to hold a fall drill this year, but instead of having the inspection in September or October, as formerly, to hold it on the first of July, when the companies are in the pink of condition. The Rangers always show up well when away on their annual trip on Dominion Day and if the inspection is held while they are in camp the turnout will also be much larger. In past years the Battalion has always suffered considerable loss through the fact that a number of the members found it impossible to turn out for inspection, and consequently their pay could not be drawn and was lost to the Battalion fund. Last season it is estimated that through this fact over $200 was diverted from the coffers of the 57th.

In connection with the change of date in the inspection the following orders were issued last evening:—

HEADQUARTERS,
Peterborough, Mar. 27th, 1896.

Orders by Lt.-Col. R. W. Bell, commanding the 57th Battalion of Infantry, Peterborough Rangers:

The non-com. officers and men of the respective companies will assemble on Tuesday evening, March 31st, for the issue of clothing preparatory to drill

By order,
E. F. MASON, Capt.,
Adjt. 57th Batt.

—"Winter lingering in the lap of spring" may be all very well for a joke, but its a serious matter to many farmers now, whose cattle are suffering for lack of fodder. In South Monaghan $5 is paid at the barn for a small "jag" of straw—and its a small one that can be drawn over drifts as high as a small load of hay.

—Northumberland "lords of creation" are fickle. Mr. W. F. Kerr, of Cobourg, has issued a writ on behalf of Eliza Jemima Trick, of Port Hope, against Richard Miller, of the same place, for $2,000 for breach of promise. The defeddant is said to be over 80 years of age and possessed of some property, but evidently averse to being Tricked into matrimony. The fair plaintiff is not quite that old. Another writ has been issued, at the instance of Mary Ann Graham, spinster, of Haldimand township, against Robert West, of Hamilton township, for $1,000, for breach of promise of marriage.

THE PINK TEA.

It Proved to be an Unqualified Success—The Programme.

Last evening, a "Pink Tea" entertainment, given under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association, was held in the Son's of England hall, on Hunter street, and was in every way a most unqualified success.

Tea was served from six until eight o'clock, and all who partook of this dainty and well arranged repast, were more than pleased. The waitresses were distinguished by pretty pink caps on their heads, and everything on the table was decorated, as far as possible with the same shade.

After all had enjoyed themselves in the refreshment rooms, an adjournment was made to the hall proper, where the second part of the programme was rendered, under the very able chairmanship of Dr. R. W. Bell. In his preliminary remarks the Doctor stated, that he thought it was a great privilege to be requested to act as "chairman" on such occasions. He dealt briefly with the aims and objects of the Y. W. C. A., being somewhat on the line of the Y. M. C. A. Peterborough is the only town which has a "Young Woman's Christian Association," but there is quite a number in

THE LARGER CITIES.

The main object of such an Association is to throw a Christian influence around younggirls who are away from home, as well as those who permanently reside here

Some five years ago some noble, active, Christian ladies banded themselves together to work in the interests of young girls, and founded a local branch of the Young Women's Christian Association resulting in the establishment of comfortably furnished apartments. These were finally secured and the young ladies were invited to pay a visit to them and make themselves at home. The work of the Association, the doctor stated, is divided into four parts, viz., spiritual, intellectual, physical and social. They have a Bible class for young ladies, and the truth is expounded to them with all possible force. Then the intellectual work consists of having the very best literature for their perusal. The social work was accomplished by bringing them in contact with each other in entertainments, etc., and the physical work should be carried on in a gymnasium, which they lacked in Peterborough, to enable them generally. There were also classes in sewing, cooking, millinery, dress-making, etc., for the benefit of those who are employed during the day time. In other Associations pretty generally they have a boarding-house in connection with the Association; unfortunately Peterborough has none. He thought this matter would be very much appreciated if attended to as quickly as possible. Funds are needed to carry the idea out, and the gentlemen friends should come to the aid of the ladies in this matter. Dr. Bell stated that he had been very closely connected with work of this kind—association work—and he knew pretty well the funds required to carry on a work of this kind. In conclusion he urged every one to renew their courage and work, if possible, with an even greater energy in the future.

TO STRENGTHEN THEMSELVES

The following excellent programme was presented in an exceedingly clever manner and was much appreciated by the audience:

Duet	Miss V Bellegham and Mr Owens
Humorous reading	Mr H Burnham
Concertina solo	Mr Aspenwall
Vocal solo	Miss Vair
Instrumental solo	Miss Helen Dennistoun
Humorous reading	Mrs (Dr) Goldsmith
Vocal quartette	Messrs Manning, Crane, Lount and Nelson
Concertina solo	Mr Aspenwall
Humorous reading	Mr C N Brown
Vocal duet	Miss M Richardson and Mr Mulligan
Vocal solo	Mr Gould
Concertina solo	Mr Aspenwall

Notwithstanding the request of the chairman that there should be no encoring as the programme was very long, Mr. Aspenwall and several others were compelled to respond a number of times. The imitation of the "Chimes of Westminster" by Mr. Aspenwall on his concertina was certainly marvellous.

As the rule of the Y.W.C.A. is "early hours" the entertainment came to a close about ten o'clock, all feeling that they had spent a very pleasant evening.

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY CONTRACT.

The Canadian General Electric Company to Supply the Complete Equipment.

In yesterday's issue of The EXAMINER was quoted a paragraph from the Ottawa Free Press stating that the Canadian General Electric Company had secured the contract for supplying the cars for the Electric Railway from Hull to Aylmer, P.Q. This was the truth but not the whole truth. The local company not only supplies the cars but the complete equipment of the line, which is converted from a steam railway to an electric one, but also the generators, the railway motors, the baggage cars, the electric locomotives for hauling the regular railway cars, and all the sundry accessories required for the first-rate equipment of an electric railway. The contract is a large one but it will be pushed with the utmost energy. It is expected that the new building for manufacturing cars will be ready for use within a week. This new order will keep the big works running for some time to come.

STABLES COLLAPSED

In Connection With the Montreal House—Prompt Re-erection.

On Wednesday last the sheds and stables in connection with the Montreal House, owned by Mr. J. B. Larocque, suddenly collapsed owing to the weight of snow which had collected upon them. Fortunately the portion of the sheds which went down were reserved for the use of the farmers' horses and at the time of the accident were unoccupied, Mr. Larocque's own animals being in the stables left standing. With commendable promptitude the proprietor set a gang of men at work and the sheds have been again raised and so greatly strengthened as to precludethe possibility of a recurrence of the accident.

A Good One on a Popular Railroad Man.

It is not often that the genial Conductor Morris, of the Midland, gets left, but one evening recently he found himself in such a position. It happened in this wise: His train, which leaves Belleville in the afternoon for Peterborough, was at Hastings, and, it being a mixed, the crew took on a freight car. By some means or other the added car, which was put in the centre of the train, was not coupled, and the engine and front portion of the train pulled out, leaving Conductor "Bill," his two brakemen, with the coaches, baggage car and a number of passengers at Hastings. The engineer did not miss the tail of the train till he reached Birdsall, six miles distant, and thus added twelve miles to his daily run.

ANOTHER RAILWAY PROJECT.

The Belmont and Methuen Mines to be Developed.

A letter has been received from a prominent business man of Toronto, in reference to a new branch line of railway to be run into the mineral regions of the townships of Belmont and Methuen. The letter states that the project is in the hands of a New York Company who have leased the iron mines in Belmont owned by Mr. T. D. Ledyard, of Toronto.

The Company are at present in that city making arrangements to undertake the railway, commencing at a point on the Central Ontario Railway and running north-westerly into the mines; and if they meet with encouragement sufficient to back up their enterprise, they intend to extend the road to the marble lots in Belmont, and thence into the township of Methuen, where there are mines of iron, marble, mica, copper, gold and indications of silver.

Should this enterprise be consummated, it will be a great boon for the settlers of the back country, as a number of mines will be developed that will give employment to hundreds of men, and a trade will spring up that will be enormous. It is hoped the Company will be successful in their enterprise.

BIRTH.

LUDGATE.—At Dallas, Texas, on Monday, March 16th, 1896 the wife of Mr. B. A. Ludgate, of a son.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. Wall Paper Hints.

The advice which is usually given on How to Paper a House is quite as sensible as the Guide to Manners, Rules of Dress and similar treatises which are more potential than logical. Nevertheless, the following hints will be as well to remember, bearing always in mind the character of the occupant:

Bedrooms should be papered in medium tones of colour, neither light enough to make a glare in summer nor daak enough to absorb the pale gleams of winter.

For a summer room let us take a hint from the cool, old fashioned parlour, whose closed blinds and dark walls were a refuge for the eye and mind.

A decided pattern in the paper is sometimes necessary to increase the size of a room. Fine vertical lines do this, whereas any large detached patterns have the opposite effect.

Blue walls, or those with blue lights in the colour, make a room seem large. This colour must be skillfully used, however. The shades of blue that wear the best on the nerves and senses are toned with gray, yellow or pink.

Grayish tones of red and pink are cool and restful, but beware of orange, save in a little dark den of a winter house.

There is nothing in Wall Paper Decorations which we cannot supply to harmonize with your personal tastes, your furniture or other surroundings.

Prices start at 4c a ROLL, for New Spring Styles.

The Ladies Will Judge

For themselves as to where they saw the best values displayed, and we are willing to abide by their judgment, as we never doubt their ability to judge values.

The Ladies have never had such an opportunity of testing the values offered by Credit Stores and those offered by our Spot Cash System of doing business, and we know whereof we speak when we say that the impressions made upon the public minds at our Opening Days resulted in more orders for Millinery, more sales for Capes, Dress Goods, Underwear and Carpets than at any previous display made by us.

The large increase in our growing cash business last year encouraged us to further cut down the profits and make the same gain by an increase in sales, and we are delighted that at our Opening Display of quality and prices, our plans have been so favourably met by.

PUBLIC APPROVAL.

The Millinery has two prominent features. The LATEST STYLES and the LOWEST PRICES.

The Capes and Jackets

Are styles exclusively our own, no house but ours being in a position to show you the latest productions of Parisian and German makers.

The Dress Goods and Silks

Surpass any display ever seen in this town. The qualities and values defy competition. The volume of stock in this department smiles at the misleading statements of smaller concerns. We let the public judge.

The Carpets and Curtain

Display cannot be surpassed in any city house in Canada. We carry goods to suit poor and rich alike.

You should see our All wool Carpet at 50c.

You should see our Brussels at $1. Marvels of cheapness.

Ladies' and Childrens' Underwear

Department has the largest and most complete stock in town. The best makes at lowest cash prices.

See the Windows.

Look at the $10 dinner sets at China Hall if you want the bargain of your life-time. A few of them are displayed in the Simcoe street show windows and it is worth your while looking at them. Inside we have new goods arriving daily now. A pretty lot of brass goods passed the cus-toms to-day. Visit the store often. We like people to look through and admire or criticise.

Lived on Foliage.

A resident in the township of Chandos has lost several cattle this winter through starvation, he being unable to supply them with food. Among his live stock were two colts that strayed away last fall, and were supposed to be dead. A neighbour of the owner, who happened to go into a dense swamp in that locality about two weeks ago, found the colts alive and well, the poor animals having subsisted for several months on what food they browsed from from the young trees in the swamp.

Money in Creameries.

Mr. Whitton, of Wellman's Corners, has built and equipped his creamery on the most approved methods for turning out a first-class article of butter, and that he has succeeded in producing a good article is evidenced from the fact that he is to-day 5,000 pounds behind his orders. Mr. Whit-ton's creamery is a model of compactness, neatness and cleanliness. The factory is supplied with an abundance of pure spring water, which is indispensable in the manufacture of butter. The total amount of butter manufactured this season to the end of February was 23,009 lbs, for which was received $4,416.59, an average of 20.06 cts. per lb. The average number of pounds of milk to pound of butter was 21.37. Money paid to patrons $3,646.27.

Robert Hall's Dress-making Department.

Business has begun bright and active in Robert Hall's dress and mantle making department under the new management. Many busy fingers are now engaged on spring orders and the prospects for an exceptionally busy season looks good. This branch of Mr. Hall's business is under the supervision of a thoroughly practical young lady from Toronto, who has enjoyed a superior city experience, and who is highly recommended for turning out dress costumes with the newest effects of the newest styles of the day. The facilities for turning out first-class work are unexcelled, and at the same time the unusually moderate charges adopted will be found to be one of the most pleasing surprises to the lady patrons of this store. dw.

THE 100TH CANADIAN REGIMENT.

An Effort Being Made For its Repatriation.

The receipt last week by Lt.-Col. Bell of a blank petition and circular, issued in connection with the movement to repatriate the old 100th Royal Canadian Regiment has aroused no little enthusiasm among old veterans and those of our citizens who have always manifested an interest in military matters.

The present agitation for the restoration of the 100th to Canada had its origin in an article in the Canadian Military Gazette a couple of years ago. The article was republished in all of the British service papers. The Army and Navy Gazette, introducing some quotations from the Canadian Military Gazette, spoke of "that never-to-be-forgotten band of loyal Canadians who united together and formed the 100th or Prince of Wales Royal Canadian Regiment," and went on to say, "We shall hail with unbounded satisfaction the day when the Royal Canadians have a depot in their own country, where the daily increasing territorial interest in them is assuming proportions which can not be ignored."

What the memorial presents is that the original title and designation be restored to the corps and that the former distinctive emblems, the beaver and the maple leaf, may be emblazoned on the regimental colours: also that a recruiting depot for the corps may be established in Canada.

A brief history of the old 100th may not prove uninteresting:—

The Indian mutiny was the direct cause of the organization. During the Crimean war hundreds of Canadians had offered their services to the British government, but they had not been required. As the mutiny in India developed, however, it was deemed advisable to accept a regiment from Canada, and a proclamation was issued authorizing the enrolment of the 100th. Recruiting at once began in all the chief centres in Ontario and Quebec, and before the end of June, 1858, the last draft of men to complete the establishment of twelve companies of 100 men each, was on the ocean on the way to England.

Six captaincies were conferred upon Canadians upon their recruiting eighty men each, and six lieutenants' commissions were offered to Canadians recruiting forty men each.

The Canadian captains were T. Clarke, of Toronto; John Clarke, of Montreal, Bruce, of London; McCartney, of Hamilton; Smyth, of Brockville, and Price, of Quebec.

Upon arrival at Thorncliffe, the regiment was inspected by H.R.H. the Duke of Cambridge, who was much impressed with the physique of the men. But the great day of all for the 100th was Monday, January 10th, 1859, when the regiment received at the hand of the Prince of Wales its first stand of colours, the ceremony of presentation being the first official act of His Royal Highness' life.

The colours now hang in the library of the House of Commons at Ottawa, where they were deposited with military honours, at the close of the parliamentary session of 1868.

Since its organization the regiment has served in Gibraltar, Malta, Canada, India and Ireland.

The regimental orders of November 7th, 1860, bore the copy of a communication from the Major-General commanding the infantry brigade at Gibraltar. The General expressed his satisfaction at the clean and soldier like appearance of the 100th, and at its steadiness at drill. The order was signed by Fred Middleton, A.D.C., then a major, but who subsequently commanded the Canadian militia during the North-west rebellion. While at the Rock the Royal Canadians come off conquerors successively in shooting, foot racing, fighting, drilling, cricketing, acting and rowing.

On the 1st of July, 1881, the name of the regiment was changed to the Leinster Regiment.

The memorial now in Col. Bell's hands has already been signed by a number of the officers of the local battalion, and will shortly be forwarded to Ottawa.

Crokinole.

The Lindsay Warder says: "The Crokinole club formed last week has created a deal of interest among the old crokers and the rising 'uns.' The boards are going steadily every night, and the first series of the finals are steadily narrowing down to a few of the crack players. All that is forthcoming now are the medals and the championship cup. The boys would like to get a game with Peterborough."

No Disappointment.

Disappointments of one kind and another crop up all along life's pathway, for unfortunately it is the unexpected that always happens. There is at least one article of acknowledged merit that never disappoints. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is sure to remove the worst corns in a few days, and as no claim is made that it will cure anything else, it cannot disappoint. HOCKEY.

What will probably prove to be the last match of the Peterborough this season was played last evening at the rink when the local club defeated the Cobourgs by a score of nine goals to two.

The Cobourgs have been on a little tour. On Wednesday evening they played at Lindsay, losing by the score of 5—6. They are a nice lot of young fellows, and are having a pleasant trip. As hockeyists they have considerable to learn yet, but as their game is entirely a combination one they will yet be heard from. Although their play was not fast, it was clean and all that appears to be wanting is team practice.

The two sevens lined up as follows:

Peterborough.		Cobourg.
Wasson	goal	Delaney
Montgomery	point	McMullan
Adams	cover point	Combe
Parsons	forwards	Laurenson
Lefevre		Holland
Ferguson		McMillan
Crossley		McCauley
Sam Ray	umpire	A Field

Referee—W McRae.

The Peterboroughs played two of their junior men on the forward line, viz, Crossley and "Ad." Ferguson and both acquitted themselves with great credit. It was the intention at first to have the rush line composed entirely of juniors in order to give them a chance to show their mettle, but later on it was thought advisable to play Parsons and Lefevre in case the Cobourgs should prove to be faster than anticipated. Both these senior men did splendid work on the ice last night.

Peterborough's senior defence was played and it was seldom that the Cobourg's got past it. Sam Adams' lifts from cover point were the feature of the game. Every time the puck came to him it was the signal for the rush line to get in on the Cobourg goal, as Sam invariably lighted the puck right on the flags. Montgomery and Wasson did not have much to do, but were all there when called upon.

THE WHEEL.

The members of the bicycle club held an enthusiastic meeting last night with the President, Mr. Robt. Neill, in the chair. The question of the meet, of course, occupied the entire attention of the members present and the following were appointed delegates to the annual meeting of the C. W. A. on Good Friday in Toronto, viz., Messrs. Robt. Neill, W. L. Allen, R. D. Hamilton, Geo. J. Hopkins, T. E. Bradburn and A. Mercer. Although it is now conceded that Peterborough is far ahead in the race for the big meet the club expressed its determination not to relax its efforts in the least until the last vote had been corraled.

A-1 last year's wheel for sale at EXAMINER office. Only in use a few months. Best and most expensive wheel in town last year. For sale at a bargain.

The Parkdale Bicycle Club has re-organized for the season and is in the field for Peterborough for the meet.

Neither bicycles nor bicycle meets are moved by wind power and it will do Quebec little good to bring her great orators to Toronto on Good Friday, as is threatened.

To day's Globe contains the following letter from Sarnia on the meet question:

Sporting Editor Globe,—Sir,—Several of the head pushers of the C.W.A., favour Quebec for the meet and have not hesitated to ventilate their views on this question. There is an unwritten law that it shall go east one year and west the next. This appears to be a very fair and equitable arrangement, but it is not in exact accordance with the eternal fitness of things for it to go to a Quebec city twice in three years. There are many good towns and cities in Eastern Ontario waiting patiently for a chance to get it. A sudden inflation of the membership of a club, when it has a special object in view, should be taken for what it is worth. If the five hundred and odd members added by Quebec were bona fide wheelmen, which I greatly doubt, it would be a great thing for the association, but if they are not I cannot say that I greatly regret to learn of their not being able to utilize these votes owing to their being a day short of the regulated time for being handed in to enable them to vote on the 3rd. It is all very well for Toronto and Montreal wheelmen to boom Quebec, but the interests of the large number of wheelmen west of Toronto must be considered.

The financial one is not the only point to be taken into account. Time is even of greater importance to most of us. We may be able to get away for a day or two, but how many wheelmen from western Ontario can get away for the greater part of a week? Very, very few. The idea of holding Provincial meets on the 1st of July and a general championship meet on Labour Day is a good one, and I sincerely hope we will be able to enforce the idea at the meeting on the 3rd prox.

None of the arguments of either Peterborough or Quebec as to why they should have the meet amount to much. As regards the freedom of either places we have never asked any town for that yet. We have generally taken it, and, as Geo. Orr aptly remarks, in nearly every case some local fellow has a cinch on the girls. The two strong arguments from an Ontario standpoint in favour of Peterborough are time and money. Leaving the first out of consideration, why should the wheelmen of Ontario pay $6,000 or $7,000 for the benefit of Quebec? There is only one way possible, in my opinion, to save endless trouble in the future, and that is to hold Provincial meets on the 1st of July and the Canadian championships on Labour Day, and I would here suggest that the latter be held alternately in Toronto and Montreal. This ought to meet with the approval of the wheelmen of these places. They will not be accused of hoggishness, and perhaps avoid the thousand and one epithets that have justly or unjustly, been hurled at them. They will then have the same chance of initiating their country brethren into the mysteries of city life as we have had to reveal our simple country way to them.

Wheelmen of Toronto, press this point, and I think you will have the western wheelmen solid with you. It hardly just and not exactly the right thing to do to sacrifice the pleasures of the thousands of riders in the west for the sake of the few who can possibly avail themselves of a trip to Quebec. When we had the meet in Sarnia I think you could number the wheelmeen we had from Montreal and Quebec on the fingers of one hand. Peterborough, we are with you, and you can count on our vote and influence. * * *

HOPKINS TO DONLY.

To the Sporting Editor:—Sir, I notice in yesterday's paper that Mr. Hal. B. Donly denies having said that the Quebec track was "vile." Now, as a matter of fact, he used exactly the words credited to him in "Jockey's" letter in Tuesday's Mail and Empire. In the first part of his letter Mr. Donly denies making the remark. Later on he "resents such attempts to put misleading constructions on his casual remarks. I would like to know just what Mr. Donly claims he did say regarding the Quebec track.

Regarding the other matter, namely, Quebec's new votes, a man hol"ng the office of secretary of the association should at least try to be consistent. Last year, when in the fight with Waterloo, we had two hundred votes thrown out on what Mr. Donly calls a technicality, and the wording of the constitution was in our favour. Those 200 votes would have beaten Waterloo. Is there to be one law for Peterborough, and one for the rest of the clubs in the association?

We could have put in 500 members if we did not remember our experience of last year. We would be sorry indeed, if Mr. Donly's going to church prevented Quebec's members voting, but no one should know better than Mr. Donly, that this is not the case. If he will read the constitution carefully he will see that even if he had closed the books on Sunday, the Quebec members would not be eligible to vote. They must have been published two weeks previous to March 15. They were published on March 2nd, and two weeks were up on March 16th. To be eligible to vote they must be members in good standing on March 15th. Mr. Donly says they should be allowed to vote. He was was the first to say last year that Peterborough's 200 votes be thrown out. Mr. Donly appears to have a strong aversion to the meet coming to Peterborough. He was against us last year, and don't appear to be "wid us" this year.

Yours, etc.
GEO. J. HOPKINS.

THE CANADA CLUB

Holds Its Annual Dinner in Old London.

SPEECH BY MR. JOS. CHAMBERLAIN

The Colonial Secretary Says Nice Things About Canada — Incidentally He Talks on the Trade Question and Advocates a Revenue Tariff - Dr. Montague Speaks.

London, March 25.—The Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, was the guest of honor at the annual dinner of the Canada Club in London this evening. Among those present were Admiral Sir Francis Leopold McClintock, the Hon. W. H. Montague, Canadian Minister of Agriculture; Joseph Colmer, Secretary of the Canadian Office in London; Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, Messrs. Alexander Staveley Hill, W. E. M. Tomlinson, M.P.; Sydney Gedge, M.P., and many other prominent personages. The president of the club, Sir Robert Gillespie, proposed a toast to the Governor-General of Canada and the Dominion, coupling the names of Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Montague.

Upon Mr. Chamberlain's rising to respond he was loudly cheered. He declared that whatever test gauged her greatness, Canada stood to-day first among the group of kindred nations which, together with a United Kingdom, formed the British Empire. He had often visited Canada, he said, and knew men on both sides of the Atlantic who once assumed that the manifest destiny of Canada was to be absorbed by the great republic upon her southern frontier. That announcement, Mr. Chamberlain declared, was in contrast with the present determination of Canada to maintain her loyal institutions and draw closer the bonds uniting her to the parent stem. The recent isolation of the United Kingdom and the dangers which seemed to threaten evoked from all the colonies, and especially from Canada, an outburst of loyalty and affection. To none of her Majesty's subjects was the recent shadow of war more ominous than to Canada; yet there was no hesitation on her part and unanimous voice was made in the common cause with the United Kingdom. (Cheers.) The speakers of the Dominion Parliament struck the right note when they spoke of "Our Empire." "Could an expression of loyalty from all the Colonies," he asked, "pass without serious effort on the part of both the Colonial and Imperial statesmen to transform these high sentiments into practical results? We must seek the line of least resistance."

Mr. Chamberlain declared that the greatest of the Colonies' common obligations was Imperial defence, and the greatest of their common interests Imperial trade. It was difficult to deal with the subject of defences without first dealing with the matter of trade. They had a great example in the creation of the German Empire, which was led up to through the union of the states now forming it into a commercial zollverein. At the great conference at Ottawa in 1894 the principal resolution adopted declared in favor of a customs arrangement between Great Britain and her Colonies.

Mr. Chamberlain, continuing, referred to the motion in the Canadian House of Commons, offered by Mr. McNeill that a small duty be levied by each member of the Empire against foreign products imported by them, and that the proceeds from such duties be devoted to the purpose of Imperial intercommunication and defence. Mr. McNeill's proposal, he said, was entitled to respectful consideration. If the English objected to it they ought to propose an alternative. At the same time the importance of the proposal ought not to be minimized. It would involve a most serious disturbance of the trade of the United Kingdom, and a great change in the principles which for many years have guided its commercial policy. The proposed duty would tend to increase the cost of living to the working classes of the United Kingdom, and hence increase the cost of production, rendering worse the position of the British in competition with foreign countries in neutral markets. Great Britain, in return, would give a very small preference, amounting to two, perhaps five, per cent. in competition with the foreigners in colonial markets. This proposal, Mr. Chamberlain considered a very startling one, and he feared that it would be impossible of adoption in its present form. He stated in detail his reasons for regarding its adoption as impossible, dwelling especially upon the fact that the British foreign trade is so much more gigantic than that of the colonies that the taxation would fall more heavily upon the United Kingdom than upon them. He referred to the despatch of 1895 of the Marquis of Ripon, then Colonial Secretary, which, although conclusive as far as it concerned the proposal to which it referred, did not bar out others which were more favorable. Mr. Chamberlain suggested that the true zollverein of the Empire, viz., free trade throughout the Empire, despite the involving of duties against foreigners, might be discussed and would probably lead to a satisfactory arrangement if the colonies were willing to consider it. (Cheers.) It had been assumed, he continued, that the colonies would certainly refuse to consider such a suggestion, but he was not convinced that they would do so. He contended that it would be so enormously advantageous to them that the colonies would be bound to consider it, but instanced some exceptions that would be necessary, he holding, however, that the general principle would be acceptable, that between the various parts of the Empire protection ought to disappear, any duties imposed being merely for revenue, and pretection. (Cheers.) If this principle should be adopted, said the speaker, there would be no reason for calling a council of the Empire to discuss that matter. (Cheers.)

In conclusion, Mr. Chamberlain declared that he spoke only for himself, and was not initiating a course of policy. He wished, he said, to provoke discussion upon the subject.

Hon. Dr. Montague, M.P., Canadian Minister of Agriculture, followed Mr. Chamberlain, whom he congratulated upon fully appreciating the idea of a greater Britain. Canadians were proud, he said, of Great Britain's past and present, but they believed that the future of the Empire would be infinitely greater. He wished Mr. Chamberlain godspeed in the work of increasing the ties of common interest and the inter-dependence between the Mother Country and her colonies, and hoped he would do everything possible to encourage emigration to Canada. He urged the adoption of some such suggestion as that made by Mr. Chamberlain. He realized that there were difficulties in the way, and that mutual sacrifices would be necessary, but the opportunity was great, and he undertook to say that Canada would not refuse to consider any practicad proposition which she could possibly accept. She had hitherto led the way as much as possible upon this subject, and was willing to discuss it in the future.

Dr. Montague's remarks were received with cheers.

What London Papers Say.

London, March 25.—The papers tomorrow will comment upon the address made by Colonial Secretary Chamberlain at the Canada Club banquet this evening, which they agree was remarkable and important.

The Times will say it believes that the desire to give substantial form to the Imperialist feeling displayed by the British Colonies, especially Canada, during the recent crisis will be heartily endorsed.

The Standard will say it imagines that the main impediment to the carrying out of the plan will be found in the Colonies.

The Chronicle will express approval of Mr. Chamberlain's suggestion, but will suggest that before talking of a zolverein the Government had better abandon its policy of ruining the Colonial cattle trade.

ANGLO-ITALIAN ALLIANCE.

Baron Blanc Says It Is an Accomplished Fact - Baldissera Moves Towards Adigrat.

Rome, March 25.—In the Senate today Baron Blanc, ex-Minister of Foreign Affairs, affirmed that the alliance between Great Britain and Italy was an accomplished fact. The alliance had been concluded, the ex-Minister said, under a threat of the abandonment of Kassala by the Italians.

Advices received from Massowah state that Gen. Baldissera, commander-in-chief of the Italian forces in Abyssinia, has started from Asmara with a strong force. The object of the expedition is, if possible, to liberate the Italian garrison at Adigrat.

The overtures for peace which had been made with a view to the eventual evacuation of Kassala, Baron Blanc said, had determined the authorities upon a public definitive manifestation of alliance, which was founded upon a more solid basis than protocols, namely, a community of defensive interests. This community would henceforth be extended to the security of Italy as a maritime power and the Mediterranean power of Italy would now become an effective bond between Great Britain and the Dreibund.

Signor Sermoneta, Minister of Foreign Affairs, concurred in Baron Blanc's statement. He created somewhat of a sensation by declaring that if the Dongola expedition was aimed at the reconquering of the Soudan, Italy must, if the conquest be effected, and if Great Britain so desired, restore Kassala.

Oyster Rarebit.

Clean and remove the hard muscle from half a pint of oysters, parboil them in their own liquor until their edges curl, and remove to a hot bowl. Put one tablespoonful of butter and one-half pound of cheese broken in small bits, one saltspoon each of salt and mustard, and a few grains of Cayenne into a dish; while the butter is melting beat two eggs slightly and add to them the oyster liquor; mix this gradually to the melted cheese; add the oysters and turn at once over hot toast.

RESCUED FROM INSANITY.

GENTLEMEN,—To say all I ought to in favour of B. B. B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it. I am a different man to what I was ten years ago when it was expected I would be in the asylum, but now I am in perfect robust health and it was the B.B.B. that did it. I suffered for five or six years from constipation, sometimes so severely that I went out of my mind.

I tried various doctors, both in the country and in the city, and took medicines too numerous to mention, but everything failed to have the desired effect. When I used Burdock Blood Bitters it succeeded beyond all expectations, requiring only two bottles to cure. To make it still more certain that B. B. B. the real cure for constipation, I may say that some two years afterwards, I felt the symptoms returning and took one bottle more and from that time to the present day (over eight years) I have never had any returns of the disease.

I never knew any medicine to work so well. It does not seem to be a mere reliever but a sure and certain cure as I can testify to, for hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine and advice failed to do me any good, but three dollars' worth of B.B.B. made a permanent cure that has given me years of health and comfort. Yours truly,

C. L. KILMER, Toronto.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P. "RED-BIRD"

The general public invariably choose the simple and effectual device, and condem the absurdity of addttions and multiplications. Simplicity is always a matter of subtraction rather than additions.

In search of the best whenever personal influence does not blind the sight, men's progress, from the complex to the simple.

Another important point is having the whole wheel made by the one firm. The chain and sprocket wheel require to be made by one man, as otherwise they never run perfectly. The man that invented the Wilson Chain made the Cyclodial Sprocket to fit the chain both on the RED-BIRD and no others.

ED. COURTNEY

P. O. Box 78. Workshop over W. Webb's Factory, Ashburnham.

Sometimes it seems to weary woman that she must certainly give up. The simplest and easiest work becomes an almost insurmountable task. Lassitude almost overcomes her. Nervousness and sleeplessness and pain harass her and life seems hardly worth the living.

That her sufferings are due solely to her own fault seldom occurs to her, but often it is so. Health, strength and vigorous vitality are hers if she will but ask and reach for them.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was made for her. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was made for her. The former is for the ills distinctly feminine, the other for her general system. Together they supply a scientific and successful course of treatment. The "Favorite Prescription" restores healthy, regular action to the organs distinctly feminine. It forces out all impurities, strengthens the tissues, allays irritating inflammation. The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes appetite, helps digestion, promotes assimilation, fills out the hollows in cheeks and neck with good solid flesh and brings back the gladsome glow of girlhood. Best of all, with these remedies there is no need of detested "examinations" and "local treatment" so abhorrent to every modest woman.

Thousands of grateful women have written letters like this:

MRS. SAMANTHA M. CRANMER, of Box 34, Le Roy, Bradford Co., Pa., writes: "It is with pleasure that I write these few lines in favor of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription'—the medicines which have done me so much good. I was completely run down so that I could scarcely drag myself around the house, had been getting weaker and worse for several years until I lost all hope of ever getting any better. I took four bottles of each of your medicines and am now perfectly well."

Respectfully yours,

Samantha M Cranmer

A SUNDAY IN LONDON.

HAS VERY LITTLE RESEMBLANCE TO THE CONTINENTAL SABBATH.

The Great Modern Babylon is More Puritanical than Boston, More Sweetly Solemn Than Philadelphia on the First Day of the Week.

A London, England, Lord's Day is a very solemn if not a pre-eminently religious day. Perhaps there is no city in the world that, to the stranger, shows as austere and repellant on the "Sawbath" as this modern Babylon. To issue from your hotel or domicile at 10 o'clock in the morning is to enter the streets of a deserted city. A few cabs with sleepy horses and invisible cabman may be in the ranks of a street here and there; now and then a bus may rumble past; occasionally, too, a private equipage of one or two horse power will hurry by; and, of course, men and women and children will straggle along; but what movement there is only heightens and intensifies the emptiness and loneliness of the monster city's desolation, and one asks one's self wonderingly, "Where are the crowds and the confusion of yesterday, the surging thousands, the incessant stream of traffic, the dull, reverberating rumble of wheels, the muffled clip-clap of myriads of ironshod hoofs beating the pavement, and that inarticulate, indefinable hum of a great city's babble? Whither has it all vanished? They only can tell who are the particles of the daily commotion. Everything is closed, as if men were done with buying and selling, even the "pubs" being strictly forbidden to sell to anyone not a "traveler," though I believe any person who lives a three miles remove from the "pub" may qualify as a "traveler." A resident of any of the principal American cities who has not been in London on a Sunday has but an imperfect idea of what Sunday observance really means. Compared with London, New York, which makes a flourish of Sunday closing, has a fete, and Chicago a carnival on the seventh day. London proper is more puritanical than Boston, more sweetly solemn than Philadelphia.

But, fatigued with the turmoil of the week in the rapidest city on earth, you are glad of the quiet and repose as you walk abroad, and appreciate the beneficence of a day of rest so universally respected. There is no temptation to loiter in the streets, for the shop windows have heavy shutters before them or are curtained within. The tradesman does not seem to think it worth while to cheat his God or juggle with his conscience by using his windows as a Sunday advertising medium. He closes up shop in earnest. So, with nothing to see in the thoroughfares, you stroll into the parks, and there you see the lower middle-class world, all ages, decked out, a la McGinty, in his best suit of clothes, quite at ease and happy, idle, chatty, laughing, but to the full degree orderly and in no way noisy. You may hear presently the far-resounding boom of "Big Ben" proclaiming from his lofty tower the aging of the day, and you will know that cathedral, abbey and church are receiving their congregations and that soon from thousands of choirs and pulpits will ascend that spiritual essence of physical submission which has made the nineteenth century a little better than any other cycle that ever was. Now, if you chance to stand in one of the busier thoroughfares near a church you will note another London peculiarity. On the lamp posts of the "refuges" in the middle of the street are placards, hung there only Sundays, which bear the command, "Drive slowly." The driver of 'bus or cab or cart or "growler" or carriage pulls sharply up at that notice and keeps his team at a walk until the church is well passed; then he may whip into a trot again and go his lively way to the next warning. Services in a London church are not disturbed by the roar of the careless street.

This street placard, which aims to subordinate worldly necessities to spiritual desires, and which, in a manner, typifies a London Sunday, would not I fear, have much influence upon the independent ardor of Yankee jehus. But here a constable stands before the door of the church, and, though he never lifts a finger nor opens his lips in admonition, his presence is an all-sufficient reminder of laws that are uncompromisingly and surely enforced. What marvelous creatures these London policemen are, to be sure! Quiet, undemonstrative, polite, ready—their voices always modulated to conversational tones; no bluster, no clubs, no knocking down and dragging off.

Yet they give the biggest city in the world the best police service, and prove better than argument may what a really civilized community London is. Even Paris arms her police with a huge dagger, by courtesy called a sword, an instrument of defence and assault that the dapper gendarmes are only too ready to draw and put to use. Sunday does not end with daylight, as it does in some communities that temporize with religion, but rounds out the twenty-four hours. Therefore, there are no Sunday evening amusements. Theatres, music halls, vaudevilles, concert rooms, everything of the sort is scrupulously closed. So very strict are the authorities in these respects that it is only with the greatest difficulty and by the smallest majority of votes that permission is given for the Sunday opening of such rare and temporary public benefits as the loan collection of old paintings at Guildhall. Recently a concession has been made to music, and it is possible now to attend a classical and semi-sacred concert Sunday afternoon and evening, but these are infrequent, there being only two advertised in last Sunday's papers. Whether this Sabbath Day rest be dedicated by sentimental or by sensible considerations, there isn't the slightest doubt that its value to London is so great that, if all religious scruples were removed, the present metropolitan regulations would continue in force, for the public is well aware of the benefit to the individual and to the community of this ordered suspension of "wrangling worldliness." It need not be inferred from this that London is a community of churchgoers. Indeed, my observation leads me to the conclusion that an extraordinary small proportion of this vast population is—to borrow the phrase of an impious wretch—addicted to church. But they make up for the deficiency by a love of nature, for the outdoor life of the English is itself a religion. You would think so, indeed, to see their swimming races in the Serpentine in Hyde Park on Christmas Day. What other people takes an open-air plunge into water every day in the year, often breaking through ice to do it. It is not puritanism alone that bids such a people keep one day in the week for better things than work.

ABYSSINIA.

Facts About the Country in Which the Italians Fell.

The chief exports are gold, ivory, slaves, coffee, butter, honey and wax.

Abyssinia is a very mountainous country. Many of the peaks are always covered with snow.

The literature of Abyssinia amounts to little. What there is deals with religious matters.

The country is so situated that the climate is one of the most salubrious on the face of the globe.

The area of the country is about 200,000 square miles. Its inhabitants number a little over 4,000,000.

Adowa, where the Italians met defeat, is the second city in Abyssinia, having about 7000 inhabitants.

The people are mostly agriculturists. Cotton, cloth, leather, parchment, iron and brass are manufactured.

The majority of the inhabitants of Abyssinia are of the Caucasian race and are well formed and handsome.

The language of the religion and literature of the country is the Geez, which belongs to the Ethiopic class of languages.

According to the Abyssinians the Queen of Sheba was their ruler and from her son Menelek their kings are descended.

The Galla race, which comes from the south, constitutes a large part of the soldiery. They are fierce and turbulent.

The name Abyssinia is derived from the Arabic word Habesch, meaning mixture, and refers to the mixed character of the people.

Abyssinia is one of the most ancient monarchies in the world. Until recently, however, the king was generally afraid of his chiefs.

The prevailing religion of Abyssinia is a very corrupted form of Christianity. It is professed by the majority of the people and by the reigning princes.

Not generally recognized as a kidney disease, it succumbs to kidney treatment.

Did you ever know of a cure? Just think a moment!

If you do it must have been the work of Dodd's Kidney Pills, for no other medicine ever yet cured.

THAT MISSION TO WINNIPEG.

The Papers Connected With the Negotiations on the School Question Laid Before Parliament.

Ottawa, March 26. — (Special) — The correspondence in relation to the pending negotiations at Winnipeg on the school question was submitted to Parliament to-day. An order-in-council of March 17 recites that the telegram from Mr. Greenway to Sir Donald Smith, which was read in the House by Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., and the latter's announcement regarding the proposed conference were sent to Lieut.-Gov. Patterson on March 9. The following report was received on March 16:

Government House,
Winnipeg, 10th March, 1896.

Dear Sir Mackenzie,—I sent Mr. Greenway a copy of your telegram this morning and had an interview with him after the Legislature rose at 6 o'clock this evening. He takes the ground, on behalf of the Provincial Government, that, not being the complainants, it is not for them to volunteer suggestions. He says that the Provincial Government would treat with respect an official invitation to visit Ottawa. By "official" he means an invitation by order-in-council, in which would be set forth clearly the object of the proposed visit, and subject matters intended to be discussed at the suggested conference. At the same time he stated frankly that he did not see what practical results would be attained by the proposed visit. Faithfully yours, (Signed) J. C. PATTERSON.

The order goes on to say that "The Prime Minister recommends in view of the foregoing that the Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba be informed that this Government is prepared to hold a conference with the Government of Manitoba for the purpose of ascertaining whether legislation cannot be obtained from the Legislature of Manitoba during its present session which will deal in a manner satisfactory to the minority in Manitoba with those grievances of the minority which are now before the House of Commons in connection with the Remedial Bill. The Prime Minister further recommends that the Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba be requested to inform his advisers that immediately after the second reading of the Remedial Bill His Excellency's Government proposes to send a deputation to Winnipeg if they are prepared to receive it."

In conformity with the order-in-council a telegram was sent to Lieut.-Gov. Patterson on the same day (March 17) summarizing the views of the Government as laid down in the order-in-council. The next day the Premier received a telegram from the Hon. J. C. Patterson as follows: "Business of Provincial Legislature concluded to-day. Prorogation intended to-morrow, but in view of your telegram of yesterday proposing deputation and conference here local House adjourns until April 16 next."

On March 21 an order-in-council was passed appointing the Hon. A. R. Dickey, the Hon. A. Desjardins and Sir Donald Smith to proceed to Winnipeg to hold a conference with the Government of Manitoba for the purpose of ascertaining whether legislation cannot be obtained from the Legislature of Manitoba during its present session which will deal in a manner satisfactory to the minority in Manitoba with those grievances of the minority which are now before the House of Commons in connection with the Remedial Bill.

The papers conclude with the telegram which the Premier sent to Gov. Patterson last Monday as follows: "The Hon. Messrs. Dickey, Desjardins and Sir Donald Smith leave to-day for Winnipeg. Hope your Ministers will be prepared to receive them. Important no time should be lost."

MAY BEGIN WORK TO-DAY.

The Ottawa Commissioners Meet the Manitoba Representatives.

Winnipeg, March 26.—(Special.)—The Canadian Government Commissioners to negotiate the settlement of the school difficulty with the Manitoba Government spent to-day in consultation with the representatives of the aggrieved minority, and arranging preliminaries for the first meeting with the Manitoba Commissioners, [illegible] at Ottawa on March [illegible] presented to the respective Governments concerned. The mode of procedure will be decided when the commissioners meet to-morrow.

The proposals which the Federal commissioners will submit can only be surmised, but from the nature of the despatches from Ottawa, it would appear that they will be most reasonable.

What the Manitoba commissioners will offer to do is understood to be the complete secularization of the schools, leaving religious instruction entirely at the discretion of the trustees of each district, and the removal of any objectionable text-books from the curriculum.

Premier Greenway has been warned by the P.P.A. that if he goes farther his political career will soon terminate. It is argued that, as the Remedial Bill cannot be passed during the life of the present Parliament at Ottawa, Manitoba would be foolish to go farther, as there is a possibility that the next Parliament would refuse to interfere.

By United Press.

Winnipeg, Man., March 26.—The first session of the conference between the two Governments was held this evening, but only details as to procedure were arranged. There are prospects of serious trouble to-morrow night if the plans of certain Manitoba school enthusiasts are carried out.

Hand-bills, reading as follows, were scattered broadcast throughout the city to-day:

"Hands Off Manitoba!"

"Provincial Autonomy Must Be Maintained!"

"The Remedial Bill Must Be Buried."

"A funeral procession of all opposed to Remedial Legislation will be formed on Friday evening, March 27, headed by a brass band, at the City Hall, and will march up Main street to Portage avenue, thence to Kennedy and to the Government grounds, where the interment of the Remedial Bill will take place.

"God Save the Queen."

LOOKS LIKE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Germans are Entering the Police and Artillery in the Transvaal.

London, March 26.—The Times will to-morrow say that a despatch dated March 23, from a well-informed source in Pretoria, capital of the South African Republic, confirms the reports of a serious political situation there. President Kruger has concluded a new offensive and defensive alliance with the Orange Free State. The Boers of the Free State and of Cape Colony are arming. There has been a large influx of Germans into the police and artillery of the Transvaal. Dr. Leyds, the Secretary of State of the republic, encouraged immediately by Germany, is using a large amount of secret service money. For these reasons the Transvaal considers its position to be a very strong one.

BRITAIN GETS DELAGOA BAY.

The Price Said to Have Been Paid is £5,000,000.

London, March 26.—The Chronicle, in its issue to-morrow, will publish under reserve a report that Great Britain has purchased Delagoa Bay, East Africa, from the Portuguese. The price paid, according to the report, was £5,000,000. The purchase includes the whole country between the South African Republic and the South Indian Ocean, from Amatongal, and to the Limpopo River, as far as the territory of the British South Africa Company.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN A. ORCHARD.

Another of Niagara's Old Landmarks Has Passed to the Great Majority.

Niagara Falls, March 26.—Death removed another of Niagara's old landmarks last night in the person of John A. Orchard, aged 81 years. Mr. Orchard has been ailing for some time past with general debility, and when pneumonia attacked him a few days ago his enfeebled condition was unable to withstand the strain and he succumbed to the disease last evening at 6 o'clock, at his residence in Drummondville. Mr. Orchard was born in Devonshire, England, 81 years ago, and came to Canada in 1835, arriving at Toronto. He remained there one year, then took up his abode in Drummondville, where he has resided ever since.

BOB MANTELL MARRIED AGAIN.

Wedded to Charlotte Behrens, His Leading Lady, at Chicago.

Chicago, March 20.—Robert Mantell, the actor, and Mrs. Charlotte Huhn, were married at noon to-day by Bishop Fallows. Mrs. Huhn, who is known on the stage as Charlotte Behrens, was yesterday granted a divorce from Edward F. Huhn, a theatrical manager. She has been Mr. Mantell's leading lady for several years. Huhn has a suit for $125,000 pending against Mantell for alienating the affections of Mrs. Huhn, and it is not long since Mrs. Mantell secured a divorce from her husband, Mrs. Huhn being named co-respondent. Theatrical people think that to-day's wedding will be the cause of further trouble, because it is said that Huhn has threatened to kill Mantell should the latter marry Mrs. Huhn.

Two Deaths at Brockville.

Brockville, March 26.—Robert McCormack, a well-known grocer, died this afternoon, aged 57, after a brief illness. He was taken ill a week ago, but his case was not considered at all serious until a day or two, when pleurisy set in, followed by pneumonia. Deceased was born at Canetown, but spent most of his life here. He leaves a widow, but no children.

Mrs. Catharine Wallace died last night. She came here from Cardinal a short time ago. Her remains were taken there for interment.

Boy Attempts Suicide.

St. Thomas, March 26.—A young man named Wooley, aged 15 years, who has been employed by A. McPherson, 13th concession, North Yarmouth, for the past six years, tried to end his life by taking a dose of Paris green on Tuesday night. When it was found that he had taken the poisonous powder, Dr. Duncombe was called in and applied the restoratives used in such emergencies. To-day the report is that the boy will probably die.

Didn't Know the Difference.

Two old ladies on their way home from prayer meeting the other evening were speaking of the evils of card playing in general and poker playing in particular. With reference to the last mentioned interesting game, one of the ladies expressed her opinion that it had of late greatly decreased in popularity in Peterborough, it now being much less played than formerly. Her companion, whose nationality by the way is Scotch, did not agree with her, and said: "Indeed, and ye're wrang there, for hae I no seen with my own een the chiels pokin' awa', pokin' awa', mony an' mony a time?" It is perhaps needless to say that the worthy body had seen through an open door, some young men participating in a game of billiards, which she had mistaken for poker.

Thousands of invalids are starving—starving in the midst of plenty and despite the tender care of loved ones. Health is restored, not by what is eaten, but by what is digested. Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites is a food, for it is rich in the nourishing properties of wheat, oats, and barley; a medicine, for it is combined with the best Norwegian oil, which it renders palatable, non-irritating and readily assimilated; and a powerful digestive, for it acts rapidly upon all starchy foods, making them soluble and capable of supplying in abundance the elements of nutrition. FASHIONS FOR MEN.

With the millinery openings in full bloom and every petticoat talking hat and bonnet, one would think that men were not "in it" in any way except that of paying the bills. But the Canadian Journal of Commerce thinks of the lords of creation and gives the following tips as to the coming vogue:—

"Among the principal materials for men's wear this spring and coming summer will be worsteds in greys and blue greys. Worsteds for the Canadian trade are best, because they keep cleaner and stand more roughing. Black worsted twills, according to a local merchant, sell best for the city trade, while satin finish for the country is the leader. Vicunas are having a moderate demand for dress suits, while the worsted mixtures are also receiving some attention. Shepherd checks are the principal checks selling. Heather mixtures and Bannockburns in light shades for bicycle suits, are unusually active as compared with last year. Fawn and drab Venetians for overcoatings have always a place for the smart trade, though mixed worsteds in in browns, fawns and greys are thought to have good chances for the early spring trade. A greater variety of new styles in vestings are shown this season than ever before.

New fashions in men's wear show few radical alterations. A few new styles will give the effect of lightness as against heaviness in designs. Overcoats and undercoats are to be shorter, and shoulders are to be padded. Double breasted sack suits will have their usual run for the early part of the season. Trouserings are to have narrower legs and less spring."—But what we want now is more spring and a good deal more, too.

THE REMEDIAL BILL

Mr. Wallace's Amendment Got No Show.

THE HOUSE GOES INTO COMMITTEE

No Real Majority Behind the Measure When Everything is Considered—Many Very Members Not Going to the People Again—Exclusion of Canadian Cattle.

Ottawa, March 27.—(Special.)—The whole of the afternoon session and a greater part of the evening sitting was taken up in a discussion of a cattle exclusion bill, now before the Imperial Parliament.

Mr. Foster gave a resume of the action of the Government in proving the non-existence of pleuro-pneumonia among Canadian herds, and concluded by moving a resolution setting forth "that the Parliament of Canada, whilst not wishing to interfere in any way with legislation considered necessary in the United Kingdom, desires respectfully to protest against the permanent exclusion of Canadian cattle, on the ground of the existence of pleuro-pneumonia in Canada, and to express in the strongest possible manner its belief that pleuro-pneumonia has not in the past, and does not at the present time, exist in Canada."

Mr. Mulock made a lengthy speech, in which he proved conclusively the Dominion Government was responsible for the scheduling of Canadian cattle. He concluded by moving the following amendment: "That, in view of the repeated official declarations of the British Government of the existence of pleuro-pneumonia amongst Canadian cattle, and the serious consequences to Canadian interests from the passage of the bill now before the British Parliament, which would permanently exclude cattle from Great Britain, this House regrets that the action of the Government of Canada has not been such as to protect the cattle industry of Canada from the serious injury calculated to accrue to it from the passage of such a measure.

Sir Charles Tupper, after recess, continued his reply to Mulock's strictures re cattle embargo. Who were the experts on whose fiat Canadian cattle were scheduled? Prof. Brown was a paid officer of the Board of Agriculture, one of the chief purposes of which is to exclude all foreign cattle as well as Canadian cattle from Britain. Prof. Guid, another of the experts, had declared a cargo of Canadian cattle infected with Texan fever, but on re-examination within 24 hours admitted he was wrong and had to report to his Government that his first report was wrong. The suggestions of the Imperial authorities were such that it was impossible to comply with them, but the Government had done everything possible and had collected and presented an overwhelming mass of evidence which proved that there was no pleuro-pneumonia in Canada. The entire Colonial Office had been satisfied of the health of Canadian herds and Lord Ripon on this question took a stand at variance with his Government associates. The foremost veterinary surgeons of England who examined the alleged diseased lungs said there was no proof of pleuro-pneumonia. The peculiararities of some lungs were unquestionably due to transit pneumonia caused by excesses of cold and heat en route. This was never found in Canada and moreover was not contagious.

The Imperial Government were violating the statute under which they were acting, for it only gave them the scheduling power in case of reasonable evidence of the existence of contagious diseases. If the cattle trade was to be at the mercy of three veterinary experts of the Board of Agriculture perhaps the present condition of affairs was a good thing, for it showed where Canada stood. Finally, it might not prove an excessive evil, for it would lead to the building up of a fatted cattle trade, thus retaining to Canada the profits of the fattening of cattle.

Sir Richard Cartwright held that Sir Charles Tupper, in dealing with the question, had been excessively controversial with the Imperial authorities instead of diplomatic. The motion before the House would do no good, but it would be well for the Government to make an offer as to the inspection of Canadian herds, an examination of the cattle at the port of export and even as to the prohibition of cattle in transit trade if necessary in order to secure the removal of the embargo.

The debate was continued by Messrs. McMillan, McMullin, O'Brien, Featherston and Sutherland. It was closed at 12.30 a.m., when Mr. Mulock's amendment was lost on a division, and Mr. Foster's resolution was then carried on a division.

The adjourned debate on Sir Chas. Tupper's motion to go into committee on the Remedial Bill was resumed by Mr. Wallace, who moved an amendment, seconded by Mr. McNeill, that it was unwise and inexpedient to pass the bill. He trusted the Government would approve of his amendment, although he had some doubts about it. (Laughter.) He proceeded to explain how, in his judgment, there had been undue haste in this matter. This was legislation which affected the future of the country. Parliament, without due consideration, was proposing to enact legislation which was absolute and irrevocable. Moreover, this Parliament was not specially charged to deal with this question. He himself could not claim to represent the views of his constituents on this subject. The other day he had received a petition signed by 50 electors of West York, asking him to vote for the measure. These gentlemen might represent the views of the majority of his constituents, although he doubted it; but it only showed that this Parliament had no mandate from the people on this question, and the better plan, therefore, before passing this legislation was to learn the views of the constituencies regarding it.

Mr. McNeill said there was no moral sanction behind this bill. The vote on the second reading showed clearly that the people did not approve of this measure. Subtract the votes of the members of the Government and of those gentlemen who did not intend to present themselves to the electorate again, and there was no majority behind the bill. It would be well, therefore, for the Government not to press this measure.

Mr. Martin, while free to vote for the amendment, felt he could not subscribe to the declaration in the amendment that the bill was absolute and irrevocable, as far as Parliament and the Legislature was concerned.

The amendment was lost on a division, and the House went into committee on the bill.

On clause 1, Sir Charles Tupper asked if Mr. Laurier had any objections to the clause being carried.

Mr. Laurier demurred to any clause being passed at this hour.

Sir Charles Tupper said, as the agreement reached the other day has been faithfully carried out, he would not press the clause.

The committe rose and reported progress.

Mr. Davies asked if it were true that the 8th Princess Louise (Hussars) had offered for active service in the Soudan. He understood such an offer had been received, and he would like to know if it had been forwarded to the home authorities.

Sir Adolphe Caron said the offer was made on the 19th March. This corps, he was proud to say, was one of the best cavalry regiments in the Dominion, and he commended the patriotic spirit of the corps in offering for service. He could not say definitely whether the fact had been communicated to England, but he presumed so.

The House adjourned at 1 a.m.

IS REED OF MAINE THE MAN?

A Comprehensive Statement as to the Outcome of the Coming Republican Convention at St. Louis.

Washington, March 27.—J. H. Manley sent to W. Murray Crane the following telegram to-day:

"Washington, D.C., March 27.

"Hon. W. Murray Crane, Republican State Convention, Boston, Mass.:

"In answer to your enquiry, this is the situation as it will stand at the end of this week: At the close of your convention to-day there will have been 398 delegates elected. Governor McKinley will have 162 delegates, provided you assign to him the entire delegation from Wisconsin, Indiana and Minnesota; but there should be taken from this number 12 delegates from these States who have declared since their election in favor of Mr. Reed, and, as they were not instructed, they should be taken from the McKinley column and placed in Mr. Reed's. This gives Governor McKinley 150 delegates, Mr. Reed 75, Governor Morton 64, Senator Allison 38, Senator Quay 26, Senator Cullom 10, contested 36.

"You will see that this gives Mr. McKinley 150 delegates against 210 anti-McKinley delegates. The situation is precisely as it was 20 years ago. You will remember that three months before the convention met at Cincinnati we were confident of Mr. Blaine's nomination. He stood then as the apostle of protection, but he had opposed to his nomination Senator Conkling of New York, Senator Morton of Indiana, Secretary Bristow of Kentucky, Governor Hayes of Ohio and Governor Hartranft of Pennsylvania. We felt so sure of Mr. Blaine's nomination that we regarded it as settled, and yet he was defeated in the convention, and thus Maine went down before the Ohio Governor. History will repeat itself at St. Louis. Gov. McKinley is, and will be, the leading candidate in the convention, but he will have opposed to him as candidates Governor Morton of New York, Senator Allison of Iowa, Senator Cullom of Illinois, Senator Quay of Pennsylvania and Mr. Reed of Maine. You will find that the table will be turned, and the Ohio Governor will go down before the man from Maine. (Signed) J. H. Manley."

PEARL BRYAN'S BODY BURIED.

The Head of the Murdered Girl Has Not Yet Been Found.

Green Castle, Ind., March 27.—The remains of Pearl Bryan were removed from the vault to the Bryan lot in Forest Hill Cemetery this afternoon. Brief funeral services were conducted by Dr. H. A. Gobin and Rev. Mr. Hollingsworth at the grave. It was intended that the funeral should be a quiet affair, yet a great many sympathizing friends were present. It was only after long pleading that the aged and broken-hearted father agreed to permit his daughter's body to be buried without the head. "It must be found," was his only reply whenever the subject of burial was mentioned. The body has been lying in the vault for several weeks, and hundreds of people have gone to the cemetery out of curiosity to look upon the stone receptacle which contained it. The remains were not exposed at the funeral.

TEMPEST IN A TEAPOT

Opposition Take Up Time With Puerile Discussion

REGARDING PUBLIC ACCOUNTS.

It Would be Impossible to Detail Every Five Cents Worth of Carrots Purchased for the Provincial Institutions—The Audit in Ontario is a Proper One.

Toronto, March 28.—The Opposition created a tempest in a teapot at the Local Legislature yesterday, taking up nearly six hours in a useless and puerile discussion with reference to the method of keeping the public accounts. It was not charged that the Government had been extravagant, the burden of complaint was that the public documents did not furnish the Opposition with material against the Government.

Mr. Marter wearied the House reading figures relating to the price of eggs, fish, catsup, sauce, hay and other articles, and consumed an hour's time reading from blue-books.

Mr. Matheson, upon motion to go into supply, moved this amendment:

"It is expedient that in the public accounts of this province the details of all expenditures shall be published in as full a manner as shown in the Auditor-General's report of the Dominion of Canada; putting, as far as practicable, all expenditures of the same nature together, and giving prices and quantities in all payments over $5, and in the colonization roads expenditures giving the names, time, and amounts paid to all persons engaged in the works."

Hon. Mr. Ross pointed out that it would be almost impossible to give a detailed statement of the public accounts, dealing, as they did, with millions of dollars. It would take volumes to print every five cents' worth of carrots and butter purchased for the public institutions of the province. He read the act showing that the Auditor was independent of the Government, a sworn officer, whose duty it was to investigte every account before passing it. A great deal had been said about the method at Ottawa, and yet these accounts had failed to be useful when it was discovered great frauds had been perpetrated in connection with the Curran bridge and many other matters.

Messrs. Davis, Whitney, Gibson, Willoughby, McPherson and others followed, after which the amendment was put and lost, the vote being 26 to 46.

The Hon. Mr. Gibson is determined to make those who hunt deer with dogs pay for the privilege. He has asked the House to consider this resolution dealing with the subject: That a fee of $5 be paid for a license to hunt deer with dogs or hounds, and a fee of $2 for a license to hunt deer without dogs or hounds.

These bills were read a third time:

Respecting certain schools moneys of the City of Chatham—Mr. Pardo. Respecting the Canadian Historical Exhibition—Mr. Howland. Respecting certain proceedings under the Seperate Schools Act—Mr. Ross. Relating to the law of life insurance—Mr. Gibson (Hamilton). To consolidate the floating debt of the Town of Trenton—Mr. Biggar. Respecting bake shops—Mr. Dryden.

These bills were read a second time:

To make further provision respecting the solemnization of marriage—The Attorney-General. Respecting Justices of the Peace in the districts of Thunder Bay and Rainy River—The Attorney-General. Respecting Provincial Municipal Auditors—The Attorney-General. Respecting salaries of Police Magistrates — The Attorney-General. To amend the Public Lands Act—Mr. Hardy. To amend the Algonquin National Park Act—Mr. Hardy. To make further provision respecting mines and mining—Mr. Hardy. To amend the Municipal Act—Mr. Hardy. oT provide for the inspection of meat and milk supplies of cities and towns—Mr. Harcourt. To amend the act respecting voters' lists in unorganized territories—Mr. Ross. Respecting matriculation in medicine—Mr. Ross. To amend the Municipal Arbitrations Act—Mr. Hardy.

In the Mail's report was an error which was reproduced in copying, which is thus corrected by the Mail and Empire:—In the annual report of the Confederation Life Association for the year 1893, which was published in these columns on Saturday last, we regret that through a typographical error the expenses for the year were incorrectly stated as $397,073.07, while the actual figures were less than one half of this sum, namely, $196,281.30, and showed a reduction in expenses as compared with the previous year, notwithstanding the increased volume of business on the books of the Association, of several thousand dollars.

Short Sketches of Great Men, No. III.—Plato.

The following sketch is based mainly upon the life of Plato, by Rev. Clifton W. Collins:—

Plato was a younger contemporary, admirer and disciple of Socrates. Upon a surface view of things no two men could have been more dissimilar. In the pretty little edition of "The Republic," published in the Golden Treasury Series, there is a plate of the two philosophers. Socrates was notoriously ugly. Bald head, thick, snub nose and scraggy beard, he presented not a single feature that would indicate the philosopher. Plato on the other hand was a strikingly handsome man, whose whole countenance betokened noble living and lofty thinking. Socrates again loved to converse with all sorts and conditions of men, in the market place, or theatre, or streets of Athens. Plato was more aristocratic in his tastes, and preferred the courts of princes, or the refined retirement of the lecture rooms. Socrates so far as we know never wrote a line, Plato almost a whole library. But beneath these diversities there dwelt in both men an ardent love of truth and virtue, which knit their souls together in an undying friendship. Of Plato's admiration for Socrates it is sufficient to say that it was so great, that never in any of his dialogues does he speak in his own name, but always puts his own thoughts and arguments into the mouth of Socrates.

As in the case of so many of the world's greatest men, we know but little of the life of Plato. Diogenes Laertius, who wrote after the beginning of the Christian era, and other writers, have handed down a considerable amount of detail respecting his life, but it is not very reliable. It is said that Socrates once dreamed that "he saw a cygnet fly towards him, singing most sweetly. The next morning Ariston appeared, leading his son Plato to the philosopher, and Socrates knew that his dream was fulfilled." Plato's education was that of the Athenian gentleman. He was taught to commit to memory, and to recite with the proper modulation, long passages from Homer and other famous poets. Music, with its mysterious laws of harmony, significant to the Greeks of the harmony of the universe, formed part of his training, and to the study of music and poetry were added mathematics and the philosophers.

The times were war-like, and Plato like Socrates played his part in the defence of his beloved Athens. And for a time, until by the intolerance and violence of its leaders, it utterly disgusted him, he had a share in the government of the city. Athens had fallen on evil days. Defeat without, corruption and violence within, entirely unfitted the philosopher cherishing lofty ideals of the common weal, for public duties. Speaking of philosophers and politics in the Republic he says,—"Those who belong to this small class have tasted how sweet and blessed a possession philosophy is, and have also seen and been satisfied of the madness of the multitude, and known that there is no one who ever acts honestly in the administration of states, nor any helper who will save anyone who maintains the cause of the just. Such a saviour would be like a man who has fallen among wild beasts, unable to join in the wickedness of his friends, and would have to throw away his life before he had done any good to himself or others. And he reflects upon all this and holds his peace, and does his own business. He is like one who retires under the shelter of a wall in the storm of dust and sleet which the driving wind hurries along, and when he sees the rest of mankind full of wickedness he is content if only he can live his own life, and be pure from evil or unrighteousness, and depart in peace and good-will and bright hopes."

Plato spent many years in travelling. It is said, but with how much truth is quite uncertain, that after storing his mind with the wisdom of the Egyptians, he went on to Palestine and Phœnicia, reached China disguised as an oil merchant, had the "Unknown God" revealed to him by Jewish Rabbis, and learned the secrets of the stars from Chaldean astronomers. The early Christian fathers of the Alexandrian school, who, themselves philosophers, [illegible] finally believed that his philosophy rested upon the Old Testament. Justin Martyr says that Plato borrowed from Moses the statement that "God having altered matter which was shapeless made the world." Clement of Alexandria, declares that the Greek preparatory culture, with philosophy itself, is shown to have come down from God to men. He says: "The truth-loving Plato, as if divinely inspired," etc. "Whence, O Plato," cries Clement, "is that hint of the truth which thou givest? Whence this rich copiousness of diction which proclaims piety with oracular utterance? I know thy teachers even if thou wouldst conceal them. You have learned geometry from the Egyptians, astronomy from the Babylonians; the charms of healing you have got from the Thracians; the Assyrians also have taught you many things; but for the laws consistent with truth and your sentiments respecting God you are indebted to the Hebrews.

Plato made one or two attempts to reduce to practice, his ideals of a perfect state. About the year 387 A. D. he visited Sicily where he became intimate with Dion, the brother-in-law of Dionysius, tyrant of Syracuse. The conversation of Plato filled the youthful Dion with enthusiasm. "There dawned upon him the conception of another Syracuse,—freed from slavery and from the oppressive presence of foreign guards,—self-governed and with contented and industrious citizens." Plato was therefore introduced to Dionysius, and discoursed to him upon the happiness of the virtuous, and the inevitable misery of the wicked, until the despot gnashed his teeth with rage and ordered Plato to be taken away and sold for a slave. He escaped however and returned to Athens, where he commenced to lecture on the Supreme Good. Twenty years later he made a new, and in some respects more successful attempt to reform the government of Syracuse, now ruled by another Dionysius. Upon its failure, and as Plato was embarking to return to Athens, Dionysius said to him "When thou art in the Academy with thy philosophers, thou wilt speak ill of me." "God forbid" was Plato's answer, "that we should have so much time to waste in the Academy as to speak of Dionysius at all."

The concluding years of Plato's life were spent in lecturing and in the composition of his immortal dialogues. He is said to have died as he sat at his desk, pen in hand, in the eighty-first year of his age.

HE KNEW HOW TO ADVERTISE.

Old Noah sat upon the deck,
And watched the beasts come on,
From six o'clock a.m., until
The day was nearly done.

And he'd been keeping tab a week,
As new ones came each day,
By two and two from everywhere,
Which Noah stowed away.

He knew he soon would have a load,
Just as he had it planned,
And that he'd get away on time
And be the first to land.

Then Noah smiled in pleased content,
And feeling downright glad,
He took the Mesopotamia Times,
And read his cute "want ad."

"Wanted—At once, a pair of beasts
Of every living kind,
In good condition, and I want
The best that I can find.

"I pay the highest price in cash,
For stock without a mark
Or blemish, when delivered. Please
Apply at Noah's ark."

Old Noah laid the paper down,
And smiling said, "Bedad,
I never would have got a load
Without that little ad."

GOOD LOOKING and HEALTHY WOMEN.

Paine's Celery Compound Brings These Desirable Blessings.

The Right Medicine in Spring For Systems Weighted With the Seeds of Disease.

MRS. WM. WIGGLESWORTH.

Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., who gave the world his grand and wonderful health-giving prescription, Paine's Celery Compound, intended that it should specially bless and benefit all weak, frail, nervous, bloodless and broken-down women.

Just at this season, thousands of wives, mothers and daughters are anxiously seeking for new life and strength. As spring time approaches, we note the weak and unsteady step, emaciated bodies, sallow cheeks, and sunken eyes with dark circles.

To put the whole mechanism of the great human machine in perfect condition, so that health and strength may be enjoyed, Paine's Celery Compound is the only spring medicine on earth that can give the desired blessings. It has never failed in the past, and will effectually meet your case now. Mrs. Wm. Wigglesworth, of Liverpool, N.S., says:—

"For fifteen years I suffered from nervous diseases and other serious troubles. A lady friend recommended me to use Paine's Celery Compound, and I have since received great benefit. Paine's Celery Compound has done what no other medicine could do for me. I can sleep well now, and my appetite is splendid. I advise all who are sufferers from nervousness and other diseases to use it. Seven bottles restored my health wonderfully."

AT THE CONFERENCE

All Canadian Eyes on Winnipeg Just Now.

SPARRING TO GET A FAIR START.

A Question as to Which Side Should Make the First Proposal—Each Party Agrees to Prepare a Draft of What They Think is a Compromise.

Winnipeg, March 27.—(Special)—The Federal and Provincial Commissioners had a two hours' conference to-day, and made some progress in their negotiations for a compromise of the Manitoba school difficulty. It was determined to exclude stenographers and keep no record of the proceedings except the final report. It is understood that most of the time of the conference was taken up in a good-natured controversy over which side should make the initiatory proposals, during which all present evinced a desire to be frank and conciliatory. Before the adjournment was made at noon it was suggested that each side should submit a rough draft of their proposals when they met again at 5 o'clock.

It appears this was done, for a second conference lasted only ten minutes, the surmise being that the Manitoba representatives desired to consult with their colleagues on the proposals made by the Federal Commissioners, while the latter will probably intimate to the representatives of the minority the nature of the concessions which Manitoba is willing to grant.

The text of these proposals it is impossible to learn, but there is an impression they are not so divergent as was expected. When the commissioners meet to-morrow, therefore, they may find their task much easier than anticipated.

The "No surrender" element of the community got up a demonstration this evening with the evident purpose of intimidating the Manitoba representatives, but it was a lamentable fizzle.

Cipher Despatches From Winnipeg.

Ottawa, March 27.—(Special.)—Important despatches in cipher were received by the Government from Winnipeg to-day. Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., was asked by your correspondent to-night whether he was in position to say what progress had been made in the school negotiations. The Secretary of State replied that the position of affairs was such that no announcement could be made. From other, but reliable, sources, it was learned that the Federal commissioners submitted a proposition to Manitoba to-day, which that Government has under consideration. A confidential friend of the Premier's said to-night that to-day's advices were most encouraging.

The Personnel of the Commission.

Hon. J. D. Cameron, Provincial Secretary in the Greenway Government, and one of the commissioners in the conference over the school bill at Winnipeg, is well known in Toronto, where he lived from 1875 to 1884, when he passed through the University, and studied law with the Moss firm. He was the last Prince's Prizeman in the University, when it was given for honors in the graduating class. He came here from Woodstock, where his father was a county official. Hon. Mr. Dickey, Minister of Justice, who is also in the conference, went through the University here a few years before Mr. Cameron. The three representatives of the Manitoba Government are all Ontario men, Mr. Greenway having lived in Huron county and Mr. Sifton in Middlesex. The latter was educated at Victoria.

PROPPED UP BY PILLOWS FOR EIGHTEEN MONTHS.

A Terrible Experience with Heart Disease, yet Cured by Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart.

Do not not our largest sympathies well out to those who suffer from heart disease? Its comes so suddenly, and its symptoms are usually so distressing that the direct agony is experienced by the patient. The case of Mr. L. W. Law of Toronto Junction, Ont., who was unable to lie down in bed for eighteen months owing to smothering spells and palpitation, is by no means exceptional. Who would have thought that the case could have been cured, and yet one bottle of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart removed trouble in this case. It gives such speedy relief that even where the symptoms are less dangerous it ought at once to be taken as a means of driving the terrible disease from the system.

MORE GRAND TRUNK CHANGES.

Mr. W. E. Davis Becomes Ticket Agent of the Entire System—Mr. Robert Quinn Replaces Mr. John Earls

Montreal, March 27.—(Special)—After the 1st of April all lines of the Grand Trunk west of the St. Clair and Detroit rivers will, like the rest, be directed from Montreal.

W. E. Davis, who has been at the Chicago end for years past will come to Montreal as ticket agent of the consolidated system.

Mr. E. H. Hughes, formerly Great Western passenger agent, will be assistant general passenger and ticket agent.

Mr. David Brown will be first assistant general freight agent with headquarters at Chicago, and will have charge of the lines in Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

Mr. Arthur White will remain in Toronto as division freight agent, while Mr. John Earls of Hamilton has been superannuated and replaced by Mr. Robert Quinn, heretofore European freight agent of the company.

SPAIN IS WITHOUT SYMPATHY.

The European Governments Desire That Cuba be Given Self Government.

Madrid, March 25, via Bayonne, France, March 27.—It has leaked out in diplomatic circles here that the Spanish Foreign Office has been informed by its Ambassadors in the principal European courts that Spain is not likely to receive more than purely platonic sympathy even from the French Government in a conflict with the United States. The Spanish representatives in all the European courts have discovered that it is absolutely absurd to hope that any European Government would act in concert to support Spain even by friendly mediation or moral influence. They have also discovered that both the foreign Governments and the whole European public wonder why Spain does not immediately give Cuba and Porto Rico colonial autonomy and self-government, such as England has given to Canada, in order to disarm the secessionists in Cuba and to conciliate American sympathies.

Attractive Women.

Why is one women attractive and another not? The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks and her vivacity. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Some are born with what is called "constitutional weakness." Those who do not enjoy perfect health, need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism.

TO RESCUE THE SOUDAN.

The Objects of Great Britain's Latest Expedition Now Explained.

London, March 27.—The Times' correspondent at Cairo telegraphs that the Sultan of Turkey lately demanded that the Egyptian Government explain the objects of the Soudan expedition. In reply the Government stated that Egypt in accord with Great Britain intended to recover the territory lost by the revolt in the Soudan. The Sultan has thus forced Egypt's hand by eliciting the admission that the ultimate object of the expedition is to rescue the Soudan from the Mahdists.

DID SHE POISON LANGDON?

A New Theory that Miss Annie McGrath Tried to Kill Her Admirer and Then Committed Suicide.

Philadelphia, March 27.—Another theory that has arisen in the attempt to solve the mystery of Annie McGrath's death is that the girl, being engaged to be married, attempted to sever her relations with Samuel P. Langdon; that the latter threatened to reveal their intimacy if she did so, and that she, fearing such a disclosure, attempted to kill him and then committed suicide. This supposition is borne out by the statements made by Miss Addie Griffiths, a friend of Annie, who was with her the day before her death. She then told Miss Griffiths that Langdon was to meet her that night (Saturday), adding, "I'm not going to have anything more to do with him. I'll tell him when I see him to-night that I won't keep his company any more."

On the same occasion Annie complained of a toothache, and, with Miss Griffiths, went to a Chestnut street drug store, and asked for some chloroform. It was not sold to her, and she said she could get it from a dental student whom she knew.

The statement of Bertha Stewart, the servant employed in the Girard avenue house, confirms the theory that a quarrel took place between the couple on the day the girl died.

A diary has been found in Langdon's possession, and it is said to contain, under date of Monday last, the entry, "Annie died at 10.14."

Mrs. Langdon arrived here to-day from Pittsburg and went to the office of Assistant District Attorney Barlow, with whom she held a short conference.

NATIONAL LIBERAL FEDERATION.

Continued Confidence Expressed in Lord Rosebery - Sympathy With the Suffering Armenians - The Soudan Affair.

London, March 27.—At to-day's session of the conference of the National Liberal Federation at Huddersfield, Robt. J. Price, M.P., moved a resolution designed to settle the question of the leadership of the Liberal party. The resolution, which was seconded by Herbert Samuel, secretary of the Home Counties Division of the National Liberal Federation, supported by Herbert J. Gladstone, M.P., and unanimously adopted, was as follows:

"That this council reaffirms its adherence to the principles for which the federation has always contended, records its continued confidence in Lord Rosebery and his colleagues, and pledges itself not to rest until, by education in Liberal principles, and by the organization of Liberal forces in the constituencies, the triumph of the party is again assured."

Only 40 Liberal members of the House of Commons were present. Lord Rosebery was the only member of the late Liberal Cabinet in attendance.

The meeting approved of a set of resolutions re-electing Dr. Robert Spence Watson, president, and Mr. Ald. W. H. Hart of Birmingham treasurer for the ensuing year, amending certain rules of the federation, and expressing sympathy with the suffering and persecuted Armenians, declaring that the council of federation will not hold the Government guiltless unless everything possible is attempted to bring about a cessation of the terrible misrule in the Armenian provinces.

In addition to these, the council unanimously passed a resolution, after numerous speeches, denouncing the expedition into the Soudan. The meeting was then closed.

Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites—A Food Medicine and Digestive.

Thousands of invalids are starving—starving in the midst of plenty and despite the tender care of loved ones. Health is restored, not by what is eaten, but by what is digested. Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites is a food, for it is rich in the nourishing properties of wheat, oats, and barley; a medicine, for it is combined with the best Norwegian oil, which it renders palatable, non-irritating and readily assimilated; and a powerful digestive, for it acts rapidly upon all starchy foods, making them soluble and capable of supplying in abundance the elements of nutrition. One bottle is of greater remedial value than ten bottles of any emulsion. Try it.

YOUNG LADY HOCKEYISTS.

The Wees and Yous Try Conclusions on the Ice.

A large number of ladies gathered at the rink yesterday afternoon to witness a hockey match between the Yous and the Wees. It was exciting beyond measure and the fun was fast and furious for an hour.

The sides were composed as follows:

Yous.		Wees
Miss L Collins	goal	Miss Warner
Miss E Rackham	point	Miss M Rackham
Miss E Moore	cover point	Miss A Meade
Miss L Pearce	forwards	Miss M Sherwood
Miss A Hall	forwards	Miss L Hall
Miss H Boucher	forwards	Miss G Meade

The Yous were slightly the stronger of the two yesterday and won by a narrow margin. Miss Helen Boucher and Miss A. Hall worked a combination which it was hard to check. For the "Wees" Miss Gwendolyn Meade played a splendid game.

Mr. Court Poussette refereed the game in a most satisfactory manner, and called a halt every time that a fair form came down on the ice, which it might be remarked was not very often.

The Wees have protested the game on the ground that the Yous used both Miss Collins and Miss E. Rackham at one and the same time as goalkeepers.

Mr. Lionel King's many friends will be glad to know that he has fully recovered from the effects of the accident with which he met in the Granite hockey match in Toronto, though his wrist is a trifle stiff yet.

Miss Ada Harte, who so delighted those present at the concert last evening by her brilliant performance on the piano, was the guest of Mrs. McAllister whilst in town. Miss Harte and Mrs. McAllister attended school together.

LIVING TESTIMONIES.

The Policy-Holders of the North American Life Assurance Co. do not Have to Die to Win Big Profits.

Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons, Toronto, Feb. 12th, 1896.

W. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR,—Of the three options at my disposal in regard to my matured 15-Year Endowment Investment Policy for $2,500, viz.:

(1) Cash	$3,798 88
(2) Paid-up Life Insurance	9,295 00
(3) Life Annuity	250 50

I have decided to take the first, and hand you my discharge in exchange for your cheque. In terminating the contract which has given me reliable life insurance for 15 years for $2,500, and in addition returns me all my payments, with compound interest added at a rate, within a very small fraction of 5 per cent., I can only remark that my expectations have been more than realized, and that the whole transaction from beginning to end has been of the most satisfactory character.

I understand, that not only was the NORTH AMERICAN the pioneer Canadian Life Company to introduce Investment Insurance, but that it is the pioneer in being able to make such handsome returns under such form of Insurance.

Yours truly,
R. A. PYNE.

TORONTO, February 18th, 1896.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director North American Assurance Co., Toronto.

DEAR SIR,—After having been insured in your Company for 15 years, on a whole life Policy for $3,000, I am now, at the end of the Investment Period, in possession of your letter offering me the following options:

1. To surrender the Policy and withdraw the entire cash value	$1,719 60
2. To take a paid up policy for	2,870 00
3. To withdraw the surplus in cash and continue the Policy in force by payment of premiums as before.	360 25
4. To continue the Policy in the same way, the 15th premium being paid out of the surplus, and the balance of surplus used to purchase an annuity for life of	77 45

Having carefully viewed the situation, I have decided on accepting option No. 3, and must say that in receiving back, as profits, nearly 63 per cent. of all the premiums paid, after having had the protection for 15 years, and the Policy still being continued in force, it is a result which is very gratifying; and I have much pleasure commending your Company to the patronage of all intending insurers.

LAST NIGHT'S CHARMING CONCERT.

A Fair-Sized Audience—An Excellent Programme Well Presented.

The concert given last night in the Opera House by Miss Beverley Robinson and her concert company was not very largely attended. No doubt the asceticism engendered by the Lenten season prevented the attendance of many who, under other circumstances, would have been present. Consequently the audience was composed of those especially devoted to music.

The programme was well selected, being largely of a popular character, with a few exceptions, which were of classical calibre. The programme opened with an instrumental duo, from Greig's Sonata in F., performed in good style by Miss Ada Hart and Miss Evelyn De Latre Street, pianiste and violiniste, respectively. Mr. Walter H. Robinson, the tenor, sang Benedict's "Lily Mavourneen" and a double number—a serenade, and Lohr's "My Love is Like a Red Red Rose." Mr. Robinson is a pleasing tenor and sang his numbers with excellent effect and was rewarded with an encore. He also showed to fine advantage in the two duets he sang with Miss Beverley Robinson; the first, "Oh that we two were Maying," provoked a recall which was responded to with a deliciously sweet rendering of "Believe me of all those Endearing Young Charms." The pianoforte portion of the programme received ample artistic justice at Miss Hart's hands. She showed her partiality for Chopin and Liszt in her selections. Her opening number, a Chopin nocturne, was delightfully presented, and Liszt's Rhapsodie Hongroise gave evidence of her remarkable technique, her runs rippling with irreproachable smoothness and regularity. She has a fine, strong, crisp touch, as well as a most dainty and delicate one, as occasion requires. Her tone is ample and she infuses her work with great sympathy. Miss Hart is certainly a most accomplished pianoforte artist. She was recalled and responded. Miss Beverley Robinson, the soprano of the company—technically called a soprano, though her voice at times encroaches delightfully on the contralto register—sang as her first number a cantilena by Gounod, in which the executive qualities and range of her voice were well developed. She was rapturously recalled and bombarded with bouquets, but perhaps her most pleasing songs were her double number, an Irish song—"The Dear Little Shamrock" and a Scotch song, "Within a Mile of Edinboro' Toon." These were given with exquisite pathos and playfulness as they respectively demanded and another recall was the pleasing penalty of her success. Miss Robinson sings beautifully and perhaps the best praise to accord her is to say that she is a satisfying singer. Miss Evelyn de Latre Street, the violiniste of the company, won a distinct success last night. Her performance, though not robust, is delightfully airy and dainty. She affected largely sordino selections contrasted with more sprightly pieces in her two double numbers. Her first was a sweetly crooning Irish Lullaby and a Mazurka by Zarzycki. She was very heartily recalled and responded. Her second, a cradle song, by Godard and Bazzini's Calabrese, were very nicely performed, especially the second movement; the latter of which brought out her best artistic work during the evening. She was most warmly recalled and responded with Raff's Cavatina, which was given with excellent finish and feeling. Miss Street possesses a facile technique and large musical intelligence, and an absence of consciousness which makes her a very graceful and successful violiniste. Miss Stret, sister of the violiniste, supplied satisfactory accompaniments during the evening. Altogether the concert was a most pleasing success, all the more satisfactory from the fact, that all the performers were native Canadians.

The position of the parties in a social sense adds to the interest. All the ladies of the company were privately entertained during their stay in town. Miss Robinson was the guest of Mrs. J. F. Dennistoun, Miss Hart of Mrs. McAllister, Downie street and the Misses Street of Mr. E. B. Edwards.

ASHBURNHAM BRIEFS.

A Budget of News From the Suburbs.

Maniece Bros. have opened out a new grocery store in the market block. It is one of the most attractive shops in the village.

All the stores are now occupied under the town hall.

Mr. J. Weir, grocer, is going to erect a new brick dwelling on the lot, corner of Sophia and Lake streets. He will pull down the old corner house. T. Begley has has the contract for the stone and brick work.

Mr. J. Butcher is having another story added to the house formerly occupied by the late Mr. Ingram. The work will soon be completed.

A number were skating on the open air rink last evening. The soft weather and frosty nights having made fairly good ice.

The Little Lake is completely flooded and there has been some skating the last two or three days.

The village is assuming a very busy appearance, especially around the Milling Co.'s premises. Almost any time of the day numbers of farmers are to be seen leaving their grain.

Street Inspector Craig had a force of men digging drains in view of a flood, as no doubt the creek will be a miniture river inside of a week.

Some of the foremen of the lumber camps are down and are boarding at Lipsett's Hotel.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. Wall Paper Hints.

The advice which is usually given on How to Paper a House is quite as sensible as the Guide to Manners, Rules of Dress and similar treatises which are more potential than logical. Nevertheless, the following hints will be as well to remember, bearing always in mind the character of the occupant:

Bedrooms should be papered in medium tones of colour, neither light enough to make a glare in summer nor dark enough to absorb the pale gleams of winter.

For a summer room let us take a hint from the cool, old fashioned parlour, whose closed blinds and dark walls were a refuge for the eye and mind.

A decided pattern in the paper is sometimes necessary to increase the size of a room. Fine vertical lines do this, whereas any large detached patterns have the opposite effect.

Blue walls, or those with blue lights in the colour, make a room seem large. This colour must be skillfully used, however. The shades of blue that wear the best on the nerves and senses are toned with gray, yellow or pink.

Grayish tones of red and pink are cool and restful, but beware of orange, save in a little dark den of a winter house.

There is nothing in Wall Paper Decorations which we cannot supply to harmonize with your personal tastes, your furniture or other surroundings.

Prices start at 4c a ROLL, for New Spring Styles.

The Ladies Will Judge

For themselves as to where they saw the best values displayed, and we are willing to abide by their judgment, as we never doubt their ability to judge values.

The Ladies have never had such an opportunity of testing the values offered by Credit Stores and those offered by our Spot Cash System of doing business, and we know whereof we speak when we say that the impressions made upon the public minds at our Opening Days resulted in more orders for Millinery, more sales for Capes, Dress Goods, Underwear and Carpets than at any previous display made by us.

The large increase in our growing cash business last year encouraged us to further cut down the profits and make the same gain by an increase in sales, and we are delighted that at our Opening Display of quality and prices, our plans have been so favourably met by.

PUBLIC APPROVAL.

The Millinery has two prominent features. The LATEST STYLES and the LOWEST PRICES.

The Capes and Jackets

Are styles exclusively our own, no house but ours being in a position to show you the latest productions of Parisian and German makers.

The Dress Goods and Silks

Surpass any display ever seen in this town. The qualities and values defy competition. The volume of stock in this department smiles at the misleading statements of smaller concerns. We let the public judge.

The Carpets and Curtain

Display cannot be surpassed in any city house in Canada. We carry goods to suit poor and rich alike.

You should see our All wool Carpet at 50c.

You should see our Brussels at $1. Marvels of cheapness.

See the Windows.

Look at the $10 dinner sets at China Hall if you want the bargain of your lifetime. A few of them are displayed in the Simcoe street show windows and it is worth your while looking at them. Inside we have new goods arriving daily now. A pretty lot of brass goods passed the customs to-day. Visit the store often. We like people to look through and admire or criticise.

He is a Bad One.

The Police Department received word this morning that Joseph Beaudry, who was committed to the Central by Magistrate Dumble, on the charge of burglarizing St. Peter's cathedral and the priests' residence, is the same man who was committed from the Capital to serve a sentence of seven years in the Penitentiary on five different charges of burglary. As he was committed in 1889, Beaudry evidently lost no time in again getting into trouble.

The Tailors' Dispute.

In the dispute between the merchant tailors and the locked-out men in Toronto the former are showing no signs of yielding. Yesterday afternoon the merchant tailors who are affected by the lock-out met and unanimously decided not to recognise the union in any way and not to employ union hands under any circumstances. The lock-out has now been on for nearly three months, and there are yet no evidences of any settlement. Mr. D. W. Dumble is one of the arbitrators engaged on the case.

Dread Kidney Disease Quickly Removed.

To even bunch the many words of praise written of South American Kidney Cure would consume large newspaper space. But take at random a few: Adam Soper, Burk's Falls, Ont, "One bottle of South American Kidney Cure convinced me of its great worth." Michael McMullen, Chesley, Ont., "I procured one bottle of South American Kidney Cure, and taking it according to directions got immediate relief." D. J. Locke, Sherbrooke, Ont., "I spent over $100 for treatment, but never received marked relief until I began the use of South American Kidney Cure." Rev. James Murdock, St. John, N. B., "I have received one hundred dollars worth of good from one bottle of South American Kidney Cure."

Robert Hall's Dress-making Department.

Business has begun bright and active in Robert Hall's dress and mantle making department under the new management. Many busy fingers are now engaged on spring orders and the prospects for an exceptionally busy season looks good. This branch of Mr. Hall's business is under the supervision of a thoroughly practical young lady from Toronto, who has enjoyed a superior city experience, and who is highly recommended for turning out dresses costumes with the newest effects of the newest styles of the day. The facilities for turning out first-class work are unexcelled, and at the same time the unusually moderate charges adopted will be found to be one of the most pleasing surprises to the lady patrons of this store. dw.

MILLINERY OPENINGS.

Mr. Robert Fair's Beautiful Show Rooms Opened for the Season.

An opening in which the ladies took particular delight was that of Mr. Robert Fair, as his millinery show rooms were characterised by a distinctly "city" tone, which was very apparent and was fully appreciated by the patronesses of the Golden Lion.

With his accustomed energy Mr. Fair made preparation to have his opening compare favourably with those of the city, and by securing Miss Feabuy as head trimmer to assist Miss Armstrong, success crowned his efforts The laces used in the millinery were imported direct from a Belgium house in London, and consequently the styles are of the prettiest and possess the additional attraction of being the only ones of the kind procurable in Peterborough.

Amongst the 1896 styles shown, is a Spanish turban of rustic straw, trimmed with lace, prettily caught up with rhinestone ornaments. A beautiful osprey, nine inches in height, adorns the front and rises from a cluster of pink roses and bows of Dresden ribbon with printed warp effect. The turban is further ornamented with fans of Brussels lace and makes a most handsome piece of headgear. Something new in bonnets is the Marie Therese—a jet bonnet with bows of black ribbon and large black osprey in front and roses of pink velvet. The back in ornamented with large bows of black illusion with Chenille edge, caught up with pretty rhinestone ornaments. From these the ties of black tulle descend.

"The Gipsy" hat is one which attracts a great deal of attention. It is a large light leghorn with the side caught up by a bunch of crimson poppies. It has a fancy crown of cream lace with bando of black velvet, studded with stars of brilliants. A white osprey ornaments the front and rises from a cluster of crimson poppies and lace fans. The "Gipsy" has ties of black velvet.

The "Gaiety" bonnet is a toque trimmed with long loops of fashionable Dresden ribbon. Flowers and feathers fall from behind. The crown is of fancy Milan straw and is trimmed with pink and black roses on the sides.

Amongst the New York hats is the "Madison," a black leghorn with black wings on both sides and jet and cut steel bows in front. It is ornamented with tulle rosettes and a black ostrich tip droops from behind, where the hat is caught up with black and yellow roses.

In passing out from the millinery show rooms the eyes of many of the ladies were caught by the varied display of blouse waists of fancy wash fabrics. Organdie muslins and Swiss spots. In Swiss spots the Golden Lion has the reputation of underselling the Toronto stores by 20 per cent., and carrying fully as varied an assortment.

The Golden Lion is in a better position to-day to cater to the carpet trade than ever before. The sales in this department have increased beyond expectation. Holding aloof from all syndicates and combinations, Mr. Fair courts the keenest competition, and the confidence of the public in his carpets is unlimited. The improved accommodation and convenience of floor space, the excellent lighting for displaying the modern patterns, the wealth of assortment of every grade of weave—these are the most striking features of this mammoth establishment. Comparison is invited. The new designs of 1896 just imported from Europe are the cream of the latest patterns brought out by the leading designers. The stock bears the imprint of honest quality, combined with style, and cannot fail to please.

SOMETHING GOOD FOR PETERBOROUGH.

EVERY new manufacturing establishment, every new enterprise centred in Peterborough, means a proportional addition to the town's financial importance and progress. We have a Manufacturer Committee of the Town Council and a Board of Trade, whose chief functions are to advance the material interests of the town. Unfortunately, in these days of active competition for manufacturing concerns, there are conditions, in the way of bonuses, exemptions or site privileges, that involve an amount of expense to the town that represents a sometimes formidable offset to the benefit derived. The EXAMINER ventures to throw out a suggestion whose adoption will involve no expense to the town, one from which all the advantages derived will be net gain, and one which is not only of local and national importance but even of imperial importance.

In a word, it is suggested that the British war office establish a military depot in Peterborough for all sorts of military supplies required in the central section of the Dominion, such as coal supplies, ammunition, arms, stores, etc.

From its geographical position Peterborough is most favourably placed as the site of such a depot. This town is well-removed from the frontier, and, in this respect and for the purposes of the proposition in question, enjoys a position of "splendid isolation." In the event of war breaking out—and this is written in no Jingo spirit; the tense condition of international sentiment and of international complications, makes a tremendous war, at any time almost, a matter of easy possibility—in the event of a war breaking out, in which Canada would, if it were with our nearest neighbours, be the battle field, such a depot as that suggested would find Peterborough an eminently fitting place, superior to all others in Central Canada. The frontier towns, Brockville, Kingston, Belleville, Cobourg, Toronto, and Hamilton, are too much exposed to hostile attack. If Toronto, for instance, had, about eighty years ago, been situated where Peterborough now is, the history of the war of 1812 14, in respect of that city, would have been differently written. A military depot at any of these places would be open to attack from the water, and subject to surprises that would result in the seizure and destruction of military stores, if placed there, and then an armed force depending upon such a base of supplies, would find itself at grevious disadvantage. An army without supplies is largely like a body without a soul. But with such a depot at Peterborough, the enemy would not only have to reach the frontier but would have to fight its way north, over unfavourable country for thirty miles with the probability of failing in the object of its expedition.

In addition to the comparative safety of military stores in Peterborough, there is the added point of facility of distribution. Suppose that the water front of the province were invested by an enemy at certain points; by virtue of Peterborough's splendid railway connection, almost any point could be reached. If the main line of the Grand Trunk were in the possession of an enemy at any point west of Kingston, the C. P. R. could be used to move troops or munitions eastward. If troops or supplies were needed, say at Toronto, we have even better facilities for moving—no less than four distinct railway parallels—the Grand Trunk main line, the Canadian Pacific, the Midland, via Lindsay, and, if need be, the Midland, via Orillia to the Northern and thence to Toronto. If, for military purposes it were required to communicate with Toronto and the west—if we were shut out by way of the Grand Trunk main line, the C. P. R. is open to us; if both of these were closed by the enemy, we have the Midland via Lindsay; if this were similarly closed, west of Blackwater, we have the longer route—but still a safe route—by way of Orillia and the Northern to Toronto, which way of reaching that city was actually used by the Grand Trunk Railway during the recent snow blockade of the main and Midland lines. Then through the northern branch of the Midland and the C. P. R. and Grand Trunk connections, Peterborough is in direct railway communication with the towns on Georgian Bay and Lake Huron,—Waubaushene, Victoria Harbour, Midland, Collingwood, Owen Sound, Southampton and Kincardine, and by way of the Grand Trunk, from Atherly Junction, connection is made in the far north with the main line of the C. P. R. at Nipissing Junction. It is not necessary to enlarge upon these features which the interested reader can study for himself with additional discoveries of the excellence of our railway communication for the purposes under consideration.

The suggestion of Peterborough as a military depot is no idle figment of a layman's brain; a high Canadian military authority whose name we are not permitted to use, asserts that Peterborough is in all respects the best situated town in central Canada for a military depot. A brief article like this cannot include all the advantages inherent in such a situation; but, so far as Peterborough is concerned it will involve the erection of proper buildings, and of a substantial character, too, as well as the giving of employment in the way of moving military freight—boxes and packages marked with the "broad arrow." Besides a military depot here will imply the presence of a detachment of the regular army, and of course the erection and maintenance of barracks and all the profit arising from a demand for daily supplies for such a force. In addition, the military prestige given Peterborough will attract the attention of capitalists and make our good town known to every portion of the Empire.

While speaking of a garrison force, in view of the prominence into which recent events have brought Canada, and in view of the special attention the gallant 100th Canadian Regiment is receiving, it would be a most fitting thing that a battalion or the whole regiment should constitute such a force.

In the interests of the town primarily, and of the Dominion and Empire next, we submit the above suggestions, leaving it to those, qualified and indicated by their positions, to move in the matter and bring it to the attention of the Imperial authorities. In his speech at the annual dinner of the Canadian club in London, Hon. Joe Chamberlain declared that the "greatest of the common obligations of the colonies was that of imperial defence." Canada has shown that she will accept that duty cheerfully, and Peterborough is ready to do her share by furnishing the best site in Central Canada for a military depot, and in addition, if need should arise, hundreds of her stalwart sons to co-operate with the forces of the Motherland in protecting the interests and maintaining the integrity of the Empire.

THE LAND OF EVANGELINE.

ONE OF THE MOST ROMANTIC SPOTS IN CANADA.

But it is no More Free From the ills to Which Flesh is Heir Than Less Favoured Localities—An Account of a Strange Malady From Which a Gaspereaux Farmer Suffered.

From the Acadian, Wolfville, N. S.

Perhaps there is no more beautiful or picturesque spot in Nova Scotia than the valley of Gaspereaux, in the "Land of Evangeline." Winding its way through the centre of the valley is a beautiful little river, while nestled at the foot of the mountains which rise on either side to the heighth of hundreds of feet, is the romantic looking little village of Gaspereaux. About two and a half miles from the village resides Mr. Fred J. Fielding, one of the most thrifty farmers in this section of the country. Your correspondent called upon him and found a very genial, intelligent and apparently a very healthy looking man. In reply to our question, Mr. Fielding said, "Yes, I was near to death's door at one time, but thank God I am a new man today. You see, he went on, that pump in the kitchen, beneath is a well about 20 feet deep, which was the cause, I think of all my illness. I went down last fall (1894) in it to clean it out and was only a short time at the bottom, when I took with a severe pain at the back of my head and a burning sensation in my throat and lungs, such as caused by the inhalation of brimstone. A sort of stupor also was gradually coming over me when by a huge effort I succeded in regaining the kitchen once more. A lighted lamp let down became extinguished, thus showing that the accumulation of gas had caused the trouble. The pain at the back of my head continued to trouble me and one day while working in a back field I suddenly lost the use of my left eye, right arm and left leg. At times I could not speak but towards evening I began slowly to grow better. The next day at about the same time I was seized again in the same manner. I now called in our family physician, who told me that a blood vessel had burst in the back of my head. He left me medicine. The pain in the back of my head never left me and I continued to feel miserable. About two months after this second attack while sitting in the post office of the village I was suddenly seized again and getting out my horses and wagon started for home. I had not gone far when the lines dropped out of my right hand and I again found myself blind in my left eye and the right arm and left leg paralyzed. The horses now carried me home but passed the house in the direction of the barn. My wife thinking I had gone on to the barn paid no attention for perhaps 15 minutes, when she sent one of the children to see what was keeping me. At this time I was unable to speak and had to be assisted into the house. Before bed time I began to recover somewhat and felt fairly well the next morning, but was again seized during the day in the same manner and the report reached the village that I was dead. Neighbours came flocking out expecting that it was true. As the medicine I had tried seemed to do me no good, I now thought I would try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and by the time I had used six boxes the pain had left my head and I felt as good as new. I now ceased using them for about a month when I thought I felt a recurrence of the pain at the back of my head. I sent again and got three more boxes and used them. It is now about five months since I used the last pill, and I have never had a recurrence of the attack, besides I feel myself a new man. I am now 39 years of age, and have always worked on a farm and never enjoyed work better than last summer and autumn and am positive Dr. Williams 'Pink Pills cured me. I now always keep them in my house and when my wife or children have any sickness our resort is to this medicine and always with the very best effect.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are offered with a confidence that they are the only perfect and unfailing blood builder and nerve restorer and when given a fair trial disease and suffering must vanish. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail on receipt of 50c a box or $2.50 for six boxes, by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. or Schnectady, N.Y. Beware of imitations and refuse trashy substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

IN THE IMPERIAL HOUSE.

The Duke of Cambridge Resigns His Claim to a Special Pension—No Autumn Expedition to Dongola.

London, March 27.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, read a letter from the Duke of Cambridge, resigning his claim to the special pension which it has been proposed to grant him, on the ground that he did not wish to subject the Ministerial party to any controversy over the matter.

Mr. George N. Curzon, Under Secretary to the Foreign Office, stated that the Government did not intend to send a British expedition to Dongola next autumn. This statement was made in answer to a question by a member of the Opposition. He further said that the sanction of the advance of the Egyptian reserve fund toward the cost of the Nile expedition now under way did not rest with the powers, but with the commission of the Egyptian public debt, who had the right to decide whether the advance should be made. By the vote of a majority of the commission, he said, they had so decided.

Reginald McKenna (Lib.) member for North Monmouthshire, moved to reduce the Foreign Office estimates as a protest against the concessions that had been made by the Government to France in the Siam convention.

Mr. Curzon denied that the convention provided for a partial partition of Siam between Great Britain and France and said that the rights of the former remained intact throughout the Dominion of Siam. Neither France nor Great Britain had been granted a single right that it had not possessed before. The territory that Great Britain had surrendered was of so little value that Lord Rosebery, when Prime Minister, had proposed to include it in a buffer state. The Siamese Government, Mr. Curzon added, was satisfied with the convention.

IN THE CANADIAN SENATE.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell Introduces a Bill to Remove an Injustice to Civil Servants—An Adjournment Until April 7.

Ottawa, March 27.—(Special.)—In the Senate to-day Sir Mackenzie Bowell introduced a bill to amend the Civil Service Act. The act passed last session, he said, required amendment in order to remove an injustice worked to third-class clerks who have been in the service since 1882. In the last year's act, as it now stands, third-class clerks, packers and sorters appointed prior to the passage of the act, are no longer members of the service. The appointment of a third-class clerk to the second-class under the act, is not a promotion, but a new appointment, and the qualifying examination must be passed, even in the case of a clerk who has been in the service continuously since 1882, and has passed his promotion examination. Another effect is that a third-class clerk over the age of 35 years can never be promoted. It was not the intention of Parliament, in framing the act of last session ,to work any such injustice, and the present act is introduced to remedy the mistake.

The Premier introduced another bill to amend the Act respecting steamboat inspection and the examination of the licenses of steamboat engineers, which he said was simply a codification of the existing law upon the subject.

On motion of Premier Bowell the Senate adjourned until Tuesday, April 7.

Senator Boulton gives notice of motion, "That it will result in a benefit to the material and commercial interests of Canada if the country adopts the offer indicated by Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Colonial Secretary for an Imperial customs union, based on a free trade zollverein."

And This, Too, After Having Been Confined to Bed for Two Months With Rheumatism—Wet Weather Effects Knocked Out by "Kootenay Cure."

County of Carleton, to Wit:

I, Martin Watson, of the City of Ottawa, in the County of Carleton, do solemnly declare that I live at 112 Cathcart street, in the City of Ottawa, that I am 30 years of age and a tinsmith by trade. I was severely afflicted with Rheumatism and so bad was my case that I was confined to my bed for two months. In June, 1895, I began taking "Ryckman's Kootenay Cure." I used two bottles and am now entirely cured and free from rheumatism. I have since been exposed to wet weather which has had no bad effect on me. I consider "Kootenay" a great cure for rheumatism. I have also gained 27 pounds in weight.

It is a grand tonic and a wonderful blood purifier. I attribute my cure solely to the use of "Kootenay Cure," and make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canadian Evidence Act.

THE MATABELE UPRISING

Said to Have Been Due to Efforts to Stamp Out the Cult in Prague.

Cape Town, March 27.—Advices received here are to the effect that recent battles in outlying districts are reported to have been caused by Matabeles. It is asserted that the outbreak is partly due to the stringent measures recently adopted to stamp out the influence of Russian circulars in Rhodesia. The foulness of the Kaffirs for cattle is well known, and the killing of them in attempts to stamp out rinderpest has excited much discontent.

A despatch from Johannesburg in the Transvaal says that the wildest rumors are in circulation there regarding the rising. It is stated that the Boers attract to the Matabeles against the British, but this rumor is deemed here to be baseless.

JOHN CARNEY SHOT AGNEW.

That is the Verdict Arrived at by the Jury in Lindsay.

Lindsay, March 25.—The inquest on the body of James Agnew, who was shot here on March 17, was concluded to-night. The jury brought in a verdict that Agnew came to his death by a revolver shot, at the hands of John Carney, but that there had been no evidence offered implicating Patrick Carney in the murder. The jury impressed on the police authorities the necessity of enforcing the law prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons.

The evidence to-night was unimportant. Robert Elliott, who worked with John Carney on the Logie farm, testified that to the best of his belief the revolver produced in court was the one he had seen in John Carney's possession. James Petrie swore that on the night of the murder, about 9.30 o'clock, he heard a revolver shot in the neighborhood of the Agnew farm. The two prisoners are charged before the Police Magistrate, John with the murder and Patrick with being an accessory. They will come up for preliminary examination on Monday next.

Sawing Wood.

A TORONTONIAN OF 85 YEARS WHO CAN STILL HANDLE A BUCKSAW.

To find a man of 85 sawing and splitting wood without any trouble would surprise most of us to whom such vigorous exercise is—to say the least—distasteful, but to hear the circumstances under which it took place but increases the wonder.

"Our representative visited Mr. John Clyne, 174½ Sackville st., City, a sufferer from kidney trouble for the past 10 years, having undergone two operations during that time. Mr. Clyne was for some 30 years engaged in the express and cartage business for such well-known firms as Swan Bros., Hugh Miller, J.P., Wm. Rennie, etc., and having been a resident of Toronto for 50 years, is well known. Mrs. Clyne was interviewed at their residence and said: 'Mr. Clyne was in a very bad state, his urine almost black with sediment and he was expecting to have another operation such as he had before. The pain in his back was at times very severe and kept him from doing any work. Mr. Clyne got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at J. R. Lee's drug store and was relieved from the first dose; the urine is now clear, no trouble or burning sensation, and to-day you would say that although 85 years old, he has taken on a new lease of life.' Mrs. Clyne then took our reporter to the yard, and to his surprise found Mr. C. sawing wood for over Sunday. He emphatically endorsed every word Mrs. Clyne had said. 'From the very first they did me good; I am well known here and you can use my name as reference. Two weeks ago I expected to be operated on, perhaps to die—to-day I am well and strong, better than I have felt for a score of years.'"

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says, "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'saved my life,' I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excells. Price 75 cts. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George street.

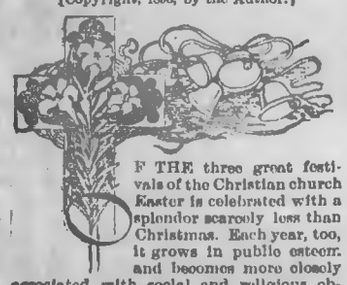
Many a boy starts out in life with the firm determination of conquering the world. He means to achieve success and wealth and fame. His intentions are good, and his will is strong. If he has the bodily strength to carry him through, his efforts will be crowned with achievement. Bodily strength and health are his greatest capital. Without them he can hope for nothing. How many young men and young women are cut off just when the future seems brightest and fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which doctors call consumption. Consumption has been considered incurable, and the medical profession has never made a greater mistake than this. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections. There is no reason why the child of consumptive parents need ever have consumption if its blood and lungs are strengthened by the proper use of the "Discovery." All who have any reason to fear consumption, should read the chapters on that disease in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great medical work of 1008 pages, profusely illustrated, has reached a sale of over 680,000 copies. It will be sent free of charge on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

EASTER PHILOSOPHY

LEGENDARY ASSOCIATIONS OF THE QUEEN OF CHRISTIAN FESTIVALS.

How the Simple and Practical Teachings of Jesus Have Ramified Into a Complex Structure of Theory and Organization. Easter Customs.

[Copyright, 1896, by the Author.]



F THE three great festivals of the Christian church Easter is celebrated with a splendor scarcely less than Christmas. Each year, too, it grows in public esteem and becomes more closely associated with social and religious observance. On the other hand, Whitsuntide, perpetuating the Pentecostal miracle of the gift of tongues, once under the old papal regime, crowned with quite as much ceremony and romance, has been greatly shorn of its dignity. The skill of human artifice, by which the teaching of Jesus, so simple, practical and pellucid, has ramified into such a complex structure of theory and organization is more wonderful than any marvel of steel and iron. The one has harnessed the spirit; the other matter. The record of either is a more fascinating story than any chapter of wholesale slaughter from Nebuchadnezzar to Napoleon. These and all like them have been sent to grass, while the splendors of religious conquest shine with increasing glory and have shot their tentacles through all the parts of the social body. Nowhere do we find a better example of the subtle policy by which Christianity has subjugated the most intelligent sections of the human race than in the institutions known as its holidays. While the growth of these was in part spontaneous it was further guarded by the wisdom of the serpent as well as by the innocence of the dove.

It was inevitable that the birth of the founder of Christianity should become a celebration of paramount importance. There was no clew to the exact day nor the month nor even the season in which the "Prince of Peace," to use the most beautiful of all the titles of Jesus, was born into this wicked, bloodthirsty humanity of ours. At different times in the very early period it was supposed to be about the middle of September, from the 1st to the 5th of January, and again about at the time of the vernal equinox. Finally the primitive fathers manufactured a suitable date, which would connect the event indissolubly with the religious naturalism and symbolism of the pagan world, thereby disarming opposition and linking the Christian faith with the whole continuity of religious belief. The time of the winter solstice witnesses the very earliest renaissance of dead nature. Then the sun begins his northward journey, which is to end in the fervor and exuberance of summer. That was the period of the Roman saturnalia, when universal peace and good will relaxed the iron discipline of society wherever the imperial eagles were planted. Then the Druids, crowned with mistletoe and holly, performed the most sacred sacrifices of the year in the depths of the forest. Then the Teutonic pagans lit great fires, and for a week worshiped with a sort of mad jubilee at the altar of the sun god, Balder. The philosophy of adopting this most universal and joyous of all heathen festivals as the period of celebrating the birth of Jesus Christ is at once apparent. It helped to make the heathen at home in their new religious clothes.

The date of Easter, commemorating the resurrection from the grave of the crucified Saviour, needed no such selective and arbitrary choice. Its motive, being the final climax and consecration of Christ's mission in the minds of his followers, was not less thrilling and significant than that of his birth. From the earliest period of ecclesiasticism it was endowed with the most gorgeous pomp and attire of outward devotion. The church then smiled benignly on its devotees, bade them dance to the sound of pipe and tabor, enjoined the wearing of the freshest garments as if going to a bridal and permitted the free enjoyment of all reasonable fleshly as well as of spiritual delights. As one of the fathers of the church quaintly observed, "For as by this day all flesh was raised from its swinish defoulment, to be cleansed in a spiritual fountain, so all its delights do become innocent and of sweet savor to the children of God." This was before the day when savage austerity and hate of the harmless things of the body were made by churchly teaching the highest evolution of the saintly life.

The Biblical record, of course, fixed the date by its association with the Hebraic passover. Whatever controversy there grew out of it was narrowed within certain definite bounds not connected with any uncertainty as to time. Yet this tempest in a teapot embroiled all Christendom for hundreds of years and is today one of the cardinal points of difference between the Greek and Roman churches. It may be expressed in a nutshell. The early Christians promptly adopted the symbolism of the situation. Christ was the true Paschal Lamb, prefigured in the animal sacrifice of the ancient passover feast. So the Christian passover was the resurrection, and the commemoration of the season fixed itself by the analogy. Those churches of the first century most closely Hebraic in their sympathies followed the old rite exactly—that is, made the celebration on the 14th day of the first month, being the lunar month of which the 14th day either falls on or next follows the vernal equinox. But the western Christian calendar attached more importance to the fact that Christ arose from the dead on Sunday, the first day of the week, and so they celebrated Easter on the Sunday following the 14th day of the moon of March. From this slight rent widened a great chasm, and the question of discipline finally hardened into one of dogma. After three centuries of battle the majority of the churches accepted the rule announced by the council of Nice in 325, which allowed for the differences between the Jewish and Julian calendars. This constitutes the rule of the church today, so that the Easter festival ranges between the possibilities of March 23 and April 25. So much for chronology dressed up into a theological puppet, about which disciples of the Prince of Peace imprecated the terrors of endless hell on each other's heads for more than three centuries! As Christmas gradually crystallized about itself other beautiful myths which had flowered out of heathendom, so likewise Easter. The period of the vernal equinox, the beginning of the true or astronomical spring, was one of religious observance and rejoicing in all the religions which Christianity supplanted in Europe as well as in the east. The name of Easter indeed was adopted from that of the Teutonic goddess of spring, Ostera, or Eastre. The new Christmas brought with them the jocund thoughts and associations inherited from the more beautiful side of the old paganry, and these were wisely accepted and assimilated. The meetings of the elves in their fairy rings on Easter eve (there was salvation even for them); the dancing of the sun in the sky (who will not recall those lovely verses of quaint old Sir John Suckling entitled "The Bride," among which we find these:

> And, oh, she dances such a way
> No sun upon an Easter day
> Is half so fine a sight!)

the gifts and games of colored eggs and a hundred other charming beliefs and customs which got imbedded in the popular mind, sometimes varying, too, with different localities—all these were inherited by Christianity as the heir-at-law of the world's antecedent estate, religious and social. The connection of the lily with Easter, on the other hand, the consecration of this flower as a resurrection emblem, seems to have no root in the old, but to belong to the new spiritualism of Christ, as representing best in the flower kingdom the ideal of stainless purity, conjoined with stateliness of form and beauty of line.

Easter customs are not widely divergent in different parts of Christendom. The Greek church, however, particularly its Russian branch, still retains the once universal salutation of Easter day between all those meeting in or out doors—"Christ is risen," with the response, "He is risen indeed," and a resounding kiss. In Russia the beggarly tramp is entitled to this, if the chance occurs, from the empress herself. The use of the colored pasch, or pace egg, often elaborately ornamented, is everywhere prevalent, originally signifying the bursting of the year from its egg in the beauty of spring. The lovely dame or maid who delights the masculine eye in new gown and bonnet on Easter Sunday scarcely imagines herself doing just what the ancient Teutonic woman did, who was enjoined by religious custom to dance around the bonfires of Easter in a newly woven woolen tunic.

Much more might be cited about the historic and legendary association of this queen of Christian festivals. But enough has been said to indicate how it has drawn to itself sap and lustiness of life from facts and forces akin to its original thought, and with what consummate policy organized Christianity has selected building material out of the wreck and debris of religions which once enslaved the imagination of man.

RESCUED FROM INSANITY.

GENTLEMEN,—To say all I ought to in favour of B B. B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it. I am a different man to what I was ten years ago when it was expected I would be in the asylum, but now I am in perfect robust health and it was the B.B.B. that did it. I suffered for five or six years from constipation, sometimes so severely that I went out of my mind.

I tried various doctors, both in the country and in the city, and took medicines too numerous to mention, but everything failed to have the desired effect. When I used Burdock Blood Bitters it succeeded beyond all expectations, requiring only two bottles to cure. To make it still more certain that B. B. B. the real cure for constipation, I may say that some two years afterwards, I felt the symptoms returning and took one bottle more and from that time to the present day (over eight years) I have never had any returns of the disease.

I never knew any medicine to work so well. It does not seem to be a mere reliever but a sure and certain cure as I can testify to, for hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine and advice failed to do me any good, but three dollars' worth of B.B.B. made a permanent cure that has given me years of health and comfort. Yours truly,

C. L. KILMER, Toronto

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

On the Purity of the Blood Depends Everything.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Have an Unbroken Record of Success—They Always Cure.

Health is the largest part in the mixture called happiness.

Health depends upon the purity of the blood.

It is almost impossible to be ill if your blood is pure, rich and red.

The organs having most to do with blood purity are the kidneys.

If they are out of order you lose first the pink of health and later the pallor of impurity is seen.

And then science steps in to help the kidneys do their work.

They will respond to the first dose of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Because these pills are for this very purpose.

How quickly they cure any minor kidney trouble is already well known to a hundred thousand people or more.

They have cured in hundreds of cases after the patient had been given up to die.

And it is only reasonable to expect them to cure promptly in simple cases.

But we have yet to learn that Dodd's Kidney Pills failed in any case—simple or complicated.

Dodd's Kidney Pills revive the flagging organs.

They are the least expensive treatment in the world.

They cure the deadly Bright's disease at any of its stages.

They have cured in hundreds of cases where all else have failed.

Dodd's Kidney Pills can be bought for 50 cents a box from any druggist or dealer in Canada.

THE WHEEL.

Several enquiries have been received at this office as to the size of gearings for both road work and track racing. No better authority could be sought in this matter than Champion A. A. Zimmerman. In his Sunday editorial the latter says:—

"In the matter of gearing there has been a considerable change within a short time. That has been due to a change in the weight of bicycles. When bicycles weighed in the neighbourhood of thirty pounds a 68-inch gear was considered high. Low gearing than ran below the sixties. Quite ten pounds have been taken off bicycles since that time, which permits of higher gear, with less exertion than was needed before. For an ordinary man I should suggest a 70 inch gear with 6½-inch crank. For youths of average development and endurance, 66-inch gear. For men more than ordinarily big and strong, a 72-inch and occasionally a 74-inch gear would be best.

"There are racing men who have their machines geared up to a hundred inches and more. That, according to my experience, is a mistake, for the reason that they can't get under way quick enough when the time comes for fast work. Races are won in the sprint, and the sprint comes in almost in the finish. Others may lead until then, and make a great showing, but the man who can get up the fast gait at the finish is the man who will win the race. In order to do that it is necessary to have a low gear. The locomotive with the small driving wheels is the one that that can up the high speed in short runs. In that respect bicycles and locomotives work on the same principle. Don't be afraid of the man who pulls out ahead of you at the beginning of the race, and proceeds to make a great pace. No man is so good that he can pull out ahead and stay ahead of every other rider. By the time the race is half over the leaders, having used up the better half of their strength, will begin to lag. Three-quarters of the way they will be practically pumped out. At the best they will have no reserve power to call upon for the sprint which is to follow. You who have held back are prepared for the dash."

CURLIANA.

The Lakefield curlers came down yesterday, three rinks strong, and made a remarkably good showing against the local knights of the broom and stone, winning from the Thistles by four shots and losing by only three to the Granites.

THAT TRADE SCHEME

Mr. Chamberlain's Plan a Topic for Discussion

BY ENGLISH WRITERS BY CABLE.

The Colonial Secretary With Imperial Federation Buzzing Under His Hat is Called the British Farmers' Friend—That Cattle Exclusion Bill and Its Chances.

New York, March 29.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford, the London resident correspondent of The Tribune, cables:

Mr. Chamberlain seems completely dominated by Imperial ideas. His speech before the Canada Club was a bolder utterance than the famous Hastings address which Lord Salisbury has been frequently called upon to explain away. He proposed an Imperial zollverein, based on free trade within, and a tariff for revenue without the Empire. Practically his scheme involves the repudiation of Cobdenism. It reserves free trade for the colonies, and imposes duties against foreign countries. Canada, in return for free entry of British merchandise, would be entitled to discrimination in favor of her products in English ports; her corn, wheat, meat, barley, hops and lumber would be free, but the same natural products from the United States, Europe and Argentina, would be liable to duty. Cane sugar from the East or West Indian colonies would be placed at an advantage over German sugar. Australian wool would remain on the free list, but Argentina wool would be taxed. Mr. Chamberlain did not illustrate his zollverein scheme in this practical way, but the logic of his speech involves these results.

So audacious a renunciation of the free trade policy was enough to make the new statue of John Bright change color. Mr. Chamberlain avowed himself a convinced free trader, but protectionists perceived at once the bearings of his policy, which would lead inevitably to the re-enactment of the corn laws and taxes imposed on foods; otherwise Canada would get nothing in return for removing the tariff barrier against British manufactures. Mr. Chamberlain, in attempting to devise ways and means of developing the colonies, has been convinced that nothing can be done without a tariff. His zollverein scheme is more radical than anything proposed by the fair trade leaders of ten years ago. Apparently he perceives that Imperial federation cannot be brought about without a tariff against foreign countries.

Mr. Chamberlain's plan is intelligible, but other methods of introducing protection, now discussed in Parliament, are more disingenuous. The proposal that American joints, Australian cutlets, and Canadian cheeses shall be labelled when exposed for sale is followed by a larger scheme for marking everything that is made abroad and brought into the English market. Then the Diseases of Animals bill proposed by the Minister of Agriculture is nominally a sanitary measure, but really a device for protecting English cattle breeders. English farmers are not forgotten in these days, when light railways are planned, land taxation is revised, and recourse is had to all kinds of moral and sanitary dodges for their relief; but Mr. Chamberlain, with Imperial federation buzzing under his hat, is the real farmers' friend. His zollverein proposes for the British Empire the same measure of free trade which the states of the American Union enjoy with one another, coupled with tariff protection against foreign countries.

The Sun's London special says: The Australasian colonists who had been led to expect royal visitors this year are doomed to disappointment. The Duke and Duchess of York were personally inclined to make the tour to Australia and return by way of Canada, but for family reasons mainly the Queen vetoed the idea. There is some reason to believe that the scheme is only postponed, and that next year the royal couple will take a trip through the British Empire, commencing at Cape Town and ending at Halifax. The so-called Imperialists, among whom Mr. Joseph Chamberlain is now numbered, favor the scheme, and think the tour ought to be made in state, the cost being defrayed from the imperial exchequer.

The Government has managed to force to a second reading the Compulsory Slaughter of Foreign Cattle bill upon the House of Commons, but in doing so has greatly strained the allegiance of its supporters. The popular feeling against the bill is rapidly growing, especially in Scotland, and there is talk of holding simultaneous demonstrations all over the country to denounce what is described as "A protectionist plot to increase the price of the people's food." The opponents of the bill are somewhat surprised at the comparative apthy of the Canadians on this subject, for, as far as the cable despatches inform them, the expected great popular demonstrations against the bill have not yet commenced in the Dominion. It is known, however, that the representatives of the Canadian Government have not been lacking in vigor, and Denmark, also, has been inquiring as to the meaning of the action of the British Government, which would have the immediate effect of destroying the flourishing trade in Icelandic sheep, for which Great Britain is almost the only market. A strong effort will be made to modify the prohibitive character of the bill when the measure reaches the committee stage in the Commons, but so far the Government has given no sign of willingness to make the slightest concession.

TO OPPOSE MR. SPEAKER WHITE.

The Liberals of North Renfrew Select Mr. Thomas Mackie as Their Candidate.

Pembroke, March 28.—A convention of the Liberals of North Renfrew to nominate a candidate in the Liberal interest to oppose the Hon. Peter White at the coming election for the Commons was held in the Town Hall here to-day. The hall was crowded to the doors; indeed, the crush was so great that many who came were unable to gain entrance to the hall. R. C. Miller, president of the North Renfrew Liberals, occupied the chair, and on the platform were Mr. Bain, M.P. for Wentworth, Messrs. Thomas Murray, W. Murray, Henry Jamieson, A. Cameron, Beachburg; S. E. Mitchell, Dr. McKay and others.

On motion of Thomas Murray, seconded by A. Cameron, Mr. Thomas Mackie, the well-known lumberman, was unanimously chosen candidate, amidst great enthusiasm.

A long address was then given by Mr. Bain. Mr. Thomas Murray also spoke at considerable length. Never before was the representation of leading Liberals from all parts of the riding so large and enthusiastic. To-night a mass meeting was held, when, in addition to the other speakers, Mr. J. Israel Tarte, M.P., gave an address.

HERBERT BOOTH'S FUTURE.

He is to Take Command of the Army in Australia—A Mounted Corps in the Rocky Mountains.

Winnipeg, March 29.—(Special.)—Commandant Booth, head of the Salvation Army in Canada, arrived in Winnipeg to-day, on his return from a farewell tour of the Canadian Northwest, British Columbia, Washington, Idaho, Montana and North Dakota.

The commadant reports union and enthusiasm in the ranks of the army all along his line of travel, and that the recent disruption in New York will have no evil effects in the west. While in British Columbia Commandant Booth organized a mounted corps to travel through the mining districts in the Rocky Mountains in an effort to evangelize men whose life is given up to search for gold. He also determined on the establishment of a rescue home for fallen women at Helena and Spokane.

Commandant Booth stated to your correspondent that he is in almost daily communication with Ballington in an effort to induce the latter to return to the army and his place in the family, and he is not yet without hope of reconciliation.

Speaking of pending changes in the army, the commandant imparted to your correspondent the first intimation of his future locations. He said he is going to Australia to relieve Commandant Coombes, who had been his predecessor in Canada.

Where Commandant Coombes is going, or who takes command in Canada, is not yet known, but the announcement will probably be made at mass meetings here and in Toronto to-morrow night.

JUST IN THE NICK OF TIME

Did a Party of Boys Stop the Atlantic Express Near Dundas.

Hamilton, March 29.—(Special).—What might have been a disastrous railway accident was averted this morning by the presence of mind of a number of boys on the track, who seeing the dangerous condition of the track, signalled the approaching train which was stopped on time. About 25 yards of track on the Grand Trunk almost four miles from the city and about two miles from Dundas was covered with rocks and debris washed down upon it from the mountain above by the torrents of water from the melting snow rushing down the precipice. The Atlantic express, due here at 2.52, from Chicago, and bound for New York, came bounding down the grade from Dundas and twirled around the curve a short distance above where the blocked track was at about 60 miles an hour. Engineer Martindale had seen a number of boys waving their coats signalling the train to stop, and although he reversed the engine and applied brakes the train went on. When it reached the blocked track the speed was considerably lessened, but the engine and mail car went through the stones. The baggage car ran off the track and the train soon came to a standstill with such suddenness that the passengers received a severe jolt.

Eleven boys from Dundas were walking down the track, and seeing the condition of it pulled off their coats and ran back to signal the express, knowing it was nearly due, and this was all that saved perhaps the loss of several lives, as the entire train would probably have rolled over the embankment had not the speed been stopped. The names of the boys are: J. Ranger, W. Cartner, R. McKay, J. Bailey, H. Scott, J. Cronin, C. Webster, F. Bickford, C. Slingerland, F. McLaughlin and G. Hunter.

The washout caused considerable delay with the trains. The express with an opera troupe on board, remained at Dundas till six o'clock, when the track was cleared. On the afternoon train from Toronto to connect with the express for the east were about a hundred people from Toronto, including two opera companies, and these were forced to wait at Hamilton till about 4 o'clock, when a train was made up. Among the Toronto people were: T. G. Blackstock, on his way to British Columbia; Captain Miller of the Queen's Own, and W. F. Maclean, M.P., on his way to New York. The Pacific express from the east went around by Caledonia.

GEN. KITCHNER AT WADY HALFA.

Sixty Curious Dervishes Retreated When Fired on by the Artillery.

Cairo, March 29.—Gen. Kitchner, Sirdar of the Egyptian army, and his staff arrived at Wady Halfa to-day. The second column of the expedition, under Major Macdonald, is approaching Akasheh. Sixty Dervishes reconnoitered the column, but were fired upon by the artillery, whereupon they rapidly retired.

The report of the defeat of the Egyptian advance guard by Dervishes near Akasheh turns out to have been untrue.

IS IT A COMPROMISE?

Reports From Winnipeg Have a Hopeful Look.

WHAT ARE THE PROPOSED PLANS?

A Report Says That the Nova Scotia System Will Probably be Adopted by the Conferees—The Government Still Places its Followers on the Gridiron.

Ottawa, March 29.—(Special).—Reports from Winnipeg to the Government yesterday and to-day all point to a compromise on the school question. What the nature of the suggested settlement is no one outside the circle of Cabinet Ministers knows definitely, although the general impression is that something like the Nova Scotia system will be agreed upon. In brief, while the Nova Scotia system does not recognize Separate schools, under the law, Catholics have practically their own schools, their own teachers and receive provincial aid to their schools. All Catholics, however, contribute to the Public schools in the matter of taxation. There should be no difficulty in reaching a settlement on these lines, as Mr. Ouimet, the Ministerial champion of Catholic schools, has admitted that it would be acceptable to the minority in Manitoba.

It is stated, however, that no matter what understanding is reached in Winnipeg, the Remedial bill will, if possible, be passed into law with the proviso which was referred to the other day.

Mr. Costigan, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has reached a decision regarding the changes in fishing regulations for the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers. Hitherto the American fishermen on these rivers have not been restricted. There has been no close season in spring or fall. United States fishermen have been allowed to use destructive methods of fishing, including bare hooks, as well as an excessive number of pound nets. Under these conditions they have certainly monopolized the lion's share of the fishing in the narrow waters. The Minister has, therefore, decided to grant every privilege to Canadian fishermen that is now enjoyed by U. S. fishermen, limited only by certain restrictions which are statutory. These latter will include the issue of licenses. The deputation which was here the other day asked for free fishing, but the Minister will not concede this, holding that the department must retain some control over the fisheries. It is hoped that Mr. Costigan's decision will lead the American authorities to see the necessity of agreeing upon fair regulations in waters contiguous to both countries. Otherwise it is obvious that the fisheries in these rivers, Detroit and St. Clair, must soon come to an end, and Lake Erie, for which they are the spawning grounds sufiety in consequence.

Dr. Carman, superintendent of the Methodist Church, preached educational sermons here to-day. To-night at Dominion Church he said it should not be difficult for Anglicans, Roman Catholics, Methodists, Presbyterians, Baptists and all other Christian denominations to agree upon some form of religion to be taught in the schools of Canada. If such an agreement were arrived at the public authorities would not dare to refuse to accept it. His honest conviction was that the very people who were making the greatest howl about religion in the schools were people who were keeping God and religion out of the schools.

Mr. Earle, M.P., who has several vessels engaged in the sealing industry, has reports up to last Monday of the coast catch of the British Columbia fleet. The Oscar and Hattie is the top liner, with 240 skins, one of Mr. Earle's vessels, the Fawn, being second, with 180. This represents six weeks' work, but the catch is not up to the average, owing to the bad weather.

Experiments are now in progress at Halifax, under the direction of Prof. Prince, Commissioner of Fisheries, with a view to determining the best method of keeping lobsters alive when away from their native habitat. The Fisheries Department proposes to send lobsters and lobster spawn to be placed in the waters of the Pacific next month. Similar attempts on the part of the United States proved unsuccessful. If Canada succeeds it will be a great feather in her cap.

The supplementary estimates for the current fiscal year will be presented to-morrow. There is no doubt about their passing, as the money is really needed for expenditure already occurred. The main and supplementary estimates for the next fiscal year, however, are not likely to pass.

AT WORK IN WINNIPEG.

The Commissioners are Completely Dumb as to What is Transpiring. All Seems to be Speculation.

Winnipeg, March 29.—(Special).—What was accomplished by the Schools Commission yesterday can be gathered only by a careful watching of the movements of the commission. They are completely dumb to the subject under considerations, but close observers of their actions say they are all buoyed up with the hope of immortalizing themselves by effecting a settlement, but the consummation has not yet been reached. The commission had only one meeting on Saturday, the understanding having been reached in the afternoon that the conference arranged for at 5 o'clock should not take place. The reason for this action is stated to be the desire of the Manitoba Ministers to consult Premier Greenway, who has been out of the city, on the proposition of the federal commissioners. From the number of cipher telegrams passing between the federal commission and the Ottawa Government, there is an impression that Manitoba made an offer that the commission thought advisable to submit to headquarters. The prevailing opinion here is that if the commission continues to meet after to-morrow an amicable settlement is assured. It is claimed that in the proposals if each side were too unyielding there would surely be a break-off by Monday.

"KNUCKLE DOWN TIGHT!"
"BAR DUBS!"
"NO HINCHING NOW!"

These and similiar expressions now heard upon our streets by the small boys may be taken as an evidence of Spring time near at hand. To play marbles aright it becomes necessary to come in close proximy with mother earth or the plank walk, which means wear and tear of the Boy's Clothing; what fond parent would not much rather see his boy wearing out Clothes than blankets. He knows where they can be replaced at a very small cost. Just as a reminder—we are now prepared to show you a much larger and better assorted stock of knock about Suits for "ye small boy" than has been our privilege since coming to your midst, comprising every conceivable style known to the trade. MONDAY, MARCH 30, 1896.

NOTWITHSTANDING her enormous expenditure on the Royal Navy and the evident preparations for war, Great Britain will be able to reduce her national debt $25,000,000. This is the result of "free trade as they have it in England." How much will the increasing load of debt in this country be diminished this year? asks the Ottawa Free Press. The question is either preposterious or ironical. The proper question that would bring an answer in big figures is how much will our debt be increased? Our present rulers are progressive, not retrogressive, in the matter of debt increasement.

THE Ottawa Journal points out that "Canada enforces a protective tariff against British goods, which in many cases shuts British goods clear out of our market, and in all cases militates against them. Britain enforces a protective principle against live cattle. Canada wants to send live cattle into Britain. Canada squeals." Human nature suggests the retaliation implied in the cattle embargo. If protection is the sacred thing its advocates—its beneficiaries—claim it is, why should we complain when Great Britain adopts it in the single matter of cattle? If Great Britain placed a protective duty on all the articles of Canadian produce that now find a free market there, there would be great wailing, yet she would only be using us as we use her. Protection is a rather jug handled affair.

BENSFORT.

From our own Correspondent.

We are all aware that the roads are something fearful. Last Friday's storm capped the climax. Bensfort was completely cut off from civilization for three days. We did not get any mail for days. If anyone wants to see into the next township, why just climb on top of a big snowdrift.

Mr. R. Mahood has moved out to Emily township.

Everything is "dead" in Bensfort. There is nothing on the move whatever.

Our trappers are getting ready for spring operations. They are living in hopes of having a good spring on account of high water.

A crane was seen last Friday. Spring cannot be far distant or else he has made a bad mistake and came too soon.

BEYOND RECOVERY.

The Boy LaFlamme—His Cure was a Surprise—A few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

PAPPINEAUVILLE, March 30 (Special)—The father of the boy LaFlamme, one of the leading merchants here and willing to talk of his son's cure, he says—"My little boy Arthur, after scarlet fever about a year ago never recovered and his ailment ran into a kidney trouble. His body was swollen to twice its natural size. The sufferings of the little fellow were very severe and we had all given up hope of him. But three months ago we commenced giving him Dodd's Kidney Pills, and to-day he is romping and playing with other boys." This has an instance of cure, is very remarkable.

GOOD ADVICE
ABOUT DYSPEPSIA.

The best advice about dyspepsia is—cure it with Burdock Blood Bitters and as surely as you follow the advice and take the medicine the cure will follow in every case.

Mr. Wm. Day of Fort William, Ont., says in speaking of B.B.B.:—Two years ago my wife was very ill with dyspepsia. No remedy that she could find gave any relief; finally she tried Burdock Blood Bitters and after taking six bottles was entirely cured. That is now more than two years ago and she has no return of the malady. I also have had occasion to use B.B.B. and I cannot speak too highly in its favour.

I always recommend it to my friends and in every case with good results. Hoping this may be of use to you, I am. Yours very truly. WILLIAM DAY.

SHE BRINGS THE OLIVE BRANCH.

Mrs. Booth-Tucker Arrives in New York—She Says She Wants Ballington to Meet the General.

New York, March 28.—Mrs. Booth-Tucker, wife of Commissioner F. D. L. Booth-Tucker, recently appointed by General Booth from the national headquarters in London to take charge of the Salvation Army in this country, arrived to-day on the St. Louis. She was accompanied by her son and daughter. Miss Gircopassi, her secretary, and Major J. Malan, General Booth's secretary, were also in the party. Mrs. Booth-Tucker was to have been accompanied here by her husband, but the latter left the ship off the English coast in a pilot boat and returned to his sick son, Bramwell.

When asked if she brought the olive branch to Ballington Booth she replied: "We of the Salvation Army bring the olive branch every place; we bring the olive branch to Ballington and to everyone else. I am sure that my dear brother will be as glad to see me as I will to see him. I love him dearly and it will be the happiest day of my life when I have succeeded in bringing him back to the army, even as it was the most sorrowful when I heard that he had left it."

Mrs. Booth-Tucker was then asked if the statement was true that should Ballington come back, the General would assign him to Canada, and then after two or three months appoint him as commander in the United States. She answered that she thought such a statement was unauthorized, but as far as she knew and believed such was not the intention of General Booth.

"It has always been my firm conviction," she continued, "that had my brother seen the General for only five minutes, his resignation from the Salvation Army would have never occurred. It is my desire still, as it is that of the General, that there shall be a personal talk between them, and I am sure that he will no longer be outside of the army."

Mrs. Booth-Tucker will enter upon her duties as soon as she has recovered from the effect of the rough voyage.

FLOOD AT NIAGARA FALLS, ONT.

Muddy Creek Overran Its Banks—The G.T.R. Yards Under Water.

Niagara Falls, Ont., March 29.—Muddy Run Creek flooded its banks to-day, caused by the great quantity of snow that was on the ground in the back country melting rapidly before a warm summer sun and south wind. The water rose rapidly, and soon had Bridge-street a raging river of three feet of water, with cascades, as it rushed down the street over Niagara's precipice. The G.T.R. yards were inundated with two feet of water, completely suspending work for the afternoon. Their passenger trains were handled with much difficulty, but without delay. The water from the yard rushed over the bank at the railway entrance to the Suspension Bridge, forming no mean cataract. It is expected that a good deal of damage has been done to the street and also to ballast in the G.T.R. yards and filling of cellars with water. At 9 p.m. the water is subsiding. The intake sewer for ordinary circumstances, was not of sufficient capacity to take the increased waters.

FATAL BLAZE IN PARIS, FRANCE

Church of St. Sauveur Destroyed—Four Die From Fright, Four From Poison.

Paris, March 29.—The Gothic Church of St. Sauveur on the Boulevard du Marechal Vaillant at Lille was destroyed by fire this morning. The flames spread to the Hospital of St. Sauveur, adjoining the church. There was the greatest excitement when it was seen that the hospital would be burned. Four of the patients who were extremely weak succumbed to fright and died before they could be taken out.

Ten Sappers who had been ordered to save the medicines in the hospital came across what they thought was a quantity of schnapps. They each took a drink and were almost immediately seized with symptoms of poisoning. Physicians at once attended them, but despite all efforts four of the Sappers died. The Church of St. Sauveur dated from the fourteenth century.

TEACHING THE YOUNG

Marked Progress of Education in Ontario

AS SHOWN BY MINISTER'S REPORT

Increase in the School Population Since Confederation—How High Schools Have Progressed Their Extended Usefulness for Preparation for the Walks of Life.

Toronto, March 30.—The report for 1895 of the Minister of Education presents some facts interesting to all persons who have at heart the progress in useful learning of our youthful population. The statistics are brought down to Dec. 31, 1894.

The school population (5-21) numbers 503,840, the total number of pupils registered as in attendance at the Public schools, 483,203. For some unexplainable reason, the figures under these headings do not show the increase that might have been expected since 1867; on the other hand, the average attendance has been advanced remarkably, from 41 per cent. in 1867 to 56 per cent. in 1894. Schools are not so crowded as formerly, ventilation is infinitely better, and considerable progress has been made in the various branches of learning, for instance, there were:

	1867.	1894.
In Writing	231,734	406,927
In Arithmetic	241,501	471,904
In Drawing	5,450	435,541
In Geography	272,173	338,371
In History	61,787	264,896
In Music	47,618	206,346
In Grammar	147,412	303,913
In Temperance	None	191,406

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES.

Kintergartens—confined mostly to cities and towns—from small beginnings, have reached the respectable figures of 90 schools, 184 teachers, with a school attendance of 9340.

Night schools—all in cities or towns—numbered 25, with 54 teachers and 1937 in attendance.

There is a gratifying increase in the grade of certificate; 262 teachers hold first-class; 3184 second-class, and 4351 third-class. The number who attended a Normal school 3207, an increase since 1867 of 2541.

Salaries, owing to the ever increasing employment of female teachers, are not what they ought to be, $421 for male and $300 for female teachers being the average for the province. The people in general take great interest and pride in their schools, and are willing ever to exert themselves to secure to every child a fair amount of education. This is proved conclusively by the great sum, $4,248,131, expended during 1894, an increase on 1867 of $2,774,942. The cost per pupil—far smaller than any state of the Union—is $8.79. Roman Catholic Separate schools number 328, with 714 teachers and 39,762 pupils. Much progress has been made in these schools since 1867, and it is the policy of the Government to make them as efficient as the Public schools.

Protestant Separate schools—of which there are but 10—have remained in much the same condition for several years; they are efficient, with 13 teachers and 620 pupils.

HIGH SCHOOLS AND COLLEGIATE INSTITUTES.

Under an excellent system of inspection, the High schools, including collegiate institutes, have made great strides during past years, notably since 1877. In 1867 they were 103 in number, in 1894 129; the amount of fees $15,605, as against $109,267; total receipts were $134,579, as against $740,651, and a total expenditure of $124,181, as against $688,532.

Pupils increased from 5696 in 1867 to 23,523 in 1894. Average attendance from 3898 to 14,463; in Latin, 5171 to 9366; in Greek, 802 to 1080; in French, 2164 to 10,530; in German, nil to 2785; English Grammar, 5467 to 23,348; history, 4634 to 23,269; geography, 5264 to 23,418; arithmetic, 5526 to 22,404; algebra, 2841 to 23,253; Euclid, 1847 to 20,569; and corresponding increases in trigonometry, physics, chemistry, botany, etc. Perhaps the best test of the High school work is that of matriculation into the University. The number of pupils who passed this test successfully in 1867 was 56, and in 1894 482.

EXTENDED USEFULNESS.

When the High school system of the province was first inaugurated, its primary object was to prepare pupils for the learned professions, and especially for the university. While in that respect our High schools amply fulfil their original purpose, in later years the course of education which they provide has been considered a desirable qualification for various other pursuits in life. Many young men in preparing for mercantile life or for agriculture take advantage of the High school, perhaps not so much because of the direct training which it gives for their intended calling as for the superior culture which it provides. In 1872, 493 High school pupils, when they finished their High school education, entered mercantile life. In 1894 the number had increased to 1036. Similarly, 300 High school pupils left the High school for agricultural pursuits, and in 1894, 934 pupils pursued a similar course. In all, the High schools gave to mercantile life and to agriculture in 1894 1970 pupils of well recognized educational standing, and to the universities and the learned professions the same year 951. The whole number who left the High school for mercantile life since 1872 was 18,7[illegible] and for agriculture 14,486.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS.

At the entrance examinations in 1895 out of 17,023 candidates examined 10,049 passed. At the departmental and matriculation examinations 3883 were examined; 2771 received certificates; 672 students appealed for a reconsideration of their answers and 94 were sustained. There were 60 county Model schools in 1895 in good working order, with 1634 teachers in training; 1644 passed the final examination; 10 teachers, with 149 students, were in attendance at the School of Pedagogy. Normal schools absorbed 12 teachers, with 442 students; teachers' institutes, which have been growing in public favor since 1877, were 73 in number, with 7630 members, out of a total number of 8824 teachers in the province.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTES.

The progress of mechanics' institutes and free libraries within an interval of 12 years, from 1883 to 1895, has been very gratifying. The number of these institutions reporting have increased from 92 to 301; the number of volumes in libraries has increased from 154,093 to 604,719, and the number of books circulated has increased from 251,920 to 1,687,906. During the same period there has been a great improvement in the class of literature read, with a corresponding decrease in the demand for works of fiction.

Since 1836, the year in which Arbor Day was established, both teachers and pupils have not ceased to take much interest in this celebration, and 225,862 trees have been planted.

The total estimated value of Public school property is $10,599,439, and of High school property $1,702,620.

SANITARY CONDITION OF SCHOOLS.

The Minister remarks that: "From my intercourse with the inspectors and my observation in passing through the country at different times, I became impressed with the fact that many school sites and school premises were not kept in such a sanitary condition as was necessary for the comfort and health of the pupils. In order to get such information as would enable me to deal with the matter, either by regulation of the Education Department or by act of Parliament, as the circumstances demanded, I caused circulars to be sent to the inspectors, and received replies from most of them, which I have published.

"The detailed report will be found very instructive, indicating the necessity for several reforms in sanitation and indicating also the attention and zeal with which the inspectors discharge their duty in this respect. One or two items from the summary of the report are worthy of notice.

AGE OF TEACHERS.

"(1) It will be found that those engaged in our Public schools have reached a degree of mental and physical maturity which should give us the very best service. It is sometimes said that the teaching profession has fallen into the hands of mere boys and girls. This is not so. The average age of the teachers of Ontario is found to be within a fraction of twenty-five years (24.95), and the average years of experience four and three-fifths. That the teachers of Ontario are persons of regular habits is seen from the fact that the loss of time from illness during the year did not exceed one day per teacher.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR PUPILS.

"(2) The provision made by Boards of Trustees for the comfort and accommodation of the school population of the Province is very gratifying. Only 490 school houses are reported as furnishing inadequate breathing space for the pupils in attendance. It is to be regretted, however, that better facilities have not been provided for ventilation, and in many cases for heating, although it appears from the reports of the inspectors that so far the health of the pupils have not suffered materially from the defect. Still, under better conditions I do not think that 4981 pupils would be reported as subject to headaches. The necessity for the greatest attention to ventilation is all the more urgent form the fact that 92,000 pupils take lunch in school. If the school room is badly ventilated the injury to health, particularly in winter, should not be lightly regarded. Out of 3854 schools reported upon only 613 are said to be inferior. I notice that in 713 school houses the seats are defective. I hope the inspectors will make an effort to overcome the neglect of the trustees in this respect at the earliest moment. It would be well, also, to call attention to the defective blinding of school windows, particularly as 680 pupils are reported as being under the necessity of wearing glasses. This is an inconvenience which is sure to be aggravated by cross lights or by either excessive or defective lighting of school houses. The provision made for washing and sweeping of school houses seems very inadequate in many cases. Greater care should be paid by trustees, teachers, and inspectors to this elementary part of school sanitation. It is hoped that the next report will not show that 1920 schools were not whitewashed during the year, and that over 400 were not swept daily. The defects in the matter of closets are still more serious. The absence of screening, in many cases the want of disinfection, the neglect to make walks in winter, are defects which should receive immediate attention, and could be remedied at a trifling cost. Boards of Health should supplement the efforts of the school authorities in overcoming the objections to which attention is called in the detailed reports contained elsewhere."

LEGISLATURE NEARING THE END

The Prorogation of Sir Oliver's Parliament is Now in Sight.

Toronto, March 30.—The Local Legislature sat for two hours on Saturday and rushed business so far that the end of the session is now in sight. The important feature of the day was the third reading of Hon. Mr. Hardy's bill to amend the County Courts Act. The Government bill to fix the salaries of police magistrates was also read a third time. In future magistrates will receive $100 for every 1000 of the population. The House will meet again to-day, and business will probably be concluded by Wednesday evening. Prorogation will take place a week from Tuesday.

Attractive Women.

Why is one women attractive and another not? The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks and her vivacity. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Some are born with what is called "constitutional weakness." Those who do not enjoy perfect health, need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism.

RECHERCHE MILLINERY.

The Brightest and Best is the Surest Way to Attract Patronage.

Our brilliant opening exposition of Spring Millinery and Mantles has been the sensation of the week, and the effect produced is just what we aimed at.

Each year we have been lifting the standard a bit higher until now we've reached the plane of rare and recherche productions out of the general run.

Perhaps more than half the ladies who come here have looked all around the other stores. We hope so. We believe in intelligent comparisons and welcome them.

Those who investigate our Goods, Styles and Prices will fare better than those who don't. We want lookers as well as buyers. There's no one here to pull faces at you if you don't buy.

St. Paul's Cellar Flooded.

The thawing of the snow on the Court House hill yesterday, caused a large pool of water to form in front of the doors of St. Paul's church and in the afternoon so large did it become that the cellars of the church were flooded. Mr. Clinkscale was out with his men before evening and opened up a drain so that by the time service began, the congregation were able to enter the church.

Former Rates Restored.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has issued the following notice:—"Until further notice the changes in the classification relative to live stock in less than car loads, as provided for in classification No. 10 and supplement No. 1 thereto, will not be enforced, and you will be governed by rates as provided for in classification No. 9." This change restores the low rates in effect previous to January 1, 1896. The particular objection to the new rates was that they doubled the tariff on horses. These animals can now be transported at the former rate.

Scientific Fishing.

The Natural Science Association meets this evening in the physical labratory of the Collegiate Institute. Mr. J. A. Fife, the President, will treat of the subject of "Fishes." The public are cordially invited, and, as Mr. Fife is unusually qualified to deal with the subject, a very interesting evening is assured to all who attend. With bright signs of spring in the air the subject of "Fishes" is a most appropriate one, and Mr. Fife will tell a very interesting scientific fish story, which in point of facts will hardly furnish a precedent for the elaborately ornate piscatorial narratives that will tax the inventive powers of fishermen when spring unlocks the ice-bound streams and lakes. Remember, a cordial welcome to visitors.

FELL FROM A HOUSETOP.

Mr. W. H. Bradburn's Narrow Escape From Serious Injury.

Mr. W. H. Bradburn met with an accident yesterday which fortunately was attended with no serious results, although it was at first thought that complications would result of a dangerous character.

It appears that a tenant of one of the houses of the Bradburn estate complained yesterday that the snow on the roof of his residence was thawing and that the roof had been impaired to such a degree by the weight as to admit the water which was pouring in and damaging the contents of the house.

Being unable at the time to secure the assistance of anyone to attend to the matter, "Billy" resolved to remedy the evil himself and ascending to the roof commenced to remove the accumulated snow. While so engaged his foot slipped and he was precipitated to the the ground—a distance of 24 feet. In falling he struck the fence and bruised his face considerably, but other than being greatly shaken up and bruised he miraculously escaped injury, no bones being broken.

DWYER'S OUTINGS.

Two of them have Cost him Two Dollars and Costs Each.

James Dwyer of Douro was before County Magistrate Edmison this morning in the absence of Mr. D. W. Dumble.

Dwyer had four charges registered against him, as decribed at length in the EXAMINER last week, all of the charges were the outcome of a spree in which the prisoner had indulged. On two of the charges he was adjudged guilty and fined $2 and costs in each case. He was remanded on the other two charges and released on bail.

Mr W. A. Stratton appeared for the prisoner and Mr. R. E. Wood for the Crown.

A Couple of Banquets.

The Curling Colts of Port Hope, are holding a supper on Wednesday evening next, and amongst others have invited Mr. Geo. J. Horkins to be present. St. Luke's Church Notes.

There will be divine service in St. Luke's church every morning this week, except Friday, at 9 o'clock, and every evening at 8 o clock.

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. Professor Huntingford, of Trinity College, will conduct a lantern service in St. Luke's school house. An address will be delivered on the Passion, illustrated with lime-light views. This service, whilst thoroughly devotional, has proved very popular in Toronto. The public is cordially invited to attend. An offertory will be made to defray expenses.

On Good Friday there will be three services at St. Luke's—Morning prayer and sermon at 10.30 a. m., at 8 p. m. the annual preparatory service for the Easter communion will be held; at 3 p. m. there will be a children's service.

MISSIONARY SUNDAY.

How it Was Observed in the Park Street Church.

Yesterday being Missionary Sunday in the Park street Baptist church, Rev. J. J. Ross, of Toronto, preached to large congregations both morning and evening.

In the morning he took his text from the first chapter of John's Gospel, 3rd verse: "That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and truly our fellowship is with the Father and with His son, Jesus Christ."

The Rev. gentleman divided his discourse into two distinct parts. He said in this short chapter there was a great deal said about fellowship. There is four-fold fellowship mentioned. The writer of the book, John, says he is writing it that they may have fellowship with him. He also speaks of God the Father and God the Son being one in common, and says the blood of Jesus Christ, His son, cleanseth us from all sin. Fellowship means to share in common. Mr. Ross illustrated this by taking the imaginary case of two men who form a deal, each agreeing to pay the same amount. These men are responsible in common, that is, the one man is just as much responsible as the other, for the payment, or it may be called sharing in common. Take another instance: Two men are bearing a burden. Each one of them is bearing an equal weight. They are also sharing in common. If we would be Christians we will have to bear a great many burdens in common with Christ. In fact, we who are Christians are sharing His character, for one thing. The speaker thought that a child of God is in one sense of the word a divine being. Then we who are Christians share Christ's life. As Jesus died and was put into the tomb, he conquered death, in one sense of the term, for us. For all who are Christians know that they will only remain in the grave until Jesus comes and says unto them: "Come unto me." As long as Jesus sits on the right hand of God the Father, interceding for us, so long will the church live. But, when Jesus ceases to occupy that relation, then the church has cause to be alarmed. We have, in common with Christ, a great many things. We do not share with Christ all we ought to share. If we did, this would be a far better world. We would be more reverent, and more active, working Christians. It would not be necessary to have evangelists and missionaris to come and try to revive some of the spirit and power necessary to accomplish a good Christian work. There must have been some thoughts which filled the mind of Jesus. The speaker thought that Jesus' first thought was "That the world was dead.', If when we were in sin, we were viewed in the same light as if we were dead, then, when we became converted, we must be looked upon as alive. We have passed from death unto life. Before we are converted we are, as it were, as some idol of stone. We have eyes and we see not. Feet have we, but we walk not in the paths of righteousness, but Christ is willing to take us in, even before we ask Him. His attitude toward the world was Christ's second thought. There is no doubt Christ was a very active man. He always went about doing good. Can we say we are always doing what is pure and holy as He did? And now, dear brethren, said Mr. Ross in conclusion, I would urge each and everyone of you to give up all else and serve Him. One way in which you can do it is to help the missionaries and you will have a life full of blessings.

In the afternoon the Sunday school held an open service, when a special missionary programme, which had been prepared for the occasion, was rendered. Mr. Ross spoke most interestingly to the children. In the evening the speaker spoke from Matthew, xxii chap., 42nd verse: "What think ye of Christ?" During the service the choir sang, as an anthem, "Send the Light from Shore to Shore," and Mr. Ross, as a solo, sang "I am Resting in the Cleft."

PALM SUNDAY.

A Large Attendance at the Cathedral Yesterday Morning.

The ceremony of the blessing of the palms, prior to their distribution, at half-past ten o'clock mass, yesterday morning, at the Cathedral, was performed by His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor.

The sermon was delivered by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, whilst Rev. Father Scanlan was the celebrant of the mass. The attendance at this service was very large indeed, and to each member was handed a palm as they passed from the Cathedral.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Herb Dixon is visiting friends in town.

Mr. Hugh Pigeon is home from College for his Easter holidays.

Mr. H. A. Allan, of Cobourg, is up for a day or so on business.

Mr. W. E. Rankin, one of Campbellford's enthusiastic wheelmen, is in town to-day.

Mr. John Cumming spent Sunday in town with his mother, Mrs. Cumming, of Charlotte street.

Mr. J. W. Crosby has just returned from attending the funeral of his sister in Leamington.

Messrs. Fred J. Metheral and W. Crosby left for Galt this morning, where they will enter the photographing business.

Mr. James Marks, after an extended sojourn in Western Canada, is visiting his parents on Aylmer street, town.

Mr. Carter, of the Bank of Commerce, has been spending the last day or so in Toronto. He returned this morning.

Miss Jessie Bolster, of the Nicholls Hospital, has returned from Montreal where she has been spending a few weeks recuperating.

The Globe says: Mr. F. W. G. Haultain, of Regina, N.W.T., is staying in Peterborough, where he is on a visit to his uncle, General Haultain.

Mrs. O'Donovan, Lady Superintendent of the Nicholls Hospital, is in Montreal at the bedside of her brother, Mr. Fred Scheak, who is seriously ill.

Miss Evelyn de Latre Street, the talented violiniste of the Miss Beverley Robinson concert company, became indisposed at Mr. Edward's residence and was unable to return to Toronto on Saturday with the other members of the company. She has entirely recovered and returned to Toronto this evening on the 4.48 express.

Dr. King has just returned from New York, where he has been taking the course in operative surgery under Dr. Arpad Gester, the well-known specialist in that particular branch of the medical profession. Dr. Gester's classes are limited to a membership of six and are conducted at Mount Sinai hospital. Dr. King has been interested in the study of operative surgery along advanced lines, and took the course in order that he might be in possession of the newest and most modern ideas and practices upon the subject.

The EXAMINER has received a copy of the St. Louis, Mo., Vanguard, containing a poem of the late Wm. Telford. A letter has been received by the bard's family from the Vanguard, asking permission to publish poems from Mr. Telford's works. The journal evidently was not aware that the bard was tuning his lyre in a brighter land, and that he only lives on earth in his poetical works. Long after William Telford's mortal remains have crumbled into dust, his poems will delight the Scottish heart.

Wall Paper Hints.

The advice which is usually given on How to Paper a House is quite as sensible as the Guide to Manners, Rules of Dress and similar treatises which are more potential than logical. Nevertheless, the following hints will be as well to remember, bearing always in mind the character of the occupant:

Bedrooms should be papered in medium tones of colour, neither light enough to make a glare in summer nor daak enough to absorb the pale gleams of winter.

For a summer room let us take a hint from the cool, old fashioned parlour, whose closed blinds and dark walls were a refuge for the eye and mind.

A decided pattern in the paper is sometimes necessary to increase the size of a room. Fine vertical lines do this, whereas any large detached patterns have the opposite effect.

Blue walls, or those with blue lights in the colour, make a room seem large. This colour must be skillfully used, however. The shades of blue that wear the best on the nerves and senses are toned with gray, yellow or pink.

Grayish tones of red and pink are cool and restful, but beware of orange, save in a little dark den of a winter house.

There is nothing in Wall Paper Decorations which we cannot supply to harmonize with your personal tastes, your furniture or other surroundings.

Prices start at 4o a ROLL, for New Spring Styles.

Bad Roads.

Driving on the country roads has become extremely dangerous, as an upset is liable to occur every time a horse and cutter is turned out for another to pass. For a couple of weeks the roads will be bad and a warm rain to clear them up cannot come too soon.

See the Windows.

Look at the $10 dinner sets at China Hall if you want the bargain of your lifetime. A few of them are displayed in the Simcoe street show windows and it is worth your while looking at them. Inside we have new goods arriving daily now. A pretty lot of brass goods passed the customs to-day. Visit the store often. We like people to look through and admire or criticise.

Beverley Robinson Concert Company.

The Beverley Robinson Company which appeared in the Opera House, on Friday night, will make a tour of western Canada and on their return intend giving another concert in Peterborough—about the end of April. The company gave a very pleasing and satisfactory entertainment on their first appearance here, and it is probable that on their return they will be greeted with a large house.

Robert Hall's Dress-making Department.

Business has begun bright and active in Robert Hall's dress and mantle making department under the new management. Many busy fingers are now engaged on spring orders and the prospects for an exceptionally busy season looks good. This branch of Mr. Hall's business is under the supervision of a thoroughly practical young lady from Toronto, who has enjoyed a superior city experience, and who is highly recommended for turning out dresses costumes with the newest effects of the newest styles of the day. The facilities for turning out first-class work are unexcelled, and at the same time the unusually moderate charges adopted will be found to be one of the most pleasing surprises to the lady patrons of this store. dw.

New Rates on Grain.

The Grand Trunk Railway has notified flour shippers that flour consigned to Montreal between April 1st and May 15th, for export by water, will have benefit of current Montreal export rates, including free storage in Montreal up to May 15th. The Canadian Pacific have also notified shippers that flour and grains, millfeeds, malt, beans, oil cake, oil cake meal, flax seed meal, in barrels or bags, will be carried to Montreal for furtherance to ports of call on the Gulf Steamship Lines in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Cape Breton and Newfoundland, also in the Gaspe Peninsula, at the rates in effect at Boston on flour, etc., "for export," provided that such rates be lower than the current traffic rates to Montreal. These Boston or Montreal rates, which ever may be the lower, will include Montreal terminals, also storage until May 15th on shipment arriving before that date. Shipments consigned to Quebec for furtherance to Gulf ports will take Montreal rates as above, plus arbitrary 5 cents per 100 pounds.

PROMOTING INDUSTRIAL ENTERPRISES.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Having read your editorial in Saturday's EXAMINER, "Something Good for Peterborough," I felt it my duty to inform you that I appreciate the suggestion which you have offered and cannot see any good reason why it should not bear fruit, if properly handled, but it will not be under existing circumstances; and, in this connection permit me to offer a suggestion: Our present town treasurer is an intelligent young man, whose salary and duties are both too small, and I want to ask the Town Council to increase his salary twenty-five dollars per month for a six months' trial as Industrial Commissioner, with a reasonable allowance for postage and advertising. Let him devote all his time to the advancement of the industrial interests of the town, by endeavouring to secure the establishment here of every needed industry, be it great or small, and as his salary would be still too low, I would increase it by a percentage on the monthly pay roll of each new industry established through his instrumentality, to be continued for whatever time might be considered just and right. The existing circumstances referred to above are well known facts, that every member of the Council and every member of the Board of Trade as well as every town official has his own business to attend to, hence the reason why Peterborough is a town of 10,000, instead of being a city of 50,000 or 100,000 people. Nature has been lavish in her favours, but with few exceptions our citizens have shown little enterprise. Brains must be used, and used not for an hour every week, but continuously day after day, if a great work is to be accomplished. Bear in mind that the Industrial Commissioner is only the daily working representative of the Manufacturers' Committee of the Council and the Board of Trade, to whom he would at all times submit his plans and be advised. And, now, Mr. Editor, as the Board of Trade is composed of many of our best citizens, I have no doubt but they will say that your suggestion is a good one. Go on and finish the good work you have commenced; we will give you any assistance in our power, and as it will be a public benefit we will recommend the council to compensate you in a just manner, and not you alone, but any citizen that may do likewise, as it would be unjust for a corporation to accept the mental or manual labour of an individual without pay in proportion to the value of the services rendered.

Now, that the late financial panic appears to be passing into history, it would be an opportune time for every loyal citizen to put his shoulder to the wheel and help to make this fine town what Nature intended it to be, viz., a large and populous city.

March 30, 1896.

IT IS THE UNEXPECTED THAT HAPPENS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR.—In the columns of your last week's paper, I noticed an item, headed "A Bridgenorth Bear Story." Well in search of that wonderful bear with the long tail that the writer says it had, and it must be for with a dog, and a little boy like himself, he ran it to its hole the day before, thinking it was a racoon, and with all the knowledge that he thinks he possessed did not know any better till one of the sadder but wiser men, as he calls them, laughed him to scorn, at thinking that racoons had holes in the ground. Then I suppose he went home and had a sleep and dreamt it was a woodchuck, and as he is in the habit of dreaming and taking these for granted. While in our chase we ran across something which none of us could name, for it had neither fur nor feathers, and feeling alarmed at its appearance, as it could talk; and as we had not lost anything, we thought it better to pass on and let it alone, not thinking that there were so many untamed animals in Eunismore. But seeing is believing, and as we have seen; and if any of our brother sportsmen wish a day's sport, we will advise them to go to Eunismore, but to keep clear of the swamp on the edge of the lake where those peculiar birds hover around, as they can see a long distance, take it at my word, about half a mile to know all the weapons used by these men in search of Mr. Bear, as he has given them all a name in his so called Bear letter.

Hoppety, hoppety ho.
Why shall a spyer go?

And to get a new wig;
And that's why the spyers go.

Its Cause and Cure.

Cold weather, shivering, no heat to sustain, emaciated, because ill-nourished. This is either because the starchy foods are improperly acted upon by the digestive juices or the oily constituents of the food are not assimilated. Cod Liver Oil combined with Maltine and Hypophosphites supplies this deficiency, for the oil, rendered palatable, and easy of digestion, is at once assimilated and stored up in the form of andipose tissue. Besides this the maltine renders soluble the starchy foods—whose special function is to supply heat or fatty tissue—thus affording material necessary to supply the waste of the body. Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites is at once a food, body builder and medicine, incomparably superior to any preparation for the consumptive or debilitated. Verify this by trial.

MILBROOK BOE SPORTS.

—Although quite late in the season things have been lively at the rink in Millbrook this week. On Monday two rinks of our curlers went to Port Hope and were defeated by 26 shots. Millbrook took this badly and were determined to retaliate. On Thursday evening two rinks came from Port Hope and were defeated to the tune of 20 shots. The score was as follows:

On Friday afternoon two rinks came from Peterborough and were defeated by 10 shots. The score was as follows:

On Friday evening a match was played for the oysters. Messrs. Doak and Bateson, two first stone men, to decide their abilities as "skips" played for the oysters, with the result that Mr. Bateson proved himself to be the better skip. Skip Wood's and Skip Vance's rinks were played, the positions being reversed, the skips playing lead and the leads skipping. The following is the score:—

The ladies, as usual, played their hockey matches on Thursday and Saturday afternoons. By the way, a match is being talked of between the ladies and gentlemen, the latter to use the left hand only. This would, no doubt, be an interesting match. The gentlemen are going to insist on the ladies playing without hats and also with tight sleeves.

Friday night was benefit night for Caretaker McCurry. Over 300 turned out, which shows the appreciation that "Ed" is held in by the boys and girls. The band was on hand and livened matters with their new music. The rink is to close this week, much to the regret of all.

Two rinks of our curlers are going to Peterborough to-night.

The leap year carnival on Tuesday was a decided success, about 500 being present.

CRICKET.

As cricket is one of the first games played in the spring it is almost time that the local organization held its annual meeting, which it will probably do on the arrival of Mr. R. B. Rogers from Europe.

This season the practices will be held on the new grounds which have been laid out for the purpose on the new Nicholls' Park. It is hardly probable, however, that they will be in good shape for a couple of years yet, as the turf has not yet formed, grass being sown for the first time, on the new land, last season.

CURLIANA.

The finals in the Innes Medal Competition were played off on Saturday evening between Skip J. B. Pentland, of the Thistles, and Skip Weller, of the Granites. The game resulted in a victory for the Thistle representatives by six shots and consequently this trophy, as well as the Kendry Cup, will be held by the Thistles this year. The rinks playing on Saturday evening were composed as follows:—

Thistles.	Granites.
J Blaine,	R E Wood,
R H Fortye,	W Munson,
Geo Brown,	J Jeffreys,
J B Pentland, skip.. 16	Judge Weller, skip.. 10

Lindsay went to Toronto on Saturday and won from the Torontos by a score of 85 to 44, being ahead on all four rinks that went up.

LACROSSE.

The lacrosse club did not meet on Saturday evening, owing to the fact that a sufficient number of members did not congregate at the Oriental Hotel at one and the same time. It is generally understood, however, that although a representative will not be sent to the annual meeting of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, on Good Friday, yet the Peterboroughs will join the Association and make a bid for the championship. The club is trying to make arrangements to lease the old P. A. A. A. grounds for the season.

Amongst the amendments to the lacrosse rules which are proposed this year are the following, which will prove of interest to local players:—

By J. J. Craig, Fergus:—

Rule 4, sec. 3—Add "In town or village clubs no player shall be allowed to return to the junior or intermediate team during the same season after having played on more than one occasion with such senior team." "Juniors and seniors of the same club may play together in exhibition games."

Amend sec. 10 by adding, "A referee may refuse to accept a playing certificate if he has positive knowledge that the player holds a playing certificate of another club."

By the Orillia Lacrosse Club:—

Amend rule 13, sec. 2, so that same shall read as follows:—"Clubs winning the several district championships, both intermediate and junior, shall be entitled to play off for the intermediate championship, and the clubs intending to compete shall give notice in writing to the President of their intention to compete one week after the close of the season. The competition shall be as follows:—The President shall arrange a series of home and home matches between the clubs so giving notice. Two clubs to be pitted against each other, and the winner of the greatest number of goals in the two matches shall be declared the winner of the semi-finals and shall be entitled to play again for the final championship with other winners of the semi-final matches until there shall only be two clubs left winners in said matches. These two clubs shall be entitled to play for the final intermediate championship during the second Wednesday in September, on grounds convenient and suitable to the two clubs, competing, provided always should no agreement as to grounds be arrived at, the game shall be series of home and home games on dates arranged by the President of the association. That the receipts in the semi-final matches shall be kept by the home team, and in case the finals be played off at one place the receipts shall be divided equally after the railway expenses of each team (14 men) and the necessary expenses of the match are defrayed, or in case the receipts are not sufficient for such expenses the amount shall be divided between the clubs in proportion to the actual expenses incurred."

Amend sec. 6, art. 6, as follows:—In the fourth line strike out after "existence" the words "shall be ruled out of the C. L. A. until such time as the Judiciary Committee see fit," and insert the following words instead: "Shall have his certificate cancelled, and shall not be allowed to play lacrosse again during the balance of the season in any event."

Amend sec. C., art. 11, so that it may read as follows:—"The respondent shall be bound forthwith upon receipt of complaint and within three days therefrom to post, registered, to the President and Secretary of the Association, and the Secretary of the complainant, a short summary statement of their reply to the complaint, with an office copy of the affidavits or declarations in support thereof, and they shall also forward to the Treasurer of the Association the sum of $50 or $25, as provided in section A of this article."

Amend sec. E, art. 11, as follows:—"Strike out the word "two" and following words to end of section, and insert instead the following words, "Three members shall form a quorum in all cases."

Amend sec. F. art. 11, as follows:—Strike out all the section after the words "shall be" in the fifth line of said section and insert instead the following words:—"Conducted under judicial rules and the committee shall require witnesses to testify under solemn declaration as provided by "The Canada evidence act of 1893 and amendments thereto."

Add sec. 3, art. 12 to read as follows:—"A lacrosse player who applies for or causes to be applied for a certificate in more than one club during the playing season, shall immediately have his playing certificate cancelled by the President for the balance of the playing season, unless the original club to which he belonged shall have disbanded and shall have given notice of such disbanding to the President and Secretary of this association by registered letter, postage prepaid.

THE WHEEL.

One of the prettiest and most substantial wheels which has been exhibited in Peterborough this season is the "Cavalier," of Saginaw, for which Mr. Adam Hall is the agent. The wheel is a high priced one, but a special cut is being made to introduce it on the local market. It has all the 1896 improvements and can be seen at Mr. Adam Hall's, George street. tf

The Appreciation of Ladies

Has been won for MASON & RISCH Pianos in a great measure by the beauty and delicacy of their touch. Ladies appreciate the fact that it is not a tiring thing to play upon them. It is not necessary to thump a Mason & Risch Piano, or to have immense physical strength to produce a full rich tone from it. So beautifully and scientifically exact are our actions, that the maximum of effect can be produced by the minimum of effort. Again, we say, that this is a point greatly valued by ladies. It is not the only point by any means, but simply one that specially commends itself to the fair sex.

How the Kidneys Talk.

They have a Language of their own.

Kindeys can't talk, but if you don't treat them rightly you will hear from them. They have a language of their own, and this is how they speak to you; You stoop or strain, ride too far, walk too much, work too hard and rest too little; then your back aches, and your head aches, and you ache all over.

Oh! you say, it's because I'm tired out. Now, this isn't true. It's because your kidneys are tired.

They can only do just so much and the lifting, stooping, straining or exciting has retarded their action.

The heart has pumped the blood into them faster than they could filter it. The filter is overtaxed and becomes clogged. They cry for assistance in the many symptoms that follow.

There is dull headache, backache, pains in various parts of the body, scalding of the urine, high colored urine, puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the legs and all the other conditions that go with kidney disorders.

Why do the kidneys thus tell you their troubles in language so plain as to be unmistakable?

So that you may be warned in time. Will you heed the warnings?

If so, you will use Doan's Kidney Pills. Nothing starts the kidneys working so quickly. Remember "Doan's." It is the original kidney pill, the most reliable kidney pill, and the pill you can place full confidence in to cure you. For sale by

A CHICAGO TRUNK MYSTERY.

Man's Body Found Among Unclaimed Baggage Bought at Auction. Is This Another Holmes Murder?

Chicago, March 27.—A body in a zinc box enclosed in a trunk and a wooden box, which had been lying in a public warehouse for a year or more, was brought to light to-day. Whether it is a case of murder no one can tell.

The corpse was unrecognizable, but it was that of a medium sized man, with chestnut brown hair. Every care had been taken to put the remains in as small a space as possible, the body being doubled up and tied tightly with a strong rope.

The box was purchased by Philip Greis and Charles Hass as unclaimed baggage at an auction sale. The box was opened to-day.

When the outer box, which was addressed to G. M. Morgan, 166 Jefferson-court, was opened a green canvas trunk was found. A quantity of sawdust kept it from moving. After several wrappings of oilcloth had been removed the zinc box was discovered.

There is no such number as 166 Jefferson-court. Mrs. Frederick A. Mueller keeps a lodging house in 16 Jefferson-street. She said to-night that two weeks ago an expressman said he had been to Jefferson-avenue and Jefferson-court, but could not find any trace of Morgan. Mrs. Mueller had never heard of him, and the expressman left. He had a box of some sort for Morgan.

J. Wallace Waken of the firm of Waken & McLaughlin, said to-night that the box had been in their warehouse for fully a year, and came from the Michigan Central Railroad Co.

WAS A TORONTONIAN.

Major Leslie Who Suicided at Paterson, N.J., Well-Known Here Some Years Ago.

Paterson, N.J., March 27.—It has developed that the cause of Edward Leslie's suicide yesterday was despondency, the result of reverses in the courts, where he has been in constant litigation with his brother, who was connected with him in the manufacture of the snow plow invented by the deceased. Leslie was 55 years of age and leaves a widow and four children. He came to Paterson from Toronto a number of years ago. He was formerly a major in the 32nd Battalion of Canadian militia and retired retaining rank.

Major Leslie was a railway mail clerk 20 years ago, and lived in Toronto. Upon perfecting his snow plow about 15 years ago he removed to Paterson, N.J., where he began the manufacture of the plows. The news of his tragic death has recalled him to the remembrance of many Torontonians.

TRUTH.

There's a hand on the rudder that will not flinch,
There's no fear in the pilot's face
As he guides the worlds, like boats in a storm,
Through the rocking seas of space,
And whether they make the harbor at last
Beyond the shoals and the swell,
Or sail forever a shoreless sea,
I know that all is well.
And I learn these things from the heart of the wood,
From the solemn soul of the sea,
For never a bird in a wire-bound cage
Told all these things to me.

And the soul of man is a sunward bird,
With wings that are made for flight,
To pierce the fount of the shining day,
And float through the depths of night.
And I read these things in that Bible of God,
Whose leaves are the spreading sky,
And the legible face of the dark green sea,
With the eye behind the eye.
For truth is not closed in the lids of a book,
For its chainless soul is free,
And never a bird in a wire-bound cage
Told all these things to me.

For truth surges into the open heart,
And into the willing eye,
And streams from the breath of the streaming earth,
And drops from the bending sky;
'Tis not shut in a book, in a church, or a school,
Nor cramped in the chains of a creed,
But lives in the open air and the light
For all men in their need!
But the fish that swims in a goldfish vase
Knows not of the salted sea,
And never a bird in a wire-bound cage
Told all these things to me.

'Tis the voice that comes from the gilded peaks,
From the hills that shoulder the sky,
Through the topless hights of a man's own dreams
And who roams the earth with an open heart,
With an ear attuned to hear,
Will catch some broken chord of the sound
Whenever the voice comes near.
But not past the prison of custom or creed
Will the voice of the vision fleet;
And never a bird in a wire-bound cage
Told all these things to me.

Miss Barton and the Red Cross.

In all the excitement of the position in which she finds herself, Miss Barton maintains a steady calm, exercising a most wholesome influence over those equally devoted to the cause, though less well poised. One of the secrets of her power and of her great accomplishment is that no obstacle seems to discourage her. Indeed, she recognizes no obstacles. Few people understand what Miss Barton has done for the Red Cross in America; that through her agency alone the United States was induced to sign the international treaty, and that the organization is supported through her charity. The rent of the handsome house on Seventeenth street, opposite the War Department, which the society occupies, is paid out of her private purse, and her officers give their services gratuitously. The Red Cross has never received any aid from Congress, which will be news, doubtless, to many people, who have been under the impression that the society was supported, in part, at least, by the Government.—Washington Post.

Dentists are delighted at the admirable qualities of Ivorine, the new preparation for the teeth. Commendations from the dental profession carry the assurance that fragrant Ivorine is free from the admixture of enamel destroying substances, often the most marked characteristic of tooth powders and that it is the most efficient cleanser yet discovered. Ivorine cleanses from discolouration and whitens, hardens the gums, and imparts to the breath a delightful fragrance.

"RED-BIRD"

The general public invariably choose the simple and effectual device, and condemn the absurdity of addtions and multiplications. Simplicity is always a matter of subtraction rather than additions.

In search of the best whenever personal influence does not blind the sight, men's progress, from the complex to the simple.

Another important point is having the whole wheel made by the one firm. The chain and sprocket wheel require to be made by one man, as otherwise they never run perfectly. The man that invented the Wilson Chain made the Cyclodial Sprocket to fit the chain both on the RED-BIRD and no others.

Before the finished fruit come bud and blossom. Bud grown into blossom and blossom into fruit. And so girlhood merges into womanhood and the woman into motherhood.

The two most critical times in a woman's life are the times which make the girl a woman, and the woman a mother. At these times, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is of incalculable value. It turns danger into safety and pain into ease. It is a medicine which has but one object. It is good for but one thing. It strengthens and invigorates the organs distinctly feminine, it promotes regularity of the functions, allays irritation and inflammation, checks unnatural, exhausting drains, and puts the whole delicate organism into perfect condition. Almost all of the ills of womankind are traceable to some form of what is known as "female complaint." And this generally begins either at the time of puberty or childbirth, or at the "turn of life."

There are not three cases in a hundred of woman's peculiar diseases that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will not cure. Thousands of grateful women have been rendered healthy and happy by its use, and the experience and testimony of many of them has been included in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser.

When Dr. Pierce published the first edition of this work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, he announced that after 680,000 copies had been sold at the regular price, $1.50 per copy, the profit on which would repay him for the great amount of labor and money expended in producing it, he would give away the next half million free. He is now distributing, absolutely free, 500,000 of this most complete, interesting and valuable common sense medical work ever published—the recipient only being required to mail to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, at Buffalo, N.Y., 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains over 1000 pages and more than 300 illustrations. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are bound in strong manilla paper covers instead of cloth. Send now before all are given away. They are going off rapidly, therefore, do not delay sending immediately if you want one.

GIRL BULL FIGHTERS

SPAIN'S COLLECTION OF HANDSOME YOUNG AMAZONS.

Barcelona Produces This Strange Kind of Femininity Which Revels in Blood Spilling—The Female Matador Delivering the Death Blow.

The Barcelona bull fight is quite different from the same kind of sport in other Spanish cities, for it is there that the woman bull fighter is born and bred, and makes her introductory killing before an admiring audience. Some of the aristocracy of the old regime deplore the existence of the woman bull fighter, but the middle classes adore her, and every year marks an increase in the ranks of the feminine dabblers in blood.

In the old days the bull fighter was a gentleman of the bluest blood, who rode into the ring on an Arabian charger, worth almost his weight in gold. It was a great accomplishment in the old days, and the young gentleman who ranked as the cleverest bull fighter of his time was a man of vast social distinction. He was the pet of all the fine ladies of the land and the envy of all the men. Kings, Queens and Princes smiled upon him, and there was no favor too great to heap upon him. He was the idol of the people. He did not fight in the manner of to-day. He carried a simple javelin four feet long, and slew the bull unaided with his own hands, at the same time putting his spirited mount through a series of intricate evolutions, to show off the paces of the animal and his own horsemanship.

These were brave days for the young men of Spain. They were supplanted by the bull fighters, who entered the arena for hire. These men at first took more desperate chances than the others, and, moreover, rode poor, broken down horses, which were so slow and nerveless that they could not avoid the cumbersome charges of the enraged bull. The horses were gored, and this added to the pleasure of the populace. The more blood that is spilled and spattered about, the greater the satisfaction, of the audience. If some poor picador is laid low their delight is supreme. If the matador is hasty and kills the bull early in the fight without giving the beast a chance to gore some one, the audience is angry. It has been cheated of its share of blood.

The next step in the degeneracy of the bull ring, according to Spanish authorities, came with the appearance of the woman fighter. From the ranks of the Barcelona mill hands, girls with agile bodies, delicately curved physiques, handsome in face and form, come the women bull fighters. As mill hands they are virtually slaves, earning only enough to keep body and soul together. As bull fighters they are the idols of the people, the recipients of showers of adulation, with fine clothes and plenty of money to spend. They live under a halo of happiness and prosperity. No wonder it is the dream by day and night of all the pretty dark-eyed girls slaving away in the mills that they, too, will enter the arena some day and kill bulls amid the wild enthusiasm of the best people of the city.

It is almost needless to say that the most popular of these Amazons are the prettiest and the shapliest. They wear the same garb as the men bull fighters, and they ride the horse astride. If they rode with the side saddle it would be a most dangerous proceeding, for a firm seat is essential to safety of life and limb.

In the ring at some little distance it is quite impossible to distinguish the sexes. The girls are quite as tall as the men, and almost as heavily built. There is nothing feminine about them either when the fight really begins. They do not sicken at the sight of blood, but seem to gain ferocity by it, and they are happy in a scene which would cause the average western woman to faint in short order.

The horses which the women ride are the same broken down wrecks which the men use. In fact, the management finds that women are more reckless in exposing the horses than the sterner sex.

On the day set apart for the women bull fighters there are women only in the ring. The picadors ride in on the equine wrecks, garbed in the costume of the Spanish knights of the middle ages. The women look very handsome and ride with considerable grace. Following the picadors are the chulos on foot, who wear wonderful cloaks, and enough ribbon to stock a small shop. They group themselves so that the swirling mass of varigated color will aggravate the bull. After a short pause, in comes the matador with a naked sword in her hand. She, of course, is the queen of the day. The right hand holds the sword and in the left she carries the muleta, a slender stick with a bit of scarlet silk attached. The picadors take up a position in the centre of the ring with their long lances held firmly.

Then the bull is driven in. This is a critical moment. The experienced ones in a moment can tell if the bull is a natural fighter or whether he is peaceably inclined. If the former, they know that they will get their moneys worth in blood. If the latter, they have their doubts. The best fighting bulls are supplied by the Duke of Veragua, the descendant of Christopher Columbus, who visited the United States during the World's Fair. The Duke's income is supplied by this business.

If the bull is quiet and shows no disposition to attack at once, the picadors ride around him, prodding him where they can with their long lances. The chulos excite him by the flashing of their gorgeous colors. It is not in the bull nature to stand this for any length of time, and soon he begins to charge right and left. Horses are bowled over and gored. When the bull has been worked into a perfect frenzy the matador appears for her dainty task.

To kill him at one blow is considered bad form, although it is most difficult. The popular matadors stick him here and there until he streams blood in a score of places. When he is at his wildest the matador by a few deft steps works to his left side and at the proper instant stands up on her little toes to her full height, and with a downward thrust of the sword sinks it to the hilt immediately back of the shoulder blade. If the aim be true, the sword blade cuts the heart in two and the bull drops dead in his tracks. This is considered a great feat, and the lucky matador who accomplishes it the first time is caught in a shower of jewels, coins and flowers from all sides of the arena.

The cleverest women bullfighters in Spain to-day are Providencia Almeda and Maria Alvarado. They are great rivals and each has an immense following of admirers.

TURNED AWAY.

One Man's Overpowering Reason for the Exercise of Charity.

"Well, yes, I can spare you a dime, I guess," he said, as he produced the coin and handed it to an old man whom any officer might arrest on sight as a vagrant.

"What made you do that?" queried a bystander when the mendicant had passed on. "Don't you know that every cent given to that class is an encouragement to vice?"

"Wait a bit until you hear my story. I was only a boy when I first left England. Like some other boys, I got into a bit of trouble with the law, and, as a matter of fact, I ran away. Father was terribly put out with me, and the last words he spoke were to disown me. I wrote several letters home after reaching this country, but never one was replied to, and I finally decided to paddle my own canoe and make the best of it. Ten years after my arrival here, and when living in Chicago, I stood in front of a theatre one bitter cold night, and an old man came up and began to tell me a pitiful story. I was waiting and looking for a party who was to meet me, and therefore paid little attention to the beggar. I did not even give him a square look in the face. He turned from me to another with his story, and I heard him say:

"'I am hungry and penniless. For God's sake, have compassion on a poor old man!'

"'You go away or I'll have you arrested!' was the unfeeling reply, and the old man staggered off into the night.

"Well, later on in the evening, I got to wondering where I had heard the old man's voice before. I felt that it had a familiar sound, and yet I could not place it, and the thing worried me so that I could not sleep before midnight. Next morning, as I reached the corner of State and Sixteenth street on my way to work, I saw a crowd gathered before a door, and a boy told me the body of an old man who had been frozen to death on the street was inside.

"It came to me like a flash that this was the one who had addressed me, and I entered the place. They had his face covered, but I removed the handkerchief. As true as there is a heaven beyond us that was the dead body of my old father! I learned in time that mother was dead, and that father, finally forgiving me for my boyish prank, had set sail for America to hunt me up. Thieves plundered him of his every dollar, and he had tramped for a year like an old vagrant, hoping to find me. As I had not written to him for years he had no clue, but depended solely upon accident. Accident brought us face to face at last, but I repulsed him. He was penniless and hungry, and I refused him a paltry trifle. I tell you it went hard with me to call up those things with his pinched, pale face before me and his voice forever stilled."

"And so?"

"And so the old man who just left us may be hunting for a son or daughter. In any event, I cannot refuse them. Their words bring to mind that bitter night, and their hungry looks recall a face I shall never look upon again."—Detroit Free Press.

THEY COUNT BY THE SCORE

Yea, By the Hundreds, Those Who Have Been Cured of Dire Disease By South American Nervine.

A Remedy Widespread and Universal in its Application.

Where Other Medicines Have Failed and Doctors Have Pronounced the Cases Beyond Cure, This Great Discovery Has Proven a Genuine Elixir of Life.

The Same Verdict Comes From Old and Young, Male and Female, Rich and Poor, and From All Corners of the Dominion.

If it is the case that he who makes two blades of grass grow where only one had grown before is a benefactor of the race, what is the position to be accorded that man who by his knowledge of the laws of life and health gives energy and strength where languor, weakness and anticipation of an early death had before prevailed? Is not he also a public benefactor? Let those who have been down and are now up through the use of South American Nervine give their opinions on this subject. John Boyer, banker, of Kincardine, Ont., had made himself a hopeless invalid through years of overwork. At least he felt his case was hopeless, for the best physicians had failed to do him good. He tried Nervine, and these are his words: "I gladly say it: Nervine cured me and I am to-day as strong and well as ever." Samuel Silva, of Meaford, was cured of neuralgia of the stomach and bowels by three bottles of this medicine. Jas. Sherwood, of Windsor, at 70 years of age, suffered from an attack of paralysis. His life, at that age, was despaired of. But four bottles of Nervine gave him back his natural strength. A victim of indigestion, W. F. Bolger, of Renfrew, says: "Nervine cured me of my suffering, which seemed incurable, and had baffled all former methods and efforts." Peter Esson, of Paisley, lost flesh and rarely had a good night's sleep, because of stomach trouble. He says: "Nervine stopped the agonizing pains in my stomach the first day I used it. I have now taken two bottles and I feel entirely relieved and can sleep like a top." A representative farmer, of Western Ontario, is Mr. C. J. Curtis, residing near Windsor. His health was seemingly completely destroyed through la grippe. No medicine did him any good. "To three bottles of Nervine," he says, "I attribute my restoration to health and strength." Neither man or woman can enjoy life when troubled with liver complaint. This was the sentiment and feeling of W. J. Hill, the well-known bailiff of Bracebridge. "I was so bad," says he, "that one of my medical attendants said that I was dying, but, thank God, I am not dead yet. From the first few doses I took of Nervine I commenced to feel better, and am to-day restored completely to my usual health." A resident of the Maritime Provinces, in the person of S. Jones, of Sussex, N.B., says: "For twelve years I was a martyr to indigestion, constipation and headache. The treatment of several physicians did not help me. I have taken a few bottles of Nervine, and can truthfully say that I am a new man."

A shrewd observer of human nature has said: "The hand that rocks the cradle moves the world." How important it is, then, that health and strength should be made the lot of the mothers of this country. The women of Canada are ready by scores to tell of the benefits that have come to them through the use of South American Nervine. Mrs. R. Armstrong, of Orillia, wife of the colporteur of the Bible Society of that town, suffered for six years from nervous prostration. Medical assistance did not help. "In all," she says, "I have taken six bottles of Nervine, and can truthfully say this is the one medicine that has effected a cure in my case." Mrs. John Minwoody has been for 40 years a resident of Flesherton, and has reached the allotted three-score years and ten. Three years ago her system sustained a severe shock through the death of a daughter. Nervine was recommended. She perseveringly took 12 bottles of medicine, with the result that she is to-day again strong and hearty. Hundreds of women suffer from impoverished blood and weakened nerves. "All vitality," says Mrs. J. Wallis, of Brampton, "seemed to have forsaken my system. I was unable to get relief from any source until I commenced taking South American Nervine. The results are most satisfactory—greater far than I could have hoped for." It came within the way of Mrs. H. Stapleton, of Wingham, to treat under the best physicians, both in Canada and England, for heart disease and nervous debility, but she failed to get any relief. "I was advised," she says, "to take South American Nervine, and must say I do believe that if I had not done so I would not be alive to-day."

Newspaper space is too valuable to permit of further additions to these earnest words of testimony from those who know just what they are talking about. In the common language of the day, they have been there, and are speaking from the heart. The dozen or more witnesses that here speak have their counterparts by the hundreds, not only in the province of Ontario, but in every other section of the Dominion. South American Nervine is based on a scientific principle that makes a cure a certainty, no matter how desperate the case may be. It strikes at the nerve centers from which flows the life blood of the whole system. It is not a medicine of patchwork, but is complete and comprehensive in its application.

Granby Rubbers

It is no wonder that rubbers, which are not the same shape as the boot, should be uncomfortable. It costs money to employ skilled pattern makers but the result is a satisfactory fit. Each year new patterns are added, to fit all the latest shoe-shapes, and Granby Rubbers are always "up-to-date." They are honestly made of pure rubber, thin, light, elastic, durable, extra thick at ball and heel.

REDUCTION OF COUNTY COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVES.

An Outline of Hon. Mr. Hardy's New Bill now Before the House.

There seems to be a feeling throughout the province, which is becoming yearly more pronounced, that the people are decidedly over-governed. And, while it is very difficult to bring forward a scheme that will cover the municipal situation in its entirety, yet Mr. Hardy's bill with regard to County Councils is a step in the direction of reducing representatives, that will meet with approval of the electorate generally, though no doubt, as may be expected, it will not be endorsed by some reeves and deputy-reeves, who in the event of the new scheme coming into operation, may be omitted from the list of county councillors.

Mr. Hardy's Bill, if adopted, and there seems to be little doubt on that point, will come into effect at once, this year's county council being the last elected under the present system. Immediately after the House rises the counties of the provinces will be divided into districts by two independent judges. Peterborough county will be divided into six districts, for the purpose of electing twelve county councillors, each district electing two representatives; and each elector may vote for two candidates or he may cast both his votes for one candidate. The judges will be guided in the division of the county into districts by the assessed value, distance, population and any other matter that may be involved in an equitable division. It will be observed that the Peterborough county council will, next year, be composed of twelve councillors instead of twenty-three as at present. The mode of election will be just the same as at present, with the exception of the increased district and of nominations, the bill requiring that the nomination paper of each candidate must be signed by twenty electors and filed with the county clerk before the 1st of December of each year. This year the reeves and deputy-reeves of the present county council will be eligible for election to the county council, but they will not be elegible for election for both township and county councillors, the idea being to have the county and township councils entirely distinct in composition. While the county council of Peterborough cannot be said to be as unwieldly and expensive as some other county councils in the province, still the bill includes all the counties except the provisional county of Haliburton which has only nine members at present. The expense under the new system will no doubt be very much less, especially in the places where the number of representatives is large. It is expected that as much as $50,000 will be saved in the province every year in actual expenses of county council sessions. Fewer members will result in shorter sessions, and the very best men in the districts will naturally find their places in the county councils. The object of the bill is to lessen the expense, which it seems likely to do, and to add to the effectiveness of the county councils. The saving of expense is an important consideration—a saving of $50,000 a year in the province will amount to half a million dollars in ten years, and in a score of years will amount to a million.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy and will do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P. O. Box 88, Jarvis, Ont.

HAVELOCK.

Mr. W. J. Ingram, D.D.H.C.R., of Ottawa, spent about two weeks in town resuscitating the Independent Order of Foresters and met with the success he worked for in such a good cause. He found the court here almost dormant, but before he left he had succeeded in initiating twelve new members and securing four other applications. These with the fifteen old members and five card members will give us a court numbering thirty-six. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W J Wiseman	C R
T Curtis	V C R
G Liscombe	P C R
Rev Tarrant	Chap
J W Bryans	F S
A Ormiston	R S
T Milne	Treas
W Thrope	S W
J Black	J W
F W Jeffs	S B
W Embleton	J B

Mr. E. Skitch was in town on Tuesday arranging for the District meeting of the Royal Templars of Temperance, which is to be held here on Good Friday, in the Presbyterian church.

A sleighing party drove down to Mr. G. Brown's, Trent Bridge, on Tuesday night, where a pleasant evening was spent in dancing, etc. It is needless to say they were royally entertained.

The oyster supper given by the friends at Preneveau in aid of the stipend fund of the Methodist church was a grand success. Havelock was well represented and did ample justice to the spread.

The prospect for a busy summer in Havelock is good. In addition to the new Methodist church, several private residences will be erected.

The firm of Stephenson & Co., who have carried on business here for a number of years, have moved their stock to Norwood. Mr. Stephenson was one of the first business men in Havelock, having opened out a general store when the C. P. R. was building the road through here

The Rev. R. McKnight, of Peterborough, occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian church on Sunday.

Operations at the ice-house will start in about two weeks. A few cars of beef were iced this week.

Mr. Thos. Cummings is in a state of convalesence and will soon be able to take his place at the anvil.

Mr. Jas. Graham, of the Graham House, purchased a fine horse from Mr. Crowe, of Dummer, on Monday.

Mr. C. E. Hubbs, of Peterborough, was in town last week transacting business.

Mr. George Keir has moved his family from Campbellford to Merrickville, where he is engaged in a woollen mill.

Mr. Andrew Knlewasser returned on Monday from Michigan, where has been preaching during the past three months.

While engaged shovelling snow at Myrtle during the blockade, Mr. Benj. Haig had the misfortune to freeze both of his feet.

The widow of the late Mr. Edwards has decided to remove to a farm in Belmont, about ten miles north of here.

The Canadian order of Foresters organized last week with a charter membership of twenty members.

Miss Flynn has returned after spending a few weeks with her parents at Mountain Grove.

Belmont council have made application to the Home for Incurables at Toronto, for the admission of Mr. Jos. Covert. The will of the late Mrs. Jas. Foley of Norwood, donates $200 per year to the institution for that purpose.

At an early day our residents will probably be strolling beneath the glimmer of electric lights. One of our most prominent citizens is now negotiating with the Royal Electric Company for the installation of a first class system and we have no doubt but that the contract will be given soon. The council may expect to be waited upon in reference to the lighting of our streets.

Roadmaster Alex. McAuley had under his charge three hundred men during the time of the blockade. He tells us the daily consumption of food was one hundred and fifty loaves of bread and on hundred pounds of canned meat besides cheese and other articles of food. There were four men constantly engaged in cutting bread and making sandwiches.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Last evening St. Paul's choir sang "I Will Praise Him," as an anthem.

The anthem rendered by the George street choir, last evening, was entitled "Praise ye the Lord."

The morning anthem in St. Paul's was entitled "They That Trust," and was exceptionally well rendered.

The attendance at the George street Sunday school numbered six hundred and fifteen, including teachers and scholars, yesterday afternoon.

The Charlotte street Methodist church choir sang "Protect us Through the Coming Night," as an anthem, last evening. The selection was most pleasingly given.

Miss Hendren sang the offertory solo in the Charlotte street church yesterday morning, in her usual good tone.

St. Andrew's choir sang as an anthem last evening "The Lord is My Strength." The anthem was sung in unison and was harmoniously rendered.

"Now to the Lord in nobler song" was the title of a very pretty anthem, which was sung by St. Andrew's full choir yesterday.

Both the morning and evening services, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Phelps, Millbrook, at the George street church, yesterday, the Rev. W. R Young occupying the pulpit of the Millbrook Methodist church.

A sermon, appropriate to Holy week, was preached by Rev. J. C. Davidson, at St. John's, last evening. After the benediction the congregation remained kneeling and sang the impressively solemn "Story of the Cross."

Miss Hendren and Mr. John Millar took the solo in the anthem "Radiant Morn" at the Charlotte street church yesterday morning. The duet was taken by Miss Florence Hall and Martha Stevens. The entire anthem was most effectively rendered.

A BANKER RESIGNS

And Will Become the Liberal Candidate

IN OPPOSITION TO MR. BERGERON

How Millionaire Anderson of Montreal Left Fortunes to His Relatives—Divinity Students Get Stuck for $500—They Wanted to Sell Mutton Pies.

Montreal, March 30.—(Special)—There was quite a surprise to-day in banking and political circles when it was learned that Mr. Alphonse de Martigny, for 19 years cashier of the Jacques Cartier Bank, had resigned his position to accept the Liberal candidature in the County of Beauharnois, against Deputy Speaker Bergeron. Mr. De Martigny, who opens his campaign at Valleyfield on the 10th of next month, will be succeeded in the Banque Jacques Cartier by Mr. Tancrede Bienvenue, for many years assistant cashier.

The will of the late Robert Anderson provides for the deceased's relatives as follows: Mrs. Allan and Mrs. Dickson, sisters of the deceased millionaire, $250,000 each, while the children of the two ladies just mentioned will each receive $75,000. The balance to be divided equally among the grand nephews and nieces. The story set afloat to the effect that the bequests to the charitable institutions had been subsequently revoked is a canard, pure and simple.

The community is exercised over the case of several Presbyterian divinity students, who, being seized of a speculative turn of mind, paid to the British Empire Exposition $500 for the privilege of selling mutton pies on the grounds. Mr. Stiles has left the country, and the embryo divines are minus their boodle.

The Court of Appeals to-day confirmed Judge Dugas' judgment, fining J. B. Wood $50 and costs for a violation of the Insurance Act.

A committee of Protestant ministers appointed by the Ministerial Association has presented a report condemning the Remedial Bill.

The increase so far in the March earnings of the Montreal Street Railway over the same month last year reaches $11,800.

P. Grace & Co., grocers, have failed; liabilities $95,000. The chief creditors are Banque du Peuple, $23,900; Molsons Bank, direct $5000, indirect $19,800; M. Lefebvre & Co., $13,000.

H. R. Gray, druggist, was nominated to-day by the Conservatives to contest St. Lawrence division, but he will probably not accept.

SMALLEY ON ENGLISH SOCIETY.

Mr. Gladstone, He Declares, Alone Has Dared to Violate Social Rules.

New Haven, March 30.—George W. Smalley spoke last night under the auspices of the Phi Beta Kappa Society at Yale on the subject, "Social Life in England." Mr. Smalley declared that not wealth, fame, honor, nor even rank alone gave position in English society, and added that many of the titled personages of the realm were outside the gates of what is known as society. He said that position in society in England was obtained and held only by a combination of leading traits of mind and character.

Mr. Smalley interspersed his talk with anecdotes illustrating the different phases of London society life. He spoke of the manifest regard for the company of others by the members of London society, and declared that Mr. Gladstone was the only person in the last half century who had ever been able to ignore this rule without paying the penalty. He enumerated many of Gladstone's eccentricities, showing him to be "arbitrary at all times in society.

In concluding, Mr. Smalley called the English "the greatest of actual races," and said that we had much to learn from them, they from us, and the world from both."

WHO IS MR. MODJESKA'S ENEMY?

Two Attempts Within Two Weeks to Kidnap His Little Daughter

Chicago, March 30.—Within the last two weeks, two attempts have been made to kidnap the 4-year-old granddaughter of Mme. Modjeska, the actress, in this city. The first attempt was made while a nurse girl had the child out for a walk. A man seized the child and started to run. The nurse followed him several blocks, screaming for help, before she succeeded in recovering her charge.

That night Ralph Modjeska, the father, received an anonymous letter, warning him to leave the city under penalty of losing his child if he refused.

The second attempt to steal the child was made a few days ago. Since then, Modjeska has received numerous threatening letters, and has been taking active steps to ascertain their source. He says he cannot account for the attempts to steal his child, and drive him out of the city.

FROM OUR CANADIAN LONDON.

The River Thames on a Rampage—Bicycle Track Six Feet Under Water.

London, Ont., March 30.—The water in the River Thames rose gradually until 4 this morning, when it reached within a couple of feet of high-water mark. London-westers spent an anxious night. The breakwater at Tecumseh Park was undermined and the bicycle track, the finest in Canada, is now under six feet of water, and will likely be badly damaged. The caretaker's house was the only one flooded in the village.

A. W. Oliver, the vinegar manufacturer, appeared at the Police Court this morning on a charge of making vinegar illegally. He pleaded guilty, and was fined $20 and costs.

A HUSBAND'S AWFUL CRIME.

His Wife Strangled and Buried in a Field on the Farm.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 30.—A cold-blooded murder, of which Mrs. Bessie Rech was the victim, was committed here on Sunday last, John Rech, the husband of the murdered woman, being suspected of the crime. Rech, who was formerly a saloonkeeper with his wife and infant child occupied a farm on the outskirts of the woods at Estellville, in a lonely and secluded locality. The last seen of Mrs. Rech was on Saturday last, when she was at May's Landing purchasing groceries. On Sunday, when a neighbor called at the homestead and enquired for her, the husband said she was out for a walk. Nothing further was thought of the matter until Thursday, when Rech loaded up a crate of poultry and, taking his child with him, drove to May's Landing, disposed of his load and disappeared.

Samuel Jones, a neighboring farmer, knowing that Rech had not taken his wife with him and not finding her around the place, became suspicious, and, recalling the fact that a short time ago Mrs. Rech was shot by her husband, accidentally, as it was supposed, he instituted a search. In crossing a field Jones stumbled across a mound of fresh earth near a pine tree, which had recently been felled. Assistance being secured, the ground was opened and the body of Mrs. Rech was found two feet below the surface. The body was encased in two sacks, which met at the waist. No wounds were visible, but a handkerchief tied tightly around the neck and a quantity of blood from the nose told too plainly the manner of her death.

The woman had evidently died without a struggle, her hair when found being neatly done up and undisturbed. The intention of the murderer in felling the tree had evidently been to cover the grave with the branches, but no miscalculated the distance, and the tree, falling on one side, left the mound exposed. A warrant has been issued for the suspected man.

DEATH OF COL. AMYOT, M.P.

The Member for Bellechase Found Dead in His Bed at His Home in Quebec.

Quebec, March 30.—Col. G. Amyot, M.P. for Bellechasse, was found dead at his residence this morning. He came home from Ottawa Saturday, March 21; and was laid up all last week with an attack of la grippe, but was not considered dangerously ill. Death is supposed to have been caused by a sudden attack of congestion of the lungs.

Lieut.-Col. Guillaume Amyot belonged to one of the oldest French families in Canada, descending directly from Philip Amyot, who, with his wife, Ann Convent, came to Canada from Chartres, France, in 1635. He was the son of the late Guillaume Amyot, by Louise, daughter of the late Major Jean Gosselin. He was born at St. Gervaise, in the County of Bellechasse, on the 9th of December, 1843. He married, in 1874, Marguerite Alice Gertrude, daughter of Mr. Arthur Pennee, of London, England. He was called to the bar of the Province of Quebec in 1867. Col. Amyot was attached to the 9th Battalion Voltigeurs de Quebec, and served in the Northwest rebellion. He was first returned to Parliament in March 1881, and re-elected at the general elections of 1882, 1887 and 1891.

The deceased gentleman sat as a Conservative in the House until the Riel affair, when he left the ranks of the Government supporters and became a member of the Opposition. He was elected as a follower of Hon. Mr. Laurier in 1891, but a few months after the general election announced his intention of re-uniting with the Conservative party, and since then had steadily supported the Government.

LUMBERMEN IN HARD LUCK.

They Have Cut Plenty of Logs, But Cannot Get Them Out of the Woods.

Quebec, March 30.—Several of the Quebec lumber merchants, now in England to make contracts for summer shipments of lumber from Canada, cable that the English demand for Canadian lumber is better than last year, and that prospects are promising for a fairly active business season. On the other hand, there is some fear here that shippers may have difficulty in filling their English orders on account of the prospect of a short supply of logs at most of the mills. The "cut" of logs in Canadian woods, and especially in the Ottawa district, has been as large as usual, but the winter has been a most unfavorable one for getting the logs out of the forest. During the first part of the season there was not sufficient snow for logging, and within the last few weeks there has been such a continual succession of storms that it has been virtually impossible to keep bush roads open to draw out logs in such a depth of snow. The water of the streams will, doubtless, therefore, be too low for successful driving of logs before they can be got together in them. This is unfortunate for Canadian lumbermen, for last year, when lumber was plentiful here, the market was inactive, and there was a break in the prices of all but superior grades. The English market is limited and conservative, easily overstocked and demoralized, and takes only the best qualities of timber and lumber.

The principal market for Canadian lumber is in the Uited States, and any overstocking or depression in that market is immediately felt by Canadian lumbermen. This market has become enormously overstocked with inferior grades produced in western Ontario, during the last and present seasons, the result being that Canada's western lumber trade is in a thoroughly demoralized condition, aided by the increasing quantities of Southern pine cut each year, which is finding a market farther and farther north, until now, it is competing with Ontario coarse lumber in the United States as far north as the south shore of Lake Ontario.

The Siberian Railway Scheme.

London, March 28.—The Standard will to-morrow publish a despatch from Berlin stating that the Czar has sanctioned the long-meditated modifications of the Siberian Railway scheme, by which the line will be taken from Tchita to Port Arthur, China, the despatch adds, will in exchange for important Russian concessions, cede Port Arthur to Russia instead of making the place a free port.

WILL IT FIZZLE OUT?

Possibility of a Settlement Said Said to be Slim.

MANITOBA'S GOOD FAITH A FACTOR

Because Separate Schools Cannot be Put on the Statute Books, as the Legislature Was Elected to Oppose Them—How it is Viewed at the Capital.

Winnipeg, March 30.—(Special)—The School Commission had no meeting today, but the Provincial Ministers held a protracted Cabinet council. Rumor had it that the Ministers are preparing a sort of ultimatum to the commissioners; also, that they considered the proposal from the other side, which ever it was, if either can only be guessed. Most prophets assert, however, that the terms of settlement offered by the commissioners, though the most reasonable, yet, call for Separate schools, and as this invades the principle upon which the present Legislature was elected, the Ministers are endeavoring to evolve a counter proposal, which, though conceding the principle of Separate schools, will amount to the same thing in practice, as such a plan cannot be placed on the statute book, but will depend on the good faith of the Manitoba Government in administering the present law with slight amendments in the most liberal spirit. There is a fear that it will not be acceptable to the representative of the minority unless the Remedial Bill is passed at Ottawa as a sort of guarantee. This is what Manitoba resents and, if persisted in, it may render the efforts of the commissioners futile.

The position seems to be this: Manitoba is willing to grant in practice all that can reasonably be asked; indeed, all that is wanted, if left free to do so. But the Manitobans decline to enact a dual system of education. If the commissioners can persuade the hierarchy to rely upon the honor of Manitoba, rather than expect the "pound of flesh," peace can soon be restored. Considering the experience of the minority during the past five years, this is asking a good deal, but it would appear the best policy and there are strong hopes of the matter being settled that way.

HOW IT IS VIEWED AT OTTAWA.

The Possibility of a Compromise Said to be Very Slim.

Ottawa, March 30.—(Special)—The news from Winnipeg to-night respecting the school negotiations is not so good as yesterday. Although it is not possible to locate the precise authority for this view, it would seem that some of the Ministers have let hints drop to their supporters that a hitch occurred, and these have spread rapidly through the lobbies. A caucus of leading French-Canadians was held in the chambers of Speaker Ross of the Senate to-night, when the nature of the proposals and counter proposals, it is said, was communicated to the Quebec members. To-morrow will settle the point whether a compromise will be reached. One Minister informed me to-night that the possibility of a settlement was very slim.

THE TRIAL OF KURSCHINSKI.

A Sensational Murder Case at Berlin is Now Before the Jury.

Berlin, March 30.—As soon as the jurors in the Kurschinski murder case were sworn in this afternoon, Mr. Johnston, Crown prosecutor, made his opening address. He briefly reviewed the evidence, pointing out that it was all circumstantial, but that such evidence was frequently more convincing than that of eye-witnesses. The Crown brought a number of witnesses, who gave strong testimony against the prisoner, but it is believed by some that their case is too weak to convict, and that the man will be acquitted. One witness, Detweiler, at whose house prisoner was before and after the crime, swore that in the morning prisoner had no scratch on his forehead, while in the evening there were several deep ones. His wife concurred in what Detweiler said. A number of girls, Misses Liles, Kaufman, and Mrs. Osburg, testified as to hearing Kurschinski threaten Jeanerette in the swamp on the Monday previous to the murder, during which the Pole made the significant remark, "If I don't have berries, you won't either. Just you wait." At the same time he waved his fists threateningly. At 6.30 the trial was adjourned until to-morrow morning.

MAX O'RELL SAYS HE IS TIRED.

The Versatile Frenchman Will Quit the Lecture Platform in America.

Louisville, March 30.—Paul Blouet, the versatile Frenchman, who is known to the lecture-going public as "Max O'Rell," has just returned from a tour through the Southern States. He expects to leave America about April 15.

"I have had enough of the lecture platform," said Mr. Blouet, "Not that I have been unsuccessful or that my American trip has been unpleasant or unremunerative, but I am tired.

"I laugh at the American people for working so hard, and then work myself to death. I need rest, and when I sail for home, I shall bid good-bye to America as a lecturer. I may visit you again, but not as a public lecturer, the work is too hard."

HAMMOND AT CAPE TOWN.

Permitted to Leave the Transvaal Under £20,000 Bail.

Cape Town, March 30.—John Hays Hammond, the American mining engineer, who is one of the members of the Johannesburg Reform Committee, who were arrested on the charge of sedition, arrived here to-day. He was permitted to leave the Transvaal owing to the condition of his health, but before he left his bail was increased to £20,000. Other arrested members of the committee are still under guard at Pretoria.

These and similiar expressions now heard upon our streets by the small boys may be taken as an evidence of Spring time near at hand. FAVOURABLE OPINIONS OF COMPETENT JUDGES.

AS TO REDUCING THE NUMBER OF TOWN COUNCILLORS.

The Abolition of the Ward System—Opinions of Mayors and Officials of Important Towns.

Mr. Stratton's bill for the abolition of wards and the reduction of the number of town councillors, introduced into the House early in the session, was withdrawn, after discussion, in the hope that, public attention having been drawn to the fact that a reduction in the number of members of councils was desirable and the ward system undesirable, the Government might take up the question and introduce a measure along the lines indicated. That Mr. Stratton's proposal seemed to meet with the approval of those best qualified to judge of its merits, is shown by the following correspondence:—

Mr. W. W. Cowan, Mayor of Oshawa, writes:

"My opinion is that your Bill, reducing the number of representatives in cities or towns is a move in the right direction. I have always claimed that the municipality of Oshawa had its public affairs bettered administered by a reeve and deputy-reeve and four councillors than now, under a mayor, three reeves and twelve councillors. Sixteen representative men, with leisure time at their disposal, cannot be found in a busy community of four or five thousand souls."

Mr. J. Walker Quinlan, Mayor of Port Hope, writes as follows:

Your favour of the 10th inst., was duly received enclosing bill, "An Act Respecting City and Town Councils." I have delayed reply to ascertain the opinions of the members of the council respecting it. They appear to agree almost unanimously with the views I expressed to you when in Toronto, viz., That the provisions are good as far as they go, but that they do not go far enough, as it would still leave too large a body for towns like our own, with a population of less than 5,000, and we think that three councillors, together with a Reeve, two deputies and the Mayor, should be sufficient for the management of the town's affairs, and by having fewer, much better, men might be had. The public would then be more careful in the selection of those elected, and it would tend to the better management of the town's affairs. Clause doing away with ward elections is strongly endorsed, but there is another point on which the Bill does not touch which I consider of great importance, viz., qualification. No one I think, should be allowed to qualify on his wife's property, nor on rentals where the tenant nominally pays taxes, he being assessed as tenant, and having practically no interest in the place, only chattels that could be moved out of the country any day, leaving landlord to pay taxes, or perchance by agreement in rental deducting any taxes paid out in rent. What security has a town in such a case? Nothing can be recovered from the man who qualified on his wife's property, no matter what his acts, and the tenant with nothing but his chattels is not always a responsible party, though he is often elected as a councillor.

Mr. W. H. Jones, Mayor of Ingersoll, says:—

In reply I may say, I am and have been for some time, strongly in favour of the step proposed, as I believe our councils are too unwieldly, as at present constituted; and I also believe that better work would be accomplished with smaller councils. I am also strongly convinced, that to do away with the pernicious ward system in the election of councillors, would also be a step in the right direction, as there would be a tendency to elect better men, and I think a better class of representative men would stand for these positions, if the election was to be by the town or city at large, instead of, under the present system by ward.

The following resolution was adopted in reference to the subject, by the Ingersoll council.

Resolved that this council approve of the principle involved in the bill submitted to the Ontario Legislature, by Mr. Stratton, and that the clerk be instructed to send Mr. Stratton a copy of this resolution.

Mr. G. G. Albery, town clerk of Meaford, writes as below:

The draft bill was laid before the council and pretty fully discussed, when a vote was taken for an expression of the council's opinion of of the same. The members were evenly divided as to the advisability of supporting it, Mayor Johnson being one of those approving of the bill.

The bill of course would make but a trivial reduction in the number of the councillors in this municipality, but it was contended that the abolition of the wards was preferable.

The following is from the Mayor of Chatham:

Your bill is in the right direction; trust it will be adopted by the Legislature.

The town council of Lindsay passed the following resolution:

Moved by Mr. Ray, seconded by Mr. Brady,—"That this council hereby endorse the reply of His Worship the Mayor, to the enquiry from J. R. Stratton, Esq., M.P.P., who enquired the views of this council as to a Bill now before the Legislature, amending the Municipal Act in relation to the number of councillors or aldermen to be elected by cities and towns."—Carried.

And Mr. R. Smith, Mayor of Lindsay, adds:

I have your favour of 10th, and assure you of my hearty approval of your Bill respecting "City and Town Councils." I have seen most of my colleagues and I am safe in saying that it meets with their approval also. I have no doubt if it becomes law our municipality will take the first opportunity of giving it a trial.

Mr. J. F. Wills, Alderman, of Belleville, writes:

I may say that the people are very strongly in favour of it and the bill was approved of by the Executive Committee of the City Council, but the advisability of memorializing the Government to have it passed was refused in the council on Monday night, although the majority were not opposed to the principle of reduction.

Mr. W. Kennedy, Mayor of Owen Sound, writes:

I am decidedly in favour of your bill respecting city and town councils. There are entirely too many members in our town councils at present. All the important bylaws require the vote of the people and their sanction to give them effect, and the ordinary work of town councils would, in my opinion, be better and more expeditiously performed by a less number of councillors. I think a council composed of six councillors and a mayor would be quite sufficient for towns. In Owen Sound we have a mayor, four reeves and eight councillors (13 in all). Now if we had a mayor and six others it would be ample, and it is the opinion of many that better men would be obtained.

Mr. T. W. Vardon, Mayor of Galt, writes as below:

I believe your bill is an improvement on the present system, and hope that it may be passed. I have discussed the matter with a number of our councillors, and they are favourably disposed towards the bill. I believe it would be an improvement if you were to add a clause, whereby the mayor and council would be elected for two years instead of one, one half retiring annually.

Mr. John M. Bothwell, Mayor of Barrie, writes:

As Mayor of Barrie it affords me great pleasure to inform you that I am heartily in accord with the provisions of your municipal bill now before the Legislative Assembly and you have my very best wishes that it may quickly become law.

NORTH HARVEY.

Mr. Noxon Harris, foreman for the Kennedy and Davis Co, brought out his men from his lumbering camp on Friday last. He was in Galway, and put the logs in Bass lake. He had a good working camp of 17 hands, and commenced cutting in October. They put out 8,000 pieces, cutting pine, basswood, hemlock and cedar. The drawing was done in six weeks, with an average of four teams, over a haul of 2½ miles, with roads only middling, for the deep snow and crust gave some trouble. The drive will be brought down the creek, a job that takes about six weeks, and will be cut into building and dimension stuff at the Nogey's Creek mill. The drawing is a different thing now to what it used to be. The old sleigh was a narrow runner and three cross beams; the Cheboggan sleigh is a very broad runner, and only one bunk, the bunks are made very wide, and where they used to tinker around with three or perhaps four small logs, the cheboggans slip and slide and bob about with a load of 17 or 18 logs of hemlock, averaging 14 inches, and in length varying from 16 ft. to 22 ft. No bad sort of a load that, and the broad runners don't cut the road. Some of the cedars 30 and 40 feet long were drawn on two sleighs, the hind one being attached with crossed chains, that enabled it to turn corners without difficulty, and sixteen of these logs were put on a load. Mr. Harris introduced the plan of loading with a rope and block, and it was found to work well. On the whole the camp did a good winter's work, and the mill will be well supplied with what Mr. Davis buys from jobbers. It is said that a header will be put in the mill this year. This machine makes barrel heads from basswood, and if the demand is favourable it will be a desirable thing for the neighborhood, as it gives a market for short, small and crooked basswood, unfit for anything else, being cut into four foot bolts. Mr. Harris is a capable boss, popular with those who work with him, and yet careful of the interests of those he is engaged for.

thinness

The diseases of thinness are scrofula in children, consumption in grown people, poverty of blood in either. They thrive on leanness. Fat is the best means of overcoming them. Everybody knows cod-liver oil makes the healthiest fat.

In Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil the taste is hidden, the oil is digested, it is ready to make fat.

When you ask for Scott's Emulsion and your druggist gives you a package in a salmon-colored wrapper with the picture of the man and fish on it—you can trust that man!

PURE CANADIAN!

Scott's Sarsaparilla No Imported Decoction.

The Raw Ingredients Are Brought Here and Prepared.

Foreign Sarsaparilla Cannot Compete with it on Account of a Heavy Customs Duty—That is why They are so Much Poorer than Scott's.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is of purely Canadian manufacture. The ingredients are imported and the medicine compounded and put up here.

That is the reason no American or foreign preparation can begin to compare with it in quality or strength.

The Canadian duty on imported patent medicines is 50 per cent. on the selling price. Hence on a bottle of imported Sarsaparilla that sells for one dollar the customs authorities collect fifty cents. Yet these imported medicines have to compete with those of Canadian manufacture which have no duty at all to pay.

Of course it is impossible for them to do so. To meet the duty without increasing the price so much less must be spent in the medium itself. Reducing the cost of the ingredients in a bottle of Sarsaparilla by fifty cents so as to cover the duty makes the medicine worthless.

Raw Sarsaparilla.

The manufacturers of Scott's under the Canadian tariff have the right to import all their raw material free. In Canada the real genuine Sarsaparilla is prepared. It is put up good and strong.

Saddled by no duty, Scott's Sarsaparilla outdistances in strength, purity and health-giving qualities anything offered on the Canadian market. Those who prefer medicines simply because they have foreign names should ponder over this. If Scott's Sarsaparilla were made in the United States and sent to Canada it could not be sold here for less than $1.50 per bottle, the extra 50 cents would be for duty. If it had to be sold at $1, as some Sarsaparillas are, the amount of the duty would have to come off the cost of the medicine.

Purely Canadian.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is made in Canada, the bottles it is sold in are made in Canada, the labels on the bottles are printed in Canada. The boxes and wrappers it is sold in are Canadian Everything about it is Canadian, and that is the reason it has made its reputation as the best and most thorough blood purifier and spring tonic to be had anywhere. Good cleaning out medicine at this season of the year is an absolute necessity in every household. Purchasers are foolish to experiment on unknown preparations when they can get an established medicine like Scott's to whose curative properties thousands of leading Canadians testify. More to-morrow.

JUST WANTS TO MAKE MONEY.

Paderewski's Manager Says the Pianist Has No Use for Americans

Cincinnati, O., March 30.—Hugo Goerlitz, manager of Paderewski, arrived with the pianist at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. He claims the story that Mme. Modjeska had aided Paderewski when he was at Strasburg in the '70's is not true. Goerlitz said:

"The whole press of America is rotten. America is rotten to the core. We only come here to make money. That story about Modjeska is abuse. We do not care how much abuse we get from America. We do not give a cent (Goerlitz didn't use that word, but 'cent' sounds best) for the American press. Mr. Paderewski never has read a line in the newspapers, magazines or books published here."

The information regarding Mme. Modjeska and Paderewski came from one of the actress' most intimate friends.

Total, 3,195,030.

Compressed Air Motor Tests.

Rome, March 30.—A special car with New York capitalists ran up to Rome to-day. The visitors made a test of a compressed air motor invented by Robert Hardie. Twenty-five miles an hour can be made. With a heavy load of freight attached, the motor was stopped while running down hill, showing complete control.

It is claimed that the motor can be stopped in one and a half inches and that at all times it is under complete control. The New York men seemed well pleased with the test.

Proposition That a Lump Sum be Given the Lieut.-Governor to Pay All Expenses Connected With Running the Establishment—Proceedings in the Legislature.

Toronto, March 31.—There was no session at the Local Legislature last evening. During the afternoon most of the estimates were concurred in, which left but little business that was ready to be dealt with. The order paper will be pretty well cleared up to-morrow.

Mr. Hardy moved the second reading of Mr. O'Keefe's bill to amend the Municipal Act. The motion passed.

The following bills were introduced yesterday:

Mr. Gibson, Hamilton, respecting Building Societies, prohibits permanent building societies from loaning money on their own shares.

Mr. Gibson, Hamilton, respecting the Industrial Refuge for Girls, authorizes the Lieut.-Governor to transfer girls from the Refuge to any certified Industrial School, or to be re-committed from such school to the Refuge.

These bills were read a third time:

To amend the Public Lands Act.—Mr. Hardy.

To amend the Algonquin National Park Act.—Mr. Hardy.

To make further provision respecting Mines and Mining.—Mr. Hardy.

To provide for the Inspection of Meat and Milk supplies of cities and towns.—Mr. Harcourt.

To amend the Act respecting Voters' Lists in unorganized territories—Mr. Ross.

Respecting the liability of the Municipalities of Tilbury North and Tilbury West, in respect to Government Drainage Works.—Mr. McKee.

Hon. Mr. Hardy moved that this House approves of the agreement of date the 25th of April, 1895, between Her Majesty, represented by the Commissioner of Crown Lands for the Province of Ontario, of the first part, and George Clavet, of the town of Port Arthur, merchant, James Whalen, of the town of Port Arthur, manufacturer, and T. Lyle Bray, of Wolseley, Assiniboia, manufacturer, of the second part.

Mr. Conmee moved the second reading of his bill respecting the Port Arthur, Water, Light and Power Co.

Mr. Howland took objection to the bill on the ground that the bylaw permitting the Town Council to let the contract, had not been endorsed by a majority of the people.

Mr. Conmee then moved that the bill should be referred back to the committee. The motion passed.

These notices of motion were given: Mr. Davis, Wednesday next—Bill respecting Mortgages of Real Estate.

Mr. Brown, resolution, Wednesday next—That the examination for entrance to High schools shall be based on the subjects prescribed for Form V. of the Public schools.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

Sub-Committee Reports Against Its Abolishment at Present.

The Government House Committee met yesterday morning and received a report of the sub-committee, presented by Mr. McNish, which was to the effect that Robert Jaffray and other leading authorities had pronounced the site of the gubernatorial mansion to be at present unsaleable. The report advised that a lump sum should be given the Lieutenant-Governor, out of which he should pay all expenses connected with the running of the establishment; that arrangements should be made for a reduction of the cost of repairs to the premises; and that at each change of the occupants, an inventory of the furniture of the house should be taken. Under the circumstances, Sir Oliver Mowat and Messrs. Marter and Haycock, representing the three parties in the Legislature, agreed that the matter should stand over for a year.

It was decided, however, that the committee should meet again to-day and make some definite report along the above lines, in order that the successor of the present Lieutenant-Governor should know beforehand just about what to expect.

BEYOND RECOVERY.

The Boy LaFlamme—His Cure was a Surprise—A few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

PAPPINEAUVILLE, March 30 (Special)—The father of the boy LaFlamme, one of the leading merchants here and willing to talk of his son's cure, he says—"My little boy Arthur, after scariet fever about a year ago never recovered and his ailment ran into a kidney trouble. His body was swollen to twice its natural size. The sufferings of the little fellow were very severe and we had all given up hope of him. But three months ago we commenced giving him Dodd's Kidney Pills, and to-day he is romping and playing with other boys." This, as an instance of cure, is very remarkable.

THE LINDSAY MURDER CASE.

Opening of the Preliminary Trial of John and Pat Carney.

Lindsay, March 30.—(Special)—The preliminary examination before Police Magistrate McIntyre of the witnesses who have already given evidence in the Agnew murder case at the coroner's inquest commenced this afternoon in the opera house here, the Council Chamber having proved too small for the crowds who wished to hear the case. William Steers of Barron & Steers is looking after the prisoners, John and Patrick Carney. County Attorney Devlin represents the Crown. Mr. Nelson Butcher is the stenographer, and Detective Murray is also here. A lengthy discussion took place as to entering the charge against the two prisoners. The Hendershott case was instanced as a trial where two prisoners were tried as principals. Patrick Carney is held as an accessory after the fact, and one of the Hendershotts was held as an accessory before the fact. It was finally decided to hold both brothers as principals. Mrs. Agnew, Robert Agnew, J. T. Petty, Chief Bell and County Constable Foster have given evidence, and it is likely the trial will not conclude before to-morrow.

THE SITUATION IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Conflicting Stories as to the Condition of Affairs—Rhodes Makes a Speech.

London, March 30.—A despatch from Cape Town to the Central News says that the authorities of the Chartered South Africa Company have wired Sir Hercules Robinson, Governor of the Cape Colony and British High Commissioner, that no more men are needed in the disturbed district.

Lord Gifford, a director of the British South Africa Company, to-day received a cable despatch from Buluwayo, dated yesterday, saying that the position there was very serious. A laager for the defence of the people had been constructed. All mining operations had been suspended.

Rhodes Makes a Speech.

Cape Town, March 30.—Hon. Cecil Rhodes of the British South Africa Company, who recently returned from England, said in a speech at Umtali that he had troubles in the Transvaal and in Cape Colony. He had heard that his name was received with alarm in the Transvaal and Portuguese territory. The alarm was needless. He added that a bold front ought to be presented to the Matabeles.

Mr. Rhodes mentioned Dr. Jameson's name in the course of his speech, and it was received with applause.

It is reported here that Sir Hercules Robinson, the Governor of Cape Colony and High Commissioner in South Africa, lately expressed his desire to the Home Government to be relieved from his duties and that his successor be appointed.

A WORD IN SEASON.

Success Depends Entirely on the Use of Diamond Dyes.

Success in home dyeing depends altogether upon the quality and make of the dyes you select for the work of colouring. Diamond Dyes are the first and best in the world, as far as beauty, brilliancy, fastness and purity are concerned. They do perfect work, and never disappoint the most exacting dyer.

Diamond Dyes are sold by all druggists and dealers at ten cents a package, or will be mailed on receipt of price in case your dealer does not have them.

Do not accept imitations from any dealer no matter how strongly he may recommend them. When poor dyes are used, you are disappointed in results, your money and time are thrown away and your materials are forever spoiled.

It is understood that the Grand Trunk Railway has decided to go out of the steamboat business altogether for the present, and the first step in this direction is the relinquishing of their line between Grand Haven and Milwaukee in connection with the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee Railway. The road has, however, given a contract to an outside firm to supply the route with passenger and freight steamers for a term of five years. New and larger steamers will be put on the route. It is not yet known whether the Grand Trunk people intend to make the necessary dock and warehouse facilities or not, as their ones heavy east and westbound business by this route is now quite insignificant.

$500 WAS GRANTED FOR THE C. W. A. MEET

A DEPUTATION OF WHEELMEN AT THE COUNCIL MEETING.

The Plea of the Bicycle Club Presented—Addresses by Representative Citizens—The Council Grants Half a Thousand—A Deputation to go to Toronto.

A special meeting of the town council was called last evening for the purpose of giving a hearing to the wheelmen and considering their application for a grant. There were present the Mayor and Councillors Best, White, Hughes, Denne, Mills, Phelan, Weir, Moore, Langford, White and Graham.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with and it was decided to donate the evening in its entirety to the special business which had resulted in the assembling of the council.

The joint deputation which was in attendance from the Bicycle Club and the Board of Trade was composed of Messrs. Peter Campbell, R. A. Hay, Geo. J. Horkins, Geo. W. Hatton, A. L. Davis, B. Shortly, T. E. Bradburn, R. H. Kells, R. Hall, Robt. Fair, A. Mercer, R. Neill, W. L. Allen, F. Dobbin, H. LeBrun, A. Elliott, Geo. Matthews, W. J. Drope, C. LeBrun, J. S. Knapman and R. H. Fortye.

The first speaker to address the council was Mr. Geo. W. Hatton, who stated that he appeared not only on behalf of the bicycle club but of the citizens generally who recognized the importance of endeavouring to obtain the big C. W. A. meet for Peterborough. He expected 10,000 people would attend the meet which lasted three days. Fully $50,000 of foreign money would be put into circulation in the town.

Mr. Hatton then read the following address to the council:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN.—I find it develves upon me to make known the reason of calling you gentlemen together for this special purpose, i. e., the consideration by you of making a grant to the Peterborough Bicycle Club to aid them in successfully carrying out the Canadian Wheelmen's Association meet if held here in July next. Many of you know—some of you may not know—of the great importance to this or any other town or city in our vast Dominion, the holding of this meet may mean. For thirteen years an annual gathering of this nature has been held in one or other of our Canadian centres. Each successive year adds to the importance of the meeting until this year, when I say the grandest meet of the series will undoubtedly be held, provided it takes place in this or some other town or city. Further than that I may go on and say that in all probability this will be the last Dominion meet that will be held on July 1st. Hereafter only Provincial meets will take place on this date.

In presenting to you gentlemen the question under consideration, I am voicing not only the opinion of the Wheelmen but the opinion of the business men, professional men and bankers. I am voicing the sentiments of the Board of Trade in their resolution unanimously carried at their last meeting held last week. All this should be and doubtless will be evidence to you that the representative men of this town will bear you out, should you, in your opinion, deem it advisable to make a substantial grant of a sum of money to aid and help the promoters of the Peterborough Bicycle Club to entertain in a fitting and proper manner, the thousands of Canadians from all over our country, from Quebec to Vancouver at any rate, who will visit our town, should we be successful in our fight with Quebec city.

We are met with two reasons, at least, why a grant should not be made.

First—We are told that only a few hundred young men will come here.

Secondly—That only hotelmen will receive the benefit of their visit.

As to the first we may say, that the experience in the past has been that thousands, and not hundreds, attend all these meets; that last year at Waterloo, where the meet was held, 15,000 people paid entrance money at the gates; that hotel accommodation in the best towns and cities in the Dominion is strained to the utmost, and that an immense amount of foreign money is left with the citizens whose town or city is fortunate enough to get the meet.

As to the last, undoubtedly, the hotel men receive directly by far the largest percentage of the monetary benefits of these meets, but you must take into consideration the fact that to feed and entertain so large a number of people, an enormous quantity of supplies must be purchased from our local men, our merchants, bakers, butchers, market gardeners and farmers, and extra help must be employed and paid, including carpenters, labourers and others, and the money directly received, indirectly becomes the money of the citizens at large. There can be no doubt of this. Hotel keepers the day after the meeting will pay out every dollar, or nearly so, of the money they have received. The business men and others of this town know this, they know that it is so. The men who have worked so assiduously to get this meet here are not working for the hotel keepers, they are working wholly in the interests of the town, and in this respect they are but following the example set them by other places who have felt and appreciated the advantages of the meets that have hitherto been held. Quebec, our rival in this year's meet, has left no stone unturned to make a successful fight. So strong has she made the pace, through her Council, her Board of Trade and Harbour Commissioners and her citizens generally that it was pretty generally conceded by the towns and cities in Ontario, and even by some of our people, that Peterborough was out of the running, but the men who have been doing the work in this town have never given up. Quebec talked; we worked. Everything had been pulled, and systematically so, every city and town in the Province had been worked to the best of our ability, until public opinion seems veering our way, and it is now thought that Peterborough's chances in the fight are away ahead of Quebec. It will not do, however, to be idle even for one day. Quebec is forging along steadily, so must we. Quebec's mayor and aldermen and citizens run a special train (as will appear in to-day's Toronto papers) to Toronto on Good Friday, the day the vote will be taken, and the issue decided. Peterborough's live representative citizens must be there, and will be there, provided encouragement is given them by your honourable body. Enterprise of this nature should be appreciated and encouraged, and we look to you, gentlemen, to show that spirit of appreciation, in making a grant in aid of the recognized best paying attraction to be had in the Dominion of Canada to-day.

As an advertisement for the town the holding of the C. W. A. meet cannot be equalled. It will bring more people into town from a larger area than otherwise could possibly be brought here. We ask you to deal with this matter to-night, the time being short. On Thursday we must, if we go at all, be in Toronto, as we will, if you deem it advisable in the interests of the citizens you represent, grant us a sufficient amount to help us to carry out as Peterborough citizens in a fitting manner, the entertainment of our fellow citizens from Ontario and Quebec.

You will remember that for three years we have been striving for the holding of this meet here, and during that period some of our citizens have spent time and money with this end in view.

On behalf of the Peterborough Bicycle Club.
G. W. HATTON.

Mr. Robert Fair was the next speaker. He stated briefly, that he had attended the Meet last year at Waterloo and had been much impressed with the importance of having such a crowd of visitors brought to the town. There had been 14,000 at Waterloo, and Peterborough being much more centrally located should draw at least 50 per cent more. The spending of a large amount of money in the town, would do much to enliven business. Peterborough would draw a much larger crowd from the east than did Waterloo, on account of being nearly 200 nearer the lower provinces.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn stated that the local wheelmen expected to defeat Quebec in the fight for the meet and wanted the assistance of the Council in doing it. The Toronto people were of the opinion that the Peterborough citizens, as a whole, were not in favour of having the meet, as no action had as yet been taken by the council. The bicyclists would not come to a town where they were not sure of a most hearty welcome. In Quebec the Council, Board of Trade and citizens generally had taken up the idea and were booming it for all it was worth. Mr. Bradburn wanted the Council to take an interest in the matter, give the wheelmen a grant and come along to Toronto to boom the meet.

Mr. T. A. Hay, speaking as a citizen and a member of the Board of Trade, heartily endorsed the idea of Peterborough making a strong bid for the meet. He pointed out that heretofore no effort had been made to keep the citizens in town on the holiday. Nothing could be proposed which would rouse so much enthusiasm and have the effect, not only of keeping the wheelmen at home, but of bringing strangers into town, as this meet. He hoped the Council would assist the wheelmen in a substantial manner.

Mr. R. Neill stated that the attendance would have to be greater than 10,000 to allow the bicycle club to clear expenses and it was hoped that many more would be here. The wheelmen of the town were anxious to entertain the visiting bicyclists but did not expect to have to foot all the expense themselves. If this was to be done in a manner to make a good impression the town would have to assist. Quebec knew that there was money in tourists and therefore was working hard for the meet.

Mr. Geo. Horkins stated that at Waterloo there had been 14,000 visitors who paid admission at the gate and besides this all the members of the C. W. A. went in free. From this an idea may be gained of the number of visitors that were in the town. Last year there were 3,500 members of the C. W. A. and this season the membership was 7,000. This argued a still larger attendance at the meet and Peterborough stood the best chance of drawing the largest crowd ever assembled at the annual races. The racing men themselves would be here for two weeks and the visitors for three days. Five dollars a head would be a low estimate to put as the amount which would be spent. The local bicyclists had been after the meet for three years and had been put to great expense. They looked to the council to help them out.

Mr. B. Shortly, President of the Board of Trade, urged the council, as a citizen, to keep up the name of the town for enterprise by supporting the wheelmen. Peterborough had a name all over the Dominion for being a first-class town and it would not do to let the opportunity of proving it to so large a crowd, pass. The increase in the taxes would be so small that it would not be felt and a grant would be money well spent. As President of the Board of Trade he was entirely in sympathy with the movement.

Mr. A. L. Davis pointed out that the very fact that so many important towns had been after the meet proved that there was a good deal in it. Already London and Winnipeg had announced themselves as wanting it in 1897. The council, he thought, would be warranted in giving $1,000 to assist in getting it. If $50,000 was put in circulation in the town it would be worth the outlay. Then, again, those who were coming here were the men of the future, who would in time occupy high positions in the commercial world. They would see that Peterborough was a rising town and remember it. This would be a grand advertisement.

Mr. Dobbin heartily endorsed what had been said by the previous speakers, and thought, that without doubt great good and financial benefit would result to the town in the event of the meet being held here. The visitors would go away with a good impression of the town and the men who would attend would help the town far more than any convention.

Councillor Mills stated as fully $250 would be taken in by the clerk for special licences, the amount of the grant would be reduced by that sum. He was in favour of sending a deputation to Toronto to help the wheelman. Seconded by Councillor Denne, he moved that a grant of $500 be given.

Councillors Denne, Phelan, Moore, Best and Langford spoke in favour of the motion.

Councillors Hughes moved that the matter be referred to the Finance Committee, but could get do seconder for his motion. In speaking to his amendment, Mr. Hughes stated that he knew the majority of the ratepayers were opposed to the making of a grant for this purpose. (Cries of No! No!) He knew that if the matter was put to an open vote, no money would be given. He considered that the councillors had no right to force the ratepayers into doing something that they had no power to prevent. Charity had been refused needy families during the winter in order to keep down the taxes, and this grant of $500 would undo the result of the winter's savings.

Councillor Mills flatly contradicted Mr. Hughes' statement in regard to the assertion that charity had been refused the needy. Such had not been the case. In fact the committee had gone further than usual and given charity when it was not asked for.

A standing vote was then taken, resulting in the entire council, with the exception of Mr. Hughes, voting for the motion.

Mr. Hatton thanked the council on behalf of the deputation, for the grant.

It is understood that a deputation from the council will attend the meeting in Toronto on Good Friday, when the question will be decided as to selecting Quebec or Peterborough for the meet.

A SAD DEATH.

The Demise of Mrs. George Dies This Morning.

A bright young life passed out of existence, this morning, when the death occurred of Mrs. George Dies, after months of suffering at the Grand Central Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Dies have only resided in Peterborough for a very short time, but since living here have made many warm and sincere friends, amongst whom the death of Mrs. Dies will be sincerely regretted.

The deceased had been a wife for a little over a year and dies at the early age of twenty-five. She was originally Miss [illegible]McQueen, of Owen Sound, and during her recent illness has had her mother with her for the past several weeks. An operation was performed for abscess yesterday morning, but the internal growth was not in a position favourable for removal, and the attempt had to be abandoned. The remains will be taken to Owen Sound for burial.

THE LOCK WORKS SITE.

A Decision Arrived at by the Directors—New Buildings too Expensive.

At a meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company, held this morning, to consider the question of tenders for the proposed new buildings at Auburn, it was found that these figures were unexpectedly high.

In view of this fact, and in view of the communication from the Bank of Montreal, it was decided that it would be advisable to purchase the present site from the Bank of Montreal if the town authorities would consent to the power being supplied from Auburn.

As an equivalent, if the town would agree to this arrangement, the Lock Works Company would be willing to pay taxes upon the Simcoe street property, which is at present exempt. As it is desirable that the matter should be settled without delay it is probable that the proposition will be considered by the council at an early date.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 58 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

Wall Paper Hints.

The advice which is usually given on How to Paper a House is quite as sensible as the Guide to Manners, Rules of Dress and similar treatises which are more potential than logical. Nevertheless, the following hints will be as well to remember, bearing always in mind the character of the occupant:

Bedrooms should be papered in medium tones of colour, neither light enough to make a glare in summer nor dark enough to absorb the pale gleams of winter.

For a summer room let us take a hint from the cool, old fashioned parlour, whose closed blinds and dark walls were a refuge for the eye and mind.

A decided pattern in the paper is sometimes necessary to increase the size of a room. Fine vertical lines do this, whereas any large detached patterns have the opposite effect.

Blue walls, or those with blue lights in the colour, make a room seem large. This colour must be skillfully used, however. The shades of blue that wear the best on the nerves and senses are toned with gray, yellow or pink.

Grayish tones of red and pink are cool and restful, but beware of orange, save in a little dark den of a winter house.

There is nothing in Wall Paper Decorations which we cannot supply to harmonize with your personal tastes, your furniture or other surroundings.

Prices start at 4o a ROLL, for New Spring Styles.

A number of Ontario residents in Chicago have formed themselves into an organization to be known as the Sons of Ontario, basing the plan of organization on kindred societies such as the Sons of New York, the Sons of Ohio, etc. The new organization is incorporated under a State charter, and its membership list contains the names of a large number of ex-Canadians holding prominent commercial and professional positions in that city. Mr. Don M. Gallie, D. D. S., is the President, and Mr H. J. Strong is the Secretary. The Board of Directors have decided to hold an annual banquet, to which prominent Canadians will be invited. The Hon. Arthur S. Hardy has been favoured with an invitation to the first banquet, to be held early in April.

A 93-Pound Baby.

A wonderful baby girl, says the Globe, was to be seen at the union station last night, her parents being passengers on the G.T.R., and bound from Peterborough to Cleveland. While waiting for connections it was the object of much curiosity, and the parents who are ordinary sized persons, were kept busy answering questions. They stated that her age was between 19 and 20 months, and that her weight was now nearly 93 pounds. At her birth she weighed about 9 pounds, and was in no way different from any other healthy baby, but she soon commenced to gain weight, and has continued to gain at a phenomenal rate until the present day. She has already commenced to talk, but owing to her extraordinary weight has not yet attempted to walk. While waiting in the station the child was fed by the mother, her supper consisting of biscuits and milk, which she apparently heartily enjoyed. They left the city by the west bound train at 10 30 for their destination. [This, of course, is the big little wonder from Bridgenorth.

Attractive Women.

Why is one women attractive and another not? The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks and her vivacity. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Some are born with what is called "constitutional weakness." Those who do not enjoy perfect health, need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism.

UNWHOLESOME BEEF.

Lumbermen Taken Ill in the North Through Eating it.

Mr. Robert Thorndyke, of Aylmer street, who has recently returned from the Messrs. McArthur & Co.'s timber limits, which are situated in the Algoma district, where he had been engaged during the winter months, states that he and several others were made ill by eating beef, and with the others he had a hard struggle between life and death. Luckily Foreman George McArthur had in his possession an emetic which had the desired effect, and after several days illness the sufferers were considered out of danger. It seems that the beef was brought from Manitoulin to Killarney early in the fall, and remained there till the beginning of February. Owing to the ice not being sufficiently frozen for transportation to the Beaverstone wharf, Georgian Bay, it lay there for a considerable length of time, whence it was shipped to the various camps belonging to the company, which were five in number.

Strange to say none of the other camps had any trouble with the beef. In this camp those affected were Robert Thorndyke, of town; John Wright, of Chebogan, N.Y.; John Kent, Otonabee; Andy Crosley, Collins' Inlet; Wm. McDonald, Chebogan, N.Y., and several others. Portions of the beef have been examined by medical experts, and consequently the entire lot of beef has been condemned.

Mr. Thorndyke states that he had a hard struggle, and had it not been for the emetic administered him most likely he would have fared badly. As it is, the others, whose names are above stated, are still in the camp, laid up.

FOLLOWED BY WOLVES.

A Deer Escaping from a Murderous Pack—A Thrilling Experience.

The Kingston Whig says:—"Mr. A. Page went through a thrilling experience recently, while in one of Maclaren's lumber shanties, under the foremanship of Mr. J. Miller. One extremely cold morning Mr. Page, with a number of other teamsters, was driving along a road with a big load of logs when a bloodcurdling sound greeted his ears. Shortly after, a large deer emerged from the thick forest, and with a bound attempted to leap over a sleigh, but its strength having been about spent, the poor animal sank exhausted, and rested just across the load of logs. The deer was being pursued by a pack of hungry wolves. Mr. Page called to his companions, who were some distance behind. The wolves by this time had arrived, howling and fighting, upon the scene, and with horses, teamster and deer, no doubt the ravenous pack expected a royal feast, but the timely appearance of the other teamsters frightened the beasts, and they scampered off through the woods. After recovering from his fright, Mr. Page took an axe and dispatched the deer, and it was found that the hind quarters had been eaten into by the wolves."

NINETY MINUTES WITH SCOTCH COVENANTERS.

THE FIGHT FOR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM.

An Interesting Lecture on the Subject by Rev. A. McMillan.

Last night there was a fairly large audience assembled in St. Paul's church to listen to an interesting lecture upon the subject of the "The Scottish Covenanters" by Rev. A. McMillan, of Toronto.

Rev. Dr. Torrance occupied the chair and after devotional exercises, introduced the lecturer.

The time dealt with, the lecturer said, was the Convenanting period. The struggle which began in 1600 and ended about 1688, arose from the efforts of the English kings to force the Episcopal religion upon Scotland. The history of the establishment of the Presbyterian form of religion in Scotland was briefly outlined. At the time of the Scotch Reformation it was built upon the foundation of the existing church, which, though it had many errors, had still much that was good, though the two were so entangled that it was impossible to separate them, and it was replaced by Presbyterianism, which thus could trace its continuity back to the first days of the church. James I. of Great Britain on his accession to the throne, though trained as a Presbyterian, showed a personal preference for the Anglican form with its more elaborate ritual; but he chiefly preferred that form because he thought it would give him power to become supreme in both church and state. He felt that he could not carry out this idea under the Presbyterian form of church government, and he decided that Scotland must become Episcopal. It was distinctly pointed out that the struggle that ensued was not between the peoples of the Presbyterian and and Episcopal peoples of Scotland and England respectively, but between the Church of Scotland and the kings of England. Charles I. succeeded to his father's crown as well as to the "wild idea of the divine right," and in pursuance of this idea, Maxwell, Bishop of Ross, at the market cross of Edinburg, declared by proclamation, the will of Charles, that the Episcopal religion must be the religion of Scotland. The first incident of note in the storm that followed the calm of stupefication that followed the proclamation was the incident of Jennie Geddes (in 1637) hurling her stool at the head of the dean when in the Cathedral of St. Giles he rose to communicate the King's will. She acted under the mistaken impression that he was about "to say mass in her lug." From this crude incident the struggle began in earnest. The character of Alexander Henderson was strongly outlined, and the formation of the "Solemn League and Covenant" in the gloomy precincts of St. Giles churchyard graphically described. The speaker said that the principles that underlay this were the declaration of the recognition of Jesus Christ as the head of the Church, the declaration in favour of personal religious freedom, though the speaker explained that all of the Covenanters did not recognize the principle in the case of others, and the declaration of the danger of the Episcopacy being the entering end of the wedge of the restoration of Roman Catholicism, on account of the partiality of Charles I to that form of religion. Passing over the Cromwellian period, the speaker said that in 1661 Charles II came to the throne and was even more determined than his father to force the Episcopacy on Scotland, and his mandate was made known, not by a Bishop, but by the common hangman, who at the same market cross tore up and burned a copy of the Solemn League and Covenant. The speaker then went on to outline the struggles that followed. The first battle that took place between Graham of Claverhouse, the King's officer, and the Covenanters was graphically described. To the demand to surrender the Covenanting band sang the the 76th Psalm—"In Judah's Land." [At this point the choir sang this Psalm to the tune of "Martyrs," the same used on the occasion mentioned, the organ accompaniment under Mr. Crane's hands admirably imitating the hoarse voices of the men.] Other battles were described, all indicating the valour of the Covenanters and their sturdy determination to maintain their religious freedom. The last battle was that of the Galloway moors, near the year 1668. In this battle Richard Cameron, the "Lion of the Covenant," was slain, and a tomb marks the spot to this day. In addition to the battles there was a great amount of individual persecution, and many fell glorious martyrs to their faith, and several typical instances, attended with conspicuous heroism, were touchingly described. The moral and spiritual heroism thus mentioned was ascribed to the practice of personal devotion on the part of the Covenanters and the influence of united congregational worship, albeit held in glens and in the shelter of encircling hills, and the singing of the Psalms, which had a most inspiring influence. These Psalms, it was pointed out, were dear to the Covenanters, as they were dear to those who followed them and the speaker hoped that they would always have a foremost place in Presbyterian worship. As time went on the Covenanters, instead of being decimated by slaughter and persecution, increased in strength till at length in 1688, the last occasion in which their forces and those of Claverhouse came face to face, the latter dared not give battle, but ordered his troops to retire without a blow having been struck. With the flight of James II and the coming of William of Orange the struggle was ended. The speaker in conclusion urged his hearers, though they might not be able to emulate their deeds in battle, to follow the example of the strenght, fidality to the principle of religious freedom and piety of the Covenanters of Scotland.

During the evening several Psalms were sung—one, the 124th, being that used by the Covenanters as a song of rejoicing at the conclusion of the struggle, sung to the plaintive minor tune used at the close of the 17th century.

A hearty vote of thanks, moved by Mr. G. M. Roger, and seconded by Mr. J. Gilchrist, was passed to the speaker of the evening for his interesting address.

Its Cause and Cure.

Cold weather, shivering, no heat to sustain, emaciated, because ill-nourished. This is either because the starchy foods are improperly acted upon by the digestive juices or the oily constituents of the food are not assimilated. Cod Liver Oil combined with Maltine and Hypophosphites supplies this deficiency, for the oil, rendered palatable, and easy of digestion, is at once assimilated and stored up in the form of andipose tissue. Besides this the maltine renders soluble the starchy foods—whose special function is to supply heat or fatty tissue—thus affording material necessary to supply the waste of the body. Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites is at once a food, body builder and medicine, incomparably superior to any preparation for the consumptive or debilitated. Verify this by trial.

The

Appreciation of Ladies

Has been won for MASON & RISCH Pianos in a great measure by the beauty and delicacy of their touch. Ladies appreciate the fact that it is not a tiring thing to play upon them. It is not necessary to thump a Mason & Risch Piano, or to have immense physical strength to produce a full rich tone from it. So beautifully and scientifically exact are our actions, that the maximum of effect can be produced by the minimum of effort. Again, we say, that this is a point greatly valued by ladies. It is not the only point by any means, but simply one that specially commends itself to the fair sex.

AN EASTER NEST EGG.

WHAT HE DID.

He sat thinking of how he looked last Sunday—old hat, people noticed it, he felt it. Happened to see a notice in the papers that a special line of DERBYS, the J. & J. Lugsdin Bankrupt Stock Sale, at $1.00 each—"good stiff hats," "good lookers," "good wearers," "worth $2 and $2.50," for $1.00.

"I can get that all right," he said, "and I'll have an Easter nest Egg of $1.00 by saving it on the price."

And he's got one to-day. Don't you feel the same way yourself? Can't you do the same?

YOU CAN DO THE SAME.

"$1.00 Hats our best?" Oh, no, we have them at $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50, according to fineness. Our $1.00 Fedora Hat is a corker.

CONDUCTORS NOT GUILTY.

Defries, Mulligan and Tamblyn Discharged by the Montreal Jury.

Montreal, March 29.—(Special)—Messrs. Samuel H. Defries, John Mulligan and Fred Tamblyn, who, with John Stone, were charged with conspiring to defraud the Grand Trunk Railway in their capacities as conductors of the company between Montreal and Toronto, were found not guilty in the Court of Queen's Bench here yesterday afternoon. The case, which had been on since Tuesday last, caused great interest in this city and throughout Ontario and Quebec, where the men were well known. Conductor Stone did not face the music, and getting rid of his belongings in Montreal, went to Florida and invested in an orange grove. During the March term of 1895, Conductors Defries, Mulligan and Tamblyn were placed on trial, but the jury failed to agree, 11 being for acquittal and 1 for conviction. The following jurors were sworn in Tuesday to try the case once more: A. S. Brown, Timothy Mooney, Duncan McInnes, Peter Campbell, John Duffy, John McCarthy, Patrick McNamara, James O'Gorman, James O'Brien, Henry Hart, William Beatty and Eugene Moreau, the last-named being the only French-speaking juror. Half were Roman Catholics and half protestants. Messrs. Donald MacMaster, Q.C., and H. C. St. Pierre, Q.C., conducted the defence in a very able manner, while Mr. M. J. F. Quinn, Q.C., looked after the Crown's end faithfully and well.

Judge Wurtele addressed the jury a little over an hour, and though His Honor was strictly impartial, the charge was against the conductors in the box.

At 5 o'clock the court was adjourned until 5.30, and the 12 men went out to deliberate. When the president of the tribunal again took his seat and the jury had announced that they were ready for a verdict, it was an anxious moment for the accused. The foreman having been asked if the jury had decided upon a verdict, he replied, "Yes, we find them not guilty," and there was an immediate outburst of applause, which was quickly and sternly suppressed.

GOOD ADVICE
ABOUT DYSPEPSIA.

The best advice about dyspepsia is—cure it with Burdock Blood Bitters and as surely as you follow the advice and take the medicine the cure will follow in every case.

Mr. Wm. Day of Fort William, Ont., says in speaking of B.B.B.:—Two years ago my wife was very ill with dyspepsia. No remedy that she could find gave any relief; finally she tried Burdock Blood Bitters and after taking six bottles was entirely cured. That is now more than two years ago and she has no return of the malady. I also have had occasion to use B. B. B. and I cannot speak too highly in its favour.

I always recommend it to my friends and in every case with good results. Hoping this may be of use to you, I am. Yours very truly. WILLIAM DAY.

THEY WILL TALK IN PRIVATE.

Emperor William Will Speak in Whispers to King Humbert.

Berlin, March 29.—The imperial party in their visit to Italy are accompanied by a large and distinguished suite. Leaving Naples on March 31, on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern, the Emperor and Empress, with their suites, will sail for Palermo. They will sojourn five days in Sicily and will sail thence for Venice, where a meeting will take place between the Kaiser and King Humbert, the communications between Prince Hohenlohe, the German Chancellor, and the Marquis di Rudini, Italian Prime Minister, in regard to the presence of the German Emperor in Italy having resulted in the two monarchs deciding upon having a conference alone. Queen Margherita will accompany King Humbert, and will receive the Empress. During the three days' stay in Venice the King and Queen of Roumania will join the royal party. After the interview between the Kaiser and King Humbert, the Emperor will start for Vienna, where he will be joined by Prince Hohenlohe.

THE RULE OF ENFORCED SILENCE

Will Still be Observed in the English Prisons—The Commissioner's View.

New York, March 29.—The Sun's London special says: The most terrible feature of penal servitude in English prison is the strictly enforced silence during the whole period of incarceration. A Parliamentary committee recently suggested that this rule be slightly relaxed as a reward for good behaviour by long-term convicts. The Home Secretary, having called for observations by the Prison Commissioners on the recommendation, they replied that they think it would be dangerous to go back to what experience condemned as leading to mischievous results. The worst criminals often are the best conducted prisoners, and there are grave objections to giving facilities for unchecked conversation on the ground of good conduct. The commissioners add: "We are quite able to understand and to sympathise with the feeling that the enforcement of silence for 15 of 20 years is unnatural. As a matter of fact, a well-behaved convict, under a long sentence, after a lapse of time, is employed usually in a position of trust, and is not subject to the constant surveillance which is exercised over a man in the earlier days of his sentence. Moreover, we think that the governors, who are humane men, can safely be trusted to see that the silent system is not pushed to an extravagant degree and enforced by punishment, except in cases where they have satisfied themselves that the rule is broken for frivolous and improper purposes."

KIPLING A TRUE BRITON.

He Declined a Dollar a Word to Describe Great Britain's Armed Strength.

New York, March 29.—The World today prints the following letter, which is self-explanatory:

"Dear Sir,—Your suggestion that I should write 1000 words for $1000 on the text, 'Why America Could Not Conquer England,' has been laid before me.

'It is impossible that I should accept the commission, as it would involve discussing the armed strength of the Empire, a question on which no British subject has any information for sale. Sincerely yours, Rudyard Kipling.'"

A CLOSE SHAVE

A TALK WITH THE MAN WHO EXPERIENCED IT.

People really do not know how often the angel of death hovers over them. Mr. R. P. Watkins, 173 Bay st., is a barber by trade, and gave our representative this short history of his escape from the disorder which was rapidly carrying him to his grave. Mr. Watkins is a skillful and experienced man, and is now enabled to exercise his skill from morning till night, where before he was unable to regularly follow his chosen calling. This is Mr. Watkins' story as related by himself.

"For over three years I have been troubled with what the doctors said was Bright's Disease, was getting rapidly worse, and could scarcely attend to my business. My ankles were swollen, the pain and heat in my back were almost unbearable, the urine was of a dark wine color, and it used to dribble away continually. I had to rise 9 or 10 times each night to void the urine, and consequently lost nearly all my sleep. The scalding heat and pain in passing the urine were painful and distressing beyond my feeble power to describe. People who did not know my trouble used to laugh at my frequent visits to the urinal. My hands and feet were always cold and clammy, and I suffered severely from palpitation, shortness of breath, and was, in fact, almost a total wreck. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills from Messrs. E. Hooper & Co., and improved at once. I have used two boxes and feel like a new man; can now work right along and at 12 p m. feel like working right ahead. Had I not got those pills I feel that I would not have been working to-day. My words only faintly express the dreadful condition I was in, and the wonderful cure made by Doan's Kidney Pills."

Stricken Ones to be Seen Everywhere—This Form of Living Death Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

The most startling example of human helplessness is the paralytic.

The victim excites your commiseration, but resents your pity.

He of the palsied hand stiffly pressing the benumbed side, is to be seen everywhere we go.

The most convincing proof that this pitiable condition is the outcome of kidney disease is the fact that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure it.

Not generally recognized as a kidney disease, it succumbs to kidney treatment.

Did you ever know of a cure? Just think a moment!

If you do it must have been the work of Dodd's Kidney Pills, for no other medicine ever yet cured.

First Chinese Tramp on Record.

Oakland has a Chinese tramp, the first on record in the country. He was arrested for vagrancy in Berkeley yesterday, asleep near the gate of Dr. O'Toole, and when brought to the county jail gave the name of Ah Lee.

On being searched by the prison officials for stray bits of opium or a knife, his outer blouse was removed. Nothing was found beneath it but a shirt. This was taken off and revealed another shirt. When this was removed, a third shirt was found, then a fourth, a fifth, a sixth and a seventh. The unkempt Mongol grunted when his last garment was removed. He said:

"Keep him warm."

Three pairs of baggy Chinese pantaloons and two pairs of socks were required to keep his nether limbs warm.

When asked why he didn't work he replied:

"No job. No likee look. No likee too much trouble."—San Francisco Chronicle.

WHEN they put a man in jail, he cannot follow his natural inclinations. His enjoyment of life is limited. He cannot eat what he wants to—he is limited to a very frugal diet. He is alive to be sure, but life doesn't possess very many advantages.

Are not all these things equally true of a dyspeptic? For all of the real enjoyment he gets out of life, he might as well be in jail. He cannot eat what he likes, nor as much of it as he would like. If he transgresses any of the rules of his diet, he is punished for it. He suffers much, gets little sympathy.

Dyspepsia starts with indigestion, and may lead to almost anything. Indigestion means a variety of things—it shows itself in many ways. At first, perhaps a little heaviness in the stomach, a little sourness, windy belchings and heartburn. Headaches begin to come pretty soon after that, and biliousness and a foul taste in the mouth in the morning. Chronic constipation is almost inevitable, and it is probably the most serious trouble that ever takes hold of a man. Its seeming simplicity is the thing that makes it most dangerous, because it leads to neglect. Constipation means that the body is holding poisonous, impure matter that should be gotten rid of. The poison is being reabsorbed into the blood and the whole body is being filled with it. Impurity in the blood may lead to almost any disease. There is no telling what may come of it. Constipation is the start of it all. And yet people are careless about it. It is the most serious thing in the world, and the easiest to cure if you go about it right. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Cure it positively, certainly, infallibly. Cure it so it stays cured. Cure it so you can stop taking medicine.

And that is something that no other remedy in the world will do.

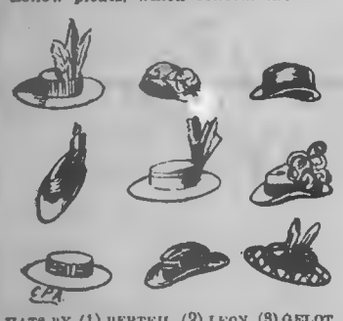
FOR FAIR 'CYCLISTS.

A TROUSER SKIRT COMBINATION COMING INTO GENERAL USE.

An Abundance of Patterns and Pretty Costumes in Corduroy, Serge, Velvet and Other Fashionable Materials—Varieties in Hats and Boots.

The struggle between knickers and skirts for cyclists is still in suspense, says the brilliant fashion writer in the European edition of the New York Herald, published at Paris, but after many interviews with the leading makers of cycling costumes I must admit that most of them try to induce their customers to adopt the skirt. In order to do so some of them have invented the trouser skirt, which at first sight seems satisfactory, though, of course, only practical trial will settle the question. Some others, on the contrary, still recommend the culotte, but for elegance the new costumes appear to me superior to the others.

Petit makes a special feature of all kinds of sporting costumes. He also makes the new trouser skirt very well. I saw a costume in gray whipcord cloth, light in texture—a more elegant material than serge. The skirt is very full and divided in the middle with two hollow pleats, which conceal the division. When the wearer is standing it looks like a bell skirt, as in the illustration. It is stitched with three rows round the bottom. The jacket is made with basque and fits behind, the seams being thrown up. The front opens over a waistcoat with nine buttons, covered with whipcord cloth. The sleeves are rather small, with four hollow pleats, and very small at the wrists, where there are three rows of stitching, making an imitation cuff. M. Petit has taken out a patent for this skirt.



HATS BY (1) BERTEIL, (2) LEON, (3) GELOT.

Another costume is of green cloth, made with a short skirt of the ordinary type, full and trimmed round the bottom with calfskin to match the cloth, bright or dull, in a scalloped pattern. The body forms a blouse in front and fits behind, and has a yoke of green calf scalloped and stitched and a band of the same leather. The waistband is of whipcord, round and about five centimetres wide, trimmed with small slips of stitched leather. The sleeves are very full at the top and pleated like those of children, and are trimmed with piping of the same leather. This costume would be very elegant if made in gray cloth. The knickers match the cloth or could be made in black satin.

A costume by Creed is of blue woollen stuff, with a small horizontal stripe. The skirt is of novel form, being at once petticoat and knickerbockers, greatly preferable to other shapes. It is gathered at the waist and has three rows of stitching about ten centimetres from the bottom, which is slightly scalloped. The jacket is close fitting, with short basques, and rounded in front; it fastens down the middle with three iridised pearl buttons. The collar and lappets are of dead black leather, edged with stitched cloth, and the jacket is stitched down the front and round the basque with two rows. The sleeves are rather small and very tight at the bottom. The lappets open in front very little, showing a white shirt front and man's collar, turning down at the points, and a necktie forming a sailor's knot, with gold pin. The hat worn with this costume is black silk, like a man's, with a brim of ecru faille, trimmed plainly with black ribbed silk.

MM. John Sandt and Laborde have for some time past been making a new and ingenious style of bicycle costume. It combines the knickerbocker with the skirt. The skirt is made in two parts. It is completely closed in front and open behind to enable the wearer to bestride the saddle. The trouser part is formed by the lining being attached to the skirt in front, thus forming trouser legs, stitched on the skirt. This is of black cloth and worn with a tight jacket, with scalloped basques, especially behind, and with large lappets, and turn-back collar, buttoning down the middle in front. The sleeves are well arranged so as not to interfere with the jacket, full at the top and tight from the elbow, but not inconveniently so. On the skirt are outside pockets with flaps that button. The body opens slightly over a pleated chemisette, with gold studs and turn-down collar. The hat worn with this costume is a black straw boating hat trimmed with bouillonnes of black faille.

The new style of skirt has been registered. It is particularly practical in affording facility for mounting and dismounting without turning up the skirt; neither can it get caught in the spokes or chain of a bicycle. Lady Dufferin has just ordered one of these costumes in dark gray lainage.

Here is a description of a new model of a cycling costume made for Mme. Seymour. It is of black velvet, with trouser skirt. The skirt is tight over the saddle, and has two hollow pleats at the sides, before and behind. When the wearer is standing, the skirt closes like a bell skirt. The jacket is very close fitting, with flat basques. The lappets are kept down with steel buttons, and the jacket buttons down the front. The sleeves are moderate in size and have buttons like a man's. A small stitched pocket is fixed on each side of the skirt.

Another elegant costume has been made by the same house. The skirt is of dark green cloth, made on the same system. The jacket is close fitting behind and has flat basques and straight in front, where it is trimmed with three brandenbergs of black braid. It has small lappets and a turn down collar.

At the establishment Scotland, I was shown a cycling costume of real navy blue Scotch homespun. The skirt forms trousers when the wearer is on the bicycle and a skirt when she is off it. It is plain, with side pockets stitched with a band of leather and buttoning. The jacket vest is with lappets, and a man's veston collar, faced with cloth and with leather piping. The vest buttons on the left side, with leather buttons, and the cloth and piping are repeated on the back.

At Leon's, I have seen some pretty hats to wear with cycling costumes. Among them is the "Frivole," a small, soft, drab felt hat, pinched up in the middle. It is perforated with holes for ventilation. The brim is turned up and the hat is trimmed with an owl's feather to match the felt.

Another is a boating hat of navy blue velvet ribbon six centimetres wide with a flat bow of four rosettes on the left side and four beige colored feathers, upright.

At Gelot's I was shown a variety of cycling hats. One is made of cork, like a man's hat, so that it can be ironed and made new again after it has been wetted. These hats are made in all colors. The crown is flat, wide and low, and trimmed with satin ribbon to match, and a small tuft of black cock's feathers. The brim is stiffened.

TROUSER SKIRT COSTUME, BY PETIT.

The "Darksut," made by the same firm, is a beige hat of soft felt; the crown is pinched up and the brim edged with a wide braid. On the left side is a tuft of fancy feathers.

Another hat is of plain black felt, the crown pinched in and trimmed with a scarf of ecru lace, forming a rosette. On the left side is a tuft of five black feathers, upright.

Among the customers of Gelot are the Comtesse de Paris, the Princess of Wales, the Infanta Eulalia, the Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg, the Grand Duchess Sergius of Russia, Mlle. Maltrona, Comtesse de Golve, the Duchess of Luchtenberg, Comtesse de Chevigne, Baronne Merlin and Mme. Terederic de Reiset.

At Berteil's I saw some pretty models of cycling hats, though they cannot be infinitely varied. One is of light fancy cloth quilted, red and black, the crown is low and pinched up in the middle, the brim turned up rather higher at the sides than elsewhere and on the side is a metal hook, showing the gold claws in which is a red couteau plume slanting rather backward.

Another hat, rather larger and elongated, is of soft mordore felt, rather higher than usual, the crown pinched in and surrounded with No. 16 ribbon, with a large bow composed of three rosettes at the side, and a small square strass buckle. The brim is much turned up at the sides.

A third is the shape of a boating hat, not very large and rather original. The crown is of bright drab felt, surrounded with a broad black ribbon, which almost conceals it with a bow on the left side. The brim is of gray felt underneath and patent leather above.
